[illegible] Block, First [illegible] Lewis House.

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES,

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

ALL political parties are virtuous and each one proves it by accusing the other of fraud.

HENRY M. STANLEY, the explorer, starts to-morrow from London to make further explorations in Africa. It is asserted that he has declined an offer of a large sum of money to return to America and complete his lecturing tour.

ANOTHER telephone has been invented by S. L. Barrett and W. W. Neilus, of Houston, Tex., which is reported to differ from the Edison, Bell, and all other telephones. It has been tested satisfactorily over a distance of 830 miles.

NEW MUSIC—We are under obligations to Mr. Ign. Fischer, music publisher, Toledo, O., for the Knights of Labor Grand March, by J. Y. M. One of the most pleasing and captivating marches that has come to our notice for some time past. It is of medium difficulty and as well adapted for organ as for piano and can be highly and conscientiously recommended to young and hopeful musicians. Mailed by the publisher on receipt of price 40c, duet 60c.

STATISTICS show that labor has been more abundantly employed during the past four months than ever in the history of the country. The percentage of idle to employed labor is lower at this time since the boom of 1882. The cost of living is estimated at 20 per cent. less than then and the purchasing power of money is put at 20 per cent. greater by some authorities. The wheels of this great government still continue to revolve and business goes on with its accustomed regularity. This thought strikes us forceably from the fact that we frequently heard during the last Presidential campaign that if a Democratic President were elected the country would go to the "damnation bowwows," &c. Republican or Democrat partisans that hold any such views generally strike somewhere within sixteen rods of the mark. There never was a more prosperous time in business. If people would think and talk less of politics and work more harmoniously in their business and social relations, it would be much better for all concerned.

MRS. ROXANNA DRUSE, who is lying in Herkimer county jail under the sentence of death for the murder of her husband was to have been hanged to-day. Certain supersensitive persons however, brought great pressure to bear and Gov. Hill has granted a stay of proceedings until the 28th of February. The crime which was of an inhuman nature, was committed December 18, 1884. Mrs. Druse, her daughter Mary and a son and a nephew were implicated. The victim was attacked while at breakfast. The nephew fired two shots from a revolver into his body. Mary threw a rope around his neck and dragged him to the floor, and Mrs. Druse, taking the revolver, fired several more shots at the prostrate man. Next with an ax she hacked the head from his shoulders. Then Mrs. Druse and Mary cut the cut the corpse in pieces and boiled them. Meanwhile the son and nephew stood on watch outside. The flesh after being boiled from the bones was fed to the hogs and the bones were calcined in two large stoves. Then the ashes were concealed in a swamp. A month later, suspicion having been excited, the nephew confessed and all the members of the family were arrested. Mary Druse also confessed and was sentenced to life imprisonment. Mrs. Druse was convicted and her case was twice appealed, ending finally in the sentence now impending over her. The boys, who were discharged on the ground that they acted under compulsion.

One Hundred and Five.

Frank Weightman, aged 105 years, died last Sunday night at Cincinnati, Ohio. He had been living with his daughter, Mrs. Charles Schraeder, since 1870. He was only four feet and a few inches in height. At the age of 18 he entered the English army and later was a soldier of Frederick I of Prussia, from whom he received a medal of merit. He fought all through the campaign against Napoleon and was one of Blutcher's men at the battle of Watterloo, where he received a sword cut whose scar he carried to his grave. He was married at 30 and leaves a host os decendants.

WANTED.

A person who is foolish enough to neglect a cough when a twenty-five cent bottle of Higgins' T. & C. Compound will cure it.

The only place in town to get shell oysters is at John Partrick's, on First street. A fresh supply received every other day. 30tf.

An Aged Pair.

Mr. Norman Green of Hannibal and Mrs. Adelia M. Henderson of Scriba, were married at the residence of Mr. Andrew [illegible] of [illegible], last Wednesday. [illegible]

[illegible] M. church at [illegible] Elder Danforth [illegible].

On Saturday, Jan. 8th, 1887, a Teachers' Institute will be held at South Granby for the teachers of the town of Granby.

Andrew Greiner died at his home in Bernard's Bay on Wednesday Dec. 22, from consumption and heart disease. He was an old resident and greatly respected.

The ratio of taxation this year in Schroeppel is $10.22 on each $1,000 valuation, being fifty-nine cents on that amount less than last year, when it was $10.81.

At a recent meeting of the board of supervisors the committee on ways and means reported the total state and county tax levy for Oswego county $148,926.-24.

Ralph R. Herrick of Richland and Miss Minnie Manwarring of Mexico were married at the residence of the bride's parents in Mexico, on Thursday, Dec. 23d.

Frank A. Vickery of Phœnix, who has been serving a two and one-half years sentence in the Onondaga Penitentiary for stabbing Andrew Aurenger has been pardoned having served two years of the term. He will not return to Phœnix but will reside in Central Square.

The report of the Mt. Pleasant cheese factory for the season just ended is: Number of pounds of milk, 1,088,851; cheese, 110,875; amount of money received, $9,034.31; number of pounds of milk required for one pound of cheese, 9.82; average price per pound, 8.95; net amount received by patrons for each 100 pounds milk, 81½ cents.

The Sandy Creek, Richland, Orwell and Boylston Agricultural Society has elected the following officers:

President, O. R. Earl; vice-president. Wm. H. Grenell; secretary, Gilbert N. Harding; treasurer, Laurendus J. Jones; superintendent, C. W. Colony. H. H. Tuttle, Lacona, S. H. Potter, Orwell and H. B. Castor of Redfield, were re-elected directors and Sayles Talcott was elected director from Parish. The fair will be held Sept. 7, 8 and 9, 1887.

At the regular convocation of Republican Lodge No. 325 F. and A. M. held in their hall in Parish, on Tuesday evening, Dec. 21, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: J. S. Ludington, W. M.; H. A. Davey, S. W.; DeWight Pickens, J. W.; H. F. Graves, Treasurer; W. G. Baxter, Secretary; L. D. Pickens, S. D.; A. C. Brockway, J. D. R. C. Robertson, S. M. C.; J. W. Schumaker, J. M. C.; David Hogan, Tyler. The installation took place on Monday evening, the 27th inst.

At the regular annual convocation of Lake Ontario Chapter No. 165 R. A. M. of Sandy Creek the following officers were elected, appointed and installed for the ensuing masonic year: Calvin Yoemans, M. E. H. P.; Walter P. Joslyn, M. E. King; Alfred A. Wellington, M. E. Scribe; Simeon B. Wilcox, C. of H.; Joseph Ringland, P. S.; Daniel Couch, Treas.; Wm. Hancock, Sec'y; Russel D. Crouse, R. A. C.; John M. Burr, M. of 3d V.; Charles M. Boyle, M. of 2d V.; Henry H. Post, M. of 1st V.; N. M. Andrews, organist; Geo. W. Vickery, tyler.

A meeting was held in the Doolittle House, Oswego, last week to devise ways and means for the securing of a meeting of the State Farmers' institute in that city during the winter. Three are to be held and it is desired that one of them should be held in Oswego. The offer of the Board of Supervisors, tendering the use of the Court House for the purpose of holding the institute, was accepted. A committee of five was appointed to correspond with the officers of the institute on the subjects to be discussed, also as to the inducements needed to secure a meeting at Oswego.

Palermo.

Dr. Stowe of Mexico was in town on Saturday last to council with Dr. Green in the case of Miss Minnie Trimble who has been sick for some time.

Mrs. L. Scudder fell on Saturday and broke her wrist.

A Christmas shoot was had here on Christmas day. As a result, it being so cold, very few chickens were shot.

A large party will be the result at Hannan's on New Year's eve if the weather is fine for each one has found that it is the place to go for a good time.

Miss Mattie Sampson of Mexico is to teach the school at Palermo Centre the coming summer.

South Granby.

The singing school at this place is in a very prosperous condition. The teacher, Mr. S. Bowen, is well liked and gives good satisfaction.

There will be a prayer meeeting at G. A. Fuller's to-morrow evening.

Preaching at the school house next Sunday evening by Rev. J. Forbes of Bowens Corners.

The Salvation meetings are dwindling down somewhat at Jacksonville, although they keep them up Sunday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Blakeman invited their children and grand-children home Christmas, which made quite a house full. A Christmas tree was one of the attractions for the little ones which was well filled with good things and made them happy.

COLLECTOR'S NOTICE.

Joseph LaPrairie will commence the collection of town taxes on Monday, January 3d 1887, at R. E. Phillip's drug store. Will sit at Druse's Corners January 28, and at Seneca Hill January 29.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

An elegant line of Hammered Brass Goods at M. M. Williams' Drug Store. 31tf

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house,

24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 10 cents upward. [illegible] on hand. Call and [illegible]. JOHN [illegible]

Senator John A. Logan died [illegible] startling suddenness to his family and friends at Washington on Sunday afternoon. The public had been aware for a week or more that General Logan was confined to his room with rheumatism but were unsuspicious of the serious nature of the attack, and to the masses in the vicinity of Fulton there was no indication of his death until the Monday morning papers arrived. To the many who admired him as a statesman and a soldier, the papers brought a shock of sorrowful surprise. Drs. Hamilton and Baxter were in constant attendance at the bedside of the general and after midnight Saturday, were convinced that his hours were numbered. Shortly before three Sunday afternoon, it was announced that he was dying and at three minutes before three he breathed his last. Among those at the bedside were Senator and Mrs. Cullom and daughter, General Sheridan, Senator and Mrs. Cockrell, General Raum, Congressmen Henderson and Thomas of Illinois and Mrs. Thomas, Senator Miller and wife, Congressman Symes of Colorado, Henry Strong and Daniel Shepard of Chicago and the general's private secretaries, W. B. Taylor and Albert Hall.

At the head of the bed knelt Mrs. Logan, one arm encircling her dying husband's neck and the hand of the other stroking his forehead. At her side were John A. Logan jr. and Rev. Dr. Newman. Opposite these were the daughter, Mrs. Tucker, and her husband and George A. Logan, the general's nephew. "The scene," said Dr. Baxter, "was one of the saddest I have ever witnessed. All present were deeply affected. The grief of Mrs. Logan and her children was pitiful in the extreme.'

General Logan was a commanding personage as a soldier and statesman and with a record of services in the field and in the national legislature that places him among those whom the republic will always delight to honor.

As a soldier his zeal led him to go out to Bull Run before the battle, where he gave brave counsel and when disaster came in that battle, he endeavored to check it. He assisted in the capture of Fort Henry and Fort Donelson. At Corinth he received great credit for holding critical ground. In Grant's campaign in Northern Mississippi, he held a conspicuous position. At Champion Hills his gallentry was observed, and before Vicksburg he was always to be found in the thickest of the fight. Through the whole civil war he performed the part of a brave and fearless officer and at its close appeared as the commander of the army of the Tenesee. As a statesman he has served the country faithfully for eighteen years in Congress and was a candidate for the vice Presidency in 1884. He was a zealous servant of his party but there is no partisan so bitter that could not recognize in him a genuine manhood and glowing patriotism.

A tinge of romance has endeared General Logan the more to the common people. He was married in 1855 to Miss Mary S. Cuningham, born in Illinois of mixed Irish and French blood. She went with him into the field whenever that was possible; and she helped him in his political contests, has traveled with him in his canvasses has been his companion and advisor. With the attractions of her sex, she has rare gifts in affairs, and has always won and held respect and esteem. In her sudden and terrible bereavement, she will have a nation's sympathy.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of THE FULTON TIMES will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength, by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The Proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars, for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
☞Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.
34w4

The Holiday number of the Young Folks and the Nursery comes to us with its bright little gems and beautiful engravings. It will brighten the hearth of many a home and fill the hearts of the little ones with joy. Russell & Co., Publishers, Boston, Mass.

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c by H. C. Giesler.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

An endless variety of Fancy Holiday Goods at M. M. Williams' drug store.

Regular dinner at Kendall's every day for 20 cents.

Those desiring Photographs for the Holidays would do well to secure their sittings at once. We have just received a new line of Scenery and accessories for Holiday work. A new line of plush cabinet Frames in desirable patterns. Darrow, Patriot Building, Cor. 2d and Oneida Sts. 27tf

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Games of every description at Williams'. 31tf

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the Novelty Custom Mill, recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of [illegible] & Bedford, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to [illegible]

[illegible]
Of [illegible]
Of [illegible]

Ring out ye bells, ye Christmas bells!
The happy fireside group,
Your merry music doth invoke,
And childhood's laughing troop.

Ring out ye bells, ye Christmas bells!
Ye speak of childhood's hours,
When life's now rugged pathway seemed
Strewn with the brightest flowers.

Ring out ye bells, ye Christmas bells!
Through future ages ring,
For Jesus born in Bethlehem
Forever reigneth king.

Fulton, Dec. 25, '86. L. C. H.

LITERARY.

An "Ideal" Edition of Longfellow's Poems.

The expiration of copyright is at last bringing into really popular circulation the works of some of the most celebrated American authors, whose writings the high cost of monoploy has kept within the hands of a few. Alden, the Literary Revolution publisher, has recently brought out a number of the best books by Hawthorne, Prescott, Emerson, Poe, Cooper, and others. He has now just published a very pretty edition of Longfellow's Poems so far as copyright has expired. It is in the form which he is making famous as the Ideal Edition—beautiful enough to be worthy of the name—the type being large Long Primer, the printing and binding (cloth) in excellent taste. People who have been used to buying Longfellow might suppose the price of the handsome volume to be a dollar or more—instead of which Alden asks only 25 cents for it; Postage, 5 cents extra, if by mail. Alden's last catalogue, 64 small quarto pages, which he sends free to anyone (his publications are not sold by booksellers, buy direct only), is a veritable literary wonder in its attractions. Address John B. Alden, Publisher, New York or Chicago.

ST. NICHOLAS.

This magizine for January is a combination a of Christmas and New Years number. There appear two papers by Edwin D. Mead and Elizabeth R. Pennel on the great Eaton school in England, which are illustrated by Joseph Pennell. Francis Hodgson, Burnett's new serial, Frank stockton's shipwreck story and Miss Baylor's serial are all continued. The "Brownies" by Palmer Cox with the quaint illustrations and an old time poem "Ye Merrie Christmas Feast" is charmingly engrossed and illustrated by Reginald B. Birch are also found among the many other good things in this number.

THE SYTHE OF DEATH.

Prominent Men Who Have Died Within the Past Seventeen Months.

It is interesting to record in connection with the death of General Logan that no fewer than eleven men who have been either President or Vice President or who have been candidates for either office, have died within the past seventeen months. Their names are as follows,

Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, twice President of the United States, from 1869 to 1877, died at Mount McGregor, near Saratoga, N. Y., of cancer, on July 23, 1885.

Gen. George B. McClellan, nominated for President by the Democratic party in 1864, and afterward Governor of New Jersey, from 1878 to 1881, died suddenly at his home in Orange, New Jersey early on the morning of October 29, 1885.

Thomas A. Hendricks, candidate for Vice President in 1876, and elected to that office in 1884, died at Indianapolis, Indiana, on November 26, 1885.

B. Gratz Brown, candidate for Vice President in 1872 on the ticket with Horace Greeley, died in St. Louis, Mo., on Dec. 13, 1885.

General Winfield Scott Hancock, Democratic candidate for President in 1880 died at Governor's Island, in New York harbor, on February 9, 1886.

Horatio Seymour, ex-Governor of New York, Democratic candidate for President in 1868, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Roscoe Conkling, in Utica, N. Y., on February 12, 1886.

David Davis, elected President of the U. S. Senate on October 13, 1871, to succeed Vice President Arthur, died at Bloomington, Ill., on June 26, 1886.

Samuel J. Tilden, nominated for President of the United States in 1876, died at his residence, "Greystone," near Yonkers, New York, on August 4, 1886.

Chester A. Arthur, President of the United States from September 22, 1881, to March 4, 1885, died at his home, No. 123 Lexington Avenue, New York City, of cerebral apoplexy, on November 18, 1886.

Charles Francis Adams, grandson of the second President of the United States, and son of the sixth President and candidate for Vice President on the ticket with Martin Van Buren, in 1848, died at his home on Mount Vernon street, Boston, on November 21, 1886.

John Alexander Logan, candidate for Vice President in 1884 on the ticket with James G. Blaine, died at Washington D. C. December 26, 1886.

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 30tf.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at whole-sale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 43y1

C. S. EGGLESTON.
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

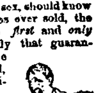
—FOR THE—
HOLIDAY SEASON!
SNOW & LOOMIS,
have a fine assortment of
[illegible]

[illegible] of $50,000, were [illegible] by officers of the Pinkerton National Detective agency last night. The agency has succeeded in arresting five men, namely, Frederick Witrock, who is the author of the "Jim Cummings" letters and who is claimed to be the man who perpetrated the robbery: W. W. Haight an employe of the Express company, who is supposed to have aided in planning the robbery; Edward Kinney, a brother-in-law of Witrock, upon whose person was found a considerable part of the express money and Oscar Cook, who hid Witrock after the robbery and divided the money and mailed the "Jim Cummings" letters. The detectives have turned up about $15,000 and estimate that from $40,000 to $45,000 is still unaccounted for.

President Cleveland, who has been troubled with rheumatism, is steadily improving. Yesterday with his wife he rode out to his country home, Oak View.

HAVE YOU never felt strangely tired, restless or uneasy? Have you had pains shooting through the head, along the limbs or around the back? Have you experienced strange sensations for which you could not account? And do you know that all these things arise from diseased kidneys, which, unless promptly cured will run into Bright's disease and end in Death? The Kidneys are the seat of nine-tenths of all the diseases of to-day!!

The F. E. C. Kidney Remedy is an absolute cure for these troubles, and is guaranteed by the druggists who sell it. It is especially valuable for Female Troubles. Every mother, every wife, every nervous and overworked woman, whose life is made miserable by sufferings peculiar to her sex, should know that of all the medicines ever sold, the F. E. C. Remedy is the first and only that guarantees relief or refunds the money. It is effectual, as thousands of testimonials will prove.



Sold by all Dealers everywhere.
Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

A SEARCH FOR WORDS!

With the view of arousing a lively interest in the use of words, and calling attention to my LARGE and ELEGANT STOCK of WATCHES, DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, SILVER and PLATED WARE, FANCY GOODS, etc. etc., now ready for the Holidays, I offer the following TEN VALUABLE PRIZES, now on exhibition at store, Vanderbilt Square:—

To the party sending on or before January 1st, 1887, the largest list of regular words in legitimate use that can be made up from the words "C. S. BALL, JEWELER," I will present a Gold Stem Winding Watch, valued at $30.00

Second Largest, a Fine Enameled Iron Clock, valued at 20.00

Third largest, One Dozen Knives and Forks, (own make) valued at 5.00

Fourth largest, a Silver-Plated Cake Basket valued at 5.00

Fifth to Tenth, inclusive, Set of Silver-Plated Knives, valued at 2.50

Printed rules governing the search will be sent on application by postal card or otherwise to

C. S. BALL, JEWELER & SILVERSMITH, Syracuse, N.Y

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., Dec. 22, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and Trustees, Kendrick, Bradford, Chase, More, and Johnson.

The minutes were read and approved with the correction to-wit; An account was presented by M. F. Crahan from the Fire Council for the building of a wardrobe in the Engine house. The bill was allowed at $48.24.

The Finance Committee reported the following bills correct and they were audited at the amount claimed.

J. R. Fairgrieve, Printing	$18.12
John Cavanaugh, lamp lighting,	38.67

Trustee Pardee came in,

A bill was presented from Steamer Co. No. 1 of $25., for building a ward-robe in Engine House, After some discussion the bill was tabled,

The president gave notice that he had suspended the operation of the resolution passed at the last meeting for the payment of $48.24 for wardrobe at Engine House, for the reason, that in his judgment it was improvident.

Trustee Kendrick and the president were appointed a committee to confer with the Fulton Water Works Company and ascertain if and on what terms a contract can be made for a short term.

On motion the lamp lighter was instructed not to light the gas or oil lamps after the evening of Dec. 24th.

The President was appointed a committee to notify the Supt. of the Gas Company that the village would not use gas for the street lamps after Dec. 24th. next.

R. E. Hart came before the board and asked permission to take some dirt from the junction of Pratt and Seventh St. On motion the request was granted, provided the owners of the premises adjoining gave their consent.

On motion the Board adjourned to Wednesday December 29 at 7½ p. m.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

—IF YOUR—
HORSE IS LAME
USE DR. J. S. MARKHAM'S
"Spavin Cure."
—IF HE HAS—
[illegible] or Contracted Hoofs,
Use Dr. J. S. Markham's
FOUNDER OINTMENT.
[illegible]

AYER'S Hair Vigor has given me perfect satisfaction. I was nearly bald for six years, during which time I used many hair preparations, but without success. Indeed, what little hair I had, was growing thinner, until I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. I used two bottles of the Vigor, and my head is now well covered with a new growth of hair. —Judson B. Chapel, Peabody, Mass.

HAIR that has become weak, gray, and faded, may have new life and color restored to it by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "My hair was thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, and restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal.— Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.

VIGOR, youth, and beauty, in the appearance of the hair, may be preserved for an indefinite period by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "A disease of the scalp caused my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do any good until I commenced using Ayer's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff.—Mrs. E. R. Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.

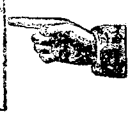
Ayer's Hair Vigor,
Sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

PERFECT SAFETY, prompt action, and wonderful curative properties, easily place Ayer's Pills at the head of the list of popular remedies for Sick and Nervous Headaches, Constipation, and all ailments originating in a disordered Liver.

I have been a great sufferer from Headache, and Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the only medicine that has ever given me relief. One dose of these Pills will quickly move my bowels, and free my head from pain.—William L. Page, Richmond, Va.

Ayer's Pills,
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Dealers in Medicine.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.



CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

The Cosmopolitan

The handsomest, most entertaining, low price, illustrated family magazine in the world, ($2.50 per year, with a $2.25 premium free.) Sixty-four beautifully printed pages in each number, filled with short stories, sketches, travels, adventures, bright and brief scientific and literary articles, by distinguished American and foreign writers, such as Julian Hawthorne, Harriet Prescott Spofford, George Parsons Lathrop, Louise Chandler Moulton, J. Macdonald Oxley, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, H. H. Boyesen, Catherine Owen, Rev. R. Heber Newton, Alphonse Daudet, Paul Heyse, Count Tolstoi, Th. Dostoivsky, William Westall and many others. Also entertaining JUVENILE and invaluable HOUSEHOLD departments. One or more illustrated articles and several full-page engravings in every number.

A Shannon Letter and Bill File or a Shannon Sheet-Music Binder Free to every Subscriber.

These premiums sell everywhere for $2.25 each. The File is the most perfect device ever invented for the preservation and classification (alphabetically and according to date) of all letters, bills, etc. Any paper can be referred to, taken out and put back without disturbing the others. With the Binder one can insert or take out any piece of music without disturbing any other sheet.

Get SAMPLE COPY at NEWS STAND or send 20 Cents to publishers.

AGENTS WANTED. BIG COMMISSIONS PAID.

Schlicht & Field Co., Rochester, N.Y.

SWAYNES

THROAT & LUNG TROUBLES CONQUERED BY SWAYNE'S WILD CHERRY

SWAYNE'S VERMIFUGE THE CHILDREN'S MEDICINE

TO KEEP HEALTHY 1. EXERCISE DAILY 2. EAT GOOD FOOD 3. BE CHEERFUL 4. USE SWAYNE'S PILLS.

SWAYNE'S PANACEA PURIFIES SYPHILITIC BLOOD.

LONDON HAIR RESTORER (ENGLISH) DR. SWAYNE & SON SOLE AGENT.

OINTMENT

THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES

SKIN HUMOR

SYMPTOMS Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night—worse by scratching—very distressing. If allowed to continue tumors form which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT [illegible]

[illegible] FREE [illegible]

HOLIDAY GOODS

HOLIDAY GOODS
CHEAPEST AND BEST AT GIESLER'S
OPERA HOUSE DRUG STORE!
AT H. C. GIESLER'S.

BOOKS, THREE CENTS EACH.

The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, many of them handsomely illustrated, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. Please examine the list and see if you do not find therein some that you would like to possess. In cloth-bound form these books would cost $1.00 each. Each book is complete in itself:

Anecdotes of the Rebellion. A collection of humorous, pathetic, and thrilling narratives of the war, stories of bivouac and battle-field, march and picket, adventures of scouts and spies, stories of prison life, of the great Generals, of Mr. Lincoln, etc.
The Life of General U. S. Grant. By W. A. PETERS. With portrait and other illustrations.
Poems, by John G. Whittier. The only cheap edition published—should be in every household. Illustrated.
Poems, by Henry W. Longfellow. No one can afford to be without this fine collection. Illustrated.
Poems, by Alfred Tennyson. This work contains some of the finest compositions of the great Poet Laureate.
Parlor Amusements. A large collection of Acting Charades, Parlor Dramas, Shadow Pantomimes, Games, Puzzles, etc., for social gatherings, public and private entertainments and evenings at home. Illustrated.
Manual of Floriculture. Teaches the best method of propagating all the different plants, tells how to cure disease and eradicate insect pests, gives directions for making beautiful floral and other devices, for window gardening, etc. Illustrated.
Guide to Needlework, Knitting and Crochet. Containing designs and directions for all kinds of Fancy Needlework, Artistic Embroidery, Lace Work, Knitting, Tatting, Crochet and Net Work. Illustrated.
Famous Detective Stories. A collection of thrilling narratives of Detective experience, many of them written by actual members of the profession.
Yankee Wit and Humor. A collection of humorous stories, sketches, poems and paragraphs, by the leading funny men of the American press. Illustrated.
The Mystery at Blackwood Grange. A Novel. By MRS. MAY AGNES FLEMING.
The Evil Genius. A Novel. By M. T. CALDOR.
The Story of a Storm. A Novel. By MRS. JANE G. AUSTIN.
Out of the Sea. A Novel. By CLARA AUGUSTA.
Agatha's History. A Novel. By MARGARET BLOUNT.
The Morwick Farm Mystery. A Novel. By WILKIE COLLINS. Illustrated.
The Last of the Ruthvens. A Novel. By MISS MULOCK. Illustrated.
A Dead Heart. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."
Out of the Depths. A Novel. By HUGH CONWAY.
The Romantic Adventures of a Milkmaid. A Novel. By THOMAS HARDY.
In the Holidays. A Novel. By MARY CECIL HAY.
The Heir to Ashley. A Novel. By MRS. HENRY WOOD.
Miss or Mrs.? A Novel. By WILKIE COLLINS.
More Bitter than Death. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
Carriston's Gift. A Novel. By HUGH CONWAY.
The Fatal Lilies. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."
A Shadow on the Threshold. A Novel. By MARY CECIL HAY.
The Curse of Carew. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
The Blatchford Bequest. A Novel. By HUGH CONWAY. Illustrated.
A Queen Amongst Women. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
The Fatal Marriage. A Novel. By MISS M. E. BRADDON.
A Tale of Sin. A Novel. By MRS. HENRY WOOD.
A Bridge of Love. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
A Passive Crime. A Novel. By "THE DUCHESS."
Ingledew House. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
The Knightsbridge Mystery. A Novel. By CHARLES READE. Illustrated.
Wedded and Parted. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
A Fortune Hunter. A Novel. By ANNIE THOMAS.
Among the Ruins. A Novel. By MARY CECIL HAY.
Rose Lodge. A Novelette. By MRS. HENRY WOOD.

☞ We will send any four of the above books by mail post-paid upon receipt of only Twelve Cents; any ten for 25 Cents; any twenty five for 50 Cents; the entire list (40 books) for 75 Cents; the entire list bound in boards, with cloth back, for $1.10. These are the cheapest books ever published and guaranteed worth three times the money asked for them. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Postage stamps taken for fractions of a dollar. As to our reliability, we refer to any newspaper published in New York, likewise to the Commercial Agencies.

Special Offer! To every one sending for the entire list of books as above, we will send, without extra charge, either sixty cents' worth of the Imperial Plated Paper Patterns, to be selected by yourself from a catalogue which will be sent you, or The People's Home Journal, a large 16-page, 64-column illustrated literary paper, for one year. All orders filled by return mail.

Address all letters: F. M. LUPTON, Publisher, No. 3 Park Place, New York.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

Is a household name throughout the United States. It is administered as a specific, and with SUCCESS, in DYSPEPSIA, Sick HEADACHE, Nervous Debility, Liver Complaint, Billous Remittents, Bowel Complaints (especially CONSTIPATION), Gout, Gravel, RHEUMATISM, Nausea, the complaints peculiar to the maternal sex, and all types of Inflammation.

So mild is it in its operation that it can be given with perfect safety to [illegible] child; and so agreeable is it to the taste, so refreshing to the [illegible] that children never refuse to take it. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N.Y.

ONE CENT PAYS FOR A

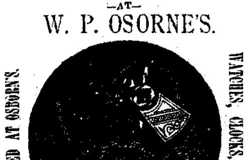
Postal Card. Buy one and send to THE TROY TIMES, TROY, N. Y., for a FREE Sample Copy of that unrivalled and

FAMOUS NEWSPAPER

THE TROY WEEKLY TIMES. By sending Twenty-Five Cents you can have THE TIMES mailed to any address for

THREE MONTHS on TRIAL

—SELECT YOUR—
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
at W. P. OSBORNE'S.
-BUY-
Hampden Watches,
—AT—
W. P. OSORNE'S.



REPAIRED AT OSBORN'S.

WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY,

-B-U-Y-

At W. P. OSBORNE'S.
—BUY—
THE WM. ROGERS'
Silver Plated Teaspoons
FOR $1,00 at
W. P. OSBORNE'S.
18m4

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2¾ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A [illegible] acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jas. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 34 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y.

G. W. [illegible]
[illegible] Building, Oneida Street.

ONE VOTE

at the polls determined the United States Senatorship in New Jersey. Just $1.50 will secure you the American Agriculturist for 1887, which for half a century has been the recognized leading periodical of its character, and now contains far more illustrations, is larger in every way and better than ever. Postmasters! form clubs.

The JUVENILE, HEARTH and HOUSEHOLD DEPARTMENTS have been enlarged, and HUMBUG Exposures are to receive additional attention.

1,000 ORIGINAL ILLUSTRATIONS.

Every issue of the American Agriculturist contains nearly 100 original illustrations of animals, plants, new farm and household conveniences and appliances, out-door scenes, etc.

SPLENDID ENGRAVINGS FREE!!!

Homes Of Our Farmer Presidents.

It is noteworthy that a majority of our Presidents were reared on farms, or retired from public life to rural scenes. The American Agriculturist is now publishing and sending free to all subscribers, at an outlay of over $30,000, superb engravings (18 by 24 inches in size) of these homes, together with special descriptive papers by James Parton, Donald G. Mitchell and other living American authors. These Engravings constitute a magnificent portfolio collection of ornaments for the walls of a prince or peasant home. Subscription for 1887 immediately forwarded are entitled to all the series beginning in May last.

Endorsed by the U. S. Government.

Vol. 8th. Tenth Census, U. S. says: "The American Agriculturist, is especially worthy of mention, because of the remarkable success that has attended the unique and untiring efforts of its proprietors to increase and extend its circulation. Its contents are duplicated every month for a German edition' which also circulates widely."

Price $1.50 a year; Single Numbers, 15 cents. Balance of this year FREE to all subscribing immediately.

Send Six Cents for mailing your Grand Double Number, just out, 32 page Premium List, and Sample Proof of Engravings of "Homes of Our Farmer Presidents," together with James Parton. Address

DAVID W. JUDD, Pub.,
751 Broadway, N.Y.

☞Canvassers wanted everywhere.

Job-Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCE,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,
—AT THE—
FULTON TIMES.

[illegible] WESTERN R. R.

[illegible] SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible] ....9:18 a. m
[illegible] and Philadelphia Express....11:[illegible] a. m
[illegible] and Elmira Express....[illegible] p. m
[illegible] Express....[illegible] p. m.
[illegible] and Phil. Night Express....[illegible] p. m

GOING NORTH.

[illegible] York and Philadelphia Express....8:18 a. m.
[illegible] Express....12:19 p. m.
[illegible] Express....3:45 p. m.
[illegible] York and Philadelphia Express....6:27 p. m.
[illegible] Express....8:44 p. m.

[illegible] 6:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will [illegible] Sundays.
[illegible] Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. Schwarz, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y., ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express....7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation....8:40 a. m
Norwich Express....8:06 p. m
N. Y. Night Express....9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express....6:24 a. m
Oswego Express....11:06 a. m.
Freight and accommodation....5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express....9:57 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:31	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19	3:39	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Fred E. Sweet and wife of Rochester, are visiting in this village.

Allen Gilmour jr. of Albany, is visiting at F. D. VanWagenen's.

Mrs. Thomas Keeler spent Christmas with her daughter in Phœnix.

Frank Waterman is home from Princeton college on a vacation.

H. C. Young of Toronto, Ont. is spending the holidays in this village.

Richard Carr of Skaneateles Falls, spent Christmas at his home in this village.

Miss Jennie Elder of Rochester is at her home in this village during the holidays.

J. Cooley Tucker is reported to us as improving slowly but is still unable to be out.

Miss Louisa B. Gere of Wellesley college is home during the Christmas vacation.

Miss Minnie Smith of Auburn is visiting in town the guest of Miss Zuilee Hubbard.

Dr. James Haddock and family of Oswego, spent Christmas at Mrs. Isaac Ketchum's.

Miss Hattie Whitaker of Albany is spending the holidays at her home in this village.

Dr. C. F. Howes of New York is a guest of Mrs. Dr. Osborne at Lower Oswego Falls.

The entire family of J. S. Patmer including grandchildren spent Christmas with the Captain.

M. A. Stewart and family spent Christmas at New Haven the guests of Mrs. Alice Dowd.

Will Perine, who is attending a business college in New Jersey is home during his vacation.

Samuel Green returned last Wednesday from a two month's trip to his old home in England.

Miss Clara Whitaker, who is engaged in teaching at Orange, N. J., is at home during the holidays.

William Fairgrieve of Union College Schenectady, is passing his vacation at his home in this village.

Mr. and Mrs. George Chauncey of Suspension Bridge passed Christmas at the home of Reuben Bradshaw.

T. A. Barker and wife who have been at Memphis Tenn. for the past few months, have returned to Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy and their daughter Josie spent Christmas in this village, the guests of Job Bennett.

Miss Kittie Lewis is spending the Holidays with her father at Ilion where he is engaged as book-keeper at the Remington works.

Arvin Mattison and wife of Rochester are visiting at Washington Mattison's in this village. Mr. Mattison who was formerly foreman at the Patriot office is now a compositor in the Democrat and Chronicle office at Rochester.

E. V. Babcock, for the past few years connected with the Robinson Brothers' Lumber Co. Detroit, Mich. is at his home in this village on a two weeks vacation.

Assemblyman Henry C. Howe, Wm. C. Stephens, Charles David, Melvin Stephens, and James Loomis with their families and Miss Frankie Spathe, were the guests of Surrogate David of Phœnix on Chrismas.

Dr. [illegible] member of [illegible] ... [illegible] last spring, to select a substitute for hanging convicted murderers, when asked what the general sentiment on the question appeared to be, so far as ascertained, replied that the committee expected to present its report to the governor during the latter part of January. "Electricity," says the doctor, "seems to be the most acceptable substitute for hanging. Neither the prussic acid, nor the poison, nor the garrote suggestions meet with any favor. A few persons advocate the guillotine, but this is a barbarous mode of operation The general sentiment in this country, as well as elsewhere, is that capital punishment is necessary, and the object of our inquiry is to ascertain what substitute for hanging will best accord with humanity and the enlightened spirit of the age. The plan I favor is that of an arm chair with metal arms. The condemned would be seated in the chair, and at the proper moment receive a full electric charge through the metalic arms. This would pass straight through his body, across the chest, and death would be instantaneous. A dynamo of forty-two horse power would be sufficient to accomplish the work with neatness and dispatch."

Grand and Petit Jurors.

The following jurors were drawn Friday to serve at the next county court of sessions:

Grand Jurors—M. O'Brien, Henry Quonce, Richard Glynn, William Sweeny, John Gardenier, Wm. Daly, Michael Cullerton, of Oswego; Henry F. Parsons, William B. Ellsworth, Palermo; Roselle Parkhurst, Scriba; Clark Nichols, Harvey L. Bowan, Thos. Wood, Delos A. Bunn, Volney; Lester Laric, Wm. H. Brackett, M. R. Nelson, Hannibal; Newton Johnson, Dumas Pickert, Jas. McQueen, Chas. F. Marsh, Granby; Chas. E. Brown, Chas. L. Spencer, New Haven; Frank F. Coffinger, Oswego Town.

Petit Jurors—F. W. Alvord, Welcome Marsden, C. M. Beardslee, George Greigs, Elmer Benedict, Wm. Shears, John Bishop, D. N. Sears, Schrœppel; Wm. Waugh, Levi S. Candee, Melvin Hall, Thos. Bartlett, George Knight, Charles Wilson, Fred Robert, Edward Fairbanks, C. S. Rust, Volney; Albertus Frost, B. S. Crofoot, William Longen, J. A. Rodgers, V. S. Sheppard, Hannibal; Albert Ure, Walter Scudder, William Cribb, J. A. Baker, Judson B. Wyant, Palermo; Clark Miller, Oswego Town; Samuel Nichols, Frank Melon, Charles Fineron, Wm. K. Mack, New Haven; Hamilton Congden, Abram Dubois, Scriba; Alfred Signor, Granby.

Willis Ney is able to be out again after his long and severe illness.

George Virgil of Homer is visiting his brother-in-law L. D. Spooner.

Wm. Barrett of Rochester is visiting friends in Fulton for a few days.

Mrs. Hale Curtis and daughter Nellie are visiting with friends in Syracuse.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowman of Utica, are visiting friends in town for a few days.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Maria G. Ramsey died at her home in this village last Monday morning aged 65 years. The funeral services were held from the house this morning at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Ramsey has lived in Fulton for the past 16 years and was respected by all that knew her. Her husband and one son have died during the past two years.

You will find the largest assortment of Holiday goods at M. M. Williams' Drug Store. 29tf

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. Cooley Tucker. 24tf

Most complete line of Underwear and Hosiery at Peebles & Cook's.

Gold band China Tea Sets only $5.50, at SYLVESTER'S.

M. M. Williams has just returned from New York with the largest assortment of Holiday Goods ever shown in Fulton. Don't fail to see them.

Everyone purchasing goods to the amount of $1.00 will receive a new hat at SYLVESTER'S.

Regular dinner at Kendall's every day for 20 cents.

D. C. Draper has opened at No. 34 First St., 1st door south of Lang's Furniture store, with a large stock of Fresh groceries, where he will be glad to see his old customers and new ones. The damaged stock in Oneida St. store will not be on sale until next week.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t

HOLIDAY PRESENTS!

That Your Gentlemen Friends will Appreciate.

—AN IMMENSE STOCK OF—

MEN'S AND BOY'S

SUITS AND OVERCOATS,

Fur Caps, Mufflers, Silk Handkerchiefs, Neckties, Gloves, Mittens, Hosiery, Underwear, Scarf Pins, Cuff Buttons, Silk and Alpaca Umbrellas, &c.

D. C. MORE & CO.

[illegible] large stock of these goods for the Holiday Trade and [illegible] please you [illegible] Quality. Call [illegible]

[illegible] along [illegible]

The Case family held their Christmas gathering at the residence of John H. Case on Fourth street.

About fifty Fultonians witnessed Edwin Booth as Iago at the Academy of Music, Oswego, last Friday evening.

Mr. Green is now found, at the store of D. C. Draper, No. 34 First street with a fine supply of his choice candies &c.

Mrs Druse will not be hanged to-day as the governer has granted her a reprieve in the case until February 28th.

The U. S. O. S. A. club of this village will hold its second reception in the Uncas club parlors on New Year's eve.

Clarence P. Hall and bride arrived at Fulton on Monday evening. They will reside with R. P. Hall on Utica street for the present.

The children of Zion church Sunday school had an enjoyable time at their Christmas tree in the Good Templars hall on Chrismas eve.

Justin McCarthy, the renouned statesman and writer, will lecture on the "Cause of Ireland" in Priory hall, Oswego, next Monday evening.

James Kurran of Terrytown, and Miss Rosa Conley of Granby were married at the Catholic church last Sunday evening by Rev. Father Kearney.

The poultry display during the past week has been great. Many of the local markets, restaurants and groceries had as fine display as at any time for years.

Married—On Saturday evening December 25th at the residence of H. C. Beals, Fred E. Sutherland and Maud Chamberlain, by the Rev. Carl H. Stone.

A Chicago clergyman asks "Can a man be a Christian and at the same time a successful business man?" An exchange says "He can if he advertises largely."

Officer Thos. G. Poole, night watchman, was the recipient of a purse of $20 on Christmas from some of the business men of Fulton in appreciation of his services during the past two years.

The board of supervisors visited Fulton last Thursday evening, had a repast at the Lewis house, attended the Ragan "Illuminated Tours" at the opera house and returned to Oswego on the ten o'clock train.

Daniel Upton of Sandy Creek, had nineteen sheep killed by dogs last week. About as many were injured by the dogs though not killed. Mr. Upton had eleven sheep killed about four weeks ago and as many more bitten.

The Sunday school concert in connection with the New Year's Festival in the Methodist E. church at Gilberts Mills will be held on Saturday evening Jan. 1 1887, instead of Friday evening as stated in last week's Times.

Charles Kimball of Palermo, is the possessor of a double harness which he bought in Fulton in 1845 of one Samuel Dean. A few days ago he was on the street with this harness and a sleigh with which he rode into Palermo in 1827.

The Fulton Lodge I. O. G. T., has in its possession the silver pitcher held by the lodge that initiates the most new members in proportion to its size of any lodge in the county. The number initiated during the last quarter was twenty-eight.

It is said that a young lady in Fulton hung up one of her stockings on Christmas night. Her brother arose in the morning before daylight and dumped eight scuttles of coal in it, mistaking it for the receiver of their No. 19 Howe Ventilating Stove.

The order for 6,000 Remington guns, received by the receivers of E. Remington & Sons, a short time since, has been increased to 11,000. This will furnish work for many of Ilion's unemployed men for two or three months at least, and is a welcome holiday greeting.

Now is the time that subscribers of The Times should renew their subscriptions. The sum paid by each is comparatively small, but the amount in the aggregate is large. It costs money to conduct a newspaper, so please call and settle.

The twenty thousand dollars in stock required to bring the Jacobs furnace company to Phœnix has all been subscribed, and the company will meet January 8th to consider what legal steps are necessary in the matter. The change in location will probably be made immediately thereafter.—[Palladium.

Last Wednesday afternoon the Board of Supervisors by a vote of 15 to 14 decided to erect a new jail in Oswego at a cost not to exceed $27,000. Supervisors Barrett, Salladin and Getman were selected to go to Crawfordsville, Ind. to inspect a rotary jail there, a model of which the Board had examined and thought favorably of.

George Latta of Charlotte, was robbed at the Ringland house, in Oswego on Saturday morning by a Wm. Gough, who climbed through the transom over the door, took $37 from Latta's pocket and then locked him in the room. Gough was arrested later and $31.50 found in his pocket. He was held to await the action of the grand jury.

Henry Ragan gave an instructive and pleasurable entertainment last Thursday evening at the opera house to a disgracefully small audience. He announced before commencing his lecture that it was the smallest audience that he had ever appeared before during his seven years in the lecture field. The board of supervisors were present and pronounced the whole entertainment to be most excellent. Mr. Ragan is a delightful speaker and held the closest attention of those present as he described the beautiful illustrations of the historic and romantic Rhine and Switzerland produced upon a canvas of [illegible]

[illegible] from the lathes [illegible] up to the ceiling and left it. This was the last seen of the hammer until last Friday. While the men were engaged, on that day, in tearing down the ruins of the old structure to make way for the new brick one that is to be built on its site, Mr. Rice thought of the hammer that he had lost. He went to the spot and there lying between the lath and the frame work was the hammer, in a dark but cozy nook where it had passed its Rip Van Winkle sleep and was brought to light to see the many and great changes that had taken place on Oneida street during the past twenty-five years.

Carrier's Address.

A New Year's poem has been written for The Times and will be issued before Saturday. It will appear in neat pamphlet form and will be an interesting souvenir to all. It is replete with matters of local interest and contains nearly 300 lines. The water works, electric lights, street cars, sewers, fire department, opera house, village improvement, new industries, etc., are all treated of in a rich and rare way. The muse led the poet to visit many places of business in the village and the result of those visits appear in the poem. The carrier boys will make you a New Years call with them and every reader of The Times to whom the paper is delivered should remembered that during the past year, on every Wednesday afternoon, rain, or shine, in fair or foul weather, the carrier's have brought The Times to your door. Reward them with a dime or a quarter for their Carrier's Address.

Masonic.

At the recent election of officers for Frontier City lodge No. 422, of Oswego, the following named officers were elected for the year: W. M., George E. Watkin; S. W., C. W. Hall; J. W., Wm. C. Hewson; treasurer C. H. Butler; secretary, Charles H. Carrier; trustee, Geo. Goble.

The following were appointed: S. D., E. E. Scribner; J. D., C. B. Boyle; Tyler G. W. Vickery; chaplain, William Hancock; organist, V. J. Weeks; S. M. C., D. B. Page; J. M. C., W. J. Johnson; orator, Gilbert Wendell.

A dancing party was held in the opera house hall last Friday evening.

Oswego Falls was lighted with its seventeen electric arc lights Monday evening for the first time.

The Oswego Falls Board have decided to have an addional electric light for the northern part of the village.

Would it not be well for the several cheese factories of the county to send their results of the past season to the newspapers for publication. This certainly would be of great interest to dairymen.

The remains of the late General Logan will lie in state from Thursday noon until Friday noon when the funeral ceremonies will take place from the United States Senate chamber at Washington D. C.

F. Kenyon Jones has been engaged to play the piano for a series of elegant Germans, to be held in the Doolittle House, Oswego. The first one is this evening. Mr. Jones will also furnish the wedding music at the Catholic church, where he is organist, at the marriage ceremonies to night.

A rumor is afloat in town that Hannibal is to be visited by the Fulton detachment of the Salvation army, and that Cooper hall has been engaged for the occasion. With the three clergymen we have here we are of the opinion that it will be useless for the Salvation Brigade to pitch their encampment here.—[Hannibal News.

The Father Mathew T. & B. Society of this village met last Monday evening and appointed a committee to make arrangements for a grand celebration on "St. Patrick's day in the evening," March 17, at the opera house, which has been engaged for the occasion. A four act drama "The Social Glass" will be presented together with other attractions.

At the meeting of Post Schenck held at their rooms last evening a committee consisting of A. P. Chase, Amos Youmans and James Cooper was appointed to draw up a set of resolutions in regard to the death of Gen. Logan and to make arrangements for a special memorial meeting in their rooms on Friday evening. The rooms of the post are to be draped for thirty days and if they should be called out within that time to appear with a badge of mourning.

A large and elegant line of Ball cards and invitations just received at The Times office. Call and see them and get our prices.

For Sale or To Rent.

The new house on First street, two blocks south of Broadway.

Inquire of H. Hulett. 28tf

You will find slippers and fine goods for the holidays in a larger assortment than usual at Collins'. 33tf

D. C. Draper has opened at No. 34 First St., 1st door south of Lang's Furniture store, with a large stock of Fresh groceries, where he will be glad to see his old customers and new ones. The damaged stock in Oneida street store will not be on sale until next week.

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $35.00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $25.00; 50 pieces tapestry carpet 65c a yard and 70 pieces extra super ingrain carpet 55c a yard.

We will deliver all purchases freight, prepaid to any part of the state. Now the time for Bargains.

More Goods for 25c at Williams' than any place in Oswego county. 31tf

[illegible] at Miller's Opera House [illegible] 29tf

[illegible] hung at half mast for Gen. Logan.

Mrs. J. C. [illegible] celebrated her 89 birthday on last Wednesday.

Rev. Mr. Robinson of Cortland officiated at Zion church on Sunday last.

Both of the candidates for the Vice-Presidency in 1884 are now dead.

A family Christmas dinner was observed at the home of R. E. Phillips.

Benefit concert of the Oswego Falls Brass Band at the opera house on New Years eve.

The dry goods stores in this village will be open during the evening for the rest of the week.

Sally Palmer of Meridian, Cayuga county, celebrated her hundreth birthday last week.

Watch night services will be held in the M. E. church on Friday evening commencing at 830 p. m.

A young men's temperance club has been formed in this village. None over 21 years of age belong.

Charles Sweet and Miss Nellie Hoe both of this village are to be married at the Catholic church this evening.

The next meeting of the C. L. S. C. will be held at the home of Mrs. D. C. More, Wednesday evening January 5th.

M. A. Stewart presented as a Christmas gift to the Catholic church new material for trimming the altar of the church.

A grand social promenade was held by the Father Mathew T. & B. society at Johnston's hall, Oswego Falls, last evening.

Now is the time to collect your stock of resolutions and select the ones you propose to put into practice on Saturday next.

The annual election and annual meeting of the Oswego Falls Agricultural Society will be held at the office of Howe & Rice on January 12.

Father Earley received a beautiful chair from the ladies of the new Sodality and a handsome foot rest from the Sunday school as Christmas gifts.

Among the attractions at the Oswego Falls band entertainment Saturday evening will be the performance of Malaja and Olssen two local circus performers.

We are now passing through the shortest days of the year. To the lazy they are the dreariest. To the industrious and thrifty, all days bring their pleasures.

Our subscription list is constantly increasing but there is always room for more. Speak a good word for The Times to your friends as many are already doing.

The services at the Catholic church on Christmas day were of an unusually interesting and impressive nature. The new mass of F. K. Jones' composing was said to be exceedingly fine.

A German is to be held in Church's hall this evening. Schilling of Oswego with four pieces will furnish the music. Refreshments will be served during the evening in the Uncas club parlors.

The association of ex-union prisoners of Oswego county will hold a meeting for the election of officers on Wednesday, January 12th, at 1 o'clock at the rooms of post O'Brian G. A. R., in Oswego.

Grant, Hancock, McClellan, Seymour, Tilden, Hendricks, Garfield, Arthur and now Logan—all dead. It would seem as though Death were making haste to thin out the nation's great men.

On two or three evenings of the past week, the Salvation army has appeared on the streets with their tambourines and banners and paraded to the number of about twenty with shouts and songs.

There were no services in the village churches on Christmas day, except at the church of Immaculate Conception, where high mass was held at 6 a. m. and 10 a. m. This church was crowded on both occasions.

The Julliard Lodge I. O. G. T. of Oswego Falls has been awarded an elegant picture containing the photos of the past officers of the grand lodge of the state for initiating more new members during the past quarter than any in the state. The number initiated was 51.

The Palladium states that Santa Claus didn't strike Oswego very early Friday night. An accident happened him at Syracuse which nearly knocked his well laid plans to smithereens, While putting a half bushel of chocolate drops in a James street girls stocking he fell in himself and the services of the hook and ladder men were required to get him out.

The many former acquaintances of John G. Gilbert, son of Andrus Gilbert, who removed to Warrensburg, Mo., will be pained to hear of the sudden death of his son, Porter A. Gilbert, an esteemed young man of some 25 years, who came to his death by taking capsules containing morphine instead of quinine which he called for. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from "apoplexy." This it was believed was superinduced by morphine poisoning. The matter will be investigated.—[Fulton Cor. Standard.

Winter now stares us in the face. Extensive preparations for shutting out the the cold have been completed and homes are bright, warm and cheerful at this holiday season, garments have been purchased suitable for keeping out the cold, and the wants of the inner-man have been stored in the cellars. Coal [illegible] are daily seen on the streets of our village with carts loaded with diamonds. All this and many other things suggests the inquiry: How many families have we in enlightened Fulton who are not supplied with these necessaries of life.

Go to Sylvester's, No. 24 Oneida street for [illegible]

[illegible] at Kendall's every day

[illegible] to visit Macon a few weeks ago. The deceased had lived in Macon for a number of years and had charge of a railroad yard in that city. He was a man of eccentric habits and led almost the life of a recluse, making few acquaintances and no confidants. About ten days before his death he was taken with brain fever and became crazy, while in this condition he appeared upon the streets. He was then taken to the hospital where he died. Upon his death, George R. Barker, dealer in family and fancy groceries, was appointed executor of his estate, He found that there was property valued at some $3,000 which was slightly incumbered, but after all bills were paid $1,000 or $1,500 would be left for the proper heirs if they could be found. Among his effects were found a number of letters received from John J. Boardman from this village, certificate of membership to Koinonikos lodge No. 294 I. O. of O. F. issued June 16, 1848, signed by S. M. Kenyon W. G. M., C. Hough, Sec., and James S. Ridgely corresponding Sec., also a receipt for money paid to the aferesaid lodge on February 16, 1849, signed by E. B. Knox, perminent Secretary.

On inquiring of Mr. Boardman we ascertained that they came to Fulton together from Albion, Orleans county, in 1847. That they worked together in building Kenyon's mill and afterwards in building the Telegraph mills for Clark & Pond. After living in Fulton for two years or more he worked for Mr. Howell in Oswego and finally in his employment went to Boston, Mass., Mr. Boardman lost track of him for a number of years but finally heard from him in Eatonton Ga., and once about six years ago from Macon. Mr. Boardman says that he is not related to the Saunders of this locality, but when they left Albion about forty years ago, there was a younger sister living in that place. This he says is the only relative he ever heard of.

Christmas Day.

Christmas day was passed very quietly in Fulton. The day opened cold and clear but there was no snow, a thing that is essential to make a perfect Christmas day. Comparatively few were seen upon the street, the people in general seeming to prefer to spend the day indoors and enjoy their Christmas at home. The little folks had hung up their stockings on the night previous in anticipation of a visit from Santa Claus and we understand that before he left Fulton his stock was so completely exhausted that he was compelled to send many gifts through the mail which accounts for the large amount of things that came to the post office on Christmas day and kept postmaster Whitaker and his assistants so busy. Old Kris Kringle will come next year and the genial visitor's pack may be, perhaps a trifle more bulky. At all events we wish a long life to him for the many joys he brings to the little ones on every Christmas day.

General Logan's Coffin.

The order for the coffin for the late John A. Logan was received by Chappel, Chase, Maxwell & Company of Oneida, from Washington Monday evening. It is to be made of solid Spanish red cedar, covered with the finest French broadcloth and heavily draped with the same material, the drapes to be trimmed with special silk fringe and tassels. This coffin will inclose a full glass air-tight copper case, which will be tufted throughout with cream tinted satin, with pillow to match. The top will open full length and be tufted with the same shade of satin. The whole will be inclosed in a polished red cedar on side box trimmed with goldplated trimmings.

Wanted—A few hogs for breeding purposes. J. C. Wells, Fulton, N. Y.

Cheap! Cheap!! Cheap!!!
5 Bottle Silver Castor only $1.80,
32t3 at SYLVESTER'S.

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf the village.

Amberena Water Sets $2.30
32t3 at SYLVESTER'S

D. C. Draper has opened at No. 34 First St., 1st door south of Lang's Furniture store, with a large stock of Fresh groceries, where he will be glad to see his old customers and new ones. The damaged stock in Oneida St. store will not be on sale until next week.

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w9.

CUTTERS AND ROBES!

Don't buy until you have been to McCully's. You will be astonished at the low prices for such good goods.

Regular dinner at Kendall's every day for 20 cents.

A Holiday gift that any lady will appreciate. A Ladies' Friend Carpet Sweeper. For sale by N. R. Cole, Oneida st. 32w3

For Sale or to Rent.

The Loomis Planing mill if not sold by January 1st, will be for rent in whole or part. Enquire of R. B. McCully at the Harness Shop.

If you want a new suit call on Peebles & Cook.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

First class dress-maker to go out by the day, in country or village, also work done at home, by Miss Katie Collins, 65 Second street, up stairs. 2w.

D. C. Draper does not refuse to take money on account at his new store, No. 34 First Street, opposite Clark House. A full line of new groceries.

C. C. Howes has the implements and is prepared to sharpen knives, scissors shears &c. of all sizes and grades at his barber shop, basement of Citizens National Bank. 30tf

A fine Line of Cigars at Williams' Drug Store. 29tf

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.

SPECIALTIES!

Men's Neckwear, Suspenders, Gloves, Mufflers, Handkerchiefs, Dress Shirts, Winter Underwear, Wool, Merino and Flannel. Men's and Boys' Fur Caps.

☞ Gentlemen will do well to look at the styles and learn the prices that rule.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect Nov. 21st, 1886.

NORTHWARD.					SOUTHWARD.
5	3	1	9	STATIONS.	6	4	2	10
p m	p m	a m	a m	Leave Arrive	a m	a m	p m	p m
5 35	3 50	9 00	6 30	Jay St., N. Y.	9 40	1100	7 50	1130
5 40	4 10	9 15	6 55	42nd St., N. Y.	9 25	1045	7 35	1110
7 40	6 07	1112	9 42	West Cornwall	7 35	8 53	5 40	8 15
8 16	6 35	1138	1036	Campbell Hall	7 10	8 30	5 13	7 10
8 30	6 55	1201	1100	M't'n Main St.	6 52	8 15	4 55	6 29
8 48	7 07	1220	1233	Middletown	6 50	8 13	4 53	6 25
1902	7 24	1236	1 00	Winterton	1618	7 43	1421	5 45
1906	7 29	1243	1 15	Bloom'ngb'rgh	1612	7 37	4 15	5 35
1919	7 33	1248	1 20	Wurtsboro	1608	7 33	4 11	5 25
9 16	7 40	1258	1 30	Summitville	6 00	7 25	4 03	5 15
....	8 00	1 30	....	Ellenville	....	7 05	3 40	....
*936	....	1 19	2 00	Mountain Dale	*542	....	3 45	4 50
*943	....	1 29	2 12	Centerville	*535	....	3 38	4 35
9 53	....	1 39	2 25	Fallsburgh	5 27	....	3 30	4 20
1000	....	1 46	2 40	Hurley	*520	....	3 22	4 05
1012	....	2 00	3 10	Liberty Falls	*509	....	3 10	3 40
1016	....	2 05	3 30	Liberty	*504	....	3 05	3 30
1030	....	[illegible]	3 50	Parksville	*452	....	2 53	3 08
1042	....	2 40	4 10	L'v'gst'n Man'r	4 40	....	2 40	2 45
1055	p m	2 55	4 27	Rockland	4 23	....	2 27	2 10
1107	....	3 06	4 42	Cook's Falls	4 17	....	2 16	1 55
1130	....	3 31	5 10	East Branch	3 55	...	1 55	1 25
1140	13	3 41	5 22	Fish's Eddy	3 45	14	1 46	1 12
1150	a m	3 54	5 36	Hancock	3 33	p m	1 35	1255
1210	7 30	4 40	6 20	Walton	2 50	8 40	1250	1155
9 00	6 45	5 40	p m	Delhi	....	9 25	1040	a m
1 20	8 15	5 15	Oswego Exp.	Franklin	2 10	8 06	1205	Pass & Frt.
1128	8 25	5 22		Sidney Centre	1203	7 58	1157
1 45	9 00	5 40		Sidney (Depot)	1 45	7 40	1140
....	....	6 40		New Berlin	....	....	7 00
....	*918	1555		Guilford Centr	....	*715	1122
2 08	9 22	6 00		Guilford	1 20	7 12	1119
2 24	*938	6 18		Oxford	1 09	6 58	1104
2 45	1000	6 30	31	Norwich	1240	6 40	1045	50
....	39	....	....		....	32	....	....
....	p m	....	a m		....	p m	....	p m
2 50	2 15	6 35	7 30	Norwich	1230	7 20	1040	6 05
....	2 32	*645	7 43	North Norwich	....	7 07	1030	5 40
1314	2 55	6 59	7 57	Smyrna	1208	6 50	1018	5 25
*325	3 06	7 05	8 05	Earlville	1200	6 38	1008	5 10
3 32	3 25	7 13	8 15	Randallsville	1151	6 28	1000	4 45
1345	3 45	7 25	8 27	Eaton	1140	6 13	9 50	4 20
*350	4 00	7 30	8 32	Morrisville	1133	6 05	9 45	4 00
1404	4 31	7 43	8 45	Munnsville	1117	5 46	9 27	3 16
1415	5 00	*755	8 57	Community	1103	5 27	*915	2 20
4 21	5 18	8 00	9 10	Oneida Castle	1057	5 20	9 10	2 08
4 29	5 23	8 15	9 18	Oneida	1055	5 10	9 03	2 00
....	p m	....	....	Sylvan Beach	....	....	....	....
*455	....	*837	9 44	North Bay	1022	4 31	8 26	1155
*512	....	8 52	1000	Cleveland	1010	4 15	8 12	1125
*518	....	*858	1006	B'rnhard's Bay	1004	4 08	*806	1035
5 27	....	9 05	1015	Constantia	9 55	4 00	8 00	1027
5 46	....	9 22	1032	Central Square	9 43	3 40	7 48	9 46
1554	....	9 35	1039	Caughdenoy	9 35	*332	1736	9 26
6 06	....	9 40	1046	Pennellville	9 28	3 25	7 30	9 15
6 24	....	9 57	1105	Fulton	9 10	3 05	7 13	8 40
6 50	....	1020	1135	Oswego	8 45	2 40	6 50	7 20
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	p m	a m	a m

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

Messrs W. H. Hooker & Co.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable, I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

Mrs. LeSage,
26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

NOTICE.

The accounts of Dr. W. A. Hall are in our hands for collection. All accounts not settled before Jan. 1st will be sued without further notice.

MEAD & STRANAHAN.

CHEAP COW FEED.

Gilbert & Nichols at the Fulton Mills are selling buckwheat feed for milch cows and young stock at about the price of hay. 28w4

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

WORKING CLASSES ATTENTION We are now prepared to furnish all classes with employment at home, the whole of the time, or their spare moments. Business new, light and profitable. Persons of either sex easily earn from 50 cents to $5.00 per evening and a proportional sum by devoting all their time to the business. Boys and girls earn almost as much as men. That all who see this may send their address and test the business, we make this offer. To such as are not well pleased we will send one dollar to pay for the trouble of writing. Full particulars and your outfit free. Address George Stinson & Co., Portland, Me. 33y1

Christmas Gifts!

GO TO

MILTON S. PRICE'S,

Dry Good Carpet and Furniture Establishment.

38 and 40 SOUTH SALINA
AND
29, 31, & 33 Clinton Sts.,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

AND

Make Your Selections.

The Exhibition of Everything that is rare as a Novelty and useful as a

HOLIDAY OFFERING

has been secured. In fact the most extensive display ever made in this City.

Elegant Christmas Gifts in the DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT.

Dress Patterns in all styles and quality SILKS, CLOAKS, PLUSH GARMENTS, THE MOST SELECT STOCK IN THE CITY.

FANCY GOODS,

NO END TO THE VARIETY.

Carpets a Choice Stock.

AN EXTRA STOCK OF SMYRNA RUGS purchased expressly for the Holiday Trade,

also an extra assortment of new and novel things may be found in the

FURNITURE DEPARTMENT,

You will have no trouble in making your selection of useful and ornamental

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

AT THIS ESTABLISHMENT.

And better value will be given for your money than by any other house in the City.

MILTON S. PRICE.

Nos. 38 and 40 South Salina Street,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

SEE THE BARGAINS!

We will for a few days sell the following goods at the following prices:

1 Hammer, warranted Fine Steel, 25 cents,	worth	75cts.
1 Hatchet, warranted Steel, 25 cents,	worth	75cts.
1 20 Inch Hand Saw, warranted, 25 cents,	worth	75cts.
6 Tin Basins, (all sizes) 25 cents,	worth	72cts.
1 Fine Crock Spittoon, 25 cents,	worth	60cts.
1 Large Coal Hod, 25 cents,	worth	50cts.
1 Copper Bottom Tea Kettle, 25 cents,	worth	60cts.
1 Fine Large Lamp, 59 cents,	worth	$1.00

And Thousands of other Good Bargains.

TINWARE, GLASSWARE,
HOSIERY, MITTENS, GLOVES,
FANCY GOODS, TOYS, DOLLS,
HAND SLEDS, &c., &c. Cheaper than ever.

STOWELL'S

25 Cent Bargain Store,

Opposite Lewis House, Fulton, N. Y.

[illegible] enhance the value of a [illegible]

[illegible] adds largely to [illegible] of the manure pile.

Depend more upon straw than earth to keep frost out of potato pits.

One pleasant comfortable living room is worth two darkened parlors.

There are 40,000 women belonging to granges in the United States.

Beware of buying old varieties of seeds, garden or field, under new names at high prices.

Provide plenty of water for use of stock in winter. Animals should not be compelled to drink from a frozen stream or pond.

You cannot make your scrub pigs weigh 350 at nine months but good breeds can be made to do it.

Chickens can be fattened in twelve days to two weeks if they are kept in a dark place and fed all they can eat.

By a recent decision of the Treasury Department, tomatoes are classed at the custom house as vegetables and not as fruit.

High bred horses should not be worked in the collar, because their shoulders are so sharp pointed and slanting that the collar will not fit over them.

Cider made from finely ground apples and strained through coarse canvas is far superior to that made in the old-fashioned mills and strained through straw.

Carelessness must give away to business management on the farm. The farmer should study the markets and be as ready to take advantage of opportunities as the merchant.

Use the soot from the stove-pipes and chimneys. It is excellent for flowers and young plants. Mix it with water, about a peck of soot to a barrel of water, and apply with a watering pot.

Always turn eggs twice a week if they are to be kept for future use. Eggs for hatching will keep two or three weeks if turned half over daily. They should be in a place of moderate temperature, where they will not freeze or be too warm.

Potatoes and most vegetables will keep better in a dark, damp cellar than in a warm one. Light is injurious to the potatoe, rendering it strong and unpalatable.

Cabbage can be kept in the cellar for a long time if the heads are cut off near the ground with a hatchet; this is far better than pulling them up roots and all, as it saves a large amount of dirt from being carried into the cellar.

Converting Straw into Manure.

In the West the object is to feed one-third of the straw-stack, and convert the balance into manure as rapidly as possible. The straw trampled under foot by the cattle will not thoroughly rot within a year if left to itself. To rot and fine it, it must be stirred about, and the swine can be made to do this work. If the hogs are fed on the straw once a week they will move the entire mass, unless quite deep, rooting after stray grains. If their noses do no get to the bottom of the heap, sharpen a heavy stake and prod it through the straw; then withdraw it and drop shelled corn or oats into the hole. In this way a hole can be made every few feet over the pile, and the hogs will turn the manure thoroughly. A hog's snout is a very cheap and effective manure hook. The hogs must not be allowed to lie on the rotting straw, as this is almost sure to produce disease among them. They become too warm, and when they come into the open air they contract colds, catarrhal or pulmonary diseases. If the hogs are used as above recommended; straw can be converted into well rotted and fined manure within six months, and if the straw-stack is put on level ground, not much will be lost during this rapid conversion. When from twelve to eighteen months are required for the rotting of the manure (and this time will be required when deep masses are not disturbed), and the straw is on a side hill, not a little of the value of the manure is lost by being washed down hill.—[American Agricultuist for January.

Washington's Economy on the Farm.

David G. Mitchell's paper on Washington's Farm Life," in the December American Agriculturist, contains unpublished letters of Washington. In one he writes:

"I do in earnest terms enjoin upon you to see that the hay is used with the greatest economy at the Mansion House, and particularly to guard against Mrs. L. Washington's Charles and her boy in the stables, both of whom are imprudent and self-willed, and care not how extravagantly they feed or even waste; for I've caught the boy several times littering [illegible] horses with hay. Except [the] blind horse (which may be endangered by running at large), I see no sort of necessity there is for feeding with either grain or hay when they are not used, or any other horse that is at liberty and able to provide for itself. * * I can plainly perceive that, in a little time, (after saving what oats I want for seed another year), there will be nothing either for my negroes or horses to eat without buying, which will neither comport with my interest or inclination. By Stuart's report I find that he still continues to feed horses with corn instead of cut oats, as I directed. What two saddle horses are those which stand in the Mansion house report? I know of none but the one Mr. Whitling used to ride." What country gentleman of our day, on his city absences, puts this particularity and sagacity into his queries?

Captain Mitchell, of the bark Antoine Sala, New York and Havana trade, came home in May entirely helpless with rheumatism. He went to the mountains, but received no benefit, at his wife's request began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. He immediately began to [illegible], in two months his rheumatism [illegible] gone, and he sailed in com[illegible] a well man. Hood's [illegible] will help you. Sold by all [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] and [illegible]

[illegible] place among those of [illegible] Mazzantini has been delighting the great city of Havana with his astonishing deeds of agility and daring. For 14 performances he is paid $20,000 in gold, half in advance, a half clear benefit, and the expenses of his trip from Europe.

The office he holds is no sinecure however. The matador takes his life in his hands at each performance. After the bull has been teased and tortured in the ring long enough for the gratification of the assembly, and as a rule several horses have been killed by the brute in his rage, the matador (the killer) advances to perform his duty. As seen within the last few days on such an occasion, Mazzantini wore a costume of green and gold, heavily and exquisitely embroidered. He advanced with alert and graceful step, bowed to the throng of observers, and threw his black cap high in the air. In his hand he carried a short, straight sword—hence the matador is sometimes called the espada, the person with the sword—and held a scarlet cloak, which he flaunted before the bull. When the maddened creature rushed at him he calmly and adroitly stepped aside. This performance was repeated several times with unfailing dexterity of hand and foot; then, the looked for position favoring the movement, the sword was thrust almost to the hilt between the bull's shoulder blade and spine. In a moment the noble brute fell dead, and the matador was rewarded with a tempest of applause.

Mazzantini is an Italian, and was an Under Secretary to Amadeus, brother to the present king of Italy, when that prince was king of Spain. He excelled as an amateur actor. When in 1873, Amadeus resigned his crown, Mazzantini remained in Spain and gave his attention to the favorite sport of the people. He made his debut in Seville and in two years became the leading matador in all Spain.

He is a model of manly beauty; he possesses superior cultivation, and is a man of refined manners.

Gems of Thought.

It was a very proper answer to him who asked, why any man should be delighted with beauty? That it was a question that none but a blind man could ask, since any beautiful object doth so much attract the sight of all men that it is in no man's power not to be pleased with it.—[Clarendon.

Men resemble the gods in nothing so much as in doing good to their fellow creatures.—[Cicero.

A man that does not mind his own business is not to be trusted with the king's.—[Saville.

I hold it cowardice
To rest mistrustful where a noble heart
Hath pawned an open hand in sign of love.
—[Shakespeare.

A good word is an easy obligation; but not to speak ill requires only our silence, which costs us nothing.—[Tillotson.

I think the first virtue is to restrain the the tongue; he approaches the nearest to the gods who knows how to be silent, even though he is in the right.—[Cato.

What is the worst of woes that wait on age?
What stamps the wrinkle deeper in the brow?
To view each loved one blotted from life's page.
And be alone on earth as I am now.
—[Byron.

Deference is the most complicate, the most indirect, and the most elegant of all compliments.—[Shenstone.

An egotist will always speak of himself either in praise or in censure; but a modest man ever shuns making himself the subject of his conversation.—[La-Bruyere.

Whenever I find a great deal of gratitude in a poor man I take it for granted that there would be be as much generosity if he were a rich man.—[Pope.

To smile at a jest which plants a thorn in another's breast is to become a principal in the mischief.—[Sheridan.

Pain from indigestion, dyspepsia, and too hearty eating is relieved at once by taking one of Carter's Little Liver Pills immediately after dinner. Don't forget this.

Burying a Wee Salvationist.

In Cohoes, Thursday, six female members of the Salvation army attired in regular costume, marched single file on either side of a hearse that contained the remains of Mrs. Esther O'Brien, the midget Salvationist, wife of Captain O'Brien, Barnum's "Man Seal." An American flag covered the casket. Services were held at the house by the pastor. The army followed the remains to the grave-yard singing Salvation songs.—[Schenecady Reflector.

Saved from being a Cripple for Life.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTLEMAN:—I was suffering from one of the worst cases of inflammatory rheumatism that any person could possibly have, and two bottles of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy has affected an entire cure. I will gladly answer any questions concerning my case, as I consider that I was saved from being crippled for life, by the use of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy.

MRS. FEELEY,
No. 64 Fulton Avenue.

The following is from Col. Palmer, the popular and able city Editor of the Lockport Daily Union.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., July 6, 1885.

ARDEE MEDICINE CO.

GENTLEMEN:—After leaving the U. S. Army I was afflicted with a severe Neuralgia Headache, coming on at intervals of a few days to several weeks, and lasting from one to three day, during which time I suffered excruciating pain, and was often totally incapaciated for business; In March 1883, I purchased one bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and followed the directions until I took about three-fifths of its contents, and from that time until this, have not been troubled with Headache or Neuralgia.

W. B. PALMER.
City Editor of the Lockport Daily Union.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTS:—This is to certify that I was suffering with inflammatory rheumatism of the worst type. Hearing of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy I purchased it and was completely cured [illegible] [illegible] those [illegible] most [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] French cook. Please call at my house, — — street. Yours,

ANN MCCARTHY.

Stop coughing at once by the immediate use of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. 25 cents a bottle.

"I see a star, Eve's first born, in whose train,"
Comes the damp twilight that bringeth pain.
For aches of head, neuralgia, cut and bruise,
Try Salvation Oil, there will you lose.

The first daily newspaper appeared in the United States was published in Boston on September 25, 1790.

Especially to Women.

"Sweet is revenge especially to women," said the gifted, but naughty Lord Byron. Surely he was in bad humor when he wrote such words. But there are complaints that only women suffer, that are carrying numbers of them down to early graves. There is hope for those who suffer, no matter how sorely, or severely, in Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." Safe in its action it is a blessing, especially to women and to men, too, for when women suffer, the household is askew.

The first complete sewing machine was patented by Elias Howe, jr., in 1846.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it well save unnecessary doctors bills. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure catarrhal Headaches.

It is said that the oldest daughter of the Prince of Wales is commonly spoken of as "the worst-dressed girl in London."

The first steam engine on this continent was brought from England in 1753.

Home Rule for Ireland

only a question of time and it is only question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. G. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

Glass windows were first introduced into England in the eighth century.

Babies that are fretful, peevish, cross, or troubled with Windy Colic, Teething Pains, or Stomach Disorders, can be relieved at once by using Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine, hence is safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

The first printing press in the United States was worked in 1620.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed a night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1

The first glass factory was built in the United States in 1780.

Thousands of cases of Consumption are cured every year by Acker's celebrated English Remedy. It is a guaranted preparation; if it does not help you it will cost you nothing. Try it. A single dose will show its good effect. Trial bottles 10 cts. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

The first almanac was printed by George von Furbach in 1460.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Percussion arms were used in the United States army in 1830.

Excitement in Texas.

Geat excitment has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Texas., by the remarkable discovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head. Everybody said he was dying of Consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent to him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained thirty-six pounds. Trial bottles of this great Discovery for Consumption free at R. E. Phillips'.

The first saw-maker's anvil was brought to America in 1819.

An Offensive Breath

is most distressing, not only to the person afflicted if he has any pride, but to those with whom he comes in contact. It is a delicate matter to speak of, but it has parted not only friends but lovers. Bad breath and catarrh are inseparable. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases as thousands can testify.

The first use of a locomotive in this country was in 1829.

If you would enjoy your dinner and are prevented by Dyspepsia, use Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Flatulency and Constipation. We guarantee them. 25 and 50 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

The first newspaper advertisement appeared in 1652.

DOCTOR YOURSELF

and save money, and perhaps your life. Send three two cent stamps to pay postage to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy of Dr. Kaufman's great Medical Work. 100 pages, elegant colored plates.

Omnibuses were first introduced in New York in 1830.

Please Don't Forget It

That Dr. H. James Cannabis Indica is prepared in Calcutta, India, from the purest and best Native Hemp, and is the only remedy, either in that country or this, that will positively and permanently cure Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Nasal Catarrh and Nervous Debility, or break up a fresh cold in 24 hours. $2.50 per bottle, three bottles $6.50. Craddock & Co., Proprietors, 1032 Race St., Phila.

[illegible] steam boat plied the Hudson [illegible]

[illegible] entire Hebrew Bible was printed [illegible]

[illegible] were first "copper fastened" in [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 8t1

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

MONEY to be made. Cut this out and return to us, and will send you free, something of great value and importance to you, that will start you in business which will bring you in more money right away than anything else in this world. Anyone can do the work and live at home. Either sex. All ages. Something new that just coins money for all workers. We will start you; capital not needed. This is one of the genuine, important chances of a lifetime. Those who are ambitious and enterprising will not delay. Grand outfit free. 33y1 Address, TRUE & Co, Augusta, Me.

MASON & HAMLIN

UNRIVALED ORGANS

On the EASY PAYMENT system, from $3.25 per month up. 100 styles, $22 to $900. Send for Catalogue with full particulars, mailed free.

UPRIGHT PIANOS,

Constructed on the new method of stringing, on similar terms. Send for descriptive Catalogue.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO., Boston, New York, Chicago.

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 5,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK.

Secret Service

OF THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT. By P. H. WOODWARD, late Chief of P. O. Detective Corps.

A New Book Just Published by an official of over 15 years' experience in the Secret Service, in one Magnificent Royal Octavo Volume of over 500 pages and elegantly illustrated by the best artists in the country with 200 SUPERB ENGRAVINGS. A thrilling record of detection in the U. S. Post-Office Department; embracing sketches of Wonderful Exploits of Post-Office Inspectors in the Detection, Pursuit, and Capture of Robbers of the U. S. Mails; together with a complete description of the many ingenious and complicated contrivances of the wily and unscrupulous to defraud the public; also an accurate account of the FAMOUS STAR ROUTE FRAUDS, in which the author had entire charge of the preparation of the evidence for the government.

AGENTS WANTED.

[illegible]

[illegible]

OVERWORKED Women.

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00. A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

The first prayer book of Edward VI. came into use by the authority of Parliament on Whitsunday, 1549.

A MUCH MARRIED WOMAN.

Mrs. Fowler, of this city, was married last January to her sixth husband, and strange as it may seem, five of them died exactly two years from their marriage day. Her present husband has been sick for the last four months with chronic jaundice, and was given up by four of our best physicians; as a last resort he began using Sulphur Bitters, and yesterday he told our reporter that they had saved his life, smilingly saying that he guessed Mrs. Fowler would be unable to take a seventh better half for some time to come.—[Exchange.

The first attempt to manufacture pins in this country was made soon after the war of 1812.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippis, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has give relief in every case. One man took six bottles and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters. Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or blood. Only a half a dollar a bottle at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

The first temperance society was organized in this country in Saratoga county, N. Y., in March, 1808.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

The first German newspaper ever published in China has made its appearance at Shanghai.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

The first copper cent was coined in New Haven in 1687.

The reason why Acker's Blood Elixir is warranted, is because it is the best Blood Preparation known. It will positively cure all Blood Diseases, purifies the whole system, and thoroughly builds up the constitution. Remember, we guarantee it. H. C. Giesler.

Christianity was introduced into Japan in 1549.

If the Sufferers from Consumption Scrofula, and General Debility, will try Scott's Emulsion of pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, they will find immediate relief and a permanant benefit. Dr. H. V. MOTT, Brentwood, Cal., writes: "I have used Scott's Emulsion with great advantage in cases of Phthisis Scrofula and wasting diseases generally. It is very palatable."

Envelopes were first used in 1839.

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent remedial agents which modern medical investigation has discovered, the whole forms an incomparable remedy for all throat and lung troubles. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Trial sizes free.

For torpid liver use Van Wert's Pills. Van Wert's Golden Balm is a certain cure for Catarrh. 23m6

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] And put an extra button in your hose.
—[Philadelphia News.

A New Year's Call—Please remit.—[Lowell Courier.

New Year's calls will never go out of fashion while there are bill collectors to make them.—[Quincy Optic.

"Man wants but little here below"—Woman will take all that is left.—[Philadelphia Call.

The further a man gets away from a dollar the bigger it looks.—[Washington Critic.

A father may succeed in cutting off his son without a cent, but he can't cut off the lawyers.—[Kansas City Journal.

There is a man in Burlington so bow legged that when the children are playing cars they use him for a tunnel.—[Burlington Free Press.

He—How old are you, Miss Emma?

She—I am old enough to know better than to answer that question.—[Detroit Free Press.

You may set a thief to catch a thief; but if you set a hen you expect some day to catch a spring chicken —[New Orleans Picayune.

The poet who sings of the light and fleecy snow never shoveled off a side-walk.—[Philadelphia Herald.

Never put off till to-morrow what you can do to-day. The men you may want to borrow from may be called out of town.—[Philadelphia Herald.

When a man is seen trying to wind up his Waterbury watch with a cork-screw, it is a strong proof that he took too much stuffing with his Christmas turkey.—[Fall River Advance.

An Illinois muskrat pawed the lid off a milkcan, crawled in and, after feasting to the full, pawed around so frantically that he churned the remaining milk into butter and climbed out on it. Moral: Never despair when you get into a tight place.—[Burlington Free Press.

A man rarely finds out what a donkey he is until he has had a few inches of his ears frozen.—[Fall River Advance.

"I have found out what it was the wild waves were saying," observed the snake editor. "What was it?" asked the horse editor. "Let us spray."—[Pittsburg Chronicle.

The inconsistency of woman appears when she has 225 hairpins and the whole of her back hair grasped between her teeth, and expects you to understand every word that she says to you—[New Haven News.

Waiter—"I beg your pardon, sir, but it's 1 o'clock, sir." Cavey (who has lost himself a little) "Whatsh is it, waiter (hic,) yeshterday 'r t'morrow?"—[Tid-Bits

There are in Massachusetts 65,000 more women than men. That is why the women have to stand in the street cars.—[Boston Transcript.

Artist—"Bay rum?"

Victim—"Waal, I'm from Maine, but it's a powerful cold day. Don't keer 'f I do. Just a drop with a leetle m'lasses won't hurt nobody.—[Tid-Bits.

It is said that a man who won't take a newspaper because he can borrow one, has invented a machine with which he can cook his dinner by the smoke of his neighbor's chimney.—[West Union Argo.

Miss Blank (to her cousin, who has inadvertly admired her foot;) "Yes, papa thinks so much of my foot, that while we were in Italy he tried his best persuade me to have a bustmade of it."—[Harper's Bazar.

Appalling Figures.

The following recently compiled with great care by a Hartford contemporary gives food for reflection and shows how we spend our money yearly:

Liquor	$900,000,000
Tobacco	600,000,000
Bread	505,000,000
Meat	303,000,000
Iron and steel	290,000,000
Sawed lumber	223,900,000
Cotton goods	210,000,000
Boots and shoes	196,000,000
Sugar and molasses	155,000,000
Public education	85,000,000
Home and Foreign Missions	5,500,000

Thus our liquors cost nine hundred million dollars ($900,000,000), or

One-eighth more than all our meat and bread.

Three times as much as our iron and steel.

Ten times as much as our public education.

Our tobacco costs six hundred million dollars ($600,000,000.) or

One-fifth as more than our bread.

Twice as much as our meat and iron.

Three times as much as our boots and shoes.

Seven times as much as our public education.

Our liquors and tobacco costs one billion five hundred million dollars ($1,500,000,000.) or

Three times as much as our bread.

Five times as much as our meat and iron.

Seven times as much as our lumber.

Seventeen times as much as our public education, and these two items alone cost more than two-fifths of all the rest.

Women with pale colorless faces who feel weak and discouraged, will receive both mental and bodily vigor by using Carter's Iron Pills which are made for the blood, nerves and complexion.

Mohammed was born at Mecca about 570.

The first iron steamship was built in 1830.

The first balloon ascent was made in 1798.

Coaches were first used in England in 1569.

The first steel plate was discovered in 1830.

The Franciscans arrived in England in 1224.

The first watches were made at Nuernberg in 1477.

YOU

will never regret sending three 2 cent [illegible] to A. P. Ordway [illegible]

[illegible] in the [illegible] and [illegible]

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Is Your Tongue Coated, with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

Don't Wait! Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters! Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

IT IS Dangerous!

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARM on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful Cure at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER

Highest Awards of Medals in Europe and America.

The neatest, quickest, safest and most powerful remedy known for Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Backache, Weakness, colds in the chest and all aches and pains. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists of the highest repute. Benson's Plasters promptly relieve and cure where other plasters and greasy salves, liniments and lotions, are absolutely useless. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum," "Capsin," "Capsicine," as they are utterly worthless and intended to deceive. Ask for BENSON'S AND TAKE NO OTHERS. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors, New York.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

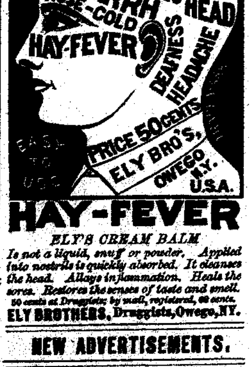
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopoeia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

CATARRH



HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the senses of taste and smell. 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, NY.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check for $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation. The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers;—or Five Million Readers. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 176 pages, GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., New-York.

DYSPEPSIA—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By John H. McAlvin, Lowell, Mass., 14 years Tax Collector. Sent free to any address.

[illegible] for advertising [illegible] Address [illegible] N. Y.

[illegible] Monday of each week, [illegible] August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in [illegible] first and third Thursday in each [illegible] August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. [illegible] in Pulaski, January 2nd, and on the [illegible] in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and [illegible]

FULTON—At the office of G. H. [illegible] in Fulton, on the second Thursday in [illegible] July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. [illegible] Mexico, on the third Friday in April, [illegible] and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson [illegible] Central Square, on April 28th and September [illegible]

PARISH—At the N. & J. S. Ludington's [illegible] April 28th, July 28th and Sept. 28th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, N. Y., notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against [illegible] M. Beck late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, William D. Patterson at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 7th day of June, 1887, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Dec. 1, 1886.

WILLIAM D. PATTERSON,
HARRIET L. BARNES,
Administrators.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Alice Hethington as administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. Mosher, Nellie Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis and Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 12th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Pardon C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego Co., N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October 15, 1886.—Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Frank L. Sears vs. Alice M. Hethington, administratrix &c. of William S. Hethington, deceased, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugine Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington, Alice M. Hethington and Nellie E. Sears.

Action to foreclose Mortgage.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 23d day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephene Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 23d, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y.

Yours &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty.,
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Nellie E. Sears against John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington and Alice Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 5th, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y.

Yours &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty.,
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT.—County of Oswego.—ss. Perry M. Simons, vs. George H. Simons, Mrs. George H. Simons, Roze D. VanBuren, Carrie VanBuren, Bruce M. VanBuren, Mamie VanBuren, Annie Reynolds Stewart, Walter Reynolds, Mrs. Walter Reynolds, Jeremiah M. Green, Martha H. Green, Lucretia Arnold, Henrietta Lee, William A. Lawrence, Mrs. William A. Lawrence, Byron E. Green, Alice Green, Stella Green Douglas, Sarah Lee, Seth Burgess, Polly Burgess, Helen M. Green, Amelia Johnson and Helen Simons.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 29th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To Jeremiah M. Green, Martha H. Green, Henrietta Lee, George H. Simons, Mrs. George H. Simons, and Anna Reynolds Stewart.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon John C. Churchill, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 8th day of December, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego County, at Oswego City, N. Y.

Yours, &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK. By the Grace of God Free and Independent.

To Asa Chapman, Bowens Corners, Oswego county, N. Y.; Chas. D. Herrington, Laura M. Wilcox, Anna Chapman, Eunice Blake, George Blake, South Hannibal, Oswego County, N. Y.; Emeline King, Norman H. Haviland, Edgar O. Chapman, Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y.; Louise Perry, Lilly Dawley, South Richland, Oswego county, N. Y.; Aaron Chapman, Horace Chapman, Samuel Chapman, Red Creek, Wayne county, N. Y.; Jane Paddock, North Wolcott, Wayne county; John C. Chapman, John S. Chapman, John G. Haviland, Stephen Haviland, West Hoosick, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Asa B. Chapman, Boyntonville, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Crocker Chapman, Cora M. Chapin, Hoosic Falls, Rensselaer county, Lydia A. Moses, Hoosic, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Nathaniel Cottrel, Pittstown, Rensselaer Co., N. Y.; Sarah Herrington, Anna Newcomb, Ettie Phillips, Ellen Case, Johnsonville, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; William C. Chapman, Calvin E. J. Carpenter, Cambridge, Washington Co., N. Y.; Nathan Case, Greenwich, Washington county, N. Y.; James H. Chapman, Gansevort, Saratoga county, N. Y.; William Haviland, Pompey, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Maria Nash, Cigerville, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Homer Dunham, Horace Dunham, Plank Road, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Mary Cowell, Westbury, Cayuga county, N. Y.; John E. Chapman, Belle Chapman, Martville, Cayuga county, N. Y.; Abert Hallett, Hermon, St. Lawrence county, N. Y.; Marshall Herrington, Rochester, Monroe county, N. Y.; Alice Behnke, St. Paul, Minn; Ira Chapman, Arnold Hulett, Almon Hulett, George Hulett, Beaver Creek, Rock county, Minn.; Sidney Baker, Washington, D. C.; Mary Parks, Desoto, Jefferson county, Mo.; Mary A. Hall, Brookfield, Linn county, Mo.; Sarah Matilda Cottrell, New Ashford, Mass.; Susan A. Helling, Lincoln, Neb.; Hellen A. Helling, Bennington, Vt.; Arthur O. Hoag, North Pownal, Vt.; Horace Hallett, Stockton' Cal.; Courtland Chapman, Sherbyville, Allegan county, Mich.; Roxana Kent, Lowell, Kent county, Mich.; George F. Leonard, Nelson Leonard, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Elijah D. Leonard, Chas. A. Leonard, Chester M. Leonard, Sidney W. Leonard, Elizabeth Burger, Kenosha, Kenosha county, Wis.; Elisha Crandall, Terrills Corners, Waushara county, Wis.; Betsy Cottrell, John C. Cottrell, Warren Cottrell, Danforth Coltrell, Belle Plaine, Benton county, Iowa; Orelia Winey, Walker, Linn county, Iowa; Stephen Southwick, Chetopa, Labette county, Kan.; Sarah Lane, Pleasanton, Linn county, Kan.; Sarah Lane, Pleasanton, Linn Co., Kan.; Nathan Southwick, South Warren, Bradford county, Penn.; Celestia Thomas, Towanda, Bradford county, Penn.; Joseph Southwick, Hoopston, Vermillion county, Ill.; John Herrington, residence unknown; Cordelia Hawkins, Flandreau, Moody county, Da., heirs at law and next of kin of Jonah Chapman, late of the Town of Granby, in the County of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting.

Whereas, Merritt Miller, of the town of Hannibal, in the County of Oswego, has lately made application to our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, to have a certain instrument in writing relating to real and personal estate, duly proved as the last Will and Testament of said Jonah Chapman deceased; therefore, you, and each of you, are cited and required personally to be and appear before our said Surrogate at his office in the Village of Phoenix, in said County of Oswego, on the 24th day of January, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of said instrument as the last Will and Testament of said deceased.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof, We have caused the seal of office of [illegible] to be hereunto affixed. Witness, [illegible]

[L. S.] [illegible]

FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1887.

[illegible]
[illegible] away;
[illegible]
And [illegible] a day.

[illegible] seeming
Of [illegible]
[illegible] seeming
In [illegible] by,
From [illegible] endeavor,
I would [illegible] children play;
For a [illegible] forever,
And a [illegible] dies in a day.

I can [illegible] but pity
For the [illegible] the rich endure;
[illegible] sweet in the city
But the [illegible] lives of the poor.
Oh, the little hands too skillful,
And the child-mind choked with weeds!
The daughter's heart grown willful
And the father's heart that bleeds!

No, not from the street's rude bustle,
From trophies of mart and stage,
I would fly to the woods low rustle
And the meadow's kindly page.
Let me dream as of old by the river,
And be loved for the dream alway;
For a dreamer lives forever,
And a toiler dies in a day.

—[John Boyle O'Rilly.

A New Casabianca.

The boy stood on the burning roof,
Where he for life had fled;
The building, being quite fire proof,
With flames was painted red.

"Jump" I yelled the horror-stricken crowd,
"Jump, bubby, from the ridge."
"I can't be, dancing, shrieked aloud,
"This ain't no Brooklyn bridge."

Huge tongues of flame in fiendish joy,
A darting out like mad,
Commenced to lick that noble boy
As if they were his dad.

The firemen tried in sad dispair,
That gallant youth to soak;
Alas! No stream could reach him there
And he began to smoke.

Then came a a voice of thunder sound
From one cool man below;
"I'll save you, boy—unless you're drown'd—
Jump when I say go."

Then snatching up the hose he aimed
A mighty stream on high.
"Jump on that water," he exclaimed,
And grab it tight—or die."

Hurrah! With one terrific scream
Out leaped the little kid,
And, clinging on the solid stream,
Safe to the ground he slid.

—[C. H. Dodge.

Changing the Hue.

O'er the silent, slumbering city
Night had spread her sable pall,
And a dense funeral blackness
Left its shadow over all.

Smith and Jones and Brown together
Chanced to be that sombre eve
And the darkness brooding o'er them
Could not fail to make them grieve.

"Ah, it's sad to see this blackness
O'er our town," they softly said,
Then they put their heads together,
And agreed to paint it red.

—[Merchant Traveler.

Friendship.

As the day declines to even,
Falling in the arms of night,
One by one the stars of heaven
Shed on earth their constant light.

So when life's bright sun is hidden
By the heavy gloom of woe,
True friends like the stars, unbidden,
One by one, their lustre show.

—[Barry Lyndon.

THE PROPER THING.

Plush rivals velvet in midwinter toilets.

New pocket-books are long and slender.

Only black furs are used on black mantles.

Black plush is preferred to seal brown for cloaks.

Silver rivals gold as a decoration of holiday dresses.

Terra-cotta cloths are trimmed with jet and with black fur.

Ruby and garnet beads adorn bonnet and hat trimmings.

Combs for millinery purposes are shown in every design in metal and tortoise shell.

Swansdown in all evening colors is to be used for trimming ball and evening dresses.

Among the prettiest novelties in furs are long-haired boas in light, yellowish, fox furs, with muff to match.

Russian bronzes are the rivals of the handsome French bronzes that come among rich holiday goods this year.

Silver and steel trim black satin gimps and black plastron fichus for evening wear over plain black satin frocks.

Green cloth coats, terra cotta, golden brown and English pink coats are worn by young ladies with various dresses.

To make the tailor suit of cloth light and comfortable the best tailors use silk for the foundation of the entire costume.

Short plush mantles for young ladies have jet ornaments that almost cover [illegible] the neck, but slope sharpely at [illegible]

[illegible] wants to add the latest [illegible] outfit she will add a [illegible] pocket book, mounted [illegible]

[illegible] again this season [illegible] One shade of [illegible] only a trifle [illegible] to bright [illegible]

A $200,000 BET.

In 1860 St Joseph was the western terminus of railroad communication. Beyond, the stage-coach, the saddle-horse and the ox-trains were the only means of communication and commerce with the Rocky Mountains and the Pacific slope. In the winter of 1860 there was a Wall street lobby at Washington trying to get $5,000,000 for carrying the mails overland one year between New York and San Francisco. The proposition was extremely checky, and Wm. H. Russell, backed by Secretary of War Floyd, resolved to give the lobby a cold shower-bath. He, therefore, offered to bet $200,000 that he could put on a mail from Sacramento to St. Joseph that would make the distance—1,050 miles—in ten days. The bet was taken—and the 8th of April the day fixed upon as the day for starting. Mr. Russel called upon his partner and general manager of business upon the plains, Mr. A. B. Miller, now a citizen of Denver, and stated what he had done, and asked if he could perform the feat. Mr. Miller replied: "Yes, sir, I will do it and do it by a pony express." To accomplish this, Mr. Miller purchased 300 of the fleetest horses in the West, and employed 125 men. Eighty of the men were to be post riders. These he selected with reference to their light weight and their known daring and courage. It was very essential that the horses should be loaded as light as possible; therefore the lighter the man the better. It was necessary that some portion of the route should be run at the rate of twenty miles an hour. The horses were stationed from ten to twenty miles apart, and each rider would be required to ride sixty miles. For the change of animals and the shifting of mails two minutes were allowed. When there was no stage stations at proper distances, tents sufficient to hold one man and two horses were provided. Indians would some times give chase, but their cayuse ponies made but sorry show to their stern chase, after Miller's thoroughbreds, many of which could make a single mile in one minute and fifty seconds.

All arrangements being completed, a signal gun on the steamer at Sacramento proclaimed the meridian of April 8th, 1870—the hour of departing—when Border Ruffian, Mr. Miller's private saddle-horse, with Billy Baker in the saddle, bounded away toward the foot-hills of the Sierra Nevadas, and made his ride of twenty miles in forty minutes. The snow was deep in the mountains, and one rider was lost in a snow storm for several hours; and after the Salt Lake valley was reached, additional speed became necessary to reach St. Joseph on time. From here on, all went well until the Platte was to be crossed at Julesburg. The river was up and running rapidly, but the rider plunged his horse into the flood, only, however, to mire in the quick sand and drown. The courier succedded in reaching the shore with his mail-bag in hand, and traveled ten miles on foot to reach the next relay. John Fry, a popular rider of the day, was to make the finish. He had sixty miles to ride, with six horses to do it. When the last courier arrived at the sixty-mile post out from St Joseph, he was one hour behind. A heavy rain had set in and the roads were slippery. Two hundred thousand dollars might turn upon a single minute. Fry had just three hours and thirty minutes in which to win, this was the finish of the longest race for the largest stakes ever run in America. When the time for the arrival was nearly up, at least 1,000 people stood on the river bank, with eyes turned toward the woods from which the horse and rider should emerge into the open country on the rear of Elwood—one mile from the finish. Tick, tick went thousands of watches! The time was nearly up! But nearly seven minutes remained! Hark! a shout goes up from the assembled multitude: "He comes! He comes!" The noble little mare, Sylph, the daughter of Little Arthur, darts, like an arrow from the bow, and makes the last mile in one minute and fifty seconds, ending on the ferryboat with five minutes and a fraction to spare.—[Pacific Rural Spirit.

General McClellan.

After the lapse of twenty years, these reminiscences brought the old youthful fire to his eye and cheek. He burned with enthusiasm at the recollection of his fifteen days' campaign in Maryland, begun with a demoralized army, and ended by the forced retreat of Lee to the other side of the Potomac. But a profound sadness came over him when an order of the President struck a brutal blow at the victor of Antietam, in the midst of his most successful conceived plan of military strategy. No one is ignorant of the dignity and patriotism with which McClellan bowed his head at the cruel mandate. The heart of the soldier and loyal citizen had been profoundly hurt. What could have been more cruelly mortifying than to feel one's self capable of being of the highest service to one's country in time of her extreme need—to have proved this, only to be made the victim of stupid political jealousy! One easily understands the mistake McClellan made before the end of the war—it was a mistake—in [illegible]

Newspaper Advertising.

"When an intelligent man wants to purchase, he buys from parties whose standing in their several callings is a guarantee for the quality of their wares. when the same man wishes to advertise he goes to those who have made the business a study, and possess the requisite facilities for its transaction. He wants the best service it is possible to procure, and goes to the place where it is most reasonable to expect that such service may be obtained."

The sentences quoted above make up the opening paragraph of a remarkable publication which has just reached us from the oldest and best known house in this line, Messrs, GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., Proprietors of the Newspaper Advertising Bureau, No. 10 Spruce street, New York city.

It was in the year 1865 that this firm organized an office for the reception and forwarding of advertisements for American newspapers, and they have long had a more thoroughly perfected system, and better facilities for conducting the necessary negotiations and watching the fulfillment of advertising contracts, than has elsewhere ever been attempted.

They represent the best dailies and other Newspapers of all American cities; the leading and most influential Religious, Agricultural and other Newspapers published in the interests of the many and various classes, trades, sects or interests; and also such county journals of local influence as have peculiar merit which makes them of value to a class of advertisers.

They receive and keep regularly on file all of the Newspapers of special merit or influence which are issued throughout the land, whether daily, weekly or monthly.

They established and always published the American Newspaper Directory, and are engaged at the present time upon a revision for the nineteenth annual edition; but the Directory now contains the names of fifteen thousand newspapers, while those which a general advertiser specially needs to use do not number much over a thousand. It is said to be easy to expend a hundred thousand dollars for three month's advertising in the thousand selected papers. It is to aid the advertiser in in making the selection, that the small volume of which we are now speaking has been issued. It has been complied with honesty, judgment and knowledge.

Beginning with a list of sixteen daily newspapers in the City of New York, giving their advertising rates in full; next is given a selection of (never more than six) dailies issued in each American city having a population of more than one hundred and fifty thousand; following this comes a judicious catalogue of papers in places having more than twenty thousand population.

The papers which should be selected to advertise every section of the country, using but few papers, are then named; those which reach the South, the Pacific Slope, the Territories, Canada or New England in separate groups; and in one small combination is catalogued a couple dozen publications which go everywhere.

One list names the best paper in every state, in no instance more than one, and again there is a catalogue of largest circulations from which is omitted no periodical which has reached a regular issue of so many as twenty-five thousand copies.

The largest single list is called "The Best List of Local Newspapers," every paper named on it being selected because either its daily of weekly edition is the most widely circulated or influential published in an important town, city or county seat. The list covers every State, Territory, District and Province of the United States and Canada, and represents every county seat having a population greater than 8,000, and every place having a population greater than 5,000 from Halifax to SanDiego; from Florida to British Columbia.

This small book contains a great deal of information which every successful advertiser must have. It is a remarkable compilation—remarkable for its impartial honesty. It is exactly what it purports to be, and has been compiled without fear or favor, upon the best judgment of its publishers; and on the subject treated their judgment is the best which can be appealed to.

Two features will surprise most newspaper men who have not had their attention called to the matter; one is that more than one-half of the country weeklies are now printed on the co-operative or ready print plan, and the other that a list of class journals numbers between two and three hundred in all, although no class paper is allowed a place in the catalogue unless its regular issues exceed five thousand copies. Class journals are mainly a growth of the last decade.

It is hardly necessary to say in this connection that the FULTON TIMES is accorded a place in its appropriate classification.

Those unhappy persons who suffer from nervousness and dyspepsia should use Carter's Little Nerve Pills, which are made expressly for sleepless, nervous, dyspeptic sufferers. Price 25 cents, all druggists.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

The Centaur Company, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

SOME THING NEW FOR YOU.

Why not start a business of your own? We make every reader of THE FULTON TIMES the grandest offer any Responsible House can make you. Hitherto Photography was considered an art requiring years of study and practice, and very costly apparatus, but since the introduction of Gelatine Bromide Process dry plates, any one having common sense and a small capital to buy an outfit will be able to make the finest Photographs without the aid of a teacher, either to make money or merely for amusement. Boys, Young Men and Ladies cannot engage in a more profitable business than photography. Hundreds will employ you to photo Houses, Landscapes, Residences, Family Groups, Farm Stock, Factories, etc. You start out in the morning with a good stock of Dry Plates and Camera in hand, all weighing but a few pounds, approach a residence, and the novelty of having a photographer with full equipement appear unexpectedly at the very door, at once excites curiosity; the whole family cannot resist the temptation to have a photograph of themselves or some favorite article and it is so "cute" to have it done right at home, no fixing up to do. Every negative is worth from $1.00 to $10.00 to you. The Empire Camera is without doubt the most beautiful and finely executed piece of mechanism ever offered to the public in the shape of a Camera. It is made of mahogany and is highly polished, with nickle trimmings, strong and light, combining all the fine parts that go to make up a fine piece of apparatus. It will make portraits indoors or out, also landscapes; 5x8 Portraits, Cabinets and cards. The Empire Equipement complete consists of one 5x8 Camera, one Double Dry Plate Holder, one Lense (extra good), one Tripod, one handsomely varnished Wooden Carrying Case, One Complete Chemical Outfit, and one complete Printing Outfit, 31 Different articles, all boxed for $30, $10 with order and balance, $20 C. O. D. If you will send this advertisement and $30 in full Before March 1st. 1887, we will place in box one Negative Box worth $2.50 Free. Do not be deceived by Cheap Photo Equipments. You better pay a few dollars more and get something you are not ashamed to uncover before people. 80 page book "How to make Photos" and 5x8 Portrait made by Empire Camera 34 cts. (none free.) We could give hundreds of references if necessary, but only have space for a few. Write and enclose stamp, they will tell you what they think of the Empire Equipment: W. E. Crumrine, Akron, Plymouth Co., Iowa; J. H. Bell, Steele, Belmont Co., Ohio; C. H. Smith, Flint, Michigan; Elmer E. Carr, Bynum, Harford Co., Md. Our Twenty-five dollar Magic Lantern, till March 1st, 1887, only twelve dollars; Four dollars Cash and C. O. D. Eight dollars; if you send $12 with order will put 12 slides in box free. Catalogue and References for stamp. Address EMPIRE COPYING COMPANY 381 Canal Street New York. P. S.—Recollect our offer in former issue of this paper headed "Holiday Present," or a Life-Sized framed worth $54 for $9.75, not good after February 1st, after that date it will cost you fifty-four dollars.

THE GREAT APERIENT ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

CURES HEADACHE, CONSTIPATION, DYSPEPSIA, RHEUMATISM.

A. H. ROGERS & CO., GENESEO, N. Y.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

LITERARY.

It is believed that the success of Scribner's Magazine is unique in the history of magazines. The first (January) number was published on December 15th, the first edition being 100,000 copies. It was exhausted on the day of publication. On Saturday, December 18th, a second edition of 25,000 copies appeared which was at once consumed, and an additional 15,000 was put to press—140,000 copies having been already sold. The demand was so great that it was impossible to keep the dealers supplied. On the day of publication, 2,000 copies were sold upon the newsstands of the elevated railroads; at the news-stand of one of the New York hotels, nearly 500 copies were disposed of on the first afternoon of its appearance, and several of the dealers at the ferries leading from New York sold 600 copies on the first day.

The February number of Scribner's Maganize, of which 125,000 copies have been ordered as a first edition, will contain a most interesting article, by John C. Ropes, upon the "Likeness of Julius Cæsar," with 18 portraits, one of which, engraved by Mr. W. B. Closson, will be the frontispiece of the number. A new story is begun in the same number, by Mr. F. J. Stimson (J. S. of Dale), entitled "The Residuary Legatee." The second installment of ex-Minister Washburn's "Reminiscences of the Siege and Commune of Paris" is of the greatest interest, describing as it does the most interesting phases of the Siege.

Messrs. Scribner have in press a new novel, by John T. Wheelright, entitled, "A Child of the Century."

A Chance for Gebhardt.

"Phat the devil is all this talk about that New York girrul they call the Goddess av Liberty?" asked Mrs. O'Rafferty of her next-door neighbor. "I guess it's one av those perfessional beauties that come over here, O'Rrafferty." "Yis, an' they make her a goddess; the first thing she knows that Gibhardt fellow will be after her the same as he was after that Langtry woman; I declare to gracious, scandal takes better in this country than anything ilse."—[Kentucky State Journal.

Killed in War.

It is estimated that fully 300,000 Union soldiers perished during the civil war. Of these, 60,000 were killed in the field, and about 35,000 mortally wounded. Disease in camps and hospitals slew 184,000. The number in both armies who were crippled or permanently disabled by disease was estimated at 400,000. The actual loss to the country of able bodied men, in consequence of the war, was fully 1,000,000.

Unreasonably Early.

Voice from the head of the stairs—"Mary! has the morning paper come yet!" Mary (who has just began to say good-bye to George)—"How shall I answer him, my dear?" George—"Tell him of course the paper hasn't come yet, as we are just going to press now."—[Texas Siftings.

A Monster Bill of Fare.

Speaking of big dinners the bill of fare for the Christmas dinner at the National home for disabled volunteer soldiers at Dayton, O., affords some interesting figures. It is as follows: Oyster soup, 700 gallons; roast turkey, 3,200 pounds; giblet dressing, 80 gallons; mashed potatoes, 54 bushels; cranberry sauce, 7 barrels; celery, 200 dozen; lima beans, 300 pounds; pickels, 30 gallons; bread 1,000 pounds; crackers, 200 pounds; butter, 250 pounds; cheese, 300 pounds; mince pie, 1,200 pies; coffee, 100 gallons; oranges, 450 dozen.—[Detroit Free Press.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

FULL WEIGHT
ROYAL

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St at the polls determined the United States Senatorship in New Jersey. Just $1,50 will secure you the American Agriculturist for 1887, which for half a century has been the recognized leading periodical of its character, and now contains far more illustrations, is larger in every way and better than ever. Postmasters! form clubs.

ONE VOTE

The JUVENILE, HEARTH and HOUSEHOLD DEPARTMENTS have been enlarged, and HUMBUG Exposures are to receive additional attention.

1,000 ORIGINAL ILLUSTRATIONS.

Every issue of the American Agriculturist contains nearly 100 original illustrations of animals, plants, new farm and household conveniences and appliances, out-door scenes, etc.

SPLENDID ENGRAVINGS FREE!!!

Homes Of Our Farmer Presidents.

It is noteworthy that a majority of our Presidents were reared on farms, or retired from public life to rural scenes. The American Agriculturist is now publishing and sending free to all subscribers, at an outlay of over $30,000, superb engravings (18 by 24 inches in size) of these Homes, together with special descriptive papers by James Parton, Donald G. Mitchell and other eminent living American authors. These Engravings constitute a magnificent portfolio collection of ornaments for the walls of a prince or peasant's home. [illegible] subscription for 1887 immediately forwarded are entitled to all the series beginning in May last.

Endorsed by the U. S. Government.

[illegible]

20,000 FATAL CASES OF TYPHOID FEVER ANNUALLY IN THIS COUNTRY.

ALL TREATED WITH QUININE.

Dr. J. S. Mitchel, of Chicago, in a clinical lecture at the Cook County Hospital, Oct. 7th, 1886, said: "In typhoid fever no possible good can result from giving Quinine, as at the best it can only effect a temporary reduction of temperature; and after forty eight hours the fever is usually higher than at first."

KASKINE DESTROYS THE DISEASE GERMS in FEVERS, MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DEBILITY, LIVER, LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASE.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y.: "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful.

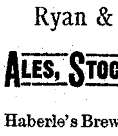
St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

Are You Consumptive.



Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion. Use Parker's Tonic without delay. It has cured many of the worst cases. Do you suffer from pains in the chest, back or limbs? Have you symptoms of trouble with your Stomach, Liver or Kidneys? Neglect of these warnings leads to breaking down of the vital powers. Parker's Tonic is the best remedy. Often saves life. Cures when everything else fails. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"For 20 years my father was an invalid, with Cough and Bronchitis, and tried everything he could hear of without obtaining more than temporary relief. Being advised of Parker's Tonic he he began to use it, and before he had taken five dollars worth was cured. He is 57 years old, and has been well now over a year."—JOS. B. HUDSON, Hudson, Fla.

"For several years I suffered from Indigestion, and I am glad to inform you that my present good health is due to the use of Parker's Tonic. Should I ever come to New York, I will thank you in person for your invaluable medicine."—CLARENCE HALL, Denver, Col.

PARKER'S TONIC,
Made by HISCOX & Co., N. Y. Sold by Druggists $1

J. A. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

INDIA PALE ALE.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge.

32m6

NEW COAL FIRM.

REMEMBER THAT HART & CULLEN ARE SELLING THE
Wilkesbarre and Pittston Coal.
THE BEST COAL MINED.

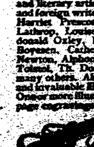
Leave Orders at Hart's Pottery, or Cullen's Meat Market and you will find prices very satisfactory.
Coal Delivered in Fulton, or Oswego Falls.

21m8

The first telescope was used in England in 1608.

The Cosmopolitan

The handsomest, most entertaining, low price, illustrated family magazine in the world. ($2.50 per year, with a $2.25 premium free.) Sixty-four beautifully printed pages in each number, filled with short stories, sketches, travels, adventures, bright and brief scientific and literary articles, by distinguished American and foreign writers, such as Julian Hawthorne, Harriet Prescott Spofford, George Parsons Lathrop, Louise Chandler Moulton, J. Macdonald Oxley, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, H. H. Boyesen, Catherine Owen, Rev. R. Heber Newton, Alphonse Daudet, Paul Heyse, Count Tolstoi, Th. Dostoivsky, William Westall and many others. Also entertaining JUVENILE and invaluable HOUSEHOLD departments. One or more illustrated articles and several full-page engravings in every number.



A Shannon Letter and Bill File or a Shannon Sheet-Music Binder Free to every Subscriber.

These premiums sell everywhere for $2.25 each. The File is the most perfect device ever invented for the preservation and [illegible]

NEW HARNESS SHOP.

[illegible]

REPAIRING
—OF—
HARNESS, TRUNKS, BUGGY TOPS, CUSHIONS, &C. &C.,

☞As Cheap as the Cheapest.

HARNESS
OF ALL GRADES MADE TO ORDER.

A share of public patronage solicited.
Give us a Call,
C. W. BROWN,
CAYUGA ST., OPPOSITE MIDLAND DEPOT.

SALESMEN WANTED!

We are in want of a few more good men to canvass for the sale of choice varieties of Nursery Stock. To men who can make a success of the business we can pay good salaries or commission and give permanent employment. We have many new and choice specialties both in the fruit and ornamental line which others do not handle.

Address at once, with references,
MAY BROTHERS,
NURSERYMEN,
Rochester, N. Y.
31w6

1886.
New York Weekly Herald
ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.
GREATEST AND CHEAPEST
FAMILY JOURNAL
IN THE UNITED STATES.
Always Bright and Reliable.

Every Number an Epitome of the News of the World.

The Foreign Department.

Is unequaled. Latest and most accurate Cable Specials by the Commercial Cables.

Fullest Telegraphic Reports of all Current Events

Special Features.

Practical Farming; Articles on Science, Art, Literature, the Drama, Music, Art, Religion, Fashion and Chess.

INFORMATION ON ALL SUBJECTS.

Address,
JAMES GORDON BENNETT,
NEW YORK HERALD,
New York City.
29w2

THE BEST AMERICAN NEWSPAPER

THE TIMES is a Newspaper for intelligent men and women.

It concerns itself as little as possible with the froth or the dregs of life, and aims to give its readers something more attractive and profitable than a daily chronicle of human follies and frailties.

The really important, wholesome, and interesting news of the day is presented with unsurpassed completeness and accuracy by THE TIMES.

Voters, whatever their party or their politics will find THE TIMES of great value for the fullness of its information and the frankness of its comment upon public affairs; and THE TIMES has abundant evidence that its treatment of leading issues of the day meets with increasing approval.

The WEEKLY edition of THE TIMES contains all the current news condensed from the dispatches and reports of the daily edition, besides literary matter, discussions upon agricultural topics by practical farmers, full and accurate market reports of prices for farm produce, live stock, &c. and a carefully prepared WEEKLY WOOL MARKET.

No other New-York Newspaper so completely meets the wants of country readers.

Terms to Mail Subscribers Postpaid.

DAILY, exclusive of Sunday, per year......$6.00
DAILY, including Sunday, per year......... 7.50
SUNDAY ONLY, per year................... 1.50
DAILY, 6 months, with Sunday.............. 3.75
DAILY, 6 months, without Sunday.......... 3.00
DAILY, 1 month, with or without Sunday... 75

THE WEEKLY TIMES.

SINGLE COPIES, one year.................$1.00
TEN COPIES, and one free for club..........10.00
SUBSCRIPTION, for six months............. 50

TERMS CASH IN ADVANCE. These prices are invariable. We have no traveling agents. Remit in drafts on New-York, Postal Notes, or Post Office Money Orders, if possible; and where neither of these can be procured send the money in a registered letter. Sample copies sent free. Address

THE NEW-YORK TIMES,
New-York City.

The Sun.

The Best Newspaper in America, and by far the Most Readable.

Agents wanted everywhere to earn money in distributing the Sun's Premiums.

The most interesting and advantageous offers ever made by any Newspaper.

No Subscriber ignored or neglected. Something for all.

Beautiful and Substantial Premiums in Standard Gold and other Watches, Valuable Books, the Best Family Sewing Machine known to the trade, and an unparalleled list of articles of real utility and instruction.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
[illegible] Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL,

delivered.	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.30
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.30
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.20
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.20
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

☞Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, adivce, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

LUMBER! LUMBER.

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

O. RUST.

C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—
Decker Brothers' Matchless Pianos.
THE VERY BEST PIANOS.
Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.

MAKE HENS LAY

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

[illegible]

[illegible] of all kinds neatly and promptly [illegible]
[illegible] at the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as [illegible]
[illegible] all communications, on business or [illegible] to THE TIMES.
F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

Rev. J. P. Newman the officiating clergyman at the funeral obsequies of the late General John A. Logan on Friday last formerly lived in Volney where some years ago he had a charge. He is remembered by a number of people now living in Oswego.

Gov. Hill sent an Albany physician to the Onondaga penitentiary last week to examine Mrs. Harriet Van Auken, the Oswego county murderess, whose cancer endangers her life. It is understood that his report confirmed the statements of the penitentiary physician that her days were numbered.

We have received from D. M. Osborne & Co. the extensive manufacturers of Harvest Machinery of Auburn, N. Y. a splendid lithograph in colors containing pictures of Maud S. "Queen of the Turf," (2:08¾): Jay Eye See, (2:10); St. Julien, (2:11¼): Maxie Cobb, (2:13¼); Phallas, (2:13¾). It also contains a picture of Dan Mace the renowned driver and trainer, the Osborne Mower and Osborne Steel Frame Binder.

There are at present over 1,600 convicts at Sing Sing. Twenty-one barrels of flour are consumed per day in supplying them with bread. Nine barrels of potatoes are necessary to furnish them at dinner. Three barrels of liquid coffee are consumed at each meal. The meat is beef, either boiled, roasted or corned. Jaehne is employed in a tobacco factory, while Ward, who in early life was a printer, works a hand press for printing circulars.

Fulton Wins the Banner.

Last Saturday night occurred the closing of the great Fair held by St. Mary's Church at the State Armory in Oswego. The chief attraction on this evening was the banner contest. A beautiful banner made of white moire silk, with blue lining, gold fringe and tassels, most beautifully worked and mounted upon a staff about twelve feet high was the prize contested for. This banner had been secured in New York at a cost of $100. The members of the Sodality in this village determined to secure it and gave the Oswegonians to understand this. On Saturday evening, a large delegation both male and female, headed by Father Earley went down to Oswego and made the Oswego people feel that there was work before them if they intended to retain the banner. It was nearly midnight before the votes could be counted and when it was announced that Fulton had won, there was loud and continuous applause.

The following is a statement of the number of votes received on the banner contest:

Fulton,	6,948
Oswego,	2,950
Total,	9,898

Fulton's majority 3,898.

Total amount of money received on the banner contest $498.90.

LITERARY.

The New Years' number of the "Home Life" an illustrated monthly magazine, published in New York city, lies before us. It is repleto with most excellent engravings, poetry, short stories and fashion notes. It is a most excellent magazine and must be seen and read to be appreciated. Price $1.00 per year, single copies 10 cents. With it comes "The Pearl" another monthly which is excellently edited and engraved. This sells for 5 cents per copy or 25 cents per year. Address Home Life Publishing Co., New York city.

THE PRINCETON REVIEW.

We are in receipt of the Princeton Review. We have always held this publication out to the public as representing the best thought of our best American writers. Its scope has been and is to foster intellectual development. Its basis and aims are very different from our regular monthlies. While they afford passing pleasure, the articles in the Review give food for thought and study. Among its contributors are such men as President Seelye of Amherst, Messrs. Mc Cosh of Princeton and Elliot of Harvard. The articles in the present number by Henry Calderwood and Charles Dudley Warner are especially noteworthy. [illegible] Victor Hugo [illegible] Paris gives a striking [illegible] McClellan and his campaigns [illegible] by George Parsons La[illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] change in the administration of the municipal government [illegible] the many changes in the commercial circles. As a matter of fact, the Christmas holidays are the seasons of change. For rich and poor, high and low, the professional and the commercial men are all alike subject to change. How? Let's see. It may not be a well known fact but the commercial profits of the holiday season is usually reckoned and expected to be sufficient for the expenses of the year. Of course, there are here many, very many stores whose run of trade was not unprecedented during the past month. They, however, are the exception which, according to the time honored maxim, proves the preceding. An unfavorable atmospheric change is a financial change.

To the rich and the poor it is a season on the part of the first of giving; of the second that of receiving and apropos to this. I heard of something that shows real genuine interest in the poor of the city and represents to my mind the true method of disposing of great wealth. It is this:—Not far from 5th avenue, in a side street resided a lady, whose age cannot yet be said to have reached the limits of old maidship. This lady has an enormous income and to my certain knowledge spent this holiday season more than $7,000 in Christmas gifts, the major part of which went exclusively to the poor children, destitute and decrepit persons in the hospitals and missions where her presence is as the sunlight to the inmates. On Christmas day sixty children gathered from a mission school down in one of the west side "slums," came to her princely mansion and were treated to a bountiful dinner and a real genuine Christmas tree with Santa thrown in. By those who know her, she is sometimes called eccentric, peculiar and odd. Here is one of her freaks. On a certain day last week, she purchased a small amount of goods from each of the sidewalk salesmen who throng that busy thoroughfare, Fourteenth street. These purchases were placed in a coupe and the next day distributed among the deserving. To give her name would not be proper. She goes sometimes by the name of Lady Bountiful. It is not an exceptional case. The sum of money and goods which this season has been distributed would amount to a tidy sum. It is a change, isn't it?

But New Years, what of it? True it brings in the new Mayor, but as a holiday it is fast losing its distinctive character. Why? Because of the dictum of society. New Year's calling is the old Dutch custom. In the good old days of Manhattan, or better of New Amsterdam, the burglars and their matrons forgoing neighborly piques and differences, and greeted one another over a well filled cup of Holland's national beverage. So the custom, which was distinctively a Dutch one and entirely the property of this city and the immediate hamlets round about, has taken root elsewhere. Yet fifty and even twenty years ago the custom of making New Year's calls still prevailed in all its old time beauty. Society, however, thought it vulgar, out of place, and not sufficiently English, so it has now lost its foothold on the aristocratic portion. Those old families who claim descent from the settlers of Manhattan, still keep the custom. Those families are great sticklers for the ancient customs, and they are not so far wrong either.

⁂

I said the new mayor was in power. Well, let us be glad we are through with Grace. The new mayor is now the absolute ruler of the city. He has now no necessity to conciliate the Common Council. No officer that he appoints needs confirmation. The Mayor becomes therefore, solely responsible to the citizens direct for the use or the abuse of his power. However Mr. Grace may have been regarded during the beginning of his term, he certainly leaves office under the stigma of being an office grabber. It so happened that one of the commissioners of the parks, Mr. Beekman, was the President-elect of the Common Council, of course, it was necessary for him to resign the former office. Mr. Grace to gratify and pay some political adherent sought for Mr. Beekman's resignation before Jan. 1. The failure on the part of Mr. Beekman to gratify the ex-Mayor made a stir in the sea of politics. Mr. Beekman very justly thought that the new mayor would desire to appoint some one in sympathy with his management. There is no very great amount of friendship between the new mayor and the old one. However smiling may be the exterior of these two gentlemen, there is no great amount of harmony. Did you know that Mr. Grace was largely interested in Peru's financial success? It is a fact. Grace & Co., the company being his brother, Mike, is the greatest commercial house of Peru, S. A. As a matter of fact the greater part of the ex-Mayor's business is with South America merchants. With all the Grace administration, he is under a cloud for the Marine bank affair, and how he got control of $70,000 of the bank's money is something that the people of this city outside of the politician horde desire an explanation.

⁂

While the Grace-Beekman controversy is stirring the minds of the schemers, there is another matter that is arousing the public conscience. The appointment of that honorable (?) gentleman, Mr. "Fatty" Walsh to be warden of the [illegible] prison. What is "Fatty" Walsh [illegible]

[illegible] "When you get an office of essentially a political nature, and then get ambitious for a continuance therein, you will have to deal with, and don't be surprised if some of them are deserving candidates for States Prison and who, if they had just deserts, would be there." The secretary of that most useful organization, The Prison Reform Association, said recently "The appointment of Walsh is a disgrace to this community." It seems strange that in the light of the recent Aldermanic disclosures, and the Squire Flynn deal, something like honesty might not begin to pervade. Manufactured honesty is a poor thing to invest in, and until the citizens see this we will be in the same slough of despond we now are in.

⁂

It is getting quite common for a good fiction to be dramatized, but it is seldom that the author does this work. The dramatization of Howell's "Forgone Conclusion" is partly an exception. The dramatization will be produced in the Madison Square Theatre. Howell's may now be considered as one of New York's literary celebrities, although his residence is divided between Boston and Washington. Still it is in this city where his work is done. About a year ago he was engaged exclusively for the Harper's Magazine at a salary of $10,000 per year. He is, however, rarely seen in those places where the notable men of the city are wont to congregate. Howells presents a rather curious figure on the street. He is disproportioned. He has a much larger body than his legs were intended to carry. It gives him a rather dumpy look. There is nothing particularly noticeable about him. He is a serious, thoughtful looking man and has the air of a man who was thoroughly in earnest. Indeed he is. Whatever he sees that deserves condemnation, he gives it. The new drama will call out the critics. The novel was well received, but it often happens that the play from a powerful work of fiction falls flat. There is more literary ability needed for this sort of work than one supposes. Perhaps, it would be better to put it—a literary ability of as good quality but of a different order.

⁂

The chief attractions are Miss Olcott at the Star, and German operas at the Metropolitan. This is the harvest time for the managers as for all others engaged in money getting. More comedy pervades the Metropolitan stage than any season before. Shakesperian drama is not in favor. People demand fun. It looks as if they would be thoroughly satisfied.

WANDERER.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of THE FULTON TIMES will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength, by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The Proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars, for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

☞Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.

34w4

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

HAVE YOU

never felt strangely tired, restless or uneasy? Have you had pains shooting through the head, along the limbs or around the back? Have you experienced strange sensations for which you could not account? And do you know that all these things arise from diseased kidneys, which, unless promptly cured will run into Bright's disease and end in Death? The Kidneys are the seat of nine-tenths of all the diseases of to-day!!

The F. E. C. Kidney Remedy is an absolute cure for these troubles, and is guaranteed by the druggists who sell it. It is especially valuable for Female Troubles. Every mother, every wife, every nervous and overworked woman, whose life is made miserable by sufferings peculiar to her sex, should know that of all the medicines ever sold, the F. E. C. is the first and only Remedy that guarantees relief or refunds the money. It is effectual, as thousands of testimonials will prove.

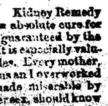
Sold by all Dealers everywhere.
Price, $1.00 per bottle.



FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 48y1

[illegible]

[illegible] To-day almost everybody of prominence in Washington attended the imposing funeral ceremonies of the distinguished dead, which were held in the Senate Chamber. General Logan and his wife were members of the Methodist church and Rev. Dr. Newman, the Washington pastor of Gen. Grant, officiated at the funeral, assisted by the Chaplain of the Senate, and the Rev. Butler of the Lutheran church. The funeral procession from the capitol to the cemetery, which was lengthened by a number of civic and military organizations, was in charge of general Sheridan.

This was the sixth funeral that has taken place in the Senate Chamber. The first was that of Senator Hicks of Maryland, the next Senator Foote, of Vermont, then Hon. Charles Sumner, Vice-President Wilson, and last March Senator Miller of California.

Among all the tributes that are paid to the deceased Senator, the honesty of his legislative life was lost sight of. In an era when corruption was rife, and when many of the strongest men of both parties were broken down and blasted by public exposure or denunciation, which was almost as fatal, Logan escaped all those long years untouched even by suspicion. Although his political friends accused him of being narrow in his prejudices sometimes, even they acknowledged that he was a firm, sincere friend who never stooped to hypocrisy.

The re-nomination of Mr. Matthews, the colored lawyer from Albany, to be Recorder of Deeds in the District of Columbia, promises to become a celebrated case. The President holds that since the Senate rejected him last summer much of the opposition to Matthews' appointment has been removed by the latter's management of the office. The Democrats are indignant that the President should have again seen fit to send in the name of this "carpet-bager from Albany" as they call him, and the Republicans are watching with interest to see how the Senate will treat the case of the same nominee which it rejected last session.

In nominating Mr. Matthews the President said to the Senate: "I have ventured in view of the demonstrated fitness of this nominee, and with the understanding that the objections heretofore urged against his selection have to a great extent subsided, and confessing a desire to tender to our colored fellow citizens just recognition and the utmost good faith, to again submit this nomination to the Senate for confirmation, at the same time disclaiming any intention to question its previous action in the premises." The matter will cause a warm discussion soon, and it is probable that Mr. Matthews will be rejected again.

Congress did a good deal of work in the brief time that it convened before the holidays, and it should not be severely censured if it were to do nothing more this session except to pass the regular appropriation bills. Still much more is projected. For instance, Representative Springer says he will do all he can to pass his bill enabling the Territories of Dakota, Montana, New Mexico and Washington to enter the Union as states, and he thinks he may succeed.

There are to propositions pending before Congress now relative to the subject of marriage and divorce and whether or not any action will be taken on either of them, and the question involved is one of great public importance and constantly increasing interest. One of these measures proposes a Constitutional amendment for the establishment of uniform laws throughout the United States regulating marriage and divorce.

The White House patient has been refractory and consequently he is not so well as he otherwise might have been. The President's physician warned him to keep still and not expose himself to drafts, and both of these orders were disobeyed. Then on Wednesday afternoon the President drove out to his country place in an open Victoria, wearing a light overcoat and caught some cold.

The President's trouble is a rheumatic knee and everything is being done to prevent the disease from spreading, but, said the Doctor, no medical skill has ever been able to confine rheumatism to one part of the body. In the case of Gen. Logan it was the special aim of the physicians to keep it from the heart. While they succeeded in doing this, it attacked the brain. The President hopes, however, to be equal to the odeal of the usual New Year's day reception at the White House. Even if he cannot endure the entire two hours' task, he proposes to receive until compelled by fatigue to retire.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than the above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making a one of the pleasantest homes in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 50 acre farm, within 4 miles of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

[illegible]

[illegible] and Miss Carrie Lindsley were married in this place on Dec. 31, 1886. Long life to the bride and groom.

Almon Mason had another of the sick spells, with which he is troubled, on Saturday night.

Mrs. Denny is not enjoying as good health as her friends would like to have her.

George Thomas lost a horse a few days since.

A young daughter made her appearance at D. Carter's a few days ago. She was cordially welcomed.

The jubilee singers who were here last week will return next week.

Our school has re-opened under the charge of Miss Anderson. This is her fifth term.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1887, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHŒNIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phœnix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in January, March, May, June, September, November and December.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in April, July and October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on the last Thursday of April, July and September.

PARISH—At J. S. Lurlington's law office, on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday in April, July and September.

F. DAVID, Surrogate.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., Dec. 29, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, a full board.

The minutes of the last meetings were read and approved.

The Finance Committee reported favorably on the following bills and they were audited at the amounts claimed viz.

John White, gas for streets,	$87.75
Geo. F. Sharp, highway labor,	11.90
Fred Bennett, printing,	56.00

Wm. C. Stephens on the part of John J. Stephens, made a proposition to furnish the opera house assembly room, properly lighted, warmed and attended by a janitor, for charter and special elections and village caucuses for one year in lieu of charging a license fee for the same time.

On motion the proposition was accepted.

On motion the Board adjourned until to-morrow evening at 7½ o'clock.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

FULTON, N. Y., Dec. 29, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and a full board.

W. C. Stephens, attorney for the Trustees, read a stipulation he had drawn asking an extension of the contract between the village and the Water Works Company for thirty-five days until a proposition could be presented to the people, which he had presented to G. S. Piper to be entered between the Water Works Co. and the village. Mr. Piper presented Mr. Stephens with the following from the Water Works Company which was read to the Trustees.

To the Honorable, the Board of Trustees of the Village of Fulton.

At a meeting of the Trustees of the Fulton Water Works Company the following resolution was adopted.

Resolved, That the President be and he is hereby authorized to execute a stipulation or agreement on behalf of this company with each or either of Fulton or Oswego Falls, extending the right and privilege to both or either of said villages, to continue, renew or reject a renewal of the contracts or either of them now in force between this company and said village to any time desired on or before the first day of April next. And until said contracts are continued or rejected the same shall continue upon all the terms and conditions contained in said contract. The intent being to extend the time for said villages to renew and continue or reject said contract without prejudice to the rights of either party to said contracts.

We trust you will treat this resolution with fairness, authorizing your President to execute on behalf of the Village such a stipulation or agreement as may be necessary to carry out the spirit of the resolution.

Should the time be extended it will give opportunity for negotiations between the respective Boards of Trustees of the villages and Water Works Company as to the terms of a new contract or renewal of the old for a year or longer term to be submitted to a meeting of the taxable inhabitants in the immediate future, and in the mean time water will be supplied to the hydrants and public places without prejudice to the rights of any party.—Dated Dec. 30th, 1886.

Respectfully Yours,
GILES S. PIPER,
Sec'y Fulton Water Work Co.

On motion of Trustee Pardee, the following resolution was adopted.

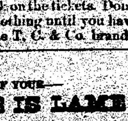
Resolved, That the President of the village be and is hereby authorize to propose to the Water Works Company of Fulton to pay at the rate of $25 per hydrant to the number now in operation for one year from January 1, 1887, and in case of their refusal to entertain such offer by said W. Works Co., the President is authorized and directed to give notice to the said W. W. Co. of the termination of its contract with said Co. and to notify the fire department of such termination.

The Board adjourned subject to the call of the President.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

MONEY to be made. Cut this out and return to us, and will send you free, something of great value and importance to you, that will start you in business which will bring you in more money right away than anything else in this world. Anyone can do the work and live at home. Either sex. All ages. Something new that just coins money for all workers. We will start you; capital not needed. This is one of the genuine, important chances of a lifetime. Those who are ambitious and enterprising will not delay. Grand outfit free.

83y1 Address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Me.



CLOTHING

[illegible] T. C. & CO.'s clothing FITS [illegible], has a CUSTOM FINISH and is MADE TO WEAR. It is FAMOUS for being the BEST and CHEAPEST, and is made in ALL GRADES, ALL SIZES, ALL SHAPES and for ALL AGES.

These Goods may be known by the above trade mark on the tickets. Don't buy any more clothing until you have seen some of the T. C. & Co. brand.

—IF YOUR—
HORSE IS LAME
USE DR. J. S. [illegible]'S
"Spavin Cure."

[illegible] Department [illegible] upon us [illegible] John A. Logan [illegible] as citizens we fully realize the greatness of the national loss, on us as soldiers, who shared with him the toilsome march and shock of battle, received from his example and leadership, inspiration and courage to dare or suffer for our cause. On us as members of the Grand Army of the Republic who received from him as our first Commander in Chief, those principles of Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty which have united in a bond of Brotherhood three hundred thousand comrades, the blow has fallen with suddenness and force, therefore, be it

Resolved, that while in spirit we sadly follow his coffin "with arms reversed and banners lowered" the rooms of the Post be draped and the appropriate badge assumed for the period of thirty days.

A. F. CHASE,
Adj't.

Parish.

Telephone poles are being erected through the town connecting us with Mexico and Syracuse.

The Parker troupe held a convention in this place last week. This week, they are in Cleveland.

Our cheese factory report the following for the past season: Received 1,057,522 pounds of milk. Made 109,272 pounds of cheese, taking 9.65 pounds of milk to make one pound of cheese. 100 pounds of milk netted the patrons 77.657 cents. Soft cheese was made and sold one-fourth of a cent below the Utica ruling and yet the factory made more than most factories for every 100 pounds of milk.

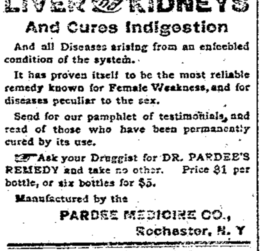
"The Practical Home Physician."

This practical book, which is sold only by the authorized agent, is having a ready sale in this vicinity. Its pages are filled with a description of nearly all diseases and the manner in which they should be treated. It is a valuable work and the price of it will soon be saved to say nothing of the amount of information and that it contains. Mr. H. C. Olmstead is agent for the work in this town and Granby. It comes highly recommended by many of the leading professional men and women in the country.

Mary E. Green, M. D., Charleston Mich. says: I have carefully examined "The Practical Home Physician" and ordered one to be placed in my library for the use of my children. I most cheerfully recommend it to mothers everywhere, believing that they will, by carefully reading the book, gain much valuable information that will be of benefit to themselves and families.

B. F. Sherman M. D. of Ogdensburg, N. Y. says: If the article on the "Care of the Eyes of Children" was read and practiced in every house in the United States, it would save hundreds every year from total blindness. This if nothing else, should commend the book to the favorable consideration of the public.

Why don't you try Carter's Little Liver Pills? They are a positive cure for sick headache, and all the ills produced by a disordered Liver. Only one pill a dose.



DR. PARDEE'S
REMEDY
(The only Reliable Blood Purifier.)
A SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM
Scrofula, Salt Rheum
Neuralgia, Ring Worm
AND ALL OTHER SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES. IT REGULATES THE LIVER and KIDNEYS
And Cures Indigestion

And all Diseases arising from an enfeebled condition of the system.

It has proven itself to be the most reliable remedy known for Female Weakness, and for diseases peculiar to the sex.

Send for our pamphlet of testimonials, and read of those who have been permanently cured by its use.

☞Ask your Druggist for DR. PARDEE'S REMEDY and take no other. Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.

Manufactured by the
PARDEE MEDICINE CO.,
Rochester, N. Y

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,
—AT THE—
FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

[illegible] without success. [illegible] I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. [illegible] bottles of the Vigor, and my head is now well covered with a new growth of hair. —Judson B. Chapel, Peabody, Mass.

HAIR that has become weak, gray, and faded, may have new life and color restored to it by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "My hair was thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, and restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal.—Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.

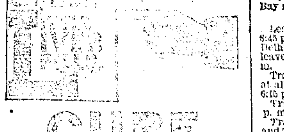
VIGOR, youth, and beauty, in the appearance of the hair, may be preserved for an indefinite period by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "A disease of the scalp caused my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do any good until I commenced using Ayer's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff.—Mrs. E. R. Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
Sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

PERFECT SAFETY, prompt action, and wonderful curative properties, easily place Ayer's Pills at the head of the list of popular remedies for Sick and Nervous Headaches, Constipation, and all ailments originating in a disordered Liver.

I have been a great sufferer from Headache, and Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the only medicine that has ever given me relief. One dose of these Pills will quickly move my bowels, and free my head from pain.—William L. Page, Richmond, Va.

Ayer's Pills,
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Dealers in Medicine.



CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

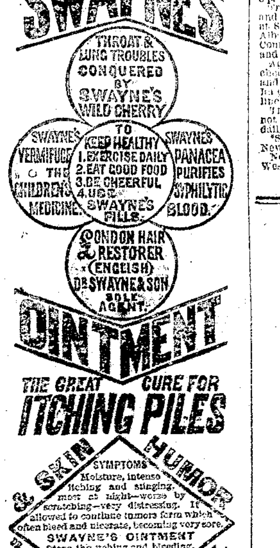
Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.



SWAYNE'S
THROAT & LUNG TROUBLES CONQUERED BY SWAYNE'S WILD CHERRY
SWAYNE'S VERMIFUGE THE CHILDREN'S MEDICINE
TO KEEP HEALTHY 1. EXERCISE DAILY 2. EAT GOOD FOOD 3. BE CHEERFUL 4. USE SWAYNE'S PILLS.
SWAYNE'S PANACEA PURIFIES SYPHILITIC BLOOD.
LONDON HAIR RESTORER (ENGLISH) DR. SWAYNE & SON SOLE AGENT.
OINTMENT
THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES
& SKIN HUMOR
DR. SWAYNE'S MEDICINES OLDEST IN U. S.
PREPARED ONLY BY DR. SWAYNE & SON, PHILADELPHIA. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS

SYMPTOMS Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night—worse by scratching—very distressing. If allowed to continue tumors form which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in many cases removes the tumors. Sent by mail for 50cts.

SULPHUR BITTERS
THE GREAT
German Remedy.
TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

[illegible]

	Station
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	Liberty Falls	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	Parksville	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	Cook's Falls	[illegible]
[illegible]	East Branch	[illegible]
[illegible]	Fish's Eddy	[illegible]
[illegible]	Hancock	[illegible]
[illegible]	Walton	[illegible]
[illegible]	Delhi	[illegible]
[illegible]	Franklin	[illegible]
[illegible]	Sidney Centre	[illegible]
[illegible]	Sidney (Depart)	[illegible]
[illegible]	New Berlin	[illegible]
[illegible]	Guilford Centre	[illegible]
[illegible]	Guilford	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oxford	[illegible]
[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]
[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]
[illegible]	North Norwich	[illegible]
[illegible]	Smyrna	[illegible]
[illegible]	Earlville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Randallsville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Eaton	[illegible]
[illegible]	Morrisville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Munnsville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Community	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oneida Castle	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oneida	[illegible]
[illegible]	Sylvan Beach	[illegible]
[illegible]	North Bay	[illegible]
[illegible]	Cleveland	[illegible]
[illegible]	Bernhard's Bay	[illegible]
[illegible]	Constantia	[illegible]
[illegible]	Central Square	[illegible]
[illegible]	Caughdenoy	[illegible]
[illegible]	Pennellville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Fulton	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oswego	[illegible]
[illegible]	Arrive. Depart	[illegible]

Train 1—stops at Wurtsboro on signal, and at Fish's Eddy and Winterton for New York passengers only.

Train 2—Stops at Guilford Centre for New York passengers only, and at North Norwich on signal.

Train 5—Stops at Hurley, Liberty Falls, Parksville and Cook's Falls on signal.

Train 31—Stops at Caughdenoy on signal.

Train 6—Stops at Morrisville, North Bay and Cleveland on signal; at Smyrna, Earlville, Eaton, Munnsville, Community and Bernhard's Bay for New York passengers only.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING NORTH.

Leaves Walton for Delhi 8:00 a. m., 4:45 and 8:45 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Delhi 9:10 a. m., 6:10 and 9:25 p. m. Sundays leave Walton 8:00 a. m., arrive at Delhi 9:00 a. m.

Train 27—Leaves Walton 2:00 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Sidney 3:45, Norwich 6:15 p. m.

Train A—Saturdays only, leaves Walton 7:15 p. m., arriving at Sidney 8:35 p. m.

Trains leave Sidney for New Berlin 11:18 a. m. and 7:35 p. m., stopping all stations, arriving at 1:50 and 8:40 p. m. Sunday leave Sidney 3:15 p. m., arriving at New Berlin 4:50.

Trains leave Randallsville for Utica 8:15, 10:40 a. m., 3:25, 7:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Utica 10.05, 11:59 a. m., 7:25 and 8:35 p. m.

Trains leave Clinton for Rome 11:40 and 6:35 p. m., arriving at Rome, 12:35 and 7:20 p. m.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

Train 40—Leaves Oneida 10:30 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Norwich 1:35 p. m.

Trains leave Utica 7:25 a. m., 8:25, 4:35 and 10:45 p. m., stopping at all stations on Utica Division, arriving at Randallsville 9:52 a. m., 5:55, 12:15 and 1:03 a. m., connecting with main line trains.

Trains leave Rome 7:00 a. m., 4:25 p. m., connecting at Clinton with Utica Division trains.

Train 28—Leaves Norwich 6:50 a. m., Oxford 7:25, Sidney 9:40, Franklin 10:30, arriving at Walton 11:30 a. m.

Train B—Sundays only, leaves Sidney 9:30 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Walton 11:15 a. m.

Trains leave New Berlin for Sidney 7:00 a. m. and 3:45 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at 8:45 a. m. and 5:30 p. m. Sunday leave New Berlin 7:45 a. m., arriving at Sidney 9:15 a. m.

Trains leave Delhi for Walton 6:45 a. m., 10:40 a. m. and 6:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving 7:25 and 11:20 a. m., 7:05 p. m. Sundays leave Delhi 10:00, arrive at Walton 11:00 a. m.

CONNECTIONS.

Train 2—Connects at Cornwall with West Shore Express for all points north, Saratoga, Whitehall, Plattsburgh, arriving at Montreal 9 a. m.

Train 1—Connects at Randallsville for Utica and all stations on the Utica Division for all stations to Utica; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for Syracuse.

Train 5—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points east and west, Rochester, Buffalo and Chicago; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for all points west; at Central Square with R. W. and O. R. R. for all points North; through sleeping cars to Oswego, at Oswego with R. W. and O. R. R. for Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Chicago 8:30 a. m.

Train 31—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore east and west.

Train 39—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points west, arriving at Rochester 9:25, Buffalo 11:40 a. m. and Chicago 8 p. m.

Trains 13 and 14 run through between Delhi and Utica without change, connects both ways at Sidney, with the D. & H. for Binghamton, Albany and Intermediate Stations. Train 13 Connects at Clark's Mills for Rochester, Buffalo and all points West via. West Shore.

Agents of the N. Y., O. and W. sell tickets and check baggage to all points east, west, north and south via all lines with good connections. Rates always guaranteed as low as any other line.

Train 5, will not start Sunday. Train 6, will not start Saturday; 9 and 10 run daily; all others daily except Sundays.

*Stop on signal to leave and take on New York passengers only.

New York depots at foot of Jay street and West 42d streets.

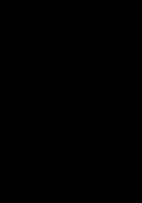
J. C. Anderson, Gen. Pass'r Agt,
No. 18 Exchange Place, N. Y.

Five [illegible] Fine Silver Medals, [illegible] Expositions of [illegible] and the In[illegible]

The [illegible] Coraline over horn [illegible] been demonstrated [illegible] It is more durable, [illegible] more comfortable, and [illegible]

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.
WARNER BROTHERS,
359 Broadway, New York.



CATARRH
ELY'S
CREAM BALM
[illegible]

[illegible] p. m., [illegible] night express for [illegible]

E. S. HOWARD, Ass't Sup't.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
[illegible] Express	5:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:05 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	7:50 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:21	2:21	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19p.m.	3:59	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 5 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Ney are visiting friends in Oneida.

George Lemay and family expect to move to Syracuse soon.

Miss Helen Patterson is visiting friends in Cortland and Homer.

Henry Gilbert and wife of Albany are with friends in town.

Mrs. Woodbury is convalescent from a severe attack of diphtheria.

Miss Minnie Hook of Oswego was the guest of Miss Lesage over Sunday.

Fred E. Sweet and wife return Friday morning to their home in Rochester.

Miss Satie McKay was the guest of Miss Belle Smith at Hannibal last week.

Mrs. C. J. Dalley of Baldwinsville is visiting at Mrs. E. J. Jewett's in Oswego Falls.

Miss Blanche Boomer visited her friend, Miss Lottie Patrick, in Phoenix last week.

W. W. Rowlee of Cornell University spent his holiday vacation at his home in this village.

Mr. Geo. Walworth and family of Pierpoint Manner are visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. A. L. Warner, who has been dangerously ill for some weeks, is able to be out again.

Miss Eva Smith of Syracuse has been spending her vacation with her aunt, Mrs. VanLinder.

Miss Lottie Royce, who has been engaged in teaching at Chicago, Ill., is at her home in this village.

Dr. J. J. Stephens of Washington is in town for a short time looking after his business interests here.

Mrs. Abbey Klock has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. L. Shrader in Roosevelt during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Peebles have been visiting friends in Utica, their former home, during the past week.

C. W. McCormick of Cleveland, Ohio, manager of the Garnby Brown Stone Company was in town last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pratt of Syracuse passed New Year's in this village with the lady's father, Charles Holden.

A. E. Nettleton and Clarence Auchempaugh of Syracuse passed Sunday in this village, the guests of W. E. Morton.

Mr. and Mrs. William Searls spent New Years with the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Jones of this village.

Frank Sweet left Friday morning for Ridgesville N. J. where he is in the edge tool business for Taylor Styles, & Co.

Frank Freeman of Cornell University passed the holidays in this village the guest of Hon. Willard Johnson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Foster have returned from Lennox Madison county, where they have been in attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Foster's sister, Mrs. Gallup.

Charles Guile, who until recently has had charge of the wool department in the Riverside and Oswego mills, has accepted a position as head wool sorter in a mill at Cranston, R. I.

COLLECTOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to the taxable inhabitents of the town of Volney, Oswego county, N. Y., that I, the undersigned collector in and for said town, have received the Warrant for the Collection of Taxes for the present year and that I will attend as follows:

At the post-office, Harvey Bowen's dwelling, at Druces Corners, January 28th, 1887.

At the Briggs Hotel, on Seneca Hill, on January 29th, 1887.

At the drug store of Robert E. Phillips, on First street, Fulton, N. Y., in said town, on all other days except Sundays

For thirty (30) days from the date hereof, from 9 o'clock in the forenoon until 4 o'clock in the afternoon for the purpose of receiving payment of taxes.

JOSEPH LAPRAIRIE, Collector.

Dated Fulton, N. Y. Dec. 31, 1886.

"What is Woman's Worth?"

asked fair damsel of a crusty old bachelor. He did not know, so she said: "W O man" (double you, O, man). But a woman feels worth little if disease has invaded her system and is daily sapping her strength. For all female weakness, Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" [illegible]. It cures the [illegible] builds up the system. [illegible] Buffalo, N. Y.

[illegible] to all his [illegible]

[illegible] Co. to [illegible] or $1,[illegible] hydrants used. [illegible] this contract expired. The Village officers, considering the price too high, did not see fit to renew the contract on the old terms, and the water works company did not feel at present able to lower the price.

The comunication from the secretary of the Water Works company and the resolution of the Board in the matter can be found in the regular trustees proceedings, published in another column.

On January 1st. the following notice was served by President J. N. Sharp:

PRESIDENT SHARP TO SEC'Y. OF WATER WORKS CO.

To G. S. Piper, Sec'y. of Fulton Water Works Co., Sir:

You will take notice that the contract between the village of Fulton and the Fulton Water Works Co., having expired by limitation, the village of Fulton will pay for no more water hereafter delivered, unless a new agreement shall be made therefor, and that this notice is intended to apply to all supply of water within the village except to private consumers.

Respectfully yours,
J. N. Sharp
President of the Village of Fulton.

The following communication was then served President Sharp by the Fulton Water Works Co:

WATER WORKS CO. TO VILLAGE OF FULTON.

To the Honorable:
The Board of Trustees of the Village of Fulton

Believing that the failure of your honorable body to continue the old contract for a short time to enable the parties to renew the same or agree upon a new contract, will not meet with approval by the citizens of Fulton and that it would be a great misfortune at this season of the year to deprive the village of its present fire protection and expose the property of our citizens to great danger and perhaps a sweeping conflagration. We therefore give notice that all fire hydrants and public places will be supplied with water from this time forth as in the past. That the village of Fulton is at liberty to use but under no obligations to use our fire hydrants or water in any manner. Should the village of Fulton, its Officers or Firemen hereafter use said hydrants or water, such use will be deemed by us and taken as an agreement on the part of the Village of Fulton to pay for the use of such fire hydrants and water at the rate of $1,700 per year from this date until some further or different arrangements are made.

Dated Jan. 1, 1887. Respectfully yours
The Fulton Waterworks Co., by
GILES S. PIPER, Sec'y.

It behooves all the tax payers of Fulton to give this matter careful consideration. It is scarcely a wise plan to permit your property and homes to be in jeopardy of destruction by fire without means to save them, nor do you care to pay exorbitant prices for the use of hydrants. The question that should be settled is, whether the price charged is unreasonable or not. We would propose that a committee be appointed consisting of two trustees and two impartial but representative citizens to investigate this matter thoroughly and ascertain the price that is paid by some of the larger villages and cities in the state and also to ascertain if the company can afford to supply the village with water for village and fire purposes at a less figure than it is has been supplied. The cost of completing and maintaining a system of water works similar to these can be found approximately without a great amount of labor or trouble. If it be conclusively shown that we are paying a price not in excess of that paid in other places, everything being taken into consideration, there is not a shadow of a doubt but that four-fifths of the persons interested would vote to renew the contract. This being the case, it is due, both property holders and Water Works company, that such an investigation should be made and not with bulldog tenacity hold out on what may be detrimentrial to both parties concerned.

The following stipulation or agreement has been made between the Fulton Water Works company and the village of Oswego Falls:

It is hereby stipulated and agreed between the Fulton Water Works Company and the Village of Oswego Falls as follows: The right and privelege of the Village of Oswego Falls to continue, renew or reject a renewal of the contract entered into between the parties hereto on the 8th day of Sept, 1885 and in force be, and the same is hereby extended for the period of ten (10) days from this date and until said contract is continued and renewed or rejected, the said contract shall remain in force upon all the conditions contained therein. The intent being to extend the time for said village to renew and continue or reject said contract without prejudice to the rights of either party thereto. Said village to pay for hydrants at pro rata rate for said ten (10) days and this agreement shall in no way be construed to renew said contract or create any liability to pay for a longer time than said ten days, and should a new contract be made between said parties during said ten days the same shall be made to take effect as of the first day of January, 1887.

Dated Dec. 31, 1886.

The Fulton Waterworks Co., by
J. W. PRATT.
The Village of Oswego Falls, by
E. M. BAKER, President.
By direction of the Trustees.

Oswego County Agricultural Society.

The annual meeting of the Oswego county agricultural society was held last Wednesday in the village of Mexico.

S. S. Alexander, esq., of Mexico, was re-elected president, S. D. Moore of Pulaski, re-elected vice president; E. L. Huntington, re-elected secretary; S. M. Baird of Mexico, treasurer. The following gentlemen constitute the board of directors: Russel Turner, Scriba; A. N. Reed, New Haven; H. A. Mosher, Parish; Peter Morgan, Mexico; S. C. Davis, Orwell; D. H. Trimble, Palermo.

OBITUARY.

Died in Geddes Nov. 28 1886, Delos Kinne, husband of Mrs. Sarah Kinne of this village.

If there ever was a specific for any one complaint then Carter's Little Liver Pills are a specific for Sick Headache, and every woman should know this. They are not only a positive cure, but a sure preventative if taken when the approach is felt. Carter's Little Liver Pills act directly on the liver [illegible] and in this way remove the [illegible] disease without first making [illegible]

[illegible] Wanted [illegible] best coal in town [illegible]

Persons wishing [illegible] do so by calling at [illegible] drug store.

The annual meeting of the Fulton Howe Ventilating Stove Works is to be held at the Works on Tuesday, January 11th.

The Oswego Falls Band desire to thank all who assisted at their entertainment and especially the pianist, Miss VanBuren.

Miss Ella Harrington, a teacher in school district No. 7, was presented with a gold ring last week by her pupils, as a token of their esteem.

Twenty-two members of the Fulton lodge of Good Templars visited the lodge at Mt. Plesant last Wednesday evening. A good time is reported.

Two marriages occurred in the Catholic church last Wednesday evening, Thomas Dobbins and Miss Florence McGinty. and Charles Sweet and Miss Nellie Hoey.

Geo. A. Shepard, son of Jured Shepard, a former well-known citizen of Fulton, gave his experience during "The last Two Days of Lee's Army," in the last New York Sunday Tribune.

W. W. Downer of Baldwinsville has sold his trotting horses, Andy Mack and Little Volunteer, to a Boston buyer. Both horses are well-known here, having taken part in many races on the fair ground.

A movement is on foot among the poultry raisers of Oswego to form an Oswego county poultry raisers association and a meeting for that purpose will be held in the above named city about the middle of January.

A large number attended the watch meeting on New Year's eve at the M. E. Church. As the old year was drawing to a close the bell was tolled and as the clock struck 12, it pealed forth in louder tones.

The term of Notaries Public will expire on the 30th of March next, and under the law of 1886 persons hereafter appointed outside of New York and Brooklyn will have to pay a fee of two and one-half dollars upon qualifying.

About 20 of the friends and relatives of Mrs. Wm. Barrett gathered by invitation at her home in Lower Oswego Falls on New Years for a social visit. Refreshments were served, which with stories, games and other amusements entertained the guests, much to the enjoyment and satisfaction of all.

Miss Adelaide Thornton is to appear in the leading role of the "Galley Slave" at the opera house this evening. This is a great attraction for Fulton and may be considered the dramatic event of the season. They have recently concluded a most succesful engagement of three nights at the Weiting Opera house. The company go from here direct to Philadelphia.

A Teacher's Association for the town of Granby will be held at South Granby next Saturday, when the following program will be carried out: Primary Reading discussed by Miss Elizabeth Merriam; Primary Arithmetic, Wesley Stone; Fractions, Fred Randall; Language in our schools, Miss Hattie Edgarton; Questions. Music for the occasion: Miss Clara Paine, Fred Randall and G. Lamson. All teachers of the town are expected to be present.

The Board of Supervisors on Friday last voted fourteen to twelve for the abolishment of the Recorder's Court. They of course have no authority in the matter further than that their wishes will impel Assemblyman Howe to introduce a bill in the Assembly in accordance with their desires.

The vote on the abolishment of the Pulaski court so that all court business would be transacted at Oswego was a tie, 13 to 13.

The wonderful popularity attained by Hood's Calendar last year, will be repeated by Hood's Household Calendar Almanac for 1887, just published. A happier combination of calendar and almanac, of beauty and utility, of art and advertising, has seldom been produced. The lovely child's head, lithographed in many delicate colors, will be welcome anywhere, while the pad is a wonder of condensed, useful information. Copies may be obtained of the druggists, or by sending six cents in stamps for one copy, or ten cents for two, to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass

Fulton & Oswego Street Railway.

The coupons due on the 1st Mortgage of the Fulton & Oswego Falls Street Railway Co. will be paid on or after Jan. 1, 1887 at the office of Joseph Walker & Sons No. 15 Broad street New York city, on presentation.

CHAS. LYMAN, Treas.
35w1,

If you are troubled with Catarrh, or Cold in the Head, call at Watson's and get a sample box of Arcana, FREE.

Draper has moved all damaged goods from Oneida street to 34 First street where bargains at ½ actual prices can be had as he has such a large stock of these goods and is bound to close them all out at once, (not at auction) but at private sale which is less noisy and the quickest way. Money will be refunded if any goods sell not as they are sold for at No. 34 First St., opposite Clark House.

[illegible] in [illegible] couple [illegible] regular [illegible]. The first thing on the program was the installation of the recently elected officers of the Post by Comrade Warner of Syracuse. The supper followed. Three tables stretched the whole length of the hall groaned with the immense quantity of victuals with which it was loaded. Sandwiches, coffee, pork and beans, doughnuts, etc., were found in quantities sufficiently large to feed a dozen regiments. These long tables were twice completely filled and partially a third time. After supper the Post quartette consisting of Messrs. Cooper, Hoff, Highriter and Gilbert sang, "Keep the Camp Fire Burning." An Address then followed by Comrade Warner of Syracuse, he stated that during the war Oswego county had taken a prominent part and that no county in proportion to the number of its inhabitants had sent more soldiers. He also stated that the ranks of the veterans was fast being decreased, and that during the past three months more soldiers of the the late war had died than for any six months since its close. The following program was then carried out. Music, "The Battle of Waterloo," Miss Lillie Perine. Camp Scene and Alarm on Picket Line, including Drill, by Master Erwing Ellis. Address by Comrade J. P. Hompe of Minnesota. Address by Rev. Father Earley. Music, Quartette. Recitation, "The Gray Night" by W. T. Mosher. Address by Rev. Charles Olmstead. Music by Miss Fassell. Recitation "A Sketch," Miss Mabel Lester. Recitation, "A Farm Scene," Mrs. Spencer. Mrs. S. is a great favorite with the G. A. R. boys for the part she took during the war and received at the close of her recitation vociferous applause to which she responded. Music, "We Old Boys" by the Quartette. Address by the Rev. W. Dempster Chase, after which everyone joined in singing the "Star Spangled Banner." The meeting then dispersed and the veterans with their friends returned to their homes, retaining many pleasant thoughts of the few hours so enjoyably spent.

A Pleasant Re-Union.

A re-union of the Gilbert family occurred in this village on New Years. This day we understand, has been observed in this manner by this family for a full third of a century. The entainers were Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Gilbert. A happy surprise was the reception the day previous, of a Monster Minnesota turkey made ready for the oven together with a rich plumb pudding of the old English style and delicious mince pies, with pleasant souvenirs in remembrance of other days under the old family roof. The sender was Mrs. Oscar Ayers daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Kirkland, formerly a well-known citizens of this village and now residents of Austin, Minn. Mr. and Mrs. Gray of Geneseo, Dr. and Mrs. Barnes, Syracuse; Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Barnes, Mrs. Virgil Tyler and son, Syracuse; Henry Gilbert and wife, Albany; Miss Stella Shepard of Gilberts Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Oren Henderson, H. C. Gardner and mother of Fulton, together with the families of the Gilbert brothers of this village. It is needless to add that music was one of the features of this entertainment. Beside each plate was placed THE TIMES carrier's address.

A Serious Charge.

There was a decided sensation in the village of Phoenix on Saturday when Capt. Foster, the leader of the Salvation army there, was arrested in Little Utica on a charge of rape, preferred by Carrie Bond, a lieutenant in the army, eighteen years of age. The statement of the girl is that the outrage was accomplished in the village of Oswego Falls where she resides, on the morning of the sham battle, August 10th. The remarkable part of the story is that since that time the girl has continued to serve as an officer of the army and until now has made no complaint. The prisoner was brought to Phoenix and arraigned before Justice Alvord, when he pleaded not guilty, demanded examination and testimony was taken Monday afternoon.—Times-Express.

Taxation.

The following is the ratio of taxation for the several towns in the county. It is the amount that is to be paid upon every $100 of assessed valuation.

Albion	$1.28
Amboy	1.128
Boylston	1.00
Constantia	4.50
Granby	0.727
Hannibal	2.3766
Hastings	1.56
Mexico	0.92754
New Haven	0.9822
Orwell	1.19
Oswego Town	1.30
Oswego City	1.45
Palermo	0.91
Parish	2.17
Redfield	1.80
Richland	1.2449
Sandy Creek	1.577
Schroeppel	[illegible]
Scriba	1.68
Volney	1.42
West Monroe	3.49
Williamstown	.97

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 34tf

[illegible] 28c

D. C. Draper, No. 34 First [illegible]

[illegible] H. O. [illegible], the druggist, has a number of gold fishes [illegible] as an attraction in one of his show windows.

According to the Supt. of Public Instruction's report, Oswego county has 429 teachers employed. The population is placed at 77,911.

A professional base ball club in Oswego is now an assured fact. They have completed all arrangements for remaining in the league.

The musical entertainment for the benefit of of the Julliard Brass Band at the opera house last Saturday evening was well attended and successfully carried out.

The Reading Circle of Lower Oswego Falls hold their meetings in the rooms of Cronyn Hose Company. They have recently rented a piano and placed it in these rooms.

The ball given by the Cronyn Hose Co., of Lower Oswego Falls at the opera house hall, on New Years eve was well attended. A good profit was netted to their treasury.

Week of prayer is being observed in the different churches every evening this week also afternoon services in the Presbyterian to day, in the Methodist to-morrow and at the Baptist on Saturday.

The Board of Supervisors on last Thursday voted to build an addition to the county insane asylum at Mexico, 60 feet long and the width of the present building at a cost not to exceed $400.

Adelbert Decker, formerly of Oswego Falls, now of Washington, D. C., has been promoted to a higher position in the pension office, having passed a very successful Civil Service examination.

The social party at the Palermo Centre house on New Year's eve was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed as usual. Landlord Hannan knows how to conduct a first class party and the fact seems to be appreciated.

Don't forget "The Galley Slave" at the opera house this evening. Miss Thornton has received unstinted praise from the press and public in the large cities of the United States, as Francesca Remini in this, Bartley Campbell's most successful play.

The German given in Churchs's hall last Wednesday evening was a grand affair. About twenty-eight couple were present, most of whom took part in "the German" which was thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Mary Fitzgibbons had charge of the refreshment department and it is needless to say that the arrangements were perfect,

We were pleased to notice in the Austin (Minn). Register, that Mr. Oscar Ayers, chairman of the County Commissioners was presented on Thursday last by the county officers with a magnificent gold headed cane. Mr. Ayers is well known in this vicinity. He takes an active interest in this village and is posted on the events that transpire by the weekly visits of THE TIMES to his western home.

The children and grand-children of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Morgan gathered at their residence, two miles north of this village on the 30th of Dec. to celebrate Mrs. Morgan's 64th birthday. There were twenty-three present in all and a very pleasant time was enjoyed. Mrs. Morgan was the recipient of numerous presents. The dinner was thoroughly enjoyed, the tables being loaded with the richest of provisions.

D. C. Draper, after a siege of nearly a month, with the representives of the Phoenix and Connecticut Fire Insurance companies of Hartford, Conn., and the Home company of New York, reached a settlement on Monday night. He receives about $3,100 from the three companies. Mr. Draper's loss is heavy from the fact that he is derived of the benefit that he would have received from the holiday trade, had an early settlement been made.

We have received a copy of the annual report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, which was transmitted to the Legislature to-day. In the apportionment of school moneys for the year 1887 we find that Oswego county, exclusive of Oswego city, will receive as district quotas $27,383.80; according to population $18,914.79; libraries, $558.69 making a total $46,862.28 that will be received for school purposes. Oswego City received in addition to this $18,239.63.

At the Jayville mine, Lewis county on Monday, while a gang of men were loading ore on the cars, and after they had undermined the pile, the top fell on them, instantly killing Richard Ingraham of Fulton, and Benjamin Benson of Ogdensburg. George Varley of Carthage, was badly injured. The remains of Ingraham were brought here yesterday and taken to the home of his brother-in-law, John Dexter of Oswego Falls. He leaves a wife and the children who have been living with the lady's parent, Mr. Patrick, who lives five miles south of here in the town of Volney.

Muffs, mittens, and fur repairing done at 58 Second St. Fulton N. Y. 35w3.

[illegible]

[illegible] 38. There were [illegible] last year twenty-four cases.

Of these cases there were convicted 38; acquitted 6; dismissed by Judge S. 9; dismissed by District Attorney, 15; not arrested, 18; quitted, 11, and otherwise disposed of, 1. The convicted and sentenced were: Amanda Sova, incest, 10 years; Martin Murphy, burglary, 10 years; James Dwyer, burglary, 10 years; Henry Kennedy, rape, 14 years and 11 months; Gideon Wells, crime against nature, 10 years; George Kirkland, incest, 10 years; Thomas Galloway, rape, 9 years and 6 months; William Toppin, assault, second degree, 4 years and 11 months; George Crook attempted rape, 4 years and 1 month; George Johnson, burglary, third degree, 2 years and 6 months; James Scanlon, grand larceny, 2 years; James Nary, burglary, 2 years; Egbert Rowe, petit larceny, 1 year; Anthony Witmot, petit larceny, 6 months; John Hicks, petit larceny, 6 months; Micheel McMahon, assault, third degree, 7 years; Arthur McAllister, rape, Elmira Reformatory; "Fred" Allen, burglary and larceny, third degree, Western house of refuge; William White, seduction given a new trial; John Apps, assault in the third degree, $350 fine; John Clark, assault, $75 fine; Michael Donohue, assault, $50; George Cook, assault, $50; George Chamberlain, violation of excise, $50; William Simons, same, $50; Myron Stone, same, $50; Daniel Bond, same $50; George Rickard, same, $50 James Sullivan, same, $25; Anthony Chetney same, $25; Dewight Worden, same, $25, and Michael Conoly, keeping gambling house $50.

The aggregate sentences were ninety-seven years. The fines imposed amounted to $1,440.

Striking the Nail on the Head.

Last Thursday the Supervisors through invitation of Wm. C. Stephens, ex-clerk of the Board, visited Fulton, the home of the gentleman named. The party went to that enterprising and prosperous village via D. L. & W. railway and returned to Oswego on the Ontario & Western. While in Fulton a bountiful supper was served at the Lewis House, after which the "Board" were invited to the new and elegant Stephens Opera House, where Prof. Ragan gave one of his justly celebrated illustrated lectures on Switzerland. In company with our friend, Arvin Rice, Esq., the best posted supervisor in seventeen counties, the writer took a view of Fulton by electric light. This town has a magnificent and unfailing water power and this is of itself enough to give it a strong impetus in the right direction. There are a large number of extensive flouring and other mills, manufacturies, etc., and it is not saying to much for Fulton to predict that the town will yet become a thriving little city. She already has a splendid system of water works, two electric light companies, a line of street cars, and a full corps of enterprising and thriving business men.—Pulaski Democrat.

Pierce's 'Pleasant Purgative Pellets,'

Positively Popular; Provoke Praise; Prove Priceless; Peculiarly Prompt; Preceptibly Potent; Producing Permanent Profit; Precluding Pimples and Pustules; Promoting Purity and Peace. Purchase. Price, Petty. Pharmacists Patronizing Pierce. Procure Plenty.

If you are troubled with Catarrh or Cold in the Head, call at Watson's and get a sample box of Arcana, FREE.

Found—The best place in town to buy dry, clean coal at SCHENCK & FOSTER'S.

A large and elegant line of Ball cards and invitations just received at THE TIMES office. Call and see them and get our prices.

You will find slippers and fine goods for the holidays in a larger assortment than usual at Collins'. 32tf

D. C. Draper has opened at No. 34 First St., 1st door south of Lang's Furniture store, with a large stock of Fresh groceries, where he will be glad to see his old customers and new ones. The damaged stock in Oneida street store will not be on sale until next week.

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $35.00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $25.00; 50 pieces tapestry carpet 60c a yard and 70 pieces extra super ingrain carpet 55c a yard.

We will deliver all purchasers' freight, prepaid to any part of the state. Now the time for Bargains.

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 15tf

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by
10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expeditiously, his business has been constantly increasing. Do not send your work out of town but let The Lee do it at less cost and annoy- 7tf

G. C. Rowe [illegible]

[illegible] Winter Underwear, Wool, Merino and Flannel. Men's and Boys' Fur Caps.

☞ Gentlemen will do well to look at the styles and learn the prices that rule.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

From a Former Fultonian.

We have received during the past week, a letter from Mrs. Josephine E. Silsby who is now a practicing physician in Kendallville, Noble county, Ind. Miss Silsby speaks of Fulton, her native place, of her school life of 12 years in Falley Seminary, and of her teaching in district No. 1 and in the Capt. John Ellis district. She also writes "Among my pupils in a select school which I taught, were T. D. Lewis' wife, Lovel Johnson, son of Hon. Willard Johnson, F. D. VanWagenen, Mrs. W. E. Williams, nee Eva Sabin, Freddie Lee, son of M. Lindley Lee (then State Senator). Hon. Henry Howe's daughter, Lilly, Lawyer Hull's two daughters of Brooklyn, Solon Case, son of Hon. George M. Case, Eva and Eddie Case, Dr. Walter Crombie and Lawyer Willie Crombie, sons of Samuel Crombie, Nellie Fay, Mrs. James Monteith, the two Mrs. Fosters of Canandagua, then Ann Eliza Gasper and Lily Sharp. They have all probably forgotten me but I remember them all with much love.

Hon. Willard Johnson's residence was built by Charles DeGraw on the spot where I was born, between John Pratt's and Willis Nelson's. After leaving Falley seminary, I was one year in a Commercial college. I then went to a French college for ladies in New Orleans and practiced my profession as a specialist. I practiced one year in Milwaukee and have been practicing seventeen years here, in Kendallville, Ind.

* * * * * * *

My mother, who is one of Fulton's earliest settlers lives with me and was 88 years old on the 11th of December last. She is an invalid from brain and nerve disease."

From the testimonials which Miss Silsby sent with the letter we find that she has treated with great success Cancer, Scrofula; Heart, Kidney, Liver and all Female diseases, also fevers, throat diseases, &c.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & Co.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

MRS. LESAGE.
26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

Stephens Opera House,
ONE NIGHT ONLY.
Wednesday Evening, Jan. 5.
Miss Adelaide Thornton,
AS
Francesca Remini,
In Bartley Cambell's Most Successful Play
"THE GALLEY SLAVE."
Supported by a powerful Company.
Under the management of
MR. PAUL F. NICHOLSON.
Prices 25, 35 and 50 Cents.
Seats now on sale at Watson's.

Christmas Gifts!
GO TO
MILTON S. PRICE'S,
Dry Good Carpet and Furniture Establishment,
38 and 40 SOUTH SALINA
AND
29, 31, & 33 Clinton Sts.,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.
AND
Make Your Selections.
The Exhibition of Everything that is rare as a Novelty and useful as a
HOLIDAY OFFERING
has been secured. In fact the most extensive display ever made in this City.
Elegant Christmas Gifts in the DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT.
Dress Patterns in all styles and quality. SILKS, CLOAKS, PLUSH GARMENTS, THE MOST SELECT STOCK IN THE CITY.
FANCY GOODS,
NO END TO THE VARIETY.
Carpets a Choice Stock.
AN EXTRA STOCK OF SMYRNA RUGS purchased expressly for the Holiday Trade,
also an extra assortment of new and novel things may be found in the
FURNITURE DEPARTMENT,
You will have no trouble in making your selection of useful and ornamental
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
AT THIS ESTABLISHMENT.
And better value will be given for your money than by any other house in the City.
MILTON S. PRICE,
Nos. 38 and 40 South Salina Street,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

—FOR THE—
HOLIDAY SEASON!
SNOW & LOOMIS,
have a fine assortment of
POCKET CUTLERY,
CARVERS, SKATES,
SCISSORS and ROBES.
—Also a Novelty in—
FUR RUGS.

Stowell's Great

25 Cent Bargain Store,

Will remain in Fulton only a few days longer. Now is the time to buy

TINWARE, GLASSWARE,
HOSIERY, MITTENS, GLOVES,
FANCY GOODS, TOYS, DOLLS,
HAND SLEDS, &c., &c.
Less than cost of manufacture. Be sure and call.

[illegible] keep calves and rooms [illegible] to clean [illegible] in them, not opening the doors and windows for an hour or two.

The sweetest and best-flavored pork in the world is produced on the island of Madeira. The hogs there subsist mainly on fruits, nuts, grass and roots.

Do not sacrifice your best lambs and ewes because the butcher offers an extra price, but retain them for breeding purposes, first securing a pure-bred male for grading up.

Excellent saddle horses can be produced by crossing the common mares with thoroughbred stallions. Thoroughbreds possess great endurance, is active, speedy and powerful in proportion to his size. Such a horse can be also used for other purposes.

Eggs from hens that have not fully molted do not hatch well. This is the season for disappointments with the hens but much can be gained by providing them warm quarters and allowing plenty of grain.

[illegible] mixed with two quarts [illegible] oats and one part wheat middlings is an excellent egg producing [illegible] hens, and will greatly promote [illegible] well as assisting to keep the [illegible]

[illegible] by those who have [illegible] a study that the losses [illegible] insects injurious to agriculture [illegible] United States reach the [illegible] sum of $400,000,000 every [illegible]

[illegible] method of utilizing the [illegible] is to place it where [illegible] over. They will [illegible] amount of valuable material [illegible] be useless for any other [illegible]

[illegible] injured by freezing un[illegible] thaw. If they be[illegible] them to remain in [illegible] if possible. It is the sudden [illegible] temperature that does the [illegible] the cold.

[illegible] colt, if pro[illegible] a lengthy [illegible], in the [illegible] line upon line, [illegible] precept." Lessons [illegible] repeated. Repeated [illegible] after having been [illegible] sure that the colt has [illegible]. What time is there better [illegible] season for training [illegible] of leisure on the [illegible] can help, and acquire [illegible] at the same [illegible] advantage in brain[illegible] winter, and that is, the [illegible] superior to summer [illegible]. Of course as [illegible] method, they should [illegible] glare ice. When [illegible] and no glare [illegible] rapidly to keep in [illegible] rendering the trainer's [illegible]. It is a sensible [illegible] hitch the colt [illegible] old horse. It is [illegible] the colt acquiring the same [illegible] has been driven a [illegible] so that it seems to know [illegible] of it, then it should be [illegible] day, and each lesson in [illegible] turning to the right [illegible] should be frequently re[illegible] always found the win[illegible] convenient and sat[illegible] breaking colts.—[Amer[illegible]

[illegible] Boys.

[illegible] a person is developed [illegible] readings if he reads at [illegible] attitude in any direc[illegible] his reading will be [illegible] his peculiar bent [illegible] parent should study [illegible] children, and [illegible] will most [illegible] in developing [illegible]

[illegible] is doing the whole [illegible]. But he does not stand alone in the [illegible] profit. In all sections of the country, progressive farmers are [illegible], along with experiment stations [illegible] farms, and the result is a gradual increase of product per acre, with the margin of profit widened and the general condition of farmers improved.

A [illegible] the Wealthy.

"Do you know," said a Chicago capitalist, "that I do not see how so many men are [illegible] rather, why more are not rich? [illegible] every day I have from five [illegible], any one of whom has [illegible] scheme by means of which [illegible] can make a million in less time [illegible] can make a thousand. Yet they [illegible]. Why don't they work their [illegible]? Oh, they all need a little [illegible]. I think some philanthropic [illegible] ought to die and bequeath a few [illegible] thousands to a fund for 'the [illegible] of schemes.' If the schemes [illegible] pay a fair interest to the fund we would have a fair precedent which would enable rich men to refuse such appeals without having to listen to long-winded explanations." It was suggested that the speaker practice his theory of endowment, but the atmosphere grew chill thereat and the conversation closed.—[Chicago Herald.

An Ancient Locomotive.

"The oldest locomotive now in use any where near Chicago," remarked a rail roader, "is No. 60 on the Illinois Central, still making regular trips down the road. She has been in use thirty-three years. It is estimated that in that time she has traveled 1,650,000 miles, or equal to sixty-six times around the globe. She has hauled passenger trains, freight trains, special trains, pay cars, gravel trains and done switching. She has been in several accidents, but was never badly damaged. She has 'killed her man' half a dozen times. the average life of a locomotive is ten or twelve years, and so you see that old No. 60 is a stayer."

Wanted to be Excused.

Coachman (who has approached Mrs. Brown for more wages)—What would your husband say, mem, if I should ask him for a rasse?

Mrs. Brown (who knows her husband's disposition)—Well, Henry, as I never indulge in profanity, you must excuse me from venturing an expression on that subject.—[Washington Critic.

Health is impossible when the blood is impure, thick, and sluggish; or when it is thin and impoverished. Such conditions give rise to boils, pimples, headaches, neuralgia, rheumatism, and other disorders. Ayer's Sarsaparilla purifies, invigorates, and vitalizes the blood.

A Triple Array of Figures.

The St. Louis type foundry says: Here we are on the eve of 1888, which creates a triple demand for the figure 8. This triple use of figures in the annals of time will not occur again till 1911, 1999, 2000, 2022, 2111, 2122, 2202, 2212, 2222, etc.

Rheumatism is primarily caused by acidity of the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus cures the disease.

George III. reigned 60 years as King of England; then the monarch having the next longest reign is Henry III., 56; then Edward III., 50; Victoria, 49; Elizabeth, 45; Henry VIII., 40; Henry I., 35; Edward I., 35; George II., 33; Charles II., 25.

WANTED.

A case of Bronchitis or cough that Higgins' T. & C. Compound will not cure. Trial Size 25 cents.

Saved from Being a Cripple for Life.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTLEMEN:—[illegible] of the [illegible]

[illegible] "[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to the [illegible]

Central Illinois is [illegible] from an extensive and [illegible] water famine. Farmers are hauling [illegible] and driving their cattle [illegible] to drink.

Constipation [illegible] results, are Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. Recommended by physicians and [illegible] by all who have used them. The best remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, and Constipation. Guaranteed, and sold at 25c. by H. C. Giesler.

Hon. Israel Coe, of Waterbury, Ct., oldest surviving legislator, who was a member of the general assembly of 1824, is writing a book of early reminiscences. He is 92 years of age.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 5ly1

A Pertinent Inquiry.

If the women should unanimously agree to stop wearing high hats to the theaters, would the men swear off going out between the acts.—[Bradford Era.

Old [illegible] reliable Medicines are the best [illegible] upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been [illegible] for years for all impurities of the [illegible] every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic [illegible]. It is invaluable, [illegible] has no equal. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Barnum's show last year had 880 persons under pay, and its gross receipts were $1,650,000, while the expenses were $6,800 daily.

If the Sufferers from Consumption Scrofula, and General Debility, will try Scott's Emulsion of pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, they will find immediate relief and a permanent benefit. Dr. H. V. MOTT, Brentwood, Cal., writes: "I have used Scott's Emulsion with great advantage in cases of Phthisis Scrofula and wasting diseases generally. It is very palatable."

By a recent law, it is said, locomotive whistles cannot be sounded in any Massachusetts city.

CHURCH GOING PEOPLE

Are annoyed by the Coughing of their neighbors. One bottle of Van Wert's Balsam would cure every cough in the congregation. Go to H. C. Giesler's Fulton, or Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls, and get a free sample bottle and see for yourself.

Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure cold in the head. 28m6

The 28 cities of Massachusetts now stand thirteen for no license and ten for license, the latter including Boston and the larger cities.

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent [illegible]

[illegible] Russell

DEALER IN

[illegible] and Granite

Monuments & Gravestones

[illegible] furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

[illegible] Street [illegible] Church. 47y1

[illegible] Cut this out and return to us, and we will send you free [illegible] of great value and importance to you, that will start you in business [illegible] money right away [illegible] in the world. Anyone can do [illegible] at home. Either sex. All ages. [illegible] than just coining money for all [illegible]. We will start you; capital not needed. [illegible] important chances of a lifetime. Those who are ambitious and enterprising will not delay. Grand outfit free. 5y1 Address, True & Co., Augusta, Me.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS [illegible] for Catalogue [illegible]

UPRIGHT PIANOS, [illegible]

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.,
Boston, New York, Chicago.

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest Cleanest, Best,
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing
Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 1,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK [illegible]

[illegible] all of the [illegible]

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam [illegible] them. It is so sweetened [illegible] refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 28m6

There are 28,000 divorces granted annually in this country. There is one divorce to every sixteen marriages. In Europe the rate is one to 300.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

Fourteen United States Senators have their sons serving them in the capacity of committee clerks or private secretaries.

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c., 50c. H. C. Giesler.

A farmer of New Hope, Cal., who planted 500 acres in potatoes has had such an abundant crop that he calculates that it will yield him $5,000.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

In the historic period of Rome, the husband treated his wife like a faithful slave, something better than his dog, a little dearer than his horse.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is recommended by eminent physicians, on both sides of the Atlantic, as the most reliable remedy for coughs, colds, and all pulmonary disorders. Inquire of your druggist for Ayer's Almanac.

During the three days of the massacre of St. Bartholomew, August 23-25, 1572, there were over 50,000 victims sacrificed.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Thoroughly cleanse the Blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established. Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers. Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs. For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

SCOTT'S EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda
Almost as Palatable as Milk.
[illegible]
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the [illegible] favorable terms.

[illegible] LETTER HEADS, BILL HEADS, [illegible] PAMPHLETS, [illegible]

[illegible] (take as he [illegible]

The [illegible] of a book agent is full of wormwood and gall. The wormwood is barely perceptible.—[Merchant Traveler.

There is room for everybody in this big world. Friction comes from the fact that too many want the front room.—[New Orleans Picayune.

In mineralogy class—Teacher: "Johnny, give me the name of the largest diamond." Johnny: "The ace."—[Binghamton Republican.

Reporters and editors who hung up their stockings are wondering where the means are to come from for their redemption.—[Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

The surgeons who have successfully removed the section of a backbone should be induced to practice upon the present winter.—[Burlington Free Press.

"Take care," yelled a Harlem man as his wife was chasing him around the room. And she did—she took two or three handfuls of hair when she caught up with him.—[Tid-Bits

A newsboy who jumped from the Brooklyn bridge into the river, still languishes in jail. No one will undertake the job of bailing him out.—[Life.

Miss Nellie (an enthusiastic dog fancier) —"Is that charming little bob-tail yours Monsieur?"

Monsieur—"Oh, no, Mademoiselle; cet eez ze dog's."—[Life.

A young Scotchman who had never been in a boat before, recently boarded a steamer at Owen Sound. After watching the motion of the paddles with great interest he turned to a fellow passenger and, drawing a long breath, said: "Eh, man, but the water maun be terrible shallow tae let thae wheels grup."—[Toronto Globe.

While a man in Clinton, Pennsylvania, was preparing to go to bed he was struck by a thunderbolt and had all the clothing stripped from his body, leaving him unharmed.—Exchange. While the lightning was about it, it should have put on his night shirt and said his prayers for him.—[Christmas Puck.

His Father Did It.

"The boy is all right," said the doctor, "but you want to talk to him and arouse his ambition. Promise him that you will take him somewhere when he recovers sufficiently to go out; there are lots of ways in which you can interest him."

Then the doctor addressed the boy, who was just recovering from a fever, saying:

"Come, Mickey, cheer up my boy; wouldn't you like to go out and play tag with your playmates?"

A faint smile stole over the boy's face, but that was all.

"Stop, sir," said the father, "I'll rouse him. See here, Mickey," he asked, addressing the boy, "wouldn't yez like to go out and trow a rock through a Chineyman's windy?"

The boy immediately sat up in bed and asked for his pants.

"I thought that 'ud fetch 'im," said the father with a proud smile, "he's all right, doctor, dear."—[Boston Courier.

Immigration.

Statistics indicate that the immigration to the United States for 1886 will amount to about 400,000 souls. In 11 months 385,577 foreigners have come to stay by way of ocean ports; while in 1885, on the first of December, 314,645 had arrived. A considerable increase over last year may therefore be looked for. But in 1882 the total was 735,000 and in 1881 720,000. The New York Tribune says: Despite the increase of this year, a comparison of these figures with those of previous years will encourage those patriotic Americans who fear that immigration will swamp us. There is still a possible chance for native-born Americans. Moreover, it should not be supposed that immigrants add nothing to the nation's wealth. On an average it is estimated that each one brings in about $85 in money. That would make their contribution to our wealth this year about 30,000,000.

A Mystery Solved.

Mrs. Minks—My dear, the window plants are getting full of insects.

Mr. Minks—Good gracious! I'll have to begin smoking again. That kills them, you know.

Mrs. Minks—Oh, I hope not. But where in the world did these things come from? They don't look like the regular rose bugs.

Little Dick—Why, them's the ones pap gave me a quarter for catching in the garden.—[Omaha World.

One Hop Plaster will do the work of a dozen bottles of dirty liniment or salve. Kills pain.

Of what a sharp pain! Apply Hop Porous Plaster and experience relief and cure. 25 cts.

The Colonies.

There was no exact enumeration of the inhabitants at the beginning of the French and Indian war [illegible] the Colonies, but Mr. Bancroft [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] For [illegible]

[illegible] "I [illegible] Hood's Sarsaparilla [illegible]" J. V. A. [illegible], Ill.

We shall be glad to [illegible] free of charge to all who [illegible] additional [illegible] by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

[illegible]RS

The Greatest Blood Purifier
ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take

BLUE PILLS

or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately! Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

IT IS Dangerous! Don't Wait.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 2c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARM on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER

Highest Awards of Medals in Europe and America.

The neatest, quickest, safest and most powerful remedy known for Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Backache, Weakness, colds in the chest and all aches and pains. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists of the highest repute. Benson's Plasters promptly relieve and cure where other plasters and greasy salves, liniments and lotions, are absolutely useless. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum," "Capusin," "Capsicine," as they are utterly worthless and intended to deceive. Ask for BENSON'S AND TAKE NO OTHERS. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors, New York.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopoeia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper. ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

CATARRH

ELY'S
CREAM BALM
CURES COLD IN HEAD
CATARRH
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S
OWEGO N.Y.
U.S.A.

HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. [illegible] ELY BROTHERS, [illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check for [illegible] we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers [illegible]

Dated Dec. 7, 1886.

[illegible]

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—County of Oswego.—[illegible] Hethington as administratrix of [illegible] chattels and credits of William S. [illegible] ceased, against Josiah C. [illegible] John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, [illegible] Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace [illegible] Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer [illegible] plaint in this action, and to serve a copy [illegible] answer upon the plaintiff's attorney [illegible] twenty days after the service of this [illegible] exclusive of the day of service; and [illegible] your failure to appear or answer, judgment [illegible] be taken against you by default for the [illegible] manded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of [illegible]

Dated this 12th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & [illegible]
Plaintiff's A[illegible]

Office and P. O. address, Fulton, [illegible]

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill [illegible] phine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon [illegible] publication pursuant to an order of Hon. [illegible] C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court [illegible] the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed [illegible] complaint in the office of the Clerk of [illegible] N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October [illegible]

Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & [illegible]
Plaintiff's Attorneys.

Office and P. O. address, Fulton [illegible]

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—County of Oswego.—[illegible] L. Sears vs. Alice M. Hethington, [illegible] trix &c. of William S. Hethington, deceased, [illegible] Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene [illegible] Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, [illegible] Hethington, Alice M. Hethington and [illegible] Sears.

Action to foreclose Mortgage.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer [illegible] complaint in this action and to serve a copy [illegible] your answer on the plaintiff's attorney [illegible] twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of [illegible] failure to appear or answer, judgment will be [illegible] against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 22d day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney.

Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, [illegible]

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and [illegible] phine Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon [illegible] publication pursuant to an order of Hon. [illegible] Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated [illegible] ber 23d, 1886, and filed with the complaint [illegible] office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y.

Yours &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty,
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—County of Oswego.—Nellie E. Sears against John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington and Alice Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney.

Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, [illegible]

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and [illegible] phine Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. [illegible] Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated [illegible] ber 5th, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y.

Yours &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty,
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—County of Oswego.—ss. Perry M. Simons vs. George H. Simons, Mrs. George H. Simons, Rose D. VanBuren, Carrie VanBuren, Bruce M. VanBuren, Mamie VanBuren, Annie Reynolds Stewart, Walter Reynolds, Mrs. Walter Reynolds, Jeremiah M. Green, Martha H. Green, Lucretia Arnold, Henrietta Lee, William A. Lawrence, Mrs. William A. Lawrence, Byron E. Green, Alice Green, Stella Green, Douglass, Sarah Lee, Seth Burgess, Polly Burgess, Helen H. Green, Amelia Johnson and Helen Simons.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 29th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney.

Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To Jeremiah M. Green, Martha H. Green, Henrietta Lee, George H. Simons, Mrs. George H. Simons, and Anna Reynolds Stewart.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon John C. Churchill, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 6th day of December, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego County, at Oswego City, N. Y.

Yours, &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney.

Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Asa Chapman, Browns Corners, Oswego county, N. Y.; Chas. D. Herrington, Laura M. Wilcox, Anna Chapman, Eunice Blake, George Blake, South Hannibal, Oswego County, N. Y.; Emeline King, Norman H. Havilland, Edgar O. Chapman, Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y.; Louise Perry, Lilly Dawley, South Richland, Oswego county, N. Y.; Aaron Chapman, Horace Chapman, Samuel Chapman, Red Creek, Wayne county, N. Y.; Jane Paddock, North Wolcott, Wayne county, N. Y.; John C. Chapman, John S. Chapman, John G. Haviland, Stephen Haviland, West Hoosick, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Asa H. Chapman, Boynton-ville, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Crocker Chapman, Cora M. Chapin, Hoosic Falls, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Lydia A. Moses, Hoosic, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Nathaniel Cottrel, Pittstown, Rensselaer Co., N. Y.; Sarah Herrington, Anna Newcomb, [illegible], Ellen Case, Johnsonville, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; William G. Chapman, Calvin E. J. Carpenter, Cambridge, Washington Co., N. Y.; Nathan Case, [illegible] wich, Washington county, N. Y.; [illegible] man, Gansevoort, Saratoga county, N. Y.; [illegible] Haviland, Pompey, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Maria Bush, Cicerville, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Hosea Dunham, Horace Dunham, Frank [illegible] Onondaga county, N. Y.; Mary Cowell, [illegible] Cayuga county, N. Y.; John B. Chapman, Chapman, Martville, Cayuga county, N. Y.; Hallett, Herman M. Lawrence [illegible]; Marshall Harrington, Rochester, [illegible] N. Y.; Alice Bubcke, 64 [illegible] man, Arnold Hulett, Almon Hulett, [illegible] Beaver Creek, Rock county, [illegible] Washington, D. C.; Mary Parks, [illegible] county, Mo.; Mary A. Hall, Brookfield [illegible] county, Mo.; Sarah Matilda Cottrell, [illegible] ford, Mass.; Susan A. Heding, Lincoln [illegible] Hellen A. Heling, Bennington, Vt.; [illegible] Hoag, North Pownal, Vt.; Horace Hallett, [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] of food.

[illegible] keep cellars and rooms [illegible] to close [illegible] in them, not opening the doors and windows for an hour or two.

The sweetest and best-flavored pork in the world is produced on the island of Madeira. The hogs there subsist mainly on fruits, nuts, grass and roots.

Do not sacrifice your best lambs and ewes because the butcher offers an extra price, but retain them for breeding purposes, first securing a pure-bred male for grading up.

Excellent saddle horses can be produced by crossing the common mares with thoroughbred stallions. Thoroughbreds possess great endurance, is active, speedy and powerful in proportion to his size. Such a horse can be also used for other purposes.

Eggs from hens that have not fully moulted do not hatch well. This is the season for disappointments with the hens, but much can be gained by providing them warm quarters and allowing plenty of grain.

[illegible] mixed with two quarts [illegible] and one part wheat middlings, is an excellent egg producing [illegible] for hens, and will greatly promote [illegible] well as assisting to keep the [illegible]

[illegible] by those who have [illegible] a study that the losses [illegible] insects injurious to agriculture [illegible] United States reach the [illegible] of $400,000,000 every [illegible]

[illegible] method of utilizing the [illegible] is to place it where [illegible] is over. They will [illegible] amount of valuable mater- [illegible] be useless for any other [illegible]

[illegible] injured by freezing un- [illegible] thaw. If they be- [illegible] them to remain in [illegible] impossible. It is the sud- [illegible] temperature that does the [illegible] the cold.

[illegible] colt, if pro- [illegible] a lengthy [illegible], in the [illegible] "line upon line, [illegible] precept." Lessons [illegible] repeated. Repeated [illegible] after having been [illegible] that the colt has [illegible] What time is there bet- [illegible] season for training [illegible] of leisure on the [illegible] can help, and acquire [illegible] at the same [illegible] advantage in train- [illegible] and that is, the [illegible] superior to summer [illegible] Of course as [illegible], they should [illegible] ice. When [illegible] and no glare [illegible] to keep in [illegible] the trainer's [illegible] It is a sensible [illegible] hitch the colt [illegible] old horse. It is [illegible] the colt acquiring the same [illegible] the colt has been driven a [illegible] it seems to know [illegible] it, then it should be [illegible] day, and each lesson in [illegible] turning to the right [illegible] should be frequently re- [illegible] always found the win- [illegible] convenient and sat- [illegible] colts.—[Amer- [illegible]

[illegible] Boys.

[illegible] of a person is developed [illegible] If he reads at [illegible] direc- [illegible] reading will be [illegible] his peculiar bent [illegible] should study [illegible] his children, and [illegible] will most [illegible] in developing [illegible] should [illegible]

[illegible] is doing [illegible] But he does not stand alone in the [illegible] In all sections of the country [illegible] farms are [illegible] along with [illegible] farms, and the result is a general increase of product per acre, with the margin of profit widened and the general condition of business improved.

A [illegible] Wanted.

"Do you know," said a Chicago capitalist, "that I do not see how so many men are [illegible] together, why more are not rich. [illegible] every day I have from five [illegible], any one of whom has [illegible] scheme by means of which [illegible] make a million in less time [illegible] can make a thousand. Yet they [illegible]. Why don't they work their [illegible]? Oh, they all need a little [illegible]. I think some philanthropic [illegible] ought to die and bequeath a few [illegible] thousands to a fund for 'the [illegible] of schemes,' if the schemes [illegible] pay a fair interest to the fund we would have a fair precedent which would enable rich men to refuse such appeals without having to listen to long-winded explanations." It was suggested that the speaker practice his theory of endowment, but the atmosphere grew chill thereat and the conversation closed.—[Chicago Herald.

An Ancient Locomotive.

"The oldest locomotive now in use any where near Chicago," remarked a rail roader, "is No. 60 on the Illinois Central, still making regular trips down the road. She has been in use thirty-three years. It is estimated that in that time she has traveled 1,650,000 miles, or equal to sixty-six times around the globe. She has hauled passenger trains, freight trains, special trains, pay cars, gravel trains and done switching. She has been in several accidents, but was never badly damaged. She has 'killed her man' half a dozen times. the average life of a locomotive is ten or twelve years, and so you see that old No. 60 is a stayer."

Wanted to be Excused.

Coachman (who has approached Mrs. Brown for more wages)—What would your husband say, mem, if I should ask him for a raise?

Mrs. Brown (who knows her husband's disposition)—Well, Henry, as I never indulge in profanity, you must excuse me from venturing an expression on that subject.—[Washington Critic.

Health is impossible when the blood is impure, thick, and sluggish, or when it is thin and impoverished. Such conditions give rise to boils, pimples, headaches, neuralgia, rheumatism, and other disorders. Ayer's Sarsaparilla purifies, invigorates, and vitalizes the blood.

A Triple Array of Figures.

The St. Louis type foundry says: Here we are on the eve of 1888, which creates a triple demand for the figure 8. This triple use of figures in the annals of time will not occur again till 1911, 1999, 2000, 2020, 2111, 2122, 2202, 2212, 2229, etc.

Rheumatism is primarily caused by acidity of the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus cures the disease.

George III. reigned 60 years as King of England; then the monarch having the next longest reign is Henry III., 56; then Edward III., 50; Victoria, 49; Elizabeth, 45; Henry VIII., 40; Henry I., 35; Edward I., 35; George II., 33; Charles II., 25.

WANTED.

A case of Bronchitis or cough that Higgins' T. & C. Compound will not cure. Trial Size 25 cents.

Saved from Being a Cripple for Life.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTLEMEN:—I was [illegible] of the [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] a testifying [illegible] honor to the [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

Canton, Illinois is suffering from an extensive and serious water famine. Farmers are hauling water and driving their cattle long distances to drink.

Constipation [illegible] results, and Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. Recommended by physicians and endorsed by all who have used them. The best remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, and Constipation. Guaranteed, and sold at 25c, by H. C. Giesler.

Hon. Israel Coe, of Waterbury, Ct., oldest surviving legislator, who was a member of the general assembly of 1824, is writing a book of early reminiscences. He is 99 years of age.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 5iy1

A Pertinent Inquiry.

If the women should unanimously agree to stop wearing high hats to the theaters, would the men swear off going out between the acts.—[Bradford Era.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to [illegible] upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been [illegible] for years for all impurities [illegible] form of Scrofula, Syphilitic [illegible] it is invaluable [illegible] has no equal. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Barnum's show last year had 880 persons under pay, and its gross receipts were $1,000,000, while the expenses were $6,000 daily.

If the Sufferers from Consumption Scrofula, and General Debility, will try Scott's Emulsion of pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, they will find immediate relief and a permanent benefit. Dr. H. V. MOTT, Brentwood, Cal., writes: "I have used Scott's Emulsion with great advantage in cases of Phthisis Scrofula and wasting diseases generally. It is very palatable."

By a recent law, it is said, locomotive whistles cannot be sounded in any Massachusetts city.

CHURCH GOING PEOPLE

Are annoyed by the Coughing of their neighbors. One bottle of Van Wert's Balsam would cure every cough in the congregation. Go to H. C. Giesler's Fulton, or Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls, and get a free sample bottle and see for yourself.

Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure cold in the head. 28m6

The 23 cities of Massachusetts now stand thirteen for no license and ten for license, the latter including Boston and the larger cities.

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the [illegible] has [illegible] remedy for all [illegible] Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. [illegible] 28m6

A total of [illegible] barrels of salt was [illegible] in Michigan this year up to [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Russell [illegible] DEALER IN [illegible] and Granite [illegible] Work Equal to Any. [illegible] Street [illegible] Church [illegible] 47y1

[illegible] Address, [illegible] & Co., Augusta, Me.

[illegible] ORGANS [illegible] UPRIGHT PIANOS. [illegible] MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO. Boston, New York, Chicago.

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.
J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest Cleanest, Best,
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing
Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 1,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK [illegible]

[illegible] to kill off the [illegible]

[illegible] CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable [illegible] refuse it, and it is [illegible] to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 28m6

There are 28,000 divorces granted annually in this country. There is one divorce to every sixteen marriages. In Europe the rate is one to 804.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

Fourteen United States Senators have their sons serving them in the capacity of committee clerks or private secretaries.

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c., 50c. H. C. Giesler.

A farmer of New Hope, Cal., who planted 500 acres in potatoes has had such an abundant crop that he calculates that it will yield him $5,000.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

In the historic period of Rome, the husband treated his wife like a faithful slave, something better than his dog, a little dearer than his horse.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is recommended by eminent physicians, on both sides of the Atlantic, as the most reliable remedy for coughs, colds, and all pulmonary disorders. Inquire of your druggist for Ayer's Almanac.

During the three days of the massacre of St. Bartholomew, August 23-25, 1572, there were over 50,000 victims sacrificed.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

[illegible] Medical [illegible]

Thoroughly cleanse the Blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established. Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL, And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, [illegible]

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS, [illegible] PAMPHLETS, [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] —Chicago [illegible]

The [illegible] of a book agent is full of wormwood and gall. The wormwood is [illegible].—[Merchant Traveler.

There is room for everybody in this big [illegible]. Friction comes from the fact that too many want the front room.—[New Orleans Picayune.

In mineralogy class—Teacher: "Johnny, give me the name of the largest diamond." Johnny: "The ace."—[Binghamton Republican.

Reporters and editors who hung up their stockings are wondering where the means are to come from for their redemption.—[Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

The surgeons who have successfully removed the section of a backbone should be induced to practice upon the present winter.—[Burlington Free Press.

"Take care," yelled a Harlem man as his wife was chasing him around the room. And she did—she took two or three handfuls of hair when she caught up with him.—[Tid-Bits

A newsboy who jumped from the Brooklyn bridge into the river, still languishes in jail. No one will undertake the job of bailing him out.—[Life.

Miss Nellie (an enthusiastic dog fancier) —"Is that charming little bob-tail yours Monsieur?"

Monsieur—"Oh, no, Mademoiselle; eet ees ze dog's."—[Life.

A young Scotchman who had never been in a boat before, recently boarded a steamer at Owen Sound. After watching the motion of the paddles with great interest he turned to a fellow passenger and, drawing a long breath, said: "Eh, man, but the water maun be terrible shallow tae let thae wheels grup."—[Toronto Globe.

While a man in Clinton, Pennsylvania, was preparing to go to bed he was struck by a thunderbolt and had all the clothing stripped from his body, leaving him unharmed.—Exchange. While the lightning was about it, it should have put on his night shirt and said his prayers for him.—[Christmas Puck.

His Father Did It.

"The boy is all right," said the doctor, "but you want to talk to him and arouse his ambition. Promise him that you will take him somewhere when he recovers sufficiently to go out; there are lots of ways in which you can interest him."

Then the doctor addressed the boy, who was just recovering from a fever, saying:

"Come, Mickey, cheer up my boy; wouldn't you like to go out and play tag with your playmates?"

A faint smile stole over the boy's face, but that was all.

"Stop, sir," said the father, "I'll rouse him. See here, Mickey," he asked, addressing the boy, "wouldn't yez like to go out and trow a rock through a Chinyman's windy?"

The boy immediately sat up in bed and asked for his pants.

"I thought that 'ud fetch 'im," said the father with a proud smile, "he's all right, doctor, dear."—[Boston Courier.

Immigration.

Statistics indicate that the immigration to the United States for 1886 will amount to about 400,000 souls. In 11 months 365,577 foreigners have come to stay by way of ocean ports; while in 1885, on the first of December, 314,645 had arrived. A considerable increase over last year may therefore be looked for. But in 1882 the total was 735,000 and in 1881 720,000. The New York Tribune says: Despite the increase of this year, a comparison of these figures with those of previous years will encourage those patriotic Americans who fear that immigration will swamp us. There is still a possible chance for native-born Americans. Moreover, it should not be supposed that immigrants add nothing to the nation's wealth. On an average it is estimated that each one brings in about $85 in money. That would make their contribution to our wealth this year about 30,000,000.

A Mystery Solved.

Mrs. Minks—My dear, the window plants are getting full of insects.

Mr. Minks—Good gracious! I'll have to begin smoking again. That kills them, you know.

Mrs. Minks—Oh, I hope not. But where in the world did these things come from? They don't look like the regular rose bugs.

Little Dick—Why, them's the ones pap gave me a quarter for catching in the garden.—[Omaha World.

One Hop Plaster will do the work of a dozen bottles of dirty liniment or salve. Kills pain.

Of what a sharp pain! Apply a Hop Porous Plaster and experience relief and cure. 25 cts.

The Colonies.

There was no exact enumeration of the inhabitants at the beginning of the French and Indian war [illegible] the Colonies, but Mr. Bancroft, the historian, estimates the [illegible] as follows: [illegible] Massachusetts [illegible] New Hampshire, [illegible] Island [illegible] Un- [illegible]

[illegible] Our [illegible]

I have been afflicted [illegible] Before [illegible] "I suffered [illegible] called [illegible] Hood's Sarsaparilla [illegible]" J. V. A. Proudfoot [illegible] Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send free of charge to all who [illegible] additional [illegible] by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

[illegible] BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately! Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

IT IS Dangerous [illegible] Wait!

A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARM on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

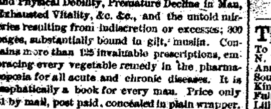
DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER

Highest Awards of Medals in Europe and America.

The neatest, quickest, safest and most powerful remedy known for Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Backache, Weakness, colds in the chest and all aches and pains. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists of the highest repute. Benson's Plasters promptly relieve and cure where other plasters and greasy salves, liniments and lotions, are absolutely useless. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum," "Capusin," "Capsicine," as they are utterly worthless and intended to deceive. Ask for BENSON'S AND TAKE NO OTHERS. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors, New York.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

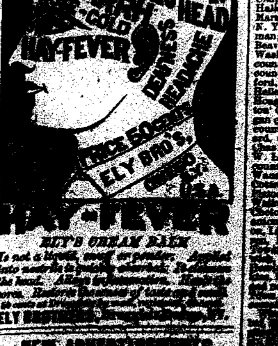


KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

CATARRH



HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. Cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the senses of taste and smell. 50 cents at Druggists; [illegible] ELY BROTHERS, [illegible] N.Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check for $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers [illegible]

[illegible] Dated Dec. 7, 1886. [illegible]

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO.—[illegible] Hethington as administratrix of [illegible] chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. [illegible] John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, [illegible] Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace [illegible] Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of [illegible]

Dated this 12th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & [illegible]
Plaintiff's [illegible]
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill [illegible] phine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. [illegible] C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego County, N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October [illegible]

Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & [illegible]
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton [illegible]

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO.—[illegible] L. Sears vs. Alice M. Hethington, [illegible] trix &c. of William S. Hethington, deceased, [illegible] Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene [illegible] Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, [illegible] Hethington, Alice M. Hethington and [illegible] Sears.

Action to foreclose Mortgage.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 23d day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. [illegible] Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 23d, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y.

Yours &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty,
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO.—Nellie E. Sears against John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington and Alice Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 5th, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y.

Yours &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty,
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—County of Oswego.—ss. Perry M. Simons vs. George H. Simons, Mrs. George H. Simons, Russ D. VanBuren, Carrie VanBuren, Bruce M. VanBuren, Mamie VanBuren, Annie Reynolds Stewart, Walter Reynolds, Mrs. Walter Reynolds, Jeremiah M. Green, Martha H. Green, Lucretia Arnold, Henrietta Lee, William A. Lawrence, Mrs. William A. Lawrence, Byron E. Green, Alice Green, Stella Green, Douglas [illegible] Sarah Lee, Seth Burgess, Polly Burgess, Helen M. Green, Amelia Johnson and Helen Simons.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 29th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To Jeremiah M. Green, Martha H. Green, Henrietta Lee, George H. Simons, Mrs. George H. Simons, and Anna Reynolds Stewart.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon John C. Churchill, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 6th day of December, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego County, at Oswego City, N. Y.

Yours, &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Asa Chapman, Bowens Corners, Oswego county, N. Y.; Chas. D. Herrington, Laura M. Wilcox, Anna Chapman, Eunice Blake, George Blake, South Hannibal, Oswego County, N. Y.; Emeline King, Norman H. Haviland, Edgar C. Chapman, Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y.; Louise Perry, Lilly Dawley, South Richland, Oswego county, N. Y.; Aaron Chapman, Horace Chapman, Samuel Chapman, Red Creek, Wayne county, N. Y.; Jane Paddock, North Wolcott, Wayne county; John C. Chapman, John S. Chapman, John G. Haviland, Stephen Haviland, West Hoosick, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Asa B. Chapman, Boyntonville, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Crocker Chapman, Cora M. Chapin, Hoosic Falls, Rensselaer county, Lydia A. Moses, Hoosic, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Nathaniel Cottrell, Pittstown, Rensselaer Co., N. Y.; Sarah Herrington, Anna Newcomb, Ettie Phillips, Ellen Case, Johnsonville, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; William O. Chapman, Calvin E. J. Carpenter, [illegible] bridge, Washington Co., N. Y.; Nathan Case, [illegible] wich, Washington county, N. Y.; James H. [illegible] man, Gansevoort, Saratoga county, N. Y.; William Haviland, Pompey, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Maria Nash, Cicerville, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Homer Dunham, Horace Dunham, [illegible] Onondaga county, N. Y.; Mary Cowell, [illegible] Cayuga county, N. Y.; John S. Chapman, [illegible] Chapman, Martville, Cayuga county, N. Y.; [illegible] Hallett, Hermon, St. Lawrence county, N. Y.; Marshall Harrington, Rochester, Monroe county, N. Y.; Alice Behnke, St. Paul, Minn.; [illegible] man, Arnold Hulett, Almon Hulett, George [illegible] Beaver creek, Rock county, Minn.; [illegible] Washington, D. C.; Mary Parks, [illegible] county, Mo.; Mary A. Hall, [illegible] county, Mo.; Sarah Matilda Cottrell, [illegible] ford, Mass.; Susan A. Helling, Lincoln [illegible] Hellen A. Helling, Bennington, Vt.; [illegible] Hoag, North Pownal, Vt.; Horace Helling, [illegible] ton' Cal.; Courtland Chapman, [illegible] gan county, Mich.; Roxana Kent, [illegible] county, Mich.; George F. Leonard, [illegible] ert, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Elijah D. [illegible] Chas. A. Leonard, Chester M. Leonard, [illegible] W. Leonard, Elizabeth Burgess, [illegible] county, Wis.; Elisha Crandall, [illegible] [illegible] county, Wis.; Betsy Cottrell, [illegible] Cottrell, Wayne Cottrell, [illegible]

[illegible]

"The oldest locomotive [illegible] is [illegible] where near Chicago," [illegible] reader, "is No. 90 on the Illinois Central, still making [illegible] trips [illegible] road. She has [illegible] years. [illegible] time she has travelled 1,000,000 miles, or [illegible] sixty [illegible] times around the globe. She has hauled passenger trains, freight trains, special trains, pay cars, gravel trains and done switching. She has been in several accidents, but was [illegible] damaged. She has killed [illegible] half a dozen people. The average life of a locomotive is ten or twelve years, and so you see that old No. 90 is a stayer."

Wanted to be Excused.

Coachman (who has approached Mrs. Brown for more wages)—What would your husband say, then, if I should ask him for a raise?

Mrs. Brown (who knows her husband's disposition)—Well, Henry, [illegible] indulge in [illegible] me from [illegible] that [illegible]

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton, and [illegible]

J. [illegible] & Co.

[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	¼ ton
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

[illegible] Cement, [illegible]

FOR SALE BY

C. HUNT.

ADVERTISERS [illegible] the exact [illegible] proposed line of [illegible] in America [illegible] by addressing [illegible] Rowell & Co.

[illegible] from sick headache [illegible]

[illegible] United States Senators have [illegible] serving them in this capacity [illegible] clerks or private secretaries.

Shiloh's Vitalizer [illegible] Mighty is the [illegible] sufferers from [illegible] Con[illegible] Cough, etc. [illegible] for all Lung Troubles [illegible] positive guarantee at 10c., 50c. H. C. Greene.

A farmer at New Hope, Cal., who planted 500 acres in potatoes has had such an abundant crop that he calculates that it will yield him $5,000.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 49y1

In the historic period of Rome, the husband treated his wife like a faithful slave, something better than his dog, a little dearer than his horse.

Ayer's Cherry Pectorial is recommended by eminent physicians, on both sides of the Atlantic, as the most reliable remedy for coughs, colds, and all pulmonary disorders. Inquire of your druggist for Ayer's Almanac.

During the three days of the massacre of St. Bartholomew, August 22-25, 1572, there were over 50,000 victims sacrificed.

[illegible] Blood Bitters is the only [illegible]

[illegible] who [illegible] excuse [illegible] his wife [illegible] room. And she did—she [illegible] three hundreds of her [illegible] up with him.—[Tid-Bits.

A newsboy who jumped from the Brooklyn bridge into the river, still languishes in jail. No one will undertake the job of bailing him out.—[Life.

Miss Nellie (an enthusiastic dog fancier)—"Is that charming little bobtail yours, Monsieur?"

Monsieur—"Oh, no, Mademoiselle; [illegible] to dog's."—[Life.

A young Scotchman who had never been in a boat before, recently boarded a steamer at Owen Sound. After watching the motion of the paddles with great interest he turned to a fellow passenger and, drawing a long breath, said: "Eh, man, but the water maun be terrible shallow tae let thae wheels grup."—[Toronto Globe.

While a man in Clinton, Pennsylvania, was preparing to go to bed he was struck by a thunderbolt and had all the clothing stripped from his body, leaving him unharmed.—Exchange. While the lightning was about it, it should have put on his night shirt and said his prayers for him.—[Christmas Puck.

His Father Did It.

"The boy is all right," said the doctor, "but you want to talk to him and arouse his ambition. Promise him that you will take him somewhere when he recovers sufficiently to go out; there are lots of ways in which you can interest him."

Then the doctor addressed the boy, who was just recovering from a fever, saying:

"Come, Mickey, cheer up my boy; wouldn't you like to go out and play tag with your playmates?"

A faint smile stole over the boy's face, but that was all.

"Stop, sir," said the father, "I'll rouse him. See here, Mickey," he asked, addressing the boy, "wouldn't yez like to [illegible] and throw a rock through a Chinaman's windy?"

The boy immediately sat up in bed and asked for his pants.

"I thought that 'ud fetch 'im," said the father with a proud smile, "he's all right, doctor, dear."—[Boston Courier.

Immigration.

Statistics indicate that the immigration to the United States for 1886 will amount to about 400,000 souls. In 11 months 365,677 foreigners have come to this by way of ocean ports, while in 1885, on the first of December, 314,645 had arrived. A considerable increase over last year may therefore be [illegible]. But in 1882 the total was 789,000, and in 1881 720,000. The New York Tribune says: Despite the increase of this year, a comparison of these figures with those of previous years will encourage those [illegible]

[illegible] PILLS [illegible] Sulphur Bitters! [illegible] The Invalid's Friend. [illegible] the young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. [illegible] A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 2c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARM on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful cure at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER

Highest Awards of Medals in Europe and America.

The neatest, quickest, safest and most powerful remedy known for Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Backache, Weakness, colds in the chest and all aches and pains. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists of the highest repute. Benson's Plasters promptly relieve and cure where other plasters and greasy salves, liniments and lotions, are absolutely useless. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum," "Capucin," "Capsicine," as they are utterly worthless and intended to deceive. Ask for BENSON'S AND TAKE NO OTHERS. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors, New York.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

CATARRH

[illegible] Dated Oct. 18, 1886.

Office and P. O. Address [illegible]

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—County of [illegible] L. Sears vs. Alice H. [illegible] [illegible] &c. of William [illegible] Judkins, Sally Ann [illegible] Ida May Lewis, Charlotte [illegible] Hetherington, Alice H. Hetherington [illegible] Sears.

Action to foreclose Mortgage.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of [illegible]

Dated this 2nd day of November, 1886.

Office and P. O. Address [illegible]

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann [illegible] phine Hetherington [illegible]

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of [illegible] Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 2nd, 1886, and filed with the [illegible] office of the clerk of Oswego [illegible] city, N. Y. Yours, [illegible]

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—County of Oswego [illegible] Nellie E. [illegible] against John A. Judkins [illegible] Ann Merrill, [illegible] Charlotte Grace [illegible] Josephine and Alice Hetherington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 5th day of November, 1886.

Office and P. O. Address [illegible]

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill [illegible] phine Hetherington [illegible]

The foregoing summons is served upon you [illegible]

[illegible] dry and clean.

It is estimated that there are six million miles of fences in the United States.

Keep a record of your farm animals; when born and mated, their peculiarities, etc. You will find it useful.

Have good tools and take good care of them. Keep them housed when not in use, paint them when necessary and get them repaired before you need to use them.

Warming the drinking water for milch cows pays in winter.

In training young horses much time in the heavy work of a farm may be saved by the cultivation of a good working gait.

Leaves make a cheap and convenient bedding much liked by pigs.

It is not the largest hog that pays, but the one that makes the largest quantity of pork in the shortest time and on the smallest quantity of food.

A good way to keep cellars and rooms free from mildew is to close them tight and burn sulphur in them, not opening the doors and windows for an hour or two.

The sweetest and best-flavored pork in the world is produced on the island of Madeira. The hogs there subsist mainly on fruits, nuts, grass and roots.

Do not sacrifice your best lambs and ewes because the butcher offers an extra price, but retain them for breeding purposes, first securing a pure-bred male for grading up.

Excellent saddle horses can be produced by crossing the common mares with thoroughbred stallions. Thoroughbred's possess great endurance, is active, speedy and powerful in proportion to his size. Such a horse can be also used for other purposes.

Eggs from hens that have not fully molted do not hatch well. This is the season for disappointments with the hens, but much can be gained by providing them warm quarters and allowing plenty of grain.

Sour milk, mixed with two quarts ground oats and one part wheat middlings, is an excellent egg producing food for hens, and will greatly promote laying, as well as assisting to keep the hens in health.

It is estimated by those who have made the subject a study that the losses occasioned by insects injurious to agriculture in the United States reach the enormous sum of $400,000,000 every year.

An excellent method of utilizing the hay seed and dust is to place it where the hens can scratch it over. They will find quite an amount of valuable material which would be useless for any other purpose.

Apples are not injured by freezing unless they suddenly thaw. If they become frozen, allow them to remain in that condition if possible. It is the sudden change of temperature that does the damage, and not the cold.

Training Colts.

The task of training any colt, if properly managed, is necessarily a lengthy one, writes F. K. Moreland, in the Breeder's Gazette. It is "line upon line, and precept upon precept." Lessons must be frequently repeated. Repeated time after time, even after having been learned, to make sure that the colt has not forgotten. What time is there better than the winter season for training colts? There is plenty of leisure on the farm: all the boys can help, and acquire much useful information at the same time. There is an advantage in training colts in winter, and that is, the roads are apt to be superior to summer roads for this purpose. Of course as young colts can not be shod, they should not be taken out on glare ice. When the roads are well broken and no glare ice, colts learn very rapidly to keep in the track, thus rendering the trainer's task a much easier one. It is a sensible precaution to always hitch the colt with a good-traveling old horse. It is apt to insure the colt acquiring the same gait. After the colt has been driven a few times so that it seems to know what is required of it, then it should be driven every day, and each lesson in starting, backing, turning to the right or left, etc., should be frequently repeated. I have always found the winter season the most convenient and satisfactory for breaking colts.—[American Farmer.

Reading for Farmers' Boys.

The carhacter of a person is developed largely by his reading, if he reads at all. If he has an aptitude in any direction, quite naturally his reading will be of the kind suited to his peculiar bent of mind. Every parent should study the characteristics of his children, and help them to such reading as will most practically assist them in developing their capabilities. The farmer should put before each of his boys as are inclined to work on the farm, good agricultural papers—not those with theories which he knows to be impractical, but commonsense papers which are edited from a practical standpoint and are for practical men. The boy who reads such [illegible] will become interested in it, because it treats of the work and daily [illegible] about him—the work and [illegible] he knows most about. When [illegible] of new methods of doing [illegible] will compare them with the [illegible] which he is familiar, and [illegible] is the one he will follow, [illegible] or the old. The pa[illegible] food for thought in his [illegible] A boy needs is to be set [illegible] He does not require to [illegible] thought out for him by [illegible] encourage him to [illegible] A good paper, [illegible] the best stimulus for [illegible] Agriculture for [illegible]

[illegible] the [illegible] practical [illegible] near future [illegible] the only kind that wi[illegible] test. The richest soils [illegible] culture and poor management [illegible] produce as profitable [illegible] as do [illegible] out soils cultivated by improved methods. In [illegible] of this statement is the [illegible] of the average of the last five years in the west was twenty-nine and a fraction bushels of cereals per acre, while the New England states, with good culture and liberal application of fertilizers, yielded thirty and a fraction bushels per acre. The work of progressive men like Farish Furman, who increased the yield on sixty-four acres of scrub land from eight to one hundred bales of cotton by extra culture and generous manuring, is doing the whole country a service. But he does not stand alone in the good work. In all sections of the country progressive farmers are increasing, along with experiment stations and farms, and the result is a gradual increase of product per acre, with the margin of profit widened and the general condition of farmers improved.

A Hint to the Wealthy.

"Do yot know," said a Chicago capitalist, "that I do not see how so many men are poor, or, rather, why more are not rich. Why, every day I have from five to ten callers, any one of whom has discovered a scheme by means of which he can make a million in less time than I can make a thousand. Yet they stay poor. Why don't they work their schemes? Oh, they all need a little capital. I think some philanthropic millionaire ought to die and bequeath a few hundred thousands to a fund for 'the development of schemes;' if the schemes don't pay a fair interest to the fund we would have a fair precedent which would enable rich men to refuse such appeals without having to listen to long-winded explanations." It was suggested that the speaker practice his theory of endowment, but the atmosphere grew chill thereat and the converation closed.—[Chicago Herald.

An Ancient Locomocotive.

"The oldest locomotive now in use any where near Chicago," remarked a rail roader, "is No. 60 on the Illinois Central, still making regular trips down the road. She has been in use thirty-three years. It is estimated that in that time she has traveled 1,650,000 miles, or equal to sixty-six times around the globe. She has hauled passenger trains, freight trains, special trains, pay cars, gravel trains and done switching. She has been in several accidents, but was never badly damaged. She has 'killed her man' half a dozen times. the average life of a locomotive is ten or twelve years, and so you see that old No. 60 is a stayer."

Wanted to be Excused.

Coachman (who has approached Mrs. Brown for more wages)—What would your husband say, mem, if I should ask him for a raise?

Mrs. Brown (who knows her husband's disposition)—Well. Henry, as I never indulge in profanity, you must excuse me from venturing an expression on that subject.—[Washington Critic.

Health is impossible when the blood is impure, thick, and sluggish, or when it is thin and impoverished. Such conditions give rise to boils, pimples, headaches, neuralgia, rheumatism, and other disorders. Ayer's Sarsaparilla purifies, invigorates, and vitalizes the blood.

A Triple Array of Figures.

The St. Louis type foundry says: Here we are on the eve of 1888, which creates a triple demand for the figure 8. This triple use of figures in the annals of time will not occur again till 1911, 1999, 2000, 2022, 2111, 2122, 2202, 2212, 2222, etc.

Rheumatism is primarily caused by acidity of the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus curse the disease.

George III. reigned 60 years as King of England; then the monarch having the next longest reign is Henry III., 56; then Edward III., 50; Victoria, 49; Elizabeth, 45; Henry VIII., 40; Henry I., 35; Edward I., 35; George II., 33; Charles II., 25.

WANTED.

A case of Bronchetis or cough that Higgins' T.& C. Compound will not cure. Trial Size 25 cents.

Saved from being a Cripple for Life.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTLEMAN:—I was suffering from one of the worst cases of inflammatory rheumatism that any person could possibly have, and two bottles of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy has affected an entire cure. I will gladly answer any questions concerning my case, as I consider that I was saved from being crippled for life, by the use of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy.

MRS. FEELEY,
No. 64 Fulton Avenue.

The following is from Col. Palmer, the popular and able city Editor of the Lockport Daily Union.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., July 6, 1885.

ARDEE MEDICINE CO.

GENTLEMEN:—After leaving the U. S. Army I was afflicted with a severe Neuralgia Headache, coming on at intervals of a few days to several weeks, and lasting from one to three day, during which time I suffered excruciating pain, and was often totally incapacitated for business. In March 1883, I purchased one bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and followed the directions until I took about three-fifths of its contents, and from that time until this, have not been troubled with Headache or Neuralgia.

W. S. PALMER,
City Editor of the Lockport Daily Union.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTS.—This is to certify that I was [illegible]

[illegible] William and Mary [illegible] Yale in Connecticut, Dartmouth in New Hampshire and University of Pennsylvania.

President [illegible] of a temperance [illegible] of Lockport, N. Y., named [illegible] He received $25 for it.

Home Rule for Ireland

is only a question of time and it is only a question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

Senator Sherman says he is in favor of fortifying the United States coasts, and hopes that a navy that would do honor to the country would be built.

NO WOMAN

is beautiful with a bad skin, covered with pimples, freckles, moth or tan. I have been asked many times what will remove these unsightly blemishes. No face paints or powders will remove them, as they are caused by impure blood. The only sure remedy I have ever seen is Sulphur Bitters, and in hundreds of cases I have never known them to fail.—Editoress Fashion Gazette.

Central Illinois is suffering from an extensive and serious water famine. Farmers are hauling water and driving their cattle long distances to drink.

Convenient pleasant, and certain in their results, are Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. Recommended by physicians and endorsed by all who have used them. The best remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, and Constipation. Guaranteed, and sold at 25c, by H. C. Giesler.

Hon. Israel Coe, of Waterbury, Ct., oldest surviving legislator, who was a member of the general assembly of 1824, is writing a book of early reminiscences. He is 92 years of age.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed a night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1

A Pertinent Inquiry.

If the women should unamimously agree to stop wearing high hats to the theaters, would the men swear off going out between the acts.—[Bradford Era.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Barnum's show last year had 830 persons under pay, and its gross receipts were $1,060,000, while the expenses were $6,800 daily.

If the Sufferers from Consumption Scrofula, and General Debility, will try Scott's Emulsion of pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, they will find immediate relief and a permanent benefit. Dr. H. V. MOTT, Brentwood, Cal., writes: "I have used Scott's Emulsion with great advantage in cases of Phthisis Scrofula and wasting diseases generally. It is very palatable."

By a recent law, it is said, locomotive whistles cannot be sounded in any Massachusetts city.

CHURCH GOING PEOPLE

Are annoyed by the Coughing of their neighbors. One bottle of Van Wert's Balsam would cure every cough in the congregation. Go to H. C. Giesler's Fulton, or Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls, and get a free sample bottle and see for yourself.

Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure cold in the head. 23m6

The 23 cities of Massachusetts now stand thirteen for no license and ten for license, the latter including Boston and the larger cities.

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent remedial agents which modern medical investigation has discovered, the whole forms an incomparable remedy for all throat and lung troubles. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Trial sizes free.

For torpid liver use Van Wert's Pills. Van Wert's Golden Balm is a certain cure for Catarrh. 23m6

A total of 3,679,257 barrels of salt was made in Michigan this year up to December 1st.

Please Don't Forget It

That Dr. H. James Cannabis Indica is prepared in Calcutta, India, from the purest and best Native Hemp, and is the only remedy, either in that country or this, that will positively and permanently cure Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Nasal Catarrh and Nervous Debility, or break up a fresh cold in 24 hours. $2.50 per bottle, three bottles $6.50. Craddock & Co., Proprietors, 1032 Race St. Phila.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Phillips' drug store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

The [illegible]

[illegible] and Coffins

Of every [illegible] the most approved patterns [illegible] All the latest and [illegible]

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 31

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

MONEY to be made. Cut this out and return to us, and will send you free, something of great value and importance to you, that will start you in business which will bring you in more money right away than anything else in this world. Anyone can do the work and live at home. Either sex. All ages. Something new that just coins money for all workers. We will start you; capital not needed. This is one of the genuine, important chances of a lifetime. Those who are ambitious and enterprising will not delay. Grand outfit free. 33y1 Address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Me.

MASON & HAMLIN

UNRIVALED ORGANS

On the EASY PAYMENT system, from $3.25 per month up. 100 styles, $22 to $900. Send for Catalogue with full particulars, mailed free.

UPRIGHT PIANOS,

Constructed on the new method of stringing, on similar terms. Send for descriptive Catalogue.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.,
Boston, New York, Chicago.

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

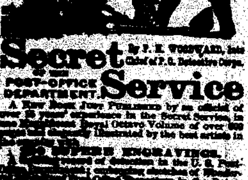
Purest Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 5,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK.



Secret Service by P. H. WOODWARD, late Chief of P. O. Detective Corps. OF THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

A New Book Just Published by an official of over 25 years' experience in the Secret Service, in one Magnificent Royal Octavo Volume of over 600 pages and elegantly Illustrated by the best artists in [illegible]

100 SUPERB ENGRAVINGS.

[illegible]

AGENTS WANTED [illegible]

[illegible]

There is only one doctor to 1,350 inhabitants in Europe, while America has about one to every 600. But they make up the deficit over there by getting up a war whenever it becomes desirable to kill off the surplus.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

There are 28,000 divorces granted annually in this country. There is one divorce to every sixteen marriages. In Europe the rate is one to 300.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

Fourteen United States Senators have their sons serving them in the capacity of committee clerks or private secretaries.

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c., 50c. H. C. Giesler.

A farmer of New Hope, Cal., who planted 500 acres in potatoes has had such an abundant crop that he calculates that it will yield him $5,000.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

In the historic period of Rome, the husband treated his wife like a faithful slave, something better than his dog, a little dearer than his horse.

Ayer's Cherry Pectorial is recommended by eminent physicians, on both sides of the Atlantic, as the most reliable remedy for coughs, colds, and all pulmonary disorders. Inquire of your druggist for Ayer's Almanac.

During the three days of the massacre of St. Bartholomew, August 23-25, 1572, there were over 50,000 victims sacrificed.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL, And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

—AT THE—

[illegible] OFFICE

[illegible]
Girls in every style of [illegible]
But, what angels in [illegible]
—[Chicago Mail.

Leaves have their time to fall
So likewise have I;
But this is the difference 'twixt the leaves and me,
I fall more hard and frequently.
—[Waterloo Observer.

To his girl's [illegible] father irate
Said Susanna's William dear:
"I have something, aged pirate,
For to tell your private ear."
But the old man said him nay
As he smote the frisky suitor:
"If a pirate, as you say,
I am also a freebooter."
(And so he was)
—[Rambler.

The life of a book agent is full of wormwood and gall. The wormwood is barely preceptible.—[Merchant Traveler.

There is room for everybody in this big world. Friction comes from the fact that too many want the front room.—[New Orleans Picayun.

In mineralogy class—Teacher: "Johnny, give me the name of the largest diamond." Johnny: "The ace."—[Binghamton Republican.

Reporters and editors who hung up their stockings are wondering where the means are to come from for their redemption.—[Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

The surgeons who have successfully removed the section of a backbone should be induced to practice upon the present winter.—[Burlington Free Press.

"Take care," yelled a Harlem man as his wife was chasing him around the room. And she did—she took two or three handfuls of hair when she caught up with him.—[Tid-Bits

A newsboy who jumped from the Brooklyn bridge into the river, still languishes in jail. No one will undertake the job of bailing him out.—[Life.

Miss Nellie (an enthusiastic dog fancier)—"Is that charming little bob-tail yours Monsieur?"

Monsieur—"Oh, no, Mademoiselle; eet eez ze dog's."—[Life.

A young Scotchman who had never been in a boat before, recently boarded a steamer at Owen Sound. After watching the motion of the paddles with great interest he turned to a fellow passenger and, drawing a long breath, said: "Eh, man, but the water maun be terrible shallow tae let thae wheels grup."—[Toronto Globe.

While a man in Clinton, Pennsylvania, was preparing to go to bed he was struck by a thunderbolt and had all the clothing stripped from his body, leaving him unharmed.—Exchange. While the lightning was about it, it should have put on his night shirt and said his prayers for him.—[Christmas Puck.

His Father Did It.

"The boy is all right," said the doctor, "but you want to talk to him and arouse his ambition. Promise him that you will take him somewhere when he recovers sufficiently to go out; there are lots of ways in which you can interest him."

Then the doctor addressed the boy, who was just recovering from a fever, saying:

"Come, Mickey, cheer up my boy; wouldn't you like to go out and play tag with your playmates?"

A faint smile stole over the boy's face, but that was all.

"Stop, sir," said the father, "I'll rouse him. See here, Mickey," he asked, addressing the boy, "wouldn't yez like to go out and trow a rock through a Chinyman's windy?"

The boy immediately sat up in bed and asked for his pants.

"I thought that 'ud fetch 'im," said the father with a proud smile, "he's all right, doctor, dear."—[Boston Courier.

Immigration.

Statistics indicate that the immigration to the United States for 1886 will amount to about 400,000 souls. In 11 months 365,577 foreigners have come to stay by way of ocean ports; while in 1885, on the first of December, 314,645 had arrived. A considerable increase over last year may therefore be looked for. But in 1882 the total was 735,000 and in 1881 720,000. The New York Tribune says: Despite the increase of this year, a comparison of these figures with those of previous years will encourage those patriotic Americans who fear that immigration will swamp us. There is still a possible chance for native-born Americans. Moreover, it should not be supposed that immigrants add nothing to the nation's wealth. On an average it is estimated that each one brings in about $85 in money. That would make their contribution to our wealth this year about 30,000,000.

A Mystery Solved.

Mrs. Minks—My dear, the window plants are getting full of insects.

Mr. Minks—Good gracious! I'll have to begin smoking again. That kills them, you know.

Mrs. Minks—Oh, I hope not. But where in the world did these things come from? They don't look like the regular rose bugs.

Little Dick—Why, them's the ones pap gave me a quarter for catching in the garden.—[Omaha World.

One Hop Plaster will do the work of a dozen bottles of dirty liniment or salve. Kills pain.

Of what a sharp pain! Apply a Hop Porous Plaster and experience relief and cure. 25 cts.

The Colonies.

There was no exact enumeration of the inhabitants at the beginning of the French and Indian war (1754) in the Colonies, but Mr. Bancroft, the historian, estimates the number as follows: Massachuetts, 207,000; New Hampshire, 50,000; Connecticut, 136,000; Rhode Island, 40,000; New York, 96,000; Virginia, 284,000. The total number in the United States was 1,425,000 persons.

On the Slippery Slide.

"I declare! I could hardly catch my breath!" exclaimed a pretty girl after a toboggan ride.

"I could though," rejoined her companion. The pretty girl had been eating onions.—[Burlington Free Press.

A [illegible] to [illegible]

[illegible] in [illegible] is the [illegible] and [illegible]

It is [illegible] that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS Immediately. Is your urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters! Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

IT IS Don't Wait!

A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARM on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful Cure at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER

Highest Awards of Medals in Europe and America.

The neatest, quickest, safest and most powerful remedy known for Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Backache, Weakness, colds in the chest and all aches and pains. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists of the highest repute. Benson's Plasters promptly relieve and cure where other plasters and greasy salves, liniments and lotions, are absolutely useless. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum," "Capusin," "Capsicine," as they are utterly worthless and intended to deceive. Ask for BENSON'S AND TAKE NO OTHERS. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors, New York.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM
CURES COLD IN HEAD
CATARRH
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
EASY TO USE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S, OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A.

HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the senses of taste and smell. 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents.

ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, NY.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS,

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check for $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million Issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation. The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers;—or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 150 pages. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST. New-York.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Cause, Prevention and Cure. By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years Tax Collector. Sent free to any address.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest Rates for advertising in 1,000 good newspapers [illegible] GEO. P. [illegible]

[illegible] of each [illegible] except in the August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego, first and third Thursday in each month, [illegible] August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. S[illegible] in Pulaski, January 3d, and on the third [illegible] in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., Fulton, at the second Thursday in January, [illegible] July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. S[illegible] Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and [illegible] and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 28th and September [illegible]

PARISH—At A. N. & J. B. Ludington's law office, April 20th, July 20th and Sept. 20th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, N. Y., notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against [illegible] M. Beck late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, William D. Patterson at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 7th day of June, 1887, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Dec. 1, 1886.

WILLIAM D. PATTERSON,
HARRIET L. BARNES,
Administrators.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Alice Hethington as administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. Mosher, Nellie Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis and Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 12th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Pardon C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego Co., N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October 15, 1886.—Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Frank L. Sears vs. Alice M. Hethington, administratrix &c. of William S. Hethington, deceased, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington, Alice M. Hethington and Nellie E. Sears.

Action to foreclose Mortgage.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 22d day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 23d, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y. Yours &c.,

C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty.
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Nellie E. Sears against John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington and Alice Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 5th, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y. Yours &c.,

C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty.,
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT.—County of Oswego.—ss. Perry M. Simons, vs. George H. Simons, Mrs. George H. Simons, Ruze D. VanBuren, Carrie VanBuren, Bruce M. VanBuren, Mamie VanBuren, Annie Reynolds Stewart, Walter Reynolds, Mrs. Walter Reynolds, Jeremiah M. Green, Martha H. Green, Lucretia Arnold, Henrietta Lee, William A. Lawrence, Mrs. William A. Lawrence, Byron E. Green, Alice Green, Stella Green, Douglas, Sarah Lee, Seth Burgess, Polly Burgess, Helen M. Green, Amelia Johnson and Helen Simons.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 29th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To Jeremiah M. Green, Martha H. Green, Henrietta Lee, George H. Simons, Mrs. George H. Simons, and Anna Reynolds Stewart.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon John C. Churchill, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 8th day of December, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego County, at Oswego City, N. Y.

Yours, &c., C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK. By the Grace of God Free and Independent.

To Asa Chapman, Bowens Corners, Oswego county, N. Y.; Chas. D. Herrington, Laura M. Wilcox, Anna Chapman, Eunice Blake, George Blake, South Hannibal, Oswego County, N. Y.; Emeline King, Norman H. Haviland, Edgar O. Chapman, Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y.; Louise Perry, Lilly Dawley, South Richland, Oswego county, N. Y.; Aaron Chapman, Horace Chapman, Samuel Chapman, Red Creek, Wayne county, N. Y.; Jane Paddock, North Wolcott, Wayne county; John C. Chapman, John S. Chapman, John G. Haviland, Stephen Haviland, West Hoosick, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Asa B. Chapman, Boyntonville, Rensselaer county, N.Y.; Crocker Chapman, Cora M. Chapin, Hoosic Falls, Rensselaer county, Lydia A. Moses, Hoosic, Rensselaer county, N.Y.; Nathaniel Cottrel, Pittstown, Rensselaer Co. N.Y.; Sarah Herrington, Anna Newcomb, Ettie Phillips, Ellen Case, Johnsonville, Rensselaer county, N.Y.; William C. Chapman, Calvin E. J. Carpenter, Cambridge, Washington Co., N. Y.; Nathan Case, Greenwich, Washington county, N.Y.; James H. Chapman, Gansevort, Saratoga county, N. Y.; William Haviland, Pompey, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Maria Nash, Cigerville, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Homer Dunham, Horace Dunham, Plank Road, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Mary Cowell, Westbury, Cayuga county, N. Y.; John E. Chapman, Belle Chapman, Martville, Cayuga county, N. Y.; Albert Hallett, Hermon, St. Lawrence county, N. Y.; Marshall Herrington, Rochester, Monroe county, N. Y.; Alice Behnke, St. Paul, Minn.; Ira Chapman, Arnold Hulett, Almon Hulett, George Hulett, Beaver Creek, Rock county, Minn.; Sidney Baker, Washington, D. C.; Mary Parks, Desoto, Jefferson county, Mo.; Mary A. Hall, Brookfield, Linn county, Mo.; Sarah Matilda Cottrell, New Ashford, Mass.; Susan A. Helling, Lincoln, Neb.; Hellen A. Helling, Bennington, Vt.; Arthur C. Hoag, North Pownal, Vt.; Horace Hallett, Stockton, Cal.; Courtland Chapman, Sherbyville, Allegan county, Mich.; Roxana Kent, Lowell, Kent county, Mich.; George F. Leonard, Nelson Leonard, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Elijah D. Leonard, Chas. A. Leonard, Chester M. Leonard, Sidney W. Leonard, Elizabeth Burges, Kenosha, Kenosha county, Wis.; Elisha Crandall, Terrills Corners, Waushara county, Wis.; Betsy Cottrell, John C. Cottrell, Warren Cottrell, Danforth Cottrell, Belle Plaine, Benton county, Iowa; Orella Wi[illegible] Walker, Linn county, Iowa; Stephen Southwick, Chetopa, Labette county, Kan.; Sarah Lane, [illegible]anton, Linn county, Kan.; Sarah Lane, Pleas[illegible]on, Linn Co., Kan.; Nathan Southwick, South Warren, Bradford county, Penn.; Geletta Th[illegible], Towanda, Bradford county, Penn.; Joseph Southwick, Hoopstop, Vermillion county, Ill.; [illegible] Herrington, residence unknown; Cordelia [illegible]kins, Flandreau, Moody county, Da., heirs at law and next of kin of Jonah Chapman, late of the Town of Granby, in the County of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting.

Whereas, Merritt Miller, of the town of Hannibal, in the County of Oswego, has lately made application to our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, to have a certain instrument in writing relating to real and personal estate, duly proved as the last Will and Testament of said Jonah Chapman deceased, therefore, you, and each of you are cited and required personally to be and appear before our said Surrogate at his office in the Village of Phoenix, in said County of Oswego, on the 24th day of January, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of said instrument as the last Will and Testament of said deceased.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, We have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, [illegible]

[L. S.] [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features. Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 36

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY JANUARY 12, 1887. Single Copies Three Cents

Vicksburg in 1886.

After a visit to the Cyclorama of the Battle of Vicksburg in New York City.

One step from the busy street, and there,
With the summer hills around,
In the heart of a summer day it lies—
A battle without a sound.

Whatever of battle the eyes may see—
The sweep of men to death,
The dash of horse, the rush of gun,
The musket's fiery breath;

The massing clouds of the cannon smoke,
The horror of bursting shell,
The wreck of wheel and caisson,
The surgeon's mimic hell;

The upturned arms and the ashen cheek,
The droop of the shattered limb,
The men by the blood-pools in the grass,
The bodies stiff and grim,

You see it all; you hear no sound!
You listen for roar and boom,
For the crack and the ring of the bullets thud—
'Tis the stillness of the tomb!

No rattle to wheel, no clatter to hoof,
No bugle-call or cry;
No fierce hurrah along that line,
Where the columns press to die.

Those sullen prisoners give no oath—
That face in the grass no groan;
Its "good-bye" reaches a thousand miles,
And "you" catch never a tone.

Ah! If we "could" add sound to sight,
And then could paint the strain
And the splendor in the soldier's heart,
Breasting death's hurricane;

And the flashing signals of his thought
To homes that signal back,
And the woman's face, and the climbing child
That lie in the bullet's crack:

And the breathless pause, each pulse-beat hushed
Of a watching continent,
And the sense of a nation's fate at stake
In the awful tournament!

If this we could rim in those summer hills,
And add to all eyes see;
In the cloister quaint by the city street,
Then "Vicksburg" would be!

Yet, hark! The very soundlessness
Is the song of the war's release,
The silence and beauty are prophets there
Of the battle's after peace. G.

—Chicago Evening Journal.

THE TRUE AIM OF LIFE.

BY HENRY WARD BEECHER.

I heard a conversation once in the mountains. There was gold that had been wedged in among the rocks, and had heard that gold was a wonderful thing for value and for beauty; and it was murmuring and saying; "Here I lie, and here I have lain for centuries; I am gold, and I hear stories of what gold is for value and for beauty and for power; but here I lie in darkness, crowded, and hurt, and crushed." The engineer says: "Well, if you want to come out and shine, you shall;" and there is great joy in all the ledges until the powder explodes and they are torn to atoms and thrown all around about. "Oh, oh, oh! is this what you have promised us—that we should have joy, liberty, and beauty?" They are trundled into wagons, lifted with the earth, and as the light dawns on them they say: "Well, it may be alleviated a little, but this is a hard way to answer our aspiration." Then they are put down under the stamp, broken up with mallets, and at last ground into powder. They give up in despair: "If this is making us beautiful gold, we would rather go back to our ledges." Then the water takes out the rock, and the gold lies scattered, and it is then poured into a bath of quicksilver, that eats it all up; the gold has disappeared, the particles of quicksilver have got it all inside themselves. It is collected and carried out, and then by heat the quicksilver is dissipated, and the gold finds itself lying under the sky, pure—nearly; then it goes through the process of perfect purification, and, at last, it passes into the mint, where it takes the image and superscription of the government, wears the crown, carries the sceptre, and it is sought by all men, and is used in all places; and at last through much tribulation it enters into the kingdom of glory.

The end and aim of life, I remark again, ought not to be happiness, but fitness for happiness. It is not happiness that we should live for, but condition, conduct, character. A true Christian life is the interceding of the self-abasement of the low and the self-abasement of the high; it is suffering for one another, it is "Let every man please his neighbor to edification," to up-building. The washing of feet is, I think, a part of the New Testament that many folks would like expunged. Men are quite willing to serve each other on the higher plane, where their service is a rebound of joy in themselves; there are very few men willing to descend to the other end of human life and wash the feet—the lowest and most menial service of a slave. Yet that was what the Son of Man did; and "If I your Lord and Master, have washed your feet, ye ought also to wash one another's feet." There are a great many men who are fierce for the Trinity, fierce for Atonement, fierce for all the interlocked doctrines but they are not at all anxious about washing feet.

And there is a relation in this subject to the training of children. We are seeking not to show our children how to bear bravely the troubles of life, but we are trying to bring them up so that the troubles of life shall not come near them. We love our children; and we should glory if we could only feel that they will attain to nobility, that the royal patent will one day lay upon them the [illegible], or the robe, or the sceptre, or what not. But according to the New Testament we are training them to baseness; we are not seeking to make our children enduring, industrious, energetic, self-sacrificing. What was it that made the heroic men of days gone by? Were they clothed in soft raiment? Did they live in king's houses? Were they [illegible] hardy by [illegible] [illegible] fare so that [illegible] [illegible] such strain? They [illegible] poverty [illegible] out of [illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

Green and black together are very stylish.

Pleated fronts for basques are liked for slender figures.

Velvet basques with long skirts are coming into style again.

Quaintly-cut, low-crowned caps of red or brown velvet are worn by small girls.

Plaid velvet and plain plush lower skirts have found great favor this winter.

Camel's hair and soft twilled wool fabrics are preferred to the smooth-face cloths.

Leopard-skin is used as a vest and on the lower skirt of brown velveteen suits for young ladies.

Pretty evening dresses have white plush skirts with crepe de chine overdresses.

A skirt of sealskin is a luxury for midwinter, and is worn under a short polonaise of camel's hair.

Children wear white cloaks and bonnets for dress occasions and dark striped cloth of cashmere wraps for every day.

Ribbons, folded over not quite double, so that the fancy edges will show just above the collar and at the wrist, are now used instead of frills in the neck and sleeves of dresses.

Those persons who do not need Iron, but who are troubled Nervousness and Dyspepsia, will find in Carter's Little Nerve Pills a most desirable article. They are mostly used in combination with Carter's Little Liver Pills, and in this way often exert a most magical effect. Take just one pill of each kind immediately after eating and you will be free from indigestion and dyspepsia. In vials at 25 cents. Sold by all Druggists.

Editor Pulitzer of the N. Y. World.

Looking out from his editorial eyrie in Park Row and enjoying the serene consciousness that his autograph at the bottom of a check will produce greenbacks from the bank up to a figure which we should not assume to specify, Joseph Pulitzer must be impressed with the mutability of fortune, since he can gaze on the spot in the City Hall park where he once enjoyed an unceremonious sleep with a hard bench for his bed, and had his hat stolen into the bargain! He does'nt shrink from telling the story himself, and an excellent raconteur he is too. It happened when he was mustered out of Uncle Sam's service at the close of the war, and when a good many honest fellows found it difficult to get employment. He encountered his full share of rebuffs, privations and hard knocks, and one day, fatigued and footsore, was glad to stretch himself on a park bench. While he slumbered some mean sneak thief carried off his only hat, and he had to apply to the Quartermaster in order to procure a substitute to shelter his waving tresses from the amorous breeze.—N. Y. Graphic.

All cases of weak back, backache, rheumatism etc., will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents.

The Trade Dollar Must Go.

A bill has passed the U. S. Senate providing for the retirement and re-coinage of the trade dollar. It provides that until July 1, 1887, trade dollars not mutilated or defaced shall be received by the government in exchange for standard silver dollars; that the trade dollars so coined shall be regarded as silver bullion and their bullion value be deducted from bullion required to be purchased and coined by the act of February 28, 1878; and that they shall be re-coined into standard dollars according to the provisions of the act of 1878, provided the amount to be so deducted shall not exceed $500,000 for any month.

The Mistress of the White House.

The Government has gone into making likenesses of the fair mistress of the White House. The old and mutilated bank notes, when they come back to the United States Treasury, are chopped up and made into pulp, and this is moulded into various shapes and forms. The latest design is a miniature bust of Mrs. Cleveland. It takes $10,000 worth of bank notes to make one of the fair President's wife, and each figure is labelled: "Made from mutilated United States bank notes worth $10,000." These are sold for a fair price and are having a good sale.

Railroads in the United States.

The Railway Age says that the year just closing 8,010 miles of new main line railway tracks have been built in in the United States. Kansas leads the country with the surprising amount of 1,520 miles, the greater part laid within the last six months. Assuming the average cost through the country to have been but $20,000 per mile, the expenditure for railways alone was $160,000,000. Present indications are that the year 1887 will show even greater activity.

Roger A. Pryor.

Roger A. Pryor went to New York without a dollar at the close of the war. His practice is now worth $90,000 a year, and he is interested in some business ventures with Ben Butler which promise a large return. He is said to have realized $100,000 in some railroad securities.—Chicago Tribune.

Some Notable Checks.

When Jay Gould scribbled off a check for a million and eight dollars to pay [illegible] [illegible] the Iron Mountain Road it was thought to be the largest [illegible] [illegible] check [illegible] [illegible]

Lincoln as a Postmaster.

In the spring of this year, 1833, he was appointed postmaster of New Salem, and held the office for three years. Its emoluments were slender and its duties light, but there was in all probability no citizen of the village who could have made so much of it as he. The mails were so scanty that he was said to carry them in his hat, and he is also reported to have read every newspaper that arrived; it is altogether likely that this formed the leading inducement to his taking the office. His incumbency lasted until New Salem ceased to be populous enough for a post-station and the mail went by to Petersburg. Dr. Holland relates a sequel to his official experience which illustrates the quaint honesty of the man. Several years later, when he was a practicing lawyer, an agent of the post-office department called upon him, and asked for a balance due from the New Salem office, some seventeen dollars. Lincoln arose, and opening a little trunk which lay in a corner of the room, took from it a cotton rag in which was tied up the exact sum required. "I never use any man's money but my own," he quietly remarked. When we consider the pinching poverty in which these years had been passed, we may appreciate the self-denial which had kept him from making even a temporary use of this little sum of government money.—Nicolay and Hay, December Century.

Sowing His Wild Oats, Young.

Babies will be babies, whether born in palace or hovel. London Society relates that Prince Henry of Battenburg, well known as the father of Princess Beatrice's baby, was a species of enfant terrible, and one of the chief causes of his being the good young man that he is lies in the fact that he sowed all of his wild oats before he was three years old. His favorite pastime when ten months old was to crawl up the stairs, stop half way up and squeeze his head through the bannisters. The squeezing caused his little head to swell so that he couldn't get it back again, and then there was trouble of a high vocal order. After half the oak bannisters had been sawed off to get little "Heinrich" out of pawn, Prince Battenberg had wire netting put up to save the baby's head and his own pocket. Swarming up the legs of tables on which lighted lamps were placed was another of the youthful Henry's accomplishments. When he was three years old he set the palace at Darmstadt on fire this way. Help was at hand and the conflagration was soon put out, but the occasion was interesting as being the first on which the naughty youngster felt the weight of the parential right hand.

The pain and misery suffered by those who are afflicted with dyspepsia are indescribable. The distress of the body is equalled or surpassed by the confusion and tortures of the mind, thus making its victims suffer double affliction. The relief that is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla has caused thousands to be thankful for this great medicine. It dispels the causes of dyspepsia, and tones up the digestive organs. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Figures on Public Instruction.

The following figures are obtained from the report of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The fiscal year closed August 20. Expenditure for school purposes, $13,284,986, of which $9,102,269 was in teachers' wages, being $339,318 more than last year's expenditure for wages; for school houses and sites, $2,276,455; school apparatus, $310,163; libraries, $40,509; all other incidental expenses, $555,590; highest number of teachers, 31,325; number employed during whole term, 22,240. This is a larger proportion of steady attendants than heretofore. There are 1,735,073 children of school age, and of these 1,027,767 actually attend. This is an increase of 8,000 actual attendants. The average daily attendance was 625,813 which is a gain of 14,794 over the previous year. There are 11,940 school houses.

A Dilemma.

"If you had a note to pay to-day," he said as he sat in an insurance office looking straight at the agent, "and you had all the money but $5, would you ask a friend to lend it to you, or would you let your note go to protest and ruin your credit?"

"Let the note go to protest, of course," was the prompt reply.

Then the clock ticked and ticked, and the noise of a hair falling to the floor sounded like a crow bar, and the man with the note said he guessed it was going to snow, and the entrance of a couple of visitors mercifully permitted him to escape.—Detroit Free Press.

"Fools Rush in, Where Angels Fear to Tread."

So impetuous youth is often given to folly and indiscretions; and, as a result, nervous, mental and organic debility follow, memory is impaired, self-confidence is lacking; at night bad dreams occur, premature old age seems setting in, ruin is in the track. In confidence, you can, and should write to Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., the author of a treatise for the benefit of that class of patients, and describe your symptoms and sufferings. He can cure you at your home, and will send you particulars by mail.

What It Is—What It Does.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is made up of sarsaparilla, dandelion, mandrake, cherry bark, uva ursi, dock, and other valuable medicinal agents long and favorably known for their power in eradicating disease and purifying the blood. It will cure, when in the power of medicine, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Dyspepsia, Headache, Constipation, Biliousness, General Debility, Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Catarrh, Female Weakness, [illegible] [illegible]

The World's Decisive Battles.

The fifteen decisive battles of the world from the fifth century before Christ to the begining of the nineteenth century of the present era, as given by the historian Creasy, are as follows:

The battle of Marathon, in which the Persian hosts were defeated by the Greeks under Miltiades, B. C. 490.

The defeat of the Athenians at Syracuse, B. C. 413.

The battle of Arbela in which the Persians under Darius were defeated by the invading Greeks under Alexander the Great, B. C. 331.

The battle of the Metaurus, in which the Carthagian forces under Hasdrubal were overthrown by the Romans, B. C. 207.

Victory of the German tribes under Arminius over the Roman legions under Varus, A. D. 9. (The battle was fought in what is now the province of Lippe, Germany, near the source of the River Ems).

Battle of Chalons, where Attila, the terrible king of the Huns, was repulsed by the Romans under Actius, A. D. 451.

Battle of Tours, in which the Saracen Turks invading Western Europe were utterly overthrown by the Franks under Charles Martel, A. D. 732.

Battle of Hastings, by which William the Conqueror became the ruler of England, October 14, 1066.

Victory of the French under Joan of Arc over the English at Orleans, April 29, 1429.

Defeat of the Spanish Armada, by the English naval force, July 29 and 30, 1588.

Battle of Blenheim, in which the French and Bavarians were defeated by the allied armies of Great Britain and Holland under the Duke of Marlborough, August 2, 1704.

Battle of Pultowa, the Swedish army under Charles XII. defeated by the Russians under Peter the Great, July 8, 1709.

Victory of the American army under General Gates over the British under General Burgoyne at Saratoga, October 17, 1777.

Battle of Valmy where the allied armies of Prussia and Austria were defeated by the French under Marshal Kellerman, September 20, 1792.

Battle of Waterloo, the allied forces of the British and Prussians defeated the French under Napoleon, the final overthrow of the great commander, June 18, 1815.

These battles are selected as decisive because of the important consequences that followed them. Few students of history, probably, would agree with Professor Creasy, in restricting the list to so few. Many other conflicts might be noted, fraught with great importance to the human race and unquestionably "decisive" in their nature; as, for instance, the victory of Sobieski over the Turkish army at Vienna, September 12, 1683. Had the Poles and Austrians been defeated there, the Turkish general might readily have fulfilled his threat "to stable his horses in the church of St. Peter's at Rome," and all Western Europe would no doubt have been devastated by the ruthless and blood-thirsty Ottomans. Of important and decisive battles since that of Waterloo we may mention in our own Civil war those of Gettysburg, by which the invasion of the North was checked, and at Chattanooga, November 23 and 25, 1863, by which the power of the Confederates in the Southwest received a deadly blow; in the Franco-Prussian war, the capitulation of the French army at Sedan, September 1, 1870, and in the Russo-Turkish war, the surrender of Osman Pasha at Plevna, December 10, 1877.—Inter-Ocean.

ROYAL

FULL WEIGHT
ROYAL BAKING POWDER

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St

$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our AUTOMATIC GAS [illegible] save 25 per cent. in gas bills. Our Silver Gas Lights can be attached to any fixture, instantly changing the dull, sickly, yellow flame of any gas to a soft, mellow, luminous white increasing brilliancy 50 per cent. Over 8,000 in service. Address THE UNION NATIONAL GAS SAVING CO.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & Co.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

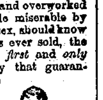
MRS. LESAGE.
26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

The Himalaya mountains can be seen 224 miles away.

HAVE YOU never felt strangely tired, restless or uneasy? Have you had pains shooting through the head, along the limbs or around the back? Have you experienced strange sensations for which you could not account? And do you know that all these things arise from diseased kidneys, which, unless promptly cured will run into Bright's disease and end in Death? The Kidneys are the seat of nine-tenths of all the diseases of to-day!!

The F. E. C. Kidney Remedy is an absolute cure for those troubles, and is guaranteed by the druggists who sell it. It is especially valuable for Female Troubles. Every mother, every wife, every nervous and overworked woman, whose life is made miserable by sufferings peculiar to her sex, should know that of all the medicines ever sold, the F. E. C. is the first and only Remedy that guarantees relief or refunds the money. It is effectual, as thousands of testimonials will prove.



Sold by all Dealers everywhere.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

ONE VOTE

at the polls determined the United States Senatorship in New Jersey. Just $1.50 will secure you the American Agriculturist for 1887, which for half a century has been the recognized leading periodical of its character, and now contains far more illustrations, is larger in every way and better than ever. Postmasters form clubs.

The JUVENILE, HEARTH and HOUSEHOLD DEPARTMENTS have been enlarged, and HUMBUG Exposures are to receive additional attention.

1,000 ORIGINAL ILLUSTRATIONS.

Every issue of the American Agriculturist contains nearly 100 original illustrations of animals, plants, new farm and household conveniences and appliances, out-door scenes, etc.

SPLENDID ENGRAVINGS FREE!!!

Homes Of Our Farmer Presidents.

It is noteworthy that a majority of our Presidents were reared on farms, or retired from public life to rural scenes. The American Agriculturist is now publishing and sending free to all subscribers, at an outlay of over $30,000, superb engravings (18 by 24 inches in size) of these Homes, together with special descriptive papers by James Parton, Donald G. Mitchell and other eminent living American authors. These Engravings constitute a magnificent portfolio collection of ornaments for the walls of a prince or peasant's home. Subscription for 1887 immediately forwarded are entitled to all the series beginning in May last.

Endorsed by the U. S. Government.

Vol. 3th, Tenth Census, U. S. says: "The American Agriculturist is especially worthy of mention, because of the remarkable success that has attended the unique and untiring efforts of its proprietors to increase and extend its circulation. Its contents are duplicated every month for a German edition which also circulates widely."

Price $1.50 a year; Single Numbers, 15 cents. Balance of this year FREE to all subscribing immediately.

Send six Cents for mailing your Grand Double Number, just out, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of Engravings of Homes of our Farmer Presidents, together with Descriptions by James Parton. Address

DAVID W. JUDD, Pub.
751 Broadway, N. Y.

25,000 FATAL CASES OF TYPHOID FEVER ANNUALLY IN THIS COUNTRY.

Science emerging from Darkness.

ALL TREATED WITH QUININE.

Dr. J. S. Mitchel, of Chicago, in a clinical lecture at the Cook County Hospital, Oct. 7th, 1886, said: "In typhoid fever no possible good can result from giving Quinine, as at the best it can only effect a temporary reduction of temperature; and after forty eight hours the fever is usually higher than at first.

KASKINE DESTROYS THE DISEASE GERMS in FEVERS, MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DEBILITY, LIVER, LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASE.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful.

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

Are You Consumptive.

Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion. Use Parker's Tonic without delay. It has cured many of the worst cases. Do you suffer from pains in the chest, back or limbs? Have you symptoms of trouble with your Stomach, Liver or Kidneys? Neglect of these warnings leads to breaking down of the vital powers. Parker's Tonic is the best remedy. Often saves life. Cures when everything else fails. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"For 20 years my father was an invalid, with Cough and Bronchitis, and tried everything he could hear of without obtaining more than temporary relief. Being advised of Parker's Tonic he began to use it, and before he had taken five dollars worth was cured. He is 57 years old, and has been well now over a year."—JOS. B. HUDSON, Hudson, Fla.

"For several years I suffered from Indigestion, and I am glad to inform you that my present good health is due to the use of Parker's Tonic. Should I ever come to New York, I will thank you in person for your invaluable medicine."—CLARENCE HALL, Denver, Col.

PARKER'S TONIC,
Made by Hiscox & Co., N.Y. Sold by Druggists $1

JAS. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.
INDIA PALE ALE.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the mos favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

—AT THE—

FULTON TIMES OFFICE

The Cosmopolitan

The handsomest, most entertaining, low price, illustrated family magazine in the world. ($2.50 per year, with a $2.25 premium free.) Sixty-four beautifully printed pages in each number, filled with short stories, sketches, travels, adventures, bright and brief scientific and literary articles, by distinguished American and foreign writers, such as Julian Hawthorne, Harriet Prescott Spofford, George Parsons Lathrop, Louise Chandler Moulton, J. Macdonald Oxley, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, H. H. Boyesen, Catherine Owen, Rev. R. Heber Newton, Alphonse Daudet, Paul Heyse, Count Tolstoi, Th. Dostoivsky, William Westall and many others. Also entertaining JUVENILE and invaluable HOUSEHOLD departments. One or more illustrated articles and several full-page engravings in every number.

A Shannon Letter and Bill File or a Shannon Sheet-Music Binder Free to every Subscriber.

These premiums sell everywhere for $2.25 each. The File is the most perfect device ever invented for the preservation and classification (alphabetically and according to date) of all letters, bills, etc. Any paper can be referred to, taken out and put back without disturbing the others. With the Binder one can insert or take out any piece of music without disturbing any other sheet.

Get SAMPLE COPY at NEWS STAND or send 20 Cents [illegible]

AGENTS WANTED. [illegible] [illegible]

Schlicht & Field Co., Rochester, N.Y.

NEW HARNESS SHOP.

The Undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has opened a New Harness Shop and is prepared to do all kinds of

REPAIRING
—ON—
HARNESS, TRUNKS, BUGGY TOPS, CUSHIONS, &C. &C.,

☞As Cheap as the Cheapest.☜

HARNESS
OF ALL GRADES MADE TO ORDER.

A share of public patronage solicited. Give us a Call,

C. W. BROWN,
CAYUGA ST., OPPOSITE MIDLAND DEPOT.

SALESMEN WANTED!

We are in want of a few more good men to canvass for the sale of choice varieties of Nursery Stock. To men who can make a success of the business we can pay good salaries or commission and give permanent employment. We have many new and choice specialties both in the fruit and ornamental line which others do not handle.

Address at once, with references,

MAY BROTHERS,
NURSERYMEN,
31w6 Rochester, N. Y.

1886.
New York Weekly Herald
ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.
GREATEST AND CHEAPEST
FAMILY JOURNAL
IN THE UNITED STATES.
Always Bright and Reliable.

Every Number an Epitome of the News of the World.

The Foreign Department.

Is unequaled. Latest and most accurate Cable Specials by the Commercial Cables.

Fullest Telegraphic Reports of all Current Events

Special Features.

Practical Farming; Articles on Science, Art, Literature, the Drama, Music, Art, Religion, Fashion and Chess.

INFORMATION ON ALL SUBJECTS.

Address,
JAMES GORDON BENNETT,
NEW YORK HERALD,
29w2 New York City.

THE BEST AMERICAN NEWSPAPER

THE TIMES is a Newspaper for intelligent men and women.

It concerns itself as little as possible with the froth or the dregs of life, and aims to give its readers something more attractive and profitable than a daily chronicle of human follies and frailties.

The really important, wholesome, and interesting news of the day is presented with unsurpassed completeness and accuracy by THE TIMES.

Voters, whatever their party or their politics will find THE TIMES of great value for the fullness of its information and the frankness of its comment upon public affairs; and THE TIMES has abundant evidence that its treatment of leading issues of the day meets with increasing approval.

The WEEKLY edition of THE TIMES contains all the current news condensed from the dispatches and reports of the daily edition, besides literary matter, discussions upon agricultural topics by practical farmers, full and accurate market reports of prices for farm produce, live stock, &c. and a carefully prepared WEEKLY WOOL MARKET.

No other New-York Newspaper so completely meets the wants of country readers.

Terms to Mail Subscribers Postpaid.

DAILY, exclusive of Sunday, per year......$6.00
DAILY, including Sunday, per year........7.50
SUNDAY ONLY, per year....................1.50
DAILY, 6 months, with Sunday.............3.75
DAILY, 6 months, without Sunday..........3.00
DAILY, 1 month, with or without Sunday...75

THE WEEKLY TIMES.

SINGLE COPIES, one year..................$1.00
TEN COPIES, and one free for club........10.00
SUBSCRIPTION, for six months.............50

TERMS CASH IN ADVANCE. These prices are invariable. We have no traveling agents. Remit in drafts on New-York, Postal Notes, or Post Office Money Orders, if possible; and where neither of these can be procured send the money in a registered letter. Sample copies sent free. Address

THE NEW-YORK TIMES,
New-York City.

—IF YOUR—
HORSE IS LAME
USE DR. J. S. MARKHAM'S
"Spavin Cure."
—IF HE HAS—
Sore Feet or Contracted Hoofs,
Use Dr. J. S. Markham's
FOUNDER OINTMENT.

☞They are a sure cure. For sale at the DRUG STORES. 31m6

MONEY to be made. Cut this out and return to us, and we will send you free, something of great value and importance to you, that will start you in business which will bring you in more money right away than anything else in this world. Anyone can do the work and live at home. Either sex. All ages. Something new that just coins money for all workers. We will start you; capital not needed. This is one of the genuine, important chances of a lifetime. Those who are ambitious and enterprising will not delay. Grand outfit free. 33y1 Address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Me.

MASON & HAMLIN
UNRIVALED ORGANS
On the EASY PAYMENT system, from $3.25 per month up. 100 styles, $22 to $900. Send for Catalogue with full particulars, mailed free.
UPRIGHT PIANOS,
Constructed on the new method of stringing, on similar terms. Send for descriptive Catalogue.
MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
Boston, New York, Chicago.

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
32 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.

Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner

Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

☞Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

PATENTS,
Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

LUMBER! LUMBER.

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

O. RUST.
37tf

C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—
Decker Brothers'
Matchless Pianos.
THE VERY BEST PIANOS.

Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.

MAKE HENS LAY.
SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER
is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. It is strictly a medicine to be given with food. Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. It cures chicken cholera and all diseases of hens. Is worth its weight in gold. Illustrated book by mail free. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail for 25 cents in stamps. [illegible] [illegible]
DR. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM [illegible]

JUST THE T[illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible] Twenty-five Cents a [illegible]. An additional charge of ten [illegible] on papers going out of Oswego [illegible]

[illegible] must be accompanied by a [illegible] a private guarantee of good [illegible]

[illegible] Advertising made known on application [illegible]

[illegible] of all kinds neatly and promptly [illegible] at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

> I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.
>
> [THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

THE first issue of Henry George's paper, The Standard, has appeared. It will be published weekly in New York city and is intended to be the great labor paper of this conutry. The initiary number is characterized by a tirade, of nearly a page and a half, upon the supreme authorities of the Catholic church. This is considered by many a grave mistake on the part of Mr. George. His friendship for Father McGlynn was the incentive for this letter.

THE death of John Roach which occurred on Monday ends a busy, energetic and prosperous career. His life illustrated the success that is possible in this country to a poor young man. From a poor boy by his habits of industry, patience and perseverance he became a very rich man and the greatest ship-builder in the United States. Less than two years ago his trouble with the present Administration in the matter of the Dolphin which he had contracted to build led to his assigument. The firm was however re-organized and Mr Roach died worth probably over $2,000,000.

THE contest at Albany for Senator waxeth warm. The three leaders in the race, Miller, Morton and Hiscock are all expected to be at Albany to-day and to remain until the contest is settled. At the head quarters of the different candidates there is great activity and every contrivance that can be devised to further the success of their candidates is entered into. The fight between Miller and Morton is a strong and active one. Neither seem to pay much heed to Hiscock and both are confident of success. It may be that no result will be reached on an early ballot. This may result in taking up a compromise candidate. The New York World has come out strongly for Roscoe Conkling as such a candidate and says:

"Roscoe Conkling would fill the great office of United States Senator from New York. Either of the contestants for the seat would simply occupy it, making the vacancy more conspicuous."

LITERARY.

Miss M. G. McClelland's third novel, "A Self-Made Man," will appear, complete, in Lippincott's Magazine for February. The hero is a Virginian of humble origin, who leaves his native State in boyhood, makes a large fortune in the West, and returns in maturity to gain a somewhat doubtful foothold among the local aristocracy. This central character is a remarkably strong study, and the contrasts between Southern and Western modes of thinking and living are artistically managed.

The same nnmber will contain a new story by Mrs. A. L. Wister, entitled "Rothenburg Felicity," after the German of Paul Heyse, a satire of Robert Grant, and a bit personal gossip, "A Day with the President," giving much entertaining information in regard to President Cleveland and his wife.

Another notable article in the February Lippincott's will be "Our Actors and their Preferences," by Charles E. L. Wingate, dramatic editor of the Boston Journal. The author has written letters to the leading actors of England and America—Edwin Booth, Henry Irving, Wilson Barrett, Lawrence Barrett, Modjeska, Clara Morris, Fanny Davenport, etc.,—inquiring what are the parts they prefer to play and the lines they like the best. Their answers are published in this article, and are varied and interesting.

Mr. John Burroughs's "Mere Egotism"—a sketch of his own career and a criticism of his works and literary methods—adds a further attraction to the February Lippincott's.

Wide Awake.

The frontispiece of the New Year's Wide Awake, "The Pigeon Tower of Grandval," will at once attract readers to the very interesting article by the artists, Mr. Henry Bacon, entitled "The Doves of the French Revolution," a most quaint contribution to historical knowledge. A charming feature is the long Christmas story by Sarah Orne Jewett, "The Christmas Guest," and a noticeable feature is the second paper of "The Longfellow literature" promised for this year—"An Old House," which describes the old Longfellow home in Portland and is fully illustrated by drawings and photographs. A choice piece of biographical work is Mrs. Bolton's article in the "Successful Women" series about Miss Mary L. Booth, the editor of Harper's Bazar. Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont, in "Hally and Buster, II," describes an entertainment by children to [illegible] money for the care of wounded [illegible] the time of the Civil War. [illegible] "In War Times [illegible]

[illegible] Who is [illegible] Thirty Years Ago.

[Special to THE TIMES.]

The tide of places of amusements and of residences in this city is slowly, but none the less surely moving northward toward Central Park. The most significent fact to prove this statement lies in the determination of the diriotors of the Academy of Music to sell the building. For more than a score of years, this place has been the abode of grand opera. In fact it may be said to have been the first theatre erected in this city intended solely for the encouragement of high class music in general and grand opera in particular. Now it is one of the "has beens." Its glory has departed and the newer Metropolitan, more than a mile farther uptown, seems to receive the patronage of the society leaders. The history of grand opera in New York has been most charmingly told by the late Richard Grant White in a series of articles published in one of your leading magazines, but the story of the Academy is connected with opera of the last quarter of a century. The most noted prima donna who has sang there is Patti. More than a quarter of a century ago Patti began to attract attention and during all that time has reigned the queen of song. Patti is not of foreign birth, for I am creditably informed that she was born in Mt. Vernon, a thriving village in Westchester county. Here she lived with her father who I believe, taught music and played in an orchestra connected with the only hall the village then had, wherein the traveling dramatic companies exhibited. A neighbor of the Patti family described the child to the writer. She did not then give any great promise of any particular ability. A quiet gentle little child with a sweet sympathetic voice and was much sought after by the Sunday Schools in their anniversaries.

The coming of Jenny Lind gave an impetus to Opera and to this event is due the building of the Acadamy. With the building of the Metropolitan Opera House came the effort to establish German opera as a permanent attraction for music lovers. With the decay of the Academy comes the effort to establish English opera; so that the Italian operas will have small prestage. German opera, however, may now be said to be a success, if the season now in progress may be taken as an indication. Wagnerian music is increasing in favor and German composers are recognising the fact that New York is a profitable market for their productions.

At present Goldmask's opera "Merlin" is filling the Metropolitan to its utmost limits. The opera is taken from Tennyson's "Idyls of the King" and is placed on the stage with all the gorgeous scenic effects that human inginuity can invent and construct. The music is charming being an absolute departure from the ordinary sort of grand opera music. The chief ornament of the opera is the ballet which may be characterized as the most charming, the most chaste of stage movements. Gorgeous clothing annimated moving pictures, harmonious motion is this opera. What has been said of the Academy is the fate of all the downtown places of amusement. The day is not far distant when around the Park these places of amusement will cluster.

⁂

A noted clergyman of a neighboring city said that the advertiseing columns of a great daily were to be read as carefully as any other part. There is truth in the statement, for in certain dailies of this city, the advertising columns are the places where vice can fling its banner to the breeze and proclaim its trade in a deftly worded advertisement. There are three heads in these papers where these are placed. "Personals, Medical, Astrology" These notices are cautiously worded, but if the places they advertise are carefully investigated, they inveriably show houses of ill-repute or reveal men and women who gain their livelihood by means which are questionable, to say nothing of being illegal. These advertisements are traps in which to catch the unwary. Matrimonial notices are also of one these traps. Take any one of three prominent morning journals and scan these columns carefully. This will be the result: There will be widows who advertise for husbands. People who have rooms to rent transiently, others who can cure all diseases by that really beneficial system of massage, but which, by reason of the foul use made of the word, few people care to bother with it. A thousand things which no reputable journal ought to permit its advertising columns to contain are spread broadcast over the land. To advertise a lottery is an offense against the law, but how much greater offense against the moral law is this method of spreading crime?

The facts of the above paragraph lead me to speak of another peculiar state of things in this city. If one should take the intersection of Broadway with 31st street as a centre and with a rope 1,000 feet long strike out a circle, it would include nearly all the gambling houses and other questionable resorts to be found in the upper part of the city. If an actual count should be made it would reveal more than a hundred places where poker, policy, faro, keno, Kentucky Loo, and other games of chance fleece the victims. Strange to say the police officials know nothing about this. Yet an organization of a private nature, the society for the prevention of crime, seems to be aware of their existence. Recently the captain of the police in whose precinct these places are, was detained in his station-house while the officials attached to the police head-quarters raided the places. The obvious conclusion to be drawn from such a state of affairs is that for a certain consideration, these places where the laws is violated receive protection. In this particular precinct a certain man known by the name of "Uncle John's" visits places of this character [illegible]

[illegible] while selling his vile stuff on Sunday.

There is great need of stirring up the dry bones of the city government. The protection of the city is in its police and honesty must prevade or we will be overrun by gambling hells and similar places. As a matter of fact, if the societies having for their object the prevention of crime and the suppression of vice, were out of existence, the police would do but little to stop these abuses. These societies are the horn in the side of the police and right well do they do their duty.

In these letters the writer has often referred to these abuses. The writer is no pessimist but takes consolation from the quotation of Thackery, placed at the head of the editorial page of THE TIMES. The words are his excuse. As the writer finds the news so he gives it to the readers. That is sufficient for the WANDERER.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent].

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8, 1887.

When Congress re-assembled after its holiday vacation of two weeks, formal announcement was made in both ends of the capitol of the death of Gen. Logan. As is customary, both the Senate and the House adjourned immediately as a mark of respect to his memory. Consequently Congress has worked but three days so far this week, and can make but a poor showing even for that length of time.

Three Representatives in the lower branch of Congress have not been seen in Washington since Gen. Logan died. They are Illinois Congressmen, they each want the place left vacant by the dead Senator, and each is at home scheming and plotting to this end. They are Gen. Henderson, and Messrs. Cannon and Payson. They are considered strong men and good workers by their party in the House, and the Republicans would be sorry to have any one of them leave the lower branch.

It is a significant fact that in some hundred messages and letters of condolence received by Mrs. Logan by her husband's death, only two had any allusions to the consolations of religion. These two exceptions are by Col. John Hay, the author of Jim Bludsal, and Stephen A. Douglas, both of whom said "May God comfort and sustain you." Fifty years ago it would have been unheard of to omit such an invocation, and a message of condolence that lacked the religious element, would have seemed a mockery.

One of the cherished plans of the late Senatar Logan was to establish in this city an institution for the education of the sons of soldiers of the late war. It made no difference on which side the father fought. Gen. Logan thought a soldier's son should be furnished with means for an education. He first spoke of this plan about the time Gen. Grant died, when, in view of the proposed interment of his remains at the National Capital, some kind of a memorial was to have been erected in honor of him. "Why not put the money that would be appropriated" remarked Gen. Logan "in an institution of learning and thus confer a worthy tribute to Grant? I am sure nothing would have pleased him more.

Although another disposition was made of the dead, Gen. Logan did not abandon his idea, but formulated a plan for a soldier's college which he intended to present during this session of Congress. Funds for its support were to be raised by an assessment of fifty cents on every member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and by having scholarships endowed by those who favored the project. It is probable now that some other statesman will take hold of the matter and reap the glory of fostering such a measure before Congress.

Gen. Logan and Senator Edmunds had long occupied adjoining seats in the Senate Chamber, and a warm friendship existed between them. At the time of the funeral of Gen. Logan it was thought strange that the Vermont Senator was absent, and some comment was made upon the fact that he had not even been heard from in regard to his friend's death. Mr. Edmunds had gone South to spend the holiday recess with a gunning party, and had gotten beyond the reach of mails and telegrams. He did not hear that Gen. Logan was dead until after he was buried.

It was rather an interesting circumstance that the first visit of ex-Senator Conkling to the Senate Chamber since he resigned in 1881 should have been to attend the funeral of one of the men who stood so steadfastly by him in his troubles. There was little change in Mr. Conkling's appearance to mark the interval of time, but as he sat there amid those familiar surroundings, one could not but wonder what thoughts were coursing through his mind. No other six years since the war ended had witnessed so many important historical changes.

Garfield had been stricken down by the hand of an assassin. Arthur had died of a blighting disease. Blaine had been defeated for the Presidency. Thurman, Gordon, McDonald, Hamlin, Pendleton and other Senatorial contemporaries of equal fame had retired from service. Ben. Hill, Burnside, David Davis, Matt Carpenter, Anthony and Logan had all passed to the other side. Bayard, Lamar, and Garland had been elevated to positions in the Cabinet, and the Government has gotten into the hands of the Democrats.

Attorney General Garland who has persistently refused invitations to every kind of gathering, social and official since he entered the Cabinet, made his first appearance in public at the Logan obsequies. He came into the Senate Chamber in company with the other Cabinet officers and every one seemed surprised at this new departure.

[illegible]

[illegible] may always be relied upon for the speedy cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by neglect and frequent exposures, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was Speedily Cured.

I am satisfied that this remedy saved my life.—Jno. Webster, Pawtucket, R. I.

I contracted a severe cold, which suddenly developed into Pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician at once ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Simpson, Rogers Prairie, Texas.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vanderpool, Meadville, Pa.

The Best Remedy

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. F. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

COUNTY NEWS.

Vernon Shattuck of Oswego Falls is teaching the winter term of school at So. Hannibal.

D. M. Cox of Dexterville has recently purchased another Percheron colt. This makes five that he now has.

The Crocker three story brick block, the Jameson building and two barns were all burned to the ground in Pulaski early last Wednesday morning. The loss was about $12,000.

John Packwood, aged 45 years, a track walker for the R. W. & O. railroad, residing at Sandy Creek, was struck by a snow plow which left Watertown early last Wednesday morning between Richland and Sandy Creek while he was inspecting his sector of the track and instantly killed.

Hannibal Post, No. 447, G. A. R., will give an entertainment and supper this evening. The literary exercises will be held in the M. E. church. Addresses will be made by Rev. H. M. Danforth, late Major N. Y. S. Vol., Chaplain Mc Farland, late of the 81st N. Y. Vol., Revs Koone, Dibble and others. Supper will afterwards be served in the G. A. R. rooms in Cooper's Hall.

If you are tried taking the large old-fashioned griping pills, try Carter's Little Liver Pills and take some comfort. A man can't stand everything. One pill a dose.

Parish.

The Centennial Singers from Harper's Ferry W. Va. are drawing large audiences in this vicinity.

The friends and people of Rev. S. M. Fish gave him a donation in the form of an oyster supper at the church in Gilberts Mills last evening.

There is much complaint here in regard to the high rate of freight on the R, W. &. O. R. R. There is talk of putting teams on the road to convey it.

The report of the Parish cheese factory published last week varies somewhat from the official which is: Received during 1886 1,057,522 pounds of milk. Made 109,672 pounds of cheese. The net profit to patrons for 100 lbs. of milk was 77.675 cents. It cost about $1.20 to make 100 pounds of cheese. This includes the selling and various other incidental expenses. The factory made soft cheese and sold it for one-fourth of a cent per pound under Utica rulings.

FOUND.

A remedy that will cure Coughs, Cold, Sore Throat and Hoarseness every time, Higgins T. & C. Compound. Ask your druggist for it.

Palermo.

The G. A. R. Sons of Veterans Post, George Dubois, of South Scriba will have a party at the Palermo Center House on Friday evening Jan. 28th 1887. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Good music will be in attendance.

Dr. Green lost a horse last week. He broke his leg in the barn.

Mrs. Alexander Flint is very low and her death is looked for any moment.

George Marsh of Syracuse is on a visit at the Palermo Center House for a few days.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of THE FULTON TIMES will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength, by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The Proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars, for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.
34w4

[illegible] HOUSE,
[illegible]

[illegible] LOOM.

GREAT CLEARANCE SALE OF

TWO IMMENSE STOCKS!

DRY GOODS. CLOTHING.

PLUSH CLOAKS.

at the astonishing low prices:

$17.50	Reduced from	$25.50
22.00	" "	28.00
28.00	" "	35.00

LADIES NEWMARKETS.

BERLIN TWILLS.

$6.00 Reduced from $10.50.

ASTRICAN OR FUR TRIMMED.

$7.50 Reduced from $13.00.

PLAID NEWMARKETS,

with or without Capes at a bargain.

CHILDREN'S CLOAKS.

Prices cut in two.

JACKETS,

in endless variety. Prices to suit everyone. A good Jacket for $2.37.

ROSE BLANKETS.

A few pair at 79cts. and better ones at equally low prices.

COMFORTABLES,

to be closed out at 65, and 98cts. and $1.23.

CARPETS AND OIL CLOTHS.

Carpets from 19cts. up.
Oil Cloth from 23 to 45c. per yd.

DRESS GOODS.

Homespun Suitings, 54 inches wide, at 43c, good value at 75c. Should you be in want of a dress you can find a fine line of Tricots, Cashmeres, Novelty Goods etc. at prices that will induce you to purchase.

HOSIERY.

Our entire line of Wool Hosiery has been reduced in price. Good all wool hose, 3 pair for 50cts., and the balance at proportionately low prices.

CORSETS.

35cts	Reduced from	50cts
50 "	" "	75 "
75 "	" "	1.00
1.00"	" "	1.25

SHAWLS.

2.00	Reduced from	$4.00
3.00	" "	5.00
4.50	" "	7.00
5.50	" "	9.00
6.00	" "	10.60
7.00	" "	12.00

We also offer a Job lot of Standard Prints, worth 6 and 7cts at the low price of 4c per yard.

We carry the finest line of Ribbons, Laces, Hamburgs, Notions, &c., to be found in Northern New York.

MEN'S OVERCOATS.

$2.50 actual value, $4.75.

A good Fur Beaver Overcoat, Black or Brown,
4.00 worth 7.50

Black Beaver Overcoat,
8.00 worth 13.75

Good Harrison Cassimere O. C. 7.00 never sold elsewhere for less than 12.00. Montignac satin lined, 17.00 worth 26.00.

An odd lot of Overcoats for young men, worth 12.00 to be closed out at 5.00.

BOYS' OVERCOATS.

Lot 1—from 1.25 to 3.50 worth from 3.00 to 6.75.

Lot 2—3.50 worth from 5.00 to 7.50.

Lot 3—6.00 worth from 9 to $12.

MEN'S ULSTERS

Lot 4—Sizes from 36 to 44; 4.50 to 7.00 worth from 6.50 to 12.00.

Lot 5—Fine Corkscrew Overcoats, with or without satin facings, $8 actual value 12, 14 and $15.

MEN'S BOYS' AND CHILDREN'S SUITS.

For lack of space we cannot give the prices of each lot separate, but we guarantee the price will compare with the Overcoats.

We will cheerfully give you prices on any and all goods.

Call and see for yourself what we can do. No trouble to show goods.

Remember the place.

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM'S

Mammoth Double Stores.

An Abstract of Expenditures

By L. T. Richardson Superintendent of Repairs upon the Oswego canal, and having charge of 23 miles of said canal extending from Oswego to Three River Point also the Oneida river improvement 20 miles.

FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER 1886,

D. VanValkenberg, residence Oswego watching canal one month $20	$20.00
E. L. Richardson, residence Fulton, watching canal 27-31 month $15	$13.06
	$33.06

Name	Res.	What for	Time	Price	amt.
STATE SCOW CHECK ROLL
E Richardson	Fulton	Foreman	4-27 m	50 00	7 40
Geo Barrett	"	O Labor	" m	35 00	5 18
F Garrison	"	"	" m	35 00	5 18
J O Lee	Ph'nix	"	" m	35 00	5 18
M Connors	Fulton	"	" m	35 00	5 18
Ed Sayles	"	"	" m	35 00	5 18
J Hayden	"	"	" m	35 00	5 18
W LaFount'in	"	Team	" m	75 00	11 11
F Hayden	"	Cook	" m	15 00	2 22
					51.81

The above labor was piling lumber, closing lock gates and packing up lamps, poles, stoves, etc.

STATE SHOP CHECK ROLL

John Boardman	Fult'n	Foreman	27	2 40	64 80
Walter Bradley	"	Carpenter	27	1 80	48 60
					113 40

The above labor was performed as follows:

6 days rep shop	12 60
4 days rep bridge	8 40
44 days lock gate	92 40
Fulton Times Co., publishing abstract 1 mo	4 75
	$203 02

STATE OF NEW YORK, } ss:
Oswego County. }

L. T. Richardson, Superintendent of canal repairs, and having charge of the line of canal specified in the above abstract being duly sworn, doth depose and say that the foregoing abstract, amounting to the sum of $203.02, is a true abstract of all vouchers taken by him, as such superintendent, during the month of December '86.

Subscribed and sworn to before me }
this 10. day of Jan., 1887. }

L. T. RICHARDSON
Superintendent

GEO. KELLOGG
Notary Public.

"THE IDEAL MAGAZINE"

for young people is what the papers call ST. NICHOLAS. Do you know about it,—how good it is, how clean and pure and helpful? If there are any boys or girls in your house will you not try a number, or try it for a year, and see if it isn't just the element you need in the household? The London Times has said, "We have nothing like it on this side." Here are some leading features of

ST. NICHOLAS.
for 1886-87.

Stories by Louise M. Alcott and Frank R. Stockton,—several by each author.

A Short Serial Story by Mrs. Burnett, whose charming "Little Lord Fauntleroy" has been a great feature in the past year of ST. NICHOLAS.

War Stories for Boys and Girls. Gen. Badeau, chief-of-staff, biographer, and confidential friend of Gen. Grant, and one of the ablest and most popular of living military writers, will contribute a number of papers describing in clear and vivid style some of the leading battles of the civil war. They will be panoramic descriptions of single contests or short campaigns, presenting a sort of literary picture gallery of the grand and heroic contests in which the parents of many a boy and girl of to-day took part.

The Serial Stories include "Juan and Juanita," an admiraby written story of Mexican life, by Frances Courtenay Baylor, author of "On Both Sides"; also, "Jenny's Boarding-House," by James Otis, a story of life in a great city.

Short Articles, instructive and entertaining, will abound. Among these are: "How a Great Panorama is Made," by Theodore R. Davis, with profuse illustrations; "Winning a Commission" (Naval Academy), and "Recollections of the Naval Academy"; "Boring for Oil" and "Among the Gas-wells" with a number of striking pictures; "Child-Sketches from George Eliot," by Julia Magruder; "Victor Hugo's Tales to his Grandchildren," recounted by Brander Matthews; "Historic Girls," by E. S. Brooks. Also interesting contributions from Nora Perry, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Joaquin Miller, H. H. Boyesen, Washington Gladden, Alice Wellington Rollins, J. T. Trowbridge, Lieutenant Frederick Schwatka, Noah Brooks, Grace Denio Litchfield, Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, Mrs S. M. B. Piatt, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others, etc., etc.

The subscription price of ST. NICHOLAS is $3.00 a year; 25 cents a number. Subsciptions are received by booksellers and newsdealers everywhere or by the publishers. New volume begins with the November number. Send for our beautifully illustrated catalogue (free) containing full prospectus, etc., etc. THE CENTURY CO. New York.

$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our AUTOMATIC [illegible] Over 5,000 in service. [illegible]

THE UNION NATIONAL GAS SAVING CO.

HOUSEKEEPERS ATTENTION [illegible]

SWAYNES

THROAT & LUNG TROUBLES CONQUERED BY SWAYNE'S WILD CHERRY

SWAYNE'S VERMIFUGE THE CHILDREN'S MEDICINE.

TO KEEP HEALTHY 1. EXERCISE DAILY 2. EAT GOOD FOOD 3. BE CHEERFUL & USE SWAYNE'S PILLS

SWAYNES PANACEA PURIFIES SYPHILITIC BLOOD.

LONDON HAIR RESTORER (ENGLISH) DR. SWAYNE & SON AGENT.

OINTMENT

THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES

& SKIN HUMOR

SYMPTOMS

Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night—worse by scratching—very distressing. If allowed to continue tumors form which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in many cases removes the tumors. Sent by mail for 50 cts.

DR. SWAYNE'S MEDICINES OLDEST IN U. S.

PREPARED ONLY BY DR. SWAYNE & SON, PHILADELPHIA. SOLD BY Druggists

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take

BLUE PILLS

or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately! Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

IT IS

Don't Wait!

Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use

Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

PRACTICAL [illegible]

EUREKA FROST CURE.

FOR FROZEN FEET, EARS, NOSE, AND CHILBLAINS.

Made from Agaricus, a moss growing in the frigid regions of the north. A sure Cure. By mail 50c.

EUREKA MED. CO.
SHARON, PA.
36mos 3

EUREKA CATARRH REMEDY,

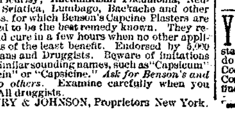
NO SALVE! NO SNUFF! NO WASH!

The only internal specific. Cures—not as an irritant or astringent, but by directing the gentle life-giving forces of the organism to the part affected. Tasteless and pure. Children take it without dificulty. Price 50 cents by mail.

EUREKA MED. CO. SHARON, PA.
36mos3

Please Don't Forget It.

That Dr. James Cannabis Indica is prepared in Calcutta, India, from the purest and best Native Hemp, and is the only remedy, either in that country or this, that will positively and permanently cure Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Nasal catarrh and nervous Debility, or break up a fresh cold in 24 hours. $2.50 per bottle, three bottles $6.50. Craddick & Co., Proprietors, 1032 Race St., Phila.



Winter Exposure Causes Coughs,

Colds, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Pneumonia, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache and other ailments, for which Benson's Capcine Plasters are admitted to be the best remedy known. They relieve and cure in a few hours when no other application is of the least benefit. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum" "Capsicin" or "Capsicine." Ask for Benson's and take no others. Examine carefully when you buy All druggists.

SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors New York.

Real Estate and Insurance AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 91 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

YOU can live at home and make more money at work for us, than at anything else in this world. Capital not needed; you are started free. Both sexes; all ages anyone can do the work. Large earnings sure from first start. Costly outfit and terms free. Better not delay. Costs you nothing to send us your address and find out; if you are wise you will do so at once. H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Me.

BOOKS, THREE CENTS EACH.

The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, many of them handsomely illustrated, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. Please examine the list and see if you do not find therein some that you would like to possess. In cloth-bound form these books would cost $1.00 each. Each book is complete in itself!

Anecdotes of the Rebellion. A collection of humorous, pathetic, and thrilling narratives of the war, stories of bivouac and battle-field, march and picket, adventures of scouts and spies, stories of prison life, of the great Generals, of Mr. Lincoln, etc.
The Life of General U. S. Grant. By W. A. Peters. With portrait and other illustrations.
Poems, by John G. Whittier. The only cheap edition published—should be in every household. Illustrated.
Poems, by Henry W. Longfellow. No one can afford to be without this fine collection. Illustrated.
Poems, by Alfred Tennyson. This work contains some of the finest compositions of the great Poet Laureate.
Parlor Amusements. A large collection of Acting Charades, Parlor Dramas, Shadow Pantomimes, Games, Puzzles, etc., for social gatherings, public and private entertainments and evenings at home. Illustrated.
Manual of Floriculture. Teaches the best method of propagating all the different plants, tells how to cure disease and eradicate insect pests, gives directions for making beautiful floral and other devices, for window gardening, etc. Illustrated.
Guide to Needlework, Knitting and Crochet. Containing designs and directions for all kinds of Fancy Needlework, Artistic Embroidery, Lace Work, Knitting, Tatting, Crochet and Net Work. Illustrated.
Famous Detective Stories. A collection of thrilling narratives of Detective experience, many of them written by actual members of the profession.
Yankee Wit and Humor. A collection of humorous stories, sketches, poems and paragraphs, by the leading funny men of the American press. Illustrated.
The Mystery at Blackwood Grange. A Novel. By Mrs. May Agnes Fleming.
The Evil Genius. A Novel. By M. T. Caldor.
The Story of a Storm. A Novel. By Mrs. Jane G. Austin.
Out of the Sea. A Novel. By Clara Augusta.
Agatha's History. A Novel. By Margaret Blount.
The Morwick Farm Mystery. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins. Illustrated.
The Last of the Ruthvens. A Novel. By Miss Mulock. Illustrated.
A Dead Heart. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."
Out of the Depths. A Novel. By Hugh Conway.
The Romantic Adventures of a Milkmaid. A Novel. By Thomas Hardy.
In the Holidays. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay.
The Heir to Ashley. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood.
Miss or Mrs.? A Novel. By Wilkie Collins. Illustrated.
More Bitter than Death. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
Carriston's Gift. A Novel. By Hugh Conway. Ill'd.
The Fatal Lilies. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."
A Shadow on the Threshold. A Novel. By Mary C. Hay.
The Curse of Carew. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
The Blatchford Bequest. A Novel. By Hugh Conway. Illustrated.
A Queen Amongst Women. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
The Fatal Marriage. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon.
A Tale of Sin. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood.
A Bridge of Love. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
A Passive Crime. A Novel. By "The Duchess."
Ingledew House. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
The Knightsbridge Mystery. A Novel. By Charles Reade. Illustrated.
Wedded and Parted. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
A Fortune Hunter. A Novel. By Annie Thomas. Ill'd.
Among the Ruins. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay. Ill'd.
Rose Lodge. A Novelette. By Mrs. Henry Wood.

☞We will send any four of the above books by mail post-paid upon receipt of only Twelve Cents; any ten for 25 Cents; any twenty-five for 50 Cents; the entire list (40 books) for 75 Cents; the entire list bound in boards with cloth back, for $1.10. These are the cheapest books ever published and guaranteed worth three times the money asked for them. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Postage stamps taken for fractions of a dollar. As to our reliability, we refer to any newspaper published in New York, likewise to the Commercial Agencies. [illegible]

Special Offer! [illegible] Patterns, [illegible] a large 16-page [illegible]
Address all orders: F. M. LUPTON, Publisher, No. 2 Park Place, New York.

THE GREAT APERIENT
ROGERS'
GRAPOLINE

CURES HEADACHE, CONSTIPATION, DYSPEPSIA, RHEUMATISM. | A. H. ROGERS & CO., [illegible] N. Y.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

SOME THING NEW

Why not start a business of your own? We make every reader of THE FULTON TIMES the grandest offer any Responsible House can make you. Hitherto Photography was considered an art requiring years of study and practice, and very costly apparatus, but since the introduction of Gelatine Bromide Process dry plates, any one having common sense and a small capital to buy an outfit will be able to make the finest Photographs without the aid of a teacher, either to make money or merely for amusement. Boys, Young Men and Ladies cannot engage in a more profitable business than photography. Hundreds will employ you to photo Houses, Landscapes, Residences, Family Groups, Farm Stock, Factories, etc. You start out in the morning with a good stock of Dry Plates and Camera in hand, all weighing but a few pounds, approach a residence, and the novelty of having a photographer with full equipment come unexpectedly at the very door, at once excites curiosity; the whole family cannot resist the temptation to have a photograph of themselves or some favorite article and it is so "cute" to have it taken right at home, no fixing up to do. Every negative is worth from $1.00 to $10.00 to you. The [illegible] Camera is without doubt the most beautiful and finely executed piece of mechanism ever offered to the public in the shape of a Camera. It is made of mahogany and is highly polished, with nickle trimmings, strong and light, combining all the fine points [illegible] to make up a fine piece of apparatus. It will make portraits indoors or out, also [illegible] scopes; 5x8 Portraits, Cabinets and cards. The [illegible] Empire Equipement complete consists of one 5x8 Camera, one Double Dry Plate Holder, one Lense (extra good), one Tripod, one [illegible] varnished Wooden Carrying Case, One Complete Chemical Outfit, and one complete Printing Outfit [illegible] Different articles, all boxed for $30, $10 with order and balance, $20 C. O. D. If you will send the [illegible] and $30 in full Before March 1st, 1887, we will place in box one Negative Box worth [illegible] Free. Do not be deceived by Cheap Photo Equipments. You better pay a few dollars more and get [illegible] something you are not ashamed to uncover before people. 80 page book "How to make Photos" also [illegible] full Portrait made by Empire Camera 25 cts. (none free.) We could give hundreds of references [illegible] but only have space for a few. Write and enclose stamp, they will tell you [illegible] W. E. Crumpton, Akron, Plymouth Co., Iowa; J. H. [illegible] Elmer E. Carr, Bynum, Harford Co., [illegible] only twelve [illegible] will put 12 slides [illegible] EMPIRE COPYING COMPANY [illegible]

DEL. LA'K'WNA & WESTERN R.R.
OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express..........8:18 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express....11:28 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express.......3:28 p. m
Syracuse Express..........5:28 p. m.
New York and Phil. Night Express......8:30 p. m

GOING NORTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express...9:19 a. m.
Day Express..........12:19 p. m.
Day Express..........3:46 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express.....6:57 p. m.
Evening Express..........8:44 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express..........7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation..........8:40 a. m
Norwich Express..........3:06 p. m
N. Y. Night Express..........9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express..........6:24 a. m
Oswego Express..........11:05 a. m.
Freight and accommodation..........5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express..........7:50 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:31	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19p.m.	3:39	6:29

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS

Frank Blanchard of Oswego was in town Saturday.

Miss Mattie Hardy spent Sunday with

And owes to June her day of birth,
With rings of agate on her hands,
Can health, wealth and long life command.

JULY.

The glowing ruby should adorn
Those who in warm July are born,
Then will they be exempt and free
From love's doubts and anxiety.

AUGUST.

Near a sardonyx, or for thee
No conjugal felicity;
The August born without this stone
'Tis said must live unloved and lone.

SEPTEMBER.

The maiden born when autumn leaves
Are rustling in September's breeze,
A sapphire on her brow should bind,
'Twill cure diseases of the mind.

OCTOBER.

October's child is born for woe,
And life's vicissitudes must know;
But lay an opal on her breast,
And hope will lull the woes to rest.

with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Boomer are visiting at the lady's father's at Vernon, Oneida county.

Mrs. K. F. Salmon is in Holland Patent in attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Hattie C. Perry.

B. W. Hastings and wife of Fulton have been guests of Elijah Johnston this week.—Sandy Creek News.

C. A. Bacon, editor of the Crosswell (Mich.) Democrat, has been visiting in this vicinity during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Connell and Mrs. G. V. Emens of Fulton, called on friends in town Wednesday.—Hannibal News.

R. A. Stowell has returned from Syracuse to close out the 25 cent store in this village. Notice their advertisement. Jan. 31st last day.

Hamburg Edgings, white goods of all kinds, will be opened next week at F. E. BACON'S.

Draper has moved all damaged goods from Oneida street to 34 First street where bargains at ½ actual prices can be had as he has such a large stock of these goods and is bound to close them all out at once, (not at auction) but at private sale which is less noisy and the quickest way. Money will be refunded if any goods are not as they are sold for at No. 34 First St., opposite Clark House.

Before you put a roof on that building, be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

D. C. Draper, No. 34 First St., has an entire new stock of groceries on 1st floor and a fine line of crockery, some new and the balance the uninjured crockery from the Oneida St. store, and in basement of same store he has all the damaged Groceries, Crockery, China Tea and Chamber Setts, Lamps &c., (from the old store on Oneida St.) which he now offers for sale, the poorest at your own price, and the balance at a very low price. Remember the place in basement of New store, opposite Clark House.

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & CO.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my experience) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excel[illegible] remedy. Very Truly,

Mrs. [illegible]

Winter Suits, Overcoats, Undershirts and Drawers, Cardigan Jackets, Hosiery

ETC. AT VERY LOW PRICES.

Even less than the so called "Bankrupt Stock" advertised in the neighboring cities and more desirable goods. Also a large Stock of

BOYS' SUITS AND OVERCOATS.

This is no hoax or humbug advertisement to deceive people, but an honest statement of facts that can be verified by calling on

D. C. MORE & CO.

THE RELIABLE ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS.

Opposite Lewis House, Fulton, N. Y.

Phrenological Calendars.

The market is full of all kinds of calendars. Among the most unique and attractive we would place the Phrenological Calendar, which consists of a beautifully lithographed Phrenological Head, engraved on stone and printed in colors, showing the location of each of the Phrenological faculties, with their natural action, which is indicated by especially artistic illustrations. Secretiveness, by the stealthy fox approaching the hen-roost at midnight. Benevolence, by the Good Samaritan, and so on through the whole list of forty or more faculties. It is cut out so as to show the shape of the head and face. A monthly calendar is attached, and an explanatory key, giving the names and definitions of the faculties; the first principles and uses of Phrenology. It is sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of 10 cents in stamps, by the publishers, Fowler & Wells Co., 753 Broadway, New York.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Amy Peterson died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cynthia Burdick on Third street on Saturday last, aged 83 years. Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Baptist church Rev. J. C. Breaker officiating.

Mother's place is vacant,
The sands of life are run
Her journey here is ended,
In heaven it's just begun.

Mother's voice is silent,
You'll hear it never more,
Until she comes to greet you
When you reach the other shore.

Mother's life's work is ended,
Her sickness all is past
We know she's crossed the river
And is safe at home at last.

She has gone to meet her loved ones
That long have been at rest,
Then dear friends do not murmur
For surely God knows best.

Then do not mourn for mother
For now she's free from pain
And you know in the heavenly mansion
You'll meet with dear mother again.

BY A FRIEND.

Mrs. Chas. Merriam formerly of Mt. Pleasant died at Skaneateles on Wednesday last. Her remains were brought to Mt. Pleasant for interment. Mrs. Merriam formerly lived about a mile north of Hubbards Corners and was one of the original residents of this town. She was 87 years of age.

Miss Zerual Hewitt died at the home of Jackson Reynolds in the town of Garnby on Saturday Jan. 8 aged 77 years. Funeral services were held at the house on yesterday afternoon, the Rev. Carl Stone officiating. Interment was made at Lewis cemetery.

Mrs. J. C. Q'Brien died at the home of her parent Mr. William Bonner, cor. of West 9th and Schuyler streets in Oswego last night. She was the wife of J. C. O'Brien of this village, to whom she was married on the 24 of February last.

Mr. Nathan Phillips died at his home in Constantia on Saturday Jan. 8 aged 78 years. He had been a quiet, honored and respected citizen of that village for over forty fears.

J. Ward died Saturday Jan. 8 at his home about four miles north of Oswego Falls in the town of Granby. Funeral services were held to-day and interment made in Lewis cemetery.

Mrs. Hattie Crane Perry died at Holland patent, last Sunday. She had many friends and relatives in this locality. She has been an invalid for a number of years.

Mrs. Hannah Lemanier died at Baldwinsville last Friday morning at the age of 105 years and five days. She had been a resident of Onondaga county for 80 years.

Mrs. Ambrose Gregg of Pennellville died early last Thursday of cancer. She had been a great sufferer for years.

If you are troubled with Catarrh, or Cold in the Head, call at Watson's and get a sample box of Arcana, FREE.

Remember Schenck & Foster's office at Eggleston's book-store. Orders promptly attended to.

Wanted—A horse for the keeping. Light work and good care given. Inquire at

ROBINSON'S GROCERY.

D. C. Draper wishes say to all his patrons that he has just received a complete stock of new groceries at No. 34 First St. opposite Clark House and will attend to all customers with promptness as heretofore, hoping that all who have been neglected since the fire will excuse him for the same.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26tf

Try [illegible] Ale. It is the best [illegible] Opera [illegible]

Freight is to be taken overland in teams from Central Square to Pulaski.

Levi Montague keeps fresh fish and oysters at John Partrick's restaurant on First st.

No effort has been made since the storm of Sunday last to run the street cars. The new omnibus seems to fill the bill.

The Salvation army had a silver offering at their rooms in the McCully block on Friday evening. Capt. Fisher, wife and child were present.

A party was given at the residence of Dr. C. M. Lee on Oneida street last evening in honor of his son Dr. Charles R. Lee and Mrs. Saunders.

Remember the great opening of Draper's damaged stock in the basement of his store No. 34 First St., opposite Clark house, on Thursday morning.

The "Galley Slave" at the opera house last Wednesday evening was well attended. The play is an excellent one and the acting gave general satisfaction.

The thermometer registered 15 degrees below zero on last Friday morning. We are informed that it was 20 degrees below in some places. This carries off the palm for cold so far this season.

A new and larger water wheel is to be put in by the Thomson-Houson Electric company. Until this is done only part of the village can be lighted as the power received from the present wheel is not sufficient.

Mutual Hose Co. No. 1 have supplied themselves with new coats mittens &c. Everything indicates that the company is in a prosperous condition. They now number over twenty, several new members having recently been taken in.

George Washington could tell no lie,
No merit there I see
I think the praise by right belongs
To folks like you and me,
Who could with ease an untruth tell,
But valiently refrain,
The credit does to us belong,
I'm sure that's very plain.

A disastrous fire occurred in Oswego yesterday morning. The Jones block and Ould & Klock's building on West Bridge street extending from the corner of West First to Water street were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

A number of the young people of this village, married and single, met at the residence of Mr. John Case last Friday evening and decided to unite in forming a society for social gatherings. The name "Fulton Crumbs" was selected for the society and it was decided to hold a party on every third week during the winter months, The first one will be at Church's hall on Wednesday next.

Andrew Boyd, of Syracuse, the veteran Directory Publisher, is preparing a directory of five rich and populous counties, Onondaga, Oswego, Cayuga, Cortland and Madison. It will contain a classified Business Directory of all the cities, towns and villages in the above named counties. Also the names and postoffice address of all the farmers in the towns, with their number of acres, together with a map of the five counties.

The case of Capt. Foster formerly leader of the Salvation army at Phœnix, charged with seduction, preferred by Carrie Bond a member of his band was brought up before Justice Shannon on Thursday last. Lawyer Avery of Phœnix appeared for Foster, The case was adjourned until the following day, when a private examination was held. The captain was held to await the action of the grand jury. He was taken to Oswego where he will "while away the time" as best he can until the grand jury meets.

If you are troubled with Catarrh or Cold in the Head, call at Watson's and get a sample box of Arcana, FREE.

D. C. Draper has opened at No. 34 First St., 1st door south of Lang's Furniture store, with a large stock of Fresh groceries, where he will be glad to see his old customers and new ones. All the damaged groceries, crockery, lamps, &c. will be on sale in the basement of this store on Thursday.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expeditiously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

G. C. Howe has the implements and is prepared to sharpen [illegible]

Entertainment at No. 1 School.

A literary and musical entertainment will be held at the school building of district No. 1 Fulton, Friday evening, Jan. 14, consisting of declamations, recitations and select reading. Also vocal and instrumental music. The Congregational church choir will render some of their fine concert songs. Also an orchestra, composed of members the school, and concluding with a lecture on the human skeleton by one of the pupils, which will be a very interesting feature of the evening. Come and enjoy a pleasant, as well as a profitable entertainment. Proceeds to be used entirely for the benefit of the school. Doors open at 7 o'clock, exercises to commence at 7:45. Admission 10c. By order of Com.

Two Accidents on the R. W. & O. Road.

Two slight accidents occured on the R. W. & O. road last Monday forenoon. One was near Ontario station where a snow plow run into a passenger train standing on the main track. The plow was running at a good rate of speed, it lifted the engine of the passenger train up onto the plow and crushed through the timbers of the cabin in which the men were seated. Alfred Willis, Martin Oulzman and Michael Minehan were badly injured. The second accident occurred from a defective rail on the Cape Vincent branch, near Rosiere. The coach and baggage car were thrown from the track and badly damaged. Prof. Reynolds of Ithaca, Andrew Russell and Miss Arnold of Syracuse were badly bruised in the wreck.

Steamer Co. No. 2.

The second annual ball of steamer Co. No. 2 will be held in the opera house ball room, on Friday evening, Jan. 21. The following members have charge of the arrangements: Committee, C. J. Merton, C. W. Potter, Len. Austin. Floor Director, T. A. Mosso; Assistants, T. Ingersoll, W. T. Mosher, J. Briggs, A. Dexter. Reception Committee; M. Murphy, Fred Van Buren, D. Roach. Music by Parker's full orchestra.

Notice.

All physicians of the villages of Fulton and Oswego Falls, having cases of contagious disease under treatment, in the house of any person or family sending pupils to any school in District No. 2 of Fulton, are requested to give notice thereof to the Board of Education of said district, and any person or family in whose house any person has been, is now, or may hereafter, be sick with Diphtheria, Chicken pox, German measels, Scarlet fever, or other contagious disease, are hereby forbidden to send any pupil to any school in said district, without first presenting to the Board of Education or the Principal of said school, a certificate of their family physician or the physician of the Board of Health of the village of Fulton, that said pupil is in all respects faee from all contagions and from all danger of communicating the same to others.—Dated Jan. 6, 1887.

The Board of Education
F. E. BACON, Chairman.
AMOS YOUMANS, Sec'y.

Elder's Restaurant.

The prices have been reduced at E. J. Elder's popular restaurant and he now offers the following bill of fare to the public: Regular dinner from 12 till 2 p. m., 25 c.; milk stew, 30c.; N. Y. counts, raw, 25c. Oyster stew with trimmings, 15c.; Raws, with trimmings, 15c. Pork and Beans, 10c. Oysters at 25c. per quart. He also keeps on hand a large and excellent stock of foreign and domestic wines and sells everything at bottom prices.

Our sale of Edgings in Lace, Hamburg, Swiss etc, etc, will commence next week.

F. E. BACON.

House and Lot For Sale.

House in a good state of repair with a good well of water on the lot. House is large, well calculated for boarders, situated on Utica street within three minutes walk of the postoffice. Terms easy. Inquire of Dr. J. Watson, on the premises. 36m3

Wanted.

For Scribner's Magazine, a gentleman to fill the position of local agent for this town and county; industry, tact, and good address are indispensable. Address, giving full particulars,

FRANK RIVERS, Fulton, N. Y.

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $38.00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $25.00; [illegible]

Baker Hose Co. are to give a party in Johnston's hall on next Monday evening.

Remember that Collector LaPrairie can be found at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

The annual meeting and election of the Oswego Falls Agricultural society is being held at the office of Howe & Rice to-day.

The remains of Willit Miller son of Jerome Miller of Rochester, formerly of this village, arrived here and were interred at Mt. Adnah on Saturday last.

The ladies of the Congregational church at Oswego at Falls have just raised by subscription $300 for the payment of a standing debt against their church.

The "Fulton Crumbs" will gather on Wednesday evening Jan. 19 for general dancing at Church's hall. Music by Prof. Gutstadt's orchestra of Syracuse.

The committee of supervisors consisting of Messrs. Barrett, Getman and Salladin were to start to-day for Crawfordsville, Ind., to examine the rotary jail there. They go at the expense of the Rotary Jail Co. of Chicago, Ill.

W. T. Mosher had the misfortune to fall in the press room of THE TIMES office last Wednesday afternoon and break the radius of the right arm. Drs. Pardee and Hall set the arm and it is healing as fast as can be expected.

There is talk among the Hannibal merchants of having their freight shipped from Syracuse to this village by the D. L. & W. road and then carried by teams from this station to Hannibal. As there is no competition to the R. W. & O. road at this point the company have seen fit to raise their freight rates.

A lad, named Daniel Hartigan, while sweeping in the building known as the wheel house at the R. & O. Mills, fell through an opening in the floor a distance of about 15 feet last Thursday afternoon. One of his arms was broken and he was otherwise badly bruised. Dr. Whitaker attended him.

At the regular meeting of D. F. Schenck Post G.A.R., it was voted to extend to the Thomson-Houston Electric Light Co., a vote of thanks for their kindness in lighting our hall for the Camp Fire, and that a copy be given the village papers for publication.

A. J. OSBORN, Com.
CHAS. HEWITT, Adgt.

The next regular meeting of the Lawrence C. L. S. C. will be held this evening at the home of Mrs. Edna Moore on Utica street. The following is the programme:

Roll Call answered by quotations on the New Year. Questions on "The Christian Religion." Experiments in color making. Questions on "Warren Hastings," Game—Transpositions. Reading, from "Christmas Carols."

One of the two omnibuses ordered for the Fulton & Oswego Falls Street R. R. arrived here on Thursday last and was running Friday. They are on runners and obviate the necessity of constantly keeping the track cleared of snow during the winter months. They cost $300 each, are capable of seating sixteen persons on the inside. They are finely painted, and upholstered with Brussels carpet.

All heavy winter goods at about your own price for 10 days at F. E. BACONS.

Muffs, mittens, and fur-repairing don at 59 Second St. Fulton N. Y. 35w2.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign o the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.

24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

You will find slippers and fine goods for the holidays in a larger assortment than usual at Collins'. 32tf

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL, recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18d26

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER,

18tf 26 First st.

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 28w6.

Fulton Savings Bank.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Fulton Savings Bank was held on Monday, Jan. 10, 1887.

The following letter from Sands N. Kenyon Esq. was received:

To the Officers and Trustees of the Fulton Savings Bank:

After giving my services as President to the Fulton Savings Bank for fifteen years, and finding that its affairs are in the most prosperous condition, and that I, myself, am incapcatated for further active duty by reason of my failing health, I hereby tender my resignation as President, asking the Board to release me from the responsible position which I have heretofore held.

Hoping that the bank may continue to prosper in the future as in the past,

I subscribe myself,

SANDS N. KENYON, Pres.

Mr. Kenyon's resignation was accepted and the following resolutions, submitted by J. C. Wells, were adopted:

WHEREAS, Sands N. Kenyon having been President of the Fulton Savings Bank for the last fifteen years has today tendered his resignation by letter and asks by reason of his ill health to permanently withdraw as President: therefore,

Resolved, That this Board of Trustees regret the retirement of Mr. Kenyon and loss of his wise counsel in the building up of this institution from small beginning to one of manly proportions.

Resolved, That that the Board expresses the hope that Mr. Kenyon's declining years may be full of life's enjoyments and beautiful and radient as the setting sun.

The following officers were then elected for the ensuing year:

A. Howe, President and Treasurer; J. C. Wells, J. W. Pratt and W. D. Patterson, Vice-Presidents; W. J. Lovejoy, Secretary; G. S. Piper, Attorney.

Installation of Officers.

At the regular meeting of Neatahwanta lodge No. 245, I. O. O. F, held in their rooms last week, the following officers were installed in regular form by D. D. G. M., E. H. Gardner:

Thos. Keyes, N. G.
Edward Dawson, V. G.
H. H. Buck, R. S.
James Stevens, P. S.
James L. Parker, Treas.
Thos. Wilson, Warden.
E. B. Wolcott, Conductor.
C. H. Wolcott, R. S. N. G.
A. B. Cook, L. S. N. G.
J. H. Fairgrieve, R. S. V. G.
Frank French, L. S. V. G.
Charles E. Tucker, R. S. S.
E. E. Hare, L. S. S.
George Wilson, I. G.
John Dresser, O. G.

Several members of Oswegatchie lodge of Oswego were in attendance,

A large and elegant line of Ball cards and invitations just received at THE TIMES office. Call and see them and get our prices.

Good Time Coming

At Mike Conley's Restaurant Second st. opposite Midland depot Saturday Jan. 15th 1887, afternoon and evening. On this occasion as formerly everybody can enjoy themselves. Among the attractions will be found Prof. Albert Baird of Oneida, Pianist; Profs. Whipple and Baker, Violinists; Vocalists, Messrs. Taylor, O'Brien, Panell and Degan; Terpsicnorian Artists, Conway, Lyons and Hammond, Club Swinging by Murphy and Pupil; Exercises with Dumbells, "Young Sullivan;" Sparring by well known adepts afternoon and evening. Grand Free Lunch. The best of order will be maintained. Come everybody and have a good time.

We have about 15 to 18 children's Cloaks which we will close out at about half price during the next week.

F. E. BACON.

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by

10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

—FOR THE—

HOLIDAY SEASON!

SNOW & LOOMIS,

have a fine assortment of

POCKET CUTLERY,
CARVERS, [illegible]
[illegible]

OUR LINE OF SUITS AND OVERCOATS IS STILL BANG UP

PEEBLES & COOK, OPPOSITE OPERA HOUSE.

Train A—Saturdays only, leaves Walton 7:15 p. m., arriving at Sidney 8:35 p. m.

Trains leave Sidney for New Berlin 11:18 a. m. and 7:35 p. m., stopping all stations, arriving at 1:00 and 8:40 p. m. Sunday leave Sidney 3:15 p. m., arriving at New Berlin 4:50.

Trains leave Randallsville for Utica 8:15, 10:40 a. m., 5:25, 7:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Utica 10:05, 11:59 a. m., 7:35 and 8:35 p. m.

Trains leave Clinton for Rome 11:40 and 6:35 p. m., arriving at Rome, 12:35 and 7:30 p. m.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

Train 40—Leaves Oneida 10:30 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Norwich 1:35 p. m.

Trains leave Utica 7:25 a. m., 8:25, 4:35 and 10:45 p. m., stopping at all stations on Utica Division, arriving at Randallsville 9:52 a. m., 5:58, 12:15 and 1:03 a. m., connecting with main line trains.

Trains leave Rome 7:00 a. m., 4:25 p. m., connecting at Clinton with Utica Division trains.

Train 28—Leaves Norwich 6:50 a. m., Oxford 7:25, Sidney 9:40, Franklin 10:30, arriving at Walton 11:30 a. m.

Train B—Sundays only, leaves Sidney 9:30 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Walton 11:15 a. m.

Trains leave New Berlin for Sidney 7:00 a. m. and 3:45 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at 8:45 a. m. and 5:30 p. m. Sunday leave New Berlin 7:45 a. m., arriving at Sidney 9:15 a. m.

Trains leave Delhi for Walton 6:45 a. m., 10:40 a. m. and 6:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving 7:25 and 11:30 a. m., 7:05 p. m. Sundays leave Delhi 10:00, arrive at Walton 11:00 a. m.

CONNECTIONS.

Train 2—Connects at Cornwall with West Shore Express for all points north, Saratoga, Whitehall, Plattsburgh, arriving at Montreal 8 a. m.

Train 1—Connects at Randallsville for Utica and all stations on the Utica Division for all stations to Utica; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for Syracuse.

Train 5—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points east and west, Rochester, Buffalo and Chicago; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for all points west; at Central Square with R. W. and O. R. R. for all points North; through sleeping cars to Oswego, at Oswego with R. W. and O. R. R. for Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Chicago 6:00 a. m.

Train 31—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore east and west.

Train 39—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points west, arriving at Rochester 9:25, Buffalo 11:10 a. m. and Chicago 8 p. m.

Trains 13 and 14 run through between Delhi and Utica without change, connects both ways at Sidney, with the D. & H. for Binghamton, Albany and intermediate Stations. Train 13 Connects at Clark's Mills for Rochester, Buffalo and all points West via. West Shore.

Agents of the N. Y., O. and W. sell tickets and check baggage to all points east, west, north and south via all lines with good connections. Rates always guaranteed as low as any other line.

Train 5, will not start Sunday. Train 6, will not start Saturday; 9 and 10 run daily; all others daily except Sundays.

*Stop on signal. †Stop to leave and take on New York passengers only.

New York depots at foot of Jay street and West 42d streets.

J. C. Anderson, Gen. Pas'g'r Agt,
No. 18 Exchange Place, N. Y.

C. S. EGGLESTON,

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

Great Closing Out Sale.

JANUARY 31ST THE LAST DAY!

1 ten quart tin pail 11 cts.	worth	30cts.
1 fine brass tray 17cts.,	worth	35cts.
1 hand saw, (warranted) 19cts.	worth	75cts.
1 snow shovel 37cts.	worth	60cts.
1 hand lamp, (complete) 15cts.	worth	30cts.
1 pair suspenders, 19cts.,	worth	35cts.
1 5 quart pail, 7cts.,	worth	15cts.
1 box fancy paper and envelopes, 19c	worth	35cts.
1 17 quart pressed tin dish pan 24cts	worth	65cts.
1 lamp burner, 5cts	worth	15cts.
1 glass set, three pieces, 15cts	worth	50cts.
1 No 9 tea kettle, 48cts	worth	85cts.
1 crank flour sifter, 10cts	worth	25cts.
1 lamp chimney, 3cts	worth	10cts.
1 paper pins, 1c	worth	8cts.
1 paper of needles, 1c	worth	8cts.
1 wood bowl 15cts	worth	25cts.
1 10 quart dish pan, 10cts	worth	25cts.
1 gal oil can, 17cts	worth	40cts.
1 coal hod, 19cts	worth	65cts.
1 copper bottom tea and coffee pot, 28c	worth	55cts.
1 extra fancy stone spittoon, 25cts	worth	40cts.
1 fine tea tray, 12cts	worth	35cts.
1 large dust pan 7cts	worth	15cts.
1 pair ladies hose, all wool seamless extra fine 21cts	worth	50cts.
1 large stand lamp, 59cts.,	worth	$1.00
6 sheets of writing paper, 1c	worth	10c.each
6 envelopes, 1c	worth	10c.each

And thousands of equally good bargains.

25 Cent Bargain Store.

R. A. STOWELL & CO.

[illegible] where [illegible]. Where is [illegible] drinking water for milch [illegible]

[illegible] sheep and convenient [illegible] fed by pigs.

[illegible] affirm that cider [illegible] December is better and keeps [illegible] drinking condition longer than [illegible] made earlier in the season.

The past season 86,547,040 cans of tomatoes were packed in the United States. This is below the annual consumptive requirements of the country.

The rate of yield of the the hay crop this year averages about one half ton per acre, and the total product is placed at about 45,000,000 tons.

Dr. William Mitchell, of Ohio, prefers clay floors for his houses, after having tried all other kinds.

Pounded oyster shells, clam shells or ground bone are among the best materials for furnishing lime to fowls.

Experiments at the Maine Agricultural station have demonstrated that about 8 per cent more of the organic matter of ground corn is digested than of the whole grain.

In training young horses much time in the heavy work of a farm may be saved by the cultivation of a good walking gait.

The farmer should study the market from year to year and breed such kind of swine as is demanded. It is in this way that he will realize the greatest returns. A man who has what the market demands can always find a ready sale at fair prices.

Use every means to tame your chickens. Some breeds are more easily tamed than others, but if you can have your hens as tame as a house cat, they will lay more eggs, and above all, lay on more flesh than if you have to chase them a mile or so every time you want to transfer them to other quarters.

Cooked food improves the coat of animals, regulates digestion, enables fattening stock to eat their food with less labor, and consequently requires less to keep up animal heat; gives working animals time to eat all that is necessary for them in the intervals of labor, and this is of much importance, especially with horses. It enables the farmer to turn everything raised into food for his stock without lessening the value of his manure.

Farm and Fireside advises farmers in sections where hog cholera has raged to substitute sheep for hogs, remarking that mutton sheep are now worth about the same, pound for pound, as fat hogs, while costing far less, and having the advantage of being marketable at any time through the year, and thus avoiding the jam and consequent low price which every packing season witnesses. It is true that the same time for the profitable handling of sheep for wool alone has passed; the great demand of to-day is good mutton, and between the extremes of mutton and wool there is ample field for the successful husbandman.

Warming Poultry Food.

Experienced breeders appreciate the importance of warming the food for poultry during the cold weather, but many farmers as well as novices do not seem to, as they do not practice it. Our method is to warm all the food, whether mixed or cracked or fed whole. In feeding whole corn, warm it thoroughly in the oven, nearly parching it, and then let it cool off sufficiently to admit of the fowls eating it without discomfort. The cooked food which is fed from time to time should be given warm, and, when necessary, warmed over from time to time. It is surprising what a difference warm food will make in the supply of eggs during the continuance of cold weather, and especially if the fowls are well sheltered and properly cared for otherwise. There is even more in the care and food than there is in the mere breed, and if this fact were borne in mind there would be less dissatisfaction with the results from the poultry in winter. It will take but a few minutes to do this warming of the feed before each feeding time, and it is time well spent, and it repays manyfold for the trouble.—American Agriculturist.

The Stock Shows at Chicago.

Numbered with important lessons learned by wide awake farmers at the recent stock shows at Chicago, is the advantage of pure blood in the improvement of all stock and the excellence attained through careful selection and breeding in meat production and in the dairy interests.

The show of cattle comprised short horns, Jerseys, Herefords, Devons, Aberdeen-Angus, Holstein-Freision, Sussex and grades and crosses. The Herefords made a fine show, though not present in great numbers. The breed most largely represented, both by pure bred animals and grades, was the short horn.

The swine breeders were out in full force, and the show of fat hogs representing the various breeds, Berkshires, Poland Chinas, Essex, Duroes, Victorias, large and small Yorkshires and others.

The exhibit of horses was a fine one, especially in draft horses—Normans, Percherons and Clydesdales. There was also a fair showing of Cleveland bays and French coach horses.

At the poultry shows the Plymouth Rocks and Brahmas appear to have lost none of their old popularity, and were out in fine array. Of the newer breeds the Langshang and Wyandottes lead. These two breeds seem to be running a very even race for popularity.

You know Hop Plasters are prepared with painkilling virtues of Hops, [illegible], Burgundy Pitch.

Hop Plasters cure pain and soreness, [illegible] weak parts and do it quickly.

[illegible] to think that Hancock [illegible] life but Logan's contempt for singing and screeching lead was even more pronounced than that of the great West Point soldier."

"While the battle of Kenesaw Mountain was in progress I saw Logan ride at full speed in front of our lines when the bullets seemed to fall thicker than hail. Bare-headed, powder stained and his long, black hair fluttering in the breeze, the General looked like a mighty conqueror of medieval days. He did not know what danger was. Standing upright in the stirrups of his saddle, I have seen him plunge to the head of a charging column and bury himself in the smoke and flame of the enemy's guns. A few moments before the good McPherson fell at Alanta, a shell burst within twenty feet of Gen. Logan. Turning to McPherson, who had been slightly stunned by the explosion, Logan coolly remarked:

"'General, they seem to be popping that corn for us.'

"Twenty minutes later McPherson lay bleeding on the field, while Logan, who had assumed command of the troops, was hurling his battalions against the enemy with the skill of a born soldier."—Chicago Herald.

Cost of the Peace of Europe.

The entire military strength of the British empire, including India, but omitting Canada, is 715,000 men in round numbers. This includes all available soldier material. The regular army consists of 135,000 infantry, 18,000 cavalry and 33,000 artillery, 6,000 engineers, 7,000 transport corps—a total of 198,000 men.

Russia has an army of 2,723,000, infantry, 300,000 cavalry and an artillery of 3,772 guns, and fifty-seven days are required to mobilize this immense military array. Russia's annual expenditure for army and navy is $230,512,500; that of France, $168,653,915; that of Great Britain $155,603,775; Germany, $113,123,745, and Austria-Hungary, $67-069,975. Should these tremendous forces of war clash in determined conflict, the result would be a havoc unprecedented in history. But the very magnitude of the preparations must have a deterrant effect.

Dr. Bull's cough Syrup takes the lead of all cough preparations on our shelves—Carpenter & Palmeter, Jamestown, N. Y.

I heartily recommend Salvation Oil for neuralgia, for it acts like a charm. J. S. McCAULLEY, policeman, residence 205 N. Bond St., Balto., Md.

Poisoned by His Business.

The man who earns $20,000 the hardest of any man I know is a celebrated tea taster down town. To-day you see him and he looks like any other man, but if you meet him in a month hence he will strike you as something extraordinary. His hat will then appear four sizes too small and to be perched on his head like a marking pot on a barrel. This is said to be because he has been poisoned by his business, and the lower part of his face and head has swelled out of all proportion to his crown and his hat. He only washes his tongue with the tea and then spits it out, but in the course of doing this a thousand times a day for several weeks the strong drug does its work and then he has to lie off a few weeks and skrink his head ready to begin again.—Providence Journal.

No sufferer from any scrofulous disease, who will fairly try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, need despair of a cure. This remedy purges the blood of all impurities, destroys the germs of scrofula, and infuses new life and vigor throughout the physical organization.

A Rope for Mrs. Druse.

Adams Bros. & Co., of Utica have made on the order of Sheriff Cook of Herkimer, a rope thirty feet long with a noose at one end. The rope is made of shoe thread, of which 615 strands are used. The thickness of the rope is five-eights of an inch, and its strength is incalculable. The rope will be used to hang Mrs. Druse in case the legislature does not take action abolishing capital punishment.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

The Rssian railway in Central Africa has been opened beyond Merv.

Sig. Camimi, a Venitian, is credited with the ability to speak and write ninety-six languages and dialects.

Saved from being a Cripple for Life.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTLEMAN:—I was suffering from one of the worst cases of inflammatory rheumatism that any person could possibly have, and two bottles of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy has affected an entire cure. I will gladly answer any questions concerning my case, as I consider that I was saved from being crippled for life, by the use of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy.

MRS. FEELEY,
No. 64 Fulton Avenue.

The following is from Col. Palmer, the popular and able city Editor of the Lockport Daily Union.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., July 6, 1885.

ARDEN MEDICINE CO.

GENTLEMEN:—After leaving the U. S. Army I was afflicted with a severe Neuralgia Headache, coming on at intervals of a few days to several weeks, and lasting from one to three day, during which time I suffered excruciating pain, and was often totally incapacitated for business. In March 1882, I purchased one bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and followed the directions until I took about three-fifths of its contents, and from that time until this, have not been troubled with Headache or Neuralgia.

W. E. PALMER,
City Editor of the Lockport Daily Union.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTS:—This is to certify that I was suffering with inflammatory rheumatism [illegible]

[illegible] merely a question of time and it is only a question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation; Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

Count de Lesseps always wears a high hat whether he is camel riding in the Soudan or looking after his little canal down in Panama.

NO WOMAN

is beautiful with a bad skin, covered with pimples, freckles, moth or tan. I have been asked many times what will remove these unsightly blemishes. No face paints or powders will remove them, as they are caused by impure blood. The only sure remedy I have ever seen is Sulphur Bitters, and in hundreds of cases I have never known them to fail.—Editoress Fashion Gazette.

The number of those who are now invalids as a result of the war is said to be 265,854. There are 96,000 women on the pension rolls.

Convenient pleasant, and certain in their results, are Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. Recommended by physicians and endorsed by all who have used them. The best remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, and Constipation. Guaranteed, and sold at 25c. by H. C. Giesler.

It is estimated that there are 6,000,000 barrels of beer consumed annually in in New York city.

If the Sufferers from Consumption Scrofula, and General Debility, will try Scott's Emulsion of pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, they will find immediate relief and a permanant benefit. Dr. H. V. MOTT, Brentwood, Cal., writes: "I have used Scott's Emulsion with great advantage in cases of Phthisis Scrofula and wasting diseases generally. It is very palatable."

General Ben Butler may lecture this winter in three or four leading cities of the country, on the labor question.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 5ly1

General Sheridan, now younger looking than he was a year ago, has re-appeared in Washington.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Verdi, the composer can give points on farming to some of the best agriculturists in the West.

CHURCH GOING PEOPLE

Are annoyed by the Coughing of their neighbors. One bottle of Van Wert's Balsam would cure every cough in the congregation. Go to H. C. Giesler's Fulton, or Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls, and get a free sample bottle and see for yourself.

Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure cold in the head. 23m6

The daughters of the Crown-Princess of Germany are not famous for good looks.

Please Don't Forget It

That Dr. H. Sames Cannabis Indica is prepared in Calcutta, India, from the purest and best Native Hemp, and is the only remedy, either in that country or this, that will positively and permanently cure Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Nasal Catarrh and Nervous Debility, or break up a fresh cold in 24 hours. $2.50 per bottle, three bottles $6.50. Craddock & Co., Proprietors, 1032 Race St. Phila.,

Photographs of Mrs. Cleveland are in active demand in the Mexican capital.

Stop that cough, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pictorial—the best specific for all throat and lung diseases. It will allay inflammation, aid respiration, and strengthen the vocal organs. Ayer's Almanacs are free to all. Ask for one.

Ear tinting is the latest craze among the actresses of New York and Boston.

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent remedial agents which modern medical investigation has discovered, the whole forms an incomparable remedy for all throat and lung troubles. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Trial sizes free.

For torpid liver use Van Wert's Pills. Van Wert's Golden Balm is a certain cure for Catarrh. 23m6

Secretary Manning has issued a call for another $10,000,000 of the 3 per cent bonds.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle, only 50c. at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Electricity has been used in England to drive a threshing machine.

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c by H. C. Giesler.

Wine of superior quality has been made from [illegible]

Sidney, Neb., [illegible] high school [illegible]

[illegible]

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the largest and best selected stock of goods in his line.

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5lt

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing
Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 5,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK.

Secret Service
OF THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.
By P. H. WOODWARD, late Chief of P. O. Detective Corps.

A NEW BOOK JUST PUBLISHED by an official of over 15 years' experience in the Secret Service, in one Magnificent Royal Octavo Volume of over 600 pages and elegantly illustrated by the best artists in the country with

200 SUPERB ENGRAVINGS.

A thrilling record of detection in the U. S. Post-Office Department; embracing sketches of Wonderful Exploits of Post-Office Inspectors in the Detection, Pursuit, and Capture of Robbers of the U. S. Mails; together with a complete description of the many means and complicated contrivances of the wily and unscrupulous to defraud the public; also an accurate account of the

FAMOUS STAR ROUTE FRAUDS,

in which the Author had entire charge of the preparation of the evidence for the government.

AGENTS WANTED.

In every town there are Postmasters, Merchants, Mechanics, Farmers, Professional Men, and hundreds of people who will be glad to get this thrilling book. It is now having an unparalled sale; it sells at sight to all. Men and Women Agents making from $100 to $200 a month easily. We want an agent in every township in the U. S. and Canada. We give instructions so that ANY PERSON with this phenomenal selling book, can become a successful Agent. No Competition whatever. Agents are meeting with unparalleled success. Distance no hindrance, as we give Special Terms to pay Freights. Remember, we give you the exclusive sale of this book in territory assigned you. Write for our large Illustrated Circulars, containing full particulars, Special Terms to Agents, etc., sent free to all. Address immediately the Publishers,

WINTER & CO., SPRINGFIELD, MASS.
Formerly of Hartford, Conn.

The Sun.

The Best Newspaper in America, and by far the Most Readable.

Agents wanted everywhere to earn money in distributing the Sun's Premiums.

The most interesting and advantageous offers ever made by any Newspaper.

No Subscriber ignored or neglected. Something for all.

[illegible]

[illegible] Hop Plaster

[illegible] Sold everywhere, 25 cts., 5 for $1.00. Mailed for price by proprietors, Hop Plaster Company, Boston, Mass.

Look for the hop-vine wreath and signature of HOP PLASTER CO. on every genuine plaster. Beware of imitations and substitutions.

The Plonk family in Lincolntown in N. C. is longlived. Joseph is now 98 years old; his sister, Mrs. Tethrow, is 100 years, and Mrs. Weaver, another sister, is 102 years of age.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

A Bartlett (N. H.) man crawled under his house to make repairs, but got wedged so that the neighbors had to cut a hole in the floor to release him.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills,

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

H. Peter Jenkins, of Buffalo, recently made ten wills. After his death all of them were offered for probate.

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c., 50c. H. C. Giesler.

Mrs. Langtry's ten week's time this year have netted her $32,000, and her season isn't half over.

A Gift for All.

In order to give all a chance to test it, and thus be convinced of its wonderful curative powers, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, will be, for a limited time, given away. This offer is not only liberal, but shows unbounded faith in the merits of this great remedy. All who suffer from Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, or any affection of Throat, Chest, or Lungs, are especially requested to call at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store and get a Trial Bottle Free, Large Bottles $1.

One nail factory a Briefield, Ala, is shipping 500 kegs of nails daily.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Women are now employed as ticket agents at the stations on the Staten Island railroad.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

SCOTT'S EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Agents Wanted for the Great War Book
Just Published, entitled

THE SOLDIER IN OUR CIVIL WAR,
THE MOST COMPLETE AND INTERESTING
PICTORIAL HISTORY of the GREAT CONFLICT

Containing 160 MAMMOTH BATTLE SCENES, each 14¼ x 20 inches; 400 FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS, 9¼ x 14¼ inches; AND UPWARDS OF 500 PORTRAITS, MAPS AND BATTLE SCENES. By the great War Artists, Forbes, Waud, Taylor, Becker, Lovie, Schell, Crane, and others.

These Engravings were produced at a cost of over $100,000. The book gives a complete epitome of the Battles, Sieges, and Strategic Movements of the opposing armies, based upon the best authority, northern and southern, making an accumulation of reliable and unbiased historical facts not possible to be obtained in any of the histories written during the progress of or since the War.

The work is carefully edited from data obtained from the most authentic authorities, and the descriptions of battles, incidents, and historical facts are furnished by the leading Soldiers of both armies and includes biographies of the most noted Generals and Commanders.

A complete Chronological List of every skirmish, engagement, battle, and all important events, from the Election of Lincoln to the Grand Review at Washington.

[illegible]

[illegible]
To fall from a bicycle.
—Life.

His winter suit he proudly wore,
Then wrestled with the stovepipe slim;
It slipped, and Moses how he swore,
His winter soot had covered him!
—Tid-Bits.

"I want to be an angel,"
Said the singer, aged and solemn,
An editor in the audience said:
"Put an 'ad.' in our 'want column.'"
—Detroit Free Press.

A howling swell—An ulcerated tooth.—Burlington Free Press.

Don't fail to keep a diary. Keep it locked up in a trunk.—Oil City Derrick

It is curious but a man is called faster when he goes slow on food.—Boston Post.

Although the money market is tight, even the most rigid Prohibitionist would be glad to see it take a drop.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Weeping Water is the name of a Prohibition town in Nebraska. We think beer would be more likely to weep in a prohibition town.—Tid-Bits Wife, innocently—Is the base ball season over? Husband, petulantly—Of course. Look at the weather any fool ought to know that. Wife, sweetly—That's why I asked you, my dear—Washington Critic.

The ocean trip bride—I feel so sick, my dear; and if I should die and they bury me here, won't you sometimes come and plant flowers over my grave?—Judge.

"I've been on this road ten years," said he conductor on a Southern railroad to a passenger who complained of the slow time, "an' I know what I'm talking about." "Ten years, eh?" said the passenger. "What station did you get on at?"—Harper's Bazar.

Analogy: Young Deadbroke (to his landlady's pretty daughter)—"I wonder why your mother always gives me so many eggs for breakfast." She—"I don't know; but mother puts eggs in coffee to make it settle, and—" Deadbroke—"Say no more, I will pay up to-morrow."—Chicago Rambler.

Graves—"Did you ever notice that even the worst of men is spoken well of by people when he dies?" Merriman—"Yes, I've noticed it; but why do you ask me that?" Graves—"Oh, I merely remarked it." Merriman—"Is that all? I thought perhaps you were not feeling well."—Lowell Citizen.

Among the funny sights in society are the meetings between the baldheaded old beaux and the made-up old girls, as they have been going on for twenty years, and all chattering little bits of nonsense through false teeth with the certainty of knowing they are not humbugging each other much.—New Orleans Picayune.

"The great trouble with yon, John, is," said a lady to her husband who was suffering from the effects of the night before, "you cannot say 'No.' Learn to say 'No,' John, and you will have fewer headaches. Can you let me have a little money this morning?" "No," said John, with apparent ease.—Puck.

A compositor in an adjoining State is supposed to have died a violent death on the day before Christmas. The editor wrote "Old Gifts in New Lights," and it appeared in print "Old Girls in New Tights." The compositor is supposd to have mistaken the editorial for an article on the ballet.—Norristown Herald.

A writer on palmistry says "a soft hand has a lazy owner and a hard one means energy." A hard hand also means, when a father has his 8-year old son over his knee, a series of dismal howls.—Norristown Herald.

"Oh, Maud," said Clara, "Harry took me sleigh riding last night. I had such fun. I drove." "What was the matter of Harry?" "Stupid! He couldn't drive with his teeth, could he?"—New York Sun.

"It's an ill wind that blows no one good." A Nebraska man was carried forty miles by a cyclone and dropped in a widow's front yard. He married the widow and returned home worth about $30,000 more than when he started.—Boston Post.

Old gentleman (to messenger boy, who is running at the top of his speed) —"Great heavens, lad, what is the trouble? Messenger boy (breathlessly) —"Don't stop me, sir, don't stop me. I'm goin' to me dinner."—N. Y. Sun.

A Philadelphia paper has just been christened "The Sock." If the editor of it is not careful he will find himself darned by the public.—Albany Argus.

Do not despair of curing your sick-headache, when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

No Danger of Her Freezing.

"Why, what a mite of a sleigh you've got there, Algernon?" said Miss Fussanfeather as her fiance drove up with the cutter.

"Do you think so?"

"I certainly do. I hardly think there is room in it for me."

"Oh, yes, there is; I'll show you how nice I can squeeze you in it."

She went.—Yonkers Statesman.

How Long to Sleep.

Every one should have eight hours sleep, and pale, thin, nervous persons require ten, which should be taken regularly in a well ventilated room.

A hypodermic injection of nitro-glycerine will often revive persons in whom life seems extinct.

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are fidgety, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of liver and kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at Phillips' Drug Store.

A beautifully carved reindeer's horn is the latest relic of prehistoric man found in the caves of France.

[illegible]

[illegible]

1st: The [illegible] of the various medicinal agents used.

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequaled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

Unknown to Others

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared with the greatest skill and care, by pharmacists of education and long experience. Hence it is a medicine worthy of entire confidence. If you suffer from scrofula, salt rheum, or any disease of the blood, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, or kidney and liver complaints, catarrh or rheumatism, do not fail to try

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all my friends as the best blood purifier on earth." WM. GAFF, druggist, Hamilton, O.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of scrofulous humor, and done me worlds of good otherwise." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

A book containing many additional statements of cures will be sent to all who desire.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT
German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.	Ladies in delicate health, who are all rundown, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.
The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.	$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.
Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.	Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.
General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.	SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.
Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.	SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

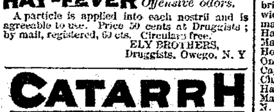
Send two 2c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c., &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper. ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM
CATARRH
CURES COLD IN HEAD
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
EASY TO USE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S, OWEGO, N.Y. U.S.A.
HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM Gives Relief at once and Cures Cold in Head, CATARRH, HAY FEVER. Not a Liquid, Snuff or Powder. Free from Injurious Drugs and Offensive odors.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM
CATARRH
CURES COLD IN HEAD
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S, OWEGO, N.Y. U.S.A.

HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the senses of taste and smell. 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check for $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation. The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers;—or Five Million Readers. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Ad. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 176 pages, GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St. New York.

[illegible]

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1887, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

[illegible]—At the Surrogate's office in [illegible] Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in January, March, May, June, September, November and December.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in April, July and October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on the last Thursday of April, July and September.

PARISH—At J. S. Ludington's law office, on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday in April, July and September.

F. DAVID, Surrogate.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Alice Hethington as administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. Mosher, Nellie Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis and Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 12th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Pardon C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego Co., N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October 15, 1886.—Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & RICE.
Plaintiff's Attorneys.
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

vered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
ove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
ut	4.65	2.45	1.35
o. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
gg	4.40	2.33	1.29
rate	4.40	2.33	1.29
a	3.65	1.95	1.10

Coal delivered to every part of the village Oswego Falls.

Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery ore.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE

NEW GOODS!

[illegible]

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Nellie E. Sears against John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington and Alice Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 5th, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y.

Yours &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty.,
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT.—County of Oswego.—ss. Perry M. Simons, vs. George H. Simons, Mrs. George H. Simons, Ruze B. VanBuren, Carrie VanBuren, Bruce M. VanBuren, Mamie VanBuren, Annie Reynolds Stewart, Walter Reynolds, Mrs. Walter Reynolds, Jeremiah M. Green, Martha H. Green, Lucretia Arnold, Henrietta Lee, William A. Lawrence, Mrs. William A. Lawrence, Byron E. Green, Alice Green, Stella Green Douglas, Sarah Lee, Seth Burgess, Polly Burgess, Helen M. Green, Amelia Johnson and Helen Simons.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 29th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To Jeremiah M. Green, Martha H. Green, Henrietta Lee, George H. Simons, Mrs. George H. Simons, and Anna Reynolds Stewart.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon John C. Churchill, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 8th day of December, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego County, at Oswego City, N. Y.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

By the Grace of God Free and Independent.

To Asa Chapman of [illegible], Oswego county, N. Y.; Chas. D. Herrington, Laura M. Wilcox, Anna Chapman, [illegible] Blake, George Blake, South Hannibal, Oswego County, N. Y.; Emeline King, Norman H. Haviland, Edgar O. Chapman, Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y.; [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 37

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY JANUARY 19, 1887. Single Copies Three Cents

A Gem for Every Month.

JANUARY.
By her, who in this month is born,
No gem save garnet should be worn,
They will ensure her constancy,
True friendship and fidelity.

FEBRUARY.
The February born will find
Sincerity and peace of mind,
Freedom from passion and from care.
If they the amethyst will wear.

MARCH.
Who on this world of ours their eyes
In March first open shall be wise,
In days of peril firm and brave,
And wear a Bloodstone to their grave.

APRIL.
She who from April dates years
Diamonds should wear, lest bitter tears
For vain repentance flow: this stone
Emblem of innocence is known.

MAY.
Who first beholds the light of day
In spring's sweet flow'ry month of May
And wears an emerald all her life
Shall be a loved and happy wife.

JUNE.
Who comes with summer to this earth,
And owes to June her day of birth,
With rings of agate on her hands,
Can health, wealth and long life command.

JULY.
The glowing ruby should adorn
Those who in warm July are born,
Then will they be exempt and free
From love's doubts and anxiety.

AUGUST.
Near a sardonyx, or for thee
No conjugal felicity;
The August born without this stone
'Tis said must live unloved and lone.

SEPTEMBER.
The maiden born when autumn leaves
Are rustling in September's breeze,
A sapphire on her brow should bind,
'Twill cure diseases of the mind.

OCTOBER.
October's child is born for woe,
And life's vicissitudes must know;
But lay an opal on her breast,
And hope will lull the woes to rest.

NOVEMBER.
Who first comes to this World below,
With drear November's fog and snow,
Should prize the topaz amber hue—
Emblem of friends and lovers true.

DECEMBER.
If cold December gave you birth,
The month of snow and ice and mirth,
Place on your hand a turquoise blue,
Success will bless whate'er you do.

The Old Country Store.

CHICAGO SUN.

How well I remember
  (Perhaps you do, too),
When the towns were much smaller,
  And the country was new.
How the mails came on horseback,
  Once a week, past our door,
And were straightway delivered,
  At the old country store.

There were dry goods and blankets,
  Mixed up with the news;
There was ready-made clothing,
  Hats and caps, boots and shoes;
There were large candy apples,
  Which were red to the core;
And fat candy babies
  At that old country store.

How often I ventured,
  While awaiting the mail,
To price the toy playthings
  I found there for sale.
There were no "Five-cent counters"
  In those glad days of yore;
And 'twas seldom I purchased
  At the old country store.

A cheap line of hardware
  Filled up the back end;
And a few crooken scythe-snaths,
  With a natural bend,
Were kept in a barrel,
  Which stood near the door;
With things large and small,
  In that old country store.

There were needles and thimbles,
  Horse-collars and cheese,
Tobacco and licorice,
  Live rats and brisk flies,
New Orleans molasses
  Almost too thick to pour,
All under one roof
  In that old country store.

"Laws grind the poor and rich men rule the law." But let us be thankful that any poor sufferer can buy with only 25 cents a bottle of Salvation Oil.

The enormous sale of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has developed many new remedies; but the people cling to the old reliable, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

THE PROPER THING.

Velvet is the fashionable fabric for full dress toilet.

Red continues to be a favorite color for evening toilets.

Velvet with lace effect in two tones is exceedingly rich.

Polonaises are seen on cloth and velvet combination dresses.

Plaids are a good deal worn; they are large and must be bias.

Plush is combined with velvet in the manufacture of bonnets.

Black glossy beaver round hats are fashionable for young women.

English raglans of fine gray check fit like ulsters and are very popular.

Style and comfort are combined in a large hood made of dark plush lined with satin.

For bonnets heliotrope continues to be the leading color, but will scarcely grow widely popular.

Very large plaids of blue and brown wool are combined with golden brown velvet for little girl's frocks.

Scarlet or English pink is in great favor for the cashmere dresses of little girls from three years old upward.

In handsome fabrics silk, plush, velvet and the richer woolen with velvet stripes, but little drapery is employed.

Toboggan caps of eider down, Jersey flannel, plush and velvet will be found comfortable as well as coquettishly charming.

Small girls with handsome hair, especially light hair, are wearing flowing tresses, but these tresses must not be crimped.

We think we can cure a bad case of backache quicker with one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters, than any other application, and after the Backache is cured, you can still wear the plaster without discomfort [illegible] longer. This [illegible]

STOPPING A PRIZE FIGHT.

Over in Wilmington one of the churches recently called a clergyman named Rev. Joseph Striker. In this city by a most unfortunate coincidence, there also resides a prominent prize fighter named Joseph Striker, and rumors were afloat a few weeks ago that the latter Joseph was about to engage in a contest with a Jersey pugilist for the championship. Our sheriff considered it his duty to warn Joseph against the proposed infriction of the laws, and so he dertermined to call upon the professor of the art of self-defense. Unhappily inquiring the way to the pugilist's house somebody misunderstood the sheriff and sent him to the residence of the Rev. Mr. Striker, of whom he had never heard. When Mr. Striker entered the room in answer to the summons, the sheriff said to him familiarly:

"Hello, Joe! How are you?"

Mr. Striker was amazed at the address, but he politely said:

"Good morning."

"Joe," said the sheriff, throwing his leg lazily over the arm of the chair, "I came round here to see about that mill with Patsy Dingus, that they're all talkabout. I want you to understand that it can't come off anywheres around here. You know well enough it's against the law, and I ain't going to have it."

"Mill! Mill! sir? What on earth do you mean?" asked Mr. Striker, in astonishment. I do not own any mill, sir. Against the law! I do not understand you, sir."

"Now, see here, Joe," said the sheriff, biting off a piece of tobacco, and looking very wise, "that won't go down with me it's pretty thin, you know. I know well enough that you have put up $1,500 on that little affair, and that you've got the whole thing fixed with Bill Martin for referee. I know you are going down to Pea Patch Island to have it out, and I'm not going to allow it. I'll arrest you as sure as a gun, if you try it on, now mind me.

"Really, sir" said Mr. Striker, "there must be some mistake about——

"Oh, no, there isn't; your name's Joe Striker, isn't it?" asked the sheriff.

"My name is Joseph Striker, certainly."

"I know it said the sheriff, spitting on the carpet, "and you see I've got this thing dead to rights. It shan't come off and I'm doing you a favor in blocking the game, because Patsy'd curl you all up and sicken you any way if I let you meet him. I know he's the best man, and you'd just lose your money and get all banged up besides; so you take my advice, now, and quit. You'll be sorry if you don't."

"I do not know what you are referring to," said. "Your remarks are incomprehensible to me, but your tone is very offensive, and if you have any business with me I'd thank you to state it at once."

"Joe," said the sheriff, looking at him with a benign smile, "you play it mighty well. Anybody'd think you were innocent as a lamb. But won't work, Joseph—it won't work, I tell you. I've got a duty to perform, and I'm going to do it, and I pledge you my word if you and Dingus don't knock off now, I'll grab you and send you up for ten years as sure as death. I'm in earnest about it."

What do you mean, sir?" asked Mr. Striker, fiercely.

"Oh, don't go to putting on any airs about it. Don't you try any strutting before me said the sheriff, or I'll put you under bail this afternoon. Let's see, how long were you in jail the last time? Two years, wasn't it? Well, you go fighting with Dingus, and you will get ten years sure."

"You are certainly crazy!" exclaimed Mr. Strtker.

"I don't see what you want to stay at that business for, anyhow," said the sheriff, "Here you are in a snug home where you might live in peace and keep respectable. But you must associate with low characters, and go to stripping yourself half naked, and jumping into a ring to get your nose blooded, and your head swelled, and your body hammered to a jelly, and all for what? Why, for a championship! It's ridiculous. What good will it do you if you are champion? Why don't you try to be honest and decent, and let prize fighting alone?

"This is the most extraordinary conversation I ever listened to," said Mr. Striker. You evidently take me for a——"

"I take you for Joe Striker, and if you keep on I will take you to jail," said the sheriff, with emphasis. "Now, you tell me who's got those stakes, and who's your trainer, and I'll put an end to the whole thing."

"You seem to imagine that I'm a pugilist," said Mr. Striker. "Let me inform you, sir, that I am a clergyman."

"Joe," said the sheriff, shaking his head, "it's too bad for you to lie that way—too bad indeed."

"But I am a clergyman, sir—pastor of the church of St. Sepulcher. Look. Here is a letter addressed to me."

"You don't really mean to say that you are a preacher named Joseph Striker?" exclaimed the Sheriff, looking scared.

"Certainly I am. Come up stairs and I'll show you a barrelful of my sermons."

"Well if this don't beat the old Nebuchadnezzar!" said the sheriff. "This is just awful! I mistook you for Joe Striker, the prize-fighter! I don't know how I ever a preacher! Insufferable Abraham! what an ass I have made of myself! I don't know how to apologize but if you want to kick me down the front steps, just kick away, I'll bear it like an angel!"

Then the sheriff withdrew [illegible]

The Speakership.

The following, prepared by Will L. Lloyd for the Daily Press and Knickerbocker, shows how the honor conferred by the speakership of the assembly has been divided among the counties of the state in the past:

The speakership has gone to New York county 27 times; Albany, 13; Oswego, 7; Rensselaer, 5; Orange, 5; Montgomery, 5; Westchester, 5; Onondaga, 5; Saratoga, 3; Delaware, 3.

Dutchess, Herkimer, Kings, Livingston, Otsego, St. Lawrence, Suffolk, Tompkins, Ulster, Warren and Washington, each twice.

Alleghany, Broome, Chemung, Chenango, Columbia, Franklin, Jefferson, Niagara, Oneida, Ontario, Orleans, Schenectady, Steuben and Wyoming, each one.

The following counties have never had a representative elected to preside as speaker: Catteraugus, Cayuga, Chautaugua, Clinton, Cortland, Erie, Essex, Fulton and Hamilton, Genesee, Green, Lewis, Madison, Monroe, Putnam, Queens, Richmond, Rockland, Schoharie, Schuyler Seneca, Sullivan, Tioga, Wayne and Yates.

Love thy neighbor as thyself, and when you see one with a bad cough advise him to buy a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

There is nothing in the world which will give prompter relief to all sufferers from neuralgia than Salvation Oil. Price only 25 cents a bottle.

Slightly Anatomical, but Still—

Daughter—Father, did you really kick George, as you threatened to do?

Old Man—I did.

Daughter—Oh, father, how could you? You have broken his heart.

Old Man—No, I haven't. I didn't come anywhere near his heart.

Every day adds to the great amount of evidence as to the curative powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Letters are continually being received from all sections of the country, telling of the benefits derived from this great medicine. It is unequalled for general debility, and as a blood purifier, expelling every trace of scrofula or other impurity. Now is the time to take it. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & Co.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

MRS. LESAGE,
26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

The deepest gold mine in the world is in California, says a floating item, but that's a mistake. The deepest gold mine in the world is a true wife's loving heart. No man ever got to the bottom of it yet.—Sometville Journal.

"That Miss Jones is a nice-looking girl, isn't she?"

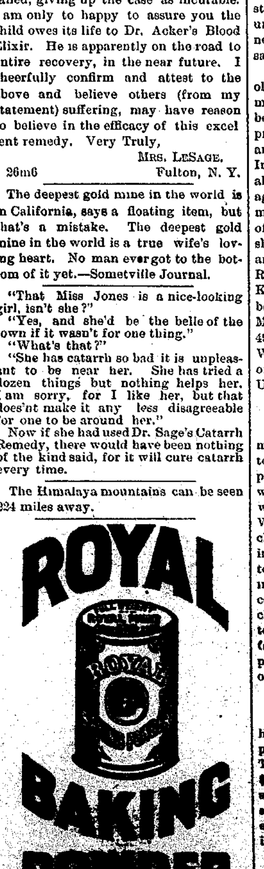
"Yes, and she'd be the belle of the town if it wasn't for one thing."

"What's that?"

"She has catarrh so bad it is unpleasant to be near her. She has tried a dozen things but nothing helps her. I am sorry, for I like her, but that does'nt make it any less disagreeable for one to be around her."

Now if she had used Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, there would have been nothing of the kind said, for it will cure catarrh every time.

The Himalaya mountains can be seen 224 miles away.



[illegible]

An Old Beggar and Her Cats.

Fifty cats, 5,000,000 roaches and one old beggar woman were joint occupants of a mean little dingy room in the rear of No. 48 Hamilton street up to a recent evening, when the old woman went out—where, nobody knows. She left her cats at home and they had the busiest sort of a catawauling for a time. Hunger came among them and then followed a struggle for life. The brutes became savage and the neighbors could not stand their noise. It was impossible to look through the grimy window. The door was locked, and through the next night not a person in the vicinity slept a wink. Another day passed, but the old hag with the key did not come, and then the police were called upón. They broke in the door. A dozen cats rushed out, but the majority of the felines slunk into corners and prepared for a siege. In the centre of the room stood a big, dirty stove. Upon this a policeman hung a wad of burning paper which terrified the animals and they rushed out into the obscurity of the damp backyard. On the floor lay the remains of a dozen dead cats upon whose carcasses the other felines had feasted. It was evident that no Board of Health inspector had ever put his foot in the room. The strolling beggar had gone up and down the city streets sorting over the ash bins and garbage barrels and tidbits for her cats. She threw down two rank pillows upon the floor and so made up her bed. Her cats lay about her. The hovel was barely ten feet square and for it the old woman had paid $2 per month rent. A man was hired to clean the room, and while he was at work the live cats of the colony gathered about the door clawing and insisting in most pronounced cat fashion upon an entrance. Nobody knows who the old woman is or where she has gone.—New York World.

Got Even with the Humorist.

Mark Twain was traveling in a car on the New York and New Haven road a short time ago with two clerical friends whose company he is particularly fond of. The three sat together in the car, and only an expert could have distinguished Mark from the clergymen. The three heads were bent to a focus while Mark was relating one of his pilgrimage experiences, when a fourth head was unsteadily inserted in the circle and a boozy though sympathetic face was upturned to listen. The head was gently shoved aside and the three resumed their pow-wow. Again the ruby tipped nose was inserted and again it was shut out. When for a third time the head appeared, unabashed like a jack-in-the-box, Mark lost his patience, and hunching up his broad shoulder he slid the head back along the top of the seat, remarking, gravely: "My friend, we are settling a delicate doctrinal point touching damnation, and we want you to keep your head out of danger." As he drawled out the last word the drunken head fell over the end of the seat-back with an emphasis that made its teeth rattle, but the owner soon lifted it and stuck it back in the ring, murmuring, plaintively: "Why, deacon, you don't seem to care a —— for my soul !"

The South in the Union Army.

According to Felix A. Reeve, a correspondent in The North American Review, the southern and border slave states furnished over 350,000 white volunteer soldiers for the Union army and nearly 100,000 colored troops for the same service.

Turning first to Delaware, among the old slave states, we learn with amazement that she furnished a larger numbea of soldiers for the Union army, in proportion to military population, than any other state of the national Union! In 1860 this heroic little state had only about 18,000 white males between the ages of 18 and 45, yet she sent 13,670 men into the Union army, or 75 per cent. of her available streugth. New Hampshire contributed 54 per cent.; Vermont and Massachusetts, 58 each; Maine, 58; Rhode Island, 66; Illinois and Ohio, 69; Kansas, 72 and Indiana, 74. The other border states did almost as creditably. Maryland furnished the Union cause 49 per cent.; Kentucky, 44; Missouri, 47; West Virginia, 48; and Tennessee, one of the seceded states, furnished to the Union cause over 35,000 white soldiers.

The Two Extremes.

The characteristics of New York rich men are illustrated by two incidents told by the New York Times: "I have put your name in my will and you will get $10,000 when I die." This was the Christmas surprise that a Wall street man gave his confidential clerk. And he added this: "Now, I'm in pretty good health and don't intend to die very soon, so I will help you out in the meantime by paying you six per cent. interest on the amount. Here's a check for $600 to pay the first year's interest." Another: A millionaire of family invested just $11 in Christmas presents, and the $11 included the cost of a $8 hat that he gave himself.

N. Y. Savings Banks.

The savings banks of New York state have $475,000,000 on deposit, and a surplus above all liabilities of $85,000,000. The Massachusetts savings banks have $291,000,000 in deposits and $5,000,000 surplus. That sort of statement doesn't suit communistic and anarchistic howlers. Too many laborers have interests in these institutions.—Inter-Ocean.

Wall Street Reverses.

A man whose name would have been good on a check for $2,000,000 not long ago spent two hours in the back office of a Wall street broker one day last week waiting to get the chance to borrow $10 from one who used to be his clerk. Speculation had brought him poverty and made the clerk a millionaire, all [illegible]

26,587,335

BOTTLES OF

Warner's SAFE Cure

Sold to Dec. 27, 1886.

No Other Remedy in the World Can Produce Such a Record.

This wonderful success of "Warner's Safe Cure" is due wholly to the real merit of the Remedy. For a long time it has been REGARDED BY THE HIGHEST MEDICAL AUTHORITIES AS THE ONLY SPECIFIC FOR KIDNEY, LIVER AND URINARY DISEASES AND FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Thousands of people owe their life and health to "Warner's Safe Cure" and we can produce 100,000 TESTIMONIALS to that effect.

Read the following and note the large number of bottles distributed. We guarantee these figures to be correct, as our sales-books will prove.

Boston, - - 1,149,122

E. D. CROSSMAN, (Brocton, N. Y.), was a victim of annoying bladder disorder. He consulted a number of first-class physicians without benefit. He says, "I would gladly have paid any physician $100 could he have done what a few bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure did for me. I continued its use until I am thoroughly cured and am to-day perfectly free from all urinary troubles."

Providence, - 171,929

MRS. ELLEN DEGRAFF (Amsterdam, N. Y.), was an invalid for twelve years, and lived for five months on milk and brandy. The doctors said there was no hope for her. She was troubled with blood-tumor and dropsy. After a thorough course of treatment with Warner's SAFE Cure, she says, "I am better than since my girlhood, and to it I owe my life."

Portland, Me., - 441,105

H. B. KINNEY (Prop. Weldon House, Earlville, N. Y.), began to decline in 1875 from Bright's Disease, but after using thirty-five bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure, was a well man once more." A year after was prostrated with a severe cold; rapidly grew worse. A council of physicians could do him no good. Did not pass water for four days. Doctors failing, resumed the use of Warner's SAFE Cure, and was again thoroughly restored to health.

Bal. of New Eng. - 441,753

W. B. BARGY (Rochester, N. Y), in 1883 had a 7 year old daughter who complained of blindness. She then wasted wway to a skeleton; a hard swelling appeared on her left side which nearly equaled her head in size. The doctors gave all sorts of causes, but she kept growing worse. Upon the advice of Prof. Lattimore, State Chemist, he says, "we began to use Warner's SAFE Cure, and to-day she is one of the healthiest and most vigorous of children."

New York State - 3,870,773

Pennsylvania, - 1,821,218

THOS. BEMISH (75 Hampshire St., Buffalo, N. Y.), in 1881 contracted a cold which settled in his kidneys, and laid him up for some time. After using five bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure, however, he says, "I have never had a return of the complaint and am to-day strong and well."

Chicago, - 2,808,693

CAPT. W. D. ROBINSON (United States Marine Insp., Buffalo, N. Y.), in 1885 was suffering with a skin humor like leprosy. Could not sleep; was in great agony. For two years tried everything without benefit. Was pronounced incurable. Twenty bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure completely cured me, and to-day I am strong and well." (Feb. 5, 1885.)

Detroit, - - 846,946

REV. BENJ. F. HALL)New Castle, N. Y.), suffered for a year from Malaria and disordered kidneys. He lost 30 pounds of flesh, and suffered great pain in the back, depriving him of sleep and appetite. Under the operation of Warner's SAFE Cure he was restored to health and able to return to his work.

Milwaukee, - 458,894

THOMAS R. L. MILLS (248 Raymond St., Brooklyn, N. Y.), in 1875 taken sick with Bright's Disease. The doctors failed to help him, and after using Warner's SAFE Cure for a year he writes (Dec. 1886), "Warner's SAFE Cure has cured me permantly."

Minnesota, - 648,017

REV. P. H. CARVER (North Bergen, Genesee Co. N. Y.), prostrated with Rheumatism and could not be cured by any expedient of the doctor. After a thorogh course of treatment with Warner's SAFE Cure has had no Rheumatism for six years. His age is 76.

Bal. N. W. States, 1,767,149

ASK YOUR FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS ABOUT

WARNER'S SAFE CURE.

THE MOST POPULAR REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED.

Cleveland, - 682,632

FAYETTE HASKILL (Lockport, N. Y.), had lain on his back for ten years. often could not walk without a cane. Was troubled with retention of water, which was full of sediment. suffered tortures. "Warner's Safe Cure effectively and permanently cured me."

Cincinnati - 873,667

EX-GOV. T. G. ALVORD. (Syracuse, N. Y.), in 1884 began running down with General Debility, accompanied with a sense of weight in the lower part of the body, with a feverish sensation and a general giving out of the whole organism. Was in serious condition, confined to his bed much of the time. After a thorough treatment with Warner's SAFE Cure he says: "I am completely restored to health by its means."

Bal. Ohio (State) - 633,158

MRS. J. J. BAYNE (52 Lake Avenue, Rochester, N. Y.), in 1882 was taken to Clifton Springs Sanitarium with Congestion of the Liver and Rush of Blood to the Head; purple spots; extreme stomach disorder, and all the serious disorders known as female complaints. The Sanitarium doctors said she was worst case they ever saw. Lost forty pounds of flesh in two months. Suffered with intense headache and was unable to sleep. After a thorough course of treatment with Warner's SAFE Cure she says, "I never was so healthy."

Southern States, - 1,584,017

GEN. H. D. WALLEN (144 Madison Ave., New York), scarcely able to walk two blocks without exhastion, and, having lost flesh heavily, began the use of Warner's SAFE Cure and says: "I was much benefitted by it."

Canada, - 1,467,824

St. Louis - 1,530,527

D. M. DEWEY (Rochester, N. Y.), suffered for many years with Sugar Diabetes, his doctor being unable to benefit him. He then began to use Warner's SAFE Diabetes Cure. and after a thorough treatment wrote, "I find myself cured."

Kansas City - 717,760

C. D. DEWEY (Batava, N. Y., President Johnson Harvester Co.), was thoroughly run down in health, and seemed likely never to recover. He grew no better under any other treatment until he began the use of Warner's SAFE Cure, which he says "has cured me."

Bal. S. W. States - 746,789

W. H. WINTON (Business Mngr. Kingston, N. Y., Freeman), reported the case of a friend who was cured of Bright's Disease of the Kidneys when there was "no hope for him," by his physician secretly prescribing, in a bottle of his own, "Warner's SAFE Cure. Thousands of physicians effect cures of this dangerous disorder who are not frank enough to give the credit to Warner's SAFE Cure, which does the work.

San Francisco, - 1,242,946

MRS. THOS. SCHMIDT (Wife of the Vice-Counsul of Denmark, 69 Wall St., New York) reported that her little son, after an attack of Diphtheritic Sore Throat eight years ago, was afflicted with Bright's Disease, in advanced form; by the advice of Gen'l Christiansen, of Drexel, Morgan & Co., Bankers, New York, she prescribed Warner's SAFE Cure, with the consent of the physicians, and reports "the physicians say that he will be perfectly well.

Bal. Pacific Coast - 732,816

☞ Every Testimonial we publish is genuine. Write to the testators, enclosing stamp for reply, and learn for yourselves.

[illegible]

NEW HARNESS SHOP.

The Undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has opened a New Harness Shop and is prepared to do all kinds of

REPAIRING

—ON—

HARNESS, TRUNKS, BUGGY TOPS, CUSHIONS, &C. &C.,

☞ As Cheap as the Cheapest. ☜

HARNESS

OF ALL GRADES MADE TO ORDER.

A share of public patronage solicited.
Give us a Call,
C. W. BROWN,
CAYUGA ST., OPPOSITE MIDLAND DEPOT.

SALESMEN WANTED!

We are in want of a few more good men to canvass for the sale of choice varieties of Nursery Stock. To men who can make a success of the business we can pay good salaries or commission and give permanent employment. We have many new and choice specialties both in the fruit and ornamental line which others do not handle.

Address at once, with references,
MAY BROTHERS,
NURSERYMEN,
31w6 Rochester, N. Y.

1886.

New York Weekly Herald

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

GREATEST AND CHEAPEST

FAMILY JOURNAL

IN THE UNITED STATES.

Always Bright and Reliable.

Every Number an Epitome of the News of the World.

The Foreign Department.

Is unequaled. Latest and most accurate Cable Specials by the

Commercial Cables,

Fullest Telegraphic Reports of all Current Events

Special Features.

Practical Farming; Articles on Science, Art, Literature, the Drama, Music, Art, Religion, Fashion and Chess.

INFORMATION ON ALL SUBJECTS.
Address,
JAMES GORDON BENNETT,
NEW YORK HERALD,
29w2 New York City.

THE BEST AMERICAN NEWSPAPER

THE TIMES is a Newspaper for intelligent men and women.

It concerns itself as little as possible with the froth or the dregs of life, and aims to give its readers something more attractive and profitable than a daily chronicle of human follies and frailties.

The really important, wholesome, and interesting news of the day is presented with unsurpassed completeness and accuracy by THE TIMES.

Voters, whatever their party or their politics will find THE TIMES of great value for the fullness of its information and the frankness of its comment upon public affairs; and THE TIMES has abundant evidence that its treatment of leading issues of the day meets with increasing approval.

The WEEKLY edition of THE TIMES contains all the current news condensed from the dispatches and reports of the daily edition, besides literary matter, discussions upon agricultural topics by practical farmers, full and accurate market reports of prices for farm produce, live stock, &c. and a carefully prepared WEEKLY WOOL MARKET.

No other New-York Newspaper so completely meets the wants of country readers.

Terms to Mail Subscribers Postpaid.

DAILY, exclusive of Sunday, per year......$6.00
DAILY, including Sunday, per year.........7.50
SUNDAY ONLY, per year.........1.50
DAILY, 6 months, with Sunday.........3.75
DAILY, 6 months, without Sunday.........3.00
DAILY, 1 month, with or without Sunday...75

THE WEEKLY TIMES.

SINGLE COPIES, one year.........$1.00
TEN COPIES, and one free for club.........10.00
SUBSCRIPTION, for six months.........50

TERMS CASH IN ADVANCE. These prices are invariable. We have no traveling agents. Remit in drafts on New-York, Postal Notes, or Post Office Money Orders, if possible; and where neither of these can be procured send the money in a registered letter. Sample copies sent free. Address

THE NEW-YORK TIMES,
New-York City.

—IF YOUR—

HORSE IS LAME

USE DR. J. S. MARKHAM'S

"Spavin Cure."

—IF HE HAS—

Sore Feet or Contracted Hoofs,

Use Dr. J. S. Markham's

FOUNDER OINTMENT.

☞ They are a sure cure. For sale at the DRUG STORES.

31m6

MONEY to be made. Cut this out and return to us, and will send you free, something of great value and importance to you, that will start you in business which will bring you in more money right away than anything else in this world. Anyone can do the work and live at home. Either sex. All ages. Something new that just coins money for all workers. We will start you; capital not needed. This is one of the genuine, important chances of a lifetime. Those who are ambitious and enterprising will not delay. Grand outfit free.
33y1 Address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Me.

MASON & HAMLIN

UNRIVALED ORGANS

[illegible]

UPRIGHT PIANOS.

[illegible]

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.

[illegible]

YOU [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
32 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.

Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

COAL.

—GO TO

LEWIS' COAL YARD,

OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ ton	¼ to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE

NEW GOODS!

NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,

—OF THE—

LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

☞ Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

LUMBER! LUMBER.

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

O. RUST.

37tf

C. F. HANCOCK,

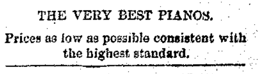
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.

—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—

Decker Brothers' Matchless Pianos.

THE VERY BEST PIANOS.

Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.



SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

Is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. It is strictly a medicine to be given with food. Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. It cures chicken cholera and all diseases of hens. Is worth its weight in gold. Illustrated book by mail free. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail for 25 cents in stamps. 2¼-lb. tin cans, $1; by mail, $1.20. Six cans by express, prepaid, for $5.00. DR. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM
[illegible]

HINDERCORNS.

[illegible]

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! [illegible]

[illegible] of New [illegible]. He was [illegible]. It is probable [illegible] of his class will soon follow in the footsteps of Jaehne and [illegible].

THE case of Rev. Dr. McGlynn pastor of St. Stephen's Roman Catholic church in New York city is causing great trouble among the Catholics and laboring circles of that city and the end is not yet. Read an account of this in our New York Letter.

THE Syracuse Evening Herald celebrated the tenth anniversary of its existance on Saturday last. It enters upon its eleventh year with over 10,000 daily circulation and the reputation of being one of the leading, energetic and reliable journals of this section of the state.

IN the death of Gen. W. B. Hazen which occurred at Washington, Sunday night, the government loses the head of the National Signal Service Bureau, and and this loss will be severely felt. Gen. Hazen was a graduate of West Point. He served with distinction in the late war and has been Chief Signal officer in Washington for over six years. His wife and only son are now in Paris.

SPEAKER HUSTED announced the standing committees of the House last Wednesday evening. Of these committees, Assemblyman Howe is chairman of the committee on public printing, on the judiciary, petitions of aliens and the sub-committee of the whole. Assemblyman Ainsworth of the second district was made chairman of the general laws committee, is on ways and means and canals. Oswego county is therefore well represented.

THE United States senatorial contest has been a triangular fight as it was clearly seen that it would be, with Miller and Morton the leading candidates and Hiscock following with a smaller number. A number of our county politicians were in Albany working in the interest of Morton and also a nmmber for Miller. The first ballot was taken Monday evening. It stood Miller 44, Morton 35, Hiscock 12. Senator Sloan and Assemblyman Ainsworth voting for Miller and Assemblyman Howe voting for Hiscock. There were three absentees at the session but one was claimed by each candidate so that their absence probably made no material difference. A second ballot was then taken which resulted in Miller getting 44, Morton 36, Hiscock 11. The caucus then adjourned until last evening. The caucus re assembled last evening. A ballot was taken which resulted as follows: Miller 45, Morton 36, Hiscock 11, Davis of Oneida changing from Hiscock to Miller. This shows that Miller lack but three votes of securing the required number, 48 being necessary. A second ballot was then taken and showed no change in the figures. After some debate an adjournment was made until this evening at 8 o'clock. The Syracuse Standard this morning claims that Morton is virtually out of the race, that while his supporters remain firm it is impossible for him to secure more votes. While the chances are that Miller will secure the three votes necessary for his nomination. There is a possibility that the present deadlock will be broken by a compromise candidate.

Montreal Carnival.

The Montreal Winter Carnival Feb. 7 to 12, 1887. Will be the winter event of the American continent. The novelties and attractions will surpass those of any proceeding carnival. The toboggan slides will be open day and evening to all visitors, and illuminated every evening with fireworks, electric lights and bonfires. The skating rinks will be open day and evening with military bands in attendance, and there will be a grand fancy dress carnival in which visitors are invited to join. The snow shoes, club house, concert hall and gymnasium will be open to all visitors. The various clubs will give races, tramps, and bounces, for the amusement of visitors. The Ice Castle, covering an area of 14,000 feet, will be of entirely new design with a tower rising over 100 feet. It will contain an extensive exhibition of the agricultural and other products of the Dominion.

The attack on the castle and its defense by the garrison is the finest spectacle to be seen anywhere in the world. The street parade will be magnificent and is intended to have a winter Mardi Gras procession of ancient and modern equipages, platform cars filled by representative clubs, presenting fantastic scenes. Grand ice structures will be erected in various parts of Montreal, and the city will be illuminated by electric light. The R. W. & O. R. R. will make the exceedingly low rates of ($6.00) six dollars from any station on its lines to Montreal and return. Tickets by five different routes will be good for the carnival week.

John Cassidy was arrested in Oswego Falls last Saturday by an asst. deputy sheriff of Madison county for some offense. Justice Shannon refused to allow the officer to take Cassidy without an examination. This we understand resulted in a little "set to" between the officer and Justice Shannon in which more than words were used as persuasive arguments. A settlement was ultimately reached, however, and the officer departed for Madison county with the prize.

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

D. C. Draper, No. 34 First St., has an entire new stock of groceries on 1st floor and a fine line of crockery, some new and the balance the uninjured crockery from the Oneida St. store, and in basement of same store he has all the damaged Groceries, Crockery, China Tea and Chamber Setts, Lamps &c., (from the old store on Oneida St.) which he now offers for sale, the poorest at your own price, and the balance at a very low price. Remember the place in basement of New store, opposite Clark [illegible].

[illegible] your laundry work done at Ying [illegible] corner of First and Oneida streets [illegible] has been in Fulton over a year [illegible] always turned out his [illegible] and expeditiously, his business [illegible] increased. Do not [illegible]

[illegible] aged 88 years [illegible] of the town of [illegible] years. The funeral services which were to have been held yesterday have been postponed until Friday at 1 p. m. They will be held at the house with the Rev. W. Dempster Chase officiating. She leaves two sons, M. P. Schenck of this village, and M. B. Schenck of New Haven, Conn., Mrs. Markley of Iowa, Mrs. Brackett of Hannibal and Miss Alice Schenck, all of whom are present to pay the last rites to the deceased.

At a meeting of Oswego Falls Chatauquans at Miss Olive Carter's, Monday evening, Jan. 17th, 1887, the following resolutions were passed regarding the death of Mrs. Hannah Schenck.

Whereas death has suddenly removed one of our number in the person of our aged friend, Mrs. Hannah Schenck, therefore,

Resolved, That we deplore her loss, that we shall miss her hospitality, her counsel and encouragement, and at coming meetings of our circle, the shadow of her presence will be with us.

Resolved, That we appreciate the worth of her long life, the strength of her character, her goodness of heart, and the brightness of her mind which was undimmed by age.

Resolved, That we extend our sympathy to the relatives of the deceased, and especially to our co-worker, Miss Alice Schenck, who we trust will be sustained by her faith in Him who is the Resurrection and the Life.

EMMA B. BOYD Vice-Prest.

Herman LeRoy Sanford died at his home, two miles east of this village, last Wednesday, Jan. 12th, of typhoid fever, after an illness of 10 days. He was born in Warren, Herkimer Co., Sept. 1, 1809. When twenty-two years of age he married Phebe Warren of the same town, and soon afterwards, removed with his father, Joseph Sanford to the farm where he spent the remainder of his life, excepting a part of the year 1850 which be passed at Holmesville of this county. By his first marriage six children were born unto him, one of whom died in infancy. Those who survive him are Mrs. F. M. Getman of Picton, Canada, Mrs. W. S. Crandall, Mrs. Chas. R. Clark, Miss Mary E. Sanford and R. M. Sanford of this place. His first wife died March 21st, 1879, and he married the widow of Rev. Jas. Wilson, Sept. 11th, 1883. She survives him.

Died at the residence of her daughter, in Spring Bluff, Ill., Jan. 8, 1887, Mrs. Catherine Meacham aged 79 years and 3 months. She was the last surviving sister of G. C. Bartley of Lower Oswego Falls, N. Y.

Summer Homes on the New York, Ontario and Western Railway.

The Ontario and Western Railway will issue, early in the spring, their popular "Summer Homes" for the season of 1887.

This publication gives a description of the towns along the line; the character of the country, the altitude above the sea, and all the information sought after by city boarders, together with a full and complete list of those desiring boarders, giving the attractions of their houses, rates, distance from the station, etc., etc.

Last season the company printed 30,000 copies and distributed them in New York, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Newark, Philadelphia, etc., among those people seeking country board.

Those having accommodations for summer boarders will find no better medium for putting the advertisement of their houses before those looking for desirable "Summer Homes."

Blank applications for inserting such advertisements may be obtained of the nearest station agent of the Ontario and Western Railway, or of J. C. Anderson, General Passenger Agent; 18 exchange Place, New York.

BE YOUR OWN DOCTOR.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2 cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates, from life on disease, its cause and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

George Crompton, late proprietor of the Crompton loom works of Worcester, Mass., left an estate appraised at $438,600 real and $158,500 personal.

Elsewhere in this issue we present a large advertisement of H. H. Warner & Co., setting forth the fact that up to December 27, 1886, they had sold the enormous amount of 26,587,335 bottles of "Warner's SAFE Cure" in North America alone, to say nothing of the European and Australian trade. These figures seem almost incrediable, but coming as they do from a house so well known and honorable, we feel safe in attesting to their truthfulness. "Warner's SAFE Cure has certainly been a great boon to the suffering, and its success has depended altogether upon its own merits. For Kidney, Liver, Blood and Urinary trouble, and especially for Female Complaints, its equal was never known, and for this reason it deserves all the praise that it receives.

LOST.

A first-class Cold, by using Higging's T. & C. Compound, the popular Cough and Croup remedy. Only 25 cents a bottle.

Geo. H. Niver, lecturer for the Grand Lodge of Good Templars of New York is lecturing in different towns of this county this week.

The well-known strengthening properties of Iron, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body and improve the blood and complection.

Miss Winnie Davis, daughter of Jefferson Davis, who has been visiting in Syracuse for the past month returns to her home in Beauvoir this week. She expresses herself much pleased with her visit to the north.

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk and easily digested. Delicate people improve rapidly with its use. For Consumption, Throat affections and [illegible] it is unequaled. [illegible]

[illegible] to consider the bill consistency of the act establishing a bureau of animal industry, and the house has succeeded in elevating the Agricultural Department to Executive importance. So, when the Senate concurs, the Commissioner of Agriculture will have a seat in the Cabinet, and his wife will assist at the White House receptions on State occasions.

There will also be in the Department of Agriculture a division that shall be under the charge of a Commissioner of Labor, who shall hold his office for four years, and receive a salary of $5,000 a year. His business shall be to collect information upon the subject of labor, its relation to capital, the hours of labor, the rate of wages, the cost of production of the articles produced, the earnings of the laboring men and women, the means of promoting their material, social, intellectual and moral prosperity, and the best means of protecting life and preventing accidents in mines, workshops, factories, and other places of industry.

The Secretary of Agriculture is empowered by the bill just passed, to inquire into the causes of discontent, which may exist between employers and employes within the United States, and he may invite and hear sworn statements from both such parties concerning matters in controversy.

Another important step has been taken in the Permanent Exposition movement. The Senatorial committee on this subject have reported in favor of commemorating the great Constitutional Centennial in 1889, and very properly Washington has been selected as the place for holding it. The committee has not yet reported upon the manner of the proposed celebration, or in regard to the Quadri-Centennial of 1892, but the action now taken furnishes sufficient assurance that the entire program, as contemplated by the Board of Promotion and including its exposition features, will receive the indorsement of Congress.

There are a number of absentees from the Senate Chamber during these exciting days of Senatorial contests. Senators Conger and McMillan have not returned from their fruitless errands to secure re-election. Senator Sewell is at New Jersey's capital, looking after his fences. Senators Miller and Van Wyck are in New York and Nebraska respectively, looking after their interests, Senators Voorhees and Harrison are in Indianapolis marshalling the opposing forces, and Senator Maxey went to Texas in pusurit of Congressman Reagan. The race of these rivals caused some amusement.

Senator Maxey heard of Mr. Reagan's departure about twenty minutes after the latter's train had steamed away from the station, and immediately he ordered his trunk and engaged sleeping car accommodations to Austin. Mr. Reagan had about three hours the start, but as he took the Virginia Midland, and Senator Maxey the St. Louis route, it became not only a race for the Senatorship, but a lively race, as well, to see which would be the first to enter the Legislature on opening day.

The House of Representatives was much stirred up over the Anti-Polygamy bill. When it came up for consideration on Wednesday, the delegate from Utah, Mr. Caine, took the floor in a long speech which commanded the closest attention. He said the measure was undemocratic, un-American, and wantonly destructive of human rights; that it set at naught the immutable principles upon which the common rights of man were founded, and turned the Mormons and their church over to insatiable spoilers. Delegate Caine attracted the whole House around him and excited the interest of the galleries during his spirited defense of the Salt Lake hierarchy.

There was a good deal of difference of among members touching the constitutionality of the Mormon bill. It proposes to extinguish what is known as the Mormon church, and scatter and divide its property among those who do not believe in its tenets or practices. Some Members argued that the Constitution, which prohibits the establishment of any church or form of religion, was to be invoked to disestablish and extirpate an objectional creed, and that this was striking rather to deeply at the roots of religious freedom. Others argued that it was useless to call this bill an assault upon a religion. It was an assault upon a band of men organized for the purpose of exclusively controlling a territory which belonged to the people of the United States, and which should be free to all.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign o the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.

24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

Mrs. Harriet Van Auken who murdered her husband in Parish, this county, in July 1887 lies on a cot in the Onondaga penitentiary at the point of death with cancer.

BLACKSMITH'S.

We keep on hand a stock of first class smith's coal which we are selling at $4.50.

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

Quick, Safe, Sure.

Why suffer aches, pains and agony in limbs, back and breast when for 25 cents you can be cured by VANDUSEN'S READY REMEDY. One bottle will prove its value. A remedy that should be in every family. It acts like magic. Cures sprains, wounds, cramps, sore throat. Try a bottle.

VAN DUSEN BROS., Kingston, N. Y.

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER.

16tf 28 First st.

Humors,

Erysipelas,

Canker, and

Catarrh,

Can be cured by purifying the blood with

[illegible] a more [illegible] than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Price $1; six bottles, $5.

REJECTED PATENTS.

Washington D. C. Jan. 17th. 1887.

There are ten books in the secret archives of the United States Patent Office for which the patent attorneys in Washington would be willing to give $100,000. They are the books containing the names and addresses of inventors whose cases have been rejected during the past ten years. There has been an average of 28,000 cases filed in the Patent Office every year for the last ten years and a yearly average of 18,000 patents granted. Last year there were 35,000 applications filed and 24,000 patents issued, the largest number in any one year. On this showing something like 60 per cent of the applications have been patented. So there have been about 100,000 rejected cases during the last ten years. These in part include cases defeated in interferences and applications allowed, but on which final fees have not been paid.

Now good attorneys get fully 90 per cent of their cases allowed and patented; hence there must be some reason for only 60 per cent of the applications being allowed. The reason is this; fully 8,000 inventors every year make out their own cases and try to get them through the Patent Office. Not knowing the routine they almost invariably get involved in the meshes of red tape and the intricacies of Patent Office procedure. The difficulty may be slight, a mere formality, a defective drawing, an improperly worded application, an indefinite specification, or a slight interference requiring a few amendments which a skilful patent attorney could make in half an hour But to the inventor these prove an insurmountable obstacle; his application is rejected and he gives up in disgust or dispair.

Applications for patents in the United States Patent Office go first to the twenty-eight principle examiners, according to the subject matter. If they are rejected, two years are allowed in which to amend them or take other necessary action. If no action shall have been taken at the end of two years, such cases are treated as abandoned, and are sent to the division where they are entered in the books which the Patent Attorneys so much covet. Fully 50,000 of the rejected cases of the last ten years fall under these conditions. At a low estimate 25,000 of these rejected cases put in the hands of a competent attorney, could be patented. A patent attorney's fees on such conditional cases would be about $25 per case—a gross sum of $625,000. Count out disgusted inventors and those not able to pay, still an enormous number would get out patents if they knew how. But the trouble is just here—no one outside the Patent Office is allowed access to those file books. And without them they can not learn the name and address of inventors. Then again, there are some 15,000 cases now lying in the Examiner's rooms awaiting the two years limit. These are still more valuable, for if they are taken up before the time-limit expires, the initial fees do not lapse, while in the other cases they would have to be repaid.

The practice in the United States was not always thus. During Grant's first term, for a period of about a year, attorneys were allowed access to all letter books, and previous to that had been allowed access to the files of abandoned cases, but there was a constant scramble and not infrequently downright fights over them, and about 1875 the Patent Office made them secret.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of THE FULTON TIMES will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength, by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The Proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
[illegible] Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.
[illegible]

[illegible]LOOM.

GREAT CLEARANCE SALE OF
TWO IMMENSE STOCKS!

DRY GOODS. CLOTHING.

PLUSH CLOAKS.

at the astonishing low prices:

$17.50	Reduced from		$25.50
22.00	"	"	28.00
28.00	"	"	35.00

LADIES NEWMARKETS.

BERLIN TWILLS.

$6.00 Reduced from $10.50.

ASTRICAN OR FUR TRIMMED.

$7.50 Reduced from $13.00.

PLAID NEWMARKETS,

with or without Capes at a bargain.

CHILDREN'S CLOAKS.

Prices cut in two.

JACKETS,

in endless variety. Prices to suit everyone. A good Jacket for $2.37.

ROSE BLANKETS.

A few pair at 79cts. and better ones at equally low prices.

COMFORTABLES,

to be closed out at 65, and 98cts. and 1.23.

CARPETS AND OIL CLOTHS.

Carpets from 19cts. up.
Oil Cloth from 23 to 45c. per yd.

DRESS GOODS.

Homespun Suitings, 54 inches wide, at 43c, good value at 75c. Should you be in want of a dress you can find a fine line of Tricots, Cashmeres, Novelty Goods etc. at prices that will induce you to purchase.

HOSIERY.

Our entire line of Wool Hosiery has been reduced in price. Good all wool hose, 3 pair for 50cts., and the balance at proportionately low prices.

CORSETS.

35cts	Reduced from		50cts
50 "	"	"	75 "
75 "	"	"	1.00
1.00"	"	"	1.25

SHAWLS.

2.00	Reduced	from	4.00
3.00	"	"	5.00
4.50	"	"	7.00
5.50	"	"	9.00
6.00	"	"	10.00
7.00	"	"	12.00

We also offer a Job lot of Standard Prints, worth 6 and 7cts at the low price of 4c per yard.

We carry the finest line of Ribbons, Laces, Hamburgs, Notions, &c., to be found in Northern New York.

MEN'S OVERCOATS.

$2.50 actual value, $4.75.

A good Fur Beaver Overcoat, Black or Brown,
4.00 worth 7.50

Black Beaver Overcoat,
8.00 worth 13.75

Good Harrison Cassimere O. C. 7.00 never sold elsewhere for less than 12.00. Montignac satin lined, 17.00 worth 26.00.

An odd lot of Overcoats for young men, worth 12.00 to be closed out at 5.00.

BOYS' OVERCOATS.

Lot 1—from 1.25 to 3.50 worth from 3.00 to 6.75.

Lot 2—3.50 worth from 5.00 to 7.50.

Lot 3—6.00 worth from 9 to $12.

MEN'S ULSTERS

Lot 4—Sizes from 36 to 44; 4.50 to 7.00 worth from 6.50 to 12.00.

Lot 5—Fine Corkscrew Overcoats, with or without satin facings, $8 actual value 12, 14 and 15.

MEN'S BOYS' AND CHILDREN'S SUITS.

For lack of space we cannot give the prices of each lot separate, but we guarantee the price will compare with the Overcoats.

We will cheerfully give you prices on any and all goods.

Call and see for yourself what we can do. No trouble to show goods.

Remember the place.

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM'S

Mammoth Double Stores.

Oswego Falls Agricultural Society.

At the annual meeting of the Oswego Falls Agricultural society, held in the law office of Howe & Rice on Wednesday last, the officers of last were year were re-elected. They are: H. H. Merriam, president; W. B. Phelps and Willard Johnson vice-presidents; Arvin Rice secretary, and C. R. Nichols, treasurer trustees, full term, Ambrose Gregg and Isaac Osborne.

Willard Johnson was made a committee to furnish a person to deliver an address at our next fair.

The date was not fixed for holding the next fair.

The following statement was submitted:

RECEIPTS:

Bal. on hand Jan. 13, 1886	$	10 05
Rec'd from life memberships		20 00
" " picnics, etc.		91 50
" " cow pasturing, etc.		101 93
" " gate money at fair		3,527 54
" " grand stand at fair		171 45
" " rents during fair		491 75
" " ice house		20 00
" " borrowed money		425 00
		$4,859 22

EXPENDITURES:

P'd bor'd money	$100 00
" interest	252 00
" for insurance	68 75
" " new buil'g	824 40
" " prem'mns	2,064 47
" " for repairs to build'gs and fences	123 54
" Expenses fair	1,215 53	$4,647 70
balance		210 52

When the eyes become weak or the lids inflamed and sore, a disordered system or a scrofulous condition of the blood is indicated, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy. It invigorates and vitalizes the blood and expels all humors.

Gilberts Mills.

The Jubilee Singers gave a concert here last Monday evening.

Ephriam Pratt is suffering with abcess in his ear.

A donation was held at the M. E. church last week Tuesday evening for the benefit of Elder Fisk.

Mrs. Jas. Whaley, formerly of this village, now of Ingalls Crossing, has a young daughter.

The thaw in this locality has caught a severe cold.

The Good Templar's Lodge is receiving new members constantly.

A large number of the friends of LeRoy Sanford in this place attended his funeral last Saturday. His son is quite ill.

A new stove for the Baptist church arrived last week and burned finely on Sunday.

Rev. A. E. Wilson of Madills Forks, occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church last Sunday.

A great many complain of sore throat here.

Oliver Cass attended the advent meeting in Utica this week.

Mrs. Jane Evans who has been staying with Mrs. Whaley at Ingalls Crossing has returned.

Hannibal Centre.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bacon are visiting friends in Derrick City, Pa.

Old Mrs. Knowlton is visiting her children in Moravia.

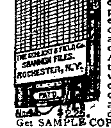
There will be a box festival at the residence of Mr. Albert Saunders Friday evening January 21. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The Norfolk Jubilee Singers were at Centre Hall, Tuesday evening.

The teacher, Mr. Will Allen is having [illegible]

The Cosmopolitan

The handsomest, most entertaining, low price, illustrated family magazine in the world. ($2.50 per year, with a $2.25 premium free.) Sixty-four beautifully printed pages in each number, filled with short stories, sketches, travels, adventures, bright and brief scientific and literary articles, by distinguished American and foreign writers, such as Julian Hawthorne, Harriet Prescott Spofford, George Parsons Lathrop, Louise Chandler Moulton, J. Macdonald Oxley, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, H. H. Boyesen, Catherine Owen, Rev. R. Heber Newton, Alphonse Daudet, Paul Heyse, Count Tolstoi, Th. Dostoivsky, William Westall and many others. Also entertaining JUVENILE and invaluable HOUSEHOLD departments. One or more illustrated articles and several full-page engravings in every number.



A Shannon Letter and Bill File or a Shannon Sheet-Music Binder Free to every Subscriber.

These premiums sell everywhere for $2.25 each. The File is the most perfect device ever invented for the preservation and classification (alphabetically and according to date) of all letters, bills, etc. Any paper can be referred to, taken out and put back without disturbing the others. With the Binder one can insert or take out any piece of music without disturbing any other sheet.

Get SAMPLE COPY at NEWS STAND or send 20 Cents to publishers.

AGENTS WANTED. BIG COMMISSIONS PAID.

Schlicht & Field Co., Rochester, N.Y.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

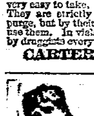
Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.



HAVE YOU

never felt strangely tired, restless or uneasy? Have you had pains shooting through the head, along the limbs or around the back? Have you experienced strange sensations for which you could not account? And do you know that all these things arise from diseased kidneys, which, unless promptly cured will run into Bright's disease and end in Death? The Kidneys are the seat of nine-tenths of all the diseases of to-day!!

The F. E. C. Kidney Remedy is an absolute cure for these troubles, and is guaranteed by the druggists who sell it. It is especially valuable for Female Troubles. Every mother, every wife, every nervous and overworked woman, whose life is made miserable by sufferings peculiar to her sex, should know that of all the medicines ever sold, the F. E. C. is the first and only Remedy that guarantees relief or refunds the money. It is effectual, as thousands of testimonials will prove.

Sold by all Dealers everywhere. Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter Jars, Pans, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be [illegible]

FOUR 4 Grand Offers to every reader of THE FULTON TIMES. Read every word of this advertisement, as we know at least one of them is exactly what you want. We are sure you have some old family picture of some dear and departed reative or friend you would like to have enlarged, and finished in a handsome portrait, or Imperials made of it. GRAND

OFFER No. 1 If you will send us the names of Three Agents, or some one you think would make us good agents, and any small picture, together with $2.75, we will make One Dozen Imperials, Satin Finish, Gilt Edge and one extra from same original, beautifully finished in Water Colors, placed in 8x10 plain gold mat, (our regular price $10) and send the $10 worth of pictures by mail prepaid. Old, faded, scratched or spotted originals, we carefully touch up before copying, retouch negative before printing, and put in new backgrounds when necessary; give color Hair, Eyes, Jewelry, Drapery and Complexion, so we will know how to finish the water color portrait.

OFFER No. 2 If you prefer a larger portrait and no imperials. If you send us the three agents names and small picture, with $3.75, we will make one 11 x 14 portrait (½ life size if ordered Bust) finished either in Ink, Crayon or Water Color, and send by mail prepaid; our regular price for above portrait is $15; to obtain the one dozen Imperials and one extra Water Color, worth $10, for $2.75, or the 11 x 14 portrait, worth $16 for $3.75. This advertisement must be sent with the order before March 1st, 1887, as we positively will not fill an order at these prices after March 1st, 1887, our object in offering at so low a price is to obtain a good agent in your vicinity at once. OFFERS

OFFER No. 3 Any one ordering one of our PHOTO EMPIRE EQUIPMENTS for making Photos by dry plate process, without the aid of a teacher, price $30, before March 1st, 1887, will receive one Negative Box, worth $2.50 FREE. 80 page book "How to make Photos," and 5 x 8 Portrait made by Empire Camera, sent prepaid for 24 cts. (None free).

OFFER No. 4 THE ELCTRO RADIANT MAGIC LANTERN NO. 2 is equal to any other Lantern sold for $25. It projects on Screen a picture 8 feet in diameter, and our price is only $13, and if you order one before March 1st, 1887, we will place in the box one dozen slides, wit 2½ in. pictures, free of charge. Send money by P. O. Order, Registered Letter, Draft on N. Y. or Express prepaid. References. Large Magic Lantern Catalogue and confidential prices to general agents for copied and enlarged portraits sent for stamp. If you are not prepared to-day to accept any of these 4 grand offers, cut this ad. out for future use, as it may not appear again. Address,

FOR EMPIRE COPYING CO., 381 Canal St., N. Y. YOU.

—FOR THE—

HOLIDAY SEASON!

SNOW & LOOMIS,

have a fine assortment of

POCKET CUTLERY,
CARVERS, SKATES,
SCISSORS and ROBES.
—Also a Novelty in—
FUR RUGS.

RINGLAND HOUSE,

OSWEGO, N. Y.,
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Streets.
Centrally located in the business part of the city.
Prices Reasonable.
Commodious Sample Rooms.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE. Whereas on the 1st day of April, 1873, Isaac F. Pierce made and delivered to the undersigned mortgagee, Allan Gilmour, his certain mortgage, bearing date on that day, whereby he mortgaged to the said Allan Gilmour, his heirs and assigns "all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Hannibal, County of Oswego and state of New York, bounded and described as follows, to wit, being part of subdivision No. one of great lot No eighty-one of said town of Hannibal and beginning in the north line of said lot No. eighty-one, at the north-east corner of land now owned by Daniel Randall; thence east along said north line to the north-west corner of land now owned by David Dexter; thence south along the west line of said Dexter's land to the center of the highway leading across said lot; thence easterly along the center of said highway to the east line of said lot No. one; thence south along said east line to the south-east corner of said lot No one; thence west along the south line of said subdivision to the west line of said lot No. eighty-one; thence north to the centre of the highway leading across said lot; thence east along the centre of said highway to the south-east corner of D. Randall's land; thence north along the east line of said Randall's land to the place of beginning, containing about ninety-five acres of land." which said mortgage with the power of sale therein contained, was duly recorded in the Oswego County Clerk's office, on the 21st day of April, 1873, at 5 o'clock p. m., in Liber 96 of mortgages, at page 316, and whereas the said mortgage was given to secure the payment of two thousand dollars with semi-annual interest, as therein specified, and default has been made in the condition of said mortgage whereby the power to sell therein contained has become operative and there is claimed to be due thereon at the date of the first publication of this notice the sum of two thousand thirty-seven dollars, and that the whole amount thereof is due.

Said mortgage was duly assigned to Stilman W. Mason on the 30th day of March, 1880, and said assignment was duly recorded in the Oswego County Clerks Office on the 19th day of January, 1887.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that in pursuance of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the statute in such case made and provided the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public auction, at the Lewis House, in the village of Fulton, on the 20th day of April, 1887, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day.

STILLMAN W. MASON, Assignee.

A. L. & E. O. JOHNSON,
Attys., Syracuse, N. Y.

WORKING CLASSES ATTENTION We are now prepared to furnish all classes with employment at home, the whole of the time, or their spare moments. Business new, light and profitable. Persons of either sex easily earn from 50 cents to $5.00 per evening and a proportional sum by devoting all their time to the business. Boys and girls earn almost as much as men. That all who see this may send their address and test the business, we make this offer. To such as are not well pleased we will send one dollar to pay for the trouble of writing. Full particulars and outfit free. Address GEORGE STINSON & Co., Portland, Me. 52y1

EUREKA FROST CURE.

FOR FROZEN FEET, EARS, NOSE, AND CHILBLAINS.

Made from Agaricus, a moss growing in the frigid regions of the north. A sure Cure. By mail 25c.

EUREKA MED. CO. Sharon, Pa.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 91 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota. N. Y.

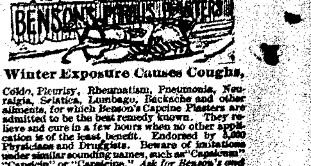
☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

Empire State Agriculturist

PRACTICAL Adapted to every-day farm life. Does not advocate theories or fancy farming. It treats of INVALUABLE timely things in a common-sense way. Has seven distinct departments filled with choice matter. Is ably edited, and UNEQUALED aims to make each number better than the last. Its circulation is increasing more rapidly than that of any other Agricultural journal in the country. A good GET UP A CLUB agent wanted in each school district. There is money in it for the agent, and for the subscriber. Valuable premiums to subscribers who wish them. 50 CENTS A YEAR. A sample copy will be sent free to any one who writes for it. Address all communications to the publisher,

M. H. DISBROW, Rochester, N. Y.



Winter Exposure Causes Coughs,

Colds, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Pneumonia, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache and other ailments, for which Benson's Capcine Plasters are admitted to be the best remedy known. They relieve and cure in a few hours when no other application is of the least benefit. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum" "Capsicin" or "Capsicine." Ask for Benson's and take no others. Examine carefully when you buy. All druggists.

SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors New York.

EUREKA CATARRH REMEDY.

NO SALVE! NO SNUFF! NO WASH!

The only internal specific. Cures—not as an irritant or astringent, but by directing the gentle life giving forces of the organism to the part affected. Tasteless and pure. Children take it without difficulty. Price 50 cents by mail.

EUREKA MED. CO. Sharon, Pa.
26mos

Please Don't Forget It.

That Dr. James Cannabis Indica is prepared in Calcutta, India, from the purest and best Native Hemp, and is the only remedy, either in this country or [illegible], that will positively and permanently cure Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, [illegible] catarrh and nervous Debility, [illegible] Craddock & Co., [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

ay Express	8:18 a. m
ew York and Philadelphia Express	11:28 a. m
inghamton and Elmira Express	3:56 p. m
racuse Express	5:28 p. m.
ew York and Phil. Night Express	8:30 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:18 a. m.
Day Express	12:19 p. m.
Day Express	2:48 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	6:57 p. m.
vening Express	6:44 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:05 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	7:50 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:31	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19p.m.	3:39	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS

Burt Candee has returned from Syracuse.

Zachariah Hare of Allegan, Mich., is visiting friends in town.

John Redmond of Boston, Mass., has been visiting friends in town.

James H. Miller of Minneapolis, is in town visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. Harriet Payne of Pittsford, N. Y., is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. G. Gage.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hulbert of Topeka, Kansas, are visiting friends in town.

J. E. Waugh and family of Phoenix visited friends in this village last week.

John Harrison of Vernon, Oneida county, was in town on Thursday last.

Mrs. Willis Ney is quite ill, while her husband is reported as slightly improved.

Mrs. Vovillia of Oswego, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Job Bennett of this village.

Miss Alice Shute of Syracuse spent Sunday in this village the guest of Miss Puss Stewart.

Mrs. George Saunderson and daughter, returned to their home in Springfield, Ill., on Monday.

Allan Gilmour esq., of Albany, passed Sunday in this village the guest of F. D. VanWagenen.

Mrs. Kennedy of Syracuse has been he guest of her sister, Mrs. A. Howe, for the past few days.

Peter Gomon of Richfield Springs has been visiting his children and grandchildren in this village.

Miss Allie L. Case of Fulton, is visiting Mrs. S. H. Wandell, 89 Willow street.—Syracuse Sunday Times.

Dr. C. R. Lee is to start on his return to Mexico this week. It takes fifteen days to complete the journey.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Getman of Picton Canada have been in town in attendance at the funeral of the lady's father, LeRoy Sanford. They were to return to their home to day.

J. E. Lee, editor and proprietor of the Croswell, (Mich.) Democrat made us a pleasant call yesterday. He has been passing a short time in this village the guest of his uncle, J. Green.

Giles S. Piper has been in attendance at the State Bar association meeting in Albany this week. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Alford accompanied him to that city.

We understand that among those who have been in Albany in order to be present at the senatorial struggle are Hon. George M. Case, Dist. Att'y. Mead, assistant Dist. Att'y. Stranahan, Fred Bennett of the Patriot Fred Gage and Dr. C. M. Lee.

The Temple Quartette Concert Co., of Boston, composed of seven skilled musicians, including the famous male quartette, are to be at the opera house Thursday evening, Feby. 3d.

This is guaranteed to be the finest musical entertainment ever heard in Fulton and it is a satisfaction to know that a fine audience is assured.

Mr. Wendling is also positively engaged.

More of these entertainments hereafter.

CARD OF THANKS.

The family of the late H. L. R. Sanford desire to sincerely thank the choir who sang at his funeral, and the neighbors and friends who so generously served them in the time of their sore bereavement.

For Sale.

A large, strong, valuable horse. Enquire at the harness shop.

37tf. R. B. McCULLY.

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

Remember Schenck & Foster's office at Eggleston's book-store. Orders promptly attended to.

Wanted—A horse for the keeping. Light work and good care given. Inquire at

ROBINSON'S Grocery.

[illegible] C. Hewes has the implements and is prepared to sharpen knives, scissors shears &c. of all sizes and grades at his barber shop, basement of Citizens National Bank. 33tf.

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 30tf.

[illegible] cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, [illegible], etc., on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 19tf

Draper has moved all damaged goods from Oneida street to 34 First street where bargains at ½ actual prices can be had as he has such a large stock of these goods and is bound to close them [illegible]

Winter Suits, Overcoats, Undershirts and Drawers, Cardigan Jackets, Hosiery

ETC. AT VERY LOW PRICES.

Even less than the so called "Bankrupt Stock" advertised in the neighboring cities, and more desirable goods. Also a large Stock of

BOYS' SUITS AND OVERCOATS.

This is no hoax or humbug advertisement to deceive people, but an honest statement of facts that can be verified by calling on

D. C. MORE & CO.

THE RELIABLE ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS.

Opposite Lewis House, Fulton, N. Y.

OUR LINE OF SUITS AND OVER-COATS IS STILL BANG UP. PEEBLES & COOK, OPPOSITE OPERA HOUSE.

Electric Lights.

Considerable misunderstanding, misrepresentation and a general desire to know the exact state of affairs concerning electric lights prevail among the people of this village. In order to place the facts just as they stand before the readers of THE TIMES, we made a careful investigation of matters and found that it amounted to about this. The dynamos of both the electric companies are placed in Herrick & Emerick's box factory and were run before last Thursday night by two water wheels which were supposed to be of 80 and 60 horse power respectively. When the street lights had been completed and an attempt made to light them, it was discovered that the power was not sufficient, that instead of the wheels aggregating 140horse power, they fell far short of that capacity. To overcome this unlooked for obstacle, calculations were at once madefor a wheel of greater capacity. Such a one has been ordered and last week was shipped from the works at Holyoke, Mass. In the mean time men are at work preparing a place to put it, about ten feet west of the box factory. On last Thursday night the shaft used to hoist the gate slipped from the socket and it was impossible to raise the gait so that both of the wheels could be used. This difficulty was removed Friday, but early in the evening a serious accident occurred which has compelled the company to give up all thoughts of street lighting until the damage is repaired. A 60 inch pulley which runs one of the dynamos broke and fell into a large shell geer, which is five feet in diameter, completely ruining it. The damage done is estimated to be no less than $800, A new one is being cast at Dilt's foundry and it is said will be placed in position and be in running order by Monday night.

The streets have been lighted by the thirty-seven lights three nights. These are the only occasions on which all have been lighted for any length of time, it being found impracticable to light all without detriment to private consumers.

The number of horse power required to light the arc lamps used in this village and Oswego Falls is said to be 95; 60 by the Thomson-Houston and 35 by the Schuyler. The latter company supply their incandescent lights from the same machine that the arc lights are supplied from. The Thomson-Houston have an incandescent machine separate, which requires 35 horse power additional. When the speed slackens by the inability of the wheel to furnish a sufficient amount of power the incandescent lights are the first to feel the effect as faster speed is required to generate the electricity for this machine. Every effort is being made to bring about perfect street lighting as soon as possible. The fact that men were working out of doors preparing a place for the new wheel on such a day as yesterday showed conclusively that the ice, snow and sleet were not sufficient to cool the ardor for perfecting their work.

Entertainment at No. 1 School.

The entertainment given at No. 1 school last Friday evening was an enjoyable affair. The exercises were instructive and pleasing. The Congregationalist choir of Oswego Falls of which Prof. Cooper is a member, rendered their assistance. The school orchestra consisting of Guy Taylor, E. McKale and C. Wright surprised and pleased the audience, while the lecture on the skeleton by Eddie Breeds was worthy of more than passing mention and showed the young gentleman to be an adept on this important subject. The room, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion, was filled with the friends and patrons of the school. The following is the program:

Song	Choir
"Fellow Students"	Frank Messenger
Recitation	Ella Hudgins
Music	School Orchestra
"An Engagement Ring"	Vernie McCordy
Declamation	Ward Flaxington
Music	School Orchestra
Recitation	Jessie Fulford
Recitation	Mamie Breeds
Song	Choir
"Kitty's Choice"	Ralph Hubbard
"The Last Hymn"	Grace Seymour
Music	School Orchestra
"Latest Craze"	May Woliver
Declamation	Earnest Eno
Song	Choir
Select Reading	Alice Wilbur
Recitation	Emma Allport
"The Rainbow"	7 little girls
Music	School Orchestra
Declamation	John Stephens
Recitation	Carrie Porter
Lecture on the Skeleton	Eddie Breeds
Song (comical)	Choir.

A Run on a Store.

The closing out sale of Stowell's 25 cent Bargain Store opposite the Lewis House is attracting people from all parts of the county. Such bargains were never before heard of. See their advertisement in this paper.

[illegible]

All kinds of job printing done at reasonable rates at this office.

1887 began on Saturday and will end on Saturday. Fifty-three in all.

The Osgood hose company gave their first annual ball in Church's hall last evening.

Evening meetings are held this week, four nights in the Methodist church and three nights in the Baptist.

A crayon picture of Mrs. Cleveland, drawn by Wilson & Co. of Auburn is on exhibition in the news room.

Chas F. Boyd has opened a law office in the Emeny block, Oswego Falls. He was formerly located in Vermont.

We are always pleased to receive events of local interest in the village and country towns. Send them in.

The roads in this and surrounding counties are in bad condition owing to the high winds that have prevailed.

The libel suit of Dr. Bulger of Oswego against the Syracus Sunday Times has been settled before it was brought to trial.

The letter about Rejected Patents in to-day's issue is by C. A. Snow, patent attorney, Washington, D. C., whose advertisment is in another column.

Rev. J. C. Breaker has offered his resignation as pastor of the Baptist church of this village to take effect on the 1st of April next. An effort will be made to retain him by the church.

Dr. I. C. Curtis gave an interesting account of his recent voyage to Cuba a few evenings since at an entertainment of the recently formed mission and Sunday school of Granby Centre. Dr. C. R. Lee also told of his trip to the Republic of Mexico and described the habits and customs of the Mexicans.

Letters Patent have been granted to Mr. William Wardman, of Bristol, Pa., for important improvements on the Noble Comb.—Ward's Fibre and Fabric.

Mr. Wardman formerly resided in Oswego Falls. His father, until recently was boss comber in the R. & O. factories.

The loom fixers and weavers of James Ellis' section in the Oswego Falls mills made him a pleasant surprise last Saturday evening by calling in a body at his home and presenting him with a valuable gold ring as a mark of their esteem. Mr. Ellis is shortly to leave for Jamestown N. Y. with his family.

Annual Report of the Fulton Water Works Company.

The undersigned President and a majority of the trustees of "The Fulton Water Works Company" of Fulton, N. Y., do hereby report as to said corporation at the date hereof as follows:

The capital stock of said corporation is $50,000. $900 of which was paid in cash and $49,100 was paid in purchase of property.

That the debts of said corporation existing at this date are as follows:

1st Mortgage Bonds	$74,000
All other debts	2,783.49,

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Jan. 17, 1887.

J. W. PRATT, President.

G. S. PIPER,
J. W. PRATT,
A. G. GILBERT,
F. A. EMERICK,
H. E. NICHOLS.
} Trustees of the Fulton Water Works Co.

State of New York, Oswego County. } ss:

John W. Pratt of Fulton, in said county and state, being duly sworn, deposes and says he is President of the Fulton Water Works Company of Fulton, N. Y., above named and that the foregoing report of said company is in all respects correct and true.

J. W. Pratt.

Sworn to before me this 19 day of Jan. '87.

H. E. NICHOLS
Notary Public.

Annual Report of the Howe Ventilating Stove Company Fulton, N. Y.

The undersigned President and a majority of the trustees of the above named corporation hereby report as to said corporation, at this date as follows:

The amount of capital stock thereof is $20,000 all of which has actually been paid in, in cash.

The amount of existing debts thereof is as follows:

Cash borrowed of stock holders,	$ 9,456.61
All other debts,	11,089.90

Dated Fulton, N. Y. Jan 18, A. D. 1887.

F. G. WEEKS, President.

J. W. PRATT,
G. M. CASE,
A. BRISTOL,
} Trustees of The Howe Ventilating Stove Co.

STATE OF NEW YORK, COUNTY OF OSWEGO. } ss

Forest G. Weeks being duly sworn deposes and says: That he is President of "The Howe Ventilating Stove Company" of Fulton N. Y. That the foregoing [illegible]

Fire at Oswego Falls.

Shortly before midnight on Monday night fire broke out in the home of John Fitzgerald on Fourth street. The building burned so rapidly, owing to the high wind that prevailed that the inmates barely escaped with their lives. Two of the Fitzgerald children were badly burned before they were rescued by their parents. The building and contents were an entire loss. A subscription paper was circulated among the employes of the factory and elsewhere and quite a sum realized it is said for the family who lost their all. The village of Oswego Falls had extended their contract with the Fulton Water Works Co, until the 20th of this month. Therefore the hydrants could be used. This building which was burned Monday night was some distance from any other building so nothing else took fire. If the fire had been in some parts of this village with the strong wind raging, it would have made sad devastation, if the water from the hydrants had not been used. We understand that the wrenches are taken from the hose houses in this village and the firemen given strict orders to use the hydrants under no consideration. Some action must be taken in this matter, if the village is to be protected against a destructive conflagration which is sure to result, if fire should break out on such a night as it was on Monday.

Bank Elections.

On Tuesday, Jan. 11 1887, the stockholders of the First National Bank met at the Bank to elect officers and elected the following named persons: Directors—D. W. Gardner, A. Emerick, H. C. Gardner, A. L. Lee, M. J. Gere, Arvin Rice, L. C. Seymour. The following named persons were chosen officers at the meeting of the Directors held on the same day: D. W. Gardner, President; A. Emerick, Vice-President; Amos Youmans, Cashier; L. C. Foster, Book-keeper.

CITIZENS BANK.

On Tuesday Jan. 11 1887, the stock holders of the Citizens National Bank at a meeting held at the Bank elected the following named persons directors viz: C. M. Lee, Geo. Kellogg, H. E. Nichols, S. F. Case, J. H. Case, Samuel Hart, F. S. Cheebro, G. M. Case, H. G. Hull. At a subsequent meeting of the directors the following named persons were elected officers for the ensuing year: Geo. M. Case, President; J. H. Case, Vice President; S. Case, Cashier; Geo. Kellogg, Teller.

Postponement.

Malaja and Olssens' grand local Entertainment which was to be held in the opera house last evening has been postponed on account of the weather until Thursday (to-morrow) evening when the original program will be carried out. Malaja and Ossens' skill as athletes are well known. Mr. Eugene Ward "the world's greatest wonder" and only footless dancer in the universe, will appear among other attractions. The following will also contribute to the evening's entertainment: Billy Norwood, Miss Lena Hardy, Daniel Dwyer, Wm. Youngs, Parker & Althouse, Patrick O'Brien, Henry J. Elder, Riano Bros., and others.

Howe Ventilating Stove Works.

The annual meeting of the Howe Ventilating Stove Works was held last week and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: F. G. Weeks president; J. W. Pratt, vice-president; H. C. Burdick, secretary, A. Bristol, treasurer. Mr. Burdick, the newly elected secretary, has been one of the managers of the D. M. Osborne, Harvesting Machinery Works of Auburn. Work will probably be resumed about the 1st of March with a largely increased number of employes.

D. L. & W. R. R.—Reduced Fare.

Commencing Thursday Jan'y 20th the fare to all points on O. & S. Div. will be as follows: To Oswego, 25cts.; to Minetto, 15; to So. Granby, 10; to Lamsons, 20; to Baldwinsville, 30; to Stiles, 35; to Lakeside, 40; to Syracuse, 50.

Passengers purchasing at village office No. 18 First St. and leaving orders for baggage can have it checked to to destination from house.

To Ex-Prisoners of War.

All ex-prisoners of war of the towns of Volney and Granby are requested to send their name and address to the Adgt. of D. F. Schenck Post to be sent to the Pension Office. CHAS. HEWITT, Adg't., Fulton, N. Y.

House and Lot For Sale.

House in a good state of repair with good well of water on the lot. House is large, well calculated for boarders, situated on Utica street within three minutes walk of the postoffice. Terms [illegible]

Hannibal has organized a hook and ladder company.

What has become of the Village Improvement Society?

Electric light poles have been put up in Phoenix and the wires are to be strung at once.

Remember the second annual ball of Steamer Co. No 2 at the opera house hall on next Friday night.

The new well at the water works has been completed and a pipe lain connecting it with the pump house.

James Ellis and James Ellenor of Oswego Falls received their naturalization papers on Saturday last.

The Thomson-Houston and Excelsior electric light companies are struggling for supremacy in Seneca Falls.

Mrs H. N. Somers of Volney now in her ninety-fifth year rode in a sleigh Saturday from her home to Meridian.

The next regular meeting of the C. L. S. C. will be held at the home of Miss Eunice Sisson, Wednesday evening, Jan., 26.

We understand that a movement is on foot among the G. A. R. men to raise $5,000 for a soldier's monument to be placed in the village park.

Regular quarterly meeting and communion at the M. E. church next Sunday. Presiding Elder H. M. Danforth will preach at the morning services.

The mission band of the Presbyterian church, gave a social in the church parlors last evening. Ice cream, cake, etc., were served and a good time enjoyed.

The "Fulton Crumbs" are to have the first of their series of social gatherings at Church's hall this evening. Music by Prof. Gutstadt's orchestra of Syracuse.

A high wind prevailed all Monday night in this locality and all day yesterday. This together with the fall of snow and sleet made yesterday the most unpleasant day this winter.

The railroads were badly blocked yesterday owing to the heavy wind that blew during the night and in the morning. This made many of the trains late during the day. The 9:16 train on the R. W. & O. road did not pass here until 11:35.

Joseph Appolt who has been a clerk in Rosenbloom's store for nearly eight years has accepted a position as traveling salesman for Uhrig & Co. of New York. He left for that city Wednesday night.

Rev. Mr. Swartz of Cortland, who is completing his theological studies in Syracuse, officiates three Sundays in the month at Zion church during the absence of the regular paster. In one Sunday in the month a priest will officiate and administer communion.

Irwin C. Fralick has resigned his position in Connell's shoe store to fill a position in an office of the American Express Company. He will remain here for a week or more before entering upon his duties. It is not definately settled where he will be located.

The following were elected as officers for the ensuing year of the Oswego county ex-prisoners of war at a meeting held at Oswego on Wednesday last:

President, A. Cooper, Oswego; vice-president, James C. Spaulding, Phoenix, secretary, A. P. Chase; treasurer, R. B. McCully, Fulton; chaplain, Edward Lee, Oswego; delegate to State convention, W. Pratt, Oswego; alternate, R. B. McCully, Fulton.

Commander Osborn of Post Schenck, G. A. R. accompanied by Comrade Mosher, visited Joe Gould Post of Phœnix on last week, Monday. It was the intention of several comrades of the latter post to return the compliment on the following evening, but after traveling Fultonward a couple of miles, says the Register, they found the roads in such bad condition that they were compelled to return.

A large number of old residents in this locality have passed away during the winter. Among those who have reached a ripe old age, many years of which were spent in this vicinity, can be mentioned Mrs. Rachael Blakeman, aged 85, Mrs. Amy Peterson 83, Miss Zernal Hewitt 77, H. LeRoy Sanford 77, Oliver LaPort, 76, Mrs. Maria Ramsey, 65, Mrs. Hannah Schenck, 82.

Wm. Dixon a native of Phœnix, made things lively in this village on last Wednesday. Even after he was incarcerated in the village lockup he did not cease making things lively, but began to smash the windows, break the legs of the stoves and demolish things generally. His ardor was somewhat subdued the following morning when he [illegible]

NEW YORK LETTER.

Dr. McGlynn and His Church—What the Trouble is—The Coal Famine—The Central-Hudson's Clubhouse for Employes—McQuade in Sing Sing—How the Trials are Progressing—How Sherman Lives.

[Special to THE TIMES].

Dr. McGlynn's trouble with his clerical superiors is exacting a great deal of attention. The action of the church authorities is particularly noticeable because of the unique position the Dr. occupies toward the laboring people of the city. He has been an outspoken and courageous champion of many beneficial schemes that have had for their object the amelioration of the condition of the poor. The Saturday half-holiday movement, the cause of municipal reform, the suppression of vice—all these great movements had in him a most profound and energetic supporter. The advocacy by him of the George movement was not at all strange to those who had heard him in his public addresses, when supporting the movements mentioned above, refer to Mr. George in terms showing the most intense admiration. There is no doubt that Dr. McGlynn honestly and conscientiously believes in Mr. George's doctrines. Of course when the recent pastorial letter of the head of his church was published he had either to renounce what he believed, since that letter utterly discountenanced the George doctrine, or retain them and incur the displeasure of those over him. There is, too, another factor in the trouble. Dr. McGlynn is not a believer in the parocial school system of his church and refused to have the same established in his parish. These troubles have reached culmination in the dismissal of Dr. McGlynn and the appointment of another priest, who is known to be in absolute symyathy with the church authorities, St. Stephen's congregation is very much disturbed. The general sentiment is revolt against the Fifth ave. authorities and following the fortunes of the deposed minister. The congregation feel that they have a right so expect their pastor to perform these political duties that he conscientiously believes devolve upon him. It is this that makes his members so enthusiastically cling to him.

The church over which Dr. McGlynn presided, has always been noted for its liberal minded rector. Dr. McGlynn's predecessor was Dr. Cummings. He had two hobies; fine music and intermingling with ministers of all faiths. His evening congregations were made up of a goodly number of Protestants. There is a story of Dr. Cummings. Shortly before his death he sent for some of his ministorial friends of the opposite faith and requested them to attend his funeral for said he, "If you don't enjoy anything else, I am sure you will the music."

How this will end is difficult to say. There is a movement on foot for Dr. McGlynn to make a public announcement of his position in the matter. All through his difficulties, he has kept silent. It is barely possible there may be a seceding from the church and an independant one formed. The struggle is being watched with a great deal of interest by those of all faiths.

⁂

A coal famine in mid-winter is not the most cheering prospect yet that condition of affairs is staring us in the face. The great manufacturing concerns are crippled because of the small quantities of coal that are now reaching this city. A strike of coal handlers at the coal depots on the Jersey shore is the cause. An advance of wages and a more equitable arrangement of time are the conditions demanded three weeks ago. All coal comes to this city either by cars transferred from the Jersey shore on large floats or else by canal boat. The great terminal coal station is at Elizabeth, N. J. Here the coal is dumped from the cars into canal boats and then towed to this city. It is these men who have the care of the coal in transfer from car to boat who have struck. A steam heating company whose furnaces need a canal boat of coal a day is seriously crippled and this to them is a doubly heavy blow because they were just recovering from a strike of their own.

The steamship companies are becoming alarmed. Of course this condition of things is a positive source of gladness to the dealers who had the good fortune to stock their yards before these difficulties came. Should the matter fail of settlement before many days, coal will tripple in price.

⁂

The action of C. Vanderbilt in providing a club house for the benefit of the Central's employes is exciting much attention. It will cost [illegible] when done. The building is on the corner of [illegible] street and Madison avenue. The [illegible] employes of the Central have the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. reading room in the basement of the Grand Central Depot, but this is designed to supplement the work of that very useful association. The new building will contain reading rooms, suitable places for all kinds of games, appartments to sleep in for those arriving in the night and a large hall for public meetings. All this will be for their exclusive use, free of charge. The idea originated with Mr. Vanderbilt, and it is presumable that he was impelled to this action by his Y. M. C. A affiliation. His example is worthy of copy. Some more of our wealthy railroad men ought to follow the example of the Central.

⁂

Well, McQuade has at last reached Sing Sing; so that his friend Jaehne need not be lonesome. The effort to obtain a stay of execution from Judge Pratt proved useless, Judge Pratt very wisely leaving the passage of the merits of the case to the General Term.

To-day O'Neil pleads before Judge Barrett. O'Neil claims to be so poor he can't hire a lawyer. The truth is that Richard Newcomb, who one year ago was attorney for all these men, has withdrawn from the case and O'Neil can not find anyone to defend him. If the truth was known, $20,000 would approximate the fees of these trials. There is a feeling of absolute uncertainty among these ex-aldermen. If they could go Canada would be their destination in a very few hours, but the Central Office detectives are watching all of them very closely. Then, too, Sharp has sought to obtain a change of venue on the ground that it would not be possible for him to be truly and fairly tried. He alleges that he is so well known and has been so long connected with the street railway business that it would prejudice men against him. That the newspapers make him a laughing stock to the people by whom he is familiarly known as "Jake." Such a specious plea the judge very properly denied. So that in a few weeks, Richmond, Foshay, Kerr and Sharp will have had their trial and let us hope that Sing Sing fails not to get its due.

⁂

General Sherman is getting to be a familiar figure on the street. The most of his time is now spent in this city and Washington. The G. A. R. societies try to secure him for their camp fires and other entertainments. The other week he spent nearly every afternoon at the Wild West show in the Madison Square Garden, "Buffalo Bill," the manager of this, is an old army scout and for him "Old Tecump" has a great deal of affection. The general is one of the most approachable men imaginable. His stern face becomes kindly when the interview refers to the days of the civil war. Sherman is showing the ravages of time. His hair and beard are nearly white, and the grim stern appearance which his pictures usually give him is becoming much softened as he grows older. He is taking a great deal of comfort in these latter days, avoids Wall street speculation, and enjoys the company of his companions in arms.

WANDERER.

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t26

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w9.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

FOR SALE.—A Farm for sale situated 9 miles from Fulton and 7 miles from Oswego, containing about 80 acres, 50 under cultivation. A large orchard, a large and commodious farm house, barn and carriage house in good repair. Will sell cheap. Terms easy. For particulars inquire of MRS J. W. WEED, Box 423 Fulton, N. Y.

TO SUFFERING WOMANHOOD.

DR. GALT has so prepared his

"SPECIAL CURE"

—FOR—

FEMALE DISEASES

That any Lady can test its merits with very little trouble and small expense. It is put up in desirable form for

"SELF TREATMENT."

Price $1.00 per package by mail. Address

DR. D. S. GALT & CO.,
Oswego, N. Y.

C. S. EGGLESTON,

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

Great Closing Out Sale.

JANUARY 31ST THE LAST DAY!

1 ten quart tin pail 11cts.	worth	30cts.
1 fine brass tray 17cts.,	worth	35cts.
1 hand saw, (warranted) 19cts.	worth	75cts.
1 snow shovel 37cts.	worth	60cts.
1 hand lamp, (complete) 15cts.	worth	30cts.
1 pair suspenders, 19cts.,	worth	35cts.
1 5 quart pail, 7cts.,	worth	15cts.
1 box fancy paper and envelopes, 19c	worth	35cts.
1 17 quart pressed tin dish pan 24cts	worth	65cts.
1 lamp burner, 5cts	worth	15cts.
1 glass set, three pieces, 15cts	worth	50cts.
1 No 9 tea kettle, 48cts	worth	85cts.
1 crank flour sifter, 10cts	worth	25cts.
1 lamp chimney, 3cts	worth	10cts.
1 paper pins, 1c	worth	8cts.
1 paper of needles, 1c	worth	8cts.
1 wood bowl 15cts	worth	25cts.
1 10 quart dish pan, 10cts	worth	25cts
1 gal oil can, 17cts	worth	4cts..
1 coal hod, 19cts	worth	65cts.
1 copper bottom tea and coffee pot, 23c	worth	55cts.
1 extra fancy stone spittoon, 25cts	worth	65cts.
1 fine tea tray, 12cts	worth	35cts.
1 large dust pan 7cts	worth	15cts.
1 pair ladies hose, all wool seamless extra fine 21cts	worth	50cts.
1 large stand lamp, 59cts.,	worth	$1.00
6 sheets of writing paper, 1c	worth	1c. each
6 envelopes, 1c	worth	1c. each

And thousands of equally good bargains.

25 Cent Bargain Store.

[illegible]

[illegible]

WORTH KNOWING.

Salt will not save poor butter.

Be sure there are no vermin on any of the animals.

The coming sheep for the East is a Merino-down.

"Enough is as good as a feast," overfeeding is a loss.

Never a better time to buy a good sheep to improve the flock.

Ventilation is better than refrigeration, say leading fruit dealers.

When a tree drops its fruit over the fence of a boundry line that fruit belongs to the owner of the tree.

Do your seeding carefully, just enough seed—not too thick or too thin, you will suffer loss either way.

How much are the stock shrinking on account of exposure to the storms and the cold? Figure it out.

Give the farrow cow all she can eat, turn the milk to the best account. In the spring you can have a beef animal for your profit.

Medium grades of butter are advancing steadily in the east, the positive defining of oleomargarine being generally accepted as the cause.

It is noted that "imitation butter is retailing at lower prices than before the new law went into effect, for the very simple reason that that it is being sold for what it is."

Less than 10 per cent. of the country butter received in city markets is entitled to top prices, while less than one-third is ratable as of attractive appearance and fair flavor.

No other farm product commands as wide a range of prices in market as butter, and in nothing else is its relative position in the market so completely in the hands of the manufacturer.

Among the first crops which can be put out on the opening of spring are early peas. Sown four inches deep as they should be, a pretty sharp freeze after planting will do them no harm.

How to Avoid Accidents.

Always keep to the right of the road.

Caution the goom to screw the nuts on tight after oiling.

See that the yoke straps on your double team are not worn thin.

All saddles set better and are safer if they have croupers attached.

Examine the bit to see that it is not worn to much at the rings and joints.

See that the horse is not hitched so close, that he may hit the exle while speeding.

Ladies riding horseback should see that the saddle-girths are retightened if necessary.

Have the safety straps on the shafts oiled occasionally and the coupling bolts examined.

Never drive too near to those on horseback, that they may not get into your wagon wheel.

Always trot your team under and over railroad crossings so that the team following will not get blocked

Always keep your lines well in hand, so that in case your horse shies or suddenly jumps, or is of a nervous disposition, you can control him.

If you drop your whip or the horse casts a shoe, always turn your horse around and stand by his head, with one hand holding one of the reins below the bit as you stoop to pick up the article.

Avoid jumping hurdles; it may cost you your life; but still worse would it be the breaking of the poor horse's neck—American Farmer.

Feeding Apples.

Feeding apples to stock is good use to make of them when they are plenty. But it must be done judiciously. Cows allowed to help themselves, or fed too liberally at first are sure to be injured. The milk is dried up and in some severe cases it has not returned the same season. In beginning, only a few should be given as feed, increasing the quantity from day to day, until in ten days or less a peck may be given at a feed, and even more, with marked benefit. The same is true with horses; and pigs have been fattened on sweet apples alone, giving them the range of the orchard. Any good apples are valuable for the purpose, but the sweeter they are the better; and they should be mellow or at least not hard. And in feeding cattle should be so arranged that they could not run each other, thus preventing choking which would not be likely to occur from other cause.—National Stockman and Farmer.

To get relief relief from indigestion, biliousness, constipation or torpid liver without disturbing the stomach or purging the bowels, take a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills, they will please you.

Advice of a Short-horn Breeder.

An experienced short-horn breeder once told the American Dairyman that he could make a good milch cow of nine out of every ten short-horn heifers, taking them in hand at one year to eighteen months old. He said, beginning with such a heifer, he would breed her very young, feed well as soon as she was safe in calf, and after the first two or three months of pregnancy he would manipulate the udder frequently, if not daily, to cause a termination of blood to the gland. He would keep her well fed, but not very fat up to calving, and as soon as that event was well over would milk her three times a day and feed so that she would not lose flesh. He argued that the natural tendency to milk in the short-horned would thus be eloped and strengthened.

Driven to Desperation

Paterfamilias—The idea! What do you mean by desiring to marry that young DeBlank?

Daughter—I mean that I love him.

[illegible] I can't see what any girl [illegible] in him to admire. You are no [illegible] of character, no judge at all.

[illegible] so. Mother says I take after [illegible] that respect, so there now.—[illegible]

[illegible]

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

The Centaur Company, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

BOOKS, THREE CENTS EACH.

The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, many of them handsomely illustrated, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. Please examine the list and see if you do not find therein some that you would like to possess. In cloth-bound form these books would cost $1.00 each. Each book is complete in itself:

Anecdotes of the Rebellion. A collection of humorous, pathetic, and thrilling narratives of the war, stories of bivouac and battle-field, march and picket, adventures of scouts and spies, stories of prison life, of the great Generals, of Mr. Lincoln, etc.

The Life of General U. S. Grant. By W. A. Peters. With portrait and other illustrations.

Poems, by John G. Whittier. The only cheap edition published—should be in every household." Illustrated.

Poems, by Henry W. Longfellow. No one can afford to be without this fine collection. Illustrated.

Poems, by Alfred Tennyson. This work contains some of the finest compositions of the great Poet Laureate.

Parlor Amusements. A large collection of Acting Charades, Parlor Dramas, Shadow Pantomimes, Games, Puzzles, etc., for social gatherings, public and private entertainments and evenings at home. Illustrated.

Manual of Floriculture. Teaches the best method of propagating all the different plants, tells how to cure disease and eradicate insect pests, gives directions for making beautiful floral and other devices, for window gardening, etc. Illustrated.

Guide to Needlework, Knitting and Crochet. Containing designs and directions for all kinds of Fancy Needlework, Artistic Embroidery, Lace Work, Knitting, Tatting, Crochet and Net Work. Illustrated.

Famous Detective Stories. A collection of thrilling narratives of detective experience, many of them written by actual members of the profession.

Yankee Wit and Humor. A collection of humorous stories, sketches, poems and paragraphs, by the leading funny men of the American press. Illustrated.

The Mystery at Blackwood Grange. A Novel. By Mrs. May Agnes Fleming.

The Evil Genius. A Novel. By M. T. Caldor.

The Story of a Storm. A Novel. By Mrs. Jane G. Austin.

Out of the Sea. A Novel. By Clara Augusta.

Agatha's History. A Novel. By Margaret Blount.

The Morwick Farm Mystery. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins. Illustrated.

The Last of the Ruthvens. A Novel. By Miss Mulock. Illustrated.

A Dead Heart. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."

Out of the Depths. A Novel. By Hugh Conway.

The Romantic Adventures of a Milkmaid. A Novel. By Thomas Hardy.

In the Holidays. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay.

The Heir to Ashley. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood.

Miss or Mrs.? A Novel. By Wilkie Collins. Illustrated.

More Bitter than Death. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."

Carriston's Gift. A Novel. By Hugh Conway. Ill'd.

The Fatal Lilies. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."

A Shadow on the Threshold. A Novel. By Mary C. Hay.

The Curse of Carew. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."

The Blatchford Bequest. A Novel. By Hugh Conway. Illustrated.

A Queen Amongst Women. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."

The Fatal Marriage. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon.

A Tale of Sin. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood.

A Bridge of Love. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."

A Passive Crime. A Novel. By "The Duchess."

Ingledew House. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."

The Knightsbridge Mystery. A Novel. By Charles Reade. Illustrated.

Wedded and Parted. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."

A Fortune Hunter. A Novel. By Annie Thomas. Ill'd.

Among the Ruins. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay. Ill'd.

Rose Lodge. A Novelette. By Mrs. Henry Wood.

☞ We will send any four of the above books by mail post-paid upon receipt of only Twelve Cents; any ten for 25 Cents; any twenty-five for 50 Cents; the entire list (40 books) for 75 Cents; the entire list bound in boards with cloth back, for $1.10. These are the cheapest books ever published and guaranteed worth three times the money asked for them. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Postage stamps taken for fractions of a dollar. As to our reliability, we refer to any newspaper published in New York, likewise to the Commercial Agencies.

Special Offer! To every one sending for the entire list of books as above, we will send, without extra charge, either sixty cents' worth of the Imperial Planed Paper Patterns, to be selected by yourself from a catalogue which will be sent you, or The People's Home Journal, a large 16-page, 64-column illustrated literary paper, for one year. All orders filled by return mail.

Address all letters: F. M. LUPTON, Publisher, No. 3 Park Place, New York.

A Potato Promise.

The best potato among 600 varieties in any fair test is certainly a high distinction. A seedling, which has been christened "Rural New Yorker No. 2," has been singled out as worthy of distinction on the experimental farm of the Rural New Yorker. This seedling produced the past season an extra large, smooth, shapely tubers, characterized by uniformity in size, excellent quality and few eyes. This potato has been placed in the hands of a leading New York seedsman for propagation and dissemination.

Pitchfork Handles.

I don't like the way pitchfork handles are made. The handles are too large round toward the fork. I had one such and the men all shunned it. I used it and my hand was cramped grasping so large a hold. I could get no others at the stores so I bought two of the usual size and shape. I took them into my shop and with plane and spoke shave altered one third of the lower part to an oval, the widest way up and down. These forks are now the favorites.—Rural New Yorker.

Bartholdi's Statue of "Liberty Enlightening the World" will be a reminder of personal liberty for ages to come. On just as sure a foundation has Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" been placed, and it will stand through the cycles of time as a monument to the physical emancipation of thousands, who by its use have been relieved from consumption, consumptive night sweats, bronchitis, coughs, spitting of blood, weak lungs, and other throat and lung affections.

P. T. Barnum is to give a new school, house, built on new plans, to the town of Bridgeport, Conn.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle, only 50c. at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Fifteen thousand of the 48,000 votes cast in the recent election in Washington territory were cast by women.

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c. by H. C. Giesler.

The Roman Catholics have subscribed a million of dollars for a new university at Washington.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

A seal skin sacque for the Bartholdi statue would cost $275,483; a pair of shoes $1,847.

Saved from being a Cripple for Life.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTLEMAN:—I was suffering from one of the worst cases of inflammatory rheumatism that any person could possibly have, and two bottles of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy has affected an entire cure. I will gladly answer any questions concerning my case, as I consider that I was saved from being crippled for life, by the use of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy.

MRS. FEELEY,
No. 64 Fulton Avenue.

The following is from Col. Palmer, the popular and able city Editor of the Lockport Daily Union.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., July 6, 1885.

ARDEE MEDICINE CO.

GENTLEMEN:—After leaving the U. S. Army I was afflicted with a severe Neuralgia Headache, coming on at intervals of a few days to several weeks, and lasting from one to three day, during which time I suffered excruciating pain, and was often totally incapaciated for business; In March 1883, I purchased one bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and followed the directions until I took about three-fifths of its contents, and from that time until this, have not been troubled with Headache or Neuralgia.

W. E. PALMER,
City Editor of the Lockport Daily Union.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTS:—This is to certify that I was suffering with inflammatory rheumatism of the worst type. Hearing of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy I purchased it and was [illegible] by the use, and can [illegible] to those similarly afflicted [illegible]

Mayor Hewitt reports the net debt of New York city as $93,306,145.47; Gov. Hill reports that of the state to be $4,276,131.05.

Home Rule for Ireland

is only a question of time and it is only a question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. G. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

Miss Hattie Crocker of California' daughter of the millionaire, maintains a free kindergarten from her own purse.

NO WOMAN

is beautiful with a bad skin, covered with pimples, freckles, moth or tan. I have been asked many times what will remove these unsightly blemishes. No face paints or powders will remove them, as they are caused by impure blood. The only sure remedy I have ever seen is Sulphur Bitters, and in hundreds of cases I have never known them to fail. —Editoress Fashion Gazette.

Of the 290,750 miles of railroad in the world no less than 174,016, or 60 per cent., are in English-speaking countries.

Convenient pleasant, and certain in their results, are Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. Recommended by physicians and endorsed by all who have used them. The best remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, and Constipation. Guaranteed, and sold at 25c. by H. C. Giesler.

Brooklyn is to have the biggest toboggan slide on the continent. It is to have a descent of 200 feet with a level run of 400 feet.

If the Sufferers from Consumption

Scrofula, and General Debility, will try Scott's Emulsion of pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, they will find immediate relief and a permanent benefit. Dr. H. V. MOTT, Brentwood, Cal., writes: "I have used Scott's Emulsion with great advantage in cases of Phthisis Scrofula and wasting diseases generally. It is very palatable."

A crematory is to be built at Pensacola, Fla.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1

There are 700,000,000 cents in circulation.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

The atom is the key that unlocks the universe.

CHURCH GOING PEOPLE

Are annoyed by the Coughing of their neighbors. One bottle of Van Wert's Balsam would cure every cough in the congregation. Go to H. C. Giesler's Fulton, or Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls, and get a free sample bottle and see for yourself.

Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure cold in the head. 23m6

It is only thirteen years until the year 1900.

Please Don't Forget It

That Dr. H. Sames Cannabis Indica is prepared in Calcutta, India, from the purest and best Native Hemp, and is the only remedy, either in that country or this, that will positively and permanently cure Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Nasal Catarrh and Nervous Debility, or break up a fresh cold in 24 hours. $2.50 per bottle, three bottles $6.50. Craddock & Co., Proprietors, 1032 Race St. Phila.

Secretary Lamar still considers James Russell Lowell the best writer of pure English now living.

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent remedial agents which modern medical investigation has discovered, the whole forms an incomparable remedy for all throat and lung troubles. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Trial sizes free.

For torpid liver use Van Wert's Pills. Van Wert's Golden Balm is a certain cure for Catarrh. 23m6

[illegible] is a Protestant [illegible]

[illegible]

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

---

George Fassel

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

INDIA PALE ALE.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 5,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK.

Secret Service of the Post-Office Department. By P. H. Woodward, late Chief of P. O. Detective Corps.

A New Book Just Published by an official of over 15 years' experience in the Secret Service, in one Magnificent Royal Octavo Volume of over 600 pages and elegantly illustrated by the best artists in the country with

200 SUPERB ENGRAVINGS.

A thrilling record of detection in the U. S. Post-Office Department; embracing sketches of Wonderful Exploits of Post-Office Inspectors in the Detection, Pursuit, and Capture of Robbers of the U. S. Mails; together with a complete description of the many schemes and complicated contrivances of the wily and unscrupulous to defraud the public; also [illegible] of the

FAMOUS STAR ROUTE FRAUDS,

in which the Author had entire charge of the preparation of the evidence for the government.

☞AGENTS WANTED.☜

[illegible]

The Famous HOP PLASTERS

[illegible] Hops, Balsams, Extracts and Gums, spread on white muslin. [illegible] in the Back, Side, Hip, Leg, Kidneys, Joints, Shoulder, Chest, Breast, Stomach or Muscles. [illegible] The best plaster on earth is the verdict of thousands. Mailed for price by proprietors, Hop Plaster Company, Boston, Mass.

☞Swindlers abroad! This plaster is spread on white muslin, ready for instant use. HOP PLASTER CO., signature on every plaster.

The friends of the late General Hancock have purchased a house for his widow in Washington where she will make her future home.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

New York city has 10,000 licensed saloons and 2,000 that are unlicensed. She has 1,055 bakeries and 2,015 meat shops and 4,126 grocery stores.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills,

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

Twenty-five years ago there was only one Catholic church in Cincinnati, Ohio; now there are twenty with 48,000 members.

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c., 50c. H. C. Giesler.

The last feat of Krupp, the famous manufacturer of heavy guns, is a cannon that will throw a ball weighing two tons through thirty-eight inches of solid iron.

A Gift for All.

In order to give all a chance to test it, and thus be convinced of its wonderful curative powers, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, will be, for a limited time, given away. This offer is not only liberal, but shows unbounded faith in the merits of this great remedy. All who suffer from Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, or any affection of Throat, Chest, or Lungs, are especially requested to call at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store and get a Trial Bottle Free, Large Bottles $1.

A farmer of New Hope, Cal., who planted 500 acres in potatoes has had such an abundant crop that he calculates that it will yield him $50,000.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Railroad tickets sold to passengers leaving Buffalo yearly aggregate $1,500,000 in value.

Female Help Wanted—Tthousands of shop girls and sales women who suffer from Weak Back and side ache to apply a Hop Plaster and note the immediate relief. Strengthens and braces up the weak parts. Sold everywhere. 25 cts.

It is said that the ex-Queen Isabella still clings to the hope that she will some day again be seated on the throne of Spain.

Ayer's Hair Vigor improves the beauty of the hair and promotes its growth. It prevents the accumulation dandruff, cleanses the scalp, and restores a natural color to gray hair. Have you received Ayer's Almanac for the new year?

Ex-Senator Roscoe Conkling never put a farthing upon a horse race, and does not know how to gamble.

Are You Consumptive.

Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion. Use Parker's Tonic without delay. It has cured many of the worst cases. Do you suffer from pains in the chest, back or limbs? Have you symptoms of trouble with your Stomach, Liver or Kidneys? Neglect of these warnings leads to breaking down of the vital powers. Parker's Tonic is the best remedy. Often saves life. Cures when everything else fails. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"For 20 years my father was an invalid, with Cough and Bronchitis, and tried everything he could hear of without obtaining more than temporary relief. Being advised of Parker's Tonic he he began to use it, and before he had taken five dollars worth was cured. He is 57 years old, and has been well now over a year."—JOS. B. HUDSON, Hudson, Fla.

"For several years I suffered from Indigestion, and I am glad to inform you that my present good health is due to the use of Parker's Tonic. Should I ever come to New York, I will thank you in person for your invaluable medicine."—CLARENCE HALL, Deaver, Col.

PARKER'S TONIC,

Made by Hiscox&Co., N.Y. Sold by Druggists $1

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL, And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, N. Y., notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against [illegible] late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, [illegible]

[illegible]

And broken bones and split toboggan.

—Albany Journal.

The season has come when the calendar's tricks
Sadly lessen men's chances for heaven,
By remarks that they make as they write '86
When they should have put down '87.

—Merchant Traveller.

A man may stand the freaks of fate,
The shocks of doom and not surrender.
But all these fail to aggravate
As doth the twist in his suspender.

—Tid Bits.

A game leg—Hindquarter of venison. —Life.

Toboggan poetry has begun to appear. Shute it!—New York World.

"The right thing in the right place," —A big bustle when a woman falls on the icy sidewalk.—Cape Ann Advertiser.

Husband (slightly under)—"Well, m' dear, (hic), Santa Claus has gone for another (hic) year." Wife—"I wish I could say the some of Santa Cruz"—New York Sun.

New York women suffragists have gained a point. A woman is to be hanged there like any man.—New Orleans Picayune.

A lyre five feet high has been found by Dr. Schliemann. We have bigger lyres in this country but they are not spelled that way.—Norristown Herald.

A phrenological paper says: "In choosing a wife be governed by her chin." A man is apt to be governed by the some thing after he gets a wife.—Cedar Rapids Gossip.

It is now understood that the dudes are not wearing overcoats this winter cause they have found that their corsets keep them sufficiently warm.—Minneapolis Tribune.

"Mr. Lighthead," said Johnny, "my sister treats you better than she does me." "Does she, Johnny?" asked Lighthead with a laugh, "why do you think so?" "Well I heard her tell ma she gave you lots of taffy, but she never gives me any." —New York Sun.

I am now preparing a poem entitled "The Umbrella." It is a dainty little bit of verse, and my hired man thinks it is a gem. I called it "The Umbrella,' so that it would not be returned.—Bill Nye.

Mrs. Ikelstein—"Ron mit der doctor, kervick, Solomon! ter paby is swallowt a silfer tollar!" Mr. I.—"Vos it dot von I lefd on tor dable?" "Yes, dot vos id; hurry mid der doctor!" "Don'd ged oxcided, Rajel, it vos gounderveid."—Life.

Grocer—I don't have to crack up that butter, Uncle Rastus; it sells itself.

Uncle Rastus (testing it)—Yes, sah, dat butter oughter sell itself, tie up itself, d'liver itself, eat itself, an' still have strength nuff lef' ter diges' itself. Wot yo' cha'gin fo' axle grease dis mawnin', Mr. Scales?—New York Sun.

"Seven husbands in a New York town have never been absent from home later than 9 o'clock at night during a married life of from ten to twenty years." This is the first intimation we have had that the "seven wonders of the world" are located in this country.—Norristown Herald.

"Where's my razor, Billy?" growled a hard-faced Whitstable skipper, who was making himself spruce for a Christmas dinner party. "Oi'm a-opening hoystres with it, feyther," replied the lad. "Darn your skin!" cried the old man. "You just run and rub it on a brick bat, or I shan't never be able to rasp this here beard of mine off before the wisitors harrives."—Fun.

Delicately Done.

"Ah, madam," he said as he extended a hand to help her up. "I never saw a more graceful fall. You threw up your arms like a born actress, your little feet indulged in a shuffle, and you settled down with a swan-like movement which was superb."

"Really, sir?"

"Honest Injun, madam."

And he picked up a No. 7 rubber which had been flung from her left foot, turned his back to a dent in the snow which looked as if a cottage had been upset there, and raising his hat and making a profound bow he took his leave, while she got aboard a street car and continued to blush and smile for sixteen blocks.—Detroit Free Press.

Knew Uncle Rastus.

Merchant (to applicant for a job)—Do you know anything about figures, Uncle Rastus?

Uncle Rastus—Yes, sah.

Merchant—Well, if I were to lend you $5, and you promised to pay me $1 each month, how much would you owe me at the expiration of three months?

Uncle Rastus—Fi' dollahs, sah.

Merchant—I'm afraid you don't know much about figures.

Uncle Rastus—No, sah, but spects I knows all 'bout Uncle Rastus.—New York Sun.

Misinterpreted Sympathy.

Disconsolate widow—His death will certainly break my heart.

Condoling pastor—Sister, you must be resigned. He has gone to a far happier home.

D. W. (fiercely)—Oh, you think he has, eh? You sniveling old hypocrite you! I want you to know that I made his home as happy as I could.—Philadelphia Call.

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established. Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO ADVERTISERS!

[illegible]

---

100 Doses

One Dollar. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which this can be truly said; and it is an unanswerable argument as to the strength and positive economy of this great medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, barks, etc., long and favorably known for their power in purifying the blood; and in combination, proportion, and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself.

"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. C. BREWSTER, Buffalo.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. M. HUBBARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PEBLE, Salem, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Billous Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all rundown, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.

General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.

SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

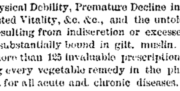
NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Clyremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful Cure at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopoeia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston. Mass.

CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM
CATARRH
CURES COLD IN HEAD
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S, OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A.
EASY TO USE
HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Gives Relief at once and Cures

Cold in Head, CATARRH, HAY FEVER.

Not a Liquid, Snuff or Powder. Free from injurious Drugs and Offensive odors.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free.

ELY BROTHERS,
Druggists, Owego, N. Y

25,000 FATAL CASES

Science emerging from Darkness.

OF TYPHOID FEVER ANNUALLY IN THIS COUNTRY.

ALL TREATED WITH QUININE.

Dr. J. S. Mitchel, of Chicago, in a clinical lecture at the Cook County Hospital. Oct. 7th, 1886, said: "In typhoid fever no possible good can result from giving Quinine, as at the best it can only effect a temporary reduction of temperature; and after forty eight hours the fever is usually higher than at first."

KASKINE DESTROYS THE DISEASE GERMS in FEVERS,

MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DEBILITY, LIVER, LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASE.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y. } "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Kaskine is pleasant to take, and can be used without special medical counsel.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our AUTOMATIC [illegible]

LEGAL.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1887, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in January, March, May, June, September, November and December.

FULTON At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in April, July and October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on the last Thursday of April, July and September

PARISH—At J. S. Ludington's law office, on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday in April, July and September.

F. DAVID, Surrogate.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Alice Hethington as administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. Mosher, Nellie Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis and Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 13th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys.

Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Pardon C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego Co., N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October 15, 1886.— Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & RICE.
Plaintiff's Attorneys.
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Frank L. Sears vs. Alice M. Hethington, administratrix &c. of William S. Hethington, deceased, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugine Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington, Alice M. Hethington and Nellie E. Sears.

Action to foreclose Mortgage.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 23d day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephene Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 23d, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y.

Yours &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty,
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Nellie E. Sears against John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington and Alice Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 5th, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y.

Yours &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty.,
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT.—County of Oswego.—ss. Perry M. Simons, vs. George H. Simons, Mrs. George H. Simons, Ruze D. VanBuren, Carrie VanBuren, Bruce M. VanBuren, Mamie VanBuren, Annie Reynolds Stewart, Walter Reynolds, Mrs. Walter Reynolds, Jeremiah M. Green, Martha H. Green, Lucretia Arnold, Henrietta Lee, William A. Lawrence, Mrs. William A. Lawrence, Byron E. Green, Alice Green, Stella Green Douglas, Sarah Lee, Seth Burgess, Polly Burgess, Helen M. Green, Amelia Johnson and Helen Simons.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 29th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To Jeremiah M. Green, Martha H. Green, Henrietta Lee, George H. Simons, Mrs. George H. Simons, and Anna Reynolds Stewart.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon John C. Churchill, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 8th day of December, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego County, at Oswego City, N. Y.

Yours, &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK. By the Grace of God Free and Independent.

To Asa Chapman, Bowens Corners, Oswego county, N. Y.; Chas. D. Herrington, Laura M. Wilcox, Anna Chapman, Eunice Blake, George Blake, South Hannibal, Oswego County, N. Y.; Emeline King, Norman H. Haviland, Edgar O. Chapman, Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y.; Louise Perry, Lilly Dawley, South Richland, Oswego county, N. Y.; Aaron Chapman, Horace Chapman, Samuel Chapman, Red Creek, Wayne county, N. Y.; Jane Paddock, North Wolcott, Wayne county, N. Y.; John C. Chapman, John S. Chapman, John G. Haviland, Stephen Haviland, West Hoosick, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Asa B. Chapman, Boyntonville, Rensselaer county, N.Y.; Crocker Chapman, Cora M. Chapin, Hoosic Falls, Rensselaer county, Lydia A. Moses, Hoosic, Rensselaer county, N.Y.; Nathaniel Cottrel, Pittstown, Rensselaer Co. N.Y.; Sarah Herrington, Anna Newcomb, Ettie Phillips, Ellen Case, Johnsonville, Rensselaer county, N.Y.; William C. Chapman, Calvin E. J. Carpenter, Cambridge, Washington Co., N.Y.; Nathan Case, Greenwich, Washington county, N.Y.; James H. Chapman, Gansevort, Saratoga county, N. Y.; William Haviland, Pompey, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Maria Nash, Cicerville, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Homer Dunham, Horace Dunham, Plank Road, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Mary Cowell, Westbury, Cayuga county, N. Y.; John E. Chapman, Belle Chapman, Martville, Cayuga county, N. Y.; Abert Hallett, Hermon, St. Lawrence county, N. Y.; Marshall Herrington, Rochester, Monroe county, N. Y.; Alice Behoke, St. Paul, Minn; Ira Chapman, Arnold Hulett, Almon Hulett, George Hulett, Beaver Creek, Rock county, Minn.; Sidney Baker, Washington, D. C.; Mary Parks, Desoto, Jefferson county, Mo.; Mary A. Hall, Brookfield, Linn county, Mo.; Sarah Matilda Cottrell, New Ashford, Mass.; Susan A. Helling, Lincoln, Neb.; Hellen A. Helling, Bennington, Vt.; Arthur C. Head, North Pownal, Vt.; Horace Hallett, Stockton, Cal.; Courtland Chapman, Sherbyville, Allegan county, Mich.; Roxana Kent, Lowell, Kent county, Mich.; George F. Leonard, Nelson Leonard, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Elijah D. Leonard, Chas. A. Leonard, Chester M. Leonard, Sidney W. Leonard, Elizabeth Burgess, Kenosha, Kenosha county, Wis.; Elisha Crandall, Terrills Corners, Waushara county, Wis.; Betsy Cottrell, John C. Cottrell, Warren Cottrell, Danforth Cottrell, Belle Plaine, Benton county, Iowa; Orella Winser, Walker, Linn county, Iowa; Stephen Southwick, Chetopa, Labette county, Kan.; Sarah Lane, Pleasanton, Linn county, Kan.; Sarah Lane, Pleasanton, Linn Co., Kan.; Nathan Southwick, South Warren, Bradford county, Penn.; Geletta Thomas, Towanda, Bradford county, Penn.; Joseph Southwick, Hoopston, Vermillion county, Ill.; John Herrington, residence unknown; Cordelia Hawkins, Flandreau, Moody county, Da., heirs at law and next of kin of Jonah Chapman, late of the Town of Granby, in the County of Oswego, deceased. Send Greeting.

Whereas, Merritt Miller, of the town of Hannibal, in the County of Oswego, has lately made application to our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, to have a certain instrument in writing relating to real and personal estate, duly proved as the last Will and Testament of said Jonah Chapman deceased; therefore, you, and each of you, are cited and required personally to be and appear before our said Surrogate at his office, in the Village of Phoenix, in said County of Oswego, on the 24th day of January, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend to the probate of said instrument as the last Will and Testament of said deceased.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, We have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of [L. S.] Phoenix, in said county, the 30th day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

FITS STOPPED FREE

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR.

"The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image."

VOLUME 19—NUMBER 38

$1.25 a Year in Advance.

FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY JANUARY 26, 1887.

Single Copies Three Cents

The Chemistry of Character.

John, and Peter, and Robert, and Paul,
God in his wisdom created them all.
John was a statesman, and Peter a slave,
Robert a preacher, and Paul—was a knave.
Evil or good as the case might be,
White, or colored, or bond, or free—
John, and Peter, and Robert and Paul,
God in his wisdom created them all.

Out of earth's elements, mingled with flame,
Out of life's compound of glory and shame,
Fashioned and shaped by no will of their own,
And helplessly into life's history thrown;
Born by the law that compels men to be,
Born to conditions they could not foresee,
John, and Peter, and Robert, and Paul,
God it his wisdom created them all.

John was the head and the heart of his State.
Was trusted and honored, was noble and great;
Peter was made 'neath life's burden to groan,
And never once dreamed that his soul was his own.
Robert great honor and glory received,
For zealously preaching what no one believed;
While Paul of the pleasures of sin took his fill,
And gave up his life to the service of ill.

It chanced that these men, in their passing away
From earth and its conflicts, all died the same day.
John was mourned through the length and breadth of the land.
Peter fell 'neath the lash in a merciless hand—
Robert died with the praise of the lord on his tongue,
While Paul was convicted of murder, and hung.
John, and Peter, and Robert, and Paul—
The purpose in life was fulfilled in them all.

Man said of the Statesman—"How noble and brave!"
But of Peter, alas!—"he was only a slave."
Of Robert—"'Tis well with his soul—it is well,"
While Paul they consigned to the torments of hell,
Born by one law through all nature the same.
What made them differ and who was to blame?
John, and Peter, and Robert, and Paul—
God in his wisdom created them all.

Out in that region of infinite light,
Where the soul of the black man is pure as the white—
Out where the spirit through sorrow made wise,
No longer resorts to deception and lies—
Out where the flesh no longer control
The freedom and faith of the God-given soul—
Who shall determine, what change may befall
John, and Peter, and Robert, and Paul!

John may in wisdom and goodness increase—
Peter rejoice in an infinite peace—
Robert may learn that the truths of the Lord
Are more in the spirit and less in the word—
And Paul may be blessed with a holier birth
Than the passions of man had allowed him on earth.
John, and Peter, and Robert, and Paul!
God in his wisdom will care for them all.

—Lizzie Doten.

THE PROBLEM OF THE INEBRIATE.

BY W. W. CODDING, M. D.,

SUPERINTENDENT OF THE GOVERNMENT HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

(Read before the Medical Society of the District of Columbia, December 11, 1886.)

Speaking after the manner of the street, we may say that there is no harder conundrum proposed to modern civilization than this same inebriate. Utterly useless to himself, he becomes a nuisance to everybody else. This difficulty meets us at the outset of the discussion, what is meant by the inebriate? We are accustomed to consider drunkenness and inebriety as synonomous terms, and yet not every man who gets drunk is what we call an inebriate. The best man in the world, at least in his age—it is true that age was sunk rather low—was Noah, and he was barely out of the ark when he got drunk, yet, in view of his previous as well as subsequent history, we should hesitate to call him an inebriate.

To better illustrate the meaning of the term inebriate, I present to you in this paper the brief memoir of a typical inebriate, no fancy sketch, but one of real flesh and blood. For obvious reasons I withhold his name, but for convenience of designation will call him "the Col"—a common title about Washington—which will answer our purpose as well as any. This is not a temperance lecture in disguise, introducing the Col. as an object-lesson, after the manner of the Athenian teacher who exhibited a drunken man to his pupils. He is presented simply as a pathological specimen, and I do this with no feeling that in doing so any confidence is violated or that I am exposing anything which the Col. would have preferred should be kept covered now that he is gone, for this man, while living, had no affectation of virtue; delicacy of feeling was a weakness of which he was never suspected; public opinion he despised; the wages of sin were satisfactory to him so only he had the sin; he was content to pose as an "awful example;" and I think he would have consented that his viscera should be photographed to illustrate Sewell's lectures on the coats of the stomach, merely stipulating that their membranes should be occasionly moistened with whiskey. What study the anatomist might make of his bones when he had done with them, what lesson the moralist would draw from his finished life, were matters of profound indifference to him, as I do not think he expected to pass this way again.

My first acquaintance with the Col. was in May, 1878, when he was brought to St. Elizabeth on the certificate of two physicians to his insanity. In May, 1886, almost exactly eight years later, I parted with him for the last time, to hear within three weeks of his death. Just turned of forty when I first knew him, and, looking only on that magnificent physique with which Nature had endowed him, he would pass for a young man. Scrutinizing more closely you saw that the arcus senilis had come, the vital energies burned down, the wit was at its dregs, and in every sense was it true that the virtue had gone out of him. There was left only an insane thirst for whiskey, and what his uncle in a conversation with me once styled "his fatal facility in writing." The latter, although deteriorated with all the rest, still afforded him, as a newspaper hack writer, a precarious income from his articles. These were society articles of [illegible] sort, but with now and then a scintillation of the old wit which [illegible] the table in a roar." All else [illegible] property, if he ever had it, [illegible] which he had [illegible] was something inexplicable, availed no more to turn him to virtuous courses than singing the temperance pledge did to wean him from his cups; and the influence of both had less restraining power over him than the lightest whiff from his cigar. As the typical reformed inebriate he was the making and the undoing of I know not how many temperance organizations. Of the various antidotes for drink he was the universal solvent; the thirst within him was his one strong point, the only point that waxed not old.

What was the disease? Looking for intellectual insanity, you do not find it; yet there were observed phenomena psychical in character worthy of note. When first received, and so long as the alcohol was circulating in his tissues, there was more or less incoherence and confusion of ideas, but apparently no more than would follow a debauch in any one. Then came a period of rest, when everything was first class and he apparently at peace with all the world; was even tolerant of the vagaries of the insane patients about him; life was a pleasant jest, and his comfortable shelter in an insane hospital the greatest joke of all. Then came a time when life was real and of a very bitter earnest. Sore-headed was no name for it; he found fault with everything; complained of his food: abused his wife; maligned his nurses; made even the unfortunate insane who came within his reach, miserable by one diabolical device or another; then claimed that his own life was being made wretched by being immured with grinning, idiotic lunatics, and attendants of a still lower order of intelligence. Still held in durance, he would, after months of enforced abstinence, his periodical cravings for rum remaining unsatisfied, become moody, dull, almost imbecile, as if a kind of mental dry-rot had come over him. Now let the opportunity be given him to rouse his brain and liver by a fortnight's debauch and its accompanying abstinence from food; the old life would come back; the wit sparkled again, and, with Bulwer's Margrave, he felt the elixir tingling in his veins, for

> "Like to the Pontic monarch old days,
> He fed on poisons and they had no power,
> But were a kind of nutriment."

From a moral standpoint the mental obliquity, not to say aberration, was simply appalling. This was by no means exceptional in the Col.; it is the keynote to all these cases of inebriety, but I take himm as the illustration, and remarking the keeness of his wit and the correctness of his observation, associated as it was with the most utter disregard of his own best interests, and his complete helplessness in the presence of stimulants, I wondered how long, even with the support of the certificate of insanity from two eminent physicians, I could hold him against a writ of habeas corpus, brought before the tribunal which, in the Guiteau case, had pronounced a knowledge of right and wrong to be the true criterion of responsibility, and that regarded moral insanity as only a synonym for depravity. So, doubtingly, I often let him go.

"Not as other men are,"—but leaving to you, as medical men, to say what ailed him, let me rapidly outline his eight years' record at St. Elizabeth, premising that this was only about one-third of a career as completely bounded by whiskey as the world of the ancients was by the ocean. In that period of eight years the books of the hospital show that he was sent to the institution no less than ten times as insane; the insanity was certified to by two physicians; and once he remained for a considerable time on a voluntary commitment. The time thus passed with us amounted to two years and four months or something less than one-third of the whole period. There were also voluntary visits, of short duration, where no record was kept. It is safe to say that during the eight years he was for an equal length of time "sobering up" in one of the city hospitals, the work-house, the alms-house, or the sheltering arms of some other eleemosynary institution. It was during a stay in one of these havens of rest, already becoming restless for a drink, that he writes he had "now run the gauntlet of all the institutions (naming them) except a lying-in establishment, of which he yet hoped to find one sufficiently respectable for him to enter, unless, as he feared, he should be found physically disqualified for the situation."

Seeing how large a portion of these eight years was passed in institutions of one kind and another, one wonders when he was sober, just as his frequent appearance at the bar of the police court led Judge Snell to exclaim, "Col., are you always drunk?" To which, with the gravity of a pundit, the Col. replied, "Does yer Honor take me for a millionaire?"

There was a noticeable periodicity about the Col.'s infirmity. Remaining at the hospital, as a general rule, only so long as he could be induced to remain voluntarily, it is instructive in our pathological study of the case to note how frequently, after a residence and abstinence of but little more than a month, "important business" made it imperatively necessary that he should return to the city and "his wallowing in the mire." Of his eleven recorded sojourns with us I find six of duration as follows: two of one month and seven days each; one of one month eight days; one of one month twelve days; one of one month eleven days; and one of one month four days. The two longest detentions, seven months and twelve days and four months and five days, respectively, were both after strenuous voluntary efforts for his own commitment, and were terminated with a long [illegible] prodigal in his weakness, but with this difference, that the hospital authorities soon got over ordering veal on his arrival.

Running over my letters and memoranda of that period, I find "the old, old story," with endless repetitions, from which I make a few extracts as samples: (Before going out): "My affairs have got to a point now where I must lay hold of them and straighten them out. * * * As far as whiskey is concerned (I find I must refer to the subject, nauseating as it is), you need have no fear," etc. (After going out). "He appreciated your kindness as much as I do, and if he hadn't fallen by the way, side we would have come over to pay you a visit; but before he got time to exhibit his sobriety he got drunk." (Some time later). "Dear Doctor: The poor soul—I think I may reasonably say —which accompanies this note, left Providence Hospital on last Saturday week and took his old room donned his new forty-five dollar suit, and got drunk. At two o'clock they had to send for the police. He broke the front door, assaulted the cook and chamber maid, and produced general hilarity. He has been thoroughly dead drunk ever since (not eating anything as far as I can learn); sleeping up in an alley in preference to a bed; and has been three times arrested. You will see his condition. He has been in the station for thirty hours, and is rational. For the Lord's sake keep him over there for the rest of his life."

So I might go on for an hour illustrating the varying phases of his infirmity from correspondence and note books, but with my limited time a single episode—that of the Montana trip—must suffice:

In January, 1883, an army officer, moved by I know not what good impulse, secured a fairly remunerative position for the Col. in the Quatermaster's Department of the U. S. Army, station to be in Montana. It is needless to say that our hero was overjoyed. Thenceforward there were to be no more spicy letters from "our occasional correspondent," dating nomily from Saratoga, from Newport, or from the Thousand Isles, but really written within the purlieus of a lunitic asylum. And there were to be no more "cakes and ale." Here was an opportunity to redeem himself or perish in the attempt. I thought it would be the latter, for in the dead of winter and the destination Montana, I felt morally certain that he would freeze to death on the road. He left the hospital on Thursday to make the necessary preliminary arrangements to start on Saturday night for his destination. I need hardly say that one of these preliminaries was to get so drunk on Friday that he was brought to the station house in the evening perfectly unconscious. He got out later, was found asleep on the floor of the telegraph office and again gathered in. A devoted friend writes: "He hurried off on Saturday night but illy equipped for his five days' journey, promising to write from Chicago. I haven't heard a word, and I believe he is drunk, or dead, or both," and adds, "I never expect to see him again, but if I do you will." We felt that at least St. Elizabeth was done with him. Like Mark Twain watching the Arab in his foot race up and down the pyramids, I said now he will slip, now he must break his neck, certainly in that all day ride in a coach in Montana, with a temperature of 40° below zero, he can't fail to freeze to death. But he didn't; other passengers were lifted out stiff and frosted, but alcohol will not congeal. In a letter from the hospital of the Sisters in Montana he says of his journey: "At Deer Lodge I strengthened the garrison with a quart bottle in my overcoat pocket. The result was I arrived at Helena dead broke down from fatigue, cold, want of food and sleep, and the awful and to me hitherto unknown poisons in Rocky Mountain whiskey." But though he did not freeze, he was at once in hot water with the military authorities. It was on Gen. Terry's request to be relieved of the Col's. presence in his department that Gen. Sherman wrote this famous endorsement, which appeared in the daily press at the time; "This man was appointed for the purpose of developing the latent good which is supposed to be in him. Let him be subjected to a severe course of dicipline; send him to jail; put a ball and chain on him; shoot him if necessary, but don't discharge him." Nevertheless he was discharged, and like Mark Twain's Arab, he brought up at the starting point. As the officer helped him out of the ambulance at the portals of St. Elizabeth, I said: "Well, Col., I didn't expect to see you here again." Pretty drunk, but with all the old-timed assurance, he replied: "All roads leap to Rome, doctor."

His last residence at St. Elizabeth was one of his longest. After much buffeting he had procured for himself the necessary order of the District Commissionrs admitting him to the hospital. He came to use his own expression, "to have us grow a moral nature in him as a man would grow a moustache." There was sore need of it, for "the keepers of the house" had begun "to tremble, and the strong man to bow himself." So he rested for the winter. I committed the entire management of his case to my able assistant, Dr. Stack, promising that he should have all the credit if he cured him. I gave him carte blanche—he might put the batteries on him; soak his brain in hellebore; purge him hyssop; cleanse his heart—do anything and everything, so only he resuscitated his moral nature. It is useless to say that the doctor did his level best, and in the spring told me he thought the time had come to test the Col.'s strength by [illegible] for before the resurrection? And even then, while I wondered, there came into his scheme for getting aid from his uncle and going on a ranch in the far west to commence life anew, and he began to talk of removing to the city to make his arrangements. Then I knew what was coming. I urged him to remain where he was and leave to to others to make his arrangements. But he had reached the time when he wanted no advice; so we parted, he going on his own wild way to the end.

He was born of godlike faculties, but he drank of the cup of Circe till it transformed him into a beast. I know not what voice of organization, what inherited taint or what sinful indulgence first wrought this woe. What ever it was, he was so hopelessly enmeshed in its folds that from the first time I saw him his moral responsibility was, to say the least, an open question. If it was sin, has he not suffered for it? If it was disease, shall not the sufferer rest? I like to think of him at his best in a life that had but little best to recommend it. He was better than he wished to seem. I have seen him take slyly from his pocket and give to the dog who accompanied him on his morning walk portions saved from his own breakfast, and then apologize for what might seem a human weakness. Let us in our human weakness, each cast a shard above him for sweet charity. Taken from out the freezing alleys and gutters where he had so often lain in this world, I hope that burning thurst has not followed him whither he has gone, and I cannot think of him as lying cold o'nights.

I have not given you here an exceptional case; Washington is full of them. I doubt not they are within the experience of every one of my audience. Treating it only as a pataological specimen in this necessarily fragmentary and hurried sketch I have left unrevealed the tragedy in the home, but it is there none the less. And that is the most moving, realistic side of all these cases. Every month—nay, almost every week, they come to me to know what they shall do that their friends may be saved? Alas! that I have no answer to give. Mothers bring to me their breaking hearts in confidence which I shall not profane here; wives with a devotion which tells me the age of martyrdom has not passed; sisters with streaming eyes implore me to save their brother —my brother and your brother too. It is time that as medical men we had some answer to make to this question, what shall be done with them? As scientists curious of the bacillus we forget the worm of the still. As savants we show a pardonable enthusiasm over the over the shards of a jug on which we may with laborous pains decipher the symbol of Annibus or Osiris, but manifest an inexcusable indifference to that human "treasure" which we have in these frailer than "earthen vessels" on whose shattered fragments we might still trace the lines of the image once stamped there. It is time that the scientist and scholar spoke; that he turned from the contemplation of cliff dwellings and bone caves, and drew out from dens of infamy and caverns of despair where he has been hiding this troglodyte of our time. When the medical men of the community move in earnest in this, we shall have public sentiment and out of that sentiment will come law, and an answer to the prayer, "Lord, that I might be healed."

More cases of sick headache, biliousness, constipation, &c., can be used in less time, with less medicine and for less money, by using Carter's Little Little Liver Pills, than any other means.

Antiquity of Gambling.

I believe they played dominoes in Egypt 3,000 years ago for money, and I dare say the mercenaries of ancient Carthage shook dice for renumeration they had for their brutal services. Poker was known by another name, but I doubt not that Nebuchadnezzar's army antied up in their camp in the warm Assyrian night; and while Brutus was quarreling with Cassius in his tent the Roman soldiery were probably staking their prospective drachmas at some game of chance. Still, in the nineteenth century, with civilization in full blast and a hundred religious creeds fighting for the regulation of peoples morals, the three card monte performer scoops in the astute man of business and the bunko man lands the statesman and the poet just as of old.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Relief from sick Headache, Drowsiness, Nausea, Dizziness, Pain in the Side, &c., guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. Carter's Little Liver Pills will do this every time. One pill is a dose. Forty in a vial. Price 25 cents.

How to Make a Good Town.

Here is a late receipt for making a good town: Grit, push, snap, vim, energy, churches, schools, colleges, morality, enterprise, harmony, advertising, cordiality, cheap property, healthy location, good country tributary, talk about it, help to improve, advertise in and read the town papers, patronize its merchants, faith exhibited by good works, honest competition in business, help all public enterprises, elect good men to office, speak well of its public-spirited, enterprising citizens and be one of them yourself. Remember that every dollar invested in permanent improvements is that much on interest. Always cheer on the men who go in for improvements.—Ex.

[illegible]

Prices Sixty Years Ago.

An account book of 1826, or sixty years ago, shows some of the prices of our ancestors, and gives us food for thought in comparing them with the prices of to-day. The location was Rochester, N. Y., and the accounts were of a general character. As ladies should always come first, I will begin with their goods:

Calico, 31 cents per yard; ginghams, 40 cents; flannels, 50 cents; dress silks were from $1 to $3 per yard; ladies' shoes, $1.50 per pair; men's boots from $3 to $5 per pair; ladies' bonnets were then seldom changed in style or fashion, and prices ranged from $1 to $8. Elias Howe, the inventor of the sewing machines, was then unheard of, and tailors received for making coats from 70 cents to $3 each. Pants and vests were then got up in the then prevailing style from 25 to 50 cents each. The hero of these accounts was then a bachelor some 30 years of age, and several entries show were 50 cents per dozen was the price paid for laundry work.

Old folks remember "dickies," which are in several places charged 40 cents each. Of building material, bricks are quoted at $6 per M.; clear pine lumber at $10 per M.; nails 12 cents per pound; glass 8 x 10 light, 15 cents; lime per bushel, 15 cents; hauling with team per day, $1.75. Laborers' wages were 60 to 40 cents per day. Stone-masons, bricklayers and carpenters are in several places credited with work at $1.50 per day. Board for workmen 9 cents per meal or $1.75 per week. Smoked hams were 7 cents per pound; fresh beef, 4 cents; fresh pork 3½ cents; mutton by the quarter, 22 cents; tea, Young Hyson, $1.40 per pound; rice, 6 cents, sugar, seven cents; molasses, 40 cents per gallon; maple molasses and sugar were quoted at about the same prices; salt, 70 cents per bushel; "locofoco" matches, 25 cents per box for about as are now sold for three cents, and very few appeared to be sold, as tinder and steel were relied upon for fire. Why the matches were called "locofoco" I have never understood, but presume some of our old grand-sires could tell.

Coal for fuel was not then used, and 4-foot cord wood is in several places charged at $1 per cord. Cooking stoves were then just coming in use, of the "Horseblock" pattern, and cost $18 each. Corn was 65 cents per bushel. Flour fluctuated from 4 to $19 per barrel, but the average was nearer the former price. Tobacco sold at 40 cents per pound, and cigars appear to have been unknown, at least none are charged. Whiskey, not our modern tanglefoot, but good, was 35 cents per gallon. Santa Cruz, Jamaica, Porto Rico and various kinds of rum were from 50 cents to $1 per gallon. "Blackstrap," a favorite old-time beverage, commanded $1 per gallon and was the favorite tipple for "general training day," as the day for general muster of the State militia was called, and which in those days was called a roaring farce.

Among the items of the spring of 1827 is one as follows: "Rev. William Patterson, Cr. By service at wedding $5," and about the same time Mr. P. is charged with "One Hat, $5," from which it is presumed that these were the ruling prices for these necessaries of life. Money was of gold, silver and paper, as to-day, but was very scarce, and "barter of trade" was mostly used in traffic.

Only the larger cities and towns had their own newspapers and the news was stale. Postage on letters was 12½, 18¾ and 25 cents per letter, according to the the distance carried, and stamps were unknown for nearly 20 years after. At the option of the sender, postage on letters could be paid or not, and right here one of the most highly esteemed old ladies of this country one day received notice of a letter with "Twenty-five cents due" that was held in the postoffice for her. Not having the money, she herself killed and skinned a calf, selling the hide to a tanner for 25 cents, to redeem the letter.—Cor. National Weekly.

An Item For Boys.

It is not necessary that a boy who learns a trade should follow it all his life. Governor Palmer of Illinois, was once a country blacksmith, and began his political career in Macoupin county. A circuit judge in the central part of Illinois was a tailor. Thomas Hoyne, a rich and eminent lawyer of Illinois, was once a book-binder. Erastus Corning in New York, to lame to do hard labor, commenced as a shop boy in Albany. When he applied for employment first, he was asked, "Why my little boy what can you do?" "Can do what I am bid," was the answer, which secured him a place. Senator Wilson of Massachusetts was a shoemaker; Thurlow Weed was a canal-boat driver; ex-Governor Stone of Iowa, was a cabinet maker, as was also the late Hon. Stephen A. Douglass, in his youth. Large numbers of men of prominence now living, have risen from humble life by dint of industry, without which talent is as a gold coin on a barren island. Work alone makes men bright, and it does not depend alone on the kind of work you have, whether you rise or not; it depends, certainly, on how you do it.

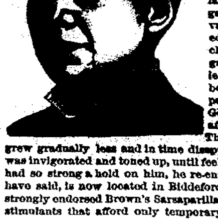
LOST.

A good reputation, by Bartholomew the Hartford defaulter, but he can cure his Cough by using Higgins' T. & C. Compound.

Unsurveyed Public Lands.

Although the best of the public lands have [illegible], it is [illegible] to note that there still remains unsurveyed about [illegible] acres in Colorado, 12,000,000 in Arizona, nearly 50,000,000 in California, [illegible]

Pain in the Back.



Rev. Theodore Gerrish now settled over a Methodist church in Biddeford, Me., was formerly a resident of Bangor. While there he became afflicted with Kidney Disease. The symptoms of this too common trouble are a drawing down pain across the back extending downwards towards the loins, scanty and high colored urine, a tired feeling, restlessness, etc. These Mr. Gerrish had to such an extent as to make it impossible to continue his labors and he resigned, devoting his time to the regaining of his health. To this end he employed various physicians, tried many of the so called remedies, visited different places hoping a change of climate might improve his condition, but failed to gain the desired relief. Returning to Bangor he learned from a member of his family that she had been greatly benefited by the use of Brown's Sarsaparilla, and was advised to give it a trial. Mr. Gerrish did so, and to his great surprise found, after a few days, that his condition had improved. The tired feeling left him, the pains across the back grew gradually less and in time disappeared; he rested well at night; the whole system was invigorated and toned up, until feeling that he was free from the Kidney disease that had so strong a hold on him, he re-entered upon the duties of the ministry, and, as we have said, is now located in Biddeford. In addition to his testimonial Mr. Gerrish has strongly endorsed Brown's Sarsaparilla for the reason that it is not composed of alcoholic stimulants that afford only temporary relief, but of pure vegetable productions well known for their effective action on the Kidneys, Liver and Blood.

Brown's Sarsaparilla

Is for sale everywhere for $1; 6 bottles for $5. Ara Warren & Co., Proprietors, Bangor, Me.

PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

Can always be relied upon as a pleasant, mild, speedy, and POSITIVE CURE in all cases of Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Flatulency, Fullness of Blood, and all Inflammatory Complaints where A Gentle, Cooling Cathartic is required. Chemist, physician, and public with one accord pronounce it unequalled as an Aperient and Refrigerant. Be prudent and have a bottle always within reach. "A stitch in time saves nine." Remember that the slight internal disorder of to-day may become an obstinate, incurable disease to-morrow.

Sold by all Druggists. A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N. Y.

THE PROPER THING.

Pale pink veils are stylish.

English nainsook is now used for infant's dresses.

The newest fur boas taper from the middle to the ends.

Ivory white velvet, for evening dresses, has tinted floral designs.

Gray squirrel fur is used in trimming velvet and cloth costumes.

The newest velvet bodices have the sides extended to form panels.

Velvet, with pearl designs on satin ground, has the figures outlined with tinsel.

Many of the new woolen goods show black grounds, with narrow silk stripes in light shades.

Ermine is revived for children's use, and is seen in carriage robes for infants, in collars capes and caps.

A new material for half mourning has a black ground sprinkled with dots of white, and stripes of black satin.

Larged-meshed Russian net with a scalloped edge is used for face veils, and is found to be generally becoming.

A favorite style in walking skirts has the kilts at the side [illegible]y, one wide box pleat in front, and [illegible] drapery in the back.

Astrachan plaid plush, in grey on black and two tones of brown, has a sheeney, soft effect, the light-toned plush being in high relief.

Ladies are wearing bonnets made entirely of ribbons put on in rows around the brim to show the fanciful edge of loops or fringe or tassels, and in lengthwise rows down the crown.

Neck ribbons an inch and a half wide are put on above the collar of the dress and tied in front in a small, short bow; the ribbon may be white or colored, and may be worn with or without any frill or other lingerie around the neck.

Sleighing hoods of plush are made with box-pleated crowns and a cape that comes way down on the shoulders. They are warmly wadded, lined with silk of becoming color, and are caught up in pleats just above the forehead that are surmounted by a high bow.

Nobody Asked You to, Sir, He Said.

Scene on Charles street:

Young man carrying home a "growler" of lager beer is met by a respectable old gentleman, a radical of the Prohibition party.

Old gentleman to young man—I wouldn't drink that stuff.

Young man—Who in thunder wants you to drink it?

Tableau.—Boston Globe.

When all so-called remedies fail, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures.

Unaccountable as Woman's Whims.

Jabber—"It's very curious that fellows who kick about high bonnets in theatres haven't a word to say about them in churches. Why is it?"

Jiber—"Those kind of fellows don't go to church as a general thing, and if they did who in thunder wants to look at a minister's legs, anyway?"—Lowell Citizen.

ROYAL
ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Pay the Printer.

The report is going the rounds of the press that it is larceny to take a newspaper and refuse to pay for it. A newspaper in Illinois recently brought suit against 43 men who would not pay their subscriptions, and obtained judgment in each for the full amount of the claim. Of these 28 men made affidavits that they owned no more property than the law would allow them, thus preventing attachments. Then they, under the decision of the supreme court, were arrested for petty larceny, and bound over in the sum of $300 each. All but six gave bonds while six went to jail. It makes no difference what part of the continent the paper goes, a bill sent to the postmaster, justice of the peace or any United States officer can be collected.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & CO.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

MRS. LESAGE.
26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check for $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation. The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 150 pages, GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST. New-York.

$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our AUTOMATIC GAS GOVERNORS save 33 per cent. in gas bills. Our Silver Gas Lights can be attached to any fixture, instantly changing the dull, sickly, yellow flame of any gas to a soft, mellow, luminous white increasing brilliancy 50 per cent. Over 8,000 in service. Address.
THE UNION NATIONAL GAS SAVING CO.

WORK FOR ALL. Permanent employment given to energetic men and women everywhere. $30 a week and expenses paid. Samples worth $5 and all particulars sent free. Address at once P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Maine. Don't miss this chance. Write to-day.

LADIES. Enamel your Ranges twice a year, tops once a week and you have the finest polish stove in the world. For sale by all Grocers and Stove dealers.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 8y1

WORKING CLASSES ATTENTION [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters, etc. No [illegible] First Street.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
32 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls. Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS,
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

PATENTS,
Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights
Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES. Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON. Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT. We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to
C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

LUMBER! LUMBER.
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c.
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
O. RUST. 37tf

C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—
Decker Brothers' Matchless Pianos.
THE VERY BEST PIANOS.
Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.

MAKE HENS LAY.
SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

RINGLAND HOUSE,
OSWEGO, N. Y.,
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Streets. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices Reasonable.
[illegible]

EUREKA FROST CURE

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES,

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office or moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

THE N. Y. Sun announces William T. Coleman as a suitable Democratic candidate for the Presidency, claiming that while Mr. Coleman has never held or sought any office his abilities are such as to fit him for this high office.

ASSEMBLYMAN HOWE is one of the 11 that voted for Senator-elect Hiscock from the first till the last ballot in the recent Republican caucus at Albany. He is on the winning side and the double faced, chameleonal politicians of Oswego county, who will be after favors from Senator Hiscock, will be especially pleasant to Mr. Howe until the next time he comes up for office.

WE are in receipt of a copy of the seventh annual report of the New York Ontario & Western Railway Company. The President's report shows that the floating debt of $871,000 existing last year has been paid off, and $375,000 expended in completing the main track with steel rails and other improvements. The net earnings for the year were $222,000 and the surplus 113,487.72. At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the road held Wednesday, Jan. 19, Thomas P. Flower was unanimously re-elected president, Joseph Prince vice-president and John Barton secretary and treasurer.

THE House of Representatives last week passed the bill for the relief of dependent parents of honorably discharged soldiers who are disabled and dependent upon their own labor for support. Its annual cost to the government is put at $6,000,000. It provides that parents of deceased soldiers, where there are no widows or minor children, shall not be required to show that they are without other means of support than their own manual labor. The pension is twelve dollars a month. The House also concurred in the Senate amendment to the Mexican pension bill, which provides for a pension of eight dollars a month to men who served in the Mexican war sixty days or to the widows of such, provided they have not married again.

THE twenty-five Senators to fill vacancies have nearly all been elected. The Republicans have elected Joseph E. Hawley, of Connecticut; Eugene Hale, of Maine; Henry L. Dawes, of Massachusetts; Francis B. Stockbridge, of Michigan; Cushman K. Davis, of Minnesota; William M. Stewart, of Nevada; Frank Hiscock, of New York; John Sherman, of Ohio; M. S. Quay, of Pennsylvania; Nelson W. Aldrich, of Rhode Island; George F. Edmunds, of Vermont: A. S. Paddock, of Nebraska, and Mr. Sawyer, of Wisconsin, making thirty-nine in all—one more than half the Senate. The Democrats have elected George Hearst, of California; George Gray, of Delaware; A. P. Gorman, of Maryland; James Z. George, of Mississippi; F. B. Cockrell, of Missouri, and J. W. Daniel, of Virginia, and will elect Democrats in place of Jones, of Florida; Whitthorne, of Tennessee; Camden, of West Virginia, and Maxey, of Texas, and they will also get one seat from Indiana and one from New Jersey, making thirty-seven in all. The changes thus far are Democratic gains in California and Virginia and a Democratic loss in Nevada. There is a vacancy by death in New Hampshire, but the Legislature will not be elected until June.

HISCOCK is the man that carried off the senatorial prize in the contest at Albany last week.

The first twelve ballots taken were so remarkable for their similarity that they became monotonous. It was not until then that any material change occurred when the Morton followers, seeing that their case was hopeless, began to transfer their votes to Hiscock. On the seventeenth ballot Mr. Hiscock had 47 votes and Mr. Miller 46. On the next ballot a number deserted from the Miller camp and Hiscock received the required number of votes to insure his nomination.

Mr. Frank Hiscock, the new Senator, lives in Syracuse and is 52 years old. He was born in Pompey, Onondaga county, and after receiving an academic education was admitted to the bar in 1855. The first public office he held was District Attorney of Onondaga county from 1860 to 1863. He was in the State Congressional convention in 1867. He has served ten years in Congress and last Fall was again elected to the 50th Congress by 5,000 majority. He was the leader of the Republican minority in the House and he will undoubtedly assume a commanding position in the Senate.

Annual Statements Filed.

The annual statements of the following corporations have been filed in the county clerk's office: Central City Knife company, of Phoenix; capital stock, $50,000; amount paid in $15,000; due from the company, $38,493.48. Howe Ventilating Stove company, of [illegible] amount of capital stock, $30,000; debt borrowed from stockholders, $9,456. All other debts, $11,069.99. Empire [illegible] company, Phoenix; amount of capital stock, $10,000, fully paid in; [illegible]

[illegible] Miller's [illegible]

[illegible]

To The Citizens of Volney and Granby:

GREETING—FELLOW TOWNSMEN:

After more than 25 years, since the war for the Union first called for brave men from our midst and elsewhere to defend the Nation's honor, and after more than two decades of peace with now a united, happy and stronger country than ever, an effort is about to be made to erect a Monument in our midst in honor of the soldiers, not only of the late war, but in memory also of those who fought in the Revolution, the War of 1812, and the Mexican War. The names to be placed on the monument in five classes, viz:

FIRST—On one side those that served in the first three wars.

SECOND—Those that fell in battle or died in the service in 1861–65.

THIRD—Those that have died in the town since the war, wherever their place of enlistment.

FOURTH—All who are living in the town at the time of erecting the Monument.

FIFTH—All those who served in the Union Army from '61 to '65, who went from Volney and Granby.

As such a Monument will be public history and of personal interest to nearly all families in the towns we propose to send a Committee of our Post to see all families and invite all men, women and children to contribute whatever they are willing to give, from five cents and upwards. Such sums shall be duly credited to the persons so contributing, and a list of the same published in the village papers.

A printed full list of such names and contributions we agree shall be kept for public inspection in the G. A. R. Post Room, and a copy deposited in the town safe, and thus passed down to future generations.

When such funds are so raised, we will request the five citizens that contribute the most to this fund to act as a committee with six appointed from the Post, of which joint committee the Commander of the Post shall be Chairman, and such committee shall have full power to purchase a Monument and locate the place of erection. The committee names will be placed on the Monument in due form.

We wish all citizens to become copartners in this work of giving the Soldiers and Sailors a public record of their service rendered.

In a few days competent canvassers will these circulars, competent and worthy call on you for a subscription for this object. We sincerely hope all our citizens will liberally respond to this patriotic call, that the names and record of the men who went to the war from our midst and fought to preserve our liberties and the Union, now known to us may also be known to our posterity. When you are, therefore, deciding how much you will give, remember the "Boys In Blue." What would your homes be worth to-day had it not been for their patriotic valor?

ANSON J. OSBORN,
J. S. PALMER,
GEO. H. FASSELL,
R. B. MCCULLY,
ED. WAUGH,
A. P. CHASE,
Committee.
AMOS YOUMANS, Treasurer.

A Story of Gen. Grant.

[FOR THE TIMES.]

Gen. Clinton B. Fisk, the late Prohibition candidate for Governor of New Jersey tells this story of Gen. Grant and I give it in his words as I now remember them.

"I never heard braver words spoken in a braver place or at a braver time than by that matchless soldier who now sleeps in Riverside. It was at the siege of Vicksburg, when all the general officers including myself had assembled in consultation. The consultation had about concluded when a man in the uniform of a Major General of the regular army entered the tent. This General had already won a name as a brilliant and dashing officer. As he entered his face was rippling over with smiles, and, after greeting those present, said, 'I've a good story to tell that I just heard, but are there any ladies present?' Grant looked up with that peculiar penetrating gaze of his and said, 'No, there are no ladies present but there are some gentlemen. No gentleman should wish to hear what is not fit for a lady's ears. And no man wearing the United States uniform should be guilty of impropriety of conversation.'

The rebuke fell like a clap of thunder from a cloudless sky, and by no one was the rebuke more kindly or thankfully received than by that same General."

"And let me add," said General Fisk, "during a long personal acquaintance with General Grant both before and after the war, I never heard him make a remark that was not fit for the most modest in the land."

No comments are necessary. It fully and amply illustrates the character of the man.

Mrs. Mary Bissell died at the home of her son, C. P. Jones, last evening at 9 o'clock, aged 92 years. The remains will be taken to Manlius for burial.

Poor Little Fish.

If some women do wrong,
To their ignorance look;
Like beautiful trout
That swim in the brook,
They jump at the fly
Without seeing the hook.
If these poor little fish
Were too bitter to eat
They'd be still in the stream
And not in the street.

IRENE ACKERMAN.

The Married People's sixth annual reception is to be held at Excelsior Rink, Baldwinsville, on Friday evening, Feb'y 4th.

Draper 34 First street, opposite the Clark house, is closing out all his crockery, lamps and plated ware below cost.

Hannan's Thill Coupling.

Mr. William H. Hannan of Palermo is arranging his business so as to go into the manufacture of his patent buggy thill coupling. He expects to manufacture quite heavily as he thinks he has the best thing in the line of coupling. He claims his patent can be put on a wagon by pole or thills as easily as the harness can be unbuckled from the horse. A large number of mechanics in different parts of the state have examined his patent and all pronounce it a good thing. There are [illegible]

[illegible] Our 52 issues of The Weekly Detroit Free Press, which is so wonderfully popular that it circulates in excess of 130,000 copies each week. A little calculation shows that to print this immense issue—The Free Press being an eight page fifty-six column paper—it requires rolls of paper aggregating 135 miles in length and 15,850 pounds in weight. It is a busy day when The Free Press is mailed. There is also an English edition of the paper, printed in London, Eng., 80,000 being sold every week, making a grand total of 200,000 copies per week.

The popularity of The Free Press is attributable to the peculiar charm and attractiveness which pervades its column, appealing strongly to the sympathies and compelling the admiration of readers. It occupies a sphere of its own, and is unique and unapproachable among newspapers; there is no other like it.

The Free Press is a high toned literary family journal, which seeks to instruct, amuse, elevate and improve the masses, by publishing only that which is pure and good. Its literary standard is the highest, its pages being entirely free from the degrading and poluting trash which characterises many other so called literary and family papers. Celebrated the world over for its wit and delightful humorous sketches, it never descends to the low and vulgar in order to create a laugh. It is, in short, a bright, crisp and wholesome magazine-newspaper, which any man, woman or child will be the better for reading.

The best know authors and writers contribute to The Free Press, and the publishers give assurance that for the year 1887 it will, if possible, be better and more enjoyable than ever. Every family should take The Free Press; it gives more for the money than any other publication in the world. The price is only ONE DOLLAR per year.

Send for sample copy. Address Detroit, Mich.

ST. NICHOLAS.

A new serial story begins in the February number of this popular monthly, called "Jenny's Boarding House," a very quiet but very true story of New York life. It deals with the doings of a lot of newsboys and is quite interesting. "Among the Gas Wells" written by Samuel W. Hall and illustrated by Harry Fenn, H. F. Farney and E. J. Meeker, is interesting and instructive. Palmer Cox's ever famous "Brownies" appear in singing school. After they have taken possession of the building they test their vocal organs. "Between Sea and Sky" is a thrilling and seasonable talk of Icelandic adventure and is beautifully illustrated. These are a few of the many very excellent articles that appear in the February number. Notice our clubbing rates with this popular magazine.

Lippincott's.

What is beginning to be looked forward to by the patrons of Lippincott's monthly is the complete novel found in each issue. This is a step taken by the publishers in the right direction, and as no novels but those of the highest order can find their way into this monthly the new step meets with great favor and each number is looked forward to with interest and high expectation. The novel in the February number is "A Self Made Man" by Miss M. G. McClelland, whose "Oblivion" has placed her among the most promising of the younger American authors. With this additional attraction, no detraction is made from the excellence of the remainder of the magazine. The same high order is maintained throughout. J. B. Lippincott Company, Publishers, Philadelphia.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK FOR FEBRUARY.

Godey's Lady's Book for February is at hand. It contains the sequel of the story "Robin Adair," by Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland, besides many bright stories and sketches by numerous well-known writers, among which is Professor Clarence M. Boutelle, one of the best magazine writers in the country. Jenny June gives another spicy letter on New York society. An original steel plate illustration, entitled "Naughty Baby" is a beautifully finished picture of an attractive subject. Colored fashions and work pages which are unsurpassed, with various black designs, contribute to make this number of the magazine one that cannot fail to please the ladies. W. E. Striker, Philadelphia, Pa., publisher.

OUR LITTLE ONES.

The February number of this delightful little monthly comes with its usual amount of excellent articles of prose and poetry, all of which are beautifully illustrated. The illustrations of this magazine are always natural and agreeable to the old as well as the young. $1.50 per year. Russell Publishing Co., Boston, Mass.

Harrigan's Tourists.

This company which is well known in Fulton will appear in their great specialties to-morrow evening. It is one of the best Irish combinations on the road. The Cohens, Jerry and Willie are still members of the company.

Courtships average three tons of coal each, and scores of bad coughs and colds; but then every prudent gallant is provided with a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, which costs only 25 cents.

All our city fathers say: "use Salvation Oil, the greatest cure on earth for pain." Price 25 cents.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. tuf

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk and easily digested. [illegible]

Wm. [illegible] R. N., [illegible] of the Royal Navy, of England, [illegible] the following open letter to the editor of the London Family Doctor:

"I believe it the duty of every physician to make known any means or remedy whereby sickness can be prevented, and it is for this purpose I write to give my experience here and abroad. I ask the publication of the statement that people may be warned before it is too late, to say to them that there is at hand a means by which they may be restored to perfect health. It is well known to the medical world, and indeed, to the laity, that a certain disease is making a terrible havoc; that next to consumption it is the most fatal, and that when fully developed there is nothing to be done for the sufferer."

"Physicians and scientists have long been trying to throw light upon the cause, and if possible, find in nature a medicine for this fatal malady. They have shown absolutely, that the blood-purifing organs of vital importance, are the kidneys, and that when they once fail, the poison which they should take out of the blood, is carried by the blood into every part of the body, developing disease."

"In my hospital practice in England, India, and South America, and also while a surgeon in the Royal Navy of Great Britain, I gave a great deal of attention to the study of diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs, and found that not only was the cure of chronic Bright's Disease hopeless but that kidney disease was remarkably prevalent; much more so than generally known, and was the cause of the majority of the cases, and further, that the medical profession has no remedy which exerts an absolute control over these organs in disease."

"Some time ago when I had a case which resisted all regular treatment—which is very limited,—complicated with the passing of stones from the kidneys, much against my will I permitted my patient to use Warners' safe cure, of which I heard marvelous results. In his case the result was simply marvelous, as the attack was a severe one, and development very grave, for an analysis showed per cent. of albumen and granular tube casts."

"The action of the medicine was singular and incomprehensible to me. I had never seen anything like it. The patient recovered promptly and is today a well and healthy man. This stimulated my inquiry into the merits of the remedy, and after analysis I found it to be of purely vegetable character, harmless to take under all circumstances."

"Casting aside all professional prejudice, I gave it a thorough trial, as I was anxious that my patients should be restored to health, no matter by what medicine. I prescribed it in a great variety of casses, Acute, Chronic, Bright's Disease, Congestion of the Kidneys, Catarrh of the Bladder, and in every instance did it effect a speedy cure."

"For this reason I deem it my duty to give to the world this statement regarding the value of Warner's safe cure. I make this statement on facts I am prepared to produce and substanciate. I appeal to physicians of large practice who know how common and deceptive diseases of the kidneys are, to lay aside professional prejudice, give their patients Warner's safe cure, restore them to perfect health, earn their gratitude, and thus be true physicians."

"I am satisfied that more than one-half of the deaths which occur in England are caused primarily, by impaired action of the kidneys, and the consequent retention in the blood of the poisonous uric and kidney acid. Warner's safe cure causes the kidneys to expel this poison, checks the escape of albumen, relieves the information and prevents illness from impaired and impoverished blood. Having had more than seventeen year's experience in my profession, I conscientiously and emphatically state that I have been able to give more relief and effect more cures by the use of Warner's safe cure than by all the other medicines ascertainable to the profession, the majority of which, I am sorry to say, are very uncertain in their action."

"Isn't that a straightforward, manly letter?"

"Indeed it is."

"But, do you know the author has been dreadfully persecuted for writing it?"

"How so? What has he done to merit it?"

"Done? He has spoke the truth 'out of school' and his fellow physicians who want the public to think they have a monopoly in curing diseases, are terribly angry with him for admitting professional inability to reach some disorders."

"That letter created a wonderful sensation among the titled classes and the public, This jarred the doctors terribly. The College of Surgeons and the Queen's College, from which institution he was graduated, asked for an explanation of his unprofessional conduct, and notified him that unless he made a retraction they would discipline him.

"The doctor replied that he allowed his patients to make use of Warner's safe cure only after all the regular methods had failed, and when he was satisfied that there was no possible hope for them. Upon their recovery after having used Warner's safe cure, he was so much surprised that he wrote the above letter to the Family Doctor. He regretted that the faculties found fault with his action in the matter, but he could not conscientiously retract the facts as written to the Family Doctor.

"The faculties of both colleges replied that unless he retracted they would cut him off, which would naturally debar him from again practicing his profession and also prevent his securing another appointment in the Royal Navy!"

The illustrious doctor's dilemma is certainly an unpleasant one, emphasizing as it does both his own honesty and the contemptible prejudice and bigotry of the English medical men. The masses, however, have no sympathy with their nonsense, keeping on using the remedy he so highly recommends and get well, while the rich and able depend upon the prejudiced doctors and die!

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 2619

D. C. Draper, No. 34 First St., has an entire new stock of groceries on 1st floor and a fine line of crockery, some new and the balance the uninjured crockery from the Oneida St. store, and in basement of same store he has all the damaged Groceries, Crockery, China Tea and Chamber Setts, Lamps &c., (from the old store on Oneida St.) which he now offers for sale, the poorest at your own price, and the balance at a very low price. Remember the place in basement of New store, opposite Clark House.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Remember the Place to buy [illegible]

[illegible] Appropriation bills, miscellaneous business, and the discussion of the bill for establishing Agricultural Experiment Stations. It became stirred for a day over the question of investigating the management of the Pacific Railroads;—and the House finally settled down to deliberate over the Interstate Commerce bill, which the Senate passed last week.

When the President sent a special message to Congress asking that suitable action be taken for celebrating the Centennial of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States, he was careful not to commit himself to any special time or locality. He "hoped that in a spirit of patriotic co-operation, rather than of local competition, Congress would proceed, etc." But the committee of seven Senators, who had the audacity to declare that Washington was the suitable place for holding this celebration, have come in for a large share of criticism from rival cities.

Washington is the only city where every American is at home, and in which he feels the pride of an American citizen's ownership, and the Exposition will be given to Washington without a doubt. It will last from '89 to '92. There need not be a continuous rush, racket and carnival for three years as there would be over a public affair of this kind in a great commercial mart. Washington is not that kind of a city. It cultivates tranquility of deportment, and has suffiient breathing space to enjoy everything in a quiet way. It is used to large crowds and gatherings of all kinds, as indeed it ought to be, for six National conventions are being held here during the present week.

Some members of Congress have said that the principal object of the Government in the Pacific railroad matter, was to get what was owing to it. Of course it is desirable to save $200,000,000, or as much of it as can be recovered, from those who have no right to it, but a number of men in both branches of Congress feel that the main thing to be attained is the moral effect of rebuking corruption. The Government can afford to lose it, but it cannot afford to agree to a theft, if such there has been. The desire to investigate the management of the Pacific Railroads is not, therefore, born of a spirit of prosecution; it is simply the duty of Congress to go to the bottom of this matter.

Although the Senate voted to pension the widow of Senator Logan at $2,000 a year, the bill has come to grief in the House Committee on pensions. It is claimed that to pension Mrs. Logan would cost the Government eventually half a million by encouraging every widow whose husband had ever been in in the army. But it appears that the fund provided for Mrs. Logan by the friends and admirers of her husband has now reached $70,000, with a prospect of reaching to $100,000, and this will obviate all necesity of straining pension precedents so as to provide for her by act of Congress. The citizens of Chicago have also contributed $13,000 for the payment of incumbrances upon the home of Mrs. Logan in this city. The notes have all been paid off during the past few days, and Mrs. Logan now owns the house known as Calumet Place in her own right.

The bill passed by the House pensioning dependent soldiers and sailors, who were not disabled in the service, but who are not too old and too feeble to work, and also pensioning the dependent parents of soldiers and sailors, has frightened those who are opposed to pensioning everybody who ever had anything to do with a war. They fear Congress will next undertake to pension life-long non-combatants who have incurred physical or mental disability in writing war articles for papers and magazines. The above mentioned bill applied to veterans of any war, Siminole, Black Hawk, Mexican, war of the Rebellion—and gives a uniform allowance of $12 per month from the time of the passage of the bill.

Then there is a proposition to pension Walt Whitman, which it is claimed would open the Treasury doors to an army of $50,000 new pensioners, claiming that they nursed some soldier somewhere during the late war. They say if Walt Whitman ought to have $25 per month, Clara Barton ought to have $1,000 a year.

Washington society is intensely curious to see the Cabinet bride, Mrs. Lamar, and its curiosity has increased with her evident desire to postpone her public or even private appearance. Several of the Cabinet ladies have called to see Mrs. Lamar, but she has thus far refused herself to everyone. She is said to be a typical southern woman, who has always lived quietly, and when she realizes that hundreds of pens are waiting to paragraph her, it is not surprising that she shrinks from the public gaze. The wives of the other Cabinet officers tell the Secretary of the Interior now that they believe his bride is a myth.

How's This.

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Proprietors, Toledo, O.

P. S. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internelly, acting directly upon the blood and the mucus surfaces of the system. Price 75 cts. per bottle, sold by all druggists.

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. [illegible]

[illegible] was being tried at Oswego last Friday. Among the witnesses was "Prof." Frank Keenan, who it seems has for some reason known possibly only to himself and the printers in this locality, dropped the use of printer's ink as an advertising medium, now proposes to use the witness stand to advertise his "Aunt Ruth" remedies. Upon cross-examination Friday the following conversation is reported:

"I was born in Brownville, Jefferson county, and have been in the balloon business."

"What do you mean by that," asked Judge Nutting.

"Oh, going up in balloons. I am at present engaged in business in Fulton and manufacture the "Quaker's compound" and the "Princess Louisa."

"What's the 'Quaker's compound' for?" asked Judge Nutting.

"Oh, for lawyer's stomachs. It purifies the blood and makes better brains."

The case of Lucy Stewart vs. Louisa A, Vickey et al., as administrator of the estate of Mrs. Hannah Ward, deceased, late of Phoenix, has been settled. It was claimed that Mrs. Ward had said that if Lucy stayed with her as a servant and companion until the death of the former, she should have $1,000 in money besides her wages. The matter was settled Saturday by the defendants giving plaintiff $600.

Our Clubbing Rates.

We make the following standing offer to all subscribers to THE TIMES. The advantage of this offer can be granted only to those who pay their subscription in advance:

Harper's Magazine and THE TIMES	$4.25
" Weekly " "	4.45
" Bazar " "	4.45
" Young People " "	2.75
The Century " "	4.75
St. Nicholas " "	3.75

The New Secretary of the H. V. S. Co.

Mr. H. C. Burdick has resigned the position of superintendent of publication for the D. M. Osborne Co., of this city, to accept the secretaryship of the Howe Ventilating Stove Company, at Fulton, N. Y., having been elected to the latter position at a meeting of the directors last week. Mr. Burdick has been an energetic worker and has developed large business capacity during his sojourn in Auburn, and has contracted many warm friendships which will make his departure cause for mutual regret. The Howe company is to be congratulated upon securing such a wide-awake and efficient official, however, and a boom in the stove trade may confidently be expected when Mr. Burdick assumes control, which, we understand will be about Feb. 1.—The Auburn Advertiser.

Over-Worked Women.

For "worn out," "run down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00 a bottle, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plated and numerous wood-cuts, sent for ten cents in stamps.

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

EUREKA FROST CURE.

FOR FROZEN FEET, EARS, NOSE, AND CHILBLAINS.

Made from Agaricus, a moss growing in the frigid regions of the north. A sure Cure. By mail 50c.

EUREKA MED. CO.
SHARON, PA.

36mos 3

HAVE YOU

never felt strangely tired, restless or uneasy? Have you had pains shooting through the head, along the limbs or around the back? Have you experienced strange sensations for which you could not account? And do you know that all these things arise from diseased kidneys, which, unless promptly cured will run into Bright's disease and end in Death? The Kidneys are the seat of nine-tenths of all the diseases of to-day!

The F. E. C. Kidney Remedy is an absolute cure for these troubles, and is guaranteed by the druggists who sell it. It is especially valuable for Female Troubles. Every mother, every wife, every nervous and overworked woman, whose life is made miserable by sufferings peculiar to her sex, should know that of all the medicines ever sold, the F. E. C. is the first and only Remedy that guarantees relief or refunds the money. It is effectual, as thousands of testimonials will prove.

Sold by all Dealers everywhere.
Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

[illegible]

SARSAPARILLA

[illegible] to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

Humors, — I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Erysipelas, — For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

Canker, and Catarrh, — I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Can be cured by purifying the blood with — Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS.
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

—AT THE—

FULTON TIMES OFFICE

The Cosmopolitan

The handsomest, most entertaining, low price, illustrated family magazine in the world. ($2.50 per year, with a $2.25 premium free.) Sixty-four beautifully printed pages in each number, filled with short stories, sketches, travels, adventures, bright and brief scientific and literary articles, by distinguished American and foreign writers, such as Julian Hawthorne, Harriet Prescott Spofford, George Parsons Lathrop, Louise Chandler Moulton, J. Macdonald Oxley, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, H. H. Boyesen, Catherine Owen, Rev. R. Heber Newton, Alphonse Daudet, Paul Heyse, Count Tolstoi, Th. Dostoevsky, William Westall and many others. Also entertaining JUVENILE and invaluable HOUSEHOLD departments. One or more illustrated articles and several full-page engravings in every number.

A Shannon Letter and Bill File or a Shannon Sheet-Music Binder Free to every Subscriber.

These premiums sell everywhere for $2.25 each. The File is the most perfect device ever invented for the preservation and classification (alphabetically and according to date) of all letters, bills, etc. Any paper can be referred to, taken out and put back without disturbing the others. With the Binder one can insert or take out any piece of music without disturbing any other sheet.

Get SAMPLE COPY at NEWS STAND or send 20 Cents to publishers.

AGENTS WANTED. BIG COMMISSIONS PAID.

Schlicht & Field Co., Rochester, N.Y.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine building lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTERS

Winter Exposure Causes Coughs,

Colds, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Pneumonia, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache and other ailments, for which Benson's Capcine Plasters are admitted to be the best remedy known. They relieve and cure in a few hours when no other application is of the least benefit. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum" "Capsicin" or "Capsicine." Ask for Benson's and take no others. Examine carefully when you buy. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors New York.

EUREKA CATARRH REMEDY.

NO SALVE! NO SNUFF! NO WASH!

The only internal specific. Cures—not as an irritant or astringent, but by directing the gentle life giving forces of the organism to the part affected. Tasteless and pure. Children take it without difficulty. Price 50 cents by mail. EUREKA MED. CO. Sharon, Pa.

YOU can live at home and make more money [illegible]

SWAYNE'S

THROAT & LUNG TROUBLES CONQUERED BY SWAYNE'S WILD CHERRY

SWAYNE'S VERMIFUGE THE CHILDREN'S MEDICINE

TO KEEP HEALTHY 1. EXERCISE DAILY 2. EAT GOOD FOOD 3. BE CHEERFUL 4. USE SWAYNE'S PILLS

SWAYNE'S PANACEA PURIFIES THE BLOOD

LONDON HAIR RESTORER (ENGLISH) DR SWAYNE & SON SOLE AGENTS

OINTMENT

THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES

SKIN HUMOR

SYMPTOMS Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night—worse by scratching—very distressing. If allowed to continue tumors form which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in many cases removes the tumors. Sent by mail for 50cts.

Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect Jan. 2nd, 1887.

TRAINS NORTH. 5	3	1	9	7	STATIONS.	TRAINS SOUTH. 6	4	2	10
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Train 1—stops at Winterton on signal.

Train 2—Stops at Guilford Centre for New York passengers only, and at North Norwich on signal.

Train 5—Stops at Hurley, Liberty Falls, Parksville and Cook's Falls on signal.

Train 31—Stops at Caughdenoy on signal.

Train 6—Stops at Morrisville, North Bay and Cleveland on signal; at Smyrna, Earlville, Eaton, Munnsville, Community and Bernhard's Bay for New York passengers only.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING NORTH.

Leaves Walton for Delhi 6:40 a. m., 2:55 and 4:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Delhi 9:00 a. m., 3:50 and 5:25 p. m. Sundays leave Walton 8:50 a. m., arrive at Delhi 9:40 a. m.

Train 27—Leaves Walton 2:00 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Sidney 3:45, Norwich 4:15 p. m.

Train A—Saturdays only, leaves Walton 6:40 p. m., arriving at Sidney [illegible] p. m.

Trains leave Sidney for New Berlin 7:40 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at 9:25 p.m. Sunday leave Sidney 3:15 p. m., arriving at New Berlin 4:50.

Trains leave Randallsville for Utica 8:10, 10:40 a. m., 3:20, 5:30 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Utica 9:53, 11:59 a. m., 7:35 and 6:45 p. m.

Trains leave Clinton for Rome 11:40 and 6:35 p. m., arriving at Rome, 12:35 and 7:35 p. m.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

Train 44—Leaves Constantia 8:45 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Randallsville 2:15 p.m.

Trains leave Utica 7:25 a. m., 4:25, 4:35 and 11:00 p. m., stopping at all stations on Utica Division, arriving at Randallsville 9:20 a. m., 12:15 and 5:50 p. m. and 1:14 a. m., connecting with main line trains.

Trains leave Rome 7:00 a. m., 4:05 p. m., connecting at Clinton with Utica Division trains.

Train 28—Leaves Norwich 6:45 a. m., Oxford 7:20, Sidney 8:05, Franklin 9:10, arriving at Walton 11:30 a. m.

Train B—Sundays only, leaves Sidney 9:30 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Walton 11:15 a. m.

Trains leave New Berlin for Sidney 7:00 a. m. Sunday leave New Berlin 7:45 a. m., arriving at Sidney 9:15 a. m.

Trains leave Delhi for Walton 6:45 a. m., 10:49 a. m. and 6:45 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving 7:35 and 11:59 a. m., 6:35 p. m. Sundays leave Delhi 10:00, arrive at Walton 11:03 a. m.

CONNECTIONS.

Train 3—Connects at Campbell Hall for all stations on the Wallkill Valley R. R.; at Cornwall with West Shore Express for all points North, Newburgh, Kingston and Albany.

Train 1—Connects at Randallsville for Utica and Rome all stations on the Utica Division. At Oneida Castle with West Shore Express arriving at Syracuse 7:10, Rochester 9:10, Buffalo 11:40, Detroit 8:20 a. m., Chicago 4:25 p. m., St. Louis 6:30 a. m. and all points West.

Train 5—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points east and west, Rochester, Buffalo and Chicago; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for all points West; at Central Square with R. W. and O. R. R. for all points North; through sleeping cars to Oswego, at Oswego with R. W. and O. R. R. for Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Chicago 8:00 a. m.

Train 11—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore east and west.

Trains 13 and 14 run through between Delhi and Utica without change, connects both ways at Sidney with the D. & H. for Binghamton, Albany and intermediate stations. Train 13 Connects at Clark's Mills for Rochester, Buffalo and all points West with good connections.

Agents of the N. Y. O. and W. sell tickets and check baggage to all points east, west, north and south via all lines with good connections.

Secure Rates via Ontario and Western before purchasing tickets. Day and Night Express to the West.

Train 5, will not start Sunday. Train 6, will not start Saturday; 9 and 10 run daily; all others daily except Sundays.

*Stop on signal. †Stop to leave and take on New York passengers only.

New York depots at foot of Jay street and West 42d street.

J. C. Anderson, Gen. Pass'r Ag't,
No. 18 Exchange Place, N. Y.

—FOR THE—
HOLIDAY SEASON!
SNOW & LOOMIS,
have a fine assortment of
POCKET CUTLERY,
CARVERS, SKATES,
SCISSORS and ROBES.
—Also a Novelty in—
FUR RUGS.

ADVERTISERS [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES

Wednesday, Jan. 26, 1887.

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:18 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:22 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	3:28 p. m
Syracuse Express	6:28 p. m.
New York and Phil. Night Express	9:20 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:18 a. m.
Day Express	12:19 p. m.
Day Express	2:48 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	6:57 p. m.
Evening Express	8:44 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:05 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	7:50 p.m.

"PHOENIX LINE,"

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:31	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19p. m.	3:30	6:29

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS

Stillman Mason of Syracuse was in town last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ward are visiting friends in Woodard.

D. W. Gardner of Thousand Island Park has been in town during the past week.

Otto Sholtz was in Albany last week. While there he was the guest of H. H. Gilbert.

W. O. Wilcox of Centreville, Mich., has been visiting at L. B. Babcock's during the past week.

C. M. Allen of the Boston Bazaar has been visiting friends in Oneida and Cicero for the past week.

Miss Carrie Bache leaves for Utica this evening to attend the Fort Daton party held at Herkimer.

H. J. Peebles of the firm of Peebles & Cook, is in Oriskany Falls atending the funeral of his grandfather.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gage have been visiting with R. A. True and family in Syracuse during the past week.

Mrs. J. L. Maritt of Cortland, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Gridley of this village.

James Connors leaves for Pennsylvania to-morrow on a visit to his son at Oil City. He expects to be gone for a few months.

Howard Case, who for the past two years has been engaged in business at Wichita, Kas., is stopping for a short tim at his uncle's, Hon. Geo. M. Case.

F. I. VanBuren, until recently in the employ of the N. Y. O. & W. railroad at at this village, left this week for Chicago, having secured a position in that city.

Mrs. H. P. Markley, who came from her home in Cedar Falls, Iowa to attend the funeral or her mother, Mrs. Hannah Schenck, will remain with her relatives in this locality for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Howe and their daughter, Grace, started this morning for Jacksonville, Fla., to enjoy the genial climate of the South for about two months. They will probably stop for a few days at Washington, Baltimore, Charleston, Savannah and a few other places on their way.

This is the season of the year when honest pedestrians of either sex can involuntary drop downward on the crosswalk while their feet ascend upward. It does not hurt the crosswalk "a little bit" but is rather tough on the morals of the persons that descend.

Wm. Patrick of Phoenix, with a gang of five men, is building a coffer dam back of the box factory, prepatory to laying the foundation for the new 110 horse power water wheel which is to furnish power for the electric lights. Mr. Patrick says that if nothing unforeseen occurs, the wheel will be in position and running in ten days.

A good fire proof safe for sale, only $25, at the McCully Harness Shop. 38tf.

Hamburgs! Hamburgs! Largest stock and lowest price at the Boston Bazaar. 38w2.

Draper is closing out his large stock gloves and mittens at half their cost.

House and Lot For Sale.

House in a good state of repair with good well of water on the lot. House is large, well calculated for boarders, situated on Utica street within three minutes walk of the postoffice. Terms easy. Inquire of Dr. J. Watson, on the premises. 36m3

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf

For Sale.

A large, strong, valuable horse. Enquire at the harness shop.

37tf. R. B. McCULLY.

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

D. C. Draper is going to close out all of his sleds, dolls and toys of every discription at your own price at his store No. 34 First street.

Wanted—A horse for the keeping. Light work and good care given. Inquire at

ROBINSON'S Grocery.

C. C. Hewes has the implements and is prepared to sharpen knives, scissors shears &c, of all sizes and grades at his barber shop, basement of Citizens National Bank. 33tf.

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 30tf.

Draper has moved all damaged goods from Oneida street to 34 First street where bargains at ½ actual prices can be had as he has such a large stock of these goods and is bound to close them all out at once, (not at auction) but at private sale which is less noisy and the [illegible] way. [illegible]

A Fatal Accident—[illegible] of Liverpool, the Victim.

A terrible accident occurred last Sunday afternoon near the old junction of the N. Y. O. & W. and the R. W. & O. railroads about a mile south of this village. The company had been laying steel rails near the point where the accident occurred and this work train had been sent to pick up the old rails. The work of loading the rails had been completed and Fred Luderman, a section boss from Liverpool, was on one of the cars. He was sitting upon one of the brakes when it slipped and he fell down between the cars. As the car was passing over him, he grasped the axle and was dragged over ten rods under the car. On reaching the crossing he struck the planks and lost his hold. The wheels passed over his right leg, crushing it in a most horrible manner from the hip down. Two splinters of iron from the rails were driven into his body, one nearly four inches; his back was also broken and the injured man was placed in the caboose.

He was brought down town but as no place could be found to place him, he was taken back to Freeman Craver's near the R. W. & O. depot. Drs. Loomis, Pardee, W. A. Hall and Frank Hall were soon at the side of the injured man but found that his condition was such that he would not be able to undergo an amputation. His wife was sent for and brought here from Liverpool on a hand car arriving about 8:30. Luderman, after great suffering, breathed his last that evening shortly before 10 o'clock. He was a German, about 38 years old and a member of Masonic lodge No. 525 of Liverpool. The Masons of this village did all in their power for their injured member and on Monday afternoon removed the remains to his late home in Liverpool. A coroner's inquest was held Monday afternoon and a verdict of accidental death rendered.

A Cardiff Giant.

The Cardiff giant, the discovery of which created so much excitement a number of years ago, is on exhibition at the mechanical fair now being held in Oswego, having been transported from New York to that city. Fifteen years ago some genius conceived the idea of carving out of stone a man's form, resurrecting it and advancing the theory that in some other age the country was inhabited by giants. Accordingly the work was commenced in Chicago, and when it was completed the figure was boxed up and sent east. It was finally taken to the town of Cardiff, in Onondaga county, and buried, the farmer who owned the land being let into the secret. A year later the giant was dug up and the country was startled by the announcement of the discovery. Scientific men from all parts of the country flocked to Cardiff to inspect it and all were of the opinion that it was a petrified man and the theory that a race of giants had at one time inhabited the country was accepted by many. The giant was taken to Syracuse and placed on exhibition, and its owner reaped a golden harvest. Afterward it was exhibited in cities, Oswego among the number, but finally the secret leaked out and the giant ceased to be a drawing card. The giant is 10 feet long and weighs several tons.

Tourists in a P. P. Car.

This popular and laughable play which was presented here last season with such excellent satisfaction is to come again on Saturday. The N. Y. Herald of a recent date says:

The presentation of the "Tourists in a P. P. C." given at the Windsor Theatre last night caused considerable amusement to a very large audience. The company is a very strong one, and kept the audience in a good humor throughout the entire evening. Mr. Chas. Kirke as Hookey John made an ideal Chinaman, and with his specialty and performance Louis, the Frenchman, which was a marked piece of character acting, proved himself an artist of considerable merit. Thos. Lord made an amusing Porter. The Quartet singing and specialties, and the P. P. Car scene by day and night were splendid features, and added realism to the performance. We should advise all who wish to have a hearty laugh go see the "Tourists" this week.

The large orders received by the Foster Bros. for work at their knife factory have compelled them to put on a double set of hands. They are now working night and day to fill their orders.

Fire broke out in the bar room of the Windsor House in Phœnix last Thursday evening. It was put out by a bucket brigade before any very serious damage was done.

The village board have their regular meeting this evening and the question of the water works, relative to the making of a new contract will be considered.

Rev. Father Earley, by invitation of the Knights of the Sacred Heart of Auburn is to lecture on the "Evils of Interperance" at St Mary's church in that city to-morrow evening.

Last week Thursday the Syracuse & Oswego branch of the R. W. & O. R. R. made a reduction in its passenger rates as follows: Between Syracuse and Oswego 70 cents, from Fulton to Syracuse 50 cents; from Fulton to Oswego 25 cents; from Fulton to Phœnix 20 cents; from Fulton to Three River Point 25 cents; from Fulton to Woodard's 40 cents; and from Fulton to Liverpool 50 cents.

A movement is on foot to build a new railroad from Watertown to Baldwinsville. An enthusiastic meeting was held in the former place last week and a committee of business men appointed to interview President Depew of the New York Central road on this subject. The scheme is to construct the line from Watertown to Belleville, to Ellisburg, to Pulaski, to Mexico, to Phœnix, to North Phœnix, to Baldwinsville where it would intersect the D. L. & W. and the N. Y. Central roads.

Samuel Stone died at his home in Mexico last Thursday evening from the effect of a second stroke of an apoplectic nature in the summer of 1886 since which time he has been confined to his house. He was in the 89 year of his age. He had been a resident of Mexico for about 50 years and was widely known throughout the county. His integrity and capacity made him one of the most respected men in the county. He was the first county treasurer of [illegible] filling the position [illegible]

[illegible] ventory, the following goods:

22	pairs ladies' cloth top, kid fox button,	$1.25	worth	$2.00
21	" " genuine kid opera toe, and worked button hole (latest style),	1.25	worth	1.65
16	" " Ima French kid button (latest style) D width,	2.15	worth	3.00
24	" " glove fox " " " " " "	1.15	worth	1.35
24	" Men's tap sole, congress working shoe	1.48	worth	1.85
33	" " heavy A calf, Alexis	1.40	worth	1.75
60	" Ladies' flannel and flannel lined Slippers—positively at first cost.

We also have on our counter many more great bargains.

A. E. NETTLETON.

The backbone of winter seems to be broken but it isn't dead yet.

This week is the last in which you can pay your taxes at one per cent. Take advantage of it.

The number of wires stretched over First street give the village quite a metropolitan appearance.

Henry F. Hines of Gilbert's Mills recently had his pension increased from $3 to $16 per month.

Sol Smith Russell appears in his latest success "Pa" at the Academy of Music in Oswego this evening.

Malaja and Olssen, the well-known local athelotes are engaged for next season with Robinson's circus.

Rev. Mr. Kinney, superintendent of Thousand Island Park, has gone to Florida to spend the winter.

We are informed that "Uncle" David VanBuren of Volney who is now 89 years of age is failing in health.

Rev. J. C. Breaker commenced a course of lectures to young people in the Baptist church last Sunday evening.

Some of the type writers manufactured at Parish are announced as nearing completion and will soon be on the market.

For enterprising, enegetic and successful business men, Fulton does not take a "back seat" to any town of its size in the state.

Joseph Bower and James Ellingworth of Oswego Falls, received their naturalization papers at Oswego last Wednesday.

In the phraseology of the boarding school girl. "Of such weather we have quite a sufficiency, an increase would be a superfluity."

A donation and oyster supper is to be given for the benefit of the Rev. David McFarland at the Baptist church in Hannibal this evening.

Robert White of Watertown has leased the Riverside Hotel at Minetto and will conduct it hereafter. He is announced to give an opening party to-morrow evening.

The mechanical fair opened in Oswego on last Thursday evening and will continue till Saturday evening of this week. The attractions are exceedingly large and varied this year.

George J. Emeny is to put a cherry and plate glass front in the Tucker block and generally repair the same before April 1st. The store is now occupied by R. A. Stowell & Co.

Exercises of a pleasing nature were held in the higher department of No. 2 school last Friday afternoon. The exercises consisted of recitations, declamations, instrumental and vocal music.

The Juilliard Brass Band and members of the I. O. G. T. lodge of Oswego Falls are to give an entertainment at Jacksonville next Saturday evening. Rev. Chas. Olmstead is also to make an address.

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Connell celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage to-morrow evening. A few of Mr. and Mrs. C's. friends will be entertained by them at their residence on Oneida street.

A tea party was given by Mr. and Mrs. A. Bristol, at their residence on Fourth street, last Friday evening. Quite a number of the neighbors and friends were present and enjoyed the hospitality extended.

The G. A. R. men are taking the monument question by the forelock and do not propose to relinquish their grip until a soldier's monument is erected as a result of their labors. Read their announcement carefully.

The Directors of the R. W. & O. R. R. company have given notice that a semi-annual dividend of two and a half per cent. has been declared on the capital stock, payable February 15, 1887 at the company's office in New York.

The Malaja and Olssen's local entertainment given at the opera house last Thursday evening brought out a large audience. All did well, and it was shown that Fulton possessed no small amount of talent in this line.

Mrs. Walter Boomer, who was recently injured at a railroad crossing of the R. W. & O. Company by being thrown from her carriage, has received $150 from the company in settlement for the same. A hand car carelessly left by one of the employes near the crossing was the cause of the horse's fright.

We are in receipt of the New York Clipper Almanac for 1887. It contains records of the fastest time and best performance in all departments of sport. Base ball and cricket data, racing and trotting records, aquatic and athletic performances etc., etc. This annual may be obtained from the publishers for 15 cents.

The country roads have been in an almost blockaded condition for the past two weeks. On Saturday, however, many must have ventured out. In the afternoon First street was literally packed with farmer's rigs, sleighs, &c., to such an extent that one was reminded of Donnybrook fair. The thaw of the latter part of the week continued Sunday, and by Monday the streets were nearly denuded of snow. On Monday [illegible]

OPERA HOUSE ENTERTAINMENT. —SPECIAL

Commencing Thursday Evening, Feb'y. 3, 1887.

The Temple Quartet Company of Boston:

Mr. W. R. Bateman, 1st Tenor,
Mr. E. F. Webber, 2nd Tenor,
Mr. H. A. Cook, Baritone,
Mr. A. C. Ryder, Basso,

composing the Temple Quartet assisted by

Mrs. Maud M. Starkweather, Soprano Vocalist,
Miss Lillian Claude, Violinist.
Mr. John Francis Gilder, Pianist.

The concert given by the Temple Quartet Concert Co, is guaranteed to be the best musical entertainment ever heard in our village. Full programme next week.

The date of Mr. Wendling's lecture, "Saul of Tarsus," will be announced in due time. He is positively engaged.

Delivery and sale of reserved seats for Temple Quartet, commenced at Watson's Monday morning at 9½ o'clock, before which time no seat will be reserved.

Fulton Savings Bank.

The following is a statement of the condition of the Fulton Savings Bank. There are 1,450 depositers. The resources are:

Bonds and Mortgages	$127,126.58
Town and city bonds	67,217
Call loans	22,240
Accurred interest	5,815.06
Land contract	215
Safes and furniture	1,300
Deposited in Banks	29,730.45
On hand	1,315.20
	254,959.29
LIABILITIES.
Amt. due depositors	235,753.43
Surplus	19,205.86
	254,959.29

IN MEMORIAM.

Hannah Perkins Schenck was born in Saratoga N. Y., December 19, 1804, and died as the Christain dies, January 15, 1887, in Fulton, N. Y. The life between these dates was not of the ordinary kind. It went back to days and deeds full of meaning. There had been much of struggle and much of splendid triumph. In her girlhood home there there were twenty-one children. She was the youngest but two, and the last one to reach the eternal home. Her father held slaves even in our good New York state. Think of it; she went back in her memory to the time when men and women were bought and sold in this free North. In some ways we seem to swing backwards but here and there we mark such grand strides made and so have courage. When she was a girl eight years old her father died suddenly during a cruel epidemic. Then the widow and the seven young dependent children and what few household goods may have been theirs, started westward with an ox-team and came into Ira, Cayuga Co., thence to Hannibal, then to Lysander, Onondaga Co., thence to Granby where all the other years have been spent. She remembered distinctly the hearing of the bombardment at Oswego and the war of 1812; how men rode through the country at night rapping at all doors and startling the sleepers with "The British are coming," how she, cuddling against her mother shivering from head to foot, and how the boys in night time run bullets to be ready when "the Britishers" shall come. The boys cleared about two acres only to find that frost and squirrels were relentless enemies. They lived for days on leeks and milk. Riding miles the mother brought into the humble home a little flour. One large baking used all the flour. The boys worked hard, and as they might eat all the bread they desired, all the girls could only have a slice apiece. It was years of sacrifice for that home. The mother had a loom made and wove that she might be of more help and comfort. The girl Hannah, learned to weave when she was ten or eleven, and wove the first rag carpet ever used in Fulton and Oswego. And so she pushed on up into womanhood and was ever of that sort to do all she could possibly for herself and others. She thoroughly learned the lesson of self-denial—learned it out there in the woods, in that little home with nought of the comforts of life as we ask for them now. Splendid heroes and heroines grew in those small clearings, by those looms, in those log houses, under the shadows of those great forests. Have we anything for palate or parade and shall we slip into luxury and selfishness and lose the real meaning of life?

She was married fifty-two years ago. There were six children. One daughter, Mercy, went away some years ago, and who undoubtedly last Saturday morning, welcomed the dear mother out of weariness and pain to the many mansioned heaven.

She was converted fifty-six years ago in Hannibal. When under God Benjamin Ryder and Samuel Bibbins stirred all that country. The first class of thirteen at Hannibal found her a member. It meant something to be a Methodist in those days. There were no days or no demands which found her wanting, and whoever else forsook the standard Hannah Perkins Schenck was true.

She had the gift and power of song which was fully consecrated to the Master's use. Many thoughtless young people would walk miles to the log school house prayer meetings, to hear her sweet singing and thereby was led to Christ.

When about twenty years old and living in Hannibal, while sitting in the yard, a cosset lamb came and knelt close by her side laying its head on the ground with the right side turned up. The whole flock of sheep followed kneeling in the same way and formed a circle around her, and remained in that position as long as she continued singing.

She suffered much in life. There were pains of the heart and body, but her's was the royal faith, which made all things work together for her good, and ever built her up in Jesus. This grand faith will fill out perfectly every happy, hopeful condition; can walk with humility on velvet carpet or sit with meekness on a throne; then lifts and inspires when nothing else will. It is the window towards the light. It lets in the June air and lets you look out on broad, beautiful landscapes all aglow with colors painted by God's own hand. Then in the dungeon it sits and sings in the midnight, and is the Eolian harp that rings out sweetest melody when clouds fill up and winds are mad.

Sister Schenck was intelligent; she remembered as well as read. At the last gathering of the Chautauqua circle she quoted: "I love the bright hope; beautiful harbinger of the future, for thou hast all along my pathway strewn flowers, even from the first dawnings of my existence. And not only to me hast thou brought joy and gladness but the tones of thy love and kindness have spoken to every human heart." She was brave and all her record thrills with that truth. Like other royal mothers she was forgetful of self, and every one tells you how cheerful and radiant she she was.

You have been good children and have only precious memories. You have not denied mother's faith, and her life and love and prayers have so guarded you that you come up into manhood and womanhood with never a stain upon you. This is worth so much when mother's dear, beautiful hands are folded, when her sweet lips are sealed; and the eyes that have watched so lovingly are closed. And may the daughter, who has come so far to look once more upon mother's precious face, and may all of you see her in her glory [illegible]. What she said a few years ago [illegible]

Harrigan's Tourists to-morrow evening.

The Phœnix Agricultural society held its annual meeting yesterday.

The original and only "Tourists" at the opera house, Saturday evening.

Olin of last year's Stars is to play ball with the Oswegos next season.

We understand that the healers by Christian science have a class in this village.

The regular meeting of the C. L. S. C. is to be held at the home of Miss Eugene Sisson this evening.

The State Agricultural society have decided to hold a Farmer's institute in Oswego on March 2d and 3d.

Quarterly meeting was held at the M. E. church last Sunday. Presiding Elder Danforth was present both afternoon and evening.

The funeral of Mrs. Hannah Schenck was largely attended at her late residence in Oswego Falls on last Saturday afternoon.

F. A. Emerick gave a dinner to a dozen of his gentlemen friends, at his residence on Fourth street last Thursday evening.

The annual meeting of the stockbreeders association will be held at the Doolittle house, Oswego, next Wednesday forenoon.

The village board of Oswego Falls have renewed their contract with the Fulton Water Works company until the middle of April next.

The dance given by Steamer Co. No. 2 at the opera house ball room on last Friday evening was well attended and an excellent time enjoyed.

The Sunday school as Granby Centre will have a New England supper at Austin's hall next Friday evening. Everybody is invited to attend. Supper 25 cts.

Fred Luderman who was killed in this village by the cars on Sunday afternoon was buried at Central Square today. The Masons took charge of the funeral.

Among the indictments found by the grand jury was one against "Toby" Burden of Oswego Falls for assault in the first degree upon Patrick McDonald.

An exchange says that a man who won't take a paper because he can borrow one, has invented a machine with which he cooks his dinner by the smoke of his neighbor's chimney.

We are in receipt of a copy of the Sunday Brooklyn Eagle from John A. McKay, formerly of THE TIMES. Mr. McKay we understand has a very fine position on the that paper.

Last year is reported as the most success one in the history of the Thousand Island Park Association. A six per cent dividend was paid on the stock. It is said that electric lights are to be used next year.

There is to be an excursion to Washington over the West Shore road on Wednesday Feb. 2. Fare for the round trip from Syracuse $10. Tickets good to return by any regular train up to and including Feb. 7.

Quite an exciting smash up occurred at Parish last Wednesday in which the caboose, a car and two trucks were knocked of the track by a passenger train and completely demolished. Fortunately no one was injured.

Supervisors Barrett and Salladin, who with Supervisor Getman were appointed as jail committee to visit and inspect a rotary jail in Crawfordville, Ind., have returned. They were much pleased, with the rotaries. Their report will be presented to the board at a special session some time next month.

The civil engineer who was recently here from Albany, at the request of the Village Improvement Society has submitted a plan for the improvement of the village park. This plan is in the hands of the society and some action will doubtless be taken on it at their next meeting. The park is destined to become before many years the most beautiful spot in Oswego county.

Here is the idea that a Fulton woman has of electric light and what she said to the members of her family at the breakfast table one morning. "The wind was so strong last night that it blew out the electric light in front of the house. It was out for over half an hour. A man finally came along, let the light down and lit it again with a match.

The work of placing the new shell geer which was cast at Dilts' foundry was begun at midnight Saturday. The work was completed before Sunday night and consequently the street lights were in full blast on that evening. During week nights, while the private lights are in operation, all the street lights cannot all be used until the new wheel is put in position and power received from it.

The "Fulton Crumbs" to the number of about twenty couple gathered together on last Wednesday evening at Church's hall and with a number of friends from out of town enjoyed a social dance to the music of [illegible] orchestra consisting of four pieces, from Syracuse. The Crumbs crumbled shortly after midnight and departed for their homes to meet at the same hour [illegible]

[illegible] McGlynn Matter.

Special to THE TIMES.

A Broadway clothing firm is trying an experiment, the ultimate end of which will, to a great degree, have a tendency to influence greatly the settlement of that vexing question, How should employers treat employes? This firm has just closed the first year of its experiment and the results are highly satisfactory. The plan which one year ago was entered upon is this:—Each employe was admitted into the firm to such an extent as his yearly earnings might equal and upon that capital was to receive a pro rata share of the year's earnings. The end of the year just closed reveals a dividend of 8¼ per cent, on each man's yearly salary. There is this difference between this year and last—between the new order of things and the old way, a customer is more promptly, more politely, attended than formerly. This is the only instance of co-operation between employer and employed that this city furnishes. The success of the plan will have its influence upon other large firms in a similar way.

⁂

The World is having its share of legal trouble. During the latter part of 1886, this paper published a very full and varnished account of the deceased Cuban millionaire, Juan Perry. Now the widow, Kate S. Perry, sues the World for $100,000 damages. The story of Perry's life revealed a great deal of romance, but romantic as that was, the history of his wife's life was still more so. The facts as told were not particularly discreditable, and there was no more freedom than is usually used by newspaper writers in telling such a story. Mrs. Perry, however, feels insulted and though now the absolute controller of upwards of $20,000,000, she wants $100,000 to assuage her grief.

This is the second suit that the World has against it. Ex-Mayor Grace has a suit against the World wherein the damages are fixed at $10,000. So that this journal has its share of lawsuits.

⁂

Speaking of lawsuits, I am reminded of the Cisco failure. This failure excited a great deal of interest, because it brought before the public the heaviest depositor of the firm, Mrs. Hetty Green. Now, Mrs. Green is dissatisfied with the settlement of the failure and seeks the aid of the law to reopen the case. Mrs. Green is probably the wealthiest woman in America. Not only that but she is one of the keenest financiers in dealing with stocks and in placing money to the best advantage. She lives in a small Vermont town and makes regular pilgrimages to this city. Cisco & Co. were her bankers for years, but when she received the first intimation of their embarassment, she immediately removed all her available cash and securities, leaving Cisco & Co., in the lurch. By this action she lost a considerable sum of money which she now seeks to recover. Her husband was at one time President of a southern railroad; but while he is a man of large wealth and keen financial perception, he is so overshadowed by his wife's financial success that he is totally eclipsed. They say in Wall street that Mrs. Hetty has an absolute mania for money making.

⁂

The rapid increase in value of uptown property is becoming more apparent each day. The recent sale of a plot in the vicinity of Mount Morris Park, is evidence of this. Thirty-two city lots sold for over $300,000 or $10,000 per lot. The property in question was a part of the old Benson farm which extended from the north end of Central Park northward more than three-quarters of a mile. Ten years ago this property could have been purchased for $2,000 per lot. Now six or seven times that price will be demanded for it. The introduction of rapid transit by the elevated roads or by the Central has developed Harlem property wonderfully. Ten years ago, if one stood at the Block House, in Central Park and looked northward over Harlem Plains, houses were scarce things between Fourth and Eighth avenues. Now, however, this is being improved with houses in the most modern style fitted with all possible comforts. So with the annexed districts. The plots of waste land are being laid out in streets and the lots thrown on the market. A large part of the business population will gradually drift northward eight or ten miles from City Hall to find residences. These homes in the annexed districts are had for cheap rentals, and the main reason for living so far from the city's centre is the advantage to be gained in pure air, good ventilation and perfect sewerage—things that in the lower parts of the city are unattainable. These homes can be reached by three elevated lines of railroad and by the Central Hudson's rapid transit trains. The sale of 300 lots in the annexed district at the Real Estate Exchange occasioned considerable stir among speculators. That a boom in suburban property will be inaugurated this coming summer there can be no doubt. Already plans involving building to the amount of a million have been submitted to the proper department in this particular section. The determination to improve uptown property spares nothing in its execution. New York has no regard for historical sites and houses. The out of town residence of Alexander Hamilton was known as "The Grange." This had planted near the old residence thirteen trees representing the thirteen original states. These Hamilton planted with his own hand. They are doomed to the vandals of speculation. A syndicate has purchased the property and suburban villas of the Queen Anne style will be erected. So with other sites. The Junnel estate, the VanCortlandt, the historic Fort Washington are all doomed to the onward march of improvement.

⁂

The public have at last received an authoritative statement in the McGlynn trouble. The Archbishop has published a statement reviewing and setting forth the whole matter. The substance of which is this: That Dr. McGlynn had been warned to refrain from public speeches on political issues and that he had given his word of honor so to do. [illegible] the correspondence in its entirety. Dr. McGlynn has refused to go to Rome, since his physician, Dr. Shrady, who, by the way, is the editor of the Medical Record, has very serious doubts of his physical capacity to endure the journey. The parishioners have not abated one whit their indignation at these changes in their church. They refuse to contribute towards the expenses of the church. The church authorities certainly have exhibited a great deal of discourtesy in their manner of treating so able, so good, so true, so conscientious a man as Dr. McGlynn. He has a host of friends here and they are not confined to his own faith. The whole matter now rests with with the Holy See, since the Archbishop has reached the extent of his autohority. Dr. McGlynn is not deprived of his right to be known as a clergyman, but only the permission to exercise the duties that belong to his sacred office. The secular and the religious press favor the deposed priest. He is getting a very large meed of praise for the bold assertion of his right as a citizen.

WANDERER.

SUITS AND OVERCOATS.

Having
determined to close our
Fall Stock at a reduction of 25 per cent. from regular prices
we will give our customers a chance to supply themselves with
the finest goods offered in the market,
at less than they are paying for cheap,
inferior stock.

PEEBLES & COOK.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING

A SPECIALTY.

The Boston Bazaar has just received a new invoice of Hamburgs. Call and look them over. 38w2.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

Stephens Opera House,
YOUNGS BROS. & Co., Managers.
Thursday Evening Jan. 27,
HARRIGAN'S
Double Hibernian Company.
Irish and American Tourists.
Positively the Largest and Most Complete Entertainment of the kind in existence.
8 GREAT COMEDIANS.
Supported by a strong Comedy Company in the Funniest of all Comedies.
THE TWO BARNIES.
Or, Mulligan's Double.
A tour through Ireland, Rome and America, showing you nearly all of the principal cities and magnificent ruins.
Watch for the grand Parade!
GREATEST TEAM OF BAGPIPERS
ever from Old Ireland, Riding on a Rale Ould Jaunting Car, drawn by the Ulster Ponies, "Dublin Jackson" and "Mullingar." You can't afford to miss it! So fail not to NOTE THE DATE.
THOS. HARRIGAN, Proprietor.
L. W. WASHBURN, Manager.
Prices 25, 35 and 50 Cents. On Sale at Watson's.

Special Notices,

FOR SALE.—Farm of 72 acres 2 miles from Little Utica 2¼ miles from D. L. & W. R. R., near Cody school house. Story and half house with wing, good cellar, well and cistern, never failing spring, new barn 30x54, painted red, 14 acres woods, beach, hemlock, elm and basswood; soil, gravel and sandy loam in good condition, it has been pastured for four years, and is adapted to all kinds of grain, especially good for tobacco and potatoes. Will be sold cheap. Terms easy. Inquire of PETER DINGMAN, Liverpool, N. Y. or A. R. FAILING, Baldwinsville, N. Y. 38t4

FOR SALE.—A Farm for sale situated 6 miles from Fulton and 7 miles from Oswego, containing about 80 acres, 50 under cultivation. A large orchard, a large and commodious farm house, barn and carriage house in good repair. Will sell cheap. Terms easy. For particulars inquire of Mrs J. W. WEED, Box 423 Fulton, N. Y.

TO RENT—A small house conveniently located Enquire of H. BALDWY, Cor. 4th and Oneida st.

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t26

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w9.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t

Stephens Opera House.
ONE NIGHT ONLY.
Saturday Evening, Jan. 29.
Return of the Favorites.
Messrs. Youngs Brothers take great pleasure in announcing a return engagement with the world famed and ever popular
Tourists in a P. P. Car,
Introducing the Popular Burlesque and Character Artists,
CHAS. KIRKE and HENRY CLARKE,
Supported by a Great Company of Comedians and Vocalists.
THE DYNAMITE CARTRIDGE OF FUN—THE LAUGHING CYCLONE.
The Original and Only Tourists.
NEW MUSIC, MEDLEYS AND SPECIALTIES.
Admission 25, 35 and 50 cents.
No extra charge for Reserved Seats, to be obtained at Watson's.

TO SUFFERING WOMANHOOD.
DR. GALT has so prepared his
"SPECIAL CURE"
—FOR—
FEMALE DISEASES
That any Lady can test its merits with very little trouble and small expense. It is put up in desirable form for
"SELF TREATMENT."
Price $1.00 per package by mail. Address
DR. R. S. GALT & CO.,
Oswego, N. Y.

Great Closing Out Sale.

JANUARY 31ST THE LAST DAY!

1 ten quart tin pail 11cts.	worth	30cts.
1 fine brass tray 17cts.,	worth	35cts.
1 hand saw, (warranted) 19cts.	worth	75cts.
1 snow shovel 37cts.	worth	60cts.
1 hand lamp, (complete) 15cts.	worth	30cts.
1 pair suspenders, 19cts.,	worth	35cts.
1 5 quart pail, 7cts.,	worth	15cts.
1 box fancy paper and envelopes, 19c	worth	35cts.
1 17 quart pressed tin dish pan 24cts	worth	65cts.
1 lamp burner, 5cts	worth	15cts.
1 glass set, three pieces, 15cts	worth	50cts.
1 No 9 tea kettle, 48cts	worth	85cts.
1 crank flour sifter, 10cts	worth	25cts.
1 lamp chimney, 3cts	worth	10cts.
1 paper pins, 1c	worth	8cts.
1 paper of needles, 1c	worth	8cts.
1 wood bowl 15cts	worth	25cts.
1 10 quart dish pan, 10cts	worth	25cts
1 gal oil can, 17cts	worth	4cts..
1 coal hod, 19cts	worth	65cts.
1 copper bottom tea and coffee pot, 23c	worth	55cts.
1 extra fancy stone spittoon, 25cts	worth	65cts.
1 fine tea tray, 12cts	worth	35cts.
1 large dust pan 7cts	worth	15cts.
1 pair ladies hose, all wool seamless extra fine 21cts	worth	50cts.
1 large stand lamp, 59cts.,	worth	$1.00
6 sheets of writing paper, 1c	worth	1c. each
6 envelopes, 1c	worth	1c. each

And thousands of equally good bargains.

25 Cent Bargain Store.

R. A. STOWELL & CO.

[illegible]

None of our domestic animals furnish more healthful meat than the sheep.

Avoid top ventilation in the poultry house. It will cause roup, swelled head, closed eyes and other difficulties.

Cooking feed for stock is a subject much discussed at present, and as good authority as Professor Stewart is reported as advocating it for all kinds of domestic animals.

Horses are not fully matured until six years of age, nor do they arrive at their full strength until eight years old. Immature animals are often overtaxed and their usefulness injured.

The agricultural fairs of 1886 showed more and better horses than ever before. There is no branch of our improved stock breeding as progressive and prosperous as the draft horse interest, nor any one that is as profitable.

The best bed for pigs is one made of leaves. Fine litter of any kind is always preferred by them to that which is coarse, and the cheapest and most convenient is leaves, which require no preparation for that purpose.

It is a well tested fact that pastures which have become so thoroughly run out and overrun by briars and bushes as not to be worth fencing for cattle pasture, by being given over to sheep for a few years will be brought to a productive condition.

Don't forget, this cold weather, to drop into your fowl's drink, occasionly, a little cayenne pepper. This is very excellent, in its way for warming the craw, when the thermometer is running down toward zero.

Ventilate the building where your poultry is kept, daily—no matter how cold the day may be. Let the foul air out and the fresh air in amongst the the birds. Thus only, can you keep them healthy in confinement.

If you have a few dollars to spare, buy a small flock of sheep and make them a pen and a yard, and procure a good thoroughbred ram two years old to run with the ewes. Keep an account of the cost and if everything goes right the money will be doubled within a twelfthmonth. So says the Rural New Yorker.

While it is economy in feed to have the cattle barn well protected against cold in winter, especially against cold winds and blowing rains, there is danger of over-doing the thing. Don't make the barn too close. Have it well ventilated. The amount of air admitted should be under control and regulated daily as the needs of the animals require. Light too is very necessary. Provide plenty of light. Glass is cheap and windows of this material should be provided.

The Farmer's Boy.

The country boy is face to face with practical realities says the Iowa Homestead. He sees how slowly money is made on the farm; he is taught from youth up the need of economy; he has the nature of saving first explained to him every day in the week; he is not exposed to the temptations of the saloon or ball-room and he is not so much of a lady's man before he has occasion to use a razor on his downy cheeks. He may be a trifle rude, he may feel uneasy in company, but in the long, closely contested race of life it is the chap that trudges to school barefooted in summer and stogas in winter, whose mother cuts his hair with the sheep shears, who leads the chap that goes to the city school with the starched shirt front and fancy slippers, and whose head is shaved with a lawn mower at the barber-shop. Such has been our observance, and we think we know what we are talking about.

Care of Horses in the Stable.

In winter the legs of horses are apt to be neglected. They are driven out in the snow and returned to the stable with their legs covered with snow or ice, and left to stand till the chilling covering melts off. The only effect of such treatment to the horse is to stiffen the joints and the sinews, and to make the muscles sore with inflammation. A snowball on the bottom of the foot also does injury. The legs and hoofs should be made warm as soon as possible after the horse comes from traveling in the mud, the water or snow. They should be rubbed dry to bring back the circulation of the blood to the surface and prevent soreness and stiffness. after a long or severe drive the legs should be bandaged and the bandages left on all night. A good washing with warm water is excellent care for dirty or cold legs.

The Farms of America.

There are in America over 4,000,000 farms large and small. They cover nearly 800,000,000 acres of improved land, and their total value is something like $10,000,000,000. These figures are not, of course, comprehensible. They simply convey the idea of vastness of area and equal vastness of importance. The estimated value of the yearly product of these farms is between $2,000,000,000 and $3,000,000,000.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

New Use for the Tobacco Plant.

A new use for the tobacco plant has been discovered. Its stems and waste, it is claimed, are equal to linen rags in the manufacture of paper. Tobacco waste costs less than $10 a ton, linen rags $70 to $80. There is no expense in assorting the former and very little shrinkage, as against a loss of one-third of rags. The yearly tobacco waste is estimated by the census reports at from 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 pounds.

An Interruption.

A little boy of Buffalo took a recess in his devotions one night recently, according to the Courier of that city. This juvenile, aged 4½ years, after donning his night-gown, located in a warm corner by the stove to comfortably say his prayers. He got along nicely [illegible] almost through, but concluded [illegible] "God bless papa and mamma, and make—please wait a minute till I [illegible]." Little sister Violet had interrupted the little brother's devotional [illegible] by tickling the bottom of his [illegible] with a broom splint. [illegible]

[illegible] and it is said there are 8,000,000 of them who smoke—consume on an average three and one-half pounds annually. Few people will believe that the cigars smoked in this country during the year ended June 30, 1886, would reach around the earth nine times if extended in a single line, allowing four inches as the length of each cigar. The actual number of cigars upon which tax was paid last year was 3,510,898,566, which is equal to fifty-eight and one-half cigars to every person in the country, placing the population at 60,000,000. Assuming that one-half of the population are given to smoking and there are 117 cigars for each smoker. The consumption of cigarettes shows that the percentage of increase is greater in cigarettes than in cigars. The number of cigarettes on which tax was paid last year aggregates 1,310,961,850, an increase of 252,212,112 over the preceding year, while the increase in cigars consumed during the same period was 151,925,855. Adding the duty of last year on imported cigars and tobacco to the tax raised on the domestic article it will be found that $36,218,476 were paid to the government, which is equal to a per capita of 60 cents on the entire population of the country. The appraised value of all the coffee imported last year was $42,675,600; that of tea $15,770,827. These figures as compared with what was paid for taxes levied on tobacco would seem to justify the statement that tobacco has become as great a necessity to the people as tea and coffee.

The Local Paper.

No man can take a paper of any kind for a year without deriving more than the value of the subscription price. And if it be a local paper, published in his market town, he not unfrequently saves—to say nothing of the pleasure derived from its columns—two fold more than he paid for it. The local paper is the reflection of the energy and enterprise of the place in which it is published, and communities are judged by it, whether they wish it or not—in proportion as it is alive and enterprising, so will the community it represents be. It is constantly advertising and building up the interests of its section, and deserves every dollar it gets. Never neglect your local paper because you can get a city paper for less money; it invariably proves poor economy.—Ex.

Report of Factory Inspectors.

The first annual report of Factory inspectors Connolly and Franey has been presented to the legislature. It made about 100 printed pages, and covered but four months of actual inspection, the law creating the department having gone into effect July 4. The inspectors visited nearly 1,000 factories and were everywhere received by employers with uniform courtesy. They found that the law is being generally lived up to and that it was favored by nearly every manufacturer. Great stress is laid in the report upon the necessity of the enforcement of the compulsory education law, the inspector stating that the juvenile ignorance coming under their observation is actually alarming. They submit a plan by which the law can be effectually enforced, and urge its adoption by the Legislature.

Among the recomendations as to changes in the law are: Amending the compulsory education law and providing for its enforcement by policemen and constables; prohibiting the employment of children under 14 years of age; prohibiting any woman or male minor under 18 years from cleaning machinery while in motion; making 10 hours a limit for all women and all minors under 18 years; prohibiting contracts whereby employes are compelled to forfeit part of their wages under certain conditions; increasing the number of inspectors to twelve; and providing for a clerk and headquarters; providing that factory doors shall open outwardly, and shall not be kept locked during working hours.

A Cold Winter.

The winter of 1793 was the coldest winter ever known and among its products was the following rhyme, which is not only choice in its poetry, but peculiarly terse and striking in its descriptive force:

The winter of 1793
Was the coldest winter that ever I see.
On March twenty-fust
You could go on the crust
With cattle and hoss
You could go across
Every fence in the town
Without breaking on it down.

That poem is now nearly 100 years old and the present is nearly as tough a winter as '93. Haven't we any poet who is up to the present emergency? In such a cold winter lots of poetry must be left.

UNEXPECTED.

A MOTHER SAVED FROM AN UNTIMELY DEATH.

Tears of Sorrow Turned to Smiles of Rejoicing.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 31, 1886.

PARDEE MEDICINE CO.—GENTLEMEN: I am now seventy-three years old, and until I was seventy I was always strong and healthy; but the amount of suffering I have endured since that time, I feel to be sufficient for a life-time. I had a severe attack of sciatic rheumatism, which completely prostrated me; my limbs and feet, and in fact my whole body, was so drawn out of shape that it was impossible to move without assistance. I was unable to straighten my limbs or to step on my feet for more than a year and my life was despaired of. Children and friends were called in to see me die. I was treated by three good physicians, and they and my friends did all they could to relieve my suffering—but with no avail. My hips were blistered, and my limbs rubbed, bathed and bandaged, but nothing they could do afforded me even temporary relief. Tongue cannot describe my suffering. I urged them to let me try Dr. Pardee's Remedy, as I had read so much about it, and of those who had been cured by its use, that it gave me confidence in it, although I confess I had little or no faith in so-called patent medicines. The Remedy was procured, and I commenced using it as directed, and after taking it a short time could see that it was helping me. I began to perspire freely, and as the perspiration increased the pain decreased, but my clothing and bedding was a sight to behold, being nearly "as yellow as saffron." I had taken the Remedy but a short time, when I could sleep like a child, and relish my food like one. Thank God it has cured me, and I am to-day as healthy and strong as before, and can walk and have as free use of my limbs as ever. I have recommended your Remedy to as many who are afflicted, and I do not know of a case that it has not cured. I am confident that it will cure as my case. You are at liberty to use my name, if it will be the means of inducing any person to use your excellent Remedy. [illegible]

MRS. JANE [illegible]
[illegible], N. Y.

[illegible]

[illegible] the virtues of Hops, Burgundy Pitch and Gums are combined in the clean, sweet and quick acting Hop Plaster. Hop Plasters sold everywhere. 25 cts.

Any letter no heavier than a silver dollar is subject to only two cents postage. five nickels and a small copper cent also weigh about an ounce.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is prescribed and recommended by eminent physicians, and is taken with perfect safety by old and young. Its cleansing and vitilizing effects are sure and speedy, and it is universally conceded to be the most effective of all purifiers.

The total value of the exports of domestic breadstuffs from the United States during the twelve months ended December 31, 1886, were $148,123,000, against $126,690,000 for 1885.

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c by H. C. Giesler.

Ouida is in London. Correspondents describe her as a soured and discontented old woman, without human companionship or sympathy, and deriving no comfort from her literary fame.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Baltimore is to have a crematory. Two years ago there was but one in the country; now there are twelve.

Home Rule for Ireland

isonly a question of time and it is only a question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. G. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

Pasteur is soon to retire from active practice to avoid paralysis with which he is threatened.

Convenient pleasant, and certain in their results, are Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. Recommended by physicians and endorsed by all who have used them. The best remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, and Constipation. Guaranteed, and sold at 25c. by H. C. Giesler.

The aggregate indebtedness to the government of the Pacific railroads due and to become due is $157,332,000.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Ocean waves, with the wind ten miles an hour, are 25 feet high and 375 feet long.

CHURCH GOING PEOPLE

Are annoyed by the Coughing of their neighbors. One bottle of Van Wert's Balsam would cure every cough in the congregation. Go to H. C. Giesler's Fulton, or Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls, and get a free sample bottle and see for yourself.

Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure cold in the head. 23m6

Trees have been discovered in Africa which are computed to be 5,000 years old.

Please Don't Forget It

That Dr. H. Sames Cannabis Indica is prepared in Calcutta, India, from the purest and best Native Hemp, and is the only remedy, either in that country or this, that will positively and permanently cure Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Nasal Catarrh and Nervous Debility, or break up a fresh cold in 24 hours. $2.50 per bottle, three bottles $6.50. Craddock & Co., Proprietors, 1032 Race St. Phila.

Imprudence is the messenger sent to invite disease, poverty and other evils.

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent remedial agents which modern medical investigation has discovered the whole forms an incomparable remedy for all throat and lung troubles. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Trial sizes free.

For torpid liver use Van Wert's Pills. Van Wert's Golden Balm is a certain cure for Catarrh. 23m6

The president of the Fat Men Association of Jersey City weighs 416 pounds.

Pure blood is absolutely necessary in order to enjoy perfect health. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and strengthens the system.

Perseverance is the best school for manly virtue.

Good Results in Every Case.

D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs: had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so, and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all Coughs and Colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

What's in a Name.

The records of the county clerk's office in Chicago show that the following oddly-assorted couples were joined in matrimony during 1886:

Thomas Black and Mary White.
Peter Day and Ellen Knight.
Solomon Bank and Catherine Vale
James Hill and Susan Dale.
Isaac Slater and Jane Thatcher.
John Barber and Mary Butcher.
Stephen Head and Nancy Heart.
William Stately and Jessie Smart.
Joseph Reed and Julia Hay.
Thomas Spring and Mary May.
Joseph Brown and Kitty Green.
John Robbins and Jennie Wrens.
William Castle and Nancy Hall.
Peter Chattle and Fanny Call.
Joseph Mann and Ellen Child.
John Marry and Lucy Will.
[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] FURNITURE DEALERS.

[illegible]

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5l1

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest Cleanest, Best,
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

INDIA PALE ALE.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

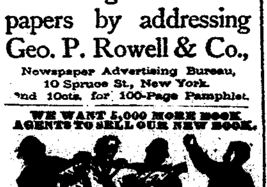
Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 5,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK.



Secret Service

OF THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

By P. H. WOODWARD, late Chief of P. O. Detective Corps.

[illegible]

AGENTS WANTED [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

London has a population larger than that of any other city, having over 4,000,000 inhabitants. Canton and Pekin (China) have over 1,500,000 each, while Paris has 2,239,928, and New York city in 1880 had 1,206,229 inhabitants.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

The pansy is Mrs. Grover Cleveland's favorite flower, and at her luncheon party the other day the floral decorations were appropriately composed of delicate pansy blossoms.

Ayer's Pills cure constipation, improve the appetite, promote digestion, restore healthy action, and regulate every function. This medicine is pleasing to take and gentle in operation. See article in Ayer's Almanac.

Color indications of the eye: Blue, amiability; hazel, vivacity; yellow, cruelty; gray, cultivation; black, love, jealousy, hatred, revenge.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

The empress of Japan will shortly be the envy of every lady of her court. She has a diamond necklace and $75,000 worth of frocks from Paris.

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c., 50c. H. C. Giesler.

The New York Y. M. C. A. state convention will be held at Utica from the 17th to the 20th of next month.

REV. C. F. BROOKS

says that his little girl was troubled with marlaria very severely, and that since he gave her Sulphur Bitters, he never thinks of leaving New York for his summer resort without a few bottles, for they always cure his family, and are far superior to quinine.

Jonas Gilman Clark has given $1,000,000 to found a university in Worcester, Mass.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c. per box by R. E. Phillips.

The New York brewers spent $35,000 on sick workmen during the past year.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

There will be no leap year between 1896 and 1904.

ACCIDENTS

and how to deal with them and other valuable information, will be found in Dr. Kaufmann's great Medical Work; elegant colored plates. Send three 2 cent stamps to pay postage to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy free.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00. A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

[illegible]

Off on the morning train
I'll see my love again;
She's chewing gum
In Kalamazoo,
Ten thousand miles away.
—Brooklyn Eagle.

He climbed up the toboggan slide,
His girl was with him always;
He paid for two and away they flew,
And the wind blew through his galways.
—Buffalo News.

Diaries and umbrellas are hard to keep.—Boston Post.

We know some young men who are already trying to use diary leaves for cigarette papers.—Burlington Free Press.

Good resolutions, dated December 31, 1886, are now sold at a discount.—Boston Post.

Carlyle says laughter means sympathy. It is a sympathizing crowd that sees a fat man sit down on the icy pavement.—St. Paul Herald.

All Europe is said to be armed to the teeth, which means that war will be by the tongue.—Boston Globe.

Tobogganing might be described as an instantaneous sensation followed by a long walk up hill.—New York World.

Young men who scorn to be taken for dudes shouldn't part their hair in the middle and walk as though they had breakfasted on ramrods.—Boston Herald.

"Does position affect sleep?" asks a writer. The position of your wife's cold feet often does, these cold winter nights. —Somerville Journal.

Wife (enjoying her dinner)—What can be more delicious than a nice canvasback? Husband—A greenback, my dear; a greenback.—Life.

It is rumored that seventeen old maids left Talmage's church after he preached his late sermon on "How Old Art Thou?" —Cleveland Sun.

It is not so surprising that Henry W. Grady should be so gifted an orator when it is remembered that he is a native of Jawjaw.—Boston Transcript.

Eyes yet they see not—Potatoes. Ears yet they hear not—Corn. Mouths yet they speak not—Rivers. Hands yet they feel not—Clocks. Brains yet they think not—Dudes.—Whip.

A Brussels young lady, who was solicited for a subscription to the funds of the local band, subscribed a kiss, and the band boys are disputing about who shall collect it.—Toronto Globe.

Isaac—"I vants to write my name upon your heart, Repecca, but it vas so hard as a stone." Rebecca—"Vy don't you try, Isaac, to write your name my heart on with a five hundert tollar diamond ring?"—Texas Siftings.

Secretary Lamar said he was not going to be married and the newspapers said he was. And he was married. How hopeless it is for a public man to oppose the press.—Philadelphia Press.

"Mother, will you lend me your hair switch?" "Why, what in the world can you want with it, Harry?" "Oh, some of us boys are going to have a show and scalp Indians."—Harper's Young People.

There are more than 80,000 words in active use in the English language, but there are not half as many as are needed every hour by unfortunate pedestrians over icy sidewalks to express their opinion of the city authorities.—St. Paul Herald.

If you have ever noticed the men who occupy the front seats at theatres, you must have remarked how much more polite they are than the ladies. They do not even wear any hair.—Burlington Free Press.

Mrs. Muggins to drug clerk—Thot porous phlaster thot yez sold me for me ould man was nigh killin' him. He couldn't git the teeth av him t'roo it at all till I fried it, an' thin it wa'n't much tinderer, an he's far from well in shpite av it.—Tid-Bits.

Whatever tends to increase usefulness, by banishing pain and suffering, will certainly secure notice and approval. We allude to Salvation Oil.

Insure your life for 25 cents against all the danger of a Consumptive's death by keeping a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup convenient. It is the best.

How to Tell the Age of Any Person.

There is a good deal of amusement in the following magical table of figures. It will enable you to tell how old the young ladies are. Just hand this table to a young lady, and request her to tell you in which column or columns her age is contained, and add together the figures at the top of the columns in which her age is found and you have the great secret. Thus, suppose her age to be 17, you will find that number in the first and fifth columns; add the first figures of these two columes.

Here is the magic table:

1	2	4	8	16	32
3	3	5	9	17	33
5	6	6	10	18	34
7	7	7	11	19	35
9	10	12	12	20	36
11	11	13	13	21	37
13	14	14	14	22	38
15	15	15	15	23	39
17	18	20	24	24	40
19	19	21	25	25	41
21	22	22	26	26	42
23	23	23	27	27	43
25	26	28	28	28	44
27	27	29	29	29	45
29	30	30	30	30	46
31	31	31	31	31	47
33	34	36	40	48	48
35	35	37	41	49	49
37	38	38	42	50	50
39	39	39	43	51	51
41	42	44	44	52	52
43	43	45	45	53	53
45	46	46	46	54	54
47	47	47	47	55	55
49	50	52	56	56	56
51	51	53	57	57	57
53	54	54	58	58	58
55	55	55	59	59	59
57	58	60	60	60	60
59	59	61	61	61	61
61	62	62	62	62	62
63	63	63	63	63	63

Well, They Succeed, Don't They?

Your wife has retired with a sick headache, your little boy is suffering with the mumps, your baby is teething, your cook is taking her "evening out," and you are not feeling very well yourself—enter a crowd of jolly neighbors to give you a "Surprise Party."—Puck.

[illegible]

A [illegible]

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1886 I was afflicted with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses on and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter, disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming smaller and beautifully less. I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.	Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.
The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.	$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.
Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.	Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.
General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.	SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.
Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.	SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

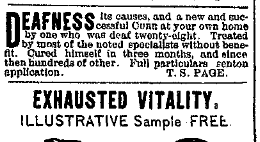
NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

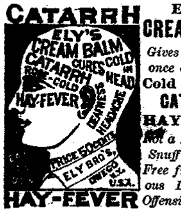
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c., &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopoeia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper. ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

CATARRH



ELY'S CREAM BALM

Gives Relief at once and Cures

Cold in Head, CATARRH, HAY FEVER.

Not a Liquid, Snuff or Powder. Free from injurious Drugs and Offensive odors.

HAY-FEVER

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price, 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free.
ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y

KASKINE.

(THE NEW QUININE.)

Science emerging from Darkness.

NO BAD EFFECT.
NO HEADACHE.
NO NAUSEA.
No Ringing Ears.
Cures Quickly.
Pleasant, Pure.

A POWERFUL TONIC

that the most delicate stomach will bear.

A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM, NERVOUS PROSTRATION,

and all Germ Diseases.

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y.: "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleason, 380 East 121st St., New York City, has cured over 290 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says, "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

Rev. Jas. L. Hall, Chaplain Albany Penitentiary, writes that Kaskine has cured his wife, after twenty years suffering from malaria and nervous dyspepsia. Write him for particulars.

Thousands upon thousands write that Kaskine has cured them after all other medicines had failed. Write for book of testimonials.

Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.
THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

[illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

[illegible]

Dated Dec. 1, 1886.

WILLIAM D. PATTERSON,
HARRIET L. [illegible],
Administrators.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1887, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in January, March, May, June, September, November and December.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in April, July and October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on the last Thursday of April, July and September.

PARISH—At J. S. Ludington's law office, on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday in April, July and September.

F. DAVID, Surrogate.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO.
Nellie E. Sears against John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington and Alice Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 5th, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y.

Yours &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty.,
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT.—County of Oswego.—ss.
Perry M. Simons, vs. George H. Simons, Mrs. George H. Simons, Ruse D. VanBuren, Carrie VanBuren, Bruce M. VanBuren, Mamie VanBuren, Annie Reynolds Stewart, Walter Reynolds, Mrs. Walter Reynolds, Jeremiah M. Green, Martha H. Green, Lucretia Arnold, Henrietta Lee, William A. Lawrence, Mrs. William A. Lawrence, Byron E. Green, Alice Green, Stella Green Douglas, Sarah Lee, Seth Burgess, Polly Burgess, Helen M. Green, Amelia Johnson and Helen Simons.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 29th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To Jeremiah M. Green, Martha H. Green, Henrietta Lee, George H. Simons, Mrs. George H. Simons, and Anna Reynolds Stewart.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon John C. Churchill, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 8th day of December, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego County, at Oswego City, N. Y.

Yours, &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE. Whereas on the 1st day of April, 1873, Isaac F. Pierce made and delivered to the undersigned mortgagee, Allan Gilmour, his certain mortgage, bearing date on that day, whereby he mortgaged to the said Allan Gilmour, his heirs and assigns "all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Hannibal, County of Oswego and state of New York, bounded and described as follows, to wit, being part of subdivision No. one of great lot No. eighty-one of said town of Hannibal and beginning in the north line of said lot No. eighty-one, at the northeast corner of land now owned by Daniel Randall; thence east along said north line to the north-west corner of land now owned by David Dexter; thence south along the west line of said Dexter's land to the center of the highway leading across said lot; thence easterly along the center of said highway to the east line of said lot No. one; thence south along said east line to the south-east corner of said lot No one; thence west along the south line of said subdivision to the west line of said lot No. eighty-one; thence north to the centre of the highway leading across said lot; thence east along the centre of said highway to the southeast corner of D. Randall's land; thence north along the east line of said Randall's land to the place of beginning, containing about ninety-five acres of land," which said mortgage with the power of sale therein contained, was duly recorded in the Oswego County Clerk's office, on the 21st day of April, 1873, at 5 o'clock p. m., in Liber 98 of mortgages, at page 346, and whereas the said mortgage was given to secure the payment of two thousand dollars with semi-annual interest, as therein specified, and default has been made in the condition of said mortgage whereby the power to sell therein contained has become operative and there is claimed to be due thereon at the date of the first publication of this notice the sum of two thousand thirty-seven dollars, and that the whole amount thereof is due.

Said mortgage was duly assigned to Stillman W. Mason on the 30th day of March, 1880, and said assignment was duly recorded in the Oswego County Clerks Office on the 19th day of January, 1887.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that in pursuance of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the statute in such case made and provided the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public auction, at the Lewis House, in the village of Fulton, on the 20th day of April, 1887, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day.

STILLMAN W. MASON, Assignee.
A. L. & E. O. JOHNSON,
Attys., Syracuse, N. Y.

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

—AT THE—

FULTON TIMES OFFICE

FITS STOPPED FREE

Marvelous success. Insane Persons Restored. Dr. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER for all BRAIN & NERVE DISEASES. [illegible] INFALLIBLE if taken as directed. No Fits after first day's use. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free to Fit patients, they paying express charges on box when received. [illegible] Dr. KLINE, 931 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa. See Druggists. BEWARE OF IMITATING FRAUDS.

—IF YOUR—

HORSE IS LAME

USE DR. J. S. MARKHAM'S

"Spavin Cure."

—IF HE HAS—

Sore Feet or Contracted Hoofs,

Use Dr. J. S. Markham's

FOUNDER OINTMENT.

☞They are a sure cure. For sale at the DRUG STORES.

5lm1

MONEY to be made. Cut this out and return to us, and we will send you free, something of great value and importance to you, [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETIENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 39

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 2, 1887. Single Copies Three Cents

A Drama of Life.

[Lillie E. Barr, in N. Y. Ledger.]

BABYHOOD.

In a cradle, warm and cozy,
Just a baby soft and rosy—

Just a baby, quiet lying,
Sleeping, smiling, waking, crying,

Dimpling, kissing, cooing, crowing,
All a baby's sweetness showing

BOYHOOD.

Grown to boyhood, laughing, playing,
In the fields and woods a-straying;

In the school-room, joking, turning
All things into fun, yet learning;

Rowing, boating, skating, racing,
Every kind of frolic chasing.

YOUTH.

Boyhood grown to youth, he measures
Life by very different treasures;

Fond of flirting, dancing, singing,
Lover-like in joy upspringing;

Still for some coy beauty dying,
Wooing, dressing, rhyming, sighing.

MANHOOD.

Till at length, his playtime over,
Thought and labor please the rover;

Bring him manhood's grave ambition,
Disappointment and fruition;

Wife and children, earnest striving,
Till he sees old age arriving.

OLD AGE.

And sits well contented waiting,
Better life anticipating;

Still by earthly love surrounded,
Full of Hope in true Faith founded;

Then some morn, "the secret token,"
And the silver cord is broken;

And his loved ones, softly weeping,
Whisper: "He is safely sleeping,
Give him to the Father's keeping!

The Tramp.

The tramp, he has an E Z time;
In D D owns the earth,
For he can C K pleasant clime
Like N E man of worth.

When winter holds its I C reign
The C T is his home;
When birds S A to sing again
He'll in New J Z roam.

He's blessed with no X S of care;
We N V, too, his health!
At E V seeks a hay-mow, where
In P C dreams of wealth.

His C D clothes, though out of style
And rather in D K,
X L our own for comfort, while
We roast in our R A.

His head don't A K bit from debts,
And there's no U C knowst
To work while grub to E T gets
In P T for his woes.

Cold water is his N M E,
Which to S K P he tries,
But whiskey gives him N R G
Sometimes to X S I's.

H. C. DODGE.

Served Him Right.

Girl on a ladder,
Mopping off a winder;
'Long comes a man
With no one nigh to hinder,
Climbs up the ladder,
Puts his arm around her,
Smacks her on the mouth—
A forty-horse power sounder—
Naughty man!

The girl turns around,
With a sudden stop,
Reaches for the man
To use him for a mop!
No one nigh to hinder,
Goes right ahead
Mopping off the winder—
With the man!

MCGUIGAN.

Something For Strikers.

Strikes are quite proper, only strike right;
Strike to some purpose but not for fight;
Strike for your manhood you honor and fame;
Strike right till you win a good name;
Strike for your freedom from all that is vile;
Strike off companions that often beguile;
Strike with the hammer, the sledge and the ax;
Strike off bad habits with troublesome tax;
Strike out unaided, depend on no other;
Strike without gloves, and your foolishness smother;
Strike off the fetters of fashion and pride;
Strike where 't is best let wisdom decide;
Strike a good blow while the iron is hot;
Strike and keep striking till you hit the right spot.

—Troy Times.

Drawing the Line.

At the theatre door a moment they paused;
She raised both her hands to her head,
And took out the long pins that held in its place
A thing whose chief color was red.
"I'm willing," she said, "my hat to remove;
Its fashion dates two winters back,
But one thing I won't do and that's to take off
This elegant, new sealskin saque."

—Buffalo Express.

THE PROPER THING.

Mink is restored to its former popularity.

Brown is worn in an endless variety of shades.

Brown and cream white are combined for dressy wear.

Black marten is the most popular black fur used for trimming.

Plain velvets are more fashionable than brocade for dressy wraps.

The long, round boa, with muff to match, is the popular set of fur.

For midwinter costumes fur is no longer a trimming, but becomes a part of the dress.

Ladies' cloth of light tints is a novelty. Pale mauve, lavender and rose-color are the newest.

Skating and sleighing dresses, made entirely of seal-skin, are as shapely as if made of cloth.

The regular English walking hat is copied in fur, and there are seal bonnets of graceful shapes.

Musquash, a brown-shaded fur, is used as trimmings for mantles and dresses. It is pretty and inexpensive.

A silky imitation of astrachan in shades of pink and blue is sometimes used as a decoration for evening dresses.

Gold embroidery and gold-beaded balls are used to decorate some of the new mantles of dark, many-toned matelasse brocade.

Seal-skin turbans for ladies have soft crowns, higher in front than behind, and the most stylish have the brim covered with Persian lamb-skin.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they [illegible] "Feel like a different person," [illegible]

RETRIBUTION.

BY "THE DUCHESS."

CHAPTER I.

The coffee and toast are suffering, the eggs and kidneys are growing cold, the butler is looking distinctly aggrieved, and Sir Thomas, lifting his head from his well aired Times, gazes across the table cloth, with a solemnity even more pronounced than usual, at his stepson, Granit Boyle.

"Your mother is late again this morning," he says testily. "This is, indeed, the third time this week she has been behind time."

"Old age begins to assert itself," suggests the younger man carelessly.

Something in the indifference of his tone nettles Sir Thomas. His brow contracts, and he stares angrily at the other, betraying how very little love is lost between them.

"Age has nothing to do with it. Your mother is not failing in any way, however much that thought may find favor with you! Your entrance into your kingdom will not be yet, I hope and believe."

This reference to his inheritance of a considerable estate on his mother's death raises a smile upon Boyle's lips and a contemptuous movement of his shoulders.

"I see no disgrace in old age myself," he says. "It has its drawbacks, perhaps"—with a look of studied insolence at Sir Thomas—"but its privileges too." He laughs slowly. "As you see, my mother is late—her privilege is to oversleep herself."

"Your mother, sir, has not been the same woman since the robbery of her jewel case, a month since. It has preyed upon her cruelly, as any one—who—who"—in his odd, fuming manner—"had a spark of feeling in them might have seen. But you are too devoted to your racing, your cards, your town dissipations, to spare a thought for one of the best women, the best mothers, who ever"——

His indignation is cut short in a very summary manner. The door is flung wide, and Lady Valworth, entering, totters to the nearest arm chair and sinks into it.

"Oh! Thomas! Oh! good heavens!" she cries. "The diamonds!"

Sir Thomas, flinging down The Times, starts to his feet, and turns to her.

"Why the deuce can't you speak, Lucinda?" says he.

"They are gone!—gone, I tell you! I've searched everywhere, and they are not to be found. This is the second robbery—and where is the fault to be laid? What on earth is to be done?" The poor woman, growing quite hysterical, covers her face with her hands, and sobs aloud.

"Your diamonds! The family diamonds! Bless my soul! Has the world come to an end?" cries Sir Thomas. "But there must be some mistake. When"—putting on his most magisterial air—"did you see them last?"

"Two nights ago. I wore them at the Eyers' dinner. You remember, Granit? You came with us."

"Yes, I remember," says Granit.

"It is absurd. It is outrageous! Is there no law in the land?" fumes Sir Thomas. "Have you sent for the police—a detective"——

"Of what use was the detective we got down from town about my emeralds?" asks Lady Valworth despondingly. "No; it is a conspiracy—a deeply rooted one!"

"Nonsense!" growls Sir Thomas; "it's burglars. D'ye see your mother's concern, Granit—what do you think, eh?"

"Servants, I should say," laconically.

"Oh, my dear Granit!" cries his mother. "But which amongst them would you first suspect? We have had excellent characters with them all; and Johanna, as you know, has been with me for twenty-eight years—in fact, ever since you were born. Her character is surely established."

"It is the people with established characters who invariably enrich themselves at the expense of their employers. In the long run, they reward themselves for the years of correct living that they have endured. Take my advice, and keep your eye on Johanna."

He laughs cynically. There is, indeed, what one might almost believe to be an under current of amusement in his tone.

"This Johanna should, indeed, be well known to you!" breaks in Sir Thomas; "she was your nurse, I believe. She, as I have learned, is devtoed to you—has given you almost a mother's love."

He is gazing at the younger man with a slow scorn in his old, but yet brilliant, eyes.

"Surely all that is no reason why I should seek to defraud justice of its dues," says the young man, with an indolent uplifting of his brows. "You, as a magistrate, would surely not suggest such a course?"

"What d'ye mean, sir?" cries Sir Thomas, turning upon him so fiercely that Lady Valworth, who has had cause to dread a collision between them, rushes into the breach.

"'Pray reserve discussion, however amicable, until later on,' she implores excitedly. "I cannot listen to it now, I am so unstrung—so wretched. The emeralds were bad enough; but if nothing comes of the loss of these diamonds I don't believe I shall get over it. If they had been my own, I shouldn't so much have cared; but being yours, Sir Thomas, and expected by your heir—I"——

She breaks down again, and subsides into tears and her handkerchief.

"Now I must beg you will not so allude to this unfortunate affair," says Sir Thomas, a strong affection underlying the pomposity of his manner. "Let nothing outside the loss itself distress you—and, besides, there may be no loss; all yet is mere conjecture. Recovery of these jewels (if, indeed, they are gone) is sure."

"Positively certain," says Granit Boyle, with his inscrutable smile.

"In the meantime, as you are so unstrung, I shall recommend you a change," says Sir Thomas, laying his hand very kindly upon his wife's. "Go to town for a month or so, to your sister, Mrs. Brand—she always does you good—and leave me here to fight out this mystery."

But though he fights it out hardly, so far as money and perseverance can go, nothing comes of his exertions. The family diamonds have vanished as entirely, as mysteriously, as did the emeralds belonging to his wife a month before.

CHAPTER II.

Lady Valworth had been rather glad to avail herself of Sir Thomas' suggestion to spend a few weeks in town with her sister, Mrs. Brand—a fashionable woman of the world with a very kindly heart, who, childless herself, had adopted the daughter of a dead sister, now a charming girl of seventeen, and engaged to Granit Boyle, her cousin. She is, however, hardly to be regarded as a young lady fairly launched upon the world, as she is still undergoing a course of study with various masters, and reading in German three times a week with a governess—a girl of about her own age, who had lived so much abroad as to be an almost naturalized [illegible].

Nadine Roche [illegible] when she [illegible] it. She [illegible]

Mrs. Brand took a special fancy to her. Her feet seemed to have dropped into the primrose way, and she felt at last, poor little soul, that she could lift her head to heaven with the firm assurance that she could walk, without fear of falling, upon the earth beneath.

Her pupil, Millicent Grey, is almost as pretty as she is, if not quite. A tall, stately girl with fringed lids, from which the brown eyes look out as if in wonderment at the world outside, and soft sleek hair of a dark shade, that contrasts oddly with her retrousse nose, and that is so altogether put in the shade by the charming Grecian feature that distinguishes her governess. To many people, indeed, Nadine's merry mouth, and fair dancing locks, and eyes blue as a caverned sea, would have had their objections; but the child herself is so sweet, so gay, so suggestive of all things good and pure, that it would be impossible to regard her in any light except a kindly one.

With only the memory of a dear father—who had been a general in the Prussian army, although an Englishman—and a mother, very dear, but very dependent, to sustain her, Nadine, up to her connection with Mrs. Brand, had been compelled to look at life through anything but rose colored spectacles. And of late a chance of still surer escape from her dreary surroundings has suggested itself to her. Into her life (how, she hardly knew) a young man has fallen, who, while declaring his love for her, has at the same time repelled her almost as much as he attracts her. There had been a slight touch of romance in the manner of their meeting, but yet nothing very worthy of comment. A dull January night, ignorant of stars—a crowded crossing—a young man who had kindly come to her rescue in the absence of the necessary policeman, and who had piloted her across, through the tangled mass of vehicles, and landed her safely on the pavement at the other side. He had laughed aside her thanks, and when she had insisted on them, had demanded largesse in the shape of permission to escort her to her home. "The night was so dark, so stormy, so destitute of comfort in any form, and she was so evidently timid about the conquering of those terrible rubicons, the crossings, and he was so entirely master of his time for the next four hours."

It hardly took him one, however, to guide her to her home. She had steadily declined his offer of cabs or hansoms, but had felt it ungracious to refuse him further when he said he would traverse the distance with her on foot. In truth, she had been glad of his escort, and not altogether blind to the beauty of his face; and yet, as I have said, there was a repulsion as well as a fascination even then in her feelings toward him.

There was one other thing that puzzled her. Had she seen him before? Those marked features, those soft brilliant eyes—were they familiar? It seemed to her that somewhere in the rather immediate past she had seen him; but yet when he so kindly came to her aid on that crossing, just as she left Mrs. Brand's house, she could not connect him with any place or period, and after a while felt that her imagination had played her false in the matter.

When he had taken her home that night he had stood lingeringly upon the door step, until at last, in an uncertain way, half reluctant, half longing, half desirous of his departure, half eager to show some gratitude to one who had been so courteously kind, she had asked him to come in and let her make him known to her mother. The invitation was accepted with alacrity. Mrs. Roche, a gentle, tender voiced woman, received him with a little soft dignity that astonished him; and two hours later, when he left them, as they fondly but erroneously believed, on his way to his bed, he laughed aloud to himself on the deserted pavements of that anything but aristocratic neighborhood, as he called to mind how he had indulged in tea and toast at that hour, and enjoyed them too. What eyes that girl had! What a mouth! How gentle, how sweet, how lovable! Yet there was a fire about her too, that suggested many things, and made the pulses beat, and added ten thousand charms to those she already possessed. Well! He had lost his dinner, certainly, gazing at those beaux yeux, but there was always one's club, the gods be praised! and a supper that would be undeniable.

The acquaintance, thus opened, had been followed up with an ardor that perhaps astonished no one so much as the young man himself. He soon—astonishingly soon, as it appeared to Mrs. Roche—mastered the hours of Nadine's days. Knew when she was off duty and when on. Never put in an appearance on the Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays on which she gave her German lessons to Millicent Grey, Mrs. Brand's niece; but invariably dropped in on the afternoons of Monday, Wednesday and Friday. On Sunday his visits were uncertain, but he came even on that day more than he stayed away.

Mrs. Roche was troubled a little about him at first, but grew accustomed to him later on, and admiring him intensely as she did (regarding him, indeed, as a breath from that old world in which she once had moved, but which had proved cold and forgetful when fortune's sun went down upon her life), was openly glad and gratified when one day her daughter came to her and told her how Mr. Annerley had asked her to marry him, and how she had given him "Yes" for his answer.

The girl had not seemed either elated or, indeed, moved in any way when telling her story, but had sighed rather, and been a little petulant and impatient—a most strange thing for her—during the remainder of the evening.

Paul Annerley had followed up his proposal by a graceful word or two to the girl's mother that had more than prepossessed her in his favor, and the courtship had run ever since very smoothly, all things considered—the man being passionately in love, the maiden cool, if always gentle and sweet, and as adorable in manner as in face.

From the first Mr. Annerley had been extremely open about himself and his prospects. He would talk continually of "our office," and was always positively eager to enter into any question that related to his status in life, his "business," as he called it, or his income.

"It is neither big nor small now," he would say, with his charming smile, that showed all his beautiful teeth, and lit up his handsome eyes. "But it will improve. I have many irons in the fire, and one sure thing, should all else fail. No, I never tempt Providence too far. I despise the man who puts his all upon the die. I would have a reserve fund somewhere, however small it might be. Not that I should speak despairingly either"—with another brilliant smile—"of the little I can really call my own. It is sufficient to give bread and butter at least to not only one, but two—perhaps, indeed, three, should the desires be modest."

Here the handsome eyes fall meaningly upon pretty Miss Roche bending over her knitting, and then pass on to Mrs. Roche with an even more meaning expression in them, that the good lady would catch and dwell on afterward with [illegible]

[illegible]

—somewhere. An extraordinary press of business—sometimes! He was utterly destitute of relations—his father and mother having died when he was "quite a little fellow," and he was an only child. His sisters, his cousins and his aunts had no resting place upon the face of the earth—he was, as he would remark often in his deep pathetic tones, "alone in the world." He had friends, of course. Oh, yes! Every man had friends somewhere; but he found friendship a cold affair when all was told, and in fact he was a rather shy fellow about making acquaintances. He had never been so happy as since his fortunate meeting with Miss Roche, which had enabled him to gain an entree into a house where, etc., etc. Perhaps this was true. Of his love for Nadine, indeed, there could be no doubt at all. His eyes seemed never at rest except when followng the girl's movements, and drinking in each expressive glance of the exquisite face. When away from her he would laugh aloud to himself at times at the vague, wild, but unconquerable longing, that never left him, to go to her, to see her, to touch her hand, to hear her voice again. His love was a passionate one—an idolatry! He recognized it as such, and, whilst marveling at this strange feeling that had taken such entire possession of him, gloried in it, and clung to it with all his might.

(To be Continued.

A Dozen Little Sermons.

There are no greater prudes than those women who have some secret to hide.—George Sand.

Can man or woman choose duties? No more than they can choose their birthplace, or their father and mother.—Geo. Eliot.

The golden beams of truth and silken cords of love, twisted together will draw men on with a sweet violence, whether they will or not.—Cudworth.

All human discoveries seem to be made only for the purpose of confirming more strongly the truths that come from on high and are contained in in the sacred writings.—Herschel.

Does any man wound thee? Not only forgive, but work into thy thought intelligence of the kind of pain, that thou mayest never inflict it on another spirit.—Margaret Fuller.

There can be no peace in human life without the contempt of all events. He that troubles his head with drawing consequences from were contingencies shall never be at rest.—L'Estrange.

Some people have no perspective in their conscience. Their moral convictions are the same on all subjects. They are like a reader who speaks every word with equal emphasis.—Beecher.

Shall we repine at a little misplaced charity, we who could in no way foresee the effect—when an all-knowing, all-wise Being showers down every day his benefits on the unthankful and undeserving?—Atterbury.

Woman's necessity is to lose herself—to give herself away. If she be hindered from doing this, in the sweet and utter forgetfulness of a noble and unthwarted affection, her next impulse is to self-sacrifice.—Mrs. Whitney.

Christians are like the several flowers in a garden that have each of them the dew of heaven, which being shaken with the wind, they let fall at each other's roots, whereby they are jointly nourished and become nourishers of each other.—Bunyan.

One may say, generally, that no deeply-rooted tendency was ever extirpated by adverse argument. Not having originally been founded on argument, it cannot be destroyed by logic.—G. H. Lewes.

We cannot suppose that a period of time can ever arrive when the world, or any considerable portion of it, shall have come up abreast of these great minds, so as to fully comprehend them.—Longfellow.

Paris During the Siege.

At ten o'clock the "rappel" was beating all over Paris—that terrible sound which in the first revolution so often curdled the blood! I heard it under the window of the legation. It meant "every man to his post." About ten o'clock the troops began to pour in from every direction toward the Hotel de Ville. They soon filled the Place Vendome and the neighboring streets, and formed in line of battle in the Rue Castiglione, which they completely surrounded. In the presence of this immense force, all shouting "Vive Trochu!" and "A bas la Commune!" the red forces of Flourens seemed to have realized their weakness, and before midnight they had mostly disappeared, the government had been released, and comparative quiet restored all over the city. I left the legation to go to my lodgings in the Rue de Londres at half-past twelve, and going by the Champs Elysees, the Boulevards, and the Chaussee d'Antin, I found all the streets deserted and the stillness of death everywhere. What a city—one moment revolution, and the next the most profound calm!—"Reminiscences of the Siege and Commune of Paris," by Ex-Minister E. B. Washburne, in Scribner's Magazine for February.

Piscatorial.

Miss V.—You seem to be the best man at all the weddings, Mr. B. When are you going to take the leading part yourself!

Mr. B.—Oh, there are as good fish in the sea as ever came out of it.

Miss V.—Yes, but don't you think the bait is getting a little stale?—Life.

What I know about the standard remedy—Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup:—I know that a 25 cent bottle cured me of a bad cough in 12 hours. It is a fact.

Myriads of cases of rheumatism and neuralgia have already succumbed to that wonderful remedy, Salvation Oil. Price only 25 cents a bottle.

[illegible]

[illegible]

Misused Words.

Acoustics is always singular.

Cut bias and not cut on the bias.

Allow should not be used for admit.

Come to see me, and not come and see me.

Bursted is not elegant and is rarely correct.

Almost, with a negative, is ridiculous. "Almost nothing" is absurd.

The burden of a song means the refrain or chorus, not its sense or meaning.

Bountiful applies to persons, not to things, and has no reference to quantity.

Affable only applies when speaking of the manner of superiors to inferiors.

Methinks is formed by the impersonal verb think, meaning seem, and the dative me; and is literally rendered, it seems to me.

Admire should never be followed with the infinative. Never say as many do, "I should admire to go with you," etc. This error is singularly fashionable just now.

Allude is now frequently misused when a thing is named, spoken of or described. It should only be used when anything is hinted at in a playful or passing manner. "Allusion is the byplay of language."—Tweed's New Grammar.

The Sleeping Beauty.

A singular case of lethargy is reported from the French village of Thenelle, in the department of Aisne, of which a picturesque account is given in the Independence Belge. Close to the village drinking fountain there is a little red cottage in which since June 1, 1883, Marguerite Boponval has lain in a deep lethargic sleep. The cottage consists of two rooms: in one the family lives, in the other, which is cold and damp, the sleeping girl is lying. A feeble light falls through the curtains of the only window, looking upon a little garden. Like the picture of pale saints in a Greek church, the figure of the young girl is set off against the white bedcloths. Her eyes are closed. Does she dream? Does she think? Her beautiful face is quite calm. Sometimes the mother opens the heavy eyes, at which the girl seems to be troubled in her sleep, and her cheeks become slightly tinged with color. Marguerite is dressed in Indian costume. Her hands are cold as those of a corpse; she is thin; her breathing is scarcely preceptible, and she is fed on nothing but peptone. During the three years that she has been in this state of lethargy she has never been troubled by any indisposition and she does not seem to have grown a day older. A committee of special physicians is just about to make a careful investigation of the case.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Pinafore Prattle.

Little Edith says she likes books ever so much more than company. "Company folks is so unnatural," is the way she puts it.—Boston Transcript.

We heard the other day of a woman who was pitting cherries when her little daughter came up and said: "O mamma, lemme help unbutton those cherries, can't I?"—Dansville Breeze.

Mamma—"No, darling, you certainly can't go with such a splitting headache as you have. It isn't possible that it has got well in so short a time."

Edith—"Well, mamma, it's not zactly a headache. I—I think the ache's in my hair."—Harper's Bazar.

Three-year-old Edith was very much interested in looking at the colored plates in a work on physiology.

"Auntie," she inquired, "what makes the blood red?" And while auntie was searching her brain for a suitable answer Edith continued: "Is it 'cause we eat tomatoes?"—Harper's Bazar.

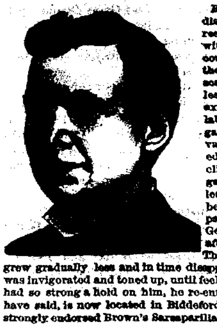
Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system. They make one feel as though life was worth living.

Grady's Productive Powers.

"If Henry W. Grady, the editor of the Atlanta Constitution, who is talked of as the successor of Senator Jo Brown, was inclined to be as productive of news in the senate as he was at Charleston during the earthquake, we would all be in favor of his election," said a well known man to the Omaha Bee correspondent. The well known man also said:

Grady is the most productive writer I ever saw, and I must say he is a model of the fabricating genus. He arrived at Charleston the second day after the destructive quakes of August '31, and left the day following his arrival. But he got in his work on the great newspapers wanting space matter from his pen. For a very short time after he arrived in Charleston—come to think of it, he did not stay over night, but left the same day on which he arrived—he looked around a little, then got into a room with a stenographer and began to work. He wrote column after column, till the words multiplied into thousands, and tens of thousands. He loaded down the wires with vivid descriptions of wrecks, fright, despair-scenes and incidents which he never saw and matters he never heard of. He coined them out of his imagination. His descriptions of the disaster were appalling. He saw few if any of them; but there was so much excitement that nobody cared to correct him at the moment, and no one thought of them after the terror subsided. Then when Grady got to Atlanta—a long distance away—he continued to grind out column after column and page after page of news from Charleston—all from his own mind—till he became an authority on earthquake matters, and the fact is he knew less and saw less of them than any correspondent who visited Charleston. Yes, Grady ought to be senator, then the vice presidential candidate. He could make laws and manufacture facts at will.—[illegible]

[illegible]



Pain in the Back.

Rev. Theodore Gerrish now settled over a Methodist church in Biddeford, Me., was formerly a resident of Bangor. While there he became afflicted with Kidney Disease. The symptoms of this too common trouble are a drawing down pain across the back extending downwards towards the loins, scanty and high colored urine, a tired feeling, restlessness, etc. These Mr. Gerrish had to such an extent as to make it impossible to continue his labors and he resigned, devoting his time to the regaining of his health. To this end he employed various physicians, tried many of the so called remedies, visited different places hoping a change of climate might improve his condition, but failed to gain the desired relief. Returning to Bangor he learned from a member of his family that she had been greatly benefited by the use of Brown's Sarsaparilla, and was advised to give it a trial. Mr. Gerrish did so, and to his great surprise found, after a few days, that his condition had improved. The tired feeling left him, the pains across the back grew gradually less and in time disappeared; he rested well at night; the whole system was invigorated and toned up, until feeling that he was free from the Kidney disease that had so strong a hold on him, he re-entered upon the duties of the ministry, and, as we have said, is now located in Biddeford. In addition to his testimonial Mr. Gerrish has strongly endorsed Brown's Sarsaparilla for the reason that it is not composed of alcoholic stimulants that afford only temporary relief, but of pure vegetable productions well known for their effective action on the Kidneys, Liver and Blood.

Brown's Sarsaparilla

Is for sale everywhere for $1; 6 bottles for $5. Ara Warren & Co., Proprietors, Bangor, Me.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

FOUR GRAND OFFERS FOR YOU.

4 Grand Offers to every reader of THE FULTON TIMES. Read every word of this advertisement, as we know at least one of them is exactly what you want. We are sure you have some old family picture of some dear and departed relative or friend you would like to have enlarged, and finished in a handsome portrait, or Imperials made of it.

OFFER No. 1 If you will send us the names of Three Agents, or some one you think would make us good agents, and any small picture, together with $2.75, we will make One Dozen Imperials, Satin Finish, Gilt Edge and one extra from same original, beautifully finished in Water Colors, placed in 8x10 plain gold mat, (our regular price $10) and send the $10 worth of pictures by mail prepaid. Old, faded, scratched or spotted originals, we carefully touch up before copying, retouch negative before printing, and put in new backgrounds when necessary; give color Hair, Eyes, Jewelry, Drapery and Complexion, so we will know how to finish the water color portrait.

OFFER No. 2 If you prefer a larger portrait and no imperials. If you send us the three agents names and small picture, with $3.75, we will make one 11 x 14 portrait (½ life size if ordered Bust) finished either in Ink, Crayon or Water Color, and send by mail, prepaid; our regular price for above portrait is $15; to obtain the one dozen Imperials and one extra Water Color, worth $10, for $2.75, or the 11 x 14 portrait, worth $16 for $3.75. This advertisement must be sent with the order before March 1st, 1887, as we positively will not fill an order at these prices after March 1st, 1887, our object in offering at so low a price is to obtain a good agent in your vicinity at once.

OFFER No. 3 Any one ordering one of our PHOTO EMPIRE EQUIPMENTS for making Photos by dry plate process, without the aid of a teacher, price $30, before March 1st, 1887, will receive one Negative Box, worth $2.50 FREE. 80 page book "How to make Photos," and 5 x 8 Portrait made by Empire Camera, sent prepaid for 24 cts. (None free).

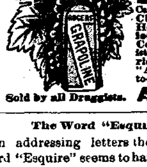
OFFER No. 4 THE ELCTRO RADIANT MAGIC LANTERN NO. 2 is equal to any other Lantern sold for $25. It projects on Screen a picture 8 feet in diameter, and our price is only $13, and if you order one before March 1st, 1887, we will place in the box one dozen slides, wit 2½ in. pictures, free of charge. Send money by P. O. Order, Registered Letter, Draft on N. Y. or Express prepaid. References. Large Magic Lantern Catalogue and confidential prices to general agents for copied and enlarged portraits sent for stamp. If you are not prepared to-day to accept any of these 4 grand offers, cut this ad. out for future use, as it may not appear again. Address,

EMPIRE COPYING CO., 381 Canal St., N. Y.



PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

Can always be relied upon as a pleasant, mild, speedy, and POSITIVE CURE in all cases of Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Flatulency, Fullness of Blood, and all Inflammatory Complaints where A Gentle, Cooling Cathartic is required. Chemist, physician, and public with one accord pronounce it unequaled as an Aperient and Refrigerant. Be prudent and have a bottle always within reach. "A stitch in time saves nine." Remember that the slight internal disorder of to-day may become an obstinate, incurable disease to-morrow.

Sold by all Druggists. A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N. Y.

The Word "Esquire."

In addressing letters the use of the word "Esquire" seems to have been gradually dying out. Yet it dies hard. Perhaps a tenth of all the letters addressed to men to-day bear this superfluity. Why a word which has no more to do with an American citizen than the word "baronet" should continue to be used in this way is difficult to tell. It crept into use when it had a meaning. Since that time it has been slowly creeping out. The prefix Mr., or Mrs. or Miss indicates something of the sex and condition of the person to whom the letter is addressed, and seems preferable in America.

Lost and Found. A Rich Reward awaits the man that presents a better thing than the Hop Plaster for all pain and soreness. Acts instantly when applied to Backache, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Kidney affections, side ache, stitch, crick, sore lungs or severe aches in any part. 25 cts.

A single sheet of paper seventy-two inches wide and seven and three-quarter miles long has been made without a break in a paper-mill at Watertown, N. Y. The sheet weighed 2,207 pounds.

Poetry is said to be a gift but often proves to be a theft.

Pride has two seasons—a forward spring and an early fall.

ROYAL
ROYAL BAKING

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & Co.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

MRS. LESAGE.

26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

Winter Exposure Causes Coughs,

Colds, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Pneumonia, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache and other ailments, for which Benson's Capcine Plasters are admitted to be the best remedy known. They relieve and cure in a few hours when no other application is of the least benefit. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum" "Capsicin" or "Capsicine." Ask for Benson's and take no others. Examine carefully when you buy. All druggists.

SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors New York.

WORK FOR ALL. Permanent employment given to energetic men and women everywhere. $90 a week and expenses paid. Samples [illegible] and all particulars sent free. Address at [illegible] VICKERY, Augusta, Maine. Don't [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
39 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.

Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

COAL
—GO TO
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ ton	¼ to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

☞ Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

THE DAILY GRAPHIC

Is the Favorite Home Journal of Refined American Families Everywhere, and the only Daily Illustrated Newspaper Published in the World.

It Circulates in Every State and Territory of the Union. It May be Found on News-Stands in Every Large City. The Vast Body of its Subscribers are People of Wealth and Culture.

No other Daily Published in New York City has so Large a Mail Circulation.

THE WEEKLY GRAPHIC.

There is hardly a Postoffice in the United State where at least a few copies are not received each week by subscribers.

It embraces the Best Features of THE DAILY GRAPHIC, pictorial and literary, for the preceding six days. It is the largest first-class Illustrated Weekly issued, is sold for half the price of its rivals' contains the latest news and market reports, and is acquiring a phenomenal circulation.

THERE IS NO BETTER
Medium for Advertising.

From time to time we issue Special Editions illustrating the industries and business opportunities of cities, towns and localities throughout the country. At present we are preparing a California Edition of 100,000 copies.

Agents wanted to canvass for subscriptions in every part of the world, to whom a large commission will be paid.
Send for sample copy.

For rates and other information address
The American Graphic Co.,
39 & 41 Park Place, N. Y.

C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—
Decker Brothers'
Matchless Pianos.
THE VERY BEST PIANOS.
Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.

MAKE HENS LAY.
SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER
[illegible]
DR. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. [illegible]

[illegible] WEDNESDAY

[illegible] Block, First [illegible]

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES,

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office or moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.'

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

ASSEMBLYMAN Ainsworth has introduced in the Assembly a bill which makes it unlawful for any railroad doing business in the State to allow freight rebates to shippers who agree not to send or receive goods over the canals.

THE dispute over the fishery privileges between the United States and Great Britain is becoming quite a serious affair and war is talked of by some before the question of yielding will be considered. It is in no wise probable, however, that the two enlightened and friendly nations will resort to arms to settle a dispute of such a trivial nature.

A CANARD has been started and is receiving considerable space in the papers to the effect that Brigham Young never died but went to London and has returned to be proclaimed in Utah as having risen from the dead. The story originated in the statement of an old servant named White who with a sincerity that warranted further investigation stated that he was now in Lincoln, Neb. A Lincoln merchant is also announced to have seen him, one who had often seen him in Salt Lake City. The report further says "It is a well known fact that the Elders of the Mormon church throughout Utah and Arizona have of late been preaching the return of the prophet. This, together with the fact that it was claimed by a St. Louis man some months ago that Young was seen and recognized in London; that a number of prominent Mormoms from Salt Lake have been seen upon the streets of London; that important Legislation is about to be enacted to the detriment of the Mormon church, and the veil of mystery with which the prophet's death has always been shrouded, makes it almost certain that the Mormon banners will soon be unfurled, announcing that 'he is risen.' "

A new postoffice has been ordered established by the postoffice department at Lakeside, a settlement of 300 persons on our road at Smith & Powell's stock farm. It will be known as Lakeland.—Baldwinsville Gazette.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Phoenix Union Agricultural Society held last week the following officers were elected: President, J. W. Pendergast; Vice-president, E. S. Vickery; 2d Vice-president H. D. Barney; Secretary, H. C. Breed; Treasurer, W. J. Dougall.

S. Pendergast was chosen general superintendent and Edwin Smith, A. Hakes and M. A. Blodgett directors.

How to Kill a Town.

Horace Greeley once recommended the following as sure death to any town: "If you want to keep a town from thriving don't erect any more dwellings than you can conveniently occupy yourself. If you want to rent it ask three times the value of it. Demand a Shylock price for every foot of ground that God has made you steward over. Turn a cold shoulder to every mechanic and business man who seeks to make a home with you. Look at every new comer with a scowl. Run down the work of a new workman. Go abroad for wares rather than seek to do business in your midst. Fail to advertise or in any way support a newspaper so that the people abroad may not know whether business is going on or not. Wrap yourself with a coat of impervious selfishness. There is no more effectual way to retard the growth of a town than action like these enumerations.

Murder will Out.

Edward Unger, the murderer of August Bohl, whose body was found last week in a trunk shipped to Baltimore, has made a full confession. He says that on the night of January 20th, Bohl, ugly at ill fortune began abusing him, and knocked him down. Unger says that he tried to strike Bohl with a poker, but that the latter got it. He then picked up a hammer and in self-defence struck him a fatal blow. Unger adds that he hid the body under a sofa, and told his son that Bohl had gone out. When alone the next day Unger says that he cut up the body and put it in the dead man's trunk. The head he wrapped in cloths and paper, and taking it under his arm boarded a Grand street ferryboat. When half way across the river he dropped the head overboard. He hired an Italian to help him carry the trunk to Brooklyn, whence it was shipped to Baltimore in the manner already made public. He cleaned up the traces of the murder as best he could and informed some of Bohl's acquaintances that Bohl had gone to Chicago.

It is estimated that all of a hundred additional monuments will be erected on the battlefield of Gettysburg during the present year.

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 15tf

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 2619

[illegible]

A. T. [illegible] Rochester.

Elder Denny was called to preach the funeral sermon of Miss Gardner of Jennings Corners, Sunday.

Miss Frankie Hamlin spent a few days here with her brother last week.

Miss Gertie Sears is staying with her sister, Mrs. G. Hamlin.

Fine times are enjoyed by the young men and boys on the ice here. It is frozen hard and smooth.

The Good Templar's lodge here is progressing finely, members being added at each meeting.

The singing school under the direction of Prof. Henderson of Fulton is still in progress with good results.

Mr. Carter, we hear, has purchased the Clarance Weirs place, and will remove there this spring.

The weather is very changeable and the roads considerably broken up.

Uncle Almon Mason of this place, 92 years of age, visited his grandson in Phoenix one day last week.

Mrs. E. S. Cook is quite poorly with heart trouble.

Mrs. Sarah Carrier, wife of Harvey Carrier, died at her residence at this place, Wednesday evening, Jan. 26th, aged 77 years, 4 months and 3 days. She was universally loved and respected by all, and earnest and faithful in all the relations of life. The funeral was largely attended at the Baptist church and the sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Breaker of Fulton.

Palermo.

Miss Ella Gardner died at her residence in Palermo on Friday morning last, after a long suffering of fifteen years. She leaves a mother, three brothers and one sister, Mrs. W. H. Hannan to mourn her loss. She was 34 years of age. Funeral services were held at the house on Sunday last.

Frank Randall and wife of Syracuse are at the Palermo Centre House making old friends a visit.

The Sons of Veterans of South Scriba held a party at the Palermo Centre House on Friday night. It passed off very nicely as all parties do at this place.

F. C. Church who has been on the sick list for about three weeks is able to be out again.

Mrs. Timothy Dolbear is on the sick list. Dr. Manwarren, our new doctor, is attending her.

Mrs. Florence Green, wife of Dr. A. W. Green, died on Sunday morning at the residence of Nelson Cross, near Vermillion, of consumption, aged 28 years. She leaves a large circle of friends to mourn her loss. The doctor has the heartfelt sympathy of all in his sad bereavement.

South Scriba.

Miss Lillie and Miss Della Peck, who have been visiting friends here, are spending a few days with friends in Fulton before returning to their home at Haverstraw.

"Brick" Lathrop is called "pa" by a bouncing baby boy.

Mr. Lyman Gates and Miss Allie Brown were married Jan. 16, at the parsonage of the Mt. Pleasant church by the pastor, Rev. J. F. Rathbun. Much joy.

Mrs. George McDougal is very low. Fears are entertained for her recovery.

Capt. "Dick" Daniels an old and respected resident of this town, was buried last week Tuesday at North Scriba. He was an Odd Fellow and the order conducted the funeral.

The recent thaw has nearly destroyed the sleighing.

South Granby.

Geo. A. Allen intends building a new house on his place in the spring.

Mr. Trimble of the South Granby cheese factory will have "a bee" Tuesday to fill his ice house.

Geo. A. Fuller was in New York and Philadelphia last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson of Jacksonville called on friends here Saturdry and Sunday.

Mr. Allen Austin and children of New York are the guests of Milo Austin for a few days.

Miss Frank Shultz of Ira is spending several days with her sister, Mrs. Chas. Whipple.

It is too bad to spend half of a short life distressed with neuralgia, when 25 cents spent for one bottle of Salvation Oil will cure it quickly.

He talked as if he had a "frog in his throat" but he was only hoarse; a single dose of Dr Bull's Cough Syrup relieved the trouble at once. 25 cents.

SCRIBNER'S NEW MONTHLY.

In Scribner's Magazine for February we have the conclusion of the "Glimpses at the Dairies of Governeur Morris," describing social life and character in the Paris of the revolution, and E. B. Washburne, ex-minister to France, continues his "Reminiscences to the Siege and Commune of Paris." John C. Ropes describes "The likeness of Julius Cæsar," the paper having several illustrations. The first part is given of a story by J. S. of Dale entitled "The Residuary Legatee," The shart stories of the number are "Half a Curse," by Octave Thanel, and "The Ducharmes of the Baskatonge," by Duncan Campbell Scott, Brander Matthews, the well known theatrical critic, gives a sketch of M. Coquella, a talented French comedian, soon to visit America. Thomas Sergeant Perry contributes some excellent reviews of Russian novels. James Russel Soley of the United States navy has a very interesting and instructive paper on "Our Navy Policy," a lesson from 1861." He treats the subject in an argumentative, rather than statistical way, and gives good reason for the establishment of an effective navy. The serials by H. C. Bunner and Harold Frederic make satisfactory progress. There are poems by Charles Henry Luders, Charles Edward Markham and Louse Chandler Moulton.

Draper 34 First street, opposite the Clark house, is closing out all his crockery, lamps and fancy ware below cost.

[illegible]

The [illegible] to give the women who want to vote a chance to submit the Constitutional amendment on Woman Suffrage to the State Legislatures.

It is interesting to be reminded now and then that the American Eagle can still soar, and that the fire of our revolutionary sires is not extinct. The belligerent oratory of Senators Ingalls, Frye and Hale has furnished ample proof of this. The occasion was a debate on the bill empowering the President to close the ports of the United States against Canadian imports, as a measure of retaliation, in case Great Britain persists in violating her treaty obligations by subjecting American fishermen to indignities and outrages in Canadian waters.

Senator Ingalls thought it was time to settle the fishery difficulties either by negotiation or by war. The measure discussion was distinctly one of retaliation. It was an eye for an eye, a fish for a fish, an insult for an insult. Countries had been inundated with blood on less provocation.

Senator Frye declared that the annals of history—even of the Fiji Islands—might be searched without finding cases of outrages so brutal and inhumane. All these cases, he said, had been brought to the attention of the British Government. There was not a line in the history of England for the last 300 years that gave the slightest reason to believe that in the pursuit of gain, in the pursuit of trade, she would ever permit the right of another to stand in the way of her progress. Senator Morgan thought the law could be enacted without bloodthirsty threats, and Senator Vest advised caution.

When the cause of woman came up in the Senate Tuesday, there were about a hundred ladies from all parts of the country—leaders in the woman suffrage movement—in the Senate gallery anxiously awaiting the result. Senator Blair, of New Hampshire, woman's best Senatorial friend, had promised to make an effort to get the question up for debate at this hour. The pet measures of several Senators were in the way as unfinished business, but they gallantly voted against their own bills in favor of the ladies. Senator Beck was one of these. He had intended to bring up his bill preventing Members of Congress from acting as attorneys for railroads, and he mentioned that a distinguished lady (Miss Anthony) had sent in for him three times the day before, and he had refused to go out to see her because he knew he would be unable to refuse what she would ask. He knew she would ask him to waive the claims of his important question in favor of hers.

The women are not asking Congress to let them vote, as Congress has not that power. They ask Congress to agree that the following proposed amendment to the Constitution may be submitted to the various State Legislatures. "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied on account of sex. Congress shall have power, by appropriate legislation, to enforce the provisions of this article."

Half a dozen Senators made short speeches for and against woman suffrage, and then by a vote of 34 to 16 the proposed amendment was again rejected. The dissappointed ladies in the gallery repaired immediately to the Metropolitan Church, where they opened their nineteenth annual convention in Washington. There they discussed man in general and the lawmakers of the United States in particular in language suitable to their outraged feelings.

It was sad to see Miss Anthony, that grim resolute veteran of woman's fight for woman, just a little discouraged. After waiting and working so hard for forty years, she acknowledged that the promised land seemed yet a long way off. She knew that woman must have all her rights in time, but there was no telling how long she would have to wait.

Mrs. Shattuck, of Massachusetts, who is a fine speaker with a fine voice, thinks it will be at least twenty years before all the women of the United States will be able to vote. She divides the women who do not want to vote into six classes: First, the prejudiced; second, the uninformed; third, those who are afraid of their gentlemen friends; fourth, those who always shirk their duties; fifth, those who shrink from new duties because they fear their inability to perform them well, and sixth, those who fear the influence of the ballot on immoral classes of women, and who think there is to much voting already.

She gave an eloquent account of the good, women are doing in temperance, in labor unions, in lifting up the degraded everywhere, and closed her speech by an earnest appeal directly to her audience, to enlist under the banner of those who ask for the ballot.

GENERAL NEWS.

James J. Titus, the janitor of the academy in Hackettstown, N. J., who was convicted of the murder of Tillie Smith, a domestic in that institution, has been sentenced to be hung on April 14th. He made a pathetic speech protesting his innocence.

It is expected that the new five dollar certificates will be ready for issue this week. The notes contain a vignet of General Grant on the face and fac similies of five silver dollars in a group on the back.

A change has been made in the issuing of postal notes so that they are now issued payable at any money order office.

As an instance of how popular tobogganing has become in the United States the fact is cited that in 342 towns in the state of Vermont they have 450 sheds.

Boston Corbett, the man who shot Wilkes Booth, the assassin of President Lincoln, is now an Assistant Doorkeeper in the Kansas Legislature. He lives in a dug-out in Cloud county, and is very poor.

Mrs. Winifred Egan, Kingston's oldest inhabitant, celebrated her 103 birthday Friday.

Albert Roach of [illegible]

To [illegible]

In [illegible] we have [illegible] in our columns as merely about advertising.

Consequently we feel justified in taking the liberty of printing a few points from a private letter recently received from one of our largest patrons, as a sort of confession of faith to our readers. We quote:

"We have convinced ourselves that by telling what we know to be true, we have produced at last a permanent conviction in the public mind. Seven years ago we stated what the national disease of this country was, and that it was rapidly increasing. Three years ago we stated that a marked check had been given it.

"The statistics of one of the largest life insurance companies of this country shows that in 1883 and 1884, the mortality from kidney disorders did not increase over the previous years; other companies stated the same thing. It is not presumptuous for us to claim credit for checking these ravages.

"Seven years ago we stated that the condition in the kidneys was the key to the condition of health; within the past five years all careful life insurance companies have conceded the truth of this statement, for, whereas, ten years ago, chemical analysis to determine the condition of the kidneys was not required, to-day millions of dollars in risks are refused, because chemical examination discovers unsuspected diseases of the kidneys.

"Seven years ago we stated that the ravages of Bright's Disease were insignificant compared with other unsuspected disorders of the kidneys of many misleading names; that ninety-three per cent. of human ailments are attributed to deranged kidneys, which fills the blood with uric acid, or kidney poison, which causes many fatal diseases.

The uric acid or kidney poison, is the real cause of the majority of cases of paralysis, apoplexy, heart disease, convulsions, pneumonia, consumption, and insanity; over half the victims of consumption are the first victims of diseased kidneys.

"When the recent death of an honored ex-official of the United States was announced, his physicians said that although he was suffering from Bright's Disease that was not the cause of his death. He was not frank enough to admit that the apoplexy which overtook him in his bed, was the fatal effect of the kidney poison in his blood, which had eaten away the substance of the arteries and brain; nor was Logan's physician honest enough to admit that his fatal rheumatism was caused by kidney acid in the blood.

If the doctors would state in official reports the original cause of death, the people of this country would be alarmed, yea, nearly panic stricken, at the fearful mortality from kidney disorders."

The writers of the above letter give these facts to the public simply to justify the claims that they have made, that if the kidneys and liver are kept in a healthy condition by the use of Warner's safe cure, which hundreds of thousands have proved to be specific, when all other remedies failed, and that has received the endorsement of the highest medical talent in Europe, Australasia, and America, many a life would be prolonged and the happiness of the people preserved. It is successful with so many different diseases because it and it alone, can remove the uric acid from the blood through the kidneys."

Our readers are familiar with the preparation named.

Commendation thereof has often appeared in our columns.

We believe it to be one of the best if not the best ever manufactured. We know the proprietors are men of character and influence.

We are certain they have awakened a wide-spread interest in the public mind concerning the importance of the kidneys. We believe with them they are the key to health, and that their restoration from disease and maintenance in health, there is nothing equal to this great remedy.

The proprietors say they "do not glory in this universal prevalence of disease, but having started out with the purpose of spreading the merits of Warner's safe cure before the world, because it cured our senior proprietor, who was given up by doctors as incurable, we feel our duty to state the facts and leave the public to its own inferences. We point to our claims, and to their public and universal verification with pride, and if the public does not believe what we say, we tell them to ask their friends and neighbors what they think about our preparations."

As we stated above we most cordially commend the perusal of this correspondence by our readers, believing that in so doing, we are fulfilling a simple public obligation.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1

D. C. Draper, No. 34 First St., has an entire new stock of groceries on 1st floor and a fine line of crockery, some new and the balance the uninjured crockery from the Oneida St. store, and in basement of same store he has all the damaged Groceries, Crockery, China Tea and Chamber Sets, Lamps &c., (from the old store on Oneida St.) which he now offers for sale, the poorest at your own price, and the balance at a very low price. Remember the place in basement of New store, opposite Clark House.

When Baby [illegible]

[illegible]

During the month of December we offered to every New Subscriber to THE TIMES and to every Old Subscriber who paid arrears to date and One Year in Advance their choice of any of the following list of books, or the

TWENTY-FIVE

Whole Forty-Five

With one year's Subscription for $1.50. The result was that over 2,000 of these books were distributed among our subscribers. The remarkable success attained impels us again to make this offer during the month of

FEBRUARY

in order to still further increase the large circulation of THE TIMES. The books are printed with good clear type, in neat pamphlet form. The same books with cloth binding sell for $1.00 each. Read this

OFFER CAREFULLY

and take advantage of it. Every New Subscriber who pays $1.25 for one year's Subscription to THE TIMES and every Old Subscriber who

PAYS THEIR SUBSCRIPTION TO DATE and ONE YEAR IN ADVANCE, can have their choice of any

Twenty-Five

of the books in the following list, FREE or the

List, Complete

with one years subscription for $1.50. This offer will hold good until Monday, February 28th. After that date it will be void.

MARVELOUS PRICES!

BOOKS FOR THE MILLION

Complete Novels and Other Works, by Famous Authors, Almost Given Away. The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. They treat of a great variety of subjects, and we think no one can examine the list without finding therein many that he or she would like to possess. In cloth-bound form these books would cost $1.00 each. Each book is complete in itself.

1. The Widow Bedott Papers. This is the book over which your grandmothers laughed till they cried, and it is just as funny to-day as it ever was.
2. Winter Evening Recreations, a large collection of Acting Charades, Tableaux, Games, Puzzles, etc., for social gatherings, private theatricals, and evenings at home.
3. Back to the Old Home. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Hidden Perils."
4. Dialogues, Recitations and Readings, a large and choice collection for school exhibitions and public and private entertainments.
5. The Standard Letter Writer for Ladies and Gentlemen, a complete guide to correspondence, giving plain directions for the composition of letters of every kind, with innumerable forms and examples.
6. The Frozen Deep. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "The Woman in White," etc.
7. Red Court Farm. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood, author of "East Lynne," etc.
8. The Lady of the Lake. By Sir Walter Scott. "The Lady of the Lake" is a romance in verse, and of all the works of Scott, none is more beautiful than this.
9. In Cupid's Net. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
10. Amos Barton. A Novel. By George Eliot, author of "Adam Bede," "The Mill on the Floss," etc.
11. Lady Gwendoline's Dream. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
12. The Mystery of the Holly Tree. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
13. The Budget of Wit, Humor and Fun, a large collection of the funny stories, sketches, anecdotes, poems, and jokes.
14. John Bowerbank's Wife. A Novel. By Miss Mulock, author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," etc.
15. The Gray Woman. A Novel. By Mrs. Gaskell, author of "Mary Barton," etc.
16. Sixteen Complete Stories by Popular Authors, embracing love, humorous and detective stories, stories of society life, of adventure, of railway life, etc., all very interesting.
17. Jasper Dane's Secret. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon, author of "Aurora Floyd," etc.
18. Fancy Work for Home Adornment, an entirely new work upon this subject, containing easy and practical instructions for making fancy baskets, wall pockets, brackets, needle work, embroidery, etc., etc., profusely and elegantly illustrated.
19. Grimm's Fairy Stories for the Young. The finest collection of fairy stories published. The children are delighted with them.
20. Manual of Etiquette for Ladies and Gentlemen, a guide to politeness and good breeding, giving the rules of modern etiquette for all occasions.
21. Useful Knowledge for the Million, a handy book of useful information for all, upon many and various subjects.
22. The Home Cook Book and Family Physician, containing hundreds of excellent cooking recipes and hints to housekeepers, also telling how to cure all common ailments by simple home remedies.
23. Manners and Customs in Far Away Lands, a very interesting and instructive book of travels, describing the peculiar life, habits, manners and customs of the people of foreign countries.
24. 87 Popular Ballads. Same size as sheet music. Words of all the old and new songs.
25. Called Back. A Novel. By Hugh Conway.
26. At the World's Mercy. A Novel. By Florence Warden, author of "The House on the Marsh," etc.
27. Mildred Trevanion. A Novel. By "The Duchess," author of "Molly Bawn," etc.
28. Dark Days. A Novel. By the author of "Called Back."
29. Shadows on the Snow. A Novel. By B. L. Farjeon, author of "Bread-and-Cheese-and-Kisses," etc.
30. Leoline. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Brenda Yorke."
31. Gabriel's Marriage. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "No Name," etc.
32. Reaping the Whirlwind. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Old Middleton's Money," etc.
33. Dudley Carleon. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon, author of "Lady Audley's Secret," etc.
34. A Golden Dawn. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne," etc.
35. Valerie's Fate. A Novel. By Mrs. Alexander, author of "The Wooing O't," etc.
36. Sister Rose. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "The Woman in White," etc.
37. Anne. A Novel. By Mrs Henry Wood, author of "East Lynne."
38. The Laurel Bush. A Novel. By Miss Mulock, author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," etc.
39. Robinson Crusoe. A thrilling narrative by Daniel De Foe, describing the adventures of a castaway in the South Pacific Ocean.
40. How to Make Poultry Pay. A practical and instructive series of articles by Mr. P. H. Jacobs, Poultry Editor of "The Farm and Garden," Phila.; illustrated.
41. Parlor Magic and Chemical Experiments, a book which tells how to perform hundreds of amusing tricks in magic and instructive experiments with simple agents.
42. Gems of the Poets, containing charming selections from Tennyson, Longfellow, Whittier, Byron, Shelley, Moore, Bryant, and many others.
43. Building Plans for Practical, Low-cost Houses. A full description and plans of Eight modern houses, ranging in price from $500 to $4500. Illustrated.
44. Anecdotes of Public Men—Washington, Franklin, Webster, Clay, Tilden, Lincoln, Scott, Grant, Garfield, Gladstone, Butler, Hancock, Lee, and all the leading men of the century.
45. Æsop's Fables. The work of an ancient genius. Children have read them for centuries, and grown people quote them every day.

OUR UNEQUALED OFFER.

We have arranged with the publishers of these books to furnish the whole forty-five with one year's subscription to our paper for $1.50; or we will send any five for 25 cts., or the whole forty-five for $1.50. Address all orders to publishers of

"FULTON TIMES."
Fulton, N. Y.

How's This.

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Proprietors, Toledo, O.

P. S. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internelly, acting directly upon the blood and the mucus surfaces of the system. Price 75 cts. per bottle, sold by all druggists.

Only a Reasonable Request.

The new city and county cleak is heartless enough to post up a sign reading: "Lady applicants for positions will please weep in the ante-room, as the clerk suffers greatly from damp feet.—San Francisco Wasp.

What can be more disagreeable, more disgusting, than to sit in a room with a person who is troubled with catarrh, and has to keep coughing and clearing his or her throat of the mucus which drops into it? Such persons are always to be pitied if they try to cure themselves and fail. But if they get Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy there need be no failure.

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 1826

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
[illegible]

HEADQUARTERS [illegible] POST, No. [illegible] G. A. R., FULTON, N. Y., Jan. [illegible], 1887.

To The Citizens of Volney and Granby:

GREETING—FELLOW TOWNSMEN,—After more than 25 years, since the war for the Union first called for brave men from our midst and elsewhere to defend the Nation's honor, and after more than two decades of peace with now a united, happy and stronger country than ever, an effort is about to be made to erect a Monument in our midst in honor of the soldiers, not only of the late war, but in memory also of those who fought in the Revolution, the War of 1812, and the Mexican War. The names to be placed on the monument in five classes, viz:

FIRST—On one side those that served in the first three wars.

SECOND—Those that fell in battle or died in the service in 1861-65.

THIRD—Those that have died in the town since the war, wherever their place of enlistment.

FOURTH—All who are living in the town at the time of erecting the Monument.

FIFTH—All those who served in the Union Army from '61 to '65, who went from Volney and Granby.

As such a Monument will be public history and of personal interest to nearly all families in the towns we propose to send a Committee of our Post to see all families and invite all men, women and children to contribute whatever they are willing to give, from five cents and upwards. Such sums shall be duly credited to the persons so contributing, and a list of the same published in the village papers.

A printed full list of such names and contributions we agree shall be kept for public inspection in the G. A. R. Post Room, and a copy deposited in the town safe, and thus passed down to future generations.

When such funds are so raised, we will request the five citizens that contribute the most to this fund to act as a committee with six appointed from the Post, of which joint committee the Commander of the Post shall be Chairman, and such committee shall have full power to purchase a Monument and locate the place of erection. The committee names will be placed on the Monument in due form.

We wish all citizens to become copartners in this work of giving the Soldiers and Sailors a public record of their service rendered.

In a few days competent canvassers will these circulars, competent and worthy call on you for a subscription for this object. We sincerely hope all our citizens will liberally respond to this patriotic call, that the names and record of the men who went to the war from our midst and fought to preserve our liberties and the Union, now known to us may also be known to our posterity. When you are, therefore, deciding how much you will give, remember the "Boys In Blue." What would your homes be worth to-day had it not been for their patriotic valor?

ANSON J. OSBORN,
J. S. PALMER,
GEO. H. FASSELL,
R. B. MCCULLY,
ED. WAUGH,
A. P. CHASE,
} Committee.

AMOS YOUMANS, Treasurer.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., Jan. 26, 1887.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, a full board.

The minutes of the last meetings were read and approved.

W. J. Lovejoy, Treasurer of the Fire Department asked for an order of two hundred dollars, that amount being the balance of the appropriation for the Department. The order was granted.

The finance committee reported the following bills correct and they were audited at the amounts claimed, viz:

The Fulton Water Works Co.	$850.00
W. D. Patterson, jail rent and repairs	201.75
Geo. F. Sharp, highway work	8.97
D. Pardee, Health officer	35.00
Joseph LaLonde, Board of Health	65.00
Chas Whitaker, rent of room	13.00
A. Bristol, coal box,	1.00
Geo. A. Berzee, oil	.55
Snow & Loomis, rope, Fire Dept.,	1.43

The clerk reported having received a County order of $16.43, that being the amount charged by the village for gas, fuel and repairs in the jail including Nov. 24th. The President was directed to pay the same to the Treasurer, taking his receipt.

A communication was received from the Fulton Water Works Company, which after a discussion was laid on the table.

The communication read as follows:

To the Honorable, The Board of Trustees of the Village of Fulton.

For the purpose of enabling us to agree upon a new contract for fire protection and public purposes to be submitted to the taxable inhabitants of the village of Fulton at a meeting to be called for that purpose, we respectfully ask your honorable body to select two disinterested citizens or two of your body to be associated with two disinterested citizens to be chosen by us to form a committed to investigate, ascertain and report.

First, The cost of a systen of water works in all respects like the system now owned and operated by us in the village of Fulton, and

Second, The fair and equitable price that should be paid by the village of Fulton for the use of fire hydrants and water for public purposes furnished from such a system of water works per annum.

Should our books or any information in our possession be of any value to such committee during such investigation, we will cheerfully exhibit our books and furnish such information.—Dated, Jan. 15, 1887.

Respectfully Yours,
THE FULTON WATER WORKS CO.
By GILES S. PIPER, Sec'y.

Trustee Pardee offered the following resolution which was adopted.

Resolved, That the President of the village be instructed to require of the Thomson-Houston Electric Co. to at once execute the contract between itself and the Village and to present the bond for approval by the board.

The President and the Village Attorney were constituted a committee to collect from Mr. Howard the balance of the licence money due the village.

On motion the Board adjourned until Wednesday evening at 7½ o'clock.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.

24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 2619

ASSIGNEE'S SALE. The undersigned assignee of Ellen E. Swan will sell at public auction at the law offices of Piper & VanWagenen, in the Village of Fulton, New York, on the 28th day of February, 1887, at 2 o'clock p. m. of that day all the right, title and interest which said Ellen E. Swan had on the day of her assignment in and to the several parcels of real estate hereinafter described, viz: First parcel about 3½ acres situate in the Village of Oswego Falls, Oswego county, New York, lying between First Street and the Oswego River, [illegible]

Day and Night

During an acute attack of Bronchitis, a ceaseless tickling in the throat, and an exhausting, dry, hacking cough, afflict the sufferer. Sleep is banished, and great prostration follows. This disease is also attended with Hoarseness, and sometimes Loss of Voice. It is liable to become chronic, involve the lungs, and terminate fatally. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral affords speedy relief and cure in cases of Bronchitis. It controls the disposition to cough, and induces refreshing sleep.

I have been a practicing physician for twenty-four years, and, for the past twelve, have suffered from annual attacks of Bronchitis. After exhausting all the usual remedies

Without Relief,

I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It helped me immediately, and effected a speedy cure.—G. Stoveall, M. D., Carrollton, Miss.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is decidedly the best remedy, within my knowledge, for chronic Bronchitis, and all lung diseases. —M. A. Rust, M. D., South Paris, Me.

I was attacked, last winter, with a severe Cold, which, from exposure, grew worse and finally settled on my Lungs. By night sweats I was reduced almost to a skeleton. My Cough was incessant, and I frequently spit blood. My physician told me to give up business, or I would not live a month. After taking various remedies without relief, I was finally two bottles of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I am now in perfect health, and able to resume business, after having been pronounced incurable with Consumption.— S. P. Henderson, Saulsburgh, Penn.

Cured By Using

For years I was in a decline. I had weak lungs, and suffered from Bronchitis and Catarrh. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral restored me to health, and I have been for a long time comparatively vigorous. In case of a sudden cold I always resort to the Pectoral, and find speedy relief.— Edward E. Curtis, Rutland, Vt.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Bronchitis. The physician attending me became fearful that the disease would terminate in Pneumonia. After trying various medicines, without benefit, he finally prescribed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved me at once. I continued to take this medicine a short time, and was cured. —Ernest Colton, Logansport, Ind.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

HAVE YOU

never felt strangely tired, restless or uneasy? Have you had pains shooting through the head, along the limbs or around the back? Have you experienced strange sensations for which you could not account? And do you know that all these things arise from diseased kidneys, which, unless promptly cured will run into Bright's disease and end in Death? The Kidneys are the seat of nine-tenths of all the diseases of to-day!!

The F. E. C. Kidney Remedy is an absolute cure for these troubles, and is guaranteed by the druggists who sell it. It is especially valuable for Female Troubles. Every mother, every wife, every nervous and overworked woman, whose life is made miserable by sufferings peculiar to her sex, should know that of all the medicines ever sold, the F. E. C. Remedy is the first and only one that guarantees relief or refunds the money. It is effectual, as thousands of testimonials will prove.

Sold by all Dealers everywhere.
Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

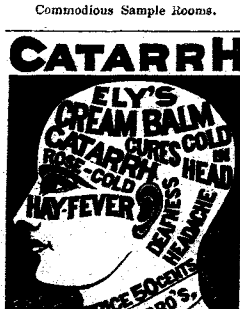
Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

RINGLAND HOUSE,
OSWEGO, N. Y.,
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Streets. Centrally located in the business part of the city.
Prices Reasonable.
Commodious Sample Rooms.

CATARRH



HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the senses of taste and smell. 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS, &c.

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table [illegible] 1887.

	STATIONS
[illegible]	Leave / Arrive	[illegible]
[illegible]	Cornwall	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	Middletown	[illegible]
[illegible]	Winterton	[illegible]
[illegible]	Bloomingburgh	[illegible]
[illegible]	Wurtsboro	[illegible]
[illegible]	Summitville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Ellenville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Mountain Dale	[illegible]
[illegible]	Centerville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Fallsburgh	[illegible]
[illegible]	Hurley	[illegible]
[illegible]	Liberty Falls	[illegible]
[illegible]	Liberty	[illegible]
[illegible]	Parksville	[illegible]
[illegible]	L'v'gs'n Man'r	[illegible]
[illegible]	Rockland	[illegible]
[illegible]	Cook's Falls	[illegible]
[illegible]	East Branch	[illegible]
[illegible]	Fish's Eddy	[illegible]
[illegible]	Hancock	[illegible]
[illegible]	Walton	[illegible]
[illegible]	Delhi	[illegible]
[illegible]	Franklin	[illegible]
[illegible]	Sidney Centre	[illegible]
[illegible]	Sidney	[illegible]
[illegible]	New Berlin	[illegible]
[illegible]	Guilford Centr	[illegible]
[illegible]	Guilford	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oxford	[illegible]
[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]
[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]
[illegible]	North Norwich	[illegible]
[illegible]	Smyrna	[illegible]
[illegible]	Earlville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Randallsville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Utica	[illegible]
[illegible]	Rome	[illegible]
[illegible]	Eaton	[illegible]
[illegible]	Morrisville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Munnsville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Community	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oneida Castle	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oneida	[illegible]
[illegible]	Sylvan Beach	[illegible]
[illegible]	North Bay	[illegible]
[illegible]	Cleveland	[illegible]
[illegible]	Bernhard's Bay	[illegible]
[illegible]	Constantia	[illegible]
[illegible]	Central Square	[illegible]
[illegible]	Caughdenoy	[illegible]
[illegible]	Pennellville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Fulton	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oswego	[illegible]
[illegible]	Arrive / Departure	[illegible]

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,
—AT THE—
FULTON TIMES OFFICE

The Cosmopolitan

The handsomest, most entertaining, low price, illustrated family magazine in the world. ($2.50 per year, with a $2.25 premium free.) Sixty-four beautifully printed pages in each number, filled with short stories, sketches, travels, adventures, bright and brief scientific and literary articles, by distinguished American and foreign writers, such as Julian Hawthorne, Harriet Prescott Spofford, George Parsons Lathrop, Louise Chandler Moulton, J. Macdonald Oxley, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, H. H. Boyesen, Catherine Owen, Rev. R. Heber Newton, Alphonse Daudet, Paul Heyse, Count Tolstoi, Th. Dostoivsky, William Westall and many others. Also entertaining JUVENILE and invaluable HOUSEHOLD departments. One or more illustrated articles and several full-page engravings in every number.

A Shannon Letter and Bill File or a Shannon Sheet-Music Binder Free to every Subscriber.

These premiums sell everywhere for $2.25 each. The File is the most perfect device ever invented for the preservation and classification (alphabetically and according to date) of all letters, bills, etc. Any paper can be referred to, taken out and put back without disturbing the others. With the Binder one can insert or take out any piece of music without disturbing any other sheet.

Get SAMPLE COPY at NEWS STAND or send 20 Cents to publishers.

AGENTS WANTED. BIG COMMISSIONS PAID.

Schlicht & Field Co., Rochester, N.Y.

—FOR THE—
HOLIDAY SEASON!
SNOW & LOOMIS,
have a fine assortment of
POCKET CUTLERY,
CARVERS, SKATES,
SCISSORS and ROBES.
—Also a Novelty in—
FUR RUGS.

AGENTS WANTED (samples free) for DR. SCOTT'S beautiful ELECTRIC CORSETS, BRUSHES, BELTS, ETC. No risk, quick sales. Territory given, satisfaction guaranteed. DR. SCOTT, 841 Broadway, N. Y.

EUREKA FROST CURE!

FOR FROZEN FEET, EARS, NOSE, AND CHILBLAINS.

Made from Agaricus, a moss growing in the frigid regions of the north. A sure Cure. By mail 50c.

EUREKA MED. CO.
SHARON, PA.
35mo3

BARGAINS IN REAL ESTATE.

Below will be found a partial list of the Farms, Houses and Lots and other property I offer for sale for cash or its equivalent:

Farm	acres	from		to	per acre
"	25	$175	to	$125
"	100	65	"	48
"	45	100	"	85
"	210	40	"	30

House and lot	street	per cent	below value
"	Oneida	30
"	Seneca	20
"	Sixth	20
"	Erie	20
"	Cayuga	10
"	"	10
"	Oswego City	33⅓
Country store		40

This last mentioned is within 3 miles of two railroad stations. Good Store, Barn and one acre of land. Good location for business. Owner abroad. Can use funds to better advantage elsewhere.

Parties desiring to exchange, sell, or purchase, are invited to call or correspond with the undersigned.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street,
FULTON, N. Y.

C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—
Decker Brothers'
Matchless Pianos,
THE VERY BEST PIANOS.
Prices as low as [illegible]

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:18 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:32 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	3:32 p. m
Syracuse Express	5:32 p. m.
New York and Phil. Night Express	8:30 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:18 a. m.
Day Express	12:19 p. m.
Day Express	3:48 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	5:57 p. m.
Evening Express	8:44 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:05 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	7:50 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE,"

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:31	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19p. m.	3:39	6:29

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS

A. E. Nettleton was in town yesterday.

Miss Mary Cullen is visiting friends in Oswego.

Prof. White of Syracuse, the piano tuner, is in town to-day.

Miss Fannie Davis of Stonington, Conn., is visiting at L. B. Babcock's.

J. C. Dresser of the Johnson House has been quite ill with liver difficulty.

W. D. Robinson of Buffalo has been visiting friends and relatives in town.

Mrs. H. N. Sabin is visiting at her daughter's, Mrs. George Sawyer of Syracuse.

Ernest George, Draper's head clerk, is very sick. Dr. Haviland is attending him.

Mrs. R. C. Sott of Baldwinsville, is visiting with her friend, Mrs. Eva Williams.

J. Cooley Tucker is still confined to his bed. His condition is not much improved.

C. A. Miller, our town clerk, has been in Scranton, Pa., on business and pleasure during the past week.

W. G. Bassett has been visiting in town during the past week, the guest of his sister, Mrs. Newell Cole.

Asst. Supt. A. H. Schwarz passed Saturday in this village looking after the interests of the D. L. & W. road.

F. H. Leonard jr., representative of the Thomson-Houston Electric Co., was in town a few days during the past week.

G. E. Prosser formerly of this village, later of Lyons, N. Y., has moved to Pasadina, Cal., where he is engaged in business.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sherman have been visiting in Oneida during the past week with Mrs. Sherman's brother, Murcus Rice.

William H. Bradt of Plainville, Onondaga county, was the guest of his sister, Mrs. James H. Mead at the Fulton house, last week.

Mrs. George Kellogg and Miss Mary Loomis went to New York, Monday. They are to take advanced lessons in painting in a private art studio for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Connell and son, accompanied by Mrs. S. R. Spooner, all of Fulton, have been visiting in the family of C. R. Jones. Mr. Connell was formerly a Pulaski boy and will be well remembered by most of our younger business men.—Pulaski Democrat.

Robert Bonnett, for the past eight years in the employ of A. Bristol, has severed his connection with him, and accepted a position as salesman in Oswego for the Hotchkin Wagon Co., of Syracuse. Mr. Bennett expects to move his family to Oswego the first of April.

5c. Violin strings at Jones' Music store.

Do not pay $5.00 per ton for coal when you can buy it for $4.65 of T. D. Lewis. 39tf

For Sale.

Five acres of all tillable land, suitable for a garden with a good house and barn on it, with an abundance of fruit and well watered. Situated 2½ miles west of Fulton on the Hannibal road. Terms easy. Inquire of Dr. Watson at Watson's drug store. 36m3

Save 35cts. per ton and buy the celebrated Lehigh Valley coal of T. D. Lewis. Office at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 39tf

A good fire proof safe for sale, only $25, at the McCully Harness Shop. 38tf.

Hamburgs! Hamburgs! Largest stock and lowest price at the Boston Bazaar. 38w2.

Draper is closing out his large stock gloves and mittens at half their cost.

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf

For Sale.

A large, strong, valuable horse. Enquire at the harness shop.

37tf. R. B. McCULLY.

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 30tf.

Draper has moved all damaged goods from Oneida street to 34 First street where bargains at ½ actual prices can be had as he has such a large stock of these goods and is bound to close them all out at once, (not at auction) but at private sale which is less noisy and the quickest way. Money will be refunded if any goods are not as they are sold for at No. 34 First St., opposite Clark House.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc., on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

Try the Apex 5c Cigar. 30t9

[illegible]

[illegible]

We publish in another column a communication from a fourth ward taxpayer. Not because the stand taken is in conformity with our own, but because we realize that there are two sides to every question, and believe that everyone who is interested in a question of so much importance to the village, and is able to express his views as intelligently as "Small Taxpayer," should be allowed the privilege of doing so through the medium of the village papers.

In the first place "taxpayer" says that the price, $50 per hydrant, is excessive. We do not desire that the village should pay more than is actually necessary for the use of hydrants for fire purposes, but we do think that the village board should have taken enough interest in the matter to investigate and see if the price charged by the Water Works Co. was excessive as compared with the price paid by other cities and villages. It is certain that the company was not making itself rich by charging $50 per hydrant, as anyone can see by examining into the matter. The company claim that the amount of capital invested is $75,000. As this includes Oswego Falls and Fulton, we can safely say that $40,000 would be none to small an amount to place for the system in this village. Interest on this amount at 6 per cent. would be $2,400. We might place safely some of the other expenses as follows:

Superintendent	$700
Engineer	500
Fuel	300
Office rent	100
Taxes	500
Total	$2,100

If we allowed that Oswego Falls stood half of the running expenses this would leave $1,050 for the share of this village to stand, Adding this to the interest $2,400 it would amount to $3,450. During the past year the Water Works Co. received $1,700 from the village for use of hydrants and about $1,000 from private consumers, making $2,700. This leaves a deficit of $750 at these figures. It does not therefore seem an excessive price for the company to charge and live. The water works are here and it is a question whether the village is to lend their aid in sustaining them until they are on a firmer basis and more revenue is obtained from private consumers.

From what we have been able to see the Water Works Co. have been inclined to do the fair thing in the matter and asked the board to appoint a committee of two to act with a committee of two appointed by themselves to investigate this matter. This is in substance what THE TIMES suggested a few weeks since and is a proposition that the board should have taken action upon. "Taxpayer" says that the hydrants have only been used on a few occasions and "could not force water to a second story of small houses." They did not on every occasion in which they have been used, given the best of satisfaction but we can cite the instance of the burning of A. Bristol's barn and the more recent fire on Oneida street, where they did most excellent service. The facilities of the water works have been improved and everything is in most excellent condition.

We need not look outside of the county to see what devastation has been done by fire during the past year, by the lack of a system of water works such as this village possesses. We refer to Pulaski. During the year 1886 this town with only 3,000 inhabitants has lost by fire nine, buildings representing a real value of $30,000 and in addition to this several buildings have been damaged to the value of at least $5,000. This has aroused the people of that village and a system of water works is now being laid and will soon be in active operation.

Taxpayer states that insurance has been materially increased since the water works have been used in the village. Instructions came from companies to special agents to rate the various towns throughout the state. These special agents rated Oswego county, and their rates were placed in the hands of local agents. A general increase was the result which amounted to about 25 per cent additional on dwelling houses. It had been decided that villages that were supplied with a water works system should receive a reduction of 20 per cent. from these advanced rates. Fulton, Oswego Falls, Mexico and Pulaski were to receive this reduction. These new rates went into effect on the first of December 1886, but as the water works at Pulaski were not completed the 20 per cent. reduction was not granted to that village and will not be until the system is in running order. The other three villages are the only ones that now receive the benefit of this reduction. So that while there is an advance of 5 per cent. on what was formerly paid on dwellings, there is a reduction of 20 per cent. on what is now paid by other villages in this county. This results directly from the fact that a system of water works was in use when the rates were established by the insurance companies. This advance in rates of insurance has been general throughout the state. On other than dwelling houses the rate varies according to hazard and occupancy. But in every instance the reduction of 20 per cent. from the rates adopted for the other villages of the county have been made. We learn these facts from one of our local insurance agents and they stand out in bold relief absolute truths.

Special Excursion to New York.

The New York, Ontario & Western Railway announce a special excursion to New York, to take place on Wednesday, Feb. 9, 1887., tickets good to return on any train ten days after date, at the very low rate of $6.00 from Franklin and all stations north, including Oneida, Utica and Rome, and from Durhamville and stations north to Oswego $7.00. Affording ample time to visit friends in adjacent places as well as all the points of interest in the city.

The O. & W. have now an excellent road bed, steel rails and new hard coal locomotives, first class coaches and a more enjoyable route could not be selected.

Regents' Examination.

The next Regents' Examination will take place at Union School No. 2, on the first Tuesday and Wednesday in March. Those [illegible]

A [illegible]

Editor of The Times:

Being a small taxpayer I feel like giving our Village Board credit for well doing when they do act for the best interests of taxpayers. I think in the matter of Water Works, the Board acted wisely and as any good business man would have done had been acting for himself and disposing of his own money. Fifty dollars a year for each hydrant, making a total tax of nearly $2,000 per year for our taxpayers to pay for the use of water for fire purposes exclusively, seems to me to be excessive. Many of our taxpayers voted for Water Works with the assurance and natural expectation that the extra water facilities for extinguishing fire, would lower rates of insurance. But we find we were mistaken and Ins. Companies take a different view, and have raised rates quite materially. Therefore any good business man would say (as most all of us insure our houses) let us stop the water entirely unless we get lower rates than $50 per hydrant. And my judgement is, that every good business man would stop it at any price so far as the public expense is concerned, and let individuals who wish the water and feel able to take it, pay for what they use. Many of our citizens desire to use it on their fine lawns and gardens, streets &c., and are able to pay. Let them pay for all they use in the same proportion as the public are asked to pay (at the rate of $50 per hydrant) and no doubt many of this class would bolt the track and stop using. But so long as we (small taxpayers) will stand the $2,000 per year for village puaposes the Water Company can afford to supply the nice lawns &c. at a nominal expense, say $5.00 to $10.00 per year. I am informed that only 4 or 5 of the whole lot of public hydrants have ever been opened or used by the Fire Dept. and then they were of very little service as they could not force water to the second story of small houses. Therefore I think our trustees acted wisely in not making a contract for farther use of Water Works at such an excessive price.

The trustees have done some things, no doubt, that might have been better done or not done at all. When they gave away Second streets for railroads they should have provided some way that the people living on that street could get to and from their houses without being compelled to take the gutter or go across each others gardens, as they now are compelled to do at the south end of the street.

We in the 4th ward are willing to help railroads or other improvements that are a general benefit to the village, but we feel that it is hardly fair to take the entire assessment or valuation of the new R. W. & O. Railroad property off from the company and put it upon us as the assessors seemed to have done last year, making us small Taxpayers pay taxes on twenty-five to thirty thousand dollars more than our fair proportion both for county, state and village purposes.

If the Railroad Company had given each of us a free pass as they did the assessors we would feel differently no doubt. Let the small taxpayers look to to this subject a little closer before next election for town and village officers.

4TH WARD TAXPAYER.

The dramatic club of Bowen's Corners are to give an entertainment this evening. They will play "The Last Loaf."

Post Moses Summers G. A. R. of Baldwinsville present the war drama "The Blue and the Gray," to-night and tomorrow night at the opera house in that village for the benefit of the soldiers' monument fund.

A peculiar species of the butterfly was brought into out office last week by Mr. Robert Dines. The insect in its primitive state exists in a sort of shell and fastens itself to celery and a few other plants to which it does considerable injury. In due time this shell breaks and a beautiful butterfly makes its appearance.

The advance sale of seats for the Temple Quartet Concert has been exceedingly large. The securing of seats opened at Watson's drug store on Monday morning at 9:30. There was a great rush and before noon over 250 were marked off. Everything goes to show that the opera house will be filled to its utmost capacity by the best and most refined of Fulton's people.

St. Valentine's day is on the 14th of February and the dealers in the missives of love and ridicule that are accustomed to be sent on that day are beginning to lay in a stock. The small boy will soon lean over the counter and grin a sardonic grin as he selects an apppropriate valentine for his bosom friend, while the love-sick youth with far different feelings will select the perfumed card that contains sentiments suitable to his case and professions of love for his b. g.

Louis Goman has sold his barber shop corner of Oneida and First streets to Albert Bache and Jack O'Brien.

Dr. Daniel Pardee is in Albany in attendance at the annual convocation of the grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons.

The Universalist society held a sociable at the home of Mrs. John Boomer on Rochester street, last evening. A large number were present. Refreshments were served and an excellent time was had.

A grand social promenade is to be given at Nichols Hall on Friday evening, Feb'y. 11. The following gentlemen will have charge. Committee, Chas. Pollock, Rob't. Dobbins. Floor Managers, T. Mosso, W. Parker, J. J. Gilbert.

A special meeting of the Board of Supervisors was held in Oswego yesterday afternoon. The committee that had been to Indiana, reported favorably and recommended that the rotary jail be built. The Board adjourned until to-day without taking action.

The bear didn't frighten worth a cent this morning. He came out but as no shadow appeared there was considerable temerity on the part of bruin. He wandered about regardlessly and smacked his jaws without the least evidence of terror. There is no question about it, we are bound to have pleasant weather.

The village board held a special meeting last evening. Trustees Pardee and Johnson were absent. Mr. Leonard of the Thomson-Houston Electric Co. was present. The question of street lights was discussed in an informal way. The Electric Light Co. were requested to furnish a bondsman in the state as one of the three that will be responsible for any trouble should any ever arise between the village and the company.

[illegible]

[illegible] lights.

In an article in last week's Fulton Patriot reference is made to the many improvements in the electric light with the tendency to reduce its cost. From extended and close observation we can see few chances for reducing the present cost of electric lighting to any great extent. The improvements in electric lighting for the last six or seven years have been in details altogether and will no doubt continue in the same line for the next decade, as the electric machines manufactured by the principal companies in the field at the present time have an efficiency of ninety to ninety-five per cent., leaving no margin for improvement in this direction as a certain percentage must always be allowed for friction heating &c. &c., for which 5 to 10 per cent. is barely sufficient to cover.

In the article referred to particular attention is called to an improvement said to have been made by Mr. Geo. Westinghouse, the inventor of the air brake, though as a matter of fact the patents covering the system used are those of Goulard & Gibbs, two English inventors who have experimented with their invention in Great Britain without particularly marked success and of whom the right for the United States was purchased by the Westinghouse Co.

Much hue and cry was made in many of the leading papers regarding the danger connected with the use of the Brush system which employed currents of exceedingly high tension and from which many accidents have occurred; but the tension or pressure which it is purposed to use with the Westinghouse system is not only of much higher pressure (as high as 5,000 Volts having been named) but is also what is known as an alternating current, pulsatory in character which has always been regarded as extremely dangerous.

Now as to the saving in cost with this system, this comes only with the use of incandescent lights, where it is desirable to transmit to a great distance, as the ordinary methods are cheaper and more reliable for the shorter distance, thus confining the system to long distance transmission which has already been accomplished by the use of arc lighting currents such as are already used in most of the large cities and as at present used in Syracuse. The wire used by the arc light companies to-day is as small as is practical in view of the severe weather they are subjected to and the great weight of sleet which often accumulates upon them. Wire of smaller diameter or weight would therefore greatly impair the efficiency and that most important point, reliability.

As to the use of the incandescent lights for street illumination. It is true that streets may be lighted by incandescent electric lights even cheaper than by gas but the effect is no different than that of gas and the modest little incandescent glow hides its diminished head in shame when compared with its georgeous and powerful competitor the arc light, which brightens everything with its, intensely brilliant white rays exceeded only by the light of the sun.

Few cities have been so rash as to attempt street lighting by incandescent lights; but we do recall a few instances where the experiment has been made and where the arc electric light has finally been adopted as being much better adapted to the requirements of street illumination.

⁂

We Know How to Sympathize.

Amsterdam and Port Jackson are in about the same condition that Fulton was a year ago. The situation of Amsterdam is very similar to Fulton, and the condition that their inhabitants are now in, from an ice gorge is very similar to what our own was as is shown from the following report by a correspondent of the Utica Herald:

The rising water of the Mohawk have caused consternation among the people of Amsterdam and Port Jackson. The The ice gorge still remains at a point just below the city. The ice covers the entire width of the stream for several miles. The water thus forced back overflows its banks and has caused great damage to property. The river began rising for the second time last night. Your correspondent visited the the places where the greatest damage was done. About 7:30 Saturday night the factory whistle blew the signal of danger. The fire alarm took up the the notes and the streets were soon filled with anxious people Kline & Hubb's knitting mill, on the bank of the river, was flooded with water, and the watchman acting under instructions, had sounded the alarm. Hundreds of dollars worth of damage was done to machinery and goods in this mill. The Central railroad track, just west of here, was totally submerged at 9 o'clock. In Port Jackson through a thick fog could be seen moving lights and men carrying furniture and bedding from partly inundated houses. Boats were used in many instances, and a vigilant guard was kept on the rising waters. The canal was never so full of water. Several canal boats broke from their moorings, and drifted down to this place. Several streets are impassable.

May We Chronicle the Golden Wedding.

Over 100 friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Connell assembled at their home on Oneida street last Thursday evening, the occasion being the 25th anniversary of their wedding. The occasion was an exceedingly pleasant one and several elegant presents were left as tokens of esteem and friendship, notwithstanding the fact that "no presents" were on the cards of invitation. The following were some of the guests from out of town: W. L. Cornell and wife and J. E. Cornell and wife of Baldwinsville, Mrs. J. V. Corey and Miss Ella T. Corey of Syracuse, Rev. W. F. Markham and wife of Utica, F. G. Weeks of Skaneateles, Miss Stella Saunders of Cato, Fred Starkweather of Watertown, S. D. Gardner and wife of Hannibal, Mrs. C. M. Saunders of Hannibal and Mrs. E. M. Carpenter of Washington, D. C.

Excursion on the D. L. & W. Road.

This popular road will sell tickets to New York and return for $7.00 on Wednesday, February 2. Tickets will be good for return passage for ten days from that date on every train.

Good News.

Stowell's 25 cent Bargain store will remain in Fulton till Feb. 26 to finish closing out their stock. See their advertisement in another column.

FARMERS, ATTENTION!

Buy the celebrated Lehi Valley stove and chestnut Coal at $4.65 per ton, of T. D. Lewis. Yards opposite gas works. 39tf

[illegible]

The increase in daylight is quite apparent.

Phoenix is still having trouble with high water.

Cleveland in this county, has a toboggan slide.

Candidates for town offices will soon begin to ripen.

Boston Temple Quartette Concert Company to-morrow evening.

Fred Bache has severed his connection with L. D. Spooner, the druggist.

The Pulaski water works are nearly completed and will be tested soon.

The Odd Fellows have socials once every two weeks at their rooms on Oneida street.

Raymond Leonard has purchased the livery business of Wilson & Clark and took possession yesterday.

A number of Fultonians took advantage of the excursion to Washington over the West Shore road to-day.

The Oswego County Stock Breeders Association hold their annual meeting at the Doolittle house to-day.

Dr. J. Watson has sold his house and lot on Utica street to John Tyler, who will move into it on April 1st.

Operations by the Salvation army are announced to have been resumed in Phœnix. Miss Leona Miller has charge.

We begin with this issue of THE TIMES a very interisting story by that well-known author "The Dutchess." Read it.

It is announced that Lieut. Governor Jones will make an address at the Farmer's Institute, Oswego, March 2d.

The Harrigan Hibernica Co., played to a good house last Thursday evening. The entertainment was good, for the kind.

Remember that the best musical entertainment that has ever been given in Fulton will be at the opera house to-morrow evening.

In a description of a rhinoceros it is stated that he is a powerful beast, with a mouth ranging from an open valise to a candidate's smile.

Joe Conners has purchased the barber shop in the Lewis house building of Patsey Coleman. Coleman has gone into the saloon business.

The D. L. & W. and R. W. & O. roads now carry passengers at 2 cents per mile between Fulton, Oswego or Syracuse. Viva la reduction.

Rev. H. B. Goodyear, pastor of the Zion church of this village, who is now at Green Cove Springs, Fla., is reported as much improved in health.

Two exciting runaways occurred on First street yesterday afternoon. No damage was done in either case further than slight injuries to the sleighs.

Geo. Woods of Oswego Falls recently sold out his fruit and confectionary store to Geo. North. He has moved with his family to Jamestown, N. Y.

Miss Kittie Connors of Oswego Falls while returning home from the theatre last Saturday evening, fell upon the sidewalk and broke her left arm.

Requests have been made by the government to the grand army posts for information regarding all union soldiers who were in rebel prisons during the war.

The Father Mathew T. A. B. & L. Society of Oswego Falls extend a vote of thanks to Mr. Isaac Darrow of Fulton for generously donating a picture of the Rev. Father Earley. Dated Jan'y. 28, 1887.

A twenty-five horse power dynamo of the Brush system has been purchased and placed in the rolling mill at lower Oswego Falls by the proprietor, J. N. Whitman, with which the foundry is to be lighted.

The Temple Quartet to-morrow evening at the opera house. Do not fail to hear this delightful entertainment. Reserved seats now on sale at Watson's. General admiision 35 and 50 cents. Doors open at 7½ o'clock. The concert commences at 8½.

"The Tourists in a Pulman Palace Car" showed at the opera house on Saturday evening, to a rather small audience. The artists were good in their specialties and their efforts were appreciated as was evinced by the demonstrations of approval that followed.

The street railroad company of this village is prepared for all conditions of the streets. They now have three regular street cars, two new omnibuses on runners, and when necessary use the old 'buses that for so many years went from the Lewis house to the depot. These were used Saturday and Sunday.

Orwell boasts of the banner lodge of I. O. G. T. of Oswego county. Twenty years ago it was instituted, and has never in its long duration, "gone down," but has always held weekly meetings. The order has built a large building which contains town hall, lodge room, dining hall supplied with everything necessary to seat one hundred persons.

Work is progressing on the new Gardner block, which is being erected on Oneida street on the site of the two buildings recently burned. Soon the temporary front used to protect the workman from the wintery blasts will be torn down and a beautiful two story brick structure will stand as a further ornamentation to Oneida street.

The Victoria paper mills of this village have made a three year's contract with the Thomson-Houston Electric Light Co. for incandescent lights. As this will necessitate a man being kept at the box factory all night, incandescent lights can be used at all hours and in case of fire after midnight, the arc lighting dynamo can be started and the whole village lighted.

5c. 16 pages Band music paper.
Jones' Music Store.

The Boston Bazaar has just received a new invoice of Hamburgs. Call and look them over. 38w2.

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros. at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It contains [illegible]

[illegible]

[Special to THE TIMES].

The coal handlers' strike has developed startling proportions. The longshoremen through sympathy have also struck work; So that the lines of steamships plying between this port and others are seriously crippled in handling the business. These men are members of the Knights of Labor organizations and the coal handlers not receiving their demands, the matter has been thrown into the hands of the leaders of the labor society. The freight handlers working for the steamship companies find, however, a grievance in the smallness of their pay and the irregularity of their employment. The policy of the K. of L, being the cause of all, the probabilities are that other trades will be involved in this strike. Fears are entertained that the car-drivers, the laborers, on all sorts of work will strike in sympathy. The latest move is the arrest of the heads of the association to which the longshoremen, connected with the steamship lines, belong, on a charge of conspiracy and a suit for damages has been entered against them by one of the companies. The lack of coal together with the refusal of the freight handlers to load or unload the ocean steamers makes the situation very serious. Many steamship lines are exclusively employed in carrying freight. Some carry grain only. These, however, experience but little difficulty in getting their load because the grain elevators are mostly controlled by the railroad companies. The freight lines feel this strike very keenly and it is a question of only a few days before the matter will be brought to a focus. The coaling of these steamers is a much more serious matter. The end of that trouble is yet as distant as two weeks ago. Canal boats cannot be loaded and the only way the coal dealers can get coal is to cart it from Jersey. This, of course, is very expensive. The usual conflicts have taken place between the striking workmen and those employed to take their places. Even the carting of coal from Jersey is looked upon with disfavor by the strikers. The writer was going through 14th street a few days ago, when a heavily loaded cart was passing by. Just as it got opposite to where the writer was, two men, evidently strikers slipped slyly up behind the cart, knocked out the retaining hooks and let the whole load on the horse car track. This thing was done twice before the cartman reached his destination. It shows the temper of the disaffected workmen.

The poor are suffering terribly. Not only they but some of our public elemosynary institutions are almost destitute of means to keep the inmates comfortable. Public sentiment will, it is thought, force an adjustment. Otherwise a riot will ensue.

The condition of affairs is shaping much like that which brought on the "Bread Riot" away back in the '40's. Then a few men held the price of flour so that it could hardly be obtained for love or money. The exasperated populace broke open the storehouse where flour was known to be stored and took what it needed, of course, as in all such cases, much was viciously destroyed. There is a possibility that a similar event may occur again.

⁂

Did you ever notice that rich church men never leave much to the church? No! Well it is a fact. Now and then some clergyman who has become rich leaves a small pittance to his denomination, but the cases are rare. The will of the late Bishop Potter bears out the truth of this statement. Bishop Potter died rich in this world's goods and in honors—churchly honors—too, for that matter; but his will shows no bequests for his beloved Episcopal church to whose tenets he very lovingly beseeches his heirs always to give firm adherence. The late Bishop Simpson was also a wealthy man at his death, but he left nothing to his church. So one might name many, very many churchmen who have grown gray, and rich too, in the service of the church whose bequests were to their own friends. The Potter family, by the way, has many of its representatives in public life. The successor to Bishop Potter is his nephew, Henry C., who a few years ago was elected Assistant Bishop; he at the time being rector of the aristocratic Grace church, on Broadway. Some of the family have been Congressmen or the Presidents of a college.

⁂

Gen. Stone's death removes one more of the brave soldiers of the late war. He had a checkered career, indeed. For several months during the progress of the war he was a prisoner in one of the military forts at The Narrows. This detention was most unwarranted, and those who have read Blaine's book will find the reasons—if reasons there were—for this outrage, and a noble defense of General Stone's patriotism. Gen. Stone has been recently prominent for his successful completion of the engineering work connected with the pedestal for the Bartholdi Statue. I said his career was checkered; so it was. He was latterly a New York celebrity and therefore let me give you a sketch of his life. A West Point graduate; Mexican state veteran; in the civil service of Mexico; a brave General in the late Civil War; in the service of Mining Company of Virginia; an office veup man to the Khedive of Egypt, perhaps the most confidential member of the Khedive's military family and the engineer-in-chief of the Bartholdi Statue. That's his history. Honorable? Yes, deserving of the highest meed of praise.

Financial circles are considerably exercised over the formation of a new national bank by some strong money men with the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Manning, as President. It is not known who the incorporators are, but they are thought to be among the representative financiers of the city. It is an old trick to secure an official of the government for the head of the business. The theory is if a man can successfully manage a government, [illegible] he can manage a private [illegible] [illegible] for the presidency of a trust company. Benj. F. Bristow, after a brilliant administration of the Treasury portfolio in Grant's Cabinet, opened a law office here with a long list of clients. So one could name a list as long as your arm of men whose prestige was obtained in the service of the government and have settled here, because it is the best market for their mental wares. Now, lastly, I see that Ex-Gov. Hoadly is about to make this his home.

⁂

Here is a good story. It illustrates the superstition that yet clings to the sailor's mind. The Theits is one of the naval vessels that went to the Arctic regions to rescue Lieut. Greeley and his companions. She has since then been fitted out and is to be used in the service of the Geodetic survey. All naval ships, you must know, have a bell hung on their decks upon which the hours and half hours are struck. Now, the bell of the Thetis is one that formerly belonged to an ill-fated vessel that was partially destroyed in the Arctic seas, having had many of her crew killed. One day last week the officer of the deck sent a sailor forward to strike the bell. He made one stroke and came running aft saying that the bell had turned blue! The superstitious fears of the crew were at once excited and they refused to go to sea unless this bell was removed. They said the bell was unlucky, that the ghosts of dead sailors haunted it. So the bell was removed and a new one put in its place. It is needless to say the matter excited a great deal of comment over in the Navy Yard. The old men in the service shake their heads and prophesy dire things of the future of the Thetis. The writer has talked with many a seaman on the water front, and to the ordinary landsman, the amount of superstitious ideas which Jack entertains is something startling. The story herewith given is only a sample. You could not get one of the crew to strike that bell under any consideration.

⁂

New York society must have somebody to lionize. I notice this season it has gone crazy over that apostle of palmistry, Heron-Allen. Palmistry is nothing more than a refined and elegant term for the gypsy's art of telling your fortune from the palm of your right hand. Mr. Allen is a rather agreeable looking gentleman with a great deal of capacity to talk. He hired a fashionable hall, gave a few lectures and the leaders of fashiona gave him some calls. He was invited to their houses and a great many otherwise sensible people followed after him. It was very nice for him, since this helped to increase his bank account. He has left here, and now the wonder is who will be the next for society to take to its fondling care.

WANDERER.

OBITUARY.

HANCOCK—At her home in the town of Lake, Monday, November 22, of blood poison, Mrs. Alvira Hancock, aged 71 years.

Mrs. Hancock's Maiden name was Alvira Shattuck. She was born at Norwich, Chenango county, N. Y., in 1815, where she lived till seven years old when she went with her parents to Granby, Oswego county, N. Y. On attaining the age of 15 years she united with the M. E. church and in 1840 was married to George Hancock. In 1850, she came with her husband to Minnesota who pre-empted the farm on which they have ever since lived and where she died.

She leaves a husband and two children, one son J. H. Hancock, and one daughter, Mrs. John Morris.

The funeral occurred at her late residence, Thursday, November 25, Rev. L. H. Shumate officiating and her remains were buried in Lake City cemetery.

Mrs. Hancock will be missed by a large circle of acquaintances who will extend their sympathies to the bereaved family.—Lake City (Minn.) Graphic.

HANCOCK—At his home in the town of Lake, Minnesota, after an illness of one week, of pluro-pneumonia, Dec., 26. George Freeman Hancock, aged 68 years.

He had not been strong for some time and only a few days ago, overworked himself and became heated up, came to town, took a cold, which resulted in his death on Sunday night last.

George Freeman Hancock, was a native of Massachusetts and was born in Berkshire county, in 1818. On attaining the age of four years his parents moved to Oswego county, N. Y., where he was reared, attending the district school and working on his father's farm. In 1840 he was married to Miss Alvira Shttuck, at Granby, N. Y. state, when he commenced farming on his own account, and for a number of winters worked at getting out logs for dealers along the Oswego river.

In 1858 he disposed of his property in New York state, came to Minnesota and pre-empted 160 acres in the town of Lake, Wabasha county, where he died. His wife died only a few days before him.

He leaves one daughter, Mrs. John Morris of West Albany and one son, John H. Hancock.

Mr. Hancock has held several positions of trust in his town and was assessor for about ten years, thus showing the confidence and esteem of his fellow townsmen. He was a man greatly respected by all who knew him for his many noble qualities of heart and mind, and in his death the community has lost a most valuable citizen.—Lake City Minn., Graphic.

Frank Pollock, aged nearly twelve years, son of Robert Pollock died last Wednesday night of scarlet fever. Funeral services were held at the house on Saturday afternoon, Rev. W. Demster Chase officiating.

D. C. Draper is going to close out all of his sleds, dolls and toys of every discription at your own price at his store No. 34 First street.

Special Notices,

TO RENT. Rooms for a small family. Inquire of Mrs. E. Guild, Utica street, near Baptist church.

TO RENT—A small house conveniently located Enquire of H. BALDRY, Cor. 4th and Oneida st.

FOR SALE—My house and lot on Utica street within five minutes walk of the postoffice. Also lot on Oneida street, 6¼ acres, just outside of the corporation limits. Call on or address.
R. P. HALL, Fulton, N. Y.

FOR SALE.—Farm of 72 acres 2 miles from Little Utica 2¼ miles from D. L. & W. R. R., near Cody school house. Story and half house with wing, good cellar, well and cistern, never failing spring, new barn 30x51, painted red, 14 acres woods, beach, hemlock, elm and basswood; soil, gravel and sandy loam in good condition, it has been pastured for four years, and is adapted to all kinds of grain, especially good for tobacco and potatoes. Will be sold cheap. Terms easy. Inquire of PETER DINGMAN, Liverpool, N. Y. or A. R. FAILING, Baldwinsville, N. Y. 38t4

FOR SALE.—A Farm for sale situated 6 miles from Fulton and 7 miles from Oswego, containing about 80 acres, 50 under cultivation. A large orchard, a large and commodious farm house, barn and carriage house in good repair. Will sell cheap. Terms easy. For particulars inquire of MRS J. W. WEED,
Box 423 Fulton, N. Y.

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w9.

SUITS AND OVERCOATS.

Having determined to close our Fall Stock at a reduction of 25 per cent. from regular prices we will give our customers a chance to supply themselves with the finest goods offered in the market, at less than they are paying for cheap, inferior stock.

PEEBLES & COOK.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING

A SPECIALTY.

TO SUFFERING WOMANHOOD.

DR. GALT has so prepared his

"SPECIAL CURE"

—FOR—

FEMALE DISEASES

That any Lady can test its merits with very little trouble and small expense. It is put up in desirable form for

"SELF TREATMENT."

Price $1.00 per package by mail. Address
DR. R. S. GALT & CO.,
Oswego, N. Y.

ONE MORE MONTH!

The Lessor of the store we occupy has kindly consented to let us remain in the store until Saturday, February, 26th, 1887, to finish closing out our stock. We have left a large line of that will be sold at prices that will surprise you. Call and see.

Tinware, Glassware, Fancy Goods, Dolls, Toys, Notions &c.

Saturday, Feb. 26 positively last day.

STOWELL'S

[illegible] 25 Cent [illegible]

[illegible]

Never let a clipped horse stand two minutes without a rug.

The value of roots in winter feeding of stock cannot be over estimated.

It takes six cords of hard maple wood to produce the same amount of heat that four cords of hickory will.

The standard for a good cow is said to be 500 gallons of milk a year, and of this there should be ten per cent. cream.

Some save the last fourth of the milk from the cow in a separate vessel, and pour it directly into a cream jar.

The public lands of the United States are fast melting away before the increasing tide of home seekers from foreign shores and crowded eastern states.

Good blood in horses is every year more in demand, especially by city buying. The farmer will find readiest sale for his best bred animals.

The business of exporting apples is increasing. Two years ago 220,000 barrels were shipped from the port of New York, in 1885, 302,000 barrels, and last year 349,000 barrels.

Rotation of crops is the surest and safest plan in farming, and when one or two years of pasture are included in the rotation, the benefits will be still greater.

Cider vinegar may be quickly made when the cider is pure by removing the latter to a high temperature and pouring from one barrel to another, to bring it into more direct contact with the air.

Mr. W. R. Halstead tried planting wheat in drills and cultivating it like corn. The production was doubled. He recommends planting the rows sixteen inches apart and cultivating with the bull-tongue plow. But it would be a lot of trouble.

In preparing food for stock, such as cooked vegetables, chopped feed, etc., always season with salt. Every animal craves it, and must have a certain amount of saline matter introduced into its system to enable it to thrive.

Sheep in a Yard.

Professional sheep growers seldom turn sheep into a yard with other stock. They have learned by experience that it does not pay. In the case of high-priced blooded stock it has sometimes been pretty dear experience.

The farmer who keeps but few sheep and has never made a special study of the business cannot do better than to follow the example of those who have; yet we notice that it is almost the invariable custom with farmers to allow their sheep to take their chances among the mixed stock of the common yard.

In most cases they are obliged to get their living from the straw stack, or ricks of hay around which vicious horned cattle hold sway. Many of the more timid of the flock will go hungry before they will jeopardize themselves by crowding themselves in to get a small share of the common rations.

Unless a sheep is killed outright, the owner is seldom aware of an injury when it occurs. It is a matter of great wonder to him, however, that he has no more lambs from as many ewes. Looking at the matter understandingly it is a great wonder that he has any, or that half his ewes remain alive.

It costs but little to have an extra yard for the sheep opening off the own pen or house. A few feet of lumber and a few hour's time can be well expended here. The man who makes proper provision for his sheep in this way is not the man who says: "There ain't no profit in sheep anyway. I just keep a few to eat up the odds and ends." as a farmer remarked to the writer only a few days ago.—Indiana Farmer.

"The Wire Fence Man."

The "wire fence man" is a new swindler working the farmers. His modus operandi is thus described: He wants the privilege of exhibiting his wire fence stretcher machine in your township on your farm, and for which privilege he will build you 30 or 40 rods of good fence for exhibition, and all that he asks of you is to board him, go after the machine at the nearest depot, and pay the charges, not to exceed $3, for the fence all set up where you want it. In order to have all satisfactory, and as a warrant of the farmer's good intentions, he requires him to sign a written contract on a postal card, which he mails to his partner, which proves to be an order for the machine, price $200, worth about $25. After the machine comes a new man turns up with his postal order for the machine and requires payment of $200 as per agreement on card. He claims to be attorney for the company and threatens to sue in the United States Court at Utica until he gets the money.

Wastefulness of the World.

"I have been figuring," said Mr. Statistic, "on the amount of finger-nail that is wasted in this world every year, and sir, it is something enormous. Now, sir, the average person trims off a twenty-second of an inch of nail from each finger every week or 3 inches a year. The average of human life the world over is 40 years. Look at that, sir! Ten feet of finger-nail for each finger—a round 200 feet from the 20 fingers and toes. Well, sir, there are 1,500,000,000 people in the world, and altogether they waste on an average, 300,000,000 feet, or 56,818 1-5 miles of finger-nail in a generation. Why, sir, that is sufficient to reach around the earth and still leave nearly 10,000 miles to do our scratching with. And only think! it would take less than four generations to raise finger-nail enough to scratch the eyes out of the man in the moon. There is a heap of waste in this world, sir, a heap," said Mr. Statistic.—Chicago News.

Smart Weed and Belladonna, combined with the other ingredients used in the best porous plasters make Carter's S. W. & B. Backache Plasters the best in the market. Price 25 cents.

The Thirteen Club.

The Thirteen Club will go on having [illegible] notwithstanding the Aldermen [illegible] and will continue to [illegible] of each [illegible]

[illegible] tory will rarely meet with elements of battles in any age where the actual operations coincide so exactly with the orders issued upon the eve of conflict as in the official reports of the wonderfully energetic and successful campaign in which Gen. Scott with a handful of men renewed the memory of the conquest of Cortes, in his triumphant march from Vera Cruz to the capital. The plan of the battle of Cerro Gordo was so fully carried out in action that the official report is hardly more than the general orders translated from the future tense to the past. The story of Chapultepec has the same element of the marvelous in it. The general commands apparent impossibilities in the closest detail on one day, and the next day reports that they have been accomplished. These successes were not cheaply attained. The Mexicans, though deficient in science and in military intelligence, fought with bravery and sometimes with desperation. The enormous percentage of loss in his army proves that Scott was engaged in no light work.—Life of Lincoln: the February Century.

Worn-out Circus Horses.

When Circusman Cole sold his stock in New Orleans the other day three dun ring horses that he has owned for years went with the others by mistake. Mr. Cole at once bought them back, saying that he would never consent to have the horses owned by any one who would make them work, and that he had decided to put them to a painless death. He proposed bleeding them to death, but W. B. Leonard, a liveryman suggested that the use of chloroform would be a better and less painful mode. This was finally decided upon, and a reliable man procured, who was to have performed the operation. They were all collected in the circus tent. There were Cole, Leonard, the riders and the clowns, the ringmaster and the tumblers and leapers and the three pet duns. Calling the little mare by name he told her to kiss them all good bye. The intelligent animal, stretching forth her head, kissed each one. This was more than they could stand, and the sacrifice was put off. Cole had no place to take them to, so Mr. Leonard promised to find some one who would assume charge of them, under a guarantee never to work them, but to keep them in good order until old age should claim them for the grave.—N. Y. Sun.

"It is worth its weight in gold," is a common expression. But, while the value of gold is easily affected, the worth of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, as a blood purifier, never depreciates. It will eradicate scrofula from the system when everything else fails.

And He Didn't.

Many interesting war reminiscences are rehearsed by visitors to the panorama of the battle of Bull Run in Washington. Two veterans were discussing war matters there the other day, when one said: "I was present when Gen. Grant bid President Lincoln goodbye at Fairfax Court House, Va., when he started on to Richmond with the army of the Potomac. Mr. Lincoln said: 'General, I don't want to hear of your retreating toward Washington.' There was a dangerous glint in Grant's eye as he turned and replied: 'If I do, one small boat will carry my army across the Potomac.' It would have done any man good" said the veteran, "to have seen the expression of gratitude and confidence mixed with pride shining out in old Abe's face when Gen. Grant said that."

A Dog Story.

An English writer tells the following: A family let their house furnished, leaving in it a large dog. The tenant was an old lady, who liked to sit in a particularly comfortable chair in the drawing, but as the dog was also very fond of this chair, she frequently found him in possession. Being rather afraid of the dog, she did not care to drive him out, and therefore used to go to the window and call "Cats!" The dog would then rush to the window and bark, and the lady would take possession of the chair. One day the dog entered the room and found the old lady in possession of the chair. He ran to the window and barked excitedly. The lady got up to see what was the matter, and the dog instantly seated himself in the chair.

Croup, whooping cough, sore throat, sudden cold, and the lung troubles peculiar to children, are easily controlled by promptly administering Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This remedy is safe to take and certain in its action.

It is estimated that at least 25,000,000 false teeth are manufactured annually. Of this amount London manufactures 10,000,000.

UNEXPECTED.

A MOTHER SAVED FROM AN UNTIMELY DEATH.

Tears of Sorrow Turned to Smiles of Rejoicing.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 31, 1886.

PARDEE MEDICINE CO.—GENTLEMEN: I am now seventy-three years old, and until I was seventy I was always strong and healthy; but the amount of suffering I have endured since that time, I feel to be sufficient for a life-time. I had a severe attack of sciatic rheumatism, which completely prostrated me; my limbs and feet, and in fact my whole body, was so drawn out of shape that it was impossible to move without assistance. I was unable to straighten my limbs or to [illegible] than a year and my life [illegible] children and friends were called [illegible] treated by three good physicians [illegible] they and my friends did all they could to [illegible] my suffering—but with no avail. My hips were blistered, and my limbs rubbed, bathed and bandaged, but nothing they could do afforded me even temporary relief. Tongue cannot describe my suffering. I urged them to let me try Dr. Pardee's Remedy, as I had read so much about it, and of those who had been cured by it [illegible] that it gave me confidence in it, although I [illegible] I [illegible] of so [illegible] so-called [illegible] The Remedy was procured, and [illegible] [illegible] expected, and after [illegible] short time [illegible] that it was [illegible] to [illegible] Remedy, and [illegible] [illegible] pain decreased [illegible] and [illegible] was a [illegible] nearly as [illegible] Remedy but a short time, when I [illegible] a child, and [illegible] my [illegible] It has [illegible] I am to-day as [illegible] stronger [illegible] [illegible] your [illegible] and I [illegible]

[illegible] and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c. by H. C. Giesler.

In Washington, outside of the reporters of Congressional debates, there are but four men who are masters of shorthand.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Gas struck in the Big Sandy (Ky.) region is to be carried by a $1,000,000 pipe line for use in Cincinnati, 180 miles away.

Home Rule for Ireland

is only a question of time and it is only a question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

Gen Sherman is said to have a fear that he will be the next of the war heroes to die.

Convenient pleasant, and certain in their results, are Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. Recommended by physicians and endorsed by all who have used them. The best remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, and Constipation. Guaranteed, and sold at 25c. by H. C. Giesler.

The Cherokee Indians have built a fine institution for the education of their women.

The wife of ex-Governor Cushman of Minnesota is considered the most beautiful woman in the Northwest.

CHURCH GOING PEOPLE

Are annoyed by the Coughing of their neighbors. One bottle of Van Wert's Balsam would cure every cough in the congregation. Go to H. C. Giesler's Fulton, or Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls, and get a free sample bottle and see for yourself.

Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure cold in the head. 23m6

It is something to be good; but far finer to be good for something.

Please Don't Forget It

That Dr. H. Sames Cannabis Indica is prepared in Calcutta, India, from the purest and best Native Hemp, and is the only remedy, either in that country or this, that will positively and permanently cure Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Nasal Catarrh and Nervous Debility, or break up a fresh cold in 24 hours. $2.50 per bottle, three bottles $6.50. Craddock & Co., Proprietors, 1032 Race St. Phila.,

A cheerful mind is better than all the drugs in the materia medica.

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent remedial agents which modern medical investigation has discovered, the whole forms an incomparable remedy for all throat and lung troubles. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Trial sizes free.

For torpid liver use Van Wert's Pills. Van Wert's Golden Balm is a certain cure for Catarrh. 23m6

In Montana a great many miners receive $4.50 a day.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Great truths and great men are always simple.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he will tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief to the Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

John Ericsson is now 84, and knows all he ever learned.

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk and easily digested. Delicate people improve rapidly with its use. For Consumption, Throat affections and Bronchitis it is unequalled. Dr. Thomas Prim, Ala., says: "I used Scott's Emulsion on a child eight months old; he gained four pounds in a month."

Faithfulness and sincerity are the highest things.

A Sad Case of Poisoning is that of any man or woman afflicted with disease or derangement of the liver, resulting in poisonous accumulations in the blood, scrofulous affections, sick-headaches, and diseases of the kidneys, lungs or heart. These troubles can be cured only by going to the primary cause, and putting the liver in a healthy condition. To accomplish this result speedily and effectually nothing has proved itself so efficacious as Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," which has never failed to do the work claimed for it, and never will.

A woman has neither love nor respect for the man she can rule.

England's Drunkards and Paupers.

Recently published official statistics show that one out of every thirty of the population of Great Britain is an avowed pauper, in receipt of parish relief. There are annually 180,000 apprehensions in the United Kingdom for drunkenness. There are, moreover, 500,000 [illegible], 350,000 bar-men and bar-[illegible], and 150,000 saloon keepers and beer sellers. The annual drink bill amounts to $750,000,000. England, however, seeks to atone for this by spending $5,000,000 [illegible] in missions to [illegible] 500,000 slumber-[illegible] [illegible], $60,000 by [illegible] the whole of [illegible] A case [illegible] begin as

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his Store on First St. the finest and best selected goods of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

INDIA PALE ALE.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 5,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK.

Secret Service

By P. H. WOODWARD, late Chief of P. O. Detective Corps.

OR THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

A New Book Just Published by an official of over 25 years' experience in the Secret Service, in one Magnificent Royal Octavo Volume of over 600 pages and elegantly illustrated by the best artists in the country with

200 SUPERB ENGRAVINGS.

A thrilling record of detection in the U. S. Post-Office Department; embracing sketches of Wonderful [illegible] of Post-Office Inspectors in the Detection, Pursuit, and Capture of Robbers of the U. S. Mails; together with a complete description of the many [illegible] and complicated contrivances of the wily and unscrupulous to defraud the public; also an accurate account of the

FAMOUS STAR ROUTE FRAUDS,

in which the Author had entire charge of the prosecution of the [illegible] for the government.

☞AGENTS WANTED.☜

[illegible]

[illegible] Hop Plaster

[illegible]

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c., 50c. H. C. Giesler.

San Francisco boasts of having 300 young unmarried women, each and every one of whom is heiress to at least $500,000.

HOW UNPLEASANT

it is to see a beautiful girl's face disfigured with vile humors, bursting through the skin in pimples, blotches, and sores, and sadder still, when the young and innocent are laughed at and twitted in all such cases. Parents should give them that good and pure remedy, Sulphur Bitters which will search and drive out of the blood every particle of humor.—Health Gazette.

A farmer in Delaware Co., N. Y., has a pork barrel that has been in constant use for 160 years.

THE BOSTON STAR

says Dr. Kaufman's great work on diseases, its causes and cure, with fine colored plates, is the best work ever published. A copy will be sent free to anybody who sends three 2 cent stamps, to pay postage, to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

There are 422,300 dram or wine shops in France, being an increase of 80,000 in ten years.

After Diphtheria.

Diphtheria is a terrible disease, requiring the greatest medical skill to effect a complete cure. Even when its power is broken it clings to the patient with great persistency, and often leaves the system poisoned and prostrated. Just here Hood's Sarsaparilla does a vast amount of good, expelling impurities from the blood, giving it richness and vitality, while it renovates and strengthens the system.

Munkacsy is to return to America next summer for the purpose of painting Niagara Falls.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Russia's public debt increases at the rate of $200,000,000 annually.

Saved His Life.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was for many years, badly afflicted with Phthisic, also Diabetes; the pains were almost unindurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from the first bottle and after taking six bottles, was entirely cured, and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at 50 cents a bottle by R. E. Phillips.

Henry Clay is a historic name on the Philadelphia Republican city ticket.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

Of the five living ex-Governors of North Carolina three have had paralysis

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic.
25c. a vial, by druggists.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

[illegible]

[illegible] Dream & [illegible]
And gave the [illegible] away.
—Life.

A Warning.

Miss Andera Euphemia McNair,
On a tobboggan shot through the air,
"Oh," she cried in affright,
"I'm in a terrible plight,
For I forgot to hold on my back hair!"
—Norristown Herald.

The man in love with himself never has a rival.—Rahway Advocate.

The car stove to the coal-oil can, greeting: Between us we do more for the death rate than war.—Philadelphia Call.

There are a great many damaged swear-offs which could be bought for a schooner apiece.—Fall River Advocate.

Tobboggan doesn't make a very good rhyme for hugging, but—well it gets there just the same,—Merchant Traveler.

Whistler, the artist, was born in Baltimore. But don't lay it to Baltimore. Baltimore wasn't to blame.—Somerville Journal.

If book agents were to fossilize after death, what a mine of whetstones might be dug out of their cheeks.—Fall River Advance.

Hotel porter (to gentleman in the wash room)—"Is you a guest of the hotel, sir? Gentleman (paying $4 a day)—"Guest? No, I'm a victim."—Puck.

He—You really went too far in your conduct with Captain Fitzheury at the ball last night. Don't you know that you are a married woman? Yes, but he didn't.—Life.

Mr. Faintheart—"Do you think it would be safe for me to approach your pa on the subject?" Miss Fairlady—"O, perfectly; he has the gout again."—Buffalo Commercial.

Palminstry is not such a new craze; we have known men to sit around a table for hours, trying to find out about each other's hands.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Someone has sent us a poem entitled "Give Me Back My Own." As we always like to accomodate we have sent it back to him.—New Haven News.

"Do you believe that chestnuts keep of rheumatism, Binks?" "Yes," replied Binks: "I always carry a comic paper in my pocket."—Boston Bulletin.

Young lady (expecting, to brother)—Bob, what is the most fashionable color for a bride? Bob—Well, sis, I don't know about fashion, but I should prefer a white one.—Life

The Horseshoe Falls at Niagara are receding at the rate of two feet four inches a year. That isn't very fast. A messenger boy could beat it.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and yet it can not be denied that it would take a pretty strong healthy breeze to blow some people any better than they are.—Somerville Journal.

We have a little piece of advice to offer gratis: Don't sit down on a toboggan slide unless the is a tobeggan under you—Burlington Free Press.

TEACHER—"What is the difference between the cuckoo and other birds?" Pupil (having heard that the cuckoo did not make his own nest)—"He gets some other bird to lay his eggs for him."—Texas Siftings.

A fashion item says that "new pocket books are long and slender." They generally are slender immediately after the holidays. We prefer the long and plethoric style.—Norristown Herald.

When Webster announced to the world that "there's always room at the top" he had no reference to the top of column next to reading matter—advertisers please bear in mind.—St Paul Herald.

Nothing mean about him—Countryman—"Two plates of raw oysters." Waiter—"Yes, sir, on the half shell?" Countryman—"No, I want the whole shell or none."—Tid-Bits.

During the Charlesten earthquake men and women rushed promiscously into each others arms. This caused a great many disturbances that are not recorded by geologists, after the reorganization of families.—Newman Independent.

First small boy—"So you went fishing down the Schuylkill last Sunday, did you?" Second small boy—"Yaas." "Ketch anything?" "Not till I got home and met dad."—Philadelphia Call.

"What are you doing?" asked a citizen of a young man who had a commercial traveler down on the sidewalk, pounding him. "Hammering brass!" was the fierce reply.—Burlington Free Press.

At the Knickerbocker Club.

"Do you notice how vulgar Gwimshaw has been getting lately? Why, the fellaw cusses like a coalheavaw."

"I have—aw—noticed it, to be shuah. He must be going cwazy, hey? Aw dwinking to much?"

"Naw, I don't think it's that. But he's been wunning with a lot of cussed Amewicans that have nevaw been ovew the wataw and he's lost all his self-wespect."—Town Topics.

"As She Is Spoke."

The following sample of "English as she is spoke" in the provinces may convey an idea of the extent to which dialects pollute the "well of English undefiled" even in the old country: Immigrant, newly arrived at Castle Garden, to bystander—"Ha, ye ony terbac?"

Receiving no reply, he appeals to the crowd—"Ha' ony on ye ony on ye?"—New York Tribune.

FOUND.

We have not found a single case of Cough or Bronchitis that Higgins' T. & C. Compound would not relieve.

A Slight Slip.

Grammar class. "Boy parsing—"Wagon, common noun, feminine gender——"

"Teacher—"What gender?"

Boy—"Oh, neuter gender. The tongue, ma'am, kinder throwed me off my guard.—Detroit Free Press.

* * * * Rupture radically cured, also pile tumors and fistulas. Pamphlet of particulars 10 cents in stamps. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Terrible Case of Scrofula Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming 'smaller by degrees, and beautifully less.' I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take

BLUE PILLS

or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately! Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

IT IS Dangerous!

Don't Wait! Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use

Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

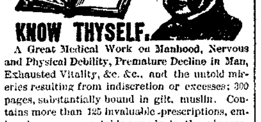
NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM
CURES COLD IN HEAD
CATARRH
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S, OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A.
EASY TO USE
HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Gives Relief at once and Cures Cold in Head, CATARRH, HAY FEVER. Not a Liquid, Snuff or Powder. Free from injurious Drugs and Offensive odors.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free.

ELY BROTHERS,
Druggists, Owego, N. Y

KASKINE.

(THE NEW QUININE.)

Science emerging from Darkness.

NO BAD EFFECT.
NO HEADACHE.
NO NAUSEA.
No Ringing Ears.
Cures Quickly.
Pleasant, Pure.

A POWERFUL TONIC that the most delicate stomach will bear.

A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM, NERVOUS PROSTRATION, and all Germ Diseases.

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y., "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful.

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleesner, 360 East 121st St., New York City, has cured over 250 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says, "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

Rev. Jas. L. Hall, Chaplain Albany Penitentiary, writes that Kaskine has cured his wife, after twenty years suffering from malaria and nervous dyspepsia. Write him for particulars.

Thousands upon thousands write that Kaskine has cured them after all other medicines had failed. Write for books of testimonials.

Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

[illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of [illegible] Surrogate of Oswego County, N. Y., notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against [illegible] late of the village of Fulton, [illegible] deceased, to present [illegible] vouchers thereof, to the subscribers [illegible] Patterson at his residence in the village of [illegible] in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 7th day of June, 1887, or they will [illegible] benefit of the statutes in such case made and provided.

Dated Dec. 1, 1886.

WILLIAM D. PATTERSON,
HARRIET L. [illegible],
Administrators.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1887, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHŒNIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phœnix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in January, March, May, June, September, November and December.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in April, July and October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on the last Thursday of April, July and September

PARISH—At J. S. Ludington's law office, on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday in April, July and September.

F. DAVID, Surrogate.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE. Whereas on the 1st day of April, 1873, Isaac F. Pierce made and delivered to the undersigned mortgagee, Allan Gilmour, his certain mortgage, bearing date on that day, whereby he mortgaged to the said Allan Gilmour, his heirs and assigns "all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Hannibal, County of Oswego and state of New York, bounded and described as follows, to wit, being part of subdivision No. one of great lot No. eighty-one of said town of Hannibal and beginning in the north line of said lot No. eighty-one, at the north-east corner of land now owned by Daniel Randall; thence east along said north line to the north-west corner of land now owned by David Dexter; thence south along the west line of said Dexter's land to the center of the highway leading across said lot; thence easterly along the center of said highway to the east line of said lot No. one; thence south along said east line to the south-east corner of said lot No one; thence west along the south line of said subdivision to the west line of said lot No. eighty-one; thence north to the centre of the highway leading across said lot; thence east along the centre of said highway to the south-east corner of D. Randall's land; thence north along the east line of said Randall's land to the place of beginning, containing about ninety-five acres of land," which said mortgage with the power of sale therein contained, was duly recorded in the Oswego County Clerk's office, on the 21st day of April, 1873, at 5 o'clock p. m., in Liber 98 of mortgages, at page 346, and whereas the said mortgage was given to secure the payment of two thousand dollars with semi-annual interest, as therein specified, and default has been made in the condition of said mortgage whereby the power to sell therein contained has become operative and there is claimed to be due thereon at the date of the first publication of this notice the sum of two thousand thirty-seven dollars, and that the whole amount thereof is due.

Said mortgage was duly assigned to Stilman W. Mason on the 30th day of March, 1880, and said assignment was duly recorded in the Oswego County Clerks Office on the 19th day of January, 1887.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that in pursuance of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the statute in such case made and provided the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public auction, at the Lewis House, in the village of Fulton, on the 30th day of April, 1887, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day.

STILLMAN W. MASON, Assignee.
A. L. & E. O. JOHNSON,
Attys., Syracuse, N. Y.

LUMBER! LUMBER.

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

O. RUST.

37tf

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

—IF YOUR—

HORSE IS LAME

USE DR. J. S. MARKHAM'S

"Spavin Cure."

—IF HE HAS—

Sore Feet or Contracted Hoofs,

Use Dr. J. S. Markham's

FOUNDER OINTMENT.

☞They are a sure cure. For sale at the DRUG STORES.

31m6

MONEY to be made. Cut this out and return to us, and will send you free, something of great value and importance to you, that will start you in business which will bring you in more money right away than anything else in this world. Anyone can do the work and live at home. Either sex. All ages. Something new that just coins money for all workers. We will start you; capital not needed. This is one of the genuine, important chances of a lifetime. Those who are ambitious and enterprising will not delay. Grand outfit free.

33y1 Address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Me.

WORKING CLASSES ATTENTION We are now prepared to furnish all classes with employment at home, the whole of the time, or their spare moments. Business new, light and profitable. Persons of either sex easily earn from 50 cents to $5.00 per evening and a proportional sum by devoting all their time to the business. Boys and girls earn almost as much as men. That all who see this may send their address and test the business, we make this offer. To such as are not well pleased we will send one dollar to pay for the trouble of writing. Full particulars and your outfit free. Address GEORGE STINSON & Co., Portland, Me.

33y1

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check for $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation. The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers;—or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 150 pages. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST. New-York.

EUREKA CATARRH REMEDY,

NO SALVE! NO SNUFF! NO WASH!

The only internal specific. Cures—not as an irritant or astringent, but by directing the gentle life giving forces of the organism to the part affected. Tasteless and pure. Children take it without difficulty. Price 50 cents by mail.

EUREKA MED. CO. SHARON, PA.

YOU can live at home and make more money at work for us, than at anything else in this world. Capital not needed; you are started free. Both sexes; all ages. Anyone can do the work. Large earnings sure from first start. Costly outfit and terms free. Better not delay. Costs you nothing to send us your address and find out; if you are wise you will do so at once.

H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Me.

FITS STOPPED FREE

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

[illegible] YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER [illegible]

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 9, 1887. Single Copies Three Cents.

Scandal Mongers.

Do you hear the scandal-mongers
Passing by Breathing poison in a whisper,
In a sigh?
Moving cautiously and slow,
Smiling sweetly as they go,
Never noisy—gliding smoothly as a snake—
Sapping here and sliding there
Through the meadows fresh and fair,
Leaving subtle slime and poison in their wake.

Saw you not the scandal-monger
As she sat,
Beaming brightly neath the roses
On her hat?
In her dainty gloves and dress
Angel like and nothing less,
Seemed she—casting smiles and pleasing words about,
Once she shrugged and shook her head,
Raised her eyes and nothing said,
When you spoke of friends and yet it left a doubt.

Did you watch the scandal-monger
At the ball?
Through the music, rhythm, beauty,
Light and all,
Moving here and moving there,
With a whisper light as air,
Casting shadows on a sister woman's fame—
Just a whisper word or glance—
As she floated through the dance,
And a doubt forever hangs upon a name.

You will find the scandal-mongers
Everywhere;
Sometimes men, but often women,
Young and fair;
Yet their tongues drip foulest slime,
And they spend their leisure time
Casting mud on those who climb by work and worth!
Shun them, shun them as you go—
Shun them, whether high or low;
They are but the cursed serpents of the earth.

—Boston Globe.

Maxims.

Who builds the fire for his wife
Much happiness will know in life.

Who ashes on his sidewalk throws,
Will always have more friends than foes.

Who doffs her bonnet at the play,
Will meet with blessings every day.

Who his wife's letters promptly mails,
Needs not to tell fictitious tales.

—Boston Courier.

'Tis Ever Thus.

Her diary is put aside:
Each day's events she writes no more;
The task in which she erst took pride
Is now pronounced a bore.
'Tis ever thus in youth's bright hours;
Our pleasures vanish as a dream;
What we to-day regard as flowers,
To-morrow weeds we deem.

—Boston Courier.

Song of the Day.

Take down that hat that thou wearest,
What is my blindness to thee?
Great is my wrath when I swearest
Words of brimstone inwardlee.
Thinkest thou, fair daughter of Gotham,
Men can see stars with one eye
When clouds obscure his dim vision,
Knocking bald heads into pie.

—N. Y. Journal.

THE PROPER THING.

Cotton satteen will will be worn again next season.

Pale blue and heliotrope is a new combination of colors in rich toilets.

Small rosettes or bows with upright loops of ribbon are worn in the hair.

Golden brown and copper red are used in combination with black, dark green and blue-cloth or velvet dresses.

A novelty among ribbons is moire on one side, and satin on the other, and elaborate edges of fringe, tassels, or loops.

A Venitian red cashmere is trimmed with black lace. Mauve cashmere is made up of revers or facings of violet velvet.

Black silk or satin skirts frequently have each breadth opening near the foot to show an inlaid band of golden brown velvet.

Stripes of various widths, large plaids and bars of small Pompadour designs will be the features of the cotton fabrics next season.

Black plush mantles grow in favor because of their elegance and also for the reason that that they may be worn with various dresses.

Bodices fitting like stays and made in beads are worn alike for evening, but the shapes differ according to the occasion.

The novelty for white wool dresses to be worn in the spring, will be serges and camel's hair with the white ground plaided in bright colors.

Velvet ribbons with feathery edges are now shown in the pale yellow of the primrose, white, pink, blue, so fashionable for neck ribbons and for the waists. Gauze ribbons are again largely imported with stripes, with heavy picot edges, striped with plush or with silver tinsel.

Mrs. Chas. Smith of Jimes, Ohio writes: I have used every remedy for Sick Headache I could hear of for the past fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest.

Gems of Thought.

Not failure, but low aim, is crime.—Lowell.

It is vanity to desire to live long, and not care to live well.—Thomas A. Kempis.

Reflect that life, like every other blessing, derives its value from its use alone.—Johnson.

Kindness is the only charm permitted to the aged; it is coquetry of white hair.—O. Feuillet.

Great men are they who see that spiritual is stronger than any material force; that thoughts rule the world.—Emerson.

Conscience is a coward, and those faults it has not strength enough to prevent it seldom has justice enough to accuse.—Goldsmith.

It is only the weak, self-indulgent, and the mediocre men who rail at fate and complain that they 'haven't a [illegible]'—Toledo Blade.

[illegible]

RETRIBUTION.

BY "THE DUCHESS."

CHAPTER III.

"I am tired to-day," says Millicent, with a little, pretty, weary gesture, throwing her arms above her head and laughing softly. "And idle, too. I shan't do any German, so you may as well sit down and gossip with me, instead."

"But"— begins Nadine feebly. She is plainly delighted at the chance of scamping the German.

"I've told auntie I'm going to look at a book to-day, so you may rest yourself in that chair with a quiet soul. I wouldn't be as conscientious as you, Nadine, for a king's ransom. Not that that would be much nowadays, with all these Nihilistic doctrines gaining ground as they do. Are you comfortable in that overgrown chair? You look a trifle lost."

"I am quite happy," says Nadine, with a sigh of content.

She is feeling fagged and nervous, and is glad to rest in Millicent's pretty room with no chance of being allowed to move for an hour at least. "Lucky you!" says Miss Grey, dropping down upon the hearth rug and taking her knees into her embrace. It is only April yet, and very chilly. "I'm not. Oh, yes; I know! You needn't finish what is on the tip of your tongue. I have everything the heart of girl can desire—the best of aunts, plenty of money, a season before me (a first one, too), a lover, and pretty much my own way—and still I am not happy! I say, isn't it a shame keeping me at my lessons, when in another month I shall be eighteen, and presented, and all the rest of it?"

"Well, I certainly think they might as well have let you off the month."

"It's downright mean of auntie—and as a rule she isn't that, eh?"

"I think she is the kindest woman I ever met," says Nadine, with sudden fervor.

Her English is exceedingly pure, but there is just a suspicion of a foreign accent in her tone when she grows in any way excited.

"She is—there isn't a doubt of it," declares Miss Grey, who likes to hear her auntie praised. "But, like the rest of us, she has her little weaknesses. Well, never mind. I dare say there are more unpardonable things in the world than M. Liere and Professor Vredenburg. Nadine—say—that's a sweet little frock you have on. Where did you get it?"

"I made it. You really like it?" She stoops forward, and her lovely face grows pink with a pleased surprise. "I confess I thought it—well—not bad, myself—but to hear you praise it!"

"It is the nicest thing I have seen this many a day. I congratulate you on it. Next month, as I have told you, I shall be an emancipated being—free of even monsieur and the professor—with permission to order my own gowns; and then I shall buy myself the exact fac-simile of the one in which you are now looking so fetching. It will be a sort of satisfaction to you to see how exceedingly badly it will become me."

"Ah! probably I shan't see," says Nadine.

Quick tears rise in her eyes. It is not only that the loss of her engagement will be a serious lessening of the grist she brings to the mill, but she is fond of Millicent; and to lose her—the pretty, saucy, kindly friend—that seems very bitter.

"Won't you, though? What do you mean by that, pray?"

"Why, that I shall disappear with monsieur and the professor when you step upon the world's stage."

Miss Grey, bringing herself nimbly to her feet, drags Nadine from her chair, and compels her to stand in front of her.

"Now that I have brought matters to the correct point—now for the stage effect," she says airily. "You see, we are both very stagey in our sentiments to-day. Now, listen to my arrangement, and be warned in time that if you object to it murder will be done—here, in this very quiet room in Park lane. Auntie is of opinion that I am unfit to go about without a keeper, and you are to be appointed such. See? According to auntie, you are a very model of propriety, and I am exactly the reverse. You are to take me in hand, and make me altogether such a one as thyself."

"Oh, Millicent!—impossible! I could not do that."

"And why, then? What a tone! what a voice! Is it possible you are going to say 'No,' to my proposal? Have you forgotten that the consequences of such folly on your part will mean death? My dear Nadine, really, though, what is it that you object to?"

"I shouldn't do at all as your companion"——

"Why not, you ridiculous mouse? Well, there!—let us say no more about it just now. I never think myself, but I am always sure it is an excellent thing for other people to do when a little perplexed. However, before you begin to think, tell me one reason for refusing to be my guide and mentor."

A quick flash rising to Nadine's brow dyes her face crimson.

"You are going to be married?" says Millicent quickly, noting the signal of distress.

"It is true—yes."

"And you never told me!" There is a strong reproach in her tone. Then—seeing the pallor on the face before her (the strange, sorrowful whitening of the beautiful face), that has chased from it the unwilling roses of a moment since—and as she marks the mournful drooping of the lips, and the look of terrible depression, nay, fear, that betrays itself in the shrinking form—pity overcomes her sense of ill usage, and some sharp inner sense conveys to her the truth of it all. "You are afraid of something! You do not love him!" she cries impulsively, slipping down on the ground beside the lounge on which her friend has sunk as though unnerved and exhausted. "Come, you shall tell it all to me now, I am determined—late in the day as it is for your confidence. Is he old, ugly—a veritable Bluebeard, with coffers lined with gold; and are your people compelling you to marry him for the sake of his money?"

Her tone is half playful, half serious—wholly winning.

Nadine gives up to it.

"No. It is not that," she says. "My mother would be the last to urge me to such a marriage. And—and—he is not old, or ugly, or overburdened with wealth."

"Am I to think, then, that he is young, and handsome, and poor, and that you are still blind to his [illegible]?"

"That is it," [illegible] Nadine faintly. "I—when he is with me, talking to me, looking so kindly at me (he is very kind) —I tell myself that I do love him! But when he is away from— Ah!" with a quick shudder, "I know then that my thought is vain."

"Romance is dead!" declares Miss Grey. "Handsome as an Apollo, and poor, and yet you [illegible]

[illegible] affair! Disabuse your mind of that at once, my good girl. It is a match loved, indeed, by my aunt and my other aunt; but by nobody else, so far as I can see. He is to have me and auntie's money; I am to have him and his mammy's money. That's the arrangement. Fancy being flung upon a season with such a stone around one's neck, and expected to enjoy one's self!"

"It is your cousin?"

"Yes; Granit Boyle. You have never seen him; so I may as well say he is as good looking as any girl could desire, save me. I am bent on an ugly man, Nadine—be sure of that. Simply because he is handsome, I dislike him so much. And yet"—she breaks off, and a little angry laugh widens her lips—"when you said a moment since that so long as your lover was with you you liked him, but that when he was gone you felt the full weight of his disagreeability press upon you, you said exactly what I should have said, had I been the first to explain."

"That is strange—a coincidence. But—but why marry him, if you feel so to Mr. Boyle?"

"Captain, an' it please you, madame. He is one of her majesty's men. I am not so sure that I shall marry him. But I have been pressed into the matter because of auntie's desire to see me Mrs. Boyle (there is a remote title somewhere in the family, that she believes will some day descend upon me, and make me 'my lady') So I am supposed to be willing to barter my present for the sake of my future. But I am not! So there!" She somewhat angrily rattles the poker against the bars of the grate as she speaks. Then she looks up sharply at her companion. "Why are you marrying Mr. ——? You did not mention his name, by the by."

"Paul Annerley."

"A masterful name—nearly as bad as Granit Boyle—that sounds like the resistless rock as the wave beats hopelessly against it." She pauses as though sunk in a light reverie. "I am not a hopeless wave, however," she continues presently, her pause being so slight as to be almost imperceptible. "A rock myself, rather. Yet I look so frail—so fragile!" She gets up and turns to a mirror, and pushing back the soft silky hair from her low brow examines her face critically. "Yes—a rock!" she says decisively. "So, if my dear cousin does not improve on acquaintance, I warn him I shall not be dragged to the altar to suit his whim. I'd cut off my hair first! It was by the hair the mediæval parent dragged his child, eh?" she asks, turning to Nadine with a sudden smile.

"I believe you like your cousin, under it all," says Nadine, laughing.

"Well, I do, and I don't, as I have already said. Just now, I don't. But there are few men in town so handsome. So much I know, though I have not as yet come out."

"Describe him to me."

"He is tall, dark, earnest in expression. That is disappointing, I know; the modern villain being always tall, fair, insouciant. But—variety is charming. My villain is as I have said."

"Paul is dark too," says Nadine, arching her brows.

"Ha! So! The plot thickens! Two villains in one drama is extravagant. I wish, however, Paul had been of the fair, die away order, if only to make a diversion. Nadine, tell me, why are you going to marry your unloved villain?"

"He isn't a villain," begins Nadine; but Millicent interrupts her.

"Oh, yes, he is!" she says. "You take my word for it. Well, go on."

"I am marrying him because—because I think I do like him, and that my absurd repulsion when absent from him is a mean feeling only to be conquered to disappear forever. And—and mamma will be happy if I marry him. She is so afraid that I may ever come to real want."

"He is rich, then? A man of property?"

"No. He has a clerkship somewhere in the city."

"Somewhere? Vague I call that! Well, my good child, I'd see about that clerkship, if I were you, before putting my foot in it."

"Well—as a matter of course," says Nadine. Then she breaks into a merry laugh. "Naturally I should see it before putting my foot in it. But you need not be uneasy about that. Mother has made all inquiries, and he has entirely satisfied her."

"After all, my warning was absurd. People nowadays don't go about masquerading," says Millicent. "Tell me more of him."

"There is so little to tell. His eyes are a very dark brown."

"So are Granit's. I hate very dark brown eyes."

"His mustache is brown too."

"So is Granit's. I like a mustache myself."

"And I like a man with no mustache," says Nadine softly.

"You don't say," cries her friend, with affected interest. "Tell me who he is."

Her shaft is a random one, not meant to strike home, yet Nadine shrinks from it as if hurt, and her cheeks grow deadly white. She clasps her hands together with a little impulsive motion upon her lap—clasps them so closely that her nails grow white.

Millicent, who though frivolous in a certain sense, is neither unobservant nor wanting in affection, marks these signs of emotion, but with a strange reticence, for her, refrains from taking any notice of them.

"A truce to lovers!" she cries gayly. "I, for my part, am sick and tired of them. Here is a second piece of news I would impart to you. Uncle Timothy—you know my Uncle Timothy?—well, dear old man! he is going to give me, on the occasion of my 'first appearance,' the most exquisite set of diamonds and sapphires that are, I hear, in the United Kindgom. I am to be his heiress as well as auntie's, you know; and these jewels are to be worn by me—on my coronation, I was going to say—but I suppose I meant on my presentation. They tell me 'her most gracious' will pale with envy at the sight of them. Going now, Nadine? Nonsense! You must have your tea first. I'll have it served here, and it will keep you warm all the way home. Poor little cat! You look tired! Have a glass of sherry instead—it will be much better for you."

CHAPTER IV.

It is quite 6 o'clock as Nadine leaves the house in Park lane and turns her face homeward. It is very dark for even an April evening, and the lamps are all aglow, making her immediate world so pretty that she is rather glad than otherwise of her inability to meet with an empty tram car, and turning into Piccadilly, [illegible]

[illegible]

It is impossible to account to him in any natural way for the emotion that is overpowering her.

He is a man of grave exterior, hardly good-looking, but with a strange, earnest expression, that goes far to redeem the irregularity of his features. He is about 35, but looks considerably older than his age, as some men will. Grief, said many, aged him—his wife having been taken from him when he was only 26, and when he had seen but two anniversaries of his wedding day. But as usual, gossip was wrong; those two unhappy years of wedded bliss having convinced Mr. Duran that all was vanity, so far as his wife was concerned. In truth, he had never loved her, but only learned that fact too late.

There is a suggestion of strength in his whole face, and specially in his mouth and lower jaw, that makes itself felt, and would perhaps be oppressive but for the almost womanish softness and gentleness of his large hazel eyes. A heavy mustache conceals a handsome mouth, and it and the hair about his brow are slightly tinged with gray.

"Clytie writes to me to say she misses you terribly," Mr. Duran says presently.

They have turned, and are now threading their way slowly through the ever increasing crowd. Conversation under the circumstances is difficult.

"Dear little thing!" says Nadine warmly, and more naturally than she has yet spoken. This other little pupil of hers, this little daughter of the grave man walking beside her, is very dear to her. "Tell her I miss her too. Will you tell her that, Mr. Duran, please, when you write, and that I count every day to the one that will bring her back to me!"

"I shall tell her."

Then he looks at Nadine keenly. The girl seems to feel the earnestness of his regard, because presently she throws up her head, as if in challenge, and looks straight at him.

"You are thinking?" she asks rather defiantly.

"How impulsively you express yourself, and how tenderly—and how uncertain I am whether you mean it or not."

"You give yourself great trouble to thus study your daughter's governess," replies she coldly.

They have reached a crossing and a tram car at the same time.

"You will permit me to see you home?" says Mr. Duran quietly.

"No, thank you. There is no necessity. This"—indicating the tram car—"will leave me almost at my own door."

"Still, if you will allow me"——

"You are very kind, but I would not give you so much trouble for the world."

There is a decision about her manner, gentle as it is, not to be mistaken.

"As you will, of course," says Mr. Duran, "and having seen her carefully into the car he draws back, and lets her proceed on her way alone.

(To be Continued.)

A DEATHBED CONFESSION.

Mrs. VanAuken's Story of her Husband's Murder—Charging Loren Grover with the Infamous Deed A Parallel to the Druse Case.

Mrs. Harriet Van Auken, who pleaded guilty of murdering her husband, Darius Van Auken, nearly ten years ago, lies on a cot in the hospital of the penitentiary hourly expecting death. Besides an aggravating attack of dropsy and rheumatism, she suffers from two tumors, one in the left arm-pit and the other and most serious one on the left breast. It was thought on Monday night that Mrs. Van Auken would not survive until morning, Tuesday afternoon a reporter found her extremely weak. She said that she hoped that the governor would grant the pardon which her friends have earnestly sought, since it has been known that this illness will be her last, so that she could be taken to her sister's in Limerick, Jefferson county, to die. "Unless he sends it soon," she said, "it will be too late, for the cancer has but little more work to do. I have written for my sister to come and see me die."

"Would you object" asked the reporter, "to telling me all that you know of the murder for which you were convicted?"

For a moment she seemed lost in contemplation, and her lips were seen to move as in prayer. Then she said: "There has been so much printed about me that is not true that I don't know who to trust with the story that I would tell." Again she meditated and finally asked Deputy Superintendent Hawley his opinion of revealing her story of the crime. With Mr. Hawley's favorable answer she consented, and all vacated the room except the reporter, Mrs. Van Auken and a deaf woman.

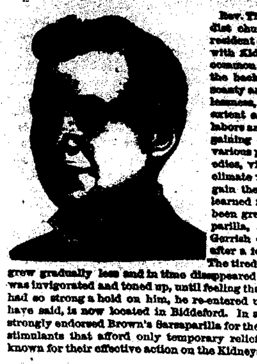
"There are just two persons in this world," she began, "who know the story from my lips—my lawyer and a priest are those persons. You see Darius Van Auken was my last husband. In the summer of 1877 he left our home at West Monroe, Oswego county, and went to visit his folks at Boylston, some miles away. When he came home it was late at night, and that night Loren Grover had a valuable little heifer killed. Grover's farm was in front of ours, and he lived there with his father and his wife and young child. My husband heard a few days afterward that Grover suspected him of killing the heifer. In three or four weeks, one afternoon Grover came to our house and he looked bad. My husband saw him coming, and ran out the door and listened. Grover said, 'Where's your man?' I told him that he had just gone out the door and he said, 'I've come to get the pay for my heifer he killed the other night.' Then he called Mr. Van Auken names and kept on doing that till my husband got so mad that he came in and ordered Grover out of the house. Grover said he would not go, for it was not his (my husband's) house; it was mine. So my husband clinched him to put him out. The house was an old one. Under the window there was my sewing machine and behind the door there was an ax. Grover saw it and caught it up and struck my husband on the head with the head of it. My husband fell to the floor and he seemed dead. Then he opened his eyes and I heard him say, 'Hat, revenge my death.' As he said that it frightened Grover, but he looked more desperate than ever. He had [illegible] revolver against my head and said 'Make up your mind to die, for if I leave you you will tell of me. He made me get down on my knees and swear that I would never reveal what I had seen. Then he made me stand in the door and keep watch. I went to the door, and then heard something that sounded like cutting up meat. I looked around and he had cut my husband's head off and had given it a kick toward's me. I nearly fainted away, and he saw me lean against the door case. He said, 'Faint, damn you. That's what I want you to do, and I will put you where he is.' After that I didn't dare to look around. I heard him keep cutting and supposed he was cutting up my husband's body. He did the cutting with my butcher knife, which he found on the window sill. In some minutes he asked me if I knew where there were any bags, and I told him there were some at the head of the stairs. He went up and got two bags and one sack made of canvas and put the pieces in. Then he raised up one of the boards of the floor and swept the blood into the cellar, and then he mopped up the floor with water. When he had finished cleaning the floor he came up to me and said, 'Harriet, I want you to bury these sacks.' I said, 'I can't do it.' He said, 'Then die.' and he took the revolver again and put it against my head and I thought he would kill me sure that time. I told him I could not bury my husband's body and he replied, 'Then why don't you get your boy to do it?' The boy he spoke of was about eighteen years old and worked on a farm about a mile away. He made me hitch the horse to go after the boy and he went home. When I drove by his house he put a spade in the wagon and he told me what to say to the boy and where to have the bags buried. The boy was not as bright as some and I easily convinced him that it was all right to bury the bags and he didn't know what was in them. In a piece of woods about three miles from our house the boy got out and dug a hole by the side of a tree and buried the bags. We went around home by way of Amboy. The next day Grover came to the house. He had the revolver all this time. He said: "What a fool I was to leave you living. There is one thing you have got to promise or I will kill you yet, and that is that you let me have the full use of all your peoperty, just as though it was mine.' So I had to promise to all that. Then he worked his horse with mine and mine with his. He would come to work on my farm as though it was his own place. Things went along that way till hop picking was nearly over, and no one missed my husbaud. Grover used to be over to my house a good deal, and along about that time he wanted me to sell my property and run away with him. He had four or five hundred dollars of his father's that he was keeping for him, and he said he would take that if I would run away. I told him I couldn't sell, as nobody wanted to buy. He began getting dangerous, and I had my oldest sister—she is dead now—come to stay with me, because he threatened me so I was afraid. It made him madder still because she came, and then he began throwing hints about my husband's disappearance, and one day Constable Joseph Crannel of Boylston came and arrested me. They took me to Parish, but couldn't find anything against me and let me go. That made Grover so mad that he again began talking about it and said he could find where my husband was buried. A week or so later Constable John Dennis of Parish or West Monroe arrested me and took me to Pulaski and put me in jail. Then Grover got out a lot of men and searched and found where my husband was buried. Of course they then accused me of murdering him and cutting him to pieces. I was brought back to Parish village while the inquest was being held. They arrested my boy for taking part in the crime and put him in jail. A Pulaski court indicted me for making away with my first husband and murdering my second. Soon after my arrest the second time 'Ed' Lynch, a one-armed lawyer of Parish, came to me and, as he said that he could easily clear me, I engaged him as counsel. Some time afterward he told me that it would be easiest for me if I would plead guilty to manslaughter in the second degree. He said that I would not get more than two years, and so on his counsel I did so, but I was found guilty of murder in the second degree and sentenced to life imprisonment.

"I have seen in one of the city papers a statement that the boy who was arrested at the time for taking part in the murder was my illegitimate son. That is not true. I took him from the Jacksonville poor house when he was very young and when I lived at Ithaca, but he grew to be so bad that I returned him several times but he came back to me each time and at last he improved and I kept him. His name is George Matthews and not Maudeville.

"I was divorced from my first husband a year after we parted, and Azariah Wort of Sandy Creek was my attorney. Then I married Mr. VanAuken. He was twenty-two years old and I was twenty-four. I never had a cross word with him in the three years that we were married. I had money and he hadn't any. I used to clothe him and do it well, too. Surely I must have thought something of him to do this. My husband was a good man and I loved him."

Mrs. Van Auken opened a Testament, and on one of the back leaves was pasted a picture of a good-looking man, with an intelligent face. He wore a mustache and flowing side whiskers and was dressed in a neat suit. This was the picture of her murdered husband, [illegible]

Pain in the Back.



Rev. Theodore Gerrish now settled over a Methodist church in Biddeford, Me., was formerly a resident of Bangor. While there he became afflicted with Kidney Disease. The symptoms of this too common trouble are a drawing down pain across the back extending downwards towards the loins, scanty and high colored urine, a tired feeling, restlessness, etc. These Mr. Gerrish had to such an extent as to make it impossible to continue his labors and he resigned, devoting his time to the regaining of his health. To this end he employed various physicians, tried many of the so called remedies, visited different places hoping a change of climate might improve his condition, but failed to gain the desired relief. Returning to Bangor he learned from a member of his family that she had been greatly benefited by the use of Brown's Sarsaparilla, and was advised to give it a trial. Mr. Gerrish did so, and to his great surprise found, after a few days, that his condition had improved. The tired feeling left him, the pains across the back grew gradually less and in time disappeared; he rested well at night; the whole system was invigorated and toned up, until feeling that he was free from the Kidney disease that had so strong a hold on him, he re-entered upon the duties of the ministry, and, as we have said, is now located in Biddeford. In addition to his testimonial Mr. Gerrish has strongly endorsed Brown's Sarsaparilla for the reason that it is not composed of alcoholic stimulants that afford only temporary relief, but of pure vegetable productions well known for their effective action on the Kidneys, Liver and Blood.

Brown's Sarsaparilla

Is for sale everywhere for $1; 6 bottles for $5. Ara Warren & Co., Proprietors, Bangor, Me.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

Is a household name throughout the United States. It is administered as a specific, and with SUCCESS, in DYSPEPSIA, Sick HEADACHE, Nervous Debility, Liver Complaint, Billious Remittents, Bowel Complaints (especially CONSTIPATION), Gout, Gravel, RHEUMATISM, Nausea, the complaints peculiar to the maternal sex, and all types of inflammation.

So mild is it in its operation that it can be given with perfect safety to the feeblest child; and so agreeable is it to the taste, so refreshing to the palate, that children never refuse to take it. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N.Y.

Auken was only twenty-two years old and she twenty-four at the time of the crime. He was her second husband and they did not live happily.

ANOTHER VICTIM

Of the Perilous Uncertainty of Circumstantial Evidence.

No matter how strong may be every link in a chain of circumstantial evidence there is always a doubt, a lack of certainty, that should weaken it and cause us to distrust it. I remember a story my grandfather used to tell of a case in which an innocent life was sacrificed for a guilty person. A boy on a farm, for some misdemeanor, was sentenced by his father, a stern man, with an eye to saving a half-priced ticket, to be deprived of his annual circus privilege, and, in addition, he was to hoe so many rows of corn while the rest of the family took in the lady's pad act, the bareback riding of Jack Robinson, the club that killed Captain Cook and other attractions of the great moral show. The boy watched the wagon drive away, with tears in his eyes, and then he went at his corn rows with a determination to make short crop, if it could be worked without detection. But he grew hungry after awhile and went into the house and investigated the pantry. There were seven pies—it was an American household—seven blackberry pies baked for Sunday. The boy, who was not feeling very well himself, soon placed his person anterior to to six of the pies, but paused thoughtfully, and with keen regret midway on the seventh. One-half of that he left. He then caught the family cat, thrust her nose and feet into the remains of the pie, and dropped her on the clean, white sanded floor of the pantry that she might track around on it. Then he went back to his corn rows. Evening brought the family home. The boy saw them climb joyously out of the big wagon. He noted how the over ripe apples fell from the trees when his sister jumped over the side and lighted flat footed on the ground. He saw his father let himself down over the side and get himself kicked twice by the roan colt. He saw his mother waiting patiently until somebody had time and inclination to take the baby. He saw his grandmother perch herself on the hub of the hind wheel on one foot, while she made vague, circumferential wandering excursions for the wide, wide world with the other. He saw his brothers let themselves down over the tailgate and sneak away to avoid doing any work. At last the wagon was empty, and there were visible signs of excitement about the house. "The raid is discovered," said the boy, cutting the roots of a healthy stalk of corn and carefully hilling up a vigorous lanceweed. Presently he saw his father come out of the house with the gun over his shoulder and the cat under his arm. "The culprit is arrested," calmly remarked the young robber, as he leaned thoughtfully upon his hoe, and watched his father disappear behind the barn. The sharp report of a gun rang out upon the quiet of the sunset hour. "There," said the boy, with the confident expression of one who knows what he is talking about, "there goes another victim to circumstantial evidence."—Burdette

Quick, safe and sure. This is said of Salvation Oil the great rheumatic remedy and greatest cure on earth for pain. Price 25 cents a bottle.

"Down in the coal mines underneath the ground" coughs and colds are very frequent and there is where Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is invaluable.

A Simultaneous Exit.

There is a crank in Boston who says that warts can be talked off by him. All he has to do is to sit down with the wart once a day and talk to it in a serious transcendental strain for about fifteen minutes. In a few days the wart will go. N. B.—It might be added that the man who owns the wart also goes at the same time.—New York Tribune.

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills; they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

A Vast Undertaking.

The legislature has been asked to grant a charter to a company to be known as the New York & Hudson River Aqueduct Company. The company proposes to bring water to New York and Brooklyn from the Adirondacks, a distance of about 225 miles, by means of a canal 18 feet deep and 60 feet wide, running along the Hudson, with a capacity of from 800,000,000 to 1,000,000,000 gallons a day. The cities along the Hudson will also be supplied. Dr. W. W. Laman, projector of the scheme, says that as soon as a charter is obtained the company will organize and be prepared to begin work. The estimated cost is $60,000,000, and time of completion two years. The only water works that compare in magnitude with this are those that supply Vienna. The Vienna aqueduct, 300 miles long, occupied six years in construction, cost $64,000,000, and has a capacity of 200,000,000 gallons daily.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & CO.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

MRS. LESAGE.
26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

Did Not Fill the Bill.

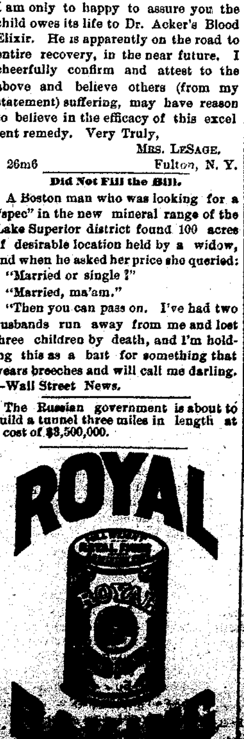
A Boston man who was looking for a "spec" in the new mineral range of the Lake Superior district found 100 acres of desirable location held by a widow, and when he asked her price she queried:

"Married or single?"

"Married, ma'am."

"Then you can pass on. I've had two husbands run away from me and lost three children by death, and I'm holding this as a bait for something that wears breeches and will call me darling.—Wall Street News.

The Russian government is about to build a tunnel three miles in length at a cost of $3,500,000.



Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job [illegible] Street, over Eggleston's book [illegible] of every description executed in a [illegible] ner at fair prices.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
33 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE,
OSWEGO, N. Y.,
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Streets.
Centrally located in the business part of the city.
Prices Reasonable.
Commodious Sample Rooms.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—
Decker Brothers'
Matchless Pianos.
THE VERY BEST PIANOS.
Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.

COAL.
—GO TO
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
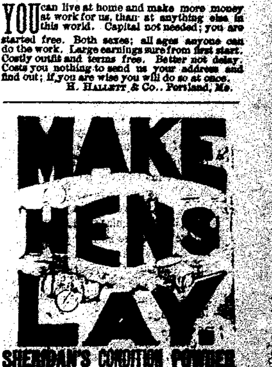
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
☞ Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

EUREKA CATARRH REMEDY,
NO SALVE! NO SNUFF! NO WASH!
The only internal specific. Cures—not as an irritant or astringent, but by directing the gentle life giving forces of the organism to the part affected. Tasteless and pure. Children take it without difficulty. Price 50 cents by mail.
EUREKA MED. CO. SHARON, PA.
36mos3

YOU can live at home and make more money at work for us, than at anything else in this world. Capital not needed; you are started free. Both sexes; all ages anyone can do the work. Large earnings sure from first start. Costly outfit and terms free. Better not delay. Costs you nothing to send us your address and find out; if you are wise you will do so at once.
H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Me.



MAKE HENS LAY.
SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER
[illegible]

LADIES, [illegible]

[illegible] Advertising made known on application [illegible]

Job Printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered at the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to The Times,

F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office or moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[Thackeray.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

D. N. Lockwood has been confirmed by the Senate as United States attorney for the Northern district of New York.

Two bills were passed by the United States Senate on Monday appropriating $21,000,000 for army and navy guns and equipments.

The Republican Congressmen of this state are to give Senator-elect Hiscock a dinner in Washington to-morrow, Senator Evarts will preside.

The public debt was decreased over nine and a half million dollars during the month of January. At this rate another decade will see the United States free from debt.

A new scheme is devised for gaining renown. T. S. Baldwin leaped from a baloon 1,000 feet in the air at San Francisco last week, and reached the ground in safety, by means of a parachute he held in his hands.

The adjutant general of the army reports that that there are now 92,000 members of organized militia in the United States and that available companies that are not a part of the militia foot up a membership of 7,000,000.

James C. Matthews, the colored Albanian, who was nominated to be recorder of deeds in the District of Columbia in place of Frederick Douglas, has been rejected by the Senate. Yesterday the President was officially informed of the rejection.

Action will soon be taken on the bill introduced into the Assembly by Mr. Howe to enable the Fulton Fire department to admit two new companies. The special act under which the village department is organized does not admit of more companies than it at present has.

The resignations of Daniel Manning, Secretary of the Treasury and Treasurer Jordan are in the hands of the President. They are to become President and Vice-President of the newly organized Western National Bank, city of New York. It is expected that Assistant Secretary Fairchild will be promoted to the position vacated by Mr. Manning.

Henry Spies, brother of the condemned Chicago anarchist and who was his "proxy" in the recent marriage (?) to the idiotic Miss Van Zandt has succeeded in getting himself into a scrape. As he is a married man and the law interpretates that it is the person and not the name that is wed, he has been arrested for bigamy. Before he gets out of the box he may desire to act as "Proxy" for his brother August when the day of execution comes. In the meantime the whole Van Zandt family should be sent to the Feji Islands or some idiot asylum.

A bill introduced by Assemblyman Howe, is now pending in the legislature to amend the charter of the city of Oswego. It provides that there shall be but eight instead of sixteen aldermen after the second Tuesday in March 1887 and that they shall hold the office but one year—one for each ward. The abolishment of the offices of city treasurer and collectors of taxes, and the appointment by the mayor of a city chamberlain for the term of three years to fill their places at a salary of $2,000 per year. Other sections of the bill provide for the duties that will devolve upon the new official.

There are many ways by which persons of means are able to perform philanthropic acts but not always are the ones most worthy, those that received the benefit of generosity that is thus bestowed. The following circular which was recently issued by F.H. Rindg esq., one of the proprietors of the Chocheco Woolen Mills at East Rochester, N. H., shows that the deserving are the ones that shall receive the benefit of his liberality. The circular explains itself and will be appreciated in this locality, where there are so many factory operatives, who though leading temperate and industrious lives, have been brought by sickness or some calamity to feel the want of some benevolence similar to the following:

To the Operatives employed by the Chocheco Woolen Manufacturing Company, East Rochester, N. H.

Upon your acceptance of the following conditions I have authorized my agent, Francis J. Parker, to pay Five Thousand Dollars on the demand of [illegible] operatives of said company, [illegible] by yourselves, to receive, [illegible] and disburse such sum to those [illegible] operatives of said Company, male [illegible] who through this time forth [illegible] lives, but who may [illegible] be unable to earn the [illegible] of life. [illegible]

The [illegible] City Times of Springfield, Ohio, will be of interest to many readers of The Times as it recounts the success that is being attained by a former Fulton firm. All will be pleased to learn of the increased prosperity of the firm, marred only by the regret that the works are not located at Fulton instead of Springfield:

"The click of mason's trowel and the continual cry of "more mort" can be heard out on the 4½ acres of ground between Warder and Nelson streets belonging to E. W. Ross & Co. This firm has under construction new shops that will ad I to the out-put of the already famous Champion City. For the past year the cramped quarters of this firm, out by the rolling mill has made new shops an absolute necessity.

Last September the ground was broken for these buildings, on the site designated, just east of the C. C. C. & I. round house. Seven separate apartments will be erected, one being nearly completed. The buildings to be erected are: Brick one story foundry, 70x120 feet; main building of brick, 60x150 feet, 4½stories; one story boiler and engine house and blacksmith shop, of brick 48x60 feet; south wing to main building, of brick, 40x125, two stories, and a warehouse 80x150 feet, 2½ stories. This last will be a frame building sheeted with iron. The work on all these buildings is under way. As soon as the weather is somewhat modified, work will be started on a one story knife shop, 45x110 feet. This will be the north wing of the main building. The brickwork on the foundry is substantially finished, as is that on the boiler and engine house and blacksmith shop. On the main building the first story is up. The timbers for the whole main building are framed, and a little more good weather will see the main building completed. It is the intention of the firm to move into the new quarters on April 1st. Of course the building will not be completed, but sufficiently so to begin operations. For this season at least, the office will be in one end of the ware room. It is the intention to eventually build a very handsome new office near the main building. Besides the buildings enumerated there will be barns, pattern rooms, etc. The entire works will make quite a little settlement of its own and help greatly to improve the already rapidly growing East End. The proximity to the shops to the railroads offer unusual shipping facilities. All the buildings will be erected with an expectation of enlarging.

The product of this firm is confined exclusively to feed and ensilage cutters. It will be two years next March since the firm first started in business here. The present force employed is about 110 men. During the past year it has been impossible to keep anywhere near up with orders, hence the great haste to get new quarters and increased facilities. The product of the concern will be increased 2½ times and will employ fully 300 men. An encouraging foreign trade has been established by this firm which promises to keep pace with the increase of the hometrade. Goods are shipped to Mexico, South America, Australia, Tasmania, India, Russia, and very recently a shipment of knives was made to England the home of cutlery. The entire improvements of the firm will cost from $60,000 to $80,000."

A FEARFUL ACCIDENT.

Over Fifty Persons Killed—A Broken Rail the Probable Cause.—Many Montreal Excursionists on the Train.

One of the most frightful accidents in the history of railroading in this country occurred on the Vermont Central Railroad, at the bridge over the White river, between Hartford, Vt. and West Hartford, four miles from White river junction, at about 2 o'clock Saturday morning. Two sleeping cars and two passenger coaches plunged from the slight bridge to the frozen surface of the river some 60 feet below. To add to the horror of the wreck, which was complete in itself, the cars partially immersed in the freezing cold water, took fire and the few who managed to escape saw their fellow passengers who had escaped death in the wreck, slowly roasted to death.

The train consisted of a postal car, baggage and smoking car, two sleeping cars, and two passenger coaches. All were well filled.

The train had many excursionists bound for the Montreal carnival, and owing to delays was behind time, not leaving White River junction until after two o'clock. A broken rail or the breaking of a car wheel, did the mischief. The locomotive, postal car, baggage and smoking car passed over the bridge in safety, but the two Pullman cars and the two passenger coaches, with their crowd of passengers, went whirling over the abutment to the surface of the frozen river, there to be crushed and broken and then burned with nearly all on board, but five persons escaping from the wreck uninjured.

The scenes that followed the accident were horrible in the extreme. An associate press dispatch says:

"The shrieks of the wounded and dying were agonizing in the extreme, and intermingled with their cries of pain were the calls for assistance of those who were alive but unable to extricate themselves. Many were probably killed by the terrible fall, but a large number who were only slightly injured were so confined in the wreck that they could not be rescued, and were burned alive. As the flames spread the confusion increased, and the shrieks of the victims who saw torturing death by fire approaching were as agonizing as any that ever fell upon human ear. The rescuing party had nothing but their hands to work with, and although they worked with almost superhuman efforts and rescued many, the number that perished in the flames was very large. Those who were rescued were almost naked, and the wounded had to be laid upon the ice until teams came.

It is difficult to ascertain accurately the number that perished, probably no less than fifty but dispatches place it at a higher number.

The World's White River Junction dispatch says: The story of the awful disaster to the north-bound Montreal express is only beginning to be told. It is very doubtful whether the names of all those killed will ever be known. For two days men have been prying and digging among the mass of charred wood and twisted iron in the hope of finding whatever remains may still lie among the ruins. Now and then they come across an arm or a leg or a skull [illegible]

[illegible] but a few days ago the Rev. [illegible] surprised the House by praying for the wife of Secretary Whitney and the babe.

This caused a certain Congressman, whose infant daughter was the same age as the new "Cabinet bud" to accuse the Chaplain of "offensive partisanship" because he had neglected his wife and baby. So next day the other baby was prayed for. Never before in the halls of Congress was the birth of any American citizen the occasion of official action. As both babies were girls the new departure was jocular mentioned as a triumph for the cause of woman, to offset the snubbing that woman suffrage received in the Senate last week.

Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, is unwilling to treat the house with any more deference than that body shows the Senate, unlike the "Father of his country," who was willing that a negro should be more polite than himself. When Senator Harris, of Tennessee, moved that at the conclusion of morning business, each day, the Senate proceed to consider House bills. Mr, Ingalls inquired whether the House had resolved to devote any particular time to the consideration of Senate bills, so that there should be a decent interchange of courtesy in the matter.

Senator Dawes suggested that it was out of order to discuss modes of business in the other House. Thereupon the Senator from Kansas hoped that the Senator from Massachusetts would possess his soul in patience. The idea that there was some divinity hedging about the House of Representatives, so that nobody could mention it without getting on his knees, was a superstition that ought to be abandoned.

When the bill appropriating $10,000 for a special distribution of seed to the drought-striken counties of Texas was called up in the Senate, it was advocated by Senator Coke of that State, while several Republican Senators raised Constitutional questions. Mr. Edmunds asked if the people of those counties could not buy seed on credit, just as farmers of other states did. Senator Hoar asked the Texas Senator to state the constitutional ground on which he supported the bill, and the latter raised a laugh by saying "Not at this time." Mr. Hoar said he hoped that if the Senate voted to furnish seed to Texas, Texas would furnish constitutional law to the Senate. Still he would vote for the bill with pleasure.

Here Gen. Hawley appealed to Mr. Coke not to press the bill out of regard for the history of Texas—that great empire state, old and rich. He characterized the bill as "passing around the hat," and said if his little state of Connecticut came here begging for $10,000 worth of garden seed and got it, he would resign.

Mr. Coke repudiated the idea of this bill being a case of "passing the hat." Texas was not asking for charity. It was merely in line with bills in former Congresses, for relief of people in Ohio, Kansas, Alabama and other states. Senator Ingalls admitted that there were many precedents for the appropriation, and said if Texas could afford to take the money he could afford to vote for it. After Mr. Saulsbury, of Delaware, also admitted that there were plenty of precedents for it, but added that he never had voted for such bills and (so help him God) he never would, the seed for Texas carried the Senate by two to one.

The social world of Washington has been very brilliant for the past few weeks. Mrs. Cleveland has abandoned her semiweekly "at homes" however, because they were regarded by many as public receptions. They were instituted for the friends and acquaintances of the lady of the White House, but the opportunity was grossly abused by crowds of people whose respectful curiosity could be appeased at her fortnightly receptions to the public.

But Mrs. Cleveland evidently intends to keep up with the people's procession. She says she never feels tired from shaking hands, either at the time or afterwards, no matter how great the number of guests she greets. She laughed over a recent paragraph in a New York paper which reported her as completely exhausted after one of her three hour ordeals of hand shaking. A friend who was rather surprised at her powers of endurance, remarked to Mrs. Cleveland that she had even equaled the great hand shaking feats of her husband, as she had shaken hands with 327 people, by actual count, in an hour lately. "Yes," she answered, "of course I could not allow him to get ahead of me."

COUNTY NEWS.

A donation is to be given at the parsonage at So. Hannibal this evening for the benefit of the Rev. R. Burdick.

Oswego county has 27 Good Templars lodges. Only one county in the state has more than that.

Arrangements are being made to hold a poultry show in connection with the farmers' institute in Oswego on March 3, 4, and 5th. The following officers have been elected for this pet stock association: President, S. N. Lockwood, Scriba; vice-presidents Joseph Hough, of Fulton, T. E. Dodge, Pulaski, N. A. Wright, Oswego, E. C. Stone, Scriba; secretary, Andrew Waugh, Oswego; treasurer, Fred Allen, Oswego.

The following were installed as officers of Phoenix lodge, No. 101, I. O. G. T., last Friday evening: C. T. Louis M. Henley; V. T. Miss Jessie Target; S. Mrs. L. D. Healey; T. Miss Belle Hanscom; F. S. Arthur Russ; M. Fred Cook; C. Arthur Archambo; G. Maud Russ; Sent. Wm. Sheppard.

Rev. W. Dempster Chase is to deliver his lecture [illegible]

[illegible] the relative burden of national debt [illegible] head of population [illegible] and nations of Europe and the United States, and the relative proportion of the [illegible] per capita which is absorbed by national taxation. General James Longstreet narrates the history of Lee's invasion of Pennsylvania. He describes among other events Pickett's famous charge at Gettysburg, responsibility for which he places unreservedly on General Lee. George Parsons Lathrop gives the inner history of the belling of Jefferson Davis. S. P. Langley contributes an astronomical article. The fiction of the number is by James Lane Allen, George W. Cable, Frank R. Stockton and Mat Crim. Poems are contributed by L. Frank Tooker, Henry W. Austin, John Vance Cheney, Robert Burns Wilson, Margaret J. Preston, Joaquin Miller, Henry Amos Blood and Edmund Clarence Stedman.

WIDE AWAKE.

The full holiday numbers of Wide Awake this year have overflowed into the February issue, for we find the opening story a Christmas tale, by Katherine McDowell Rice, "Why the Doll's Name was never Changed," and another beautiful chapter of "the Longfellow literature" is given: "Longfellow and his Children," by the poet's brother, Rev. Samuel Longfellow. Mrs. Fremont this month concludes her bewitching "Taffy and Buster" chronicles the gay little ponies ringing about $3,000 into the treasury of the Sanitary Commission. Mrs. Davis' "La Rose Blanche" war-story "Mandy's Doll party," brings a most delightful Yankee soldier among the children of the Plantation. Miss Guiney's "Fairy Folk All," deals with "The Black Elves;" and Miss Lewis' "Famous Pets" with "Pets at the Early English Court," and is enriched by some beautiful "Vandykes." The serial stories are particularly enjoyable reading: "Romulus and Remus" is high comedy this month, "Montezuma's Gold Mines" most exciting. "Howling Wolf and his Trick Pony" has a perfectly delightful adventure of the bright young Indian lad, and "A Young Prince of Commerce" is quite worth while in every family where there are boys to go out in the world. Mrs. Bolton has a good paper about Frances E. Willard, Miss Harris a practical article "One Lady's Way of Teaching How to Write Compositions." and C. F. Holder one about "Fresh Water Turtles." The new feature of the magazine, "The Contributors and the Children," is eminently successful, being altogether "readable."

Only $2.40 a year. D. Lothrop & Co. Publishers, Boston, Mass.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY.

The mid-winter Atlantic is full of choice reading matter. The interesting story begun in January entitled "The Second Son," by Messrs. Oliphant and Aldrich, is given first place in the February number. Chapters III. IV. of "Paul Patoff," a Russian story of thrilling interest, by F. Marion Crawford, are given. T. R. Lowell contributes a five-page poem which is among the first things to which the reader will turn. John G. Whittier also writes a half a dozen verses in his sweetest vein concerning "A Day" the first part of a story, peculiar to the Atlantic is "The Lady From Maine," and is of absorbing interest. A half dozen other original articles are given. The Contributors Club—In new and elegant type is of unusual interest. One of the best things which has ever appeared in these pages is entitled "The Left Over Expressions of Countenance." An equally new and original gem is "The Red Leaves on the Snow."

Parish.

Telephone wires have been strung through the town on poles. They will connect us with Syracuse, Oswego, Fulton and other places.

Wednesday was so cloudy that the bear could not see his shadow. Of course now we shal have pleasant weather.

Our town rated statistics for 1886 develop the following: Twenty four deaths, eleven males and thirteen females. There were eight deaths over seventy years of age, and one accidental death. The oldest man that died was ninety two, and the oldest woman eighty-eight years of age. The average duration of life is forty-nine years for males and fifty-nine for females, eleven above the general average. There were twelve deaths to one thousand persons, three below the general average.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

SPECIAL MEETING.

Fulton, N. Y., Jan. 31, 1887.

Board met pursuant to the call of the President.

Present, the President and Trustees Kendrick, Bradford, Chase and More.

Trustee Kendrick offered the following resolution, which was adopted.

Resolved, That the modification of the contract between the Village of Fulton and the Thomson-Houston Electric Company, as to the power of each arc light, this evening submitted by Mr. F. Leonard, on behalf of said Electric Company be and is hereby accepted and adopted.

The following resolution was also adopted.

Resolved, That the competency and sufficiency of the sureties to be furnished by the Thomson-Houston Electric Company on the bond provided under their contract to light the village, be and is hereby referred to the President and Village Attorney with power to act in the premises subject only to the condition that one of the said surities shall be a resident of the State of New York.

On motion the Board adjourned.

M. C. Highriter, Clerk.

An Abstract of Expenditures.

By L. T. Richardson Superintendent of Repairs upon the Oswego canal, and having charge of 23 miles of said canal extending from Oswego to Three River Point also the Oneida river improvement 20 miles.

FOR THE MONTH OF JANUARY 1887,

D. VanValkenberg, residence Oswego watching canal one month $20	$20.00
E. L. Richardson, residence Fulton, watching canal one month $15	$15.00
	$35.00

STATE SHOP CHECK ROLL

Name	Res.	What for	Time.	Price	amt.
John Boardman	Fult'n	Foreman	26	2 40	62 40
Walter Bradley	"	Carpenter	26	1 80	46 80
Joe Hayden	"	C Labor	1¼	1 00	1.25
Smith Woodruff	"	Team	1⅞	2 40	4 50
					114 95

The above labor was performed	follows:
51 days lock gates	107 40
4½ days rep lock	7 55
55½	114 95
Fulton Times Co., publishing abstract 1 mo	3 00
	$152 95

State of New York, }
Oswego County. } ss:

L. T. Richardson, Superintendent of canal repairs, and having charge of the line of canal specified in the above abstract being duly sworn, doth depose and say that the foregoing abstract, amounting to the sum of $152.95, is a true abstract of all vouchers taken by him, as such superintendent, during the month of January '87.

Subscribed and sworn to before me }
this 2 day of Feb., 1887. }

L. T. Richardson
Superintendent

M. F. Stephens
Notary Public.

[illegible]

[illegible]

TWENTY-FIVE

[illegible]

Whole Forty-Five

[illegible]

the month of

FEBRUARY

in order to still further increase the large circulation of The Times. The books are printed with good clear type, in neat pamphlet form. The same books with cloth binding sell for $1.00 each. Read this

OFFER CAREFULLY

and take advantage of it. Every New Subscriber who pays $1.25 for one year's Subscription to The Times and every Old Subscriber who

Pays Their Subscription To Date and One Year In Advance, can have their choice of any

Twenty-Five

of the books in the following list, Free or the

List, Complete

with one years subscription for $1.50. This offer will hold good until Monday, February 28th. After that date it will be void.

MARVELOUS PRICES!

BOOKS FOR THE MILLION

Complete Novels and Other Works, by Famous Authors, Almost Given Away. The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. They treat of a great variety of subjects, and we think no one can examine the list without finding therein many that he or she would like to possess. In cloth-bound form these books would cost $1.00 each. Each book is complete in itself.

1. The Widow Bedott Papers. This is the book over which your grandmothers laughed till they cried, and it is just as funny to-day as it ever was.
2. Winter Evening Recreations, a large collection of Acting Charades, Tableaux, Games, Puzzles, etc., for social gatherings, private theatricals, and evenings at home.
3. Back to the Old Home. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Hidden Perils."
4. Dialogues, Recitations and Readings, a large and choice collection for school exhibitions and public and private entertainments.
5. The Standard Letter Writer for Ladies and Gentlemen, a complete guide to correspondence, giving plain directions for the composition of letters of every kind, with innumerable forms and examples.
6. The Frozen Deep. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "The Woman in White," etc.
7. Red Court Farm. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood, author of "East Lynne," etc.
8. The Lady of the Lake. By Sir Walter Scott. "The Lady of the Lake" is a romance in verse, and of all the works of Scott, none is more beautiful than this.
9. In Cupid's Net. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
10. Amos Barton. A Novel. By George Eliot, author of "Adam Bede," "The Mill on the Floss," etc.
11. Lady Gwendoline's Dream. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
12. The Mystery of the Holly Tree. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
13. The Budget of Wit, Humor and Fun, a large collection of the funny stories, sketches, anecdotes, poems, and jokes.
14. John Bowerbank's Wife. A Novel. By Miss Mulock, author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," etc.
15. The Gray Woman. A Novel. By Mrs. Gaskell, author of "Mary Barton," etc.
16. Sixteen Complete Stories by Popular Authors, embracing love, humorous and detective stories, stories of society life, of adventure, of railway life, etc., all very interesting.
17. Jasper Dane's Secret. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon, author of "Aurora Floyd," etc.
18. Fancy Work for Home Adornment, an entirely new work upon this subject, containing easy and practical instructions for making fancy baskets, wall pockets, brackets, needle work, embroidery, etc., etc., profusely and elegantly illustrated.
19. Grimm's Fairy Stories for the Young. The finest collection of fairy stories published. The children are delighted with them.
20. Manual of Etiquette for Ladies and Gentlemen, a guide to politeness and good breeding, giving the rules of modern etiquette for all occasions.
21. Useful Knowledge for the Million, a handy book of useful information for all, upon many and various subjects.
22. The Home Cook Book and Family Physician, containing hundreds of excellent cooking recipes and hints to housekeepers, also telling how to cure all common ailments by simple home remedies.
23. Manners and Customs in Far Away Lands, a very interesting and instructive book of travels, describing the peculiar life, habits, manners and customs of the people of foreign countries.
24. 87 Popular Ballads. Same size as sheet music. Words of all the old and new songs.
25. Called Back. A Novel. By Hugh Conway.
26. At the World's Mercy. A Novel. By Florence Warden, author of "The House on the Marsh," etc.
27. Mildred Trevanion. A Novel. By "The Duchess," author of "Molly Bawn," etc.
28. Dark Days. A Novel. By the author of "Called Back."
29. Shadows on the Snow. A Novel. By B. L. Farjeon, author of "Bread-and-Cheese-and-Kisses," etc.
30. Leoline. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Brenda Yorke."
31. Gabriel's Marriage. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "No Name," etc.
32. Reaping the Whirlwind. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Old Middleton's Money," etc.
33. Dudley Carleon. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon, author of "Lady Audley's Secret," etc.
34. A Golden Dawn. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne," etc.
35. Valerie's Fate. A Novel. By Mrs. Alexander, author of "The Wooing O't," etc.
36. Sister Rose. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "The Woman in White," etc.
37. Anne. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood, author of "East Lynne."
38. The Laurel Bush. A Novel. By Miss Mulock, author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," etc.
39. Robinson Crusoe. A thrilling narrative by Daniel De Foe, describing the adventures of a castaway in the South Pacific Ocean.
40. How to Make Poultry Pay. A practical and instructive series of articles by Mr. P. H. Jacobs, Poultry Editor of "The Farm and Garden," Phila.; illustrated.
41. Parlor Magic and Chemical Experiments, a book which tells how to perform hundreds of amusing tricks in magic and instructive experiments with simple agents.
42. Gems of the Poets, containing charming selections from Tennyson, Longfellow, Whittier, Byron, Shelley, Moore, Bryant, and many others.
43. Building Plans for Practical, Low-cost Houses. A full description and plans of Eight modern houses, ranging in price from $500 to $4500. Illustrated.
44. Anecdotes of Public Men—Washington, Franklin, Webster, Clay, Tilden, Lincoln, Scott, Grant, Garfield, Gladstone, Butler, Hancock, Lee, and all the leading men of the century.
45. Æsop's Fables. The work of an ancient genius. Children have read them for centuries, and grown people quote them every day.

OUR UNEQUALED OFFER.

We have arranged with the publishers of these books to furnish the whole forty-five with one year's subscription to our paper for $1.50; or we will send any five for 25 cts., or the whole forty-five for $1.50. Address all orders to publishers of

"FULTON TIMES,"
Fulton, N. Y.

How's This.

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Proprietors, Toledo, O.

P. S. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internelly, acting directly upon the blood and the mucus surfaces of the system. Price 75 cts. per bottle, sold by all druggists.

The January Thaw.

We splash and skip, we slide and slip, we grumble, prowl and jaw, through lush and slop we wade and flop, oh January thaw! With soaking feet we walk the street, the worst we ever saw; it is no joke to be in soak, thou January thaw!—Burdette.

Look! The household cure for sudden pains, stitch, cramps and soreness, is the Hop Plaster.

In North Carolina it is estimated that 40,000 persons follow the business of collecting herbs for the market.

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the Novelty Custom Mill, recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of [illegible], and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any grist or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. [illegible]

[illegible] to leave [illegible] from our midst and show them to defend the Nation's honor, and after more than two decades of peace with now a united, happy and stronger country than ever, an effort is about to be made to erect a Monument in our midst in honor of the soldiers, not only of the late war, but in memory also of those who fought in the Revolution, the War of 1812, and the Mexican War. The names to be placed on the monument in five classes, viz:

First—On one side those that served in the first three wars.

Second—Those that fell in battle or died in the service in 1861-65.

Third—Those that have died in the town since the war, wherever their place of enlistment.

Fourth—All who are living in the town at the time of erecting the Monument.

Fifth—All those who served in the Union Army from '61 to '65, who went from Volney and Granby.

As such a Monument will be public history and of personal interest to nearly all families in the towns we propose to send a Committee of our Post to see all families and invite all men, women and children to contribute whatever they are willing to give, from five cents and upwards. Such sums shall be duly credited to the persons so contributing, and a list of the same published in the village papers.

A printed full list of such names and contributions we agree shall be kept for public inspection in the G. A. R. Post Room, and a copy deposited in the town safe, and thus passed down to future generations.

When such funds are so raised, we will request the five citizens that contribute the most to this fund to act as a committee with six appointed from the Post, of which joint committee the Commander of the Post shall be Chairman, and such committee shall have full power to purchase a Monument and locate the place of erection. The committee names will be placed on the Monument in due form.

We wish all citizens to become copartners in this work of giving the Soldiers and Sailors a public record of their service rendered.

In a few days competent canvassers will these circulars, competent and worthy call on you for a subscription for this object. We sincerely hope all our citizens will liberally respond to this patriotic call, that the names and record of the men who went to the war from our midst and fought to preserve our liberties and the Union, now known to us may also be known to our posterity. When you are, therefore, deciding how much you will give, remember the "Boys In Blue." What would your homes be worth to-day had it not been for their patriotic valor?

Anson J. Osborn, }
J. S. Palmer }
Geo. H. Fassell, } Committee.
R. B. McCully, }
Ed. Waugh }
A. P. Chase, }
Amos Youmans, Treasurer.

Speed of the Fastest Steamers.

In answer to the question, "What speed is attained by the fastest steamer in the world?" the New York Sun replies: The ordinary good torpedo boats in foreign navies make about twenty-two miles an hour over the measured mile. There are a few, including the American boat Stiletto, that can make twenty-five miles an hour. The fastest boat in the world is the French torpedo boat Ouragan. She is credited with about twenty-nine miles an hour. At that rate she would move as fast as ordinary passenger trains between New York and Chicago average.

Is It Not Singular

that consumptives should be the least apprehensive of their own condition, while all their friends are urging and beseeching them to be more careful about exposure and overdoing. It may well be considered one of the most alarming symptoms of the disease, where the patient is reckless and will not believe that he is in danger. Reader, if you are in this condition, do not neglect the only means of recovery. Avoid exposure and fatigue, be regular in your habits, and use faithfully of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." It has saved thousands who were steadily failing.

Didn't Occur in Fulton.

A man comes out of a tavern and hurries down the street. A moment later two other men rush out and shout: "Stop him!" a dozen men repeat the cry, and the man is suddenly brought to a stand by a policeman. When his pursuers come up one of them remarks: "There, Fritz, it's no use trying to get away. You will have to take another beer with us." Then, turning to the gaping crowd: "I thank you, gentlemen, for your kind assistance.—Frankfurter Zietung.

Wife and I

had much trouble when our children were young and numerous nights were sleepless and days full of care. Happiness crowns our home now. We used VanDeusen's White Worm Confections. The change was a miracle, and we advise all parents to try them. Worms are the cause of many diseases in young and old. No family should be without a box. Sold everywhere. 25cts. VanDeusen Brothers, Kingston, N. Y. 39w4

Indian Reservations.

The Indian reservations of the United States contains 200,000 square miles, and their population is about 260,000. Twenty-six thousand square miles would locate each family on a half section of land, leaving a surplus of about 170,000 square miles, which would produce annuall $4,480,000. This exceeds by about $660,000 the entire sum appropriated for the payment of their subsistence and civilization.

Advice to Mothers.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth? [illegible]

[illegible] institution of its kind in Syracuse. In fact it is the city's hospital to which almost all cases of sudden illness or accidents among the poor and needy are taken for competent treatment. It has depended during its existence on public enterprise, private subscription, and small amounts of money received from people having means to pay. Lately its needs have been great and all classes of people in Syracuse have taken an active interest in an industrial exposition, mechanical exhibition and series of first rate musical entertainments, to be held in the Armory afternoons and evenings during the week beginning on Monday, February 14th. The exposition will close on Monday evening, February 21st, with a grand charity ball. The entire proceeds of the week's entertainment are to go towards relieving the financial deficiencies of the hospital.

Without doubt this will be one of the largest, most varied and interesting entertainments of its kind ever given in Central New York. The Armory is the most spacious building in Syracuse. The exposition will include in a mechanical way many new and interesting inventions in motion, including among other things, a saw mill in full operation, mowers, reapers and self-binders, trip hammers, button hole and buckle machines, oil, gas, electric, water and steam motors of various kinds, furnishing motive power for the machinery. There will be fancy glass blowing and the manufacture of confectionary going on all the while. A large and very complete art gallery will be a feature, under the supervision of Prof. George F. Comfort, dean of the fine arts college of Syracuse University, and a competent committee. There will be an elaborate display of bric-a-brac, gathered by experts, Caucassian, Turkish and Chinese bazaars, and a display of ancient and modern firearms. An exhibit of fancy goods, manufactured in Syracuse and elsewhere, will be a valuable and interesting adjunct in the main hall.

Every afternoon and evening there will be concerts, including instrumental and vocal selections by many well known musicians. Large bands under the best leadership in Syracuse, will give selected programs and the singing societies and musical organizations of Syracuse and its vicinity will give special numbers. Half fare rates are being arranged for during the week on the railroads leading into Syracuse.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. Cooley Tucker. 10tf

The People of the State of New York: By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Thomas M. Hubbard, Montague, Mich; Ira G. Hubbard, Elkhart, Ind.; Fred A. Hart, Mary Jones, Albert W. Hart, Emma Jones, Scriba, Oswego county, N. Y.; Jesse L. Coe, Sand Bank, Oswego county, N. Y.; Jane Hubbard, Thomas Hubbard, Volney, Oswego county, N. Y.; Frank Hubbard and George Hubbard, residence unknown; persons interested in the estate of Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in the county of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting.

Whereas, Lucy K. Hubbard, now of the Town of Scriba, in the county of Oswego, has lately made application to our Surrogate of the county of Oswego for the final judicial settlement of her account as Executrix of said Thomas Hubbard, deceased; therefore, you, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, at the law office of C. H. David, Esq., in the Village of Fulton, in said county of Oswego, on the 14th day of April, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to attend the final judicial settlement of the accounts of the proceedings of Lucy K. Hubbard as Executrix of said deceased.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David,
[L. S.] Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 24th day of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven.

L. J. Carrier,
Clerk of the Surrogates Court.

The Cosmopolitan

The handsomest, most entertaining, low price, illustrated family magazine in the world. ($2.50 per year, with a $2.25 premium free.) Sixty-four beautifully printed pages in each number, filled with short stories, sketches, travels, adventures, bright and brief scientific and literary articles, by distinguished American and foreign writers, such as Julian Hawthorne, Harriet Prescott Spofford, George Parsons Lathrop, Louise Chandler Moulton, J. Macdonald Oxley, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, H. H. Boyesen, Catherine Owen, Rev. R. Heber Newton, Alphonse Daudet, Paul Heyse, Count Tolstoi, Th. Dostoivsky, William Westall and many others. Also entertaining JUVENILE and invaluable HOUSEHOLD departments. One or more illustrated articles and several full-page engravings in every number.

A Shannon Letter and Bill File or a Shannon Sheet-Music Binder Free to every Subscriber.

These premiums sell everywhere for $2.25 each. The File is the most perfect device ever invented for the preservation and classification (alphabetically and according to date) of all letters, bills, etc. Any paper can be referred to, taken out and put back without disturbing the others. With the Binder one can insert or take out any piece of music without disturbing any other sheet.

Get SAMPLE COPY at NEWS STAND or send 20 Cents to publishers.

AGENTS WANTED. BIG COMMISSIONS PAID.

Schlicht & Field Co., Rochester, N.Y.

SWAYNES

THROAT & LUNG TROUBLES CONQUERED BY SWAYNE'S WILD CHERRY

TO KEEP HEALTHY 1. EXERCISE DAILY 2. EAT GOOD FOOD 3. BE CHEERFUL 4. TAKE SWAYNE'S PILLS

SWAYNE'S VERMIFUGE THE CHILDREN'S MEDICINE

SWAYNE'S PANACEA PURIFIES [illegible] BLOOD

[illegible]

OINTMENT

THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES

[illegible] Scrofula [illegible] Ayer's Sarsaparilla [illegible]

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

By Taking

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

HAVE YOU

never felt strangely tired, restless or uneasy? Have you had pains shooting through the head, along the limbs or around the back? Have you experienced strange sensations for which you could not account? And do you know that all these things arise from diseased Kidneys, which, unless promptly cured will run into Bright's disease and end in Death? The Kidneys are the seat of nine-tenths of all the diseases of to-day!!

The F. E. C. Kidney Remedy is an absolute cure for these troubles, and is guaranteed by the druggists who sell it. This is especially valuable for Female Troubles. Every weakened woman, whose life is made miserable by suffering peculiar to her sex, should know that of all the medicines ever sold, the F. E. C. Remedy the first and only guarantees relief or refunds the money. It is effectual, as thousands of testimonials will prove.

Sold by all Dealers everywhere.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not. Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

—FOR THE—

HOLIDAY SEASON!

SNOW & LOOMIS,

have a fine assortment of

POCKET CUTLERY, CARVERS, SKATES, SCISSORS and ROBES.

—Also a Novelty in—

FUR RUGS.

AGENTS WANTED [illegible] ELECTRIC [illegible] risk, quick sales [illegible] DR. SCOTT, 842 Broadway, N.Y.

EUREKA FROST CURE.

FOR FROZEN FEET, EARS, NOSE, AND CHILBLAINS.

Made from Agaricus, a rare plant from the frigid regions of [illegible]. A sure Cure. By mail 50c.

EUREKA MED. CO., Sharon, [illegible]

BARGAINS IN REAL ESTATE.

Below will be found a partial list of the Farms, Houses and Lots and other property I offer for sale for cheap or its equivalent:

Farm	25 acres	$175	$125
"	100	[illegible]	[illegible]
"	45	[illegible]	[illegible]
"	210	[illegible]	[illegible]
House and lot	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible]

Country store [illegible] Oswego City [illegible]

[illegible] Express ... [illegible]

... a. m. and 9:28 p. m., trains will [illegible] ... to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. Schwarz, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:35 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:05 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	7:50 p.m.

"PHOENIX LINE,"

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:31	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19p.m.	3:39	6:39

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

O. Pliny Conger has again gone to Paris.

J. E. Cary of Cortland was in town over Sunday.

Miss Zuilee Hubbard is in Syracuse for a few days.

Miss Puss Stewart is visiting friends in Syracuse for a few weeks.

Miss Laura Lang has been visiting her friend, Miss Mattie Wiltsie at Hannibal.

John Mitchell and family of Michigan are visiting in Oswego Falls, the guests of E. M. Baker.

Miss Hattie Bradshaw will leave Monday for an extended visit to New York with her sister, Mrs. J. B. Overton.

Solon F. Case accompanied his cousin Howard to Wichita, Kan., Monday. He will remain there for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hubbard of Mohawk have been in town for a few days. They returned to their home to-day.

Miss M. E. Deschamps, the popular dressmaker, is on a visit with friends in Philadelphia. She will be absent about a month.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Pratt left home this week for an extended trip to New York and southern cities.

C. M. Allen is in Cicero, Onondaga county, where he has been called by the serious illness of his sister.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Redhead who have been at Washington during the past week, returned yesterday morning.

Mrs. R. E. Phillips and Mrs. Julia A. Brodwell left this morning for Toledo, Ohio, where they will remain with relatives and friends for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward LaPorte, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mosso, Joseph LaLonde, Fred LaPorte and George Knight were among the excursionists that started for Montreal on Monday.

Rev. O. C. Cole and wife passed Sunday in this village the guests of O. Howell. Mr. Cole was pastor of the M. E. church in this village over twenty years ago. He is now located at Constantia.

H. C. Burdick, Sec'y. of the Howe Ventilating Stove Works is in town for a few days, the guest of A. Bristol. Mr. Burdick will come to remain about March 1st. He will not move his family here from Auburn until later.

Do not pay $5.00 per ton for coal when you can buy it for $4.65 of T. D. Lewis. 39tf

5c. 16 pages Band music paper. Jones' Music Store.

WANTED—A person to do general house work. Enquire of Mrs. E. T. Osborn, Oneida street between 4th and 5th.

For Sale.

Five acres of all tillable land, suitable for a garden with a good house and barn on it, with an abundance of fruit and well watered. Situated 2½ miles west of Fulton on the Hannibal road. Terms easy. Inquire of Dr. Watson at Watson's drug store. 36m3

Save 35cts. per ton and buy the celebrated Lehigh Valley coal of T. D. Lewis. Office at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 30tf

A good fire proof safe for sale, only $25, at the McCully Harness Shop. 38tf.

Hamburgs! Hamburgs! Largest stock and lowest price at the Boston Bazaar. 38w2.

Draper is closing out his large stock gloves and mittens at half their cost.

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf

For Sale.

A large, strong, valuable horse. Enquire at the harness shop.

37tf. R. B. McCULLY.

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 30tf.

Draper has moved all damaged goods from Oneida street to 34 First street where bargains at ¼ actual prices can be had as he has such a large stock of these goods and is bound to close them all out at once, (not at auction) but at private sale which is less noisy and the quickest way. Money will be refunded if any goods are not as they are sold for at No. 34 First St., opposite Clark House.

D. C. Draper, No. 34 First St., has an entire new stock of groceries on his [illegible]

[illegible] ... day nearly 150 miles ... in excellent voice and [illegible] the audience in a most happy manner. For a long time lovers of music in our village had desired to listen to this famous troupe and when at last the opportunity presented, itself every seat was occupied which was the expression of Fulton's opinion respecting the merits of this Quartet as musical artists. It was indeed a rare entertainment. Evidence of this was shown in the hearty manner it was received and encored. The jolly four caught the enthusiasm of those before them, and each successive appearance but called for a more stirring encore.

A very rich and classical program had been selected which was nearly doubled in length by the repeated recalls. The company graciously responded on each occasion rendering some of their choicest music. What to us seemed the gem of the evening and rendered after a second recall was when the four male voices gave "Remember Thy Creator." The harmony was simply perfect in its sweetness. While this beautiful psalm of Ecclesiastes was chanted as never before, in this village, the silence was profound. It was easy to believe that it had taken full fifteen years of practice by the Bostonians to reach this high state of perfection. If there had been no other attractions offered the audience would have felt satisfied and amply repaid in listening to the quartet alone. Not content with their own effort Mrs. Maud Starkweather, a lady of large musical culture contributed to the enjoyment of the evening by her rich soprano voice. She was complimented by a gracious recall. Still another pleasant feature were the violin solos by Miss Chandler. She displayed rare skill and won the admiration of all present. Although the audience seemed anxious to hear again and again the happy blending of these high, low, mellow and sympathetic voices, yet it listened with respect to Mr. Gilder's "Rhapsodie" and with interest to his own composition "Plantation Echoes," which quickly called him back; a compliment seldom paid a pianist. As an accompanist, also, he is entitled to much praise. The concert was a great musical treat and those present left at his close, with a feeling of having spent an unusually agreeable evening.

The Whitman Steel Works.

James N. Whitman, of Boston, later of Syracuse, a gentleman of considerable experience in the manufacture of iron and steel, came to this village last summer in search of a suitable location whereupon to erect steel works. After looking the ground over he decided to locate on the West side and soon after made a lease with S. C. Schenck to furnish the necessary grounds, buildings, etc., together with 100-horse power, the lease to run for twenty years. Ground was broken about October 1. Since then work has steadily been prosecuted under the general supervision of Mr. Whitman,—himself a practical mechanic. Everything is built with an eye to convenience and permanency. Sweet's patent heating furnace, of Syracuse, is used, which is considered the best yet invented. A full set of 8 inch train rolls, running at a high rate of speed and capable of turning out a large amount of iron and steel rods or bars, is in position, with ample room for more as business increases. The driving wheels, line shafting, self-oiling boxes, etc., were made at the machine works of Frank Dilts, of Fulton. The pulleys are of wood from the Dodge Manufacturing company, of Mishawaka, Ind., said to be superior to iron. They carry an 80-foot, 15 inch rubber belt and transmit 100 horse power. The works will be lighted by twenty-five incandescent burners from an Edison dynamo placed in the building. Experienced workmen from Cleveland, Ohio, are already on the ground getting everything in readiness to commence business. Within a few days at most the works will start up, giving employment to a number of men. —Cor. Syracuse Standard, Monday.

Prices Paid per Hydrant for Fire Purposes in Various Places.

We offer the following to the readers of THE TIMES as a matter of information. It is the price paid by a number of cities and villages in the state per hydrant for fire purposes. In many cities the water works are owned and are under the control of the municipal government. There are instances of this kind where if the expenses of running the works, interest on the money and other things be added together, and the amount obtained from private consumers subtracted from the whole would leave a deficit that would take from $150 to $250 per hydrant to make good. The prices given below come to us from a reliable source as absolutely correct.

Syracuse	$70.60	Auburn	$58.60
Utica	52.60	Oswego	75.00
Elmira	50.00	Schenectady	75.00
West Troy	109.00	Canajoharie	50.00
Jamestown	60.00	Greenbush	50.00
Ithaca	75.00	Waterloo	50.00
Lyons	60.00	Flatbush	60.00
Geneva	60.00	Greenwich	50.00
Norwich	86.47	Mt. Vernon	60.00
Canandaigua	60.00	Owego	50.00
Hoosic Falls	50.00	Bath	50.00
White Plains	50.00	Oneida	50.00
Waterford	50.00	Waverly	90.00
Green Island	50.00	Niagara Falls	50.00
Adams	50.00	Homer	50.00

Old Relics.

Peter D. McIntyre has in his possession a very old inch auger which has been in the family since 1690, and is therefore about 200 years old. It has cut in the very end of the handle the name of Daniel Abbott, the great great grandfather on the mother's side. They have also a wheel for spinning flax about 160 years old. The crank broke in 1836 and was repaired by Henry French, who had a shop on the flats. This wheel was [illegible]

[illegible] Lawrence ... has 180 ... and 21 ... in the [illegible]

The first lightning of the season in this locality occurred last Thursday morning.

Revival meetings are being held three evenings in the week at the Congregational church, Oswego Falls.

The U. S. O. S. A. have the last of their series of parties at the Uncas club parlors on Tuesday evening Feb. 15.

The electric light machines, of the Thomson-Houston make, have arrived in Phoenix and the lights will soon be in operation.

You can secure the Detroit Free Press and THE FULTON TIMES at this office for $1.85 This we make a standing offer to subscribers old and new.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Milligan, aged 11 months died in Kingston, last Saturday. The remains were brought here for interment, on Monday.

The young people's aid society of the Town Line M. E. church, North Hannibal, will give a box party at the residence of Mr. H. H. Phillips, Feb. 16.

Revival meetings, productive of good results, are being held at North Hannibal. Members of the Salvation army of this village occasionally go and assist at the meetings.

Porter W. Hyde has been appointed Deputy sheriff for the purpose of preforming the duties devolving upon an agent of the Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Bristol accompanied by their guests Mr. and Mrs. Rice of Cambridge, Washington county were among the excursionists to Washington during the past week.

It has been decided that a new jail be built in Oswego. It will be a rotary similar to those a committee of Supervisors recently inspected in Indiana. The selection of the jail site is at present causing some agitation.

The billiard and pool parlors in the Howard house block at Phœnix will be sold at public auction on Monday, February 14th, 1887 at 2 p. m. Here is a grand chance for some person to secure a profitable business at his own price.

A table, compiled by the regents of the state department, of the 259 schools that are subject to their visitation, places Syracuse high school No. 1, Oswego 26, Phœnix 37, Baldwinsville 46, Mexico 56 Sandy Creek 99 and Fulton 98.

Arrangements have been made for reduced prices on railroads to delegates and comrades who desire to attend the department encampment of the G. A. R. at Albany, which begins Feb. 23. Headquarters will be at the Delevan House.

The grand excursion to New York over both the N. Y. O. & W. and the D. L. & W. roads is to-day. Fair for the round trip by either road $7.00. Tickets are good for return passage up to and including Feb. 19.

George Chauncey, agent of the R. W. & O. railroad at Suspension Bridge and formerly of this village, has resigned that position and gone into the wholesale coffee business with his brother-in-law, J. B. Overton, at No. 110 Front street New York city.

Bishop-elect Ludden of Troy who has been appointed to preside over the diocese which includes the counties of Oneida, Oswego, Onondaga, Madison, Cortland, Chenango and Broome will be consecrated on Sunday, May 1. Syracuse is fixed as the See city of the diocese.

The following have been installed officers of the Fulton I. O. G. T. lodge: G. V. Emens, C. T.; Mrs. Isaac Darrow, V. T.; A. P. Bradt, sec'y.; Jesse Waugh, F. sec'y.; Minnie Hall, treasurer; W. W. Wells, chap.; Fred. Rowlee, marshall; Lena Hennings, I. G., G. Chas. Foster, O. G.

All will be pleased to learn that Rev. J. C. Brecker pastor of the Baptist church in this village is to remain. A meeting of the members was held yesterday afternoon, at which $300 were raised to pay a church debt and a sufficient amount additional to guarantee the retention of Mr. Brecker.

It is stated that Mrs. Adams of Syracuse, who proposes to help the afflicted by the method known as "Christian Science," has eight patients under treatment in this village and is here three or four times during the week. Mrs. Adams is the wife of a former pastor of the M. E. church in this village.

W. P. Osborne, the jeweler, has leased the front part of Beals' photograph rooms and will move into his new quarters on April 1st. He will keep in addition to his jewelry store a new and elegant line of books, stationary, &c. O'Brien will occupy the whole of the store next to the Lewis house after April 1st.

On last Sunday morning about two o'clock, fire was discovered in the hall way of the Lewis House by "Patsey" O'Brien. The heat from the register pipe which passes through the hall close to the stairway became so great that the woodwork ignited and but for its discovery and the prompt action of O'Brien a serious conflagration would undoubtedly have resulted.

Mr. George H. Niver, Grand Lodge Lecturer of the G. L., I. O. of G. T., of the state of New York, will deliver an address on the subject of temperance at the Congregational church, Oswego Falls on next Friday evening commencing at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Niver comes highly recommended as an earnest and eloquent advocate of the cause in which he is laboring. A cordial invitation is extended to all our citizens to be present at the meeting. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] the playing of Miss Celia Kelly and the recitations by the different young ladies who took part, Misses Middleton, Sheridan, Hunt and Otis were especially worthy of notice.

In the absence of Rev. F. Fournier, their spiritual director, Rev. F. Mahon, in choice, happy phrases befitting the occasion, complimented the sodality, inspiring them to still greater zeal and the further promotion of purity and holiness among its ranks.

PROGRAM:

Hymn, Ave Maria, sodality; reading, Going for the Cows, Miss Josie Pidgeon; instrumental solo, Shells of the Ocean, Miss Minnie Ahern; recitation, The Fate of Virginia, Miss Annie Otis; instrumental solo, Believe Me if all those Endearing Young Charms, Miss Celia Kelly; reading, The Little Cup-bearer, Miss Hattie Sheridan; vocal solo, guitar accompaniment, Then You'll Remember Me, Prof. Kresser; recitation, The Burning Prairie, Miss Nellie Hunt; address, Mr. William Dougherty; vocal solo, Peals of the Village Bell, Miss Annie Murray; reading, My Hunt After Baby, Miss Lizzie Martin; instrumental solo, My Old Kentucky Home, Good Night, Miss Minnie Dwyer; recitation, The Arab's Farewell to his Steed, Miss Mary Middleton; vocal solos Kathleen, Prof. Kresser. hymn, Sweet Heart of Jesus, sodality.

These receptions are held for the purpose of improvement and acquiring of literary tastes. This sodality is composed of some of the most estimable young ladies in Oswego and is the society against which the Fulton sodality contested in the recent banner contest at St. Mary's fair, Oswego.

A Double Header.

Yesterday police justice Shannon and policeman George Montague were summoned to Cleveland, this county on a warrant issued by a justice there, and sworn out by deputy sheriff Davenport of Madison county. It seems Davenport proposes to retaliate for the interference justice Shannon and officer Montague made with his taking John Cassidy out of the county before he had an examination before Shannon.

Davenport had Shannon and Montague arrested on the charge of assault in the second degree and they gave bail for their appearance the 18th inst. When they returned sheriff Davenport accompanied them, he having been arrested on a warrant sworn out by Montague charging assault in the the third degree. Davenport brought a lawyer with him and his examination was held last evening before justice Shannon and he gave $300 bail to appear for trial the 17th. Officer Parker appeared for the people and he and Davenport's lawyer had some sharp discussions on law points.—Oswego Falls Observer.

Nugent & Gleason's Metropolitans.

This well-known and popular company are playing a week's engagement at the opera house and as usual are giving most excellent satisfaction. Their engagement opened Monday evening with "Divorced." The play progressed with a promptness characteristic of this company. It was soon discovered that the old favorites had lost none of their former skill in acting their parts but rather; like wine, they seem to improve as time goes by. Last evening "M'Liss" was played with Mrs. Gleason in the title role, in which, this fine actress, scored another success. This evening a double program is announced. The popular drama in 4 acts "A Wife's Peril" and the laughable farce "To Oblige Benson." Everyone should attend.

Enlarging the Locks.

P. P. Smith the contractor for enlarging the locks on the Oswego canal, is pushing the work regardless of expense according to instructions. Sixty men are employed at Mud Lock, 46 at Hinmanville and 28 at Phœnix. The work of excavating and driving piles is practically ended. Men are now at work day and night concreting the bottoms except at the Phœnix lock which is rock bottom. Timbering and planking is also progressing rapidly and mason work will be entered upon next week.

Firemen's Ball.

Baker Hose No. 1. of Upper Oswego Falls are to give a grand firemen's ball at Johnston's hall in that place on Friday evening, February 18. Music by Parker's full orchestra. The following members of the company will have charge: Floor director, P. Lynch, assistants, W. Horton, M. Lynch, G. Fisher. Reception committee G. Stevenson, J. Parker, S. Halsted, E. Wilson.

5c. Violin strings at Jones' Music store.

FOUND: On Cayuga between Third and Fourth streets a pocket-book containing a small sum of money. The owner can have the same by calling at C. P. Tucker's grocery store, proving property and paying for this local.

Great Closing out Sale of Boots and Shoes.

To make room for new spring goods now making for us will close out a large line Ladies' and Gents' Shoes at greatly reduced prices.

THE SALMON SHOE STORE,

40w2. Opera Block.

Coal.

Schenck & Foster wish to inform their patrons and friends that they are not being undersold by any competitors, while it is a fact (quality of coal considered) their coal should sell at a higher price as they claim, but on the contrary they promise to give you better coal at a lower price than asked by them. Schenck & Foster are no new firm and what they promise can be depended on to the letter.

The Boston Bazaar has just received a new invoice of Hamburgs. Call and look them over. 38w2.

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. [illegible]

The Fulton Cornet ... hold ... social gathering at Church's hall this evening.

Mr. Andrew Coe an old and respected citizen of New Haven died yesterday aged 78 years.

Considerable sickness and scarlet fever prevail among the children in the village and vicinity.

Dr. Frank Hall and C. M. Allen of the Boston Bazaar have rented rooms in the "Bee Hive" block.

It has been decided to hold the state fair this year at Rochester. It will commence Sept. 8 and continue one week.

The Palladium is making a commendable effort to have a Young Men's Christian Association established in Oswego.

The R. W. & O. railroad are to give a grand excursion to Washington on March 1st. Fare for the round trip will be $10.

Collector Breed of Phœnix sold his first oleomargarine license last week. It was taken out by an Oswego retail dealer.

THE TIMES office is fully prepared to print caucus and town meeting bills, tickets &c. neatly and cheaply on short notice.

Rev. A. H. Hanscom, pastor of the Baptist church of Phœnix has offered his resignation as pastor, to take effect April first.

A series of meetings are in progress at the Free Methodist church under the supervision of their pastor, Rev. James Fulford.

Wilcox & Dexter of Oswego Falls have just filled an order for 100 cords of ice for the D. L. & W. railroad company's ice house at Oswego.

Rev. Father Earley delivered one of his impressive and eloquent temperance addresses before a large audience in Auburn on last Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Roach gave a party to a large number of friends at their home last Wednesday evening. A number from Oswego were present.

A barn belonging to A. Doxtader of Hannibal was burned last week Tuesday. It contained several tons of hay, farming implements &c. which were also destroyed.

The patrons of the West Monroe Union Cheese factory have re-elected the officers of last year, viz: James Hooks, secretary; E. Wightman, treasurer; J. DeGarmo, salesman.

Next Sunday Feb. 13 a reception of new members into the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin and the blessing of the new banner will take place at the church of the Immaculate Conception.

The Victoria Paper Mills Co. commenced their three years contract with the Thomson-Houston Electrc Company last Friday night when they were lighted by electricity for the first time.

The real estate of Mrs. Ellen E. Swan previous to her assignment is to be sold at public auction at the law office of Piper & Van Wagenen on Feb. 28th, Notice of the assignee's sale can be found in another column.

A chimney caught fire on the residence of Jerry Wilcox, situated in the southern part of the village last Wednesday afternoon. It looked as though serious damage would result but was finally extinguished without much loss.

The large 110 horse power water wheel "Hercules" arrived from Holyoke, Mass., the latter part of last week and was taken to the box factory on Saturday. The work of placing it in position and in running order will soon be completed.

John Franey of Buffalo, state factory inspector, has been inspecting the factories of Auburn, in which children are employed. Mr. Franey has discovered that several manufacturers in Auburn have violated the law and he intends to prosecute them.

LOST—At the Midland depot, Friday evening a lady's pocket book, red, morroco, containing a $5 bill, some change and other articles of little value to anyone but the owner. The person finding the same can retain the $5 as a reward, if the other articles the pocket book contained are returned to this office.

Mrs. Lena Blount of this village has commenced an action for divorce, for principal cause, against her husband Charles W. Blount. The parties have been married nine years and have one child, a girl, aged seven years. G. S. Piper esq. has been appointed referee to take testimony in the case.

The case of James Gratten of Granby, charged with having committed a criminal assault upon the nine year old daughter of a farmer named Cole, was tried before Judge Churchill, Monday. The prisoner was found guilty and was yesterday given two years and three months in Auburn prison. The lightest sentence that could be imposed.

The regular meeting of the C. L. S. C. will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Dilts, on Cayuga street, this evening. The program is: Sunday Reading, questions, "Warren's Recreations in Astronomy" and "Hurst's History of the Early Church," quotations about stars, paper on astrology, discussion, "Indoor Employment for Women" and reading a selection.

The White-Jacobs bastardy case, which has caused so much sensation and scandal in Hannibal where the parties reside and which was in progress of trial in Oswego during the past week has been adjourned until next Monday. The case of the people against William White, indicted for having seduced Maggie Jacobs under promise of marriage, was called yesterday morning in the Circuit court and is now in progress.

[illegible]

[illegible] Another Ex-Alderman has received his reward for the betrayal of his trust in accepting a bribe from the Broadway railroad managers. "Honest" John O'Neil is now awaiting sentence in the city prison, having been granted a respite in order that his counsel might leave no stone unturned in their efforts to secure a new trial. These trials and the convictions that have so far followed them are becoming so common that the people expect the result that has always so far followed the efforts of the District Attorney. When Jaehne was convicted, the general feeling was that his conviction was due more to his preceding conduct and his known connection with receiving stolen goods. The general opinion was that the trials of his fellows would either end in disagreement or acquittals. The action of Duffy and Fullgraff in turning states evidence dispelled this opinion and there is now no doubt of the final conviction of two or three more of the '84 Aldermen who were known to be in the "combine." So far as the other eight or ten who were not in the "combine" are concerned, the District Attorney's office has other facilities at its command to bring about the conviction of them also.

What makes O'Neil feel more keenly this conviction is the fact that he actually received but a small part of what was offered him and what he agreed to sell out for. The mediators between the railroad people and the aldermen were Keenan, the Bismarck of the County Democracy, and Billy Malooney the Reading clerk of the Board. To these two the half million dollars needed to pay the 22 Aldermen was entrusted. It is more than likely that to those who were more closely affiliated with these two men, and more particularly the former, received their share, while the others were given only a part with a promise of more. To this latter class O'Neil belonged. Malooney when he left New York for parts unknown, had a cool $100,000 in his pockets.

The efforts made by O'Neil's counsel to save him were great indeed. The wife of the dead alderman McLaughlin, swore positively that no meeting of the combined thirteen was held in her house as Duffy and Fullgraff in their sworn confession told. The previous good character of the defendant, his business methods and his good (?) associates—this and more, too was placed before the jury. But it was Duffy and Fullgraff's testimony, corroborated by the domestic, who saw the meeting of the "combine" at McLaughlin's house, that produced the conviction. The higher courts have upheld the District Attorney in each case and it is only a question of a few days before O'Neil joins his friends in the great white house on the shore of the noble Hudson. Cleary, the janitor of the big Equitable building comes next and then the bribe givers.

So the good work goes on. Public sentiment to a large extent is urging these convictions, and the education of public sentiment is entirely due to the efforts of THE NEW YORK WORLD which, by its persistent hammering, succeeded in bringing about the investigation of one year ago and the subsequent indictments. Success to the WORLD.

⁂

The reply of Dr. McGlynn adds a new chapter to the controversy between that clergyman and his church. The reply is defiant in tone and explicit in defining Dr. McGlynn's position with reference to Archbishop Corrigan. In some points the Dr. takes issue with the Archbishop, and the question becomes to the outside observer one of veracity. The most interesting part of Dr. McGlynn's letter is that in which the charge of the meddling in politics is met by showing that the Archbishop himself, or his counsellor, Mgr. Preston, was not above the same thing when the former desired Dr. McGlynn's intercession with the President in behalf of Gen. Newton for the vacant Major-Generalship, or the latter in his ardent support of Tammany in the last municipal election. Many Catholics regard this attack on Dr. McGlynn as singular, since no reference is made to his advocacy of Cleveland's election. The very strong support which he gave to Henry George and his refusal to abstain therefrom is the sole reason for this action. In this reply to the Archbishop Mr. McGlynn refuses in toto to go to Rome, denying the right of any authority outside of this nation to hold him to account for his political opinions or his views of political economy. His former parishioners have gotten over somewhat their indignation at his removal and St Stephens' is gradually quieting down.

⁂

Mr. Washington Irving Bishop is among us again. He is the gentleman who has given such wonderful ability to read the minds of people. He has been in all parts of the habitable globe and comes to the city for a final lecture, preparatory to leaving the lecture platform for some years. His is, indeed, a strange power. To discover things hidden in strange places, the numbers of bank notes, the thought then passing through his listeners mind are some of the accomplishments of this man. While in London, he made a wager with the Editor of the Truth to name the number of bank bills previously concealed. He succeeded in winning the money. When he appeared ten years ago a committee, consisting of the leading clergymen, jurists, scientists and journalists, gave him a thorough test. I think he failed in only one of them and that was due to the change of thought on the part of the person upon whom Mr. Bishop was operating. In appearance Mr. Bishop is not different from other men. He has a strong, well knit physique, and a very earnest manner, when talking. His movements are always graceful and dignified. He can give no reason for his power. He simply tells how he acquired it. It is certainly marvelous.

⁂

Would you believe that charity requires more than seven millions to meet its demands? No! Well, here is the list [illegible] one of these different societies, etc., working on different basis they often do a great deal of harm. To prevent this and to make this charity go to those who need it, a society has been created under the title of The Charity Organization Society. Public attention has been called to its methods by a certain Sunday newspaper, and I give you some idea of its methods. The society believes that the deserving poor ought to receive help and that help to come so as to make the objects of charity self supporting. Much of the alms given on the streets and from houses is given to undeserving. The society investigates each case, and those who, though charitably inclined, have no time for investigation, this society is the agent by which the rich may have their gifts worthily distributed. It investigates all charitable societies and such as are reputable it seeks to bring into harmony with itself; those that are disreputable—and there are many—it warns the public against. This society has been in operation more than six years and has investigated more than 20,000 cases where relief was needed. It protects the deserving poor while it punishes the lazy and shiftless—mendicancy is on the decrease. This public begging on the streets, this society discourages. Its officer arrests beggars. If they are worthy of relief, they get it, otherwise they break stone on Blackwell's Island.

If this large sum of money could be placed in the hands of this society better, far better results, would be obtained in helping the unfortunate. The best citizens of the city are interested in this movement; while the policy of the society is on the broad basis of, love for the unfortunate.

⁂

Theatrical circles are excited over the reported divorce of Mrs. Langtry from her husband. The beauty and the theatrical ability of the Lilly threw the gentleman in the shade to such an extent that he was known as "Mrs. Langtry's husband." The first time she came here, he accompanied her, and then he was reported a millionaire, but that was mere talk. She has been his banker, and he during the last few months has remained in Europe. Of course this divorce will give "Freddy" Gebhard a chance to make her his wife. His name has been associated with her's ever since her first American tour, and now the legal impediment being removed, it is more than probable a wedding will follow. Gebhard is a well-known figure in the avenue, a member of several high-toned clubs, and a patron of the racing track. He is rich, so is she. He has some abilities and she is developing a very fair actress. Their marriage will be an atonement for societies conscience.

WANDERER.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Vienna Bakery

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER,

18tf 26 First st

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Having
determined to close our Fall Stock at a reduction of 25 per cent. from regular prices
we will give our customers a chance to supply themselves with
the finest goods offered in the market,
at less than they are paying for cheap,
inferior stock.

PEEBLES & COOK.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING

A SPECIALTY.

Special Notices,

TO RENT. Rooms for a small family. Inquire of Mrs. E. Guild, Utica street, near Baptist church.

FOR SALE—My house and lot on Utica street within five minutes walk of the postoffice. Also lot on Oneida street, 6¼ acres, just outside of the corporation limits. Call on or address, R. P. HALL, Fulton, N. Y.

FOR SALE.—Farm of 72 acres 3 miles from Little Utica 2¼ miles from D. L. & W. R. R., near Cody school house. Story and half house with wing, good cellar, well and cistern, never failing spring, new barn 30x54, painted red, 14 acres woods, beach, hemlock, elm and basswood; soil, gravel and sandy loam in good condition, it has been pastured for four years, and is adapted to all kinds of grain, especially good for tobacco and potatoes. Will be sold cheap. Terms easy. Inquire of PETER DINGMAN, Liverpool, N. Y. or A. R. FAILING, Baldwinsville, N. Y. 38t4

FOR SALE.—A Farm for sale situated 6 miles from Fulton and 7 miles from Oswego, containing about 80 acres, 50 under cultivation. A large orchard, a large and commodious farm house, barn and carriage house in good repair. Will sell cheap. Terms easy. For particulars inquire of MRS J. W. WASS, Box 423 Fulton, N. Y.

FARMERS, ATTENTION!

Buy the celebrated Leihi Valley stove and chestnut Coal at $4.40 per ton, of T. D. Lewis. Yards opposite gas works. 39tf

T. D. Lewis continues to sell stove and chestnut coal delivered, at $4.65 per ton. Notwithstanding the raise to $5.00 by other dealers. 39tf

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w9.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.

24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

D. C. Draper is going to close out all of his sleds, dolls and toys of every discription at your own price at his store No. 34 First street.

Nugent & Gleason's

METROPOLITANS,

—AT—

Stephens Opera House,

THE ENTIRE WEEK—STRONGER THAN EVER.

Change of program Each Night.

This, Wednesday Evening,

The Powerful Melo-Drama in 4 Acts,

"A Wife's Peril."

To conclude with the most Laughable Farce, Entitled,

To Oblige Benson.

General Admission 25 and 35 Cents.

Reserved Seats at Watson's.

TO SUFFERING WOMANHOOD.

DR. GALT has so prepared his

"SPECIAL CURE"

—FOR—

FEMALE DISEASES

That any Lady can test its merits with very little trouble and small expense. It is put up in desirable form for

"SELF TREATMENT."

Price $1.00 per package by mail. Address

DR. R. S. GALT & CO.,
Oswego, N. Y.

ONE MORE MONTH!

The Lessor of the store we occupy has kindly consented to let us remain in the store until Saturday, February, 26th, 1887, to finish closing out our stock. We have left a large line of Tinware, Glassware, Fancy Goods, Dolls, Toys, Notions &c.

that will be sold at prices that will surprise you. Call [illegible]

Saturday, Feb. 26 positively last day.

ST[illegible]S

[illegible] $90,000 [illegible]

[illegible] nearly five [illegible] more of corn were raised [illegible]

[illegible] complain that the skins [illegible] are very thick and tough this [illegible]. It is likely that the dry season was the cause.

[illegible] and best-flavored pork in the world is produced on the Island of Madeira. The hogs there subsist mainly on fruits, nuts, grass and roots.

Experienced breeders appreciate the importance of warming the food for poultry during the cold weather.

Have a complete knowledge of your pecuniary affairs, in black and white. This is the only safe foundation for a successful year's work.

Jamison Road is the largest milk shipping centre in western New York. Last year it sent 528,400 gallons to Buffalo, and a creamery there located made 96,000 pounds of butter.

All work that can as well be done now as some months hence, should be done before the rush of spring work. Preparing the summer supply of stove wood can better be done now than in the spring or summer.

Canada, it is reported, has voted $300,000 to buy land and establish an agricultural experiment station in the Dominion.

Great loss to Montana cattlemen is reported in stock dying from exposure and lack of food.

Statistics compiled by the New York Produce Exchange give 82,909 packages of butter on hand in New York city Jan. 1, 1887, as compared with 63,875 packages Jan. 1, 1886. Fifty per cent. of this is western creamery and about 25 per cent. state dairy.

How many times a day should cows be fed? Cows have capacious stomach-room for storage. When they have loaded up with feed they lie down and masticate it at their leisure. In this they are entirely unlike horses, which have small stomachs, and do not chew the cud. If twice a day is often enough to feed a horse, surely the different organization of the cow should be served well by one less feeding. So says theory, and much experience confirms it.—Our Country Home.

Care of Live Stock in February.

Sheep—Provide warm stables for ewes near lambing and see that the lambs are not chilled. They should have roots rather than grain during this period. Cows—Milk up tolerably close to calving if the milk is good. If there is danger of milk fever—and there always is with large and rich milkers—do not milk out clean nor let the calf do so, for fully three days, so long as the colostrum can be detected in the milk. Poultry—No doubt a well-managed incubator pays well for hatching hens' eggs and duck's eggs. Good cross-bred fowls are more profitable for market than full breds. Always use full blood roosters and gobblers. Ducks and geese are the best bred pure, except, perhaps, when nonbreeding hybrids are desired, crossing common ducks with Muscovies and tame geese with the wild ganders. These are far superior for the table, and bring a proportionately higher price when known.—American Agriculturist for February.

Successful Farmers.

The most successful farmers in the long run are those who grow a sufficient variety of crops to have something to sell at all seasons of the year. The dependence on specialties sooner or later becomes a broken reed, which pierces the hand that rests upon it. Besides, few farmers have enough working capital, and having some odds and ends to sell at different seasons saves the needs of borrowing or running into debt. The little additions to incomes from these sources help more than their amount, for if the debt-making habit is not formed it is with any family the saving of a good many dollars per year.—American Farmer.

The opinion of the people is that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is the best and cheapest remedy for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, &c.

The healing and purifying qualities of Salvation Oil render it the best article for the speedy and safe cure of ulcerated sores. Price 25 cents.

Cereal Crops of 1886.

The area, product and value of the crops of corn, wheat and oats last year, as prepared for permanent record by the National department of agriculture, is as follows:

The corn crop in round numbers, aggregates 1,665,000,000 bushels, grown on 75,000,000 acres, and has a farm value of $610,000,000. The yield is 22 bushels per acre—4 1-2 bushels less than last year. There is an increase of area of over three per cent., and a decrease in product of 14 per cent., while the average price has increased 13 per cent., or from 32.8 cents to 36.6 cents per bushel.

The aggregate product of wheat is 457,000,000 bushels, from an area of nearly 37,000,000 acres, having a farm value of $314,000,000. The average value is 68.7 cents per bushel, against 77.1 for the previous crop and 64.5 for the great crop of 1884. This is 35 per cent. reduction from the average value between 1870 and 1880. The general average for winter and spring wheat is nearly 12.4 bushels per acre.

The product of oats is 624,000,000 bushels, 5,000,000 than last year, from an area of over 23,000,000 acres, producing a value of $186,000,000. The average yield is 26.4 bushels, against 27.6 last year. The average value is 29.8 cents per bushel, last year 28.5 cents per bushel.

[illegible]

[illegible] piped: "I'll be back in a minute!" In a few minutes the child appeared in the parlor, and sitting by the stove, laid the cat on a rug. Pussy seemed to be content with its nest, for the parlor had been warmed in expectation of the coming man. When the young lady appeared the little sister bowed politely and went out of the room. Once during the evening the cat started toward the doorway, but its owner hastily closed the door and sent it back by the stove. The visitor's curiosity could be curbed no longer and he inquired why she was so anxious to keep the cat in the parlor. No answer was given at first, but one was insisted upon, when she said: "You remember, my dear, that at the 'Mission' two weeks ago one of the fathers said that no young woman should be alone when she received a young gentleman. I did not want any other person around when you called, so I have determined to avoid being alone by having the cat always with me—at least as long as we remain single!" The explanation was satisfactory it is needless to say.—Utica Observer.

Mike Was Bad.

"Mrs. Murphy, do yez remember the time whin that son Moik of yours toied the dure of our shanty one marnin' and Dinny had to go to worruk through the chimbly.

"Dade, and Oi do. Wasn't it meself that whaled him fur't wid all the strength Oi had in me hand?"

"An' do yez call to moind the toime whin the same Moike did be puttin' our baby in the coal bucket an' hangin' av him up in the p'ach three in the front yarrud?"

"Arrah, now, an' wasn't it his own father that broke his cane into shplinters over his boick for that thrick?"

"And have yez in moind the episody whin he put red piper on the parlor sthove whin me daughter Bridget married Patsey Rafferty."

"Be aisy wid ye. It wor meself shure as held the b'y while 'is father played St. Pathrick's day an 'im with a bidshlat. Phwat do yez be comin' at?"

"Well, Oi've just found a soign over me dure which sez on it 'Shinese Laundry,' wid some beaste of a haythen name to the top, and Oi kim over in all nayborliness to ax yez if you couldn't kindly whale the divil out av Mike wid a crow-bar."—Merchant Traveler.

Mean Men.

The meanest man on record is the one who gave his wife an alarm clock for a Christmas present to enable her to get up early in the morning and build the kitchen fire.—Newark (N. J.) Call.

The meanest man in the world lives in Oregon. For some time past he has been wanting to read a certain book, but was too stingy to buy it, so on Christmas he purchased it as a Christmas present for his wife.—Seattle (W. T.) Press.

A citizen of Salt Lake, Utah, recently saw an incipient fire in a store and smothered it with his coat. He thus prevented a conflagration, but ruined his coat. The proprietor of the store refused to reimburse him, and so did the insurance agent who had a risk on the building. Now the flame extinguisher declares he will let the next fire burn before he will put it out.—Boston Globe.

A balsam peddler lost $50 a few days since, which was found near Buckingham's shoe store in Centrebrook by a little nephew of the shoe dealer. The peddler soon missed the money and returned to find it. When it was given him he was so filled with gratitude that when reminded that some reward was due the child, he opened his heart and his valise and gave him a bottle of his medicine.—Deep River (Conn.) New Era.

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous your wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box.

The Tallest of Known Men.

There appeared at the London Pavilion last evening, for the first time in this country, the tallest man whose height has been recorded in modern times. The new giant is an Austrian named Winkelmeier, and his height is eight feet three inches, which is one foot more than that of Chang, the Chinese giant. Winkelmeier was born at Friedberg, near Salzburg, Upper Austria, in 1865, his parents being in a humble station in life. He is the youngest of the family of five children, none of whom are of abnormal stature nor are his parents or grandparents unusually tall. His fingers span two octaves on a piano, and the stretch of his arm is enormous. He showed no development of this extraordinary growth up to the age of fourteen, but since then he has been growing rapidly, and medical authorities in Berlin and Paris have expressed the opinion that he is likely to increase till he is twenty-five. The young man is healthy, strong, and intelligent. Beyond doubt he is one of the greatest curiosities of the day, and his appearance last night side by side with a diminutive member of the Schaffer troupe of acrobats was extraordinary. A huge bed has been constructed for him in the building of the Pavilion, which will be his home for some time to come.—London Standard.

Experience vs. Inexperience.

It is a matter of regret that in introducing Hood's Sarsaparilla, its proprietors are obliged to overcome a certain distrust by some people who have unfortunately bought worthless compounds mixed by persons ignorant of pharmacy. Messrs. C. I. Hood & Co. are reliable pharmacists of long experience, and they make no claims for Hood's Sarsaparilla which cannot be substantiated by the strongest proof. And we say to them who lack confidence, read the unsolicited testimonials in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and then prove its merits by actual personal test. We [illegible]

[illegible] Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured him."—W. J. Beckett, Hymera, Ind.

The longest span of wire in the world is used for a telegraph in India over the river Kistnah. It is more than 6,000 feet in length and is 12,000 feet high.

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c by H. C. Giesler.

Recent careful calculations of the distance between the earth and sun gives exactly 92,958,000 miles.

HOW I FELT.

Why, two years ago I was just about crazy, and no wonder that my wife and children were afraid of me. You just want to suffer with neuralgia with no relief, as I did until I used Sulphur Bitters. They cured me, and now my wife says I am as meek as a lamb.—Robert Davis, American House, Boston.

Since 1845, but one Democrat has been sent to the United States Senate from New York state.

Home Rule for Ireland

is only a question of time and it is only a question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. G. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

Nearly 40,000 doctors have been graduated from the various medical colleges during the past ten years.

Convenient pleasant, and certain in their results, are Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. Recommended by physicians and endorsed by all who have used them. The best remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, and Constipation. Guaranteed, and sold at 25c. by H. C. Giesler.

Our country is bigger than China. We have 3,002,000 square miles, and China has only 2,000,000.

The Bloodthirsty Anarchists

Are foes to the health of our political institutions, but Coughs and Colds are greater foes to bodily health. Van Wert's Balsam will certainly cure all Coughs. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

Van Wert's Pills are very mild in action. Van Wert's Golden Balm is agreeable to use.

While excavating in Rome a house declared to be of the third century has been discovered.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Seven years ago a fire broke out in a deep mine near Virginia City, Nev., and it has been burning ever since.

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk and easily digested. Delicate people improve rapidly with its use. For Consumption, Throat affections and Bronchitis it is unequalled. Dr. Thomas Prim, Ala., says: "I used Scott's Emulsion on a child eight months old; he gained four pounds in a month."

The estimated cost of the great iron tower to be constructed in Paris is 7,500,000 francs or about $1,500,000.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it well save unnecessary doctors bills. For sale by H. . Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure catarrhal Headaches.

A statistician claims that there is one divorce for every four and a half marriages.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Maine, the Prohibition state has 1,300 saloons.

Send to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. for a book containing statements of many remarkable cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The Michigan copper mines have yielded $175,000,000 worth of that metal since their opening.

DR. PARDEE'S
REMEDY,
(The Only Reliable Blood Purifier.)
A SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM,
Scrofula, Salt Rheum,
Neuralgia, Ring Worm
And all other Skin and Blood Diseases.
[illegible]
LIVER AND KIDNEYS.
[illegible]
PARDEE MEDICINE CO.
Do Not Poison Your System
[illegible]

[illegible]

There is sometimes a great deal in a name. A prominent undertaker at Reno, Nev. is Coffin C. Bier.

Wonderful Cures.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., Wholesale and Retail Druggists of Rome, Ga., say: We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for two years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well, or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced Consumption have been entirely cured by use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold of R. E. Phillips.

There are at present 1,100 inmates in the soldier's home at Bath.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

Paul Tilton, son of Theodore Tilton, is making a reputation as an artist in Rome.

JAMES COLE,
The old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER
Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line
Caskets and Coffins
Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best
EMBALMING MATERIALS
And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.
Hearse and Carriages
FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.
Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell
DEALER IN
Marble and Granite
MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES
Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.
Work Equal to Any.
Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

—COAL.—
The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.
J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest Cleanest, Best,
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.
INDIA PALE ALE.
☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.
A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.
Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 5tf

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American [illegible]

[illegible]

Near Toronto is being constructed the first steel steamer ever built in Canada. The engines, however, are being made in Scotland.

A Point for the Business.

"Why do you wear those green goggles?" said a gentleman to a bootblack, who was busily engaged in shining up his shoes. "Are your eyes weak?"

"No sir, not particularly weak; but the shine I put on the shoes hurts my eyes."—Chicago Weekly.

One of Cincinnati's chief industries is the manufacture of lead, fifteen million pounds of which are made every year.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

Nearly twenty-five million dollars' worth of candy was made in California during the past year.

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c., 50c. H. C. Giesler.

In New York city there are said to be 8,600 families who receive help from the charitable associations and the city.

HOW TO READ

your doctor's prescriptions. Send thee 2 cent stamps, to pay postage, and receive Dr. Kaufmann's great treatise on disease; illustrated in colors; it gives their signs and abbreviations. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Alabama has a citizen named Thomas Garrett who has attained the age of 119 years.

QUICK, SAFE, SURE.

Why suffer aches, pains and agony in limbs, back and breast when for 25 cents you can be cured by VANDUSEN'S READY REMEDY. One bottle will prove its value. A remedy that should be in every family. It acts like magic. Cures sprains, wounds, cramps, sore throat. Try a bottle.
VANDUSEN BROS., Kingston, N. Y. 40t4

An Austrian giant named Winkelweir who is 8 feet 6 inches in height, will be an object of interest in London, England for a season.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

John Lawrence Sullivan, the hitter, is going to make a book bearing his name as author.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

Mr. Gay, one of the millionaire Congressmen, has about $1,500,000 invested in sugar plantations in Louisiana.

Greatly Excited.

Not a few of the citizens of Fulton have recently become greatly excited over the astounding facts, that several of their friends who had been pronounced by their physicians as incurable and beyond all hope—suffering with that dreaded monster Consumption—have been completely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the only remedy that does positively cure all throat and lung diseases, Coughs, Colds, Asthma and Bronchitis. Trial bottle free at R. E. Phillip's Drug Store, large bottles $1.

There is a newspaper in Dakota for every twelve hundred population.

There are 6,033 grand army posts in the United States.

An equestrian statue of George Washington is to be erected this year in Philadelphia.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps.

Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

SCOTT'S EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL,
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda
[illegible]

[illegible]—N. Y. World.

[illegible]
A foot or go over the line.
—Buffalo News.

A maiden lady says that if single life is bad it stands to reason that double life is twice as bad. But ladies rarely understand mathematics.—Scranton Truth.

The office boy remarked to us that the city seemed to be less cooled every day, while the thermometer went lower. He has been discharged.—New Haven News.

The convicts at Sing Sing ought to be musical, and perhaps are. The trouble is they can't keep time. They are always behind—a few bars.—Philadelphia Call.

Sixteen Senators voted for woman suffrage. Sweet sixteen!—Philadelphia Record.

The "oldest inhabitant" always means well; but he is apt to get rattled on facts.—New Orleans Picayune.

The man who has sand in him is not half so popular just now as the man who has sand on his sidewalk.—Boston Post.

The man who commits suicide by hanging, dies of his own free will and a cord.—Boston Transcript.

Rev. Sam Jones seems determined to get his work in on the American sinner. He is going to visit Montreal.—Philadelphia North American.

A statute of liberty—the fourteenth amendment.—Pittsburg Chronicle.

It is the empty heart that aches. The head is different.—New Orleans Picayune.

Dr. Mary Walker has one great sorrow. She has no little boys for whom she can make over her old pantaloons.—St. Louis Critic.

We think that man was excusable, who, when he was informed of the birth of his eleventh child, cried "Chestnuts."—Dansville Breeze.

You light a match to make it burn, and burn a match to make it light. The man who don't advertise can't see this.—Gorham Mountaineer.

Statistics show that the average life of a clergyman is 67 years, and of a day laborer 32 years; and yet Byron thought that whom the gods loved died young.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

When a man becomes thoroughly convinced that he is a genius, it is then that the fringe slowly begins to form on the bottom of his trousers' leg.—Life.

Boston poses as the hub of the universe, and unfortunates who have had occasion to travel her strets lately think there is a superabundance of wheel grease in her streets.—Lowell Courier.

If a man is determined to throw away his money, we would suggest for the benefit of the community that he get it all changed into silver dollars, and throw them.—Lowell Citizen.

A Chicago firm announces in its advertisement of wares: "Our dancing slippers for young ladies are simply immense." That is the kind of slippers in demand in Chicago. They will go off like hot cakes.—Exchange.

There is a church in Olney, Ill., without a hypocrite in it. The other Sunday the clergyman invited the hypocrites to stand up and show themselves, and not a single person arose. The pastor must have been greatly pleased.—Detroit Free Press.

Mrs. Pullback—Well, now you live in our neighborhood, Mr. Magunder, you must stop and hear my daughter sing. Magunder—Thanks, I have heard her. In fact, they took something off my rent because I lived so near.—Judge.

Mother (who is hearing Charley say prayers)—Repeat that, Charley—"In these three hearts I put my trust." Charley (who has been learning to play cards)—Mamma, why won't three diamonds do just as well.—Columbus Dispatch.

"Puck" says "there is no more excitement in hugging a girl dressed in a toboggan suit than there is in hugging a bale of hay." This is a comparison that doesn't compare. Who ever hugged a bail of hay?—Exchange.

The hanging of Cluverius has started Virginia papers to arguing the question, "Does hanging prevent murder?" It is a matter of history that cases are rare where a man is known to commit murder after being thoroughly hanged.—Philadelphia North American.

Some individuals have decidedly queer views as to what constitutes good luck. Some men believe that good luck consists in finding money, while with others the very essence of good luck is finding their wives asleep when they get home late at night.

Anxious mother (to small son who has just tumbled down stairs)—"Mercy me! Dick, Dick are you killed?" Little Dick—"Nome." "Are you hurt much? Do tell me quick." "No; That was the luckiest fall I ever had." "Lucky?" "Yes I only struck one stair on the way down.—Omaha World.

A youthful traveler on the Baltimore and Ohio road was curious to know the meaning of certain sign-posts along the track. "Conductor" asked he, "What does W. and R. mean?" "Why, ring and whistle," was the reply. There was silence for some time, when the young man observed: "I can see well enough how W. stands for wring, but I'm blessed if I can see how R. stands for whistle.—Harper's Bazar.

Every woman who suffers from Sick Headache, and who dislikes to take bitter doses, should try Carter's Little Liver Pills. They are the easiest of all remedies to take. A positive cure for the above distressing complaint; give prompt relief in dyspepsia and indigestion; prevent and cure Constipation and Piles. As easy to take as sugar. Only one pill a dose. 40 in a vial. Price 25 cents. If you try them you will not be without them.

A Notable Monument.

Another member of the immortal "Six Hundred" has just died. There [illegible]

[illegible] Hood's Sarsaparilla [illegible] this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. Wood, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. Balcom, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. Proudfoot, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.
100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS
THE GREAT
German Remedy.
TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.

General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.

SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

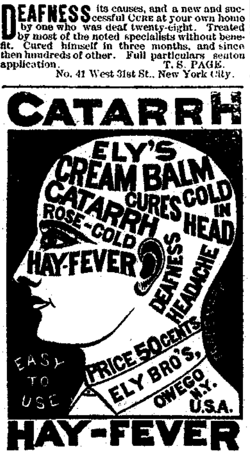
Send two 2c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful Cure at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE, No. 41 West 31st St., New York City.

CATARRH



HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM
Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the senses of taste and smell.
60 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents.
ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

KASKINE
(THE NEW QUININE.)

Science emerging from Darkness.

NO BAD EFFECT.
NO HEADACHE.
NO NAUSEA.
No Ringing Ears.
Cures Quickly.
Pleasant, Pure.

A POWERFUL TONIC
that the most delicate stomach will bear.
A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA,
RHEUMATISM,
NERVOUS PROSTRATION,
and all Germ Diseases.

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y.: "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured." Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful." The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made." Dr. L. M. Gleesner, 360 East 121st St., New York City, has cured over 200 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says, "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered." Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution." Rev. Jas. L. Hall, Chaplain Albany Penitentiary, writes that Kaskine has cured his wife, after twenty years suffering from malaria and nervous dyspepsia. Write him for particulars. Thousands upon thousands write that Kaskine has cured them after all other medicines had failed. Write for books of testimonials. Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price. THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
[illegible]
HINDERCORNS.
[illegible]

[illegible]
Dated Dec. 1, 1886. [illegible]

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1887, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix, Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, on the Friday succeeding the first Thursday in January, March, May, June, September, November and December.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in April, July and October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on the last Thursday of April, July and September.

PARISH—At J. S. Ludington's law office, on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday in April, July and September.

F. DAVID, Surrogate.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE. The undersigned assignee of Ellen E. Swan will sell at public auction at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the Village of Fulton, New York, on the 17th day of February, 1887, at 2 o'clock p. m., of that day all the right, title and interest which said Ellen E. Swan had on the day of her assignment in and to the several parcels of real estate hereinafter described, viz.: First parcel about 24 acres situate in the Village of Oswego Falls, Oswego county, New York, lying between First Street and the Oswego River, under the best state of cultivation for fruit gardening, containing about 600 currant bushes, 500 black currant bushes, 25 large [illegible], large number of peach trees, a number of varieties of grapes and other small fruit, all in good growing condition. Second parcel about 18 acres situate in the Town of Granby, Oswego county, New York, lying upon the peat bed, bounded east by land of Samuel Wood; north by lands of Mrs. Eggleston; west by lands of [illegible] and south by lands of Mrs. Collins; under high state of cultivation, well adapted to raising and now mostly set with willows.

Terms of sale made known on day of sale.
Dated Feb'y 1st, 1887.

CHARLES WHITE, Assignee.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE. Whereas on the 1st day of April, 1873, Isaac F. Pierce made and delivered to the undersigned mortgagee, Allan Gilmour, his certain mortgage, bearing date on that day, whereby he mortgaged to the said Allan Gilmour, his heirs and assigns "all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Hannibal, County of Oswego and state of New York, bounded and described as follows, to wit, being part of subdivision No. one of great lot No. eighty-one of said town of Hannibal and beginning in the north line of said lot No. eighty-one, at the northeast corner of land now owned by Daniel Randall; thence east along said north line to the north-west corner of land now owned by David Dexter; thence south along the west line of said Dexter's land to the center of the highway leading across said lot; thence easterly along the center of said highway to the east line of said lot No. one; thence south along said east line to the south-east corner of said lot No. one; thence west along the south line of said lot No. one to the west line of said lot No. eighty-one; thence north to the centre of the highway leading across said lot; thence east along the centre of said highway to the south-east corner of D. Randall's land; thence north along the east line of said Randall's land to the place of beginning, containing about ninety-five acres of land," which said mortgage with the power of sale therein contained, was duly recorded in the Oswego County Clerk's office, on the 21st day of April, 1873, at 5 o'clock p. m., in Liber 95 of mortgages, at page 316, and whereas the said mortgage was given to secure the payment of two thousand dollars with semi-annual interest, as therein specified, and default has been made in the condition of said mortgage whereby the power to sell therein contained has become operative and there is claimed to be due thereon at the date of the first publication of this notice the sum of two thousand thirty-seven dollars, and that the whole amount thereof is due.

Said mortgage was duly assigned to Stillman W. Mason on the 20th day of March, 1880, and said assignment was duly recorded in the Oswego County Clerks Office on the 19th day of January, 1887.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that in pursuance of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the statute in such case made and provided the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public auction, at the Lewis House, in the village of Fulton, on the 28th day of April, 1887, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day.

STILLMAN W. MASON, Assignee.
A. L. & E. O. JOHNSON,
Attys., Syracuse, N. Y.

LUMBER! LUMBER.
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c.
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
O. RUST.
37tf

PATENTS,
Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights
Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.
Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.
Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.
We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to
C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

—IF YOUR—
HORSE IS LAME
USE DR. J. S. MARKHAM'S
"Spavin Cure."
—IF HE HAS—
Sore Feet or Contracted Hoofs,
Use Dr. J. S. Markham's
FOUNDER OINTMENT.
☞They are a sure cure. For sale at the DRUG STORES.
31m6

MONEY to be made. Cut this out and return to us, and we will send you free, something of great value and importance to you, that will start you in business which will bring you in more money right away than anything else in this world. Anyone can do the work and live at home. Either sex; all ages. Something new, that just coins money for all workers. We will start you; capital not needed. This is one of the genuine, important chances of a lifetime. Those who are ambitious and enterprising will not delay. Grand outfit free. Address, True & Co., Augusta, Me. 33y1

WORKING CLASSES Attention! We are now prepared to furnish all classes with employment at home, the whole of the time, or for their spare moments. Business new, light and profitable. Persons of either sex easily earn from 50 cents to $5.00 per evening and a proportional sum by devoting all their time to the business. Boys and girls earn nearly as much as men. That all who see this may send their address, and test the business, we make this offer. To such as are not well satisfied we will send one dollar to pay for the trouble of writing. Full particulars and outfit free. Address George Stinson & Co., [illegible]

NEW ADVERTISERS
TO ADVERTISERS
[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

[illegible] YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER [illegible]

$1.50 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 16, 1887. Single Copies Three Cents.

Saint Valentine.

BY ADA [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] dear Saint Valentine, oh! tell me where you dwell;
Where is the desert country found, the place we love so well?
We've searched through all the latitudes and longitudes there be—
Perhaps it is an island fair upon some unknown sea.

Now, low and clear a voice is heard: "I live in Sweetheart-Land.
The waves that cross the sea of love creep up my shining sand.
It's never found on any map, this lovely land of mine,
And no one knows its secret shore but old Saint Valentine.

"Beneath blue skies through all the year the red, red roses blow;
Sweet secrets hide in all the flowers that in my gardens grow.
There bleeding hearts, love-in-the-mist, and oh! such tender things,
Bloom side by side with orange buds, which dream of wedding-rings.

"Within my trees there flutter now the whitest of white doves,
They're found in every Valentine, because they rhyme with loves!
While little Cupids come and go and bring the news to me
Of those who wait for Valentines beyond my unknown sea.

"So then I write, and write, and write, until the stars do shine,
And every letter needs must end with 'Say wilt thou be mine?'
I write in many languages, yet all can understand—
Who'd fail to know the meaning of a word from Sweetheart-Land?

"And now when at this wintery time the world seems bleak and drear,
And skies are gray and people wish the summer time were here,
'Tis then I tell of 'roses red,' and that 'the violet's blue,'
And though the 'pink is sweet, 'tis not one-half so sweet as you!

"My boat lies waiting on the shore, I hoist its silver sail,
A Cupid at the helm, who steers for me this Lover's Mail,
It's freighted down with seals and stamps, and every letter's weighed,
For even sweetest messages must always be prepaid.

"We touch at every single shore where true love may be found,
And then we fly, my boat and I, back to my shining sand;
'And there I stay till next year's day calls me me from Sweetheart-Land."

—Independent.

A Warning to Bashful Men.

He sat beside her near the stove
A prey to bashfulness:
To her he spoke no words of love,
Nor sought her hand to press.

No maiden ever had been wooed
By him; the fact was plain,
For silently he sat and chewed
The knob upon his cane.

Sometimes he at the ceiling gazed,
Sometimes his glance would stray
To her, but when her eyes she raised
He looked the other way.

And thus they silent sat till she
Said, "John, I ought to state
That pa and ma are out to tea
And won't return till late.

"Now while they're absent do not tease,
But pray remember this:
My hand you must not try to squeeze,
Nor steal from me a kiss."

At once the knob that graced his cane
John from his mouth withdrew
And said, "I won't; don't thing, Miss Jane,
That I'd do that to you."

A deeper silence then ensued
Than had prevailed before
John vigorously his cane's knob chewed
A frown Jane's visage wore.

And thus they sat till half-past ten,
And when John rose to go
And asked if he might call again'
Jane curtly answered, "No!"

—Boston Courier.

THE PROPER THING.

Entire dresses of English crape are made for widows.

The tournure is neither greater nor less—it remains stationary.

Corsages are extremely varied, as well for day as for evening dresses.

Corselets, continually altered and modified in aspect, are still much worn.

Black lace dresses will long continue to fill their useful function in the toilette.

Skirts are short for the street, demi-trained for evening and full trained for dinners and receptions.

The shape of wrappings changes little and in fact it would be difficult to make innovations, since all shapes are being worn now.

Henrietta cloth remains the favorite material for the first dresses worn as deep mourning during the greater part of the year.

The black-and-white striped silks are used for basques and demi-trained skirts, and make striking toilets. They are combined of black silk, velvet jet or lace.

Pointed gimp above a band of astrakhan or of the long-wave Russian lamb skin is a fashionable trimming for cheviot dresses. White cheviot dresses are worn in the house.

The fashion of low inner bodices, with the outer waist of transparent material, high in the back and with half-easy sleeves is returning and promises to be popular. This is worn at informal dinners and those occasions in the evening when decollete would seem more than the occasion required.

[illegible]

Bread is never made until it is kneaded.

A tumble in the price of wheat is not [illegible]

A LESSON WITH A MORAL.

When Will Our Eyes be Opened to this Great National Calamity?

The year 1886 played sad havoc with many prominent men of our country.

Many of them died without warning, passing away aparently in the full flush of life.

Others were sick but a comparatively short time. We turn to our files and are astonished to find that most of them died of appoplexy, of paralysis, of nervous prostration, of malignant blood humor, of Bright's disease, of kidney disease, of heart disease, of rheumatism or of pneumonia.

It is singular that most of our prominent men die of these disorders. Any journalist who watches the telegraph reports, will be astonished at the number of prominent victims of these disorders.

Many statements have appeared in our papers with others to the effect that the diseases that carried off so many prominent men in 1886, are really one disease taking different names according to the location of the fatal effects.

When a valuable horse perishes, it becomes the nine day's talk of the sporting world, and yet thousands of horses are dying every day, their aggregate loss is enormous, and yet their death creates no comment.

So it is with individuals. The cause of death of prominent men creates comment, especially when it can be shown that one unsuspected disease carries off most of them, and yet "vast numbers of ordinary men and women die before their time every year from the same cause."

It is said if the blood is kept free from uric acid that heart disease, paralysis, nervous prostration, pneumonia, rheumatism, and many cases of consumption would never be known. This uric acid, we are told, is the waste of the system and it is the duty of the kidneys to remove this waste.

We are told that if the kidneys are maintained in perfect health the uric, kidney, acid is kept out of the blood, and these sudden and universal diseases caused by uric acid, will in a large measure, disappear.

But how shall this be done? It is folly to treat effects. If there is any known way of getting at the cause, that way should be known to the public. We believe that Warner's safe cure, of which so much has been written, and so much talked of by the public generally, is now recognized by impartial physicians and the public as the one specific for such diseases.

Because public attention has been directed to this great remedy by means of advertising, some persons may not believe in the remedy. We cannot see how Mr. Warner could immediately benefit the public in any other way, and his valuable specific should not be condemned because some nostrums have come before the public in the same way any more than that all doctors should be condemned because so many of them are incompetent.

It is astonishing what good opinions you hear on every side, of that great remedy, and public opinion once based upon an actual experience, has all the weight and importance of an absolute truth.

At this time of the year the uric acid in the blood invites pneumonia and rheumatism, and there is not a man who does not dread these monsters of disease; but he need have no fear of them we are told, if he rid the blood of the uric acid cause.

These words are strong and may sound like an advertisement, and be rejected as such by unthinking people, but we believe they are the truth, and as such should be spoken by every truth-loving newspaper.

The Penalty of Fame.

When Senator Tom Bowen, of Colorado, leaned back in his seat and laughed uproariously this morning half a dozen of his staid and dignified associates crowded about him to learn the cause of his merriment.

"Here is a letter," he said, unfolding the dainty little missive he held in his hand, "from a lady in Oswego, N. Y. She writes that she has heard of my [illegible] success as a poker player; that I sometimes win as much a $5,000 at a setting, and while all this is very reprehensible, still, if I will contribute $1,500 of it to a benevolent society of which she is president, the Lord will probably condone my sinful ways and enable me to enjoy the rest of my winnings in peace and happiness.

"As a matter of fact," continued the Senator reflectively, "this letter if only a fair sample of others I receive daily. The newspaper correspondents have written so much about my luck at poker that a certain class of people throughout the country honestly believe I ought to share a certain percentage of it with them. I think the best thing I can do is to kill off a few newspaper men to begin with."

"But you do play poker, don't you?" inquired Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, seriously.

"No I don't," was the sharp reply. "I haven't touched a card in twenty years.—Washington letter.

[illegible]

A Cincinnati newspaper [illegible]

RETRIBUTION.

BY "THE DUCHESS."

CHAPTER V.

"It may be as you say, but, my darling girl, if you would only listen to reason, I"——

"I can't hear reason, as you ought to know by this time, and I don't think that is a very correct way to address a girl who is engaged to be married!"

"A very correct way when she is engaged to the wrong man."

"Do you think you are the right one?" demands she saucily.

"I don't think it, I know it," says he.

"Such knowledge is, no doubt, full of comfort," retorts she.

Drip—drip—go the fountains indoors, where they are sitting, behind the cool evergreens in the largest conservatory. Plash—plash—go the larger ones in the illuminated gardens outside. From somewhere beyond comes to them the last dying bars of a dreamy waltz—all around them the air is heavy with the breath of sleeping flowers. Massareene, leaning forward, lays his hand on hers.

I wish you would think of it, Millicent," he says, in a low tone.

"Of what? My aunt's indignation? my uncle's contempt? the combined wrath of my entire family?"

"No. Of flinging off the bands that now bind you, and of love and happiness with me."

"Would it be happiness?" she sighs impatiently, and then shuts up her large fan with an angry click. "I tell you it is not to be thought of," she says presently. "Things have gone too far for any change to be now made. My marriage with my cousin Granit Boyle is as much a fait accompli as if we had stood, he and I, before my Lord Bishop."

"You can talk very coolly of it. It can't, after all, be so very displeasing to you, this idea of marrying a man you profess not to love," says the young man beside her, regarding her with affronted eyes. He rises quickly from his seat and goes a good way from her, leaning against a marble pedestal that stands in one corner.

"Don't pose," says Miss Grey calmly; "I'm not a photographer. And don't talk nonsense either. I am not one of the hysterical sort, and can certainly talk coolly of this marriage that is being forced upon me. I have had time to grow calm over it, you must remember, as we were betrothed to each other when I was almost a little baby in white muslin and blue ribbons. It was in white muslin then," says she with a little curious laugh; "now I ought to be in sackcloth and ashes. I feel so bad."

"And he?" demands her companion with an effort.

"Wears his sacrificial wreaths with quite a jaunty air. I am an heiress, I would have you remember, my good sir. Granit Boyle is wise in his own generation."

"He's a mighty poor lot, to my way of thinking," says Mr. Massareene, in high disgust. Sometimes his Irish breeding makes a breach through his English education. "Don't mention his name to me—I can't bear to hear it."

"I don't believe it would cause me much of a pang were I never again to hear it myself," returns Miss Grey, who, if candor be a virtue, is possessed of it to an extraordinary degree.

After this a little silence reigns between them, then:

"Surely you are not mad enough to think you will be happy with him?" says Massareene excitedly. "He'll be the death of you. Looks like a man who would break a woman's heart. After all, supposing you do quarrel with your people—what then?"

"Then I should not only forfeit their esteem, which, after all"—with a swift glance at him from under her long lashes—"means a good deal to me, but I should cease to be auntie's heiress, and have my name struck out of Uncle Timothy's will. All that, my dear Gerald, would mean that I should be—still a lovely girl, no doubt"—with a rather constrained laugh—"but as certainly a penniless one.'

She lifts her eyes resolutely as she says this, though it costs her something to do it, and looks keenly at him. If she had expected any disappointment, or blank, or awkwardness on hin decidedly ugly face, she is mistaken. Gerald Massareene looks, if anything, relieved, in that now hope seems to have entered into him.

"My dearest girl, try to face that thought," he says, leaving his distant position, and once more dropping into the seat near her—much nearer this time. "I'm not a Crœsus; but if you could make up your mind to it, we might be able to make both ends meet."

"You have exactly seven hundred a year," says Miss Grey, who disdains subterfuge. "I found that out long ago by making inquiries."

Massareene laughs.

"You are worth a dozen of your sex in every way, but especially in one way," he says—"you never go in for deceit, however harmless, and you seldom beat about the bush. Yet 700 doesn't exaggerate it, and—ahem!—there is always, you know, the chance of the title when my uncle—Lord Ballymore"——

"Pouf!" interrupts Millicent, contemptuously. "When you have slain your uncle, you mean, who is almost as young as yourself, and who is as likely as not to have an heir at any moment."

"Not at any moment, my dear girl! The last—a third girl—is only a fortnight old, and several moments, at all events, must elapse before the arrival of the heir. And if it shouldn't come!"——

But Miss Grey declines to listen to any such weak imaginings, and Mr. Massareene, a little crushed, rather falls out of the conversation.

Being a young man, however, of indomitable courage, and an unbounded supply of perseverance, he presently recovers himself, and returns to the charge valiantly.

"I can see I am hateful to you," says he.

"Oh, no! Certainly"—politely—"you are not that."

"Yet can't endure me."

"I can, indeed, without the slightest trouble."

"I'm an ugly fellow, I know."

"Every one can't be as handsome as Granit," demurely.

"Oh! to the devil with Granit!" says Mr. Massareene, losing his temper.

"With all my heart," replies she, amiably.

"I don't believe you care for him."

"My dear Gerald! What a very rude speech!"

"Well, I can't help it. [illegible]

[illegible] might give his honest love—his whole life to her service—his very life; but there is no money with him to purchase such a magnificent gewgaw as this.

"No, silly boy! Where would Granit get it? Uncle Timothy solemnly presented it to me on the day of my presentation. That is quite a month ago now. Ah!"—with a quick sigh—"how long ago it seems!"

"You have spent the greater part of it with—him!"

Mr. Massareene seems to have an unconquerable difficulty about pronouncing his rival's name.

"That's exactly why," returns she, calmly. "And so you admire my baubles?"

"They are the finest things I have seen this season—or any other, for the matter of that." He feels quite a rush of enthusiastic admiration now he knows that Uncle Timothy and not the detested Boyle has been the donor. "And how unique in shape! One could hardly forget them, having once seen them. Those little heart-shaped balls falling from the necklet shine like fire in this light."

"There is a tiara, too, and a stomacher. But I didn't feel like living up to them—yet. Yes, it was a valuable gift, but one rather too elaborate for a debutante. Nevertheless, I wear it, if only to please him."

"You seem bent on pleasing every one, save me."

"And yet I have pleased most of all," murmurs she, coquettishly—nay, saucily—leaning toward him.

He lays his hands quickly on her pretty rounded arms, and draws her to him. Her resistance is indeed faint. He bends his head. Their eyes meet—almost their lips—when the sound of a coming footstep causes both to start into a more reserved posture. The caress, so nearly won, is lost!

CHAPTER VI.

Granit Boyle, emerging from behind an evergreen, comes leisurely forward, an inscrutable smile upon his firm lips.

"Our dance, Millicent," he says, in the slow drawling tone to which she is so accustomed, and which she has begun to hate so heartily.

"I dare say," she says, coolly.

"Will you dance it, or pass the time in the gardens?—they are astonishingly pretty."

"That depends upon whom I view the gardens with," says she, glancing at him insolenty from under half closed lids.

"With me, of course."

"Ah!—then I shall dance it."

"As you will, my pretty cousin." There is a touch of vindictiveness in the smile he bends upon her. "Perhaps, even, you would prefer to neither dance nor go into the gardens with me, but spend the half hour—another half hour—here with Mr. Massareene?"

If for a moment he had supposed he could confuse or disconcert her, he finds out his mistake at once.

"Yes, I should prefer that," she says.

Massareene at this makes a step toward her, but Granit Boyle waves him back with a curious laugh.

"No, no, my friend," he says genially. "You can not have it all your own way. I would not give up this dance with my—cousin." He pauses, and then laughs aloud. "Do you know, Milly, I was very near saying, 'with my wife;' but that would have been unlucky, eh? Counting before the happy time, eh? But really, you know"—turning again to Massareene—"I would not miss this dance with Miss Grey for a great deal."

"It is astonishing how much you can say in a little time," says his fiancee with an ill disguised sneer, rising with deliberate want of haste from her low seat. "Well, if this thing has got to be danced let us go and do it." She lays her hand upon her cousin's arm, and moves away a step or two with him. Then she glances back over her shouldder at Massareene, who is looking a little white, and comes to a standstill. "The next is ours," she says in a very sweet voice; "come for me as soon as you can. I shall be glad to see you again.." This is as much as to say she will be overjoyed when her dance with the man who is her affianced husband has drawn to a close.

Granit Boyle, with a smothered imprecation, moves on again, and she perforce accompanies him—but not to the ball room.

"I'm not going to dance this, nor am I going into the gardens," she says, with decision. "I am going to sit in the smaller hall, and criticise the people while they come and go. That will help to pass away the time."

"Until you can with politeness get rid of me."

"Don't be rude, my dear Granit. To put an unpleasant truth in glaring color is always a mistake."

"I will be mistaken twice, then, for your benefit, and to prove myself by no means a fool in your eyes. You will sit here and criticise your neighbors until it is time for you to return once more to the arms—I beg pardon—the society of Gerald Massareene."

"You have an excellent wit," says she, with an untroubled smile.

"You cannot, however, deny the truth that lies in it?"

"Why should I? You are such an extremely clever young man that one must believe you can see through the proverbial stone wall."

Mr. Boyle bestows a glance that is not altogether one of affection upon his future wife.

"Then you don't deny it?" he says.

"Certainly not. I should welcome the advent of any one who would relieve me—I mean you—of the burden of your—that is my—presence."

[illegible]

[illegible] me away. I am a devoted admirer of artistic effects. This, of yours, is perfect. I have always considered you pretty, my cousin, but never really realized the fact that you could be beautiful until now."

"You run it very fine," says Miss Grey, in a voice so subdued to be almost a whisper. "You are daring. It would hardly suit you, perhaps, to be thrown over by the heiress of the season."

"The heiress of the season would not so serve a devoted lover," replies he, still with that light mocking laughter on his sneering lips. "If she did—why—she might cease to be the heiress of the season."

He had dealt his little blow in a soft undertone, but it tells. It is all so true! Her uncle, Timothy Boyle, her aunt, Mrs. Brand, the two whose wills make her an heiress, could as easily unmake her, were she to go contrary to their wishes. And they have decreed that she is to marry Granit Boyle, the son of their dearly loved dead brother, the first husband of Lady Valworth. A whim on their parts. A serious matter with the girl now standing pale with passionate anger—with head down bent and a heart that madly fights with cold reason for a victory. To give up this man and a future that will land her on the world's stage as one of the richest commoners in England, or to resign this man and cleave to that other, who can give her only a very modest income and a heart all gold. "To be, or not to be?" This struggle is sharp, bitter, but short lived. She has been too well trained to willingly barter all for love. Cold reason wins the day, and the heart, sobbing, rebellious, fades into the background.

"As to the devoted lover part," she says at last, with a smile as careless as his own, "I will let you off all that sort of thing. We shall fulfill our destiny, you and I—we shall marry, and by such means gain money, and we shall die in all probability in the odor of sanctity—but of love, I thank you, we will say nothing."

"An excellent arrangement. They say those who love deepest say least about it. Shall we pose, then, as friends?"

"The least of all," returns she, with an angry flash from her large eyes.

"What! neither friend nor lover?"

"I have said so."

"Nor friend, nor lover, but only husband!" laughs he. "A very unique little affair altogether."

"Miss Grey, at last I may return to you," says a low voice at her elbow.

With a convulsive start she turns, and, as if involuntarily, holds out her hand to Massareene. There is something in the fond, kind, ugly face that now at this instant—when her soul is filled with horror of him whom she has promised to marry—appeals to her strongly.

"Yes, yes—at last!" she murmurs, brokenly, and moves away with him without so much as a parting glance at Granit Boyle.

(To be Continued.)

A Dozen Little Sermons.

Do good by stealth, and blush to find it fame.—Pope.

Self-love exaggerates both our faults and our virtues.—Goethe.

The stateliest building man can raise is the ivy's food at last.—Dickens.

Good manners and good morals are sworn friends and firm allies.—Bartol.

Thought is invisable nature—nature is invisable thought.—Heinrich Heine.

The noontide sun is dark, and music discord, when the heart is low.—Young.

Unless the habit leads to happiness, the best habit is to contract none.—Zimmerman.

Pleasure is the flower that fades; remembrance is the lasting perfume.—Boufflers.

The superior man wishes to be slow in his words and earnest in his conduct.—Confucius.

Application is the price to be paid for mental acquisition. To have the harvest we must sow the seed.—Bailey.

A couplet of verse, a period of prose, may cling to the rock of ages as a shell that survives a deluge.—Bulwer Lytton.

If I can put one touch of the rosy sunset into the life of any man or woman, I shall feel that I have worked with God, —George McDonald.

The Politician.

The politician is an expert of assurance r, at least he believes in having a policy.

He is like a broken bank, because he lacks principal.

He is like a pawnbroker, because his industry depends on his interest.

He is like St. Paul, because he "is all things to all men."

He is like a ball, because he lies on all sides.

He is like a circus perfoemer, because he gains the ring.

He is like a harp because he is a modern specimen of a lyre.

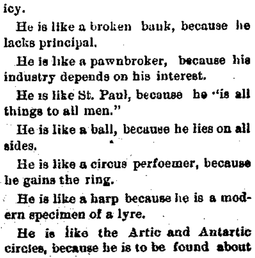
He is like the Artic and Antartic circles, because he is to be found about polls.

He is like the iron man, because he fines profit in steel.

He is like a telegraph lineman because he manipulates the wires.

He is like the dentist, because he often takes the stump.—Texas Siftings.

The population of the United States for 1890 is calculated by a San Francisco paper at 62,775,000.



Almost a Miracle.

Reuben Severance, of Upper Stillwater, [Town of Old Town, Maine] has been, perhaps, one of the most talked about men in Eastern Maine for the past six months. The cause of Mr. Severance's notoriety was the publication of the facts concerning his restoration to health and strength after he had been abandoned by physicians to die and had himself given up all hope of life. The facts in the case of Mr. Severance were stated to the proprietors of Brown's Sarsaparilla by Mr. Severance's son, who is a citizen of Bangor, and were published in the Daily Commercial. The publication immediately attracted widespread attention and interest but was generally regarded with incredulity as containing statements too marvelous for belief. Among those who took a deep interest in the case was Hon. D. F. Davis, Collector of the Port of Bangor, and ex-Governor of the State, who was an intimate friend of the late W. H. Brown, M. D., who had often spoken to him and to Chief Justice Peters, another of his particular friends, of the time he had devoted to bringing to its present perfection the great remedy which has immortalized his name. One summer evening a party, including Mr. Davis, and Mr. Warren, of the Brown's Sarsaparilla Company, drove out to the residence of Mr. Severance to learn from his own lips the story of his sickness and cure. In order to place the matter beyond dispute Mr. Severance's statement was put in writing and sworn to before Mr. Davis, who is a prominent lawyer and a justice of the peace. After describing the growth of the tumor and the other manifestations of impure blood and disordered circulation which grew with its growth, Mr. Severance says in his sworn statement:

I finally was obliged to abandon work entirely and took to my bed. I abandoned hope and prayed for death to relieve my sufferings. Physicians examined me and said that nothing could relieve me but the cutting out of the tumor, and the chances were that I would die under the operation. The risk they believed to be too great to justify it. At this time I commenced taking BROWN'S SARSAPARILLA as a kind of forlorn hope. I experienced an immediate change for the better, my appetite returned, food ceased to trouble me, the ringing noises left my head, and best of all the tumor began to shrivel up and disappear. It is now and has been for some time entirely gone. I feel 25 years younger than I did a year ago; my general health has never been better. I can and do work from morning to night and enjoy being able to do so. Only two or three days ago I worked in the hay field all day mowing heavy grass. I say God bless the man who invented this medicine. He should wear a crown. I mean always to keep a bottle of BROWN'S SARSAPARILLA by me while I live.

(Signed) REUBEN SEVERANCE.

MRS. Severance also made the following sworn statement: The above statement made by my husband, Reuben Severance, regarding his sickness, cure and present condition is true in every particular.

MARY SEVERANCE.

The following statement was signed at the time by a number of prominent citizens of the town, including Frank Hamblen, the postmaster: We, the undersigned, citizens of Upper Stillwater, (Town of Old Town Me.) have known Reuben Severance several years; have known of his illness as above stated by him and know that he has been cured. We believe him to be entirely reliable in any statement which he may make on this or any other subject.

Tumors are only one, and perhaps the least common, of the symptoms by which impure blood, imperfect digestion and disordered circulation make their baneful influence manifest. Brown's Sarsaparilla has incontestibly proven itself to be the greatest remedy for these disorders which medical skill has ever devised.

Brown's Sarsaparilla

For sale by all druggists. Ara Warren & Co., Sole Proprietors, Bangor, Me.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

Is a household name throughout the United States. It is administered as a specific, and with SUCCESS, in DYSPEPSIA, Sick HEADACHE, Nervous Debility, Liver Complaint, Billous Remittents, Bowel Complaints (especially CONSTIPATION), Gout, Gravel, RHEUMATISM, Nausea, the complaints peculiar to the maternal sex, and all types of inflammation. So mild is it in its operation that it can be given with perfect safety to the feeblest child; and so agreeable is it to the taste, so refreshing to the palate, that children never refuse to take it. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N.Y.

FOUR 4 Grand Offers to every reader of THE FULTON TIMES. Read every word of this advertisement, as we know at least one of them is exactly what you want. We are sure you have some old family picture of some dear and departed relative or friend you would like to have enlarged, and finished in a handsome portrait, or Imperials made of it. GRAND

OFFER No. 1 If you will send us the names of Three Agents, or some one you think would make us good agents, and any small picture, together with $3.75, we will make One Dozen Imperials, Satin Finish, Gilt Edge and one extra from same original, beautifully finished in Water Colors, placed in 8x10 plain gold mat, (our regular price $10) and send the $10 worth of pictures by mail prepaid. Old, faded, scratched or spotted originals, we carefully touch up before copying, retouch negative before printing, and put in new backgrounds when necessary; give color Hair, Eyes, Jewelry, Drapery and Complexion, so we will know how to finish the water color portrait.

OFFER No. 2 If you prefer a larger portrait and no imperials. If you send us the three agents names and small picture, with $3.75, we will make one 11 x 14 portrait (½ life size if ordered Bust) finished either in Ink, Crayon or Water Color, and send by mail, prepaid; our regular price for above portrait is $15; to obtain the one dozen Imperials and one extra Water Color, worth $10, for $2.75, or the 11 x 14 portrait, worth $16 for $3.75. This advertisement must be sent with the order before March 1st, 1887, as we positively will not fill an order at these prices after March 1st, 1887, our object in offering at so low a price is to obtain a good agent in your vicinity at once. OFFERS

OFFER No. 3 Any one ordering one of our PHOTO EMPIRE EQUIPMENTS for making Photos by dry plate process, without the aid of a teacher, price $30, before March 1st, 1887, will receive one Negative Box, worth $2.50 FREE. 80 page book "How to make Photos," and 5 x 8 Portrait made by Empire Camera, sent prepaid for 24 cts. (None free).

OFFER No. 4 THE ELCTRO RADIANT MAGIC LANTERN NO. 2 is equal to any other Lantern sold for $35. It projects on Screen a picture 8 feet in diameter, and our price is only $12, and if you order one before March 1st, 1887, we will place in the box one dozen slides, wit 2½ in. pictures, free of charge. Send money by P. O. Order, Registered Letter, Draft on N. Y. or Express prepaid. References. Large Magic Lantern Catalogue and confidential prices to general agents for copied and enlarged portraits sent for stamp. If you are not prepared to-day to accept any of these 4 grand offers, cut this ad. out for future use, as it may not appear again. Address,

FOR EMPIRE COPYING CO., 381 Canal St., N. Y. YOU.

The Manufacture of Hairpins.

For years the English and French controlled the manufacture of hairpins and it is only within the last twenty years that the goods have been produced in this country to any extent. The machinery used is of a delicate and intricate character, as the prices at which pins are sold necessitates the most rapid and cheapest process, which can only be procured with automatic machines. The wire is made expressly for the purpose and put up in large coils, which are placed in a clamp, which carries it to the machine while straightening it; from there it runs in another machine, which cuts, bends, and by a delicate and instantaneous process, sharpens the points. Running at full speed, these machines will turn out 120 hairpins per minute. To economize it is necessary to keep them working night and day. The difficult part of the work is the enameling, which is done by dipping in a preparation and baking in an oven. Here is where the most constant and careful attention is required, as the pins must be perfectly smooth and the enamel have a perfect polish. The slightest particles of dust causes imperfections and roughness, which is objectionable.—Brooklyn Citizen.

Struck It Rich.

A man in Leadville, Col., who can neither read nor write, is worth to-day at least $6,000,000. Four years ago he hadn't a penny, except what he earned from day to day as a miner. His name is John L. Morrissey. He is about 32 years old. [illegible]

What he Wanted it For.

"What do you want of the latch-key?" she inquired suspiciously.

"One of our traveling men is sick and I'm going to sit up with him. I though I'd like to have the key to wind up the silent watches of the night."

By the time she had recovered he had departed, key and all.—Merchant Traveler.

The site of the city of Washington and the location of public reservations, Capitol and the Executive Mansion were selected by President Washington.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & CO.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printing, [illegible] Street, over Eggleston's book store. [illegible] of every description executed in a [illegible] manner at fair prices.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
33 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE,
OSWEGO, N. Y.,
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Streets.
Centrally located in the business part of the city.
Prices Reasonable.
Commodious Sample Rooms.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—
Decker Brothers'
Matchless Pianos.
THE VERY BEST PIANOS.
Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.

COAL.
—GO TO
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
☞Ladies' Friend Carpet Sweepers repaired and for sale.

EUREKA CATARRH REMEDY.
NO SALVE! NO SNUFF! NO WASH!
The only internal specific. Cures—not as an irritant or astringent, but by directing the [illegible] life giving forces of the organism to the parts affected. Tasteless and pure. Children take it without difficulty. Price 50 cents by mail.
EUREKA MED. CO. SHARON, PA.

YOU can live at home and make more money at work for us, than at anything else in this world. Capital not needed; you are started free. Both sexes; all ages. [illegible] Costly outfit and terms free. [illegible] H. HALLETT & CO., Portland, Me.

MAKE
HENS
LAY
SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

LADIES [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

[illegible] YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 43

$1.50 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 16, 1887. Single Copies Three Cents

Saint Valentine.

BY ADA [illegible]

[illegible] dear Saint Valentine, oh! tell us where you dwell;
Where is the dearest country found, the place we love so well?
We've searched through all the latitudes and longitudes there be—
Perhaps it is an island fair upon some unknown sea.

Now, low and clear a voice is heard: "I live in Sweetheart-Land,
The waves that cross the sea of love creep up my shining sand.
It's never found on any map, this lovely land of mine,
And no one knows its secret shore but old Saint Valentine.

"Beneath blue skies through all the year the red, red roses blow;
Sweet secrets hide in all the flowers that in my gardens grow.
There bleeding hearts, love-in-the-mist, and oh, such tender things,
Bloom side by side with orange buds, which dream of wedding-rings.

"Within my trees there flutter now the whitest of white doves,
They're found in every Valentine, because they rhyme with loves!
While little Cupids come and go and bring the news to me
Of those who wait for Valentines beyond my unknown sea.

"So then I write, and write, and write, until the stars do shine,
And every letter needs must end with 'Say wilt thou be mine?'
I write in many languages, yet all can understand—
Who'd fail to know the meaning of a word from Sweetheart-Land?

"And now when at this wintery time the world seems bleak and drear,
And skies are gray and people wish the summer time were here,
'Tis then I tell of 'roses red,' and that 'the violet's blue,'
And though the 'pink is sweet, 'tis not one-half so sweet as you!

"My boat lies waiting on the shore, I hoist its silver sail,
A Cupid at the helm, who steers for me this Lover's Mail,
It's freighted down with seals and stamps, and every letter's weighed,
For even sweetest messages must always be prepaid.

"We touch at every single shore where true love may be found,
And then we fly, my boat and I, back to my shining sand;
And there I stay till next year's day calls me me from Sweetheart-Land."

—Independent.

A Warning to Bashful Men.

He sat beside her near the stove
A prey to bashfulness:
To her he spoke no words of love,
Nor sought her hand to press.

No maiden ever had been wooed
By him; the fact was plain,
For silently he sat and chewed
The knob upon his cane.

Sometimes he at the ceiling gazed,
Sometimes his glance would stray
To her, but when her eyes she raised
He looked the other way.

And thus they silent sat till she
Said, "John, I ought to state
That pa and ma are out to tea
And won't return till late.

"Now while they're absent do not tease,
But pray remember this:
My hand you must not try to squeeze,
Nor steal from me a kiss."

At once the knob that graced his cane
John from his mouth withdrew
And said, "I won't; don't thing, Miss Jane,
That I'd do that to you."

A deeper silence then ensued
Than had prevailed before
John vigorously his cane's knob chewed
A frown Jane's visage wore.

And thus they sat till half-past ten,
And when John rose to go
And asked if he might call again'
Jane curtly answered, "No!"

—Boston Courier.

THE PROPER THING.

Entire dresses of English crape are made for widows.

The tournure is neither greater nor less—it remains stationary.

Corsages are extremely varied, as well for day as for evening dresses.

Corselets, continually altered and modified in aspect, are still much worn.

Black lace dresses will long continue to fill their useful function in the toilette.

Skirts are short for the street, demi-trained for evening and full trained for dinners and receptions.

The shape of wrappings changes little and in fact it would be difficult to make innovations, since all shapes are being worn now.

Henrietta cloth remains the favorite material for the first dresses worn as deep mourning during the greater part of the year.

The black-and-white strided silks are used for basques and demi-trained skirts, and make striking toilets. They are combined of black silk, velvet jet or lace.

Pointed gimp above a band of astrakhan or of the long-wave Russian lamb skin is a fashionable trimming for cheviot dresses. White cheviot dresses are worn in the house.

The fashion of low inner bodices, with the outer waist of transparent material, high in the neck and with half-easy sleeves is returning and promises to be popular. This is worn at informal dinners and those occasions in the evening when decollete would seem more than the occasion required.

[illegible]

Bread is never made until it is kneaded.

A [illegible] in the price of wheat is not [illegible] the speculator in that [illegible] [illegible] his grain.

[illegible]

A LESSON WITH A MORAL.

When Will Our Eyes be Opened to this Great National Calamity?

The year 1886 played sad havoc with many prominent men of our country.

Many of them died without warning, passing away aparently in the full flush of life.

Others were sick but a comparatively short time. We turn to our files and are astonished to find that most of them died of appoplexy, of paralysis, of nervous prostration, of malignant blood humor, of Bright's disease, of kidney disease, of heart disease, of rheumatism or of pneumonia.

It is singular that most of our prominent men die of these disorders. Any journalist who watches the telegraph reports, will be astonished at the number of prominent victims of these disorders.

Many statements have appeared in our papers with others to the effect that the diseases that carried off so many prominent men in 1886, are really one disease taking different names according to the location of the fatal effects.

When a valuable horse perishes, it becomes the nine day's talk of the sporting world, and yet thousands of horses are dying every day, their aggregate loss is enormous, and yet their death creates no comment.

So it is with individuals. The cause of death of prominent men creates comment, especially when it can be shown that one unsuspected disease carries off most of them, and yet "vast numbers of ordinary men and women die before their time every year from the same cause."

It is said if the blood is kept free from uric acid that heart disease, paralysis, nervous prostration, pneumonia, rheumatism, and many cases of consumption would never be known. This uric acid, we are told, is the waste of the system and it is the duty of the kidneys to remove this waste.

We are told that if the kidneys are maintained in perfect health the uric, kidney, acid is kept out of the blood, and these sudden and universal diseases caused by uric acid, will in a large measure, disappear.

But how shall this be done? It is folly to treat effects. If there is any known way of getting at the cause, that way should be known to the public. We believe that Warner's safe cure, of which so much has been written, and so much talked of by the public generally, is now recognized by impartial physicians and the public as the one specific for such diseases.

Because public attention has been directed to this great remedy by means of advertising, some persons may not believe in the remedy. We cannot see how Mr. Warner could immediately benefit the public in any other way, and his valuable specific should not be condemned because some nostrums have come before the public in the same way any more than that all doctors should be condemned because so many of them are incompetent.

It is astonishing what good opinions you hear on every side, of that great remedy, and public opinion once based upon an actual experience, has all the weight and importance of an absolute truth.

At this time of the year the uric acid in the blood invites pneumonia and rheumatism, and there is not a man who does not dread these monsters of disease; but he need have no fear of them we are told, if he rid the blood of the uric acid cause.

These words are strong and may sound like an advertisement, and be rejected as such by unthinking people, but we believe they are the truth, and as such should be spoken by every truth-loving newspaper.

The Penalty of Fame.

When Senator Tom Bowen, of Colorado, leaned back in his seat and laughed uproariously this morning half a dozen of his staid and dignified associates crowded about him to learn the cause of his merriment.

"Here is a letter." he said, unfolding the dainty little missive he held in his hand, "from a lady in Oswego, N. Y. She writes that she has heard of my great success as a poker player; that I sometimes win as much a $5,000 at a setting, and while all this is very reprehensible, still, if I will contribute $1,500 of it to a benovolent society of which she is president, the Lord will probably condone my sinful ways and enable me to enjoy the rest of my winnings in peace and happiness.

"As a matter of fact," continued the Senator reflectively, "this letter if only a fair sample of others I receive daily. The newspaper correspondents have written so much about my luck at poker that a certain class of people throughout the country honestly believe I ought to share a certain percentage of it with them. I think the best thing I can do is to kill off a few newspaper men to begin with."

"But you do play poker, don't you?" enquired Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, seriously.

"No I don't," was the sharp reply. "I haven't touched a card in twenty years.—Washington letter.

A [illegible] Guide.

A Cincinnati newspaper man who recently led a blushing maiden to Hymen's altar, [illegible] to have [illegible] out upon [illegible] matrimonial [illegible] the [illegible] of the following [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] $2.00

RETRIBUTION.

BY "THE DUCHESS."

CHAPTER V.

"It may be as you say, but, my darling girl, if you would only listen to reason, I"——

"I can't bear reason, as you ought to know by this time, and I don't think that is a very correct way to address a girl who is engaged to be married!"

"A very correct way when she is engaged to the wrong man."

"Do you think you are the right one?" demands she saucily.

"I don't think it, I know it," says he.

"Such knowledge is, no doubt, full of comfort," retorts she.

Drip—drip—go the fountains indoors, where they are sitting, behind the cool evergreens in the largest conservatory. Plash—plash—go the larger ones in the illuminated gardens outside. From somewhere beyond comes to them the last dying bars of a dreamy waltz—all around them the air is heavy with the breath of sleeping flowers. Massareene, leaning forward, lays his hand on hers.

I wish you would think of it, Millicent," he says, in a low tone.

"Of what? My aunt's indignation? my uncle's contempt? the combined wrath of my entire family?"

"No. Of flinging off the bands that now bind you, and of love and happiness with me."

"Would it be happiness?" she sighs impatiently, and then shuts up her large fan with an angry click. "I tell you it is not to be thought of," she says presently. "Things have gone too far for any change to be now made. My marriage with my cousin Granit Boyle is as much a fait accompli as if we had stood, he and I, before my Lord Bishop."

"You can talk very coolly of it. It can't, after all, be so very displeasing to you, this idea of marrying a man you profess not to love," says the young man beside her, regarding her with affronted eyes. He rises quickly from his seat and goes a good way from her, leaning against a marble pedestal that stands in one corner.

"Don't pose," says Miss Grey calmly; "I'm not a photographer. And don't talk nonsense either. I am not one of the hysterical sort, and can certainly talk coolly of this marriage that is being forced upon me. I have had time to grow calm over it, you must remember, as we were betrothed to each other when I was almost a little baby in white muslin and blue ribbons. It was in white muslin then," says she with a little curious laugh; "now I ought to be in sackcloth and ashes. I feel so bad."

"And he?" demands her companion with an effort.

"Wears his sacrificial wreaths with quite a jaunty air. I am an heiress, I would have you remember, my good sir. Granit Boyle is wise in his own generation."

"He's a mighty poor lot, to my way of thinking," says Mr. Massareene, in high disgust. Sometimes his Irish breeding makes a breach through his English education. "Don't mention his name to me—I can't bear to hear it."

"I don't believe it would cause me much of a pang were I never again to hear it myself," returns Miss Grey, who, if candor be a virtue, is possessed of it to an extraordinary degree.

After this a little silence reigns between them, then:

"Surely you are not mad enough to think you will be happy with him?" says Massareene excitedly. "He'll be the death of you. Looks like a man who would break a woman's heart. After all, supposing you do quarrel with your people—what then?"

"Then I should not only forfeit their esteem, which, after all"—with a swift glance at him from under her long lashes—"means a good deal to me, but I should cease to be auntie's heiress, and have my name struck out of Uncle Timothy's will. All that, my dear Gerald, would mean that I should be—still a lovely girl, no doubt"—with a rather constrained laugh—"but as certainly a penniless one.'

She lifts her eyes resolutely as she says this, though it costs her something to do it, and looks keenly at him. If she had expected any disappointment, or blank, or awkwardness on his decidedly ugly face, she is mistaken. Gerald Massareene looks, if anything, relieved, in that now hope seems to have entered into him.

"My dearest girl, try to face that thought," he says, leaving his distant position, and once more dropping into the seat near her—much nearer this time. "I'm not a Crœsus; but if you could make up your mind to it, we might be able to make both ends meet."

"You have exactly seven hundred a year," says Miss Grey, who disdains subterfuge. "I found that out long ago by making inquiries."

Massareene laughs.

"You are worth a dozen of your sex in every way, but especially in one way," he says—"you never go in for deceit, however harmless, and you seldom beat about the bush. Yet 700 doesn't exaggerate it, and—ahem!—there is always, you know, the chance of the title when my uncle—Lord Ballymore"——

"Pouf!" interrupts Millicent, contemptuously. "When you have slain your uncle, you mean, who is almost as young as yourself, and who is as likely as not to have an heir at any moment."

"Not at any moment, my dear girl! The last—a third girl—is only a fortnight old, and several moments, at all events, must elapse before the arrival of the heir. And if it shouldn't come"——

But Miss Grey declines to listen to any such weak imaginings, and Mr. Massareene, a little crushed, rather falls out of the conversation.

Being a young man, however, of indomitable courage, and an unbounded supply of perseverance, he presently recovers himself, and returns to the charge valiantly.

"I can see I am hateful to you," says he.

"Oh, no! Certainly"—politely—"you are not that."

"You can't endure me."

"I can, indeed, without the slightest trouble."

"I'm an ugly fellow, I know."

"Every one can't be as handsome as Granit," demurely.

"Oh! to the devil with Granit!" says Mr. Massareene, losing his patience.

"With all my heart," replies she, amiably.

"I don't believe he cares for you."

"My dear Gerald! What a very rude speech!"

"Well, I can't help it. If I thought otherwise, even though I worship the ground you walk on, I would say nothing."

"Do you really think that?"

"That he doesn't value you properly? [illegible]"

[illegible]

might give his honest love—his whole life to her service—his very life; but there is no money with him to purchase such a magnificent gewgaw as this.

"No, silly boy! Where would Granit get it? Uncle Timothy solemnly presented it to me on the day of my presentation. That is quite a month ago now. Ah!"—with a quick sigh—"how long ago it seems!"

"You have spent the greater part of it with—him!"

Mr. Massareene seems to have an unconquerable difficulty about pronouncing his rival's name.

"That's exactly why," returns she, calmly. "And so you admire my baubles?"

"They are the finest things I have seen this season—or any other, for the matter of that." He feels quite a rush of enthusiastic admiration now he knows that Uncle Timothy and not the detested Boyle has been the donor. "And how unique in shape! One could hardly forget them, having once seen them. Those little heart-shaped balls falling from the necklet shine like fire in this light."

"There is a tiara, too, and a stomacher. But I didn't feel like living up to them —yet. Yes, it was a valuable gift, but one rather too elaborate for a debutante. Nevertheless, I wear it, if only to please him."

"You seem bent on pleasing every one, save me."

"And yet I have pleased most of all," murmurs she, coquettishly—nay, saucily—leaning toward him.

He lays his hands quickly on her pretty rounded arms, and draws her to him. Her resistance is indeed faint. He bends his head. Their eyes meet—almost their lips—when the sound of a coming footstep causes both to start into a more reserved posture. The caress, so nearly won, is lost!

CHAPTER VI.

Granit Boyle, emerging from behind an evergreen, comes leisurely forward, an inscrutable smile upon his firm lips.

"Our dance, Millicent," he says, in the slow drawling tone to which she is so accustomed, and which she has begun to hate so heartily.

"I dare say," she says, coolly.

"Will you dance it, or pass the time in the gardens?—they are astonishingly pretty."

"That depends upon whom I view the gardens with," says she, glancing at him insolenty from under half closed lids.

"With me, of course."

"Ah!—then I shall dance it."

"As you will, my pretty cousin." There is a touch of vindictiveness in the smile he bends upon her. "Perhaps, even, you would prefer to neither dance nor go into the gardens with me, but spend the half hour—another half hour—here with Mr. Massareene?"

If for a moment he had supposed he could confuse or disconcert her, he finds out his mistake at once.

"Yes, I should prefer that," she says.

Massareene at this makes a step toward her, but Granit Boyle waves him back with a curious laugh.

"No, no, my friend," he says genially. "You can not have it all your own way. I would not give up this dance with my—cousin." He pauses, and then laughs aloud. "Do you know, Milly, I was very near saying, 'with my wife;' but that would have been unlucky, eh? Counting before the happy time, eh? But really, you know"—turning again to Massareene—"I would not miss this dance with Miss Grey for a great deal."

"It is astonishing how much you can say in a little time," says his fiancee with an ill disguised sneer, rising with deliberate want of haste from her low seat. "Well, if this thing has got to be danced let us go and do it." She lays her hand upon her cousin's arm, and moves away a step or two with him. Then she glances back over her shoulder at Massareene, who is looking a little white, and comes to a standstill. "The next is ours," she says in a very sweet voice; "come for me as soon as you can. I shall be glad to see you again." This is as much as to say she will be overjoyed when her dance with the man who is her affianced husband has drawn to a close. Granit Boyle, with a smothered imprecation, moves on again, and she perforce accompanies him—but not to the ball room.

"I'm not going to dance this, nor am I going into the gardens," she says, with decision. "I am going to sit in the smaller hall, and criticise the people while they come and go. That will help to pass away the time."

"Until you can with politeness get rid of me."

"Don't be rude, my dear Granit. To put an unpleasant truth in glaring color is always a mistake."

"I will be mistaken twice, then, for your benefit, and to prove myself by no means a fool in your eyes. You will sit here and criticise your neighbors until it is time for you to return once more to the arms—I beg pardon—the society of Gerald Massareene."

"You have an excellent wit," says she, with an untroubled smile.

"You cannot, however, deny the truth that lies in it?"

"Why should I? You are such an extremely clever young man that one must believe you can see through the proverbial stone wall."

Mr. Boyle bestows a glance that is not altogether one of affection upon his future wife.

"Then you don't deny it?" he says.

"Certainly not. I should welcome the advent of any one who would relieve me—I mean you—of the burden of your—that is my—presence."

She laughs as she gives voice to this little impertinence—made all the more pointed by the affectation of modesty that runs through it. Granit frowns openly. If the day should ever come in which he might claim this willful lady as his own—if—(it seems very improbable—at this moment specially so) he will certainly teach her such a lesson in propriety as she will not be likely to forget for the remainder of her days.

"Don't trouble yourself to try to be polite, even in ridicule," he says, in a voice that suggests a good deal of hidden wrath beneath the forced calmness of his demeanor. "But even you and Mr. Massareene cannot dance together all night without laying yourselves open to unkindly comment. An effete civilization has so ordained it, that the world has grown to look on such vulgar exhibitions of affection as—indecent."

Miss Grey lets her fan drop to her side, and brings her hands together with a sudden sharp movement.

"How dare you?" she says, in a low tone.

"Hah! At last I have touched you, my pretty cousin!" cries he, gayly. "A little of that revenge, so wisely called sweet, has fallen to my portion to-night. Why, you look positively pale! Come, pull yourself together; call upon that indomitable spirit in which you pride yourself, and give me back my blow! [illegible] me away. I am a devoted admirer of artistic effects. This, of yours, is perfect. I have always considered you pretty, my cousin, but never really realized the fact that you could be beautiful until now."

[illegible]

"You run it very fine," says Miss Grey, in a voice so subdued to be almost a whisper. "You are daring. It would hardly suit you, perhaps, to be thrown over by the heiress of the season."

"The heiress of the season would not so serve a devoted lover," replies he, still with that light mocking laughter on his sneering lips. "If she did—why—she might cease to be the heiress of the season."

He had dealt his little blow in a soft undertone, but it tells. It is all so true! Her uncle, Timothy Boyle, her aunt, Mrs. Brand, the two whose wills make her an heiress, could as easily unmake her, were she to go contrary to their wishes. And they have decreed that she is to marry Granit Boyle, the son of their dearly loved dead brother, the first husband of Lady Valworth. A whim on their parts. A serious matter with the girl now standing pale with passionate anger—with head down bent and a heart that madly fights with cold reason for a victory. To give up this man and a future that will land her on the world's stage as one of the richest commoners in England, or to resign this man and cleave to that other, who can give her only a very modest income and a heart all gold. "To be, or not to be?" This struggle is sharp, bitter, but short lived. She has been too well trained to willingly barter all for love. Cold reason wins the day, and the heart, sobbing, rebellious, fades into the background.

"As to the devoted lover part," she says at last, with a smile as careless as his own, "I will let you off all that sort of thing. We shall fulfill our destiny, you and I—we shall marry, and by such means gain money, and we shall die in all probability in the odor of sanctity—but of love, I thank you, we will say nothing."

"An excellent arrangement. They say those who love deepest say least about it. Shall we pose, then, as friends?"

"The least of all," returns she, with an angry flash from her large eyes.

"What! neither friend nor lover?"

"I have said so."

"Nor friend, nor lover, but only husband!" laughs he. "A very unique little affair altogether."

"Miss Grey, at last I may return to you," says a low voice at her elbow.

With a convulsive start she turns, and, as if involuntarily, holds out her hand to Massareene. There is something in the fond, kind, ugly face that now at this instant—when her soul is filled with horror of him whom she has promised to marry—appeals to her strongly.

"Yes, yes—at last!" she murmurs, brokenly, and moves away with him without so much as a parting glance at Granit Boyle.

(To be Continued.)

A Dozen Little Sermons.

Do good by stealth, and blush to find it fame.—Pope.

Self-love exaggerates both our faults and our virtues.—Goethe.

The stateliest building man can raise is the ivy's food at last.—Dickens.

Good manners and good morals are sworn friends and firm allies.—Bartol.

Thought is invisable nature—nature is invisable thought.—Heinrich Heine.

The noontide sun is dark, and music discord, when the heart is low.—Young.

Unless the habit leads to happiness, the best habit is to contract none.—Zimmerman.

Pleasure is the flower that fades; remembrance is the lasting perfume.—Boufflers.

The superior man wishes to be slow in his words and earnest in his conduct.—Confucius.

Application is the price to be paid for mental acquisition. To have the harvest we must sow the seed.—Bailey.

A couplet of verse, a period of prose, may cling to the rock of ages as a shell that survives a deluge.—Bulwer Lytton.

If I can put one touch of the rosy sunset into the life of any man or woman, I shall feel that I have worked with God.—George McDonald.

The Politician.

The politician is an expert of assurance r, at least he believes in having a policy.

He is like a broken bank, because he lacks principal.

He is like a pawnbroker, because his industry depends on his interest.

He is like St. Paul, because he "is all things to all men."

He is like a ball, because he lies on all sides.

He is like a circus perfoemer, because he gains the ring.

He is like a harp because he is a modern specimen of a lyre.

He is like the Artic and Antartic circles, because he is to be found about polls.

He is like the iron man, because he fines profit in steal.

He is like a telegraph lineman because he manipulates the wires.

He is like the dentist, because he often takes the stump.—Texas Siftings.

The population of the United States for 1890 is calculated by a San Francisco paper at 62,775,000.

Almost a Miracle.

Reuben Severance, of Upper Stillwater, [Town of Old Town, Maine] has been, perhaps, one of the most talked about men in Eastern Maine for the past six months. The cause of Mr. Severance's notoriety was the publication of the facts concerning his restoration to health and strength after he had been abandoned by physicians to die and had himself given up all hope of life. The facts in the case of Mr. Severance were stated to the proprietors of Brown's Sarsaparilla by Mr. Severance's son, who is a citizen of Bangor, and were published in the Daily Commercial. The publication immediately attracted widespread attention and interest but was generally regarded with incredulity as containing statements too marvelous for belief. Among those who took a deep interest in the case was Hon. D. F. Davis, Collector of the Port of Bangor, and ex-Governor of the State, who was an intimate friend of the late W. H. Brown, M. D., who had often spoken to him and to Chief Justice Peters, another of his particular friends, of the time he had devoted to bringing to its present perfection the great remedy which has immortalized his name. One summer evening a party, including Mr. Davis, and Mr. Warren, of the Brown's Sarsaparilla Company, drove out to the residence of Mr. Severance to learn from his own lips the story of his sickness and cure. In order to place the matter beyond dispute Mr. Severance's statement was put in writing and sworn to before Mr. Davis, who is a prominent lawyer and a justice of the peace. After describing the growth of the tumor and the other manifestations of impure blood and disordered circulation which grew with its growth, Mr. Severance says in his sworn statement:

I finally was obliged to abandon work entirely and took to my bed. I abandoned hope and prayed for death to relieve my sufferings. Physicians examined me and said that nothing could relieve me but the cutting out of the tumor, and the chances were that I would die under the operation. The risk they believed to be too great to justify it. At this time I commenced taking BROWN'S SARSAPARILLA as a kind of forlorn hope. I experienced an immediate change for the better, my appetite returned, food ceased to trouble me, the ringing noises left my head, and best of all the tumor began to shrivel up and disappear. It is now and has been for some time entirely gone. I feel 25 years younger than I did a year ago; my general health has never been better. I can and do work from morning to night and enjoy being able to do so. Only two or three days ago I worked in the hay field all day mowing heavy grass. I say God bless the man who invented this medicine. He should wear a crown. I mean always to keep a bottle of BROWN'S SARSAPARILLA by me while I live.

(Signed) REUBEN SEVERANCE.

Mrs. Severance also made the following sworn statement: The above statement made by my husband, Reuben Severance, regarding his sickness, cure and present condition is true in every particular.

MARY SEVERANCE.

The following statement was signed at the time by a number of prominent citizens of the town, including Frank Hamblen, the postmaster: We, the undersigned, citizens of Upper Stillwater, (Town of Old Town Me.) have known Reuben Severance several years; have known of his illness as above stated by him and know that he has been cured. We believe him to be entirely reliable in any statement which he may make on this or any other subject.

Tumors are only one, and perhaps the least common, of the symptoms by which impure blood, imperfect digestion and disordered circulation make their baneful influence manifest. Brown's Sarsaparilla has incontestibly proven itself to be the greatest remedy for these disorders which medical skill has ever devised.

Brown's Sarsaparilla

For sale by all druggists. Ara Warren & Co., Sole Proprietors, Bangor, Me.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

Is a household name throughout the United States. It is administered as a specific, and with SUCCESS, in DYSPEPSIA, Sick HEADACHE, Nervous Debility, Liver Complaint, Billous Remittents, Bowel Complaints (especially CONSTIPATION), Gout, Gravel, RHEUMATISM, Nausea, the complaints peculiar to the maternal sex, and all types of Inflammation.

So mild is it in its operation that it can be given with perfect safety to the feeblest child; and so agreeable is it to the taste, so refreshing to the palate, that children never refuse to take it. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N. Y.

FOUR GRAND OFFERS FOR YOU.

4 Grand Offers to every reader of THE FULTON TIMES. Read every word of this advertisement, as we know at least one of them is exactly what you want. We are sure you have some old family picture of some dear and departed relative or friend you would like to have enlarged, and finished in a handsome portrait, or Imperials made of it.

OFFER No. 1 If you will send us the names of Three Agents, or some one you think would make us good agents, and any small picture, together with $2.75, we will make One Dozen Imperials, Satin Finish, Gilt Edge and one extra from same original, beautifully finished in Water Colors, placed in 8x10 plain gold mat, (our regular price $10) and send the $10 worth of pictures by mail prepaid. Old, faded, scratched or spotted originals, we carefully touch up before copying, retouch negative before printing, and put in new backgrounds when necessary; give color Hair, Eyes, Jewelry, Drapery and Complexion, so we will know how to finish the water color portrait.

OFFER No. 2 If you prefer a larger portrait and no imperials. If you send us the three agents names and small picture, with $3.75, we will make one 11 x 14 portrait (½ life size if ordered Bust) finished either in Ink, Crayon or Water Color, and send by mail, prepaid; our regular price for above portrait is $15; to obtain the one dozen Imperials and one extra Water Color, worth $10, for $2.75, or the 11 x 14 portrait, worth $16 for $3.75. This advertisement must be sent with the order before March 1st, 1887, as we positively will not fill an order at these prices after March 1st, 1887, our object in offering at so low a price is to obtain a good agent in your vicinity at once.

OFFER No. 3 Any one ordering one of our PHOTO EMPIRE EQUIPMENTS for making Photos by dry plate process, without the aid of a teacher, price $30, before March 1st, 1887, will receive one Negative Box, worth $2.50 FREE. 80 page book "How to make Photos," and 5 x 8 Portrait made by Empire Camera, sent prepaid for 24 cts. (None free).

OFFER No. 4 THE ELOTRO RADIANT MAGIC LANTERN NO. 2 is equal to any other Lantern sold for $25. It projects on Screen a picture 8 feet in diameter, and our price is only $12, and if you order one before March 1st, 1887, we will place in the box one dozen slides, wit 2¼ in. pictures, free of charge. Send money by P. O. Order, Registered Letter, Draft on N. Y. or Express prepaid. References. Large Magic Lantern Catalogue and confidential prices to general agents for copied and enlarged portraits sent for stamp. If you are not prepared to-day to accept any of these 4 grand offers, cut this ad. out for future use, as it may not appear again. Address,

EMPIRE COPYING CO., 381 Canal St., N. Y.

The Manufacture of Hairpins.

For years the English and French controlled the manufacture of hairpins and it is only within the last twenty years that the goods have been produced in this country to any extent. The machinery used is of a delicate and intricate character, as the prices at which pins are sold necessitates the most rapid and cheapest process, which can only be procured with automatic machines. The wire is made expressly for the purpose and put up in large coils, which are placed in a clamp, which carries it to the machine while straightening it; from there it runs in another machine, which cuts, bends, and by a delicate and instantaneous process, sharpens the points. Running at full speed, these machines will turn out 120 hairpins per minute. To economize it is necessary to keep them working night and day. The difficult part of the work is the enameling, which is done by dipping in a preparation and baking in an oven. Here is where the most constant and careful attention is required, as the pins must be perfectly smooth and the enamel have a perfect polish. The slightest particles of dust causes imperfections and roughness, which is objectionable.—Brooklyn Citizen.

Struck it Rich.

A man in Leadville, Col., who can neither read nor write, is worth to-day at least $8,000,000. Four years ago he hadn't a penny, except what he earned from day to day as a miner. His name is John L. Morrissey. He is about 33 years old. The Crown Point mine, like Tom Bowen's Golconda, was just about paying expenses. Her owners offered to sell her for $40,000. Morrissey went to Chicago and interested Diamond Joe Reynolds in the matter. Reynolds [illegible]

[illegible]

What he Wanted it For.

"What do you want of the latch-key?' she inquired suspiciously.

"One of our traveling men is sick and I'm going to sit up with him. I though I'd like to have the key to wind up the silent watches of the night."

By the time she had recovered he had departed, key and all.—Merchant Traveler.

The site of the city of Washington and the location of public reservations, Capitol and the Executive Mansion were selected by President Washington.

A Remarkabe Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & CO.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable, I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printers, [illegible] Street, over Eggleston's book store. [illegible] of every description executed in a [illegible] manner at fair prices.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
32 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE,
OSWEGO, N. Y.,
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Streets.
Centrally located in the business part of the city.
Prices Reasonable.
Commodious Sample Rooms.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—
Decker Brothers'
Matchless Pianos.
THE VERY BEST PIANOS.
Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.

COAL.
—GO TO
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
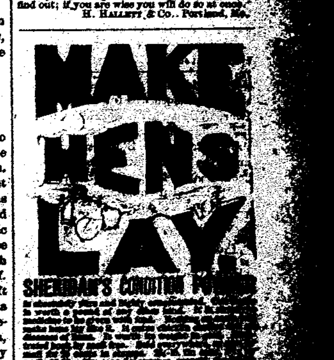
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

☞ Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

EUREKA CATARRH REMEDY,
NO SALVE! NO SNUFF! NO WASH!
The only internal specific. Cures—not as an irritant or astringent, but by directing the gentle life giving forces of the organism to the part affected. Tasteless and pure. Children take it without difficulty. Price 50 cents by mail.
EUREKA MED. CO., Sharon, Pa.

YOU can live at home and make more money at work for us, than at anything else in this world. Capital not needed; you are started free. Both sexes; all ages. Any one can do the work. Large earnings sure from first start. Costly outfit and terms free. Better not delay. Costs you nothing to send us your address and find out; if you are wise you will do so at once.
H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Me.



SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER
[illegible]
[illegible] BLACKS [illegible]

[illegible] upon this topic to [illegible] a citizen's ticket is needed.

[illegible]—That the public is tired and [illegible] jealousies and quarrels, [illegible] to have local affairs guided by men freed from party ties.

THIRD—That such a movement will meet with success if the better class of voters interest themselves in it.

We understand that during the past few years our villagers have been treated to some disgusting exhibitions of how far the filth, tomfoolery and ruinous party favoritism of party politics may be carried, even in the government of our small village. We need men for village officers who will be bound by no party ties and whose sole duty and aim is to work for the best interests of the village. It is high time the people should consider this question. To make it practical, let us first have an expression of opinion. We want you to wake up—talk it up—and raise your village affairs above party—Prohibition, Republican, Democratic or what not. We therefore call upon our readers to send us the names of men who would be their choice to fill village offices in the charter election in March next. We have made a blank ticket below, with the different offices to fill. Write on it the names of those of your choice for each office cut it out and send to us by Saturday so that next week we may give the results.

Put this question to yourself—whether your man if elected upon a citizen's ticket would be above party, and consider village interests solely. Heretofore a man has been available according to his standing; that is whether he was a G. A. R. man, a mason, an odd fellow, a knight of labor, a temperance or anti-temperance man, an Irish Republican or Irish Democrat and so on through a long list. Get above all this and make your candidates men who will not be influenced in their actions either by political party or other organization.

President……………………………

Trustee……………………………

Trustee……………………………

Collector……………………………

Assessor……………………………

Treasurer……………………………

Write in the names of those you think well qualified to fill these offices, cut out the ticket and send to THE TIMES office before Saturday.

ASSEMBLYMAN AINSWORTH has introduced a bill into the assembly which if passed will secure for him the eternal friendship of many a teacher. It provides that teachers shall receive their wages monthly. If woman suffrage prevailed Mr. Ainsworth would be solid for even gubernatorial honor.

SATURDAY was the anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth and the republican club of New York city took advantage of this fact and gave their first annual dinner, at Delmonico's. This dinner was no small affair but called out a large number of prominent republicans from all parts of the country. Senator-elect Hiscock responded to the toast, "The Empire State." Speeches were made by a number of leading republicans among whom were Chauncey M. Depew, without whom no great dinner now seems complete. One fact was evident, as far as this body of politicians are concerned, that James G. Blaine is the man that they are looking to as their presidential candidate. Is it again to be Blaine against Cleveland in 1888?

Carter's Little Liver Pills will positively cure sick headache and prevent its return. This is not talk but truth. One pill a dose. To be had of all druggists. See advertisement.

We clip the following from the New York Journalist in reference to a writer well-known in this community:

Mrs. Frank Leslie, ever on the alert for new pictorial specialties, has made an arrangement with William Hosea Ballou for an important series of articles, descriptive of the most progressive of our Western towns and cities. Mr. Ballou's pen panorama will be illustrated from recent sketches and photographs and The Journalist heartily congratulates Mrs. Leslie on her sure-to-be-appreciated enterprise.

The chief struggle in yesterday's election at Syracuse was for Overseer of the Poor. The people's candidate for this office, Duncan W. Peck, received strong support from the Standard and owes much to this journal for his success. Peck received 4,854 votes; Hall, the regular Republican nominee, 3,713 and Green (Dem), 3,229.

"The Blood is Life."

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution, will be established. Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers. Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption [illegible] of the [illegible] blood-purifying [illegible]

[illegible] to be run by the West Shore & Pennsylvania R. R. to the National Capital, one of the handsomest and most interesting cities in the world.

Among the many places worthy of a visit we may mention the United States Senate and House of Representatives, which will be open on March 2nd and 3rd and close its present session on March 4th.

The National Capitol Building, Treasury, State Department, White House, Patent Office, Agricultural Hall and Smithsonian Institute, all famous and magnificent, and ranking among the noblest edifices in the world, around which cluster many historic memories, will all be thrown open for inspection and afford endless amusement and instruction, and combine to make the visit to Washington pleasant and memorable.

Probably one of the greatest attractions will be the Washington monument, which is the loftiest and finest in the world.

Ample opportunity is given to make side trips to Richmond, Old Point Comfort, Mount Vernon, The Soldier's Home, and many other historical places in the vicinity of Washington.

Fare for the round trip Oxford to Oswego, and intermediate stations, including Utica and Rome Branches only $10.00.

Special train via the West Shore R. R. for Washington will leave Oneida Castle 12:12 a.m. Clarks Mills 12:29 a. m. New Hartford 12:32 a. m.

Excursionists from stations North of Oneida take regular day express train No. 2 or train No. 44 to Oneida Castle. Excursionists from stations between Eaton and Community take Oswego express No. 41 to Oneida Castle, or train No. 2 via Randallsville and Utica Express No. 13 to New Hartford Junct. Excursionists between Oxford and Clinton take regular Utica express No. 13 to Mew Hartford Jct. Rome Branch excursionists take trains 51 and 52 to Clark Mills Junct.

Excursion tickets good going and returning via Oneida Castle, Clark's Mills and New Hartford only. Returning excursion tickets will be good on regular trains of the P. R. R. up to and including March 11th and good from New York including March 12.

Reduced rates may be secured at the following hotels in Washington on presentation of excursion tickets at the office: Willard, Riggs House, Arlington, Ebbett and Metropolitan each $3.00, National $2.50, Harris $2.00. Numerous private boarding houses at $1.00 and upward.

Sleeping car berths can be secured in advance to Washington on application to station agent at $2.00 for double berth (2 persons) and $4.00 per section

For tickets and other information apply to nearest agent of N. Y. O. & W.

Concerning Bonded Indebtedness of Parish and Volney.

The following article by our townsmen C. H. David esq., appeared in the Parish Mirror last week and will be read with interest as it touches upon the bonded indebtedness of Volney as well as Parish:

MR. EDITOR:

I read with much interest the excellent article of Supervisor Berry, on the subject of the bonded indebtedness of the town of Parish, published in your paper of January 28th, Parish being the place of my birth, the home of my early manhood, and still the home of many of my kindred and early friends and companions, I can but feel a deep interest in its well fare and prosperity.

Our town of Volney likewise has a large bonded indebtedness, amounting now to nearly two hundred and twenty thousand dollars, which matures July 1st, 1888, our people some time since, began to devise ways and means for its liquidation or refunding, by initiciating the passage of the present law, which was introduced in the legislature of last winter by our member, Mr. Howe.

One object of the law, limiting the rate of interest not to exceed four per cent. was to prepare the way in time for capitalists to settle their minds upon the necessity of accepting a much lower rate of interest for the new bonds than had been paid for the old. It seems to me much more for the interest of every town having a large indebtedness like Volney, or Parish, that such indebtedness be re-funded under the provisions of our present law, at a low rate of interest rather than attempt to pay it all up in one year, by levying a tax upon the people. If left to a vote of the people who have the taxes to pay, I imagine there would be very few votes in favor of paying the whole debt at once.

Such a tax as that would necessarily entail very great hardship upon the people, and tend to block the wheels of progress and development, for many years to come. During the past year I am informed, the city of Auburn refunded eighty thousand dollars at 3½ per cent, selling her bonds to a bank in the city of Syracuse, at par.

The city of Providence, R. I., within the past few months, refunded four hundred and eighty-three thousand dollars of indebtedness for water works at 3½ per cent. her bonds being all taken by one house in the city of New York, at a premium of over 13 per cent.

The premium she received on her bonds, amounted to the handsome some of over $58,000 which was placed in the sinking fund. I believe that the bonds of the town of Volney or Parish, are worth as much in the market if properly placed before the public, as the bonds of the city of Providence.

There they provide for the final payment of the bonds, by a sinking fund.

Under our law, we must pay each year at least two per cent of the principal.

Such a provision, it seems to me would make our bonds more desirable to investors. The gradual decrease of the indebtedness would naturally increase the confidence in the security; and confidence is an important eliment in fixing the market value of any security.

The coupons can be so arranged as to include with the semi-annual interest, one per cent of the principal, thus making the annual payment of each 3½ per cent bond, 5½ per cent, and reducing the principal each year, 2 per cent.

Of course some other plan for the annual reduction of principal required by the law, can be devised, if necessary to suit purchasers of the bonds

Under the existing law the new bonds can be extended forty years.

At the end of that time, if two per cent only of the principal should be paid annually, there would remain only $7,000 of the indebtedness of Parish.

Such a sum can easily be provided for. Our town and others bonded for the Midland, will be obliged to meet this question a year or more in advance of you in Parish. You will well know how to profit by our success or failure.

If the present financial condition continues to prevail two years more, I believe a new taxable re-funding bond can be easily floated at par, which draws only three per cent interest or even less.

With much interest and pride in the financial growth and enterprise which characterize your village, and with the best wishes for the prosperity of my native town,

I am very truly yours,
C. H. DAVID.

[illegible] subject of tariff legislation has been settled, at least so far as the action of the present Congress is concerned. From the formal correspondence between Messrs. Carlyle and Randall it is evident that the efforts of those who wish to reduce the revenue will be futile.

Neither party will concede a point, and it is plain that their correspondence has had for its object to define the attitude of the respective factions before the public, and was not written with a hope of reaching a basis for tariff legislation.

The relegation of tariff legislation to the future brings up the question of an extra session of Congress. Idle money is accumulating in the national coffer at the remarkable rate of $100,000,000 and the American voter whether Democrat or Republican, does not need to be a financier to know that it is not business like to hoard so much capital. An extra session will doubtless be called—possibly soon after the adjournment of the present Congress, but it is the opinion in political circles that the extra session will not be convened until the first of October.

There is much speculation as to whom the President will appoint Rail Road Commissioners under the provision of the Inter-State Commerce bill. Many have called themselves to Washington, but only five can be chosen. The President is very much harrassed with the importunities of applicants, many of whom are of such influence and distinction that their suits cannot be wholly ignored. Mr. Cleveland doubtless regrets that Congress in passing the bill did not make a provision that this commission should be chosen under civil service rules and by competative examination.

It has been said that Colonel Morrison has been offered the charmanship of the commission, also that he has been offered the Secretaryship of the Treasury Department, which Mr. Manning is expected to resign early in the spring. Many other things are said and denied but they have no denser consistency than rumor and I will not repeat them.

Notwithstanding the closeness of the final hour of this session it is believed by many that Congress will pass a bill changing inaguration day from Hyperborean fourth of March to the Madrigal thirtieth of April. There are perhaps not less than one hundred bald headed members and senators of the present Congress with Presidential bees buzzing in their bonnets. To whom the vision of riding down the Avenue, bare headed, from the White House to the Capitol on a windy fourth of March is not an agreeable episode in their political air-castles. They will form a powerful nucleus for the passage of the bill and whatever may be their motive, the country and humanity will be benefited if the proposed bill becomes a law. Its passage must be in the nature of an amendment to the constitution, and therefore must be ratified by the legislative assemblies of two-thirds of the states. Hence the importance of passing it the present session, in order that it may have time to receive ratification and take effect with the inauguration of the President on the thirtieth of April 1889. The passage of such a bill would be of great benefit to the country, in that it would protract the short session of Congress, which now adjourns on the fourth of March.

The country has grown so great, and its interests have become so complex, that the limited legislative term is now to brief. Of course it will be urged by some smart and original people that congress does more harm than good and that the sooner it adjourns the better; but this talk is always shallow and insincere and those best acquainted with legislative history of the country know that subjects of great national "pith and moment" have suffered most from neglect or hasty legislation.

In national polity the legislative function is not less important than the judicial and executive, and if its personel shows more ignoramuses and demagogues than the other branches of the government it is because it is far more numerous.

"We are coming Father Abraham 300,000 more" to indorse the good and effective qualities of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in every case of Cough, Colds, etc.

As a cure for chapped and chafed hands nothing equals the celebrated Salvation Oil. For sale by all druggists. Price only 25 cents a bottle.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

I had stone in the Bladder and Gravel in the Kidneys. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy disentegrated the stone and delivered me from it. I am now well. I should long ago have been six feet under the sod if I had not taken Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.—D. H. Hoag, Lebanon Springs, N. Y., Price $1. Send 2-cent stamp to Dr. Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., for his book on Kidney, Liver and blood disorders. Mention this paper.

Well-Earned Fame.

Twenty years ago, there located in the City of Buffalo, a young and unknown doctor, who, unassisted by wealthy patronage or introduction, possessed but patience, honor, industry and skill as his stock in trade. Upon these four elements of character he has long since succeeded in rearing a giant and substantial enterprise—alike a credit to the State and Country, and a priceless boon of healing and relief to poor humanity. Dr. R. V. Pierce's World's Dispensary and Invalids Hotel and Surgical Institute to-day stands out amongst the leading institutions of the age as a monumental example of what Integrity, Learning and Enterprise can accomplish.

In this far-famed institution luxury and skill go hand in hand. A corps of eighteen experienced and skillful physicians and surgeons guarantee the most [illegible]

Dr. [illegible] has a new treatment for consumption! He gives an enema of carbonic acid and sulphuretted hydrogen gases, the latter gas carrying the former into every part of the throat and lungs.

This treatment, too, is directed at effects—the cause remains undisturbed.

What this cause is has been stated by perhaps the highest pulmonary authority in the world, i. e., the Brompton Hospital for Consumptives, in London, Eng.

This malady every year carries off from one-seventh to one-fifth of the entire population of England!

Dr. Payne M. D., M. R. C. P., London, is authority for this statement.

The same or a greater proportion of deaths obtains in America.

Dr. Payne also says that one-half the total number of deaths from all other causes have seeds of this disease in the system which only require some irritant to develope!

Dr. Hermann Brehmer, an eminent German authority, says that consumption is caused by deficient nutrition of the lungs, by poor blood.

These authorities cannot be disputed. The medical world recognises them. The uric acid is the irritant in the blood that causes the development of the seeds which Dr. Brehmer says lie dormant in the blood.

Every particle of blood which passes through the lungs and heart, also goes through the kidneys, and if they are in the least deranged they cannot rid the blood of its killing poison. The thousand little hairlike sewer tubes of the kidneys very easily get blocked up and diseased; and when they do, they corrupt instead of purifying the blood. Kidney disease may exist, and yet no pain occur in that organ, because it is deficient in nerves of sensation.

Dip your finger in acid every day and it soon festers and is destroyed. Send acid poisoned blood through the lungs every second, and they soon give way.

The Brompton Hospital investigation showed that 52 per cent. of the victims of consumption were afflicted with deranged kidneys, which permitted the uric acid poison to remain in the blood and irritate the lungs. This uric acid is always fighting every vital organ, and if there be any inherent weakness in the lungs it inevitablp causes pneumonia, cough and consumption.

The real cause of pulmonary troubles being so authoritively shown to be faulty even though unsuspected action of the kidneys, explains why, in order to master the dreaded consumption, one must rid the blood of the uric acid irritant which inflames and burns up the lung substance. For this purpose there is nothing equal to that great specific, Warner's safe cure. This remedy has now the favor of medical men all over the world purely on its merits. We have no doubt that if the kidneys are kept in natural action, consumption and a great many other diseases, caused by uric acid, will not only be cured but will be prevented.

When the kidney is healthy, no albumen appears in the water, but albumen is found in the water of more than half of those who die of consumption!

This, then, is the condition of things that always precedes consumption: First, weakened kidneys; second, retained uric acid, poisoning the blood; third, the development of disease in the lungs by the irritant acids passing through them. Then there is a little cough in the morning; soon thick, yellow matter is spit up, followed by loss of flesh and strength, with dreadful night sweats; and when the patient goes to his school physician for help, he is put on cod liver oil which his stomach, weakened also by uric acid in the blood, cannot digest. Because there is no pain present in the kidneys, the patient does not think they are affected, but the kidney acid is doing its work every minute, every hour, day and night, and by-and-by the disease of the lungs has advanced until pus is developed, then come hemorrhages, and at last the glassy stare which denotes that the end is near!

A post-mortem examination of such cases shows that the terrible uric acid has completely destroyed the substance of the lung.

It is impossible to cure lung disease when the blood is poisoned with uric acid.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

The White-Jacobs Case.

The White bastardy case has been decided in favor of White, the warrant of arrest vacated, and the prisoner discharged. It was shown in the course of the trial that the complainant, Maggie Jacobs had been criminally intimate with one Sandford Palmer. That between Palmer and White the court was unable to decide which was the guilty party. The following to The Times-Express from Hannibal shows how the verdict was received by some at least in that village:

HANNIBAL, Feb. 18.—There is great excitement and rejoicing here over the discharge of White, the defendant in the Jacobs-White case. A bonfire is being built and a band will meet White and his friends at the depot and escort them home. There will be a torchlight procession, fireworks and other demonstrations of rejoicing.

The Homeliest Man in Fulton.

As well as the handsomest, and others are invited to call on any druggist and get free a trial bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, a remedy that is selling entirely upon its merits and is guaranteed to cure and relieve all Chronic and Acute Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. Price 50 cents and $1.

The Tribune Almanac.

The New York Tribune Almanac for 1887 is out and is as full as ever of official statistics and much other matter of an authoritative character. We always [illegible] as a book for reference and anything found [illegible]

[illegible] the picture is more [illegible] than any description. Standing apparently in the centre of the field, the view sweeps around the horizon precisely as if upon the spot and in the open air. The imitation is as nearly perfect as can be conceived. One stands in the midst of the smoke of the battle, and but for the dead silence, might consider that the actual carnage is going on about him. The "action" of men and animals is realistic, and while there is enough to show the horrors of war, this is not overdone so as to cause a feeling of revulsion. The landscape is faithfully reproduced, and the salient points not only, but many details are readily recognized by any one who has been there. The novelty of standing in the very centre of the picture at first strikes one strangely, but this soon wears off and he is able to locate places, the points of the compass, and in his mind to follow the movements of several divisions of the army with surprising familiarity. As a work of art, the picture has great merit, the printer being an artist of no mean reputation. Its realism makes it of peculiar value to the soldiers who were participants in the battle and to their friends who have so often heard the stories of that famous fight. It will bear repeated study and the interest deepens at every view. In connection with the recent publications in the Century and elsewhere by such writers as General Hunt, Chief of the Union Artillery, and by General Longstreet on the Confederate side, and others, this representation of the third day's battle and Pickett's famous charge has a timely and absorbing interest. Manager Shunk is courteous and obliging, and ready to answer any question or give any information the scene may suggest.—Syracuse Journal.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t0

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.

24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

NEW YORK STATE
AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.
FARMERS INSTITUTE
Oswego, March 2 and 3 '87.

PROGRAM:

WEDNESDAY 10:30 A. M.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME—By Senator GEO. B. SLOAN.

RESPONSE—By J. S. WOODWARD, Secretary N. Y. State Agricultural Society.

WARM BARNS VS. FEED—By J. S. WOODWARD. Mr. W. is radical on the subject of housing live stock. Questions and discussion.

"EDUCATION OF FARMER'S CHILDREN"—By MRS. EMMA TAYLOR, of Niagara. No one should all to hear this.

AFTERNOON 2 O'CLOCK.

QUESTION BOX OPENED.

DAIRY WORK AT THE EXPERIMENTAL STATION—By E. LEWIS STURTEVANT, Director. Questions and discussion.

HINTS TO FRUIT GROWERS—By HON. SETH FENNER, President of Erie Co. Agricultural Society. Questions and discussion.

PIGS—BY COL. MASON C. WELD, of New Jersey, editor of the American Dairyman and Guernsey Breeder. Something radical may be expected. Questions and discussion.

EVENING 7 O'CLOCK.

QUESTION BOX OPENED.

MUSIC—By SCHILLING'S ORCHESTRA.

A PLAIN TALK TO FARMERS—By LIEUT. GOV. E. F. JONES.

BREEDING DAIRY CATTLE—By MAJ. H. E. ALVORD, of Massachusetts Agricultural College. Questions and discussion.

MANURES—Making and Saving—By PROF. I. P. ROBERTS, of Cornell University. Questions and discussions.

Music—By SCHILLING'S ORCHESTRA.

THURSDAY 10 A. M.

QUSTION BOX OPENED.

MAKING AND SALTING BUTTER—By PROF. L. B. ARNOLD, of Rochester, authority on dairy matters. Questions and discussion.

ENSILAGE—By W. H. GILBERT, Richland, who is one of our most successful butter makers.

THE USE OF ENSILAGE IN THE DAIRY—By C. S. PLUMB, Assistant Director New York Experimental Station. Questions and discussions.

AFTERNOON 2 O'CLOCK.

THE FARMER—HIS DANGER AND HIS DUTY—By W. A. ARMSTRONG, editor of "The Husbandman." The fearless friend of the farmer. Questions and discussion.

HORSES AND HORSE BREEDING—By F. D. REDFIELD, of Batavia, N. Y.

AYRSHIRES—By J. F. CONVERSE, President Ayrshire Breeders' Association. Questions and discussion.

HOLSTEINS—By GERRITT S. MILLER, of Peterboro, N. Y. Questions and discussions.

RESOLUTIONS.

ADJOURNMENT.

It is hoped that no paper or address will be over 20 minutes long, and at their close every one present will feel free to ask questions or take issue on any point made, as in this way much useful information can be obtained that would otherwise be lost.

Let no one forget that a Question Box will be kept in a convenient place, and all questions placed therein will be given careful attention, and so far as possible answered.

The Institute will be held in the Court House and will be called promptly on time, when it is hoped that all intending to be present will be there.

The R. W. & O., N. Y. O. & W. R. R. and the D. L. & W. R. R. will return persons who have attended the Institute at Oswego at one cent per mile.

The hotels of Oswego will entertain guests at the following reduced rates: Doolittle House $1.50 per day; the Lake Shore and Hamilton at $1.25; the Ringland, Wagner and Miss Edwards, (three doors from postoffice) 26 West Oneida Street, at $1.00.

We shall have a grand time. Let all come. Ladies will be specially welcome.

How's This.

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Proprietors, Toledo, O.

P. S. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and the mucus surfaces of the system. Price 75 cts. per bottle, sold by all druggists.

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the Novelty Custom Mill, recently run by Parkhurst & Smith, [illegible]

[illegible] than two decades of peace with now a united, happy and stronger country than ever, an effort is about to be made to erect a Monument in our midst in honor of the soldiers, not only of the late war, but in memory also of those who fought in the Revolution, the War of 1812, and the Mexican War. The names to be placed on the monument in five classes, viz:

FIRST—On one side those that served in the first three wars.

SECOND—Those that fell in battle or died in the service in 1861-65.

THIRD—Those that have died in the town since the war, wherever their place of enlistment.

FOURTH—All who are living in the town at the time of erecting the Monument.

FIFTH—All those who served in the Union Army from '61 to '65, who went from Volney and Granby.

As such a Monument will be public history and of personal interest to nearly all families in the towns we propose to send a Committee of our Post to see all families and invite all men, women and children to contribute whatever they are willing to give, from five cents and upwards. Such sums shall be duly credited to the persons so contributing, and a list of the same published in the village papers.

A printed full list of such names and contributions we agree shall be kept for public inspection in the G. A. R. Post Room, and a copy deposited in the town safe, and thus passed down to future generations.

When such funds are so raised, we will request the five citizens that contribute the most to this fund to act as a committee with six appointed from the Post, of which joint committee the Commander of the Post shall be Chairman, and such committee shall have full power to purchase a Monument and locate the place of erection. The committee names will be placed on the Monument in due form.

We wish all citizens to become copartners in this work of giving the Soldiers and Sailors a public record of their service rendered.

In a few days competent canvassers will these circulars, competent and worthy call on you for a subscription for this object. We sincerely hope all our citizens will liberally respond to this patriotic call, that the names and record of the men who went to the war from our midst and fought to preserve our liberties and the Union, now known to us may also be known to our posterity. When you are, therefore, deciding how much you will give, remember the "Boys In Blue." What would your homes be worth to-day had it not been for their patriotic valor?

ANSON J. OSBORN,
J. S. PALMER
GEO. H. FASSELL,
R. B. MCCULLY,
ED. WAUGH
A. P. CHASE,
} Committee.
AMOS YOUMANS, Treasurer.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., Feb. 9, 1887.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present the President and Trustees, More, Bradford and Chase.

The bills of D. C. Draper of $4.19 and J. J. Wright of $8.32 for supplies for kerosene street lamps were referred to the committee on supplies.

On motion the Board adjourned to Wednesday evening, Feb. 23d.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

ROME, WATERTOWN & OGDENSBURG R. R.
in connection with
WEST SHORE R.R. and PENNSYLVANIA R. R.

Grand Excursion
TO
WASHINGTON, D. C.
The National Capital,
Tuesday, March 1st, 1887.

The fare to Washington and Return from any Station on the R. W. & O. R. R. is only

TEN DOLLARS.

Tickets allow a stay of ten days in Washington, affording ample time for side trips to Richmond and Mount Vernon, the tomb of Washington.

A solid train with Wagner Palace Sleeping Cars and West Shore R.R. elegant coaches will run through without change from stations on R. W. & O. R. R. to Washington, passing the cities of New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore arriving at Washington at noon Wednesday, March 2d,

No Change of Cars.

Passengers desiring sleeping car accommodation for this excursion must leave their names and deposit money on or before Tuesday, February 22d, with R. W. & O. ticket agent at station at which they will take the train for Washington, or amount may be sent direct to the General Passenger Agent R. W. & O. R.R., Oswego, N. Y.

REDUCED HOTEL RATES

have been arranged in Washington for excursionists. For particulars and all details in reference to this excursion, apply to nearest R. W. & O. ticket agent or correspond with the General Passenger Agent, Oswego, N. Y.

THEO. BUTTERFIELD,
General Passenger Agent,
Oswego, N. Y.
H. M. BRITTON,
General Manager.

NEW YORK MARKET REPORT.

By Williams & Co., Produce Commission Merchants, 671 Hudson street and 24 Ninth Avenue.

BUTTER—Market dull.

Creamery,	Western	25 @ 26
	Elgin	28
	Imitation	20
Dairy	Eastern ½ ferkin tubs	23
	" Welsh	20 @ 21
	" Dairies Entire	20 @ 21
	" Firkins	21
Rolls	Firsts	16 @ 18
	Seconds	12 @ 15

CHEESE—Market firm.

New York Cheddar	13¼ @ 13¾
New York Part Skims	10½ @ 11½
Penn Skims	3 @ 4

EGGS—Market quiet.

Fresh Eastern firsts	18
Western fresh	18
Southern	17½ @ 18

POULTRY—Market firm.

Live	Fowls State and Western	12
	Ducks per pair	50 @ 75
	Turkeys	11 @ 12
Dressed	Turkeys	12
	Chickens	11¼ @ 12¾
	Ducks	12 @ 13

POTATOES—Market quiet.

Burbanks per 180 lbs	150 @ 162
Peerless	150
Hebron	150 @ 162
Rose	162 @ 175

HAY—Market firm

Timothy prime per 100 lbs	80 @ 87½
No. 1	75 @ 80
No 2	[illegible]
Ordinary	[illegible]
Clover mixed	[illegible]
Clover	[illegible]

STRAW.

Rye No. 1	[illegible]
" No. 2	[illegible]
Oat	[illegible]
Wheat	[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] prepared by local musicians.

The Oswego Falls brass band will be present at the the temperance meeting at Church's hall this evening. Prof. Graham's Secular Quartet will sing.

An Entertainment and Supper for the benefit of the Congregational church of Oswego Falls will be given at the church, on Friday evening. Admission 25 cents.

The many friends of Morris A. Gilbert, for over thirty years a resident of the town of Schroeppel, and well known in this village, died at his western home in Warrensburg, Mo., last Saturday. His sister, Mrs. Judge McKoon of Middletown, N. Y., left Sunday and reached there yesterday. Mr. Gilbert was nearly 80 years of age.

Palpitation of heart, nervousness, tremblings, nervous headache, cold hands and feet, pain in the back, and other forms of weakness are relieved by Carter's Iron Pills, made specially for the blood nerves and complexion.

Major Stofah, who is quite musical, was out in society a few evenings since and had sung two or three times for the company. About midnight he remarked to a small group: "Well, I think I will sing one more song and go home." "Ah, major," said a brown-eyed girl, "can't oou go home first?" He could and did.—Washington Critic.

Sick and bilious headache, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels, cured by Dr. Pierce's "Pellets"—or anti-bilious granules. 25 cents a vial. No cheap boxes to allow waste of virtue. By druggists.

A female contributor this morning brought in a communication written on both sides of the paper. The editor scowled and refused it. "Well she retorted, "I'd like to know if you don't print on both sides?" There is no such thing as arguing with a woman.—Providence Telegram.

Some Foolish People

Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which we sell on a positive guarantee to cure, they would immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Price 50c. and $1.00. Trial size free. At all Druggists.

COUNTY NEWS.

One thousand dollars has been subscribed by the citizens of Wolcott and vicinity, for the purpose of erecting a soldier's monument. One thousand and five hundred is the amount required for the purpose which no doubt will be raised.

The Board of Supervisors have appointed Arvin Rice, of Fulton; G. N. Shafty of Boylston, G. Getman, Constantia; A. Salladin, jr., Oswego; E. S. Beecher, Orwell; E. P. Barrett, Hannibal; J. R. Ottman, Oswego Town; and F. S. Sayer Oswego, the building committee on the new jail

Mrs. Van Auken's story that Loren Grover of Parish killed her husband is not generally believed in that vicinity. Mr. Grover is about sixty years old and lives in the southern part of that town. His stepson, who left home some time ago, is said to have been intimate with the murderess.

A literary and musical entertainment followed by a box social was given by the Cleveland lodge of Good Templars last evening.

The following are the officers of Cleveland Lodge I. O. of G. T. for the ensuing quarter:
Chief Templar—J. W. Artcher.
Right supporter—Mrs. E. H. Hoose.
Left Supporter—Mrs. J. Artcher.
Vice Templar—Miss B. Hoose.
Recording Secretary—C. Kime.
Assistant Sec'y—Miss A. Tracy.
Financial Sec'y—Miss I. Lando.
Treasurer—A. R. Lando.
Chaplain—Rev. J. G. Benson.
Marshal—Chas. Tracy.
Ass't Marshall—Miss Satie Kime.
Guard—Miss Mary Lando.
Sentinel—Aurther Kime.
Organist—Miss Rena Putney.
P. C. T.—J. F. Landgraff.
Lodge Deputy—E. H. Hoose.

D. P. Morehouse of Oswego, has been made District Deputy Grand Master Workman of Oswego county of the A. O. U. W.

Wife and I

had much trouble when our children were young and numerous nights were sleepless and days full of care. Happiness crowns our home now We used VanDeusen's White Worm Confections. The change was a miracle, and we advise all parents to try them. Worms are the cause of many diseases in young and old. No family should be without a box. Sold everywhere. 25cts. Van Deusen Brothers, Kingston, N. Y. 39w4

Gilberts Mills.

Will Biddlecomb, who has been quite sick, is reported to be better.

O. Gregg is confined to his house with rheumatism.

John Waffle had his foot injured quite severely last week by a log rolling on it.

Mrs. Mary Bradford has been visiting friends in Fulton and vicinity for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Celia Bidwell of Sterling is visiting her mother and friends in this village.

Another thaw is freezing up.

Almon Mason was quite sick Sunday night and Monday.

Mrs. N. J. Blodgett visited her son in Fulton last week.

There is an abundance of water on the low ground in this vicinity.

Geo. A. Caunam, who has been sick for nearly four months, has no hope for recovery for a long time to come.

Hannibal Centre.

There has been a week's vacation in our school on account of the indisposition of the teacher Mr. W. Allen. It commenced again on Monday.

Mr. John Mitchell and family of Lawton, Mich., started for their home last Thursday, taking with them their niece, Miss Ida Harmon.

Mr. William Barnes of Kingston, has been visiting his friends in this place during the past week.

Mr. John Bacon has sold his crop of tobacco. Consideration 10 cents per pound.

Anna Abbott closed her term of school in the McCausey district last week.

Dr. R. N. Cooley and Walter Sanders were called to Oswego last week as witnesses in the White-Jacobs case.

George Blount of Oriskany Falls, spent last week with friends here.

Miss Emma Ames of Weedsport has been visiting at her father's, Mr John Ames.

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w18

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 5ly1

SALESMEN

[illegible] Ayer's Cherry Pectoral may always be relied upon for the cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by [illegible] frequent exposure, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was Speedily Cured.

I am satisfied that this remedy saved my life.—Jno. Webster, Pawtucket, R. I.

I contracted a severe cold, which suddenly developed into Pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician at once ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Simpson, Rogers Prairie, Texas.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vanderpool, Meadville, Pa.

The Best Remedy

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. F. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

HAVE YOU

never felt strangely tired, restless or uneasy? Have you had pains shooting through the head, along the limbs or around the back? Have you experienced strange sensations for which you could not account? And do you know that all these things arise from diseased kidneys, which, unless promptly cured will run into Bright's disease and end in Death? The Kidneys are the seat of nine-tenths of all the diseases of to-day!!

The F. E. C. Kidney Remedy is an absolute cure for these troubles, and is guaranteed by the druggists who sell it. It is especially valuable for Female Troubles. Every mother, every wife, every nervous and overworked woman, whose life is made miserable by sufferings peculiar to her sex, should know that of all the medicines ever sold, the F. E. C. is the first and only Remedy that guarantees relief or refunds the money. It is effectual, as thousands of testimonials will prove.

Sold by all Dealers everywhere.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

—FOR THE—
HOLIDAY SEASON!
SNOW & LOOMIS,
have a fine assortment of
POCKET CUTLERY,
CARVERS, SKATES,
SCISSORS and ROBES.
—Also a Novelty in—
FUR RUGS.

AGENTS WANTED (samples free) for DR. SCOTT'S beautiful ELECTRIC CORSETS, BRUSHES, BELTS, ETC. No risk, quick sales. Territory given, satisfaction guaranteed. DR. SCOTT, 841 Broadway, N. Y.

EUREKA FROST CURE.

FOR FROZEN FEET, EARS, NOSE, AND CHILBLAINS.

Made from Agaricus, a moss growing in the frigid regions of the north. A sure Cure. By mail 30c.

EUREKA MED. CO., SHARON, PA.

36mos 3

BARGAINS IN REAL ESTATE

Below will be found a partial list of the Farms Houses and Lots and other property I offer for sale for chash or its equivalent:

Farm	acres	from		to	per	acre
"	25	"	$175	"	$125
"	100	"	65	"	48
"	45	"	100	"	85
"	210	"	40	"	30

House and lot	street	per cent	below value
" " "	Oneida	20	"
" " "	Seneca	20	"
" " "	Sixth	20	"
" " "	Erie	20	"
" " "	Cayuga	10	"
" " "		10	"
" " "	Oswego City	33⅓	"
Country store		40	"

This last mentioned is within 3 miles of two railroad stations. Good Store, Barn and one acre of land. Good location for business. [illegible]

Parties desiring to exchange, sell, or purchase are invited to call on or correspond with [illegible]

[illegible] trains will [illegible] to night express for [illegible]

A. H. [illegible], Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express.....7:18 a. m.
[illegible] and Accommodation.....8:49 a. m.
[illegible] Express.....2:55 p. m.
N. Y. Night Express.....9:10 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express.....6:24 a. m.
Oswego Express.....11:05 a. m.
Freight and accommodation.....5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express.....7:50 p.m.

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:31	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19p.m.	3:39	6:29

Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. A. K. Ney is again able to be out.

Mrs. Frank Platt made her mother a short visit last week.

Miss Gertrude Nichols is very ill with inflammatory rheumatism.

Mrs. Hull Pooler is visiting friends in Amsterdam for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bededict visited in Mexico the guests of W. H. Weed, last week.

Mrs. J. S. Monteith of Canandagua is visiting in town. She is the guest of Mrs J. H.Case.

Mrs. W. L. Foster of Canandagua is visiting in town for a few weeks, the guest of Mrs. T. D. Lewis.

Miss Belle Maynard of the Albany Normal school is spending her vacation at her home in this village.

Charles Tucker jr., who has been confined to the house for the past few days with measles, is again able to be out.

Solon F. Case returned this morning from Wichita, Kan. He announced things as booming in that lively western city.

Ernest George, who has been very sick for the past few weeks is now convalescent. He is able to be about the house.

Mrs. Ira A.Bradford and her daughter Lulu, of Gilberts Mills spent last week at the home of Alex. Bradford. This week they are at Herbert J. Cook's near Little Utica, where Ira is working in the saw and grist mill.

James Shanahan, Superintendent of Public Works, E. Sweet, Chief State Engineer and Mr. Bogart,Division Engineer inspected the repairs now in progress at the three locks on the Oswego canal last Friday. They announced that they were well satisfied with the work thus far accomplished.

Dr. W. A. Hall left Fulton Saturday for Minneapolis, Minn., where he is to enter upon the practice of his profession. His family, now stopping at Lowville, are to follow him about the first of May. The doctor's many friends in this vicinity wish him all the success he may desire in his new field of labor.

That new fresh coal is best, as is conceeded by all careful consumers, which we are receiving, almost daily direct from the the mines. Our facilities for handling coal and our prices are the best in town. SCHENCK & FOSTER.

Palestine.

An illustrated Lecture on the Geography of Palestine, covering especially the localities connected with the S. S. lessons of the present half year, will be delivered in the Baptist church Tuesday next, Feb. 22d, (Washington's birthday), by Dr. J. C. House of Lowville. The lecture will be especially interesting and profitable to S. S. teachers, scholars and bible students generally. Admission 20 cents. Children 10 cents. The proceeds of the lecture are to be added to the Session Room Fund.

Scranton Coal has achieved for its free burning qualities, a reputation not attained by any other grade. We have just received fifty car loads of all sizes, which we are going to sell at the lowest prices.

5c. Violin strings at Jones' Music Store.

Do not pay $5.00 per ton for coal when you can buy it for $4.65 of T. D. Lewis. 39tf

A good fire proof safe for sale, only $25, at the McCully Harness Shop. 33tf.

Draper is closing out his large stock gloves and mittens at half their cost.

For Sale.

A large, strong, valuable horse. Enquire at the harness shop.
37tf. R. B. McCULLY.

BARGAINS IN DRY GOODS.

Being obliged to give posession of the store on April 1st, we shall close out our entire stock at prices that will be of advantage to everyone to buy.

C. E. SACKETT.

CLOSING OUT.

I am obliged to move my stock on April 1st, I wish to reduce it as much as possible and offer the entire stock

Regardless of Price,

Until that time. If you want

BARGAINS

—IN—

Clocks,
Watches,
Jewelry or
[illegible]

[illegible] in [illegible]
Made [illegible]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14, 1887.

To the Editor of The Times:

I believe that sectarian differences was the main cause of the disbanding of the Y. M. C. A. in Fulton some years ago.

Lack of interest!
Lack of funds!
Lack of work!
Collapse!

As an old Fulton boy I feel that I am justified in saying what I do on the subject for I still take an interest in the town, and people, and would like to see our village placed at the head of the line, and march before the people of the state as the banner town.

I can remember going up into the reading room of the Y. M. C. A., and being driven out several times with the treat of "the boys" by the surly janitor until I was afraid to venture up the stairs. Toward the end the janitor had it all his own way in the empty rooms.

Can't remember that there was ever any one there to welcome, or talk to a arranger, or offer any advise, or assistance to any one in trouble.

As I understand it this is the alleged object of the association, but I am afraid that the Fulton branch did not offer much help either spiritual, mental, or substantial.

Ever since the convention of the Y. M. C. A. met in Fulton I have read at different times of reviving interest in the association, and its work, but if it is to be run in the old lines, I say don't make the start.

I don't favor the Y. M. C. A. as it is conducted in our country, and I always make it a point to see how the work is done in the different branches. In theory the plans are excllent, but in practice they fail.

Every association gets too ambitious, and most of the reports tell of the elegant $200,000 and $500,000 buildings being put up. How elegant, and how convenient. Away down in the corner of the last page you will see:

Young men converted - 2
" " assisted - 5

That's about the proportion.

New York has just dedicated a beautiful building at an immense expense,but at the threshhold a young man, (be he poorly clothed) will hesitate,and though in need, will in five cases out of ten turn away frightened by the elegance and show.

Should he enter he will be tied down by so much red tape that that the inclination will be to break away and apply for aid at the police station, or else begin at that moment the first step in crime. Relief committees have regular hours for work and the way farer that comes at irregular hours gets nothing.

A young man in want or trouble needs immediate help, and should this be denied, he very easily is turned astray. Perhaps a word or a little aid would have started him aright, or placed him in a position where self help would be possible.

Brooklyn's buildings are said to be the finest in the country, but by their rules they almost say that only kid glove christians are welcome. It costs $15 per year to get all the benefits, and this is of course to the exclusion of the poorer young men who really need the benefits offered.

A ragged person would be out of place in any of the rooms of the Brooklyn association, that the attention he would draw to himself would be humiliating, and we would wish himself elsewhere.

Twice in Chicago I ran up against closed doors, and after I did get in found that all the officers paid attention to every thing else except their visitors.

Here is a little incident that I happened to see enacted in the reading room of the Denver Y. M. C. A. last summer, and I thought then that it plainly showed the true spirit of the "work" done by the organization in most of its branches.

A young man entered the room, and I could see that he had been drinking. As he approached the secretary, this worthy officer motioned him away, and said he had "no more time to waste with him."

The young man begged and pleaded for another trial, and asked the secretary to take care of his money so that he could get no more drink. "No," he said, "you come here too often and make us too much tronble," and then he turned to his desk. With an assistant he was working on the plans for their new building in a better section of that beautiful city.

The building and real estate was to cost over $200,000. This officer had no time to even try to save a fellow man from an evil he was battling with, but he did have time to plan and work for the new building and for what purpose?

I saw the young fellow afterwards sitting on the stairs in the lower hall crying like a child, and I found out that he was an Englishman with plenty of funds, and that he had come to this country to rid himself of the drinking habit. Though trying so hard he seemed powerless to help himself, and I doubt not that the beautiful building at Denver could well be used as a mouument erected over the lost soul of this, and other young men,

Too much building!
Too much show!
No real work!

At other times, and in other places, I've seen seen applicants of aid, or work driven out by just such methods.

At Denver is another association which I think is conducted as the Y. M. C. A. should be. I refer the W. C. T. Union. They occupied a one-story building in a back street, but their three rooms were homelike, and a motherly looking matron was there ever ready to welcome the wanderers, either with advice, food, or lodging.

In the West idle men seem to be very abundant and everyone knows that "Satan always finds some work for idle hands to do."

The [illegible]

[illegible] Pairs [illegible] Shoes and Slippers. Consisting of broken and Single pair lots, and Wool Lined Goods.
Above goods will be offered until closed out. At one go there hungry, and without money he is fed just the same, and asked to pay at any time when fortune again casts her benign rays upon him.
A. E. NETTLETON'S.

---

Every day letters come to the Union with money (ten times increased) also thanks and blessings from some one to whom they have given timely aid.

The reading room was small but pleasant, and was governed by the same unwritten laws that make our homes a restful retreat from the worry and toil of business life.

One thousand dollars would cover the cost of the building and its contents,and yet this Woman's Union manage to do ten times the good accomplished by the Y. M. C. A. in their $200,000 building.

The women seem to be doing the real work in this line, and the stronger organization taking the credit.

If Fulton is to have a society for the advancement of her young men, I would say let the women take charge, and the men help when necessary.

Modify the laws that govern the Y. M. C. A. and make the society a model for the rest to follow.

Do real and earnest work but don't try to do too much in the building line.

Ask the people to furnish the rooms from their own homes, with things that they can spare, and see if the rooms are not more attractive,and more homelike than if the furniture came from some shop.

Don't let your light go out as all societies do in Fulton, but keep up interest, by every fair motive known.

I wish that I might be there to help the work along all I could, but it does seem that some of the young men of the town (and young women too) ought to take an interest in the matter.

Ask yourself what am I doing to better myself or my fellow beings? And if the answer happens to be "nothing," just go to work, and see if you can't help a little in this good work.

That the interest may be revived, and assume some tangible shape is the wish of THE WANDERING JEW.

The Metropolitians are in Baldwinsville this week.

The lodge of A. O. U. W. of Oswego Falls will be instituted to-morrow.

The Odd Fellows gave another of their pleasant parties last Thursday evening.

Twelve incandescent lights of the Thomson-Houston system have been placed in the engine house on Frst street.

Preparation for work by the soldier's monument fund committee is progressing. The committee will soon visit the houses of all citizens of Volney and Granby.

Commander A. J. Osborne and Comrade George H. Fassell will go,as delegates,to Albany next Tuesday to attend the annual state encampment of the G. A. R.

A number of Sir Knights of Fulton went to Oswego last Monday evening to witness the conferring of the order of the Red Cross in Lake Ontario commandery.

Another temperance organization was established in this village last week, when 100 boys from 10 to 15 took the pledge of total abstinence and propose to hold weekly meetings.

On last Wednesday Perry Calkins fell on the icy walk near the postoffice and sustained several severe bruises of the arm and hip, which confined him to the house for several days.

Geo. Wendling, probably the best lecturer that ever appeared before a Fulton audience, is engaged to lecture at Stephens Opera House on Tuesday, March 15. His subject is "Saul of Tarsus."

William Atkinson is shipping from this village a large quantity of bird's eye maple logs. We understand that they are to go to England,where they will be sawed up and used in the manufacture of furniture.

E. L. Messenger, who has been generl manager of the Howe Ventilating Stove Works in this village since the company was organized, has resigned. His resignation,we understand, takes effect at once.

Hiram Cook, keeper of a restaurant under the Boston Bazaar, was arrested for selling liquor without a license and brought before Police Justice VanWagenen Monday forenoon. He waived examination and was held on $300 bail to await action of the grand jury.

Nugent & Gleason's Metropolitans completed a week's engagement at the opera house on Saturday evening. On not a single evening during the week was the weather propitious, nevertheless a good number were present each evening and all felt thoroughly repaid. They always give an excellent entertainment and are great favorites here.

On last Thursday evening about twenty young people from this village, Schroeppel and Volney made up a surprise party for Willie Bradford. As it happened to be the 38 anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Bradford's wedding he was not the only one that was surprised. The occasion seemed therefore to have been doubly pleasant.

The A B and C Academic and the A Senior classes of Fulton high school, consisting of about eighty young ladies and gentlemen were [illegible]

A CLOSE CALL.

A Narrow Escape From Death at Oneida Street Crossing.

On last Monday evening,Smith Woodruff, proprietor of the Woodruff house, on First street and Henry Somers, who lives about two and one half miles east of this village, near Hulls Corners, met with a serious accident on Oneida street. They were driving up Oneida street and heard the 9:10 train coming up the grade. The horse, which was a spirited animal could not be brought under control, the result was that the train and cutter reached the same point at the same time. The cow catcher struck the thills throwing the horse on one side of the train and the men and cutter on the other. Mr. Somers was badly bruised having his leg broken above the knee and three ribs broken. Mr. Woodruff escaped with less serious injuries, but was badly bruised,having been thrown against a telegraph pole. Somers was first taken into Spooner's drug store and then to the Woodruff house where Drs. Pardee and Hall attended him. He was taken to his home yesterday. He probably did not receive internal injuries as was at first feared. It was a close call for both occupants of the cutter and fortunate that the train was running at a low rate of speed. The horse does not seem to have been injured. She was knocked down by the shock, rolled over half a dozen times,collected herself, and ran to her stable on Utica street.

Communication.

EDITOR FULTON TIMES:

I see in THE TIMES of last issue, the price paid by cities and villages,in different parts of this state for fire hydrants. I do not doubt in the least the correctness of the statement,and the information good, the largest amount being in favor of $50 per hydrant. Perhaps they are obliged to hire them at that price. They may not have two good steamers and as good fire companies as this village has, and two new hose companies just organized. The charter of the department or fire council has to be amended in order to admit them legally.

If I am not mistaken the Board of Trustees were unanimous in giving $25 per hydrant, and are now. I also find many of the taxpayers favor their decision. For the benefit of ex-President Waugh and others we might say the lowest price offered the present Board of Trustees is $50 per hydrant, and that was by the renewal of contract. They have offered to have the board appoint two and they two as a committee and agree upon a price. For one I will say send in your committee and we will try and use you fairly. If we had anything to sell we would see the parties and if there was a chance to sell to them we would try and make a bargain.

Respectfully Yours,
A. B.

The Oswego Fire,Sunday.

Shortly before 10 o'clock Sunday forenoon, fire broke out in the folding room of the Times-Express office at Oswego and did a great amount of damage before it could be overcome. The stock and folding rooms were completely wrecked. The job press room in the second floor fared but little better, the job presses and wood type were seriously damaged perhaps beyond repair. The newspaper press rooms escaped with less damage. The paper was issued on Monday evening as usual, the press work being done at the Palladium office. These are the quarters into which the Times-Express was moved a little over a year ago. The damage is nearly if not wholly covered by insurance.

Literature Fund For Schools.

The following is a list of academies and schools in this immediate section of the State with the apportionment of the State literature fund to each:

Adams Collegiate Institute	$289 23
Fulton Union School	288 93
Lowville Academy	135 37
Mexico Academy	212 52
Oswego High School	258 27
Pulaski Academy	225 00
Phœnix Union School	227 04
Sandy Creek Union School	122 11
Belleville Academy	80 90

F. M. T. B. & L. Society Ball.

A grand social Promenade is to be given by the Father Mathew Temperance, Benevolent and Literary Society of Fulton,at Church's hall on next Monday evening. The following members are to have charge. General committee: John Brennen,Wm. O'Connor, Fred McGann. Reception committee: P. Reavey, Frank Fairbanks, Frank Rafferty. Floor managers: T. Mosso, Fred La Porte, M. Dunn, W. O'Hara. Music by Parker's full orchestra.

Teachers' Examinations.

Teachers' examinations will be held as follows:

Oswego Normal Building, Monday, Feb. 21.
Fulton School House No. 2 Saturday, Feb. 26.
New Haven, Tuesday, Mar. 1.
Hannibal, Saturday, Mar. 5.
Dated Feb. 15, 1887. D. D. METCALF.

T. D. Lewis continues to sell stove and chestnut coal delivered, at $4.65 per ton. Notwithstanding the raise to $5.00 by other dealers. 39tf

Portable (condensed) Oxygen! !

Nature's restorative purifies the blood, cures bronchial and lung affections, asthma, neuralgia, dyspepsia, insomnia, anaemia, kidney and female complaints and chronic diseases generally. The only kind endorsed by physicians. Price $10 with directions. Two or more outfits at reduced rates. Portable Oxygen Co., 491 West 22d St., New York. 41m1.

New Planing Mill.

[illegible]

Lent begins one week from to-day.

Washington's birthday next Tuesday.

Look for Stowell's last adv. in this paper.

We had every kind of weather last week.

A smile is beginning to appear on the face of the local politician.

It is said that Oneida lake is higher than it has been before in twenty years.

The infant daughter of John and Mary Farrell died on Sunday last, aged 29 days.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Lewis are to give a company at their home on First street next Friday evening.

Evening sleighride parties are numerous at this season of the year and seem to be enjoyed,especially in this locality.

Save money on a ton of coal by buying of Schenck & Foster. They are selling for less than it can be had anywhere else in town.

Rev. O. M. Owen of Utica is announced to speak this evening at Church's hall on High License and Prohibition at 7½ o'clock.

In another column will be found the advertisement of a grand excursion to the nation's capital over the R. W. & O. railroad.

Amos Youmans, cashier of the 1st national bank was made treasurer of the monument fund at a special meeting of Post Schenck G. A. R., last week.

We have every facility and are thoroughly prepared to print auction bills and all other job work at short notice and on most favorable terms.

In another column will be found the program entrie of the New York State Agricultural Society which is to be held in Oswego March 2d, and 3d. Read it carefully and see what is to be done.

The St. Joseph's Hospital Industrial Exposition is being held in Syracure this week. The D. L. & W. company offer a a ticket over their road from the Fulton station and admission to the exposition for 90 cts.

There are prospects of a railroad being built from Canastota to Watertown around the head of Oneida lake through the towns of Constantia, Amboy, Parish, Richland and Sandy Creek in his county.

"Everglade Jim, the lightning tooth extractor and medicine man" is the sign that hangs up on the door of the Lewis House announcing that the "Great Medicine Man" is stopping at that hotel.

J. H. McGowan is in town and he has secured the use of the Beals Gallery opposite the Bee Hive where he will be glad to see his old friends. His stay will be short. Call soon and get 12 Cabinets for $2.00. Large permanent Bromide Crayon $3.00.

George J. Emeny will begin the work of putting in the new cherry front and plate windows of the store now occupied by R. A. Ltowell & Co., on March 1. The floor will also be lowered. This will make a very desirable store for some one, situated as it is directly across from the foot of Cayuga street.

D. C. Draper, the grocer, on Friday of last week purchased the store on First street owned by C. R. Nichols, for $6,000. He will occupy it as a grocery and crockery store after April 1st. It is now occupied by Mr. Nichols as a jewelry store and by C. E. Sackett, dry goods, &c. The two latter merchants have not yet decided what they will do after Mr. Draper takes possession.

B. J. Kimball was attacked with vertigo last Sunday morning which resembled somewhat an apoplectic stroke. He had undoubtedly overworked himself in removing snow from his sidewalk and on reaching the shed was overcome. Members of his family heard him fall and assisted him into the house. Dr. Woodbury was summoned and rendered medical aid. Unless a relapse occurs Mr. Kimball will be as well as ever in a few days.

Interesting services were held in the Catholic church last Sunday afternoon and evening. In the afternoon a large number of young ladies of the village and Oswego Falls were admitted into the Sodality, which society is in a most prosperous condition and doing much good. Its object is to make its young lady members useful and God loving members of society. The beautiful banner recently won by the society at St. Mary's fair at Oswego was blessed.

The Fulton "Crumbs" gave another of their popular parties at Church's hall last Wednesday evening. About forty couple were present. Excellent music was furnished by Gutstadt's orchestra of Syracuse and dancing indulged in until 2 a. m. Among those present from out of town were Mrs. Anna Foster and Mrs. J. S. Monteith of Canandagua, Messrs A. E. Nettleton and Clarance Auchenpaugh of Syracuse, Mr. W. Wells of Baldwinsville, Mr. L. Carner of Phœnix Mr. Howland of Rome and Miss O'Brien of Albany.

5c. 16 pages Band music paper. Jones' Music Store.

F. M. Darrow will make cabinet photographs at $2.50 per doz. No change in quality of material or work. Patriot block, cor. of Second and Oneida streets, Fulton, N. Y. 41w2.

Draper has moved all damaged goods from Oneida street to 34 First street where bargains at ½ actual prices can be had as he has got a large stock of [illegible]

[illegible]

Special to The Times.

The strike of the coal handlers and the other difficulties resulting from that trouble have been so adjusted that the pressure they exerted on business activity is now practically removed. This adjustment has been attained through the efforts of Mr. Austin Corbin, acting however, solely for his own road, The Philadelphia & Reading. The probabilities are that the financially weak condition of this road and the necessity of earning something since its reorganization have had a great deal to do with forcing this issue. The coal combination which has existed so long contemplated united action in a time like this, hence the action of Mr. Corbin is viewed rather strangely not to say with some anger by the coal roads. The fact that the Philadelphia and Reading has quoted in substance what was asked, namely, the old rate of wages, will to a very great extent influence the other roads. Of course, the great principle that business men may and of right, ought to manage their business as they see fit is carefully protected by Mr. Corbin in this adjustment. Now comes the great question, What's to pay for all this? I notice that a recent estimate puts the case of wages, trade etc. at $3,000,000. That's an enormous sum, to say nothing of the amount of suffering the poor of the city have been subject to.

While these strikes have been in progress we have had a visit from the Legislature in the shape of an Investigating Committee, one of whose members, Mr. Ainsworth, represents Oswego county. The testimony before this committee has been very interesting, indeed. Of course, it would be impossible to give all this testimony, but the evidence of two witnesses is very pertinent to the subject.

Mr. Martin of this committee is an advocate of trades unions and if I mistake not, is affiliated with the K. of L. Certain it is that he seeks to bring out by the witness the necessity of forcing by law, arbitration instead of leaving that as the voluntary act of the parties involved. But the testimony. That of Mr. Bernoyud was very curious and shows the peculiar position of men who strike simply from sympathy. This gentleman deals only in soft coal and his trade aggregate over a million tons per annum. It is almost entirely with steamship companies that he deals. His men receive from $15 to $20 per week and have much easier work than their fellows in the hard coal trade. These men had no grievance with Mr. Bernyud, but purely out of sympathy for their striking fellows left work and by that action declared for the same pay the hard coal handlers demanded. That is they really put themselves on record as deserving a reduction of 33 per cent. Curious isn't it?

But of far more importance was the statement of LeGrand B. Cameron, the virtual head of the D. & H. Canal Co's system. He had now in operation a system something like this. The terms of service of his employes are at a fixed duration. After an employe had served during that term, he was advanced to a higher rate and so on for each successive term, till by old age, or from casualty received during his time, he should be incapacitated for work, then the scheme contemplated a pension for the remainder of the workman's days. This was in operation on the Lake Champlain steamboats and the results were gratifying. Mr. Cameron in reply to a question as to the legality of this action said he did not suppose that if a stockholder appealed to the courts for this so called waste of money, they would sustain the plan; but the system gave efficient service and contented workman. He believed in high wages. They gave better results than small ones. The conclusion of the testimony before this committee, so far as the writer heard it, seems to be to condemn arbitration as a forced legal measure—that being to a certain extent an infringement upon the principle of man's individual right to manage his business.

The committee is examining persons from all walks of life. The workmen who are summoned are generally Knights of Labor and as a rule are the leaders of the body. They have all to a greater or less extent read Henry George's theories or set at the feet of some Gameliel who teaches his doctrines. Most of the testimony from this class of men looks toward the transfer of all corporations, namely, railroads, telegraph, coal and telephone to the control of the government. It is interesting testimony and the attendant upon the sittings of the Legislative Committee will find much worthy of thought, a very small synopsis of which is here given by the

WANDERER.

FARMERS, ATTENTION!

Buy the celebrated Leihi Valley stove and chestnut Coal at $4.40 per ton, of T. D. Lewis. Yards opposite gas works. 39tf

What Pulaski Expects When the Water works are Completed.

Insurance companies, some months since, agreed upon an advance in the rates of insurance upon the business blocks of this village. Policies generally are being advanced or, as is often the case, cancelled, the business men refusing to pay the increased rates. The insurance syndicate says that the advance is probably of a temporary character, and,furthermore,that it is made because of the lack of fire protection. As soon as the Pulaski water works shall be in running order, the local agents have been notified to change the rates to another schedule which is considerably reduced from the one now in force. The reduction to be made on account of the water works will average from twenty to twenty-five per cent. This is a greater margin in favor of our fire service than had been at first expected. To the owners of business property, it must be very gratifying, for the saving in insurance [illegible] much as to greatly overbalance the slightly increased taxation because of the water works bonds. There has also been an increase in the rates of insurance on farm property and on village residences all over the country. [illegible]

[illegible]

-CLOTHING-

—AND—

Gents' Furnishing Goods.

We are Overstocked, Overloaded, Overcrowded, with this big Assortment and for one month we offer it at

Clean Sweep Figures!

Goods Sold at Money Saving Prices!
Goods Sold at Money Making Prices!
Goods Sold at People Pleasing Prices!
Goods Sold at Unearthly Low Prices!
Are you with us for 30 days?

PEEBLES & COOK.

"THE STANDARD."

H. W. JOHNS ASBESTOS BOILER COVERINGS

ASBESTOS CEMENT FELTING.
AIR-CHAMBER COVERING.
LOCOMOTIVE LAGGING.
ASBESTOS LINING FELT.

Samples and Illustrated Pamphlet "Steam Saving and Fire-Proof Materials" Free by Mail.

H. W. JOHNS MANUFACTURING CO.,

SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF

H.W. Johns' Fire and Water-Proof Asbestos Roofing, Sheathing, Building Felt, Asbestos Steam Packings, Boiler Coverings, Roof Paints, Fire-Proof Paints, etc. VULCABESTON, Moulded Piston-Rod Packing, Rings, Gaskets, Sheet Packing, etc.

Established 1858. 87 MAIDEN LANE, NEW YORK. CHICAGO, PHILADELPHIA, LONDON.

The "4&1" is the finest cigar in Oswego Co. Drop into Williams' drug store and try one. 40tf

Don't fail to try a "4 & 1" at Williams' drug store. 40tf

Draper 34 First street, opposite the Clark house, is closing out all his crockery, lamps and plated ware below cost

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots. &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by
10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

Great Closing out Sale of Boots and Shoes.

To make room for new spring goods now makiug for us will close out a large line Ladies' and Gents' Shoes at greatly reduced prices.

THE SALMON SHOE STORE,
40w2. Opera Block.

For Sale.

Five acres of all tillable land, suitable for a garden with a good house and barn on it,with an abundance of fruit and well watered. Situated 2½ miles west of Fulton on the Hannibal road. Terms easy. Inquire of Dr. Watson at Watson's drug store. 36m3

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J.COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t18

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t18

Vienna Bakery

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers,bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER,
18tf 26 First st

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t18.

Special Notices,

TO RENT. Rooms for a small family. Inquire of Mrs. E. Guild, Utica street, near Baptist church.

FOR SALE—My house and lot on Utica street within five minutes walk of the postoffice. Also lot on Oneida street, 6¼ acres, just outside of the corporation limits. Call on or address.
R. P. HALL, Fulton, N. Y.

FOR SALE.—Farm of 72 acres 2 miles from Little Utica 2¼ miles from D. L. & W. R. R., near Cody school house. Story and half house with wing, good cellar, well and cistern, never failing spring,new barn 30x54,painted red,14 acres woods, beach, hemlock, elm and basswood; soil, gravel and sandy loam in good condition, it has been pastured for four years, and is adapted to all kinds of grain, especially good for tobacco and potatoes. Will be sold cheap. Terms easy. Inquire of PETER DINGMAN, Liverpool, N. Y. or A. R. FAILING, Baldwinsville, N. Y. 38t4

FOR SALE.—A Farm for sale situated 6 miles from Fulton and 7 miles from Oswego, containing about 80 acres, 50 under cultivation. A large orchard, a large and commodious farm house, barn and carriage house in good repair. Will sell cheap. Terms easy. For particulars inquire of MRS J. W. WEED,
Box 423 Fulton, N. Y.

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 30tf.

D. C. Draper, No. 34 First St., has an entire new stock of groceries on 1st floor and a fine line of crockery, some new and the balance the uninjured crockery from the Oneida St. store, and in basement of same store he has all the damaged Groceries, Crockery, China Tea and Chamber Setts, Lamps &c., (from the old store on Oneida St.) which he now offers for sale, the poorest at your own price, and the balance at a very low price. Remember the place in basement of New store, opposite Clark House.

TO SUFFERING WOMANHOOD.

DR. GALT has so prepared his

"SPECIAL CURE"

—FOR—

FEMALE DISEASES

That any Lady can test its merits with very little trouble and small expense. It is put up in desirable form for

"SELF TREATMENT."

Price $1.00 per package by mail. Address
DR. R. S. GALT & CO.,
Oswego, N. Y.

YOUR LAST CHANCE!

Now is the time to get Bargains. Saturday, Feb. 26 positively the last day.

We are selling as long as they last the following goods at the following prices:

1 large galvanized pail 24cts.,	1 14 quart tin pail 18cts.,
3 dozen clothes pins, 5cts.,	1 14 quart dish pan, 19cts.,
1 large dust pan, 7cts.,	1 No. 9 tea kettle, 45cts.,
1 clothes wringer, (best kind), only 5 left, $2.49,	6 sheets of writing paper, 1c.
	6 envelopes, 1c.,
1 large wood pail, 13cts.	1 paper pail, 24cts.,

and everything in proportion. These prices are about ½ actual value. If you want or expect to want any

Tinware, Glassware, House Furnishing Goods,

This is certainly a good opportunity.

Show Cases, Stove and Store Fixtures will be sold very cheap. A cellar full of boxes for sale.

STOWELL'S

[illegible] varieties of tobacco are [illegible] to horticulturists.

A three-year-old heifer, recently killed [illegible] at Lake's ranch, Nevada, [illegible] pounds.

Experiments in tobacco culture in south Florida, says The Savannah News, have been made with encouraging results on a limited scale.

It would be a dissipated and reckless cow that would be ashamed to own up to being responsible for some of the milk peddled around by the farmers.

Great Britain makes from her own orchards 220,000,000 gallons of cider annually, and imports about 900,000 barrels of apples from the United States.

There were imported to this country, during 1886, 2,000,000 dozen of eggs from Denmark and 16,000,000 dozen from the dominion of Canada.

It is said that the manure wasted by the most of American farmers would make an English farmer poor, while the amount utilized by the English farmer would make an American farmer rich.

The value of poultry in the United States amounts to over $700,000,000. This large sum would be increased if poultry received the same attention as is bestowed on sheep, horses or cattle.

If your hay is falling short cut the hay and straw together, add bran and shorts with a little salt water to moisten the mass and the whole will be eaten.

If you have any spare time during the winter it can be put to profitable use in forking over the manure heap. The materials cannot be too fine or thoroughly decomposed.

Now that eggs are high the best way to get them is to have warm quarters for the hens, and feed on a variety of food, with meat as a portion of the ration three times per week.

All the plans for next season should be arranged now. Have everything in readiness to begin work when busy spring comes, as no time can then be spared to attend to those matters which may be overlooked now.

Shop Tools on the Farm.

It must be a very bungling farmer who cannot afford to have from $10 to $25 worth of tools and a good place to keep and use them. The interest on such an investment will be less than it may cost to make a single trip to the village to get some small but very indespensible repairing done when harvest is driving and perhaps several men waiting with nothing to do but to figure up how much they will get for the time they are idle. Some men have very little faculty in the use of tools, but if there are two or three boys in the family there will probably at least be one that will learn to use tools, if he can have them to use. See that he has them.—American Farmer.

A Thoroughbred Cow.

The presence of a thoroughbred cow in a herd, says the American Dairyman, has a most remarkable effect on the the owner. She is the first one that he concerns himself about when the herd is looked up. She gets all the petting and the extra bits of grass. The wife sets that cow's milk separate for use in the family, and when the cow has a new calf everybody goes out to look at it. Such a cow has a refined influence in the family and every farmer should have one in his herd.

A War Story.

Burdette tells a war story which somehow has failed to get into the magazines:

"It was in the war" said Tralalou, in amazement. "By Jove, I was right at the front and in the midst of it all the time. I sang tenor in a church choir for six years. War? That was nearly fifty-four years ago.—do you see that boy over the way throwing stones at my two little grand-daughters for calling him names? Well, sir, that boy is the alto's grandson. I should say war!" And as the friend passed on the old man looked cautiously up and down the street, and then fired a piece of brick at the boy that caught him amidships and knocked all the wind out of him in a wild despairing howl than brought a sweet-faced white-haired old lady and a cistern pole thirteen feet long out of a side door and down the street, and before the patrol wagon could come up with them she had broken two of the old gentleman's ribs and pushed his nose away over to one side of his face. "I know him," she said to the sergeant who arrested her. "I know him of old. He used to sing flat in Northfield fifty years ago."

A Rural Journalist Leaves his Card.

We judge from the fact that a large horse-chestnut wrapped up in one of our most revered and venerable jokes and labeled, "These two are about the same size," was found on our sanctum table one morning last week, that F. J. Black of the Reynoldsville Paper was in town.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

If you are tired taking the large old-fashioned griping pills, and are satisfied that purging yourself until you are sick and weak is not good common sense, then try Carter's Little Liver Pills and learn how easy it is to be free from biliousness, headache, constipation and all liver troubles. These little pills are smaller, easier to take and give quicker relief than any pill in use. Forty in a vial. One a dose. Price 25 cents.

Watering Cows in Winter.

A cow giving milk naturally drinks much more water than another animal of the same size. With the temperature down to zero or below, and drinking from a hole in the ice, this cold water will lower the temperature of her body for hours, retard digestion and increase the yield of milk. The cow, in fact, will [illegible] of this cold water, and [illegible] reason for decreased yield. [illegible] water to take the [illegible] will be a comfort for the cow [illegible] for her owner. We can [illegible] to exchange a little [illegible]

[illegible] sorting [illegible] rather, [illegible] taking [illegible] to gather them in the [illegible] and wintry weather, [illegible] time and leather—pondered we these items over. While he conned them, slowly rocking, through our minds queer ideas flocking, came a quick and nervous knocking, knocking at the sanctum door. "Sure that must be Jinks," we muttered, "Jinks that's knocking at our sanctum door." Ah! well do we remind us, the walls which then confined us, the exchanges lay behind us and before us and around us all scattered over the floor. Thought we: "Jinks wants to borrow some papers till to-morrow, and 'twill be relief from sorrow to get rid of Jinks, the bore." Still the visitor kept knocking, knocking louder than before.

And the scattered pile of papers, cut some rather curious capers, being lifted by the breezes coming through another door; and we wished (the wish is evil for one deemed always civil) that Jinks was at the devil, to stay there ever more; there to and his level—Jinks the everlasting bore.

Bracing up our patience firmer, then without another murmur, "Mr. Jinks," said we, "your pardon, your forgiveness we implore. But the fact is we were reading of some curious proceeding, and this it was, unheeding your loud rapping there before—Here we opened wide the door. But phancy now our phelinks—for it wasn't Jinks the bore—Jinks never more.

But the form that stood before us caused a tremble to come over us and memory brought us back to days of yore; days when items were in plenty, and where'er the writer went he picked up items by the score. 'Twas the form of our "devil," in the attitude uncivil, and he thurst his head within the open door: "The foreman's out of copy, sir, and says he wants some more."

Now this local had already walked about until nearly dead; he had sauntered through the city until his feet were sore; walked through the streets and alleys and in the byways running off into portions of the city, both public and obscure. Had examined store and cellar and had questioned every feller whom he met—from door to door, if anything was stirring, anything occurring not published heretofore; and had met with no success—he would rather kinder guess he felt a little wicked at the ugly little bore, with his message from the foreman that he wanted something more.

"Now it's time you were departing, you scamp cried we upstarting. "Get your back into the office, office where you were before; or the words that you have spoken, will get your bones broken"—and we sieze a cudgel oaken that was lying on the floor. "Take your hands out of your pockets, and leave the sanctum door; tell the foreman there's no copy, you ugly little bore." Quoth our devil, "send him more."

And our devil, never sitting, still is flitting, still is flitting back and forth upon the landing just outside the sanctum door. Tears adown his cheeks are streaming, a strange light from his eyes is beaming, and his voice is heard still screaming: "Sir, the foreman wants some more."

She Prayed It.

An acquaintance told me of a church trial he attended when a boy, which furnishes an excellent illustration of woman's wit.

A member of the church had been acccused of immorality. One of the sisters was in possession of facts which proved his guilt, but when she was called upon for her testimony, the guilty man's lawyer objected, on the ground that the church rules forbade women to speak. The point was sustained by the chairman, and the erring brother looked triumphant. The good sister arose.

"Do the rules of this church forbid women to pray?" she inquired, meekly.

"Certainly not," was the chairman's answer.

"Very well, then," was the response; "brothers and sisters, let us pray.' Kneeling there, she poured out in prayer her testimony so conclusively and fervently that the man's sin was clearly shown, and the council rendered judgment accordingly. Ida Buxton Cole.

Prominent Clergymen, Physicians, and all classes of citizens are unanimous in the indorsement of Salvation Oil, the great cure for Rheumatism.

No greater guarantee of the excellence of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup could be furnished than that it is recommended by all the leading Druggists.

Senor Terry, probably she richest man in Cuba, who died recently leaving $30,000,000, began his business life as a peddler, became rich, married a wealthy lady and kept on adding to his fortune.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE AFFLICTED.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism and Catarrh.

Baldwinsville, N. Y.

Pardee Medicine Co.:

GENTLEMEN:—About one year ago I chilled my blood and was under the doctor's care for about six months when I had a counsel of eight physicians and was given up to die. Soon after, a lady friend came to see me and told me about your great Remedy. She said she had been cured of it after having the rheumatism seven years, and that her rheumatism was first brought on by a cold. At this time I was suffering severe pain all through my body and near my heart. The doctors called it only "frozen blood." Through the persuasion of my friend I procured a bottle. I found some relief. Seeing this I procured more and was entirely cured by its use; and what was my surprise and pleasure at finding that I was not only cured of my rheumatism, but the catarrh, which had been troubling me for years, and had become very offensive, had entirely left me.

Wishing your remedy every success, and thanking you very much for my double cure, I remain,

Truly yours,
MRS. LUCY BRONSON.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTS:—I was confined to my bed with Inflammatory Rheumatism for over a week; was very badly afflicted, suffering from severe pains in my chest [illegible]

[illegible] Louis I, king of Portugal, is forty-eight.

Victoria, Queen of England, is sixty-seven.

The king of all the Spains is less than a year old.

Alexander III, emperor of Russia, is forty-one.

Don Pedro II, emperor of Brazil, is sixty-one.

Abdel-Hamid, the grand Sultan, is forty-four.

William, Emperor of Germany, is eighty-nine.

Francis Joseph I, emperor of Austria, is fifty-six.

Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett gives the following directions for writing a novel: "you must have a pen, ink and paper. Use the first with brains, the second with imagination, and the third with generosity."

Thousands of cases of Consumption are cured every year by Acker's celebrated English Remedy. It is a guaranteed preparation; if it does not help you it will cost you nothing. Try it. A single dose will show its good effect. Trial bottles 10 cts. by H. C. Giesler.

There are as many as 1,000 pieces of real estate within two miles of the court house in Savannah, Ga., owned by colored people who were formerly slaves, bought and paid for with their earnings.

HOW I FELT.

Why, two years ago I was just about crazy. and no wonder that my wife and children were afraid of me. You just want to suffer with neuralgia with no relief, as I did until I used Sulphur Bitters. They cured me, and now my wife says I am as meek as a lamb.—Robert Davis, American House, Boston.

The Russian minister at Washington is allowed $25,000 a year by his government for the purpose of giving entertainments.

Home Rule for Ireland

is only a question of time and it is only a question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. G. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

Theodore Tilton says he will never return to America, but will spend the rest of his days at Paris, where he has now been living for three years.

At Night always have Acker's Baby Soother at hand. It is the only safe medicine yet made that will remove all infantile disorders. It contains no Opium or Morphine, but gives the child natural ease from pain. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

There are 826 cotton mills in the United States, containing 12,660,000 spindles, consuming 2,244,000 bales of cotton annually.

The Bloodthirsty Anarchists

Are foes to the health of our political institutions, but Coughs and Colds are greater foes to bodily health. Van Wert's Balsam will certainly cure all Coughs. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

Van Wert's Pills are very mild in action. Van Wert's Golden Balm is agreeable to use.

Lady Colin Campbell sent a New Year's card to every juryman who sat at her divorce trial.

If you would enjoy your dinner and are prevented by Dyspepsia, use Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Flatulency and Constipation. We guarantee them. 25 and 50 cents. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

There are but two gun foundries in the United States, one at West Point and the other at Boston.

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk and easily digested. Delicate people improve rapidly with its use. For Consumption, Throat affections and Bronchitis it is unequalled. Dr. Thomas Prim. Ala., says: "I used Scott's Emulsion on a child eight months old; he gained four pounds in a month."

Jay Gould has purchased 200,000 acres of pine land in Louisiana.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it well save unnecessary doctors bills. For sale by H. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure catarrhal Headaches.

On a train that arrived at San Bernardino, Cal., the other day were seventeen babies. Four of these were born on the train.

Delicate diseases or either sex radically cured. Send ten cents in stamps for book. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Tex., by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless that he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of Consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds. Trial Bottles of this Great Discovery for Consumption free at R. E. Phillips'.

It is said that last year more than 100,000 emigrants went to the Argentine Republic most of them from Italy.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Suit, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took [illegible] bottles and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." [illegible]

[illegible] No other [illegible] medicine has won for itself such [illegible] Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the most powerful combination of vegetable alteratives ever offered to the public, and is acknowledged by the medical profession to be the best blood purifier.

A ring is on hand for marriages at Castle Garden that has already been used at 860 marriage ceremonies.

The pain and misery suffered by those who are afflicted with dyspepsia are indescribable. The distress of the body is equalled or surpassed by the confusion and tortures of the mind, thus making its victims suffer double affliction. The relief that is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla has caused thousands to be thankful for this great medicine. It dispells the causes of dyspepsia, and tones up the indigestive organs. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Frank James, the ex-railroad robber, is trying to become a salesman in a St. Louis shoe store.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest Cleanest, Best,
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

INDIA PALE ALE.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. [illegible]

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American [illegible]

[illegible]

The amount of capital and capital stock put into new industrial enterprises in the south during 1886, is reported by the Chicago Journal as $129,000,000 as against $66,000,000 in 1885.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

Mrs. Langtry has a beautiful home in New York city and an income of $100,000 per year. It pays to be a bad actress.

Babies that are fretful, peevish, cross, or troubled with Windy Colic, Teething Pains, or Stomach Disorders, can be relieved at once by using Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine, hence is safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

John Good, the inventor, who now has an income of $150,000 a year, was a day laborer in a Brooklyn cordage factory a few years ago.

HOW TO READ

your doctor's presciptions. Send thee 2 cent stamps, to pay postage, and receive Dr. Kaufmann's great treatise on disease; illustrated in colors; it gives their signs and abbreviations. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Tarrytown spent $90,000 for beer and rum during 1886 and $77,000 for state county, school and village taxes and in supporting five churches.

QUICK, SAFE, SURE.

Why suffer aches, pains and agony in limbs, back and breast when for 25 cents you can be cured by VANDUSEN'S READY REMEDY. One bottle will prove its value. A remedy that should be in every family. It acts like magic. Cures sprains, wounds, cramps, sore throat. Try a bottle.

VANDUSEN BROS., Kingston, N. Y. 40t4

A prominent man in Philadelphia is named E. Burd Grubb. He is called canary seed for short.

The reason why Acker's Blood Elixir is warranted, is because it is the best Blood Preparation known. It will positively cure all Blood Diseases, purifies the whole system, and thoroughly builds up the constitution. Remember, we guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Aroostook county, Maine, is four times the size of the state of Rhode Island.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

A Polk county, Georgia, man is living pleasantly with his eighth wife.

Over 22,000,000 lobsters were captured and canned on Prince Edward Island last year.

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL, And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvelous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check for $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation. The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers;—or Five Million Readers. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of [illegible] pages. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., New York.

WORK FOR ALL. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]
[illegible] —[illegible]

There was a young lady named Hughes,
Who never was known to refuse
To go out at night
On a young man's invite,
To take one of a couple of [illegible].
—Brooklyn Union.

The women should remember,
While high hats they are wearing,
That low hats at the opera
Do not produce tall swearing.
—Detroit Free Press.

Where are those songs? Those pensive airs
Of autumn leaves and dying days,
So filled with hopes and anxious cares,
Those tuneful tunes and lissom lays?

Some in the waste-basket may be found,
Some serve to clean the printer's type;
Some into kite-bows have been bound,
Some gone to light the foreman's pipe.
—Goodall's Sun.

A type-righter—the proof reader.—Boston Transcript.

The last sad rite—writing a will.—Texas Siftings.

The best weather for haymaking—when it rains pitchforks.—Boston Beacon.

A man may have a great head from other than intellectual causes.—Boston Post.

An oil painting sometimes flatters a man, but a newspaper portrait never does—Boston Courier.

Venison is reported dear, and yet a great deal of it is not deer, although it passes for such.—Boston Post.

After the sleeveless bodice will come the skirtless skirt, and then—good Lord deliver us.—Minneapolis Tribune.

The dentist may never have traveled on a steamboat, still he has often run foul of a 'snag'—Cedar Rapids Gossip.

An editor's labors are very confining, particularly where he has written something that has got him into jail.—Nib.

"Well, I like a liar," observed Smith, after Brown had been telling him a story. "That is what I call egotism," returned Brown.—New Haven News.

An enterprising individual has started a newspaper in New York called the Earth, on the plea, doubtless, that every body will want it.—Tid-Bits.

The rack was one of the instruments of torture in the olden time. The music rack is usually used for the same purpose to-day.—Boston Manufacturer's Gazette.

An American dentist is going to Africa to pretice his proferesion. The heathen has ruined his teeth on tough missionaries, probably.—Norristown Herald.

In Tennessee the young men do their courting in the presence of the old folks. When going West, young man, don't go to Tennessee.—Boston Transcript.

A notice posted in a certain town reads: "Cash paid for butcher's hides." This shows what popular indignation against butchers may lead to.—St. Albans Messenger.

A new story is out, entitled, "A Hidden Terror." We always thought some traveler would get around to write a novel on the bed bug.—Burlington Free Press.

An inventor at Stuttgart is said to have perfected a machine for deadening the sound of a piano. It will not be a success. The only sure way to keep a piano quiet is to deaden the pianist.—Utica Observer.

"I could live on that air," said a young lady, rapturously, at the opera the other night. "If you can live on air I'll marry you," said her companion, who was an editor.—Siftings.

The new $2 silver certificates have been issued. They are—but, hold on—if the United States Treasurer wants us to notice his publications he had better send along some sample copies.—Independent.

A Canadian says that the word toboggan is properly pronounced with the second o long. If this rule is enforced about a million toboggan poems will at once be knocked into a cocked hat.—New York Tribune.

"I reach and reach, but I cannot grasp," writes a poet. Well, people should not put a porous plaster between their shoulder blades unless they can rely on some one to take it off.—Omaha World.

His Sad Joke.

The Rochester Post-Express the other day published the following:

If the B m t put: if the B. putting:

How can I put: when there is such a-der?

Such a howl went up from the indignant subscribers that the editor was obliged to explain himself as follows:

If the grate be emty put coal on; if the grate be full stop putting coal on.

How can I put coal on when there is such a high fender?—Detroit Free Press.

Equal to Booth.

Amateur Actor (to friend)—"What did you think of my Hamlet, Charley?"

Dear Friend—"Immense! In one part of the play you were equal to Booth."

Amateur Actor—"What part was that, Charley?

Dear Friend—"Where Polonius gives his parting advice to Laertes."

Amateur Actor—"But I was behind the scenes then."

Dear Friend—"So is Booth."—Puck.

Carter's Little Liver Pills will be found an excellent remedy for sick-headache. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Ask your druggist for them.

Runs in the Family.

Little Dot—"What you fink of my new brother?"

Little Dick—"I don't see why he should have a bald head."

"Oh! I dess that's tause he takes after papa."—Omaha World.

Musical Instruments.

An instrument of valve, 25 cts. buys the best and most efficient plaster ever known. Hop Plasters for any kind of pain—act instantly never fail—Hops, Gums and Burgundy Pitch combined, superior to all others. 25 cts.

Where Next?

The opera season is drawing to a close, and it becomes a question where some [illegible] can go to exhibit [illegible]—New York Mail [illegible]

[illegible]

1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures hitherto unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

Unknown to Others

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared with the greatest skill and care, by pharmacists of education and long experience. Hence it is a medicine worthy of entire confidence. If you suffer from scrofula, salt rheum, or any disease of the blood, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, or kidney and liver complaints, catarrh or rheumatism, do not fail to try

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all my friends as the best blood purifier on earth." WM. GAFF, druggist, Hamilton, O.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of scrofulous humor, and done me worlds of good otherwise." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

A book containing many additional statements of cures will be sent to all who desire.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take

BLUE PILLS

or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

IT IS Dangerous!

Don't Wait!

Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use

Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful Cure at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE. No. 41 West 31st St., New York City.

CATARRH

ELY'S
CREAM BALM
CURES
COLD IN HEAD
CATARRH
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S,
OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A.
EASY TO USE

HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the senses of taste and smell. 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents.

ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, NY.

KASKINE.

(THE NEW QUININE.)

Science emerging from Darkness.

NO BAD EFFECT.
NO HEADACHE.
NO NAUSEA.
No Ringing Ears.
Cures Quickly.
Pleasant, Pure.

A POWERFUL TONIC that the most delicate stomach will bear.

A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM, NERVOUS PROSTRATION, and all Germ Diseases.

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y.: "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleasner, 360 East 121st St., New York City, has cured over 290 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says, "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

Rev. Jas. L. Hall, Chaplain Albany Penitentiary, writes that Kaskine has cured his wife, after twenty years suffering from malaria and nervous dyspepsia. Write him for particulars.

Thousands upon thousands write that Kaskine has cured them after all other medicines had failed. Write for books of testimonials.

Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM [illegible]

HINDERCORNS. [illegible]

[illegible] STOPPED FREE [illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

[illegible] Dated Dec. 1, 1886.

William D. [illegible]
Harriet L. [illegible]
Administrators.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1887, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in January, March, May, June, September, November and December.

FULTON At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in April, July and October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on the last Thursday of April, July and September.

PARISH—At J. S. Ludington's law office, on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday in April, July and September.

F. DAVID, Surrogate.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE. The undersigned assignee of Ellen E. Swan will sell at public auction at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the Village of Fulton, New York, on the 28th day of February, 1887, at 2 o'clock p. m., of that day all the right, title and interest which said Ellen E. Swan had on the day of her assignment in and to the several parcels of real estate hereinafter described, viz.: First parcel about 3½ acres situate in the Village of Oswego Falls, Oswego county, New York, lying between First Street and the Oswego River, under the best state of cultivation for fruit gardening, containing about 300 quince bushes, 500 black currant bushes, 75 pear trees, a large number of peach trees, a number of varieties of grapes and other small fruit, all in good bearing condition. Second parcel about 12 acres situate in the Town of Granby, Oswego county, New York, lying upon the peat bed, bounded east by land of Samuel Wood; north by lands of Mrs. Eggleston; west by lands of John Kinney and south by lands of Mrs. Collins; under high state of cultivation, well adapted to raising and now mostly set with willows.

Terms of sale made known on day of sale.
Dated Feb'y 1st, 1887.

CHARLES WHITE,
Assignee.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK: By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Thomas M. Hubbard, Montague, Mich; Ira G. Hubbard, Elkhart, Ind.; Fred A. Hart, Mary Jones, Albert W. Hart, Emma Jones, Scriba, Oswego county, N. Y.; Jesse L. Coe, Sand Bank, Oswego county, N. Y.; Jane Hubbard, Thomas Hubbard, Volney, Oswego county, N. Y.; Frank Hubbard and George Hubbard, residence unknown; persons interested in the estate of Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in the county of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting.

Whereas, Lucy K. Hubbard, now of the Town of Scriba, in the county of Oswego, has lately made application to our Surrogate of the county of Oswego for the final judicial settlement of her account as Executrix of said Thomas Hubbard, deceased; therefore, you, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, at the law office of C. H. David, Esq., in the Village of Fulton, in said county of Oswego, on the 14th day of April, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to attend the final judicial settlement of the accounts of the proceedings of Lucy K. Hubbard as Executrix of said deceased.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, [L. S.] Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phœnix, in said county, the 24th day of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven.

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogates Court.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE. Whereas on the 1st day of April, 1873, Isaac F. Pierce made and delivered to the undersigned mortgagee, Allan Gilmour, his certain mortgage, bearing date on that day, whereby he mortgaged to the said Allan Gilmour, his heirs and assigns "all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Hannibal, County of Oswego and state of New York, bounded and described as follows, to wit, being part of subdivision No. one of great lot No. eighty-one of said town of Hannibal and beginning in the north line of said lot No. eighty-one, at the north-east corner of land now owned by Daniel Randall; thence east along said north line to the north-west corner of land now owned by David Dexter; thence south along the west line of said Dexter's land to the center of the highway leading across said lot; thence easterly along the center of said highway to the east line of said lot No. one; thence south along said east line to the south-east corner of said lot No one; thence west along the south line of said subdivision to the west line of said lot No. eighty-one; thence north to the centre of the highway leading across said lot; thence east along the centre of said highway to the south-east corner of D. Randall's land; thence north along the east line of said Randall's land to the place of beginning, containing about ninety-five acres of land," which said mortgage with the power of sale therein contained, was duly recorded in the Oswego County Clerk's office, on the 21st day of April, 1873, at 5 o'clock p. m., in Liber 93 of mortgages, at page 349, and whereas the said mortgage was given to secure the payment of two thousand dollars with semi-annual interest, as therein specified, and default has been made in the condition of said mortgage whereby the power to sell therein contained has become operative and there is claimed to be due thereon at the date of the first publication of this notice the sum of two thousand thirty-seven dollars, and that the whole amount thereof is due.

Said mortgage was duly assigned to Stillman W. Mason on the 30th day of March, 1880, and said assignment was duly recorded in the Oswego County Clerks Office on the 19th day of January, 1887.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that in pursuance of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the statute in such case made and provided the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public auction, at the Lewis House, in the village of Fulton, on the 20th day of April, 1887, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day.

STILLMAN W. MASON, Assignee.
A. L. & E. O. JOHNSON,
Attys., Syracuse, N. Y.

LUMBER! LUMBER.

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

O. RUST. 37tf

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to, the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

—IF YOUR—

HORSE IS LAME

USE DR. J. S. MARKHAM'S

"Spavin Cure."

—IF HE HAS—

Sore Feet or Contracted Hoofs,

Use Dr. J. S. Markham's

FOUNDER OINTMENT.

☞They are a sure cure. For sale at the DRUG STORES.

MONEY to be made. [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 42

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 23, 1887. Single Copies Three Cents

Father McKenzie.

I.

Have you heard of McKenzie, the auld parish prast
That lived years ago, some sixty at laste,
In the Aden of Ireland, the town of Dungall,
Where the lasses were swate and the lads they were tall;
With a living quite fine and a church of the bist,
And a life that put conscience and trouble to rist?

II.

Well, ye see, 'twas before this timperance was known—
Father Mathew, I think, had lit temperance alone,
And the party they call Prohibition was scarce—
If the pledge had been passed they'd have thought it a farce;
While the stills were at work all the year in the bog
To kape the boys busy jist drinking the grog.

III.

Well, Father McKenzie a palate had fine
That could tell all the shades of both whisky and wine;
And not wishing to have all this talent betrayed,
And spiritual things being somewhat his thrade,
He thought it was bist to have ever on hand
The spirits of comfort of the very bist brand.

IV.

Now, one day there came down a young prast to Dungall
To make Father Mc. a pastoral call;
And the day being warm and the host of good cheer,
The first thing he did when the guest did appear
Was to say, with a smile. "Come ye rest nath me vine
And join me in quaffing a wee sip of wine."

V.

But the nose of the other turned up in disdain
As he quickly gave answer that he must refrain
From drinking all wine, "Thin, perhaps," says the host,
"In some imported brandy you'll join in a toast,"
But the nose of the other went higher in air
As again he rejected the good father's fare.

VI.

Now, auld Father Mc. had a timper the bist,
But an angel would have clim on his are after this,
And whin, quite amazed, he at last understood
That the prast thought his proffered refreshments no good,
He sat on the table his untasted glass
And thundered out, "Faith, do you iverate grass?"

VII.

Sthruck dumb with the question the prast all agast
Answered, "No," thinking he was insane, sure, at last;
But he thought so the more when Mc. from his seat
Rose up and quick pointing the way to the strate
Cried, "Get ye along to yer lodgings in haste,
Ye'r ne'r fit companion for man or for baste!"

He Had Read History.

A teacher stood before his class
In "History," one day—
Composed of twenty-five young boys—
And thus to them did say:

"Now, who can tell, what is the one Great fundamental, grand
Foundation principle, on which
Is built this glorious land?"

A small boy raised his hand, and then
In lisping tones, said he:
"Pleath, thir, I dess it must 'a been Georth Washingtonth cherry tree."

J. W. BURGESS.

Difficult To Suit.

"I do not like a man that's tall
A man that's short is worse than all,
I much abhor a man that's fat;
A man that's lean is worse than that.
A young man is a constant pest;
An old one would my room infest,
Nor do I like a man that's fair;
A man that's black I cannot bear,
A man of sense I could not rule;
And yet I would not wed a fool.
A sober man I would not take;
A drunken man my heart would break.
All these I most sincerely hate,
And yet I love the marriage state."

—Old Scrap Book.

The simplest and best regulator of the Disordered Liver in the world, are Carter's Little Liver Pills. They give prompt relief in Sick Headache, Dizziness, Nausea, &c.: prevent and cure Constipation and Piles; remove Sallowness and Pimples from the Complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and as easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

Vital Statistics.

The forty-six annual report of the English Register General for 1885, gives some interesting facts in relation to human life. To each 1,000 living persons there are 487 males and 513 females; but for every 100 females 105 males were born. At every age of life the death rate was lowered in the females. For both sex a diminishing death rate is taking place this is more marked in the females. The average duration of the life of the males was a fraction less than 42 years, and of the females a fraction less than 45 years. In 46 years the average duration of life was increased two years and that of the females three and a half years. The death rate was lowest among clergymen. Then comes the farmer, next the lawyer; while the doctor, who of all men ought to remember the text "Physician heal thyself" shows the largest mortality of either class. To each 100 doctors about 170 births. In In the city of London there were 136 births to each 100 deaths; while in the cities of New York and Brooklyn, a recent weekly report says there were only 75 births to 100 deaths.—A. Coan, in Parish Mirror.

Poverty Their Only Crime.

Two men who were on their way to Troy, and who had come from Syracuse, were given accommodations, Monday night at the county house. The men had no money and they could not speak a word of English. Their names are Martin Hanson and Karl Jenson. They had the following letter from Irving C. Terry, superintendent of the Onondaga county penitentiary: "Syracuse, Feb. 10, 1887. To whom it may concern: These two men while on their way to the west were arrested and sent to our institution as tramps, having committed no crime other than traveling through the country without money. There never was [illegible] better [illegible] in our penitentiary. [illegible] workmen, and, while [illegible] speak our language they [illegible] how to do a [illegible]

WORSE THAN SMALL POX.

A Great Danger Which Menaces An Unsuspicious Public.

The Brompton Hospital for consumptives, in London, reports that over fifty people out of every hundred consumptives, are victims of constipated or inactive kidneys.

Consumption is one of our national diseases, and the above report goes to prove what has often been said in our columns during the last eight years, that kidney troubles are not only the cause of more than half of the cases of consumption, but ninety out of every hundred common diseases. They who have taken this position, made their claims after elaborate investigation, and their proof that they have discovered a specific for the terrible and stealthy kidney diseases, which have become so prevalent among us, is wise and convincing.

We have recently received from them a fresh supply of their wonderful advertising. They have challenged the medical profession and science to investigate. They have investigated, and those who are frank have admitted the truth of their statements. They claim that ninety per cent. of diseases come originally from inactive kidneys; that these inactive kidneys allow the blood to become filled with uric acid poison; that this uric acid poison in the blood carries disease through every organ.

There is enough uric acid develeveloped in the system within twenty-four hours to kill half a dozen men.

This being a scientific fact, it requires only ordinary wisdom to see the effect inactive kidneys must have upon the system.

If this poison is not removed, it ruins every organ. If the bowels, stomach or liver becomes inactive, we know it at once, but other organs help them out. If the kidneys become constipated and dormant, the warning comes later on, and often when it is too late, because the effects are remote from the kidneys and those organs are not suspected to be out of order.

Organs that are weak and diseased are unable to resist the attacks of this poison, and the disease often takes the form and is treated as a local affliction, when in reality the real cause of the trouble is inactive kidneys.

Too many medical men of the present day hold what was a fact twenty years ago, that kidney disease is incurable, according to the medicines authorized by their code. Hence, they ignore the original cause of disease itself, and give their attention to useless treating of local effects.

They dose the patient with quinine, morphine, or salts and other physics, hoping that thus nature may cure the disease, while the kidneys continue to waste away with inflammation, ulceration and decay, and the victim eventually perishes.

The same quality of blood passes thro' the heart, passes through the kidneys. If the kidneys are diseased, the blood soaks up the disease and takes it all through the system. Hence it is, that the claim is made that Warner's safe cure, the only known specific for kidney diseases, cures 90 per cent. of human ailments, because it, and it alone, is able to maintain the natural activity of the kidneys, and to neutralize and remove the uric acid, or kidney poison, as fast as it is formed.

If this acid is not removed, there is inactivity of the kidneys, and there will be produced in the system paralysis, apoplexy, dyspepsia, consumption, heart disease, head-aches, rheumatism, pneumonia, impotency, and all the nameless diseases of delicate women. If the poisonous matter was separated from the blood, as fast as it is formed, these diseases in a majority of cases would not exist.

It only requires a particle of small-pox virus to produce that vile disease, and the poison matter from the kidneys, passing all through the system and becoming lodged at different weak points, is equally destructive, although more disguised.

If it were possible for us to see into the kidneys, and how quickly the blood passing through them goes into the heart and lungs and other parts of the system, carrying this deadly virus with it, all would believe without hesitation what has so often been stated in advertisements in these columns, that the kidneys are the most important organs in the body.

They may regard this article as an advertisement and refuse to believe it, but that is a matter over which we have no control. Careful investigation and science itself are proving beyond a doubt that this organ is, in fact, more important than any other in the system as a health regulator, and as such should be closely watched, for the least sign of disordered action.

A Sensation in Court.

During the trial in Central Square, in this county, of Adelbert Dewey, of Euclid, on a charge of bastardy, preferred by the Overseer of the Poor of Hastings, in behalf of Miss Flora Gordon, who is now living with her parents at Central Square, Miss Gordon underwent an examination lasting nine hours, at the end of which she fainted away in her chair. Upon recovering she had a violent attack of hysterics. Her father who was present, became furious and threatened violence. He was finally quieted, Miss Gordon removed from the room and the trial adjourned until February 22. Miss Gordon is about twenty-two years of age. Her direct testimony bore very strongly against the accused, but upon cross-examination her evidence was very contradictory and damaging to herself.—Utica Observer.

RETRIBUTION.

BY "THE DUCHESS."

CHAPTER VII.

It is midnight. Twelve hours have been chimed by some great clock a mile away, the strokes falling solemnly on the still air of the summer night. Traffic has ceased, and only the sound of an occasional carriage may be heard, the red lights from its lamps flaming upward and sometimes casting a lurid shadow upon the bed where Millicent lies sleeping.

The girl had appeared a little tired, a little ennuyee for the last day or two, and Mrs. Brand had decided upon her refusing any invitation for this one night at least. She should go to bed early, so would Mrs. Brand—the whole household, indeed, should retire at an abnormally early hour, and Granit, who was acquainted with all these circumstances and arrangements, was forbidden to call after six o'clock.

Boom—boom—boom—goes the big clock somewhere. Millicent, as though disturbed by it, turns uneasily in her bed, and, as growing consciousness gains on her, sighs deeply. Alas! there are many reasons why she, the petted debutante of the year, should sigh profoundly. Her body, indeed, is well (this seems rather a grievance than otherwise), but her heart is sick and sore within her. Oh! the horror of having to marry Granit while her affection is all concentrated on another! And yet, to lose her inheritance! To a girl trained as she has been—as hundreds of others are trained—such a consideration is paramount. To be cast from her throne, to be discarded by her world, to sink from a comparative supremacy to a sure mediocrity!—in that lies the sting.

If only the matter could be altered, and arranged for her on lines according to her own liking! She had thought of appealing to her aunt—had even hinted to her that Boyle was not altogether so dear to her as he should be. But Mrs. Brand had pooh-poohed all such hints as being mere girlish folly, and had told her that in time she would find her cousin was far above the average of the young men she met, and that they had good reason to believe a defunct title, that had once belonged to a branch of their family, would be revived in his favor.

How quiet the night has grown! Even in the heart of this surging London, it seems as though a time of rest can reign; the stir, the roll of the odd carriage or two only enhances the extreme deadness of the calm. Millicent turns wearily upon her pillow, and tries with passionate anxiety to forget her woes in sleep. In vain she courts the wished for slumber; in vain she seeks to kill her cruel thoughts. Still they remain with her, growing ever more persistent as wakefulness grows upon her. Impatient, and angry with herself, and finding the night insufferably warm, she half pushes the bedclothes from her, with the intention of rising and flinging wide her window, when a slight noise in the adjoining room arrests her attention.

Is it a footstep? or one of those strange sounds that break the stillness of the night?—ghostly sounds that we all know, coming from nowhere apparently, yet loud enough to make the pulses beat and suggest a covering of the head with the friendly bedclothes.

Millicent, wide awake now, but uncertain, listens intently. She has indeed drawn back her foot into the shelter of the bed, but otherwise has shown no fear. Is it a step? It has stopped now. After all, it might have been auntie coming for her cologne water, or one of the maids for the neuralgia cure that lies on the mantelpiece in her boudoir. In spite of these consolatory reflections, however, she cannot conceal from herself that she is growing frightened, and is regretting with ever increasing earnestness the fact that she is sleeping alone, in a corridor cut off from the rest of the house.

Pshaw! after all, it was nothing—a silly scare. Silence once more reigns supreme. Not even the indomitable mouse is to be heard. No scratchings, no squeaks anywhere. Not even a——

Good heavens! what was that? That horrible stealing sound in the room beyond. It is coming nearer and nearer!

Of that some horrible inner sense assures her, though now she can hear nothing. Oh, how the minutes drag! The knowledge that even if she screamed until life left her she could not be heard by any one member of the household adds ten thousand terrors to her already miserable situation.

Ah, there! There it is again—that stealthy footstep; more distinct now—more real. All in one moment every shuddering recollection of people murdered, every ghastly detail that she has ever read or heard, recurs to her, and makes the blood freeze within her veins. Soon, perhaps, that blood will be frozen eternally.

And now a maddening regret occurs to her. The bell! why had she not thought of that sooner? To cross the room, to pull violently at it—even if her effort failed to bring one of the servants (a most likely thing, as all the servants sleep at the very top of the house)—at least she might have alarmed this midnight assassin, and sent him flying from the scene of his unlawful labors. But now! Is it too late yet?

Almost paralyzed by fear as she is, she rises cautiously upon her elbow, and is just about to make a rush for the bell, when——

CHAPTER VIII.

The door beyond opens slowly, and a figure that looms large and terrible in the light of the dim lamp it carries appears upon the threshold.

Millicent, benumbed, fascinated, staring with wide eyes, sees a man dressed in the common coarse fustian suit of an artisan. The face is hidden; over it a mask of black satin is drawn carefully. This gives a last touch of terror to a presence already big with fearful mystery in the eyes of the poor girl gazing at it, in a spellbound anguish, from over the frilled and dainty linen sheeting.

It is an impossible thing, in spite of all wise writers to the contrary, to account for human feeling—to arrange for what it will cause the owner of it to do or say on certain occasions and under certain circumstances.

Millicent, a moment ago more dead than alive, when her fear was hidden from her, now that it appears before her in flesh and blood and an abominably bad suit of clothes, feels her soul rise within her, her courage grow apace, and lifting her eyes—though still in a very agony of doubt and horror—she stares at the intruder with some small semblance of defiance.

The intruder, however, being no doubt a man of base mind, to whom lofty sentiments are unknown, returns her would-be haughty glance through his mask with an air calm as a summer-eve.

"Get up!" he says—neither more nor less, but [illegible] calmly.

It is [illegible] that Miss Grey in her [illegible] to scorn.

[illegible]

and never mind your hair. That is a woman's first thought, isn't it? But it must go for once."

He laughs in so suppressed a fashion that she hardly knows what the laughter is like; but that it is wild and reckless, and decidedly mirthful, is apparent to her. It did not declare itself to her then, but afterward it occurred to her that his whole air was hardly in accord with the fustian.

"I shall not stir," she says valorously.

"Then I regret to say that I must assist you," returns he, advancing toward her slowly.

This settles it, of course. Her high born courage fades, evaporates. Her spirit dies within her. With both hands she clings to the bedclothes.

"No, no!" she gasps. "I will get up—only—only"——

"Go? That, of course," says the man as argeeable as he can in his squeaky tones. "I shall go to the next room, for precisely five minutes by my—no, by the way—your watch. Don't, let me advise you, let it be longer."

He strides toward the door by which he has entered, and then suddenly stops short. So does her heart. Once again she had dwelled upon the hope of what a ringing of the bell might bring forth; but, as if the mysterious being had read her inmost soul, he now turns to her.

"By the bye," he says, "to ring your bell may suggest itself to you. You might ring a thousand bells in this house, I verily believe, without result; but still I decline to take the chance. After all, I think I shall stay here, in this remote corner, while you put on your dressing gown."

"Oh, no!"

The words break from Millicent desperately.

"No? You would prefer not? But"——

"I swear to you I will not ring the bell," declares she wildly. "I don't know why you wish me to rise; but yet I give you my word I will not touch the bell if you will only go into that next room and give me the five minutes you have promised."

"A woman's oath is not worth a halfpenny, to say nothing of her word," says the stranger pleasantly. "But still, I will grant your request with just this last word. If you play me false, if you seek to summon aid in any way, I shall"—drawing a revolver from his pocket and handling it tenderly—"blow your brains out!"

The words fall from him in a whisper—delicately—so mildly, indeed, that no suspicion of violence should rest with them. Yet Millicent, as the door closes behind him, shudders vehemently, and her teeth chatter as though she has been stricken with a sudden chill.

With trembling haste she springs from her bed, hurries on her clothes, and having covered herself finally with a soft warm dressing gown, stands shivering with expectation upon the carpet. She must have got through her task with far greater speed than she had imagined—in three minutes, instead of the allotted five, as a good while elapses from the time she had finished her hurried dressing to the dreaded moment when again her foe appears before her.

"You are a paragon," he says. "Permit me to congratulate you. I said five minutes—I gave you seven; it appears three would have been sufficient. But now to business. Where are those sapphire and diamond ornaments that have made you the envy of all beholders this season, and added a faint luster to the brilliancy of your charms?"

Yes—certainly his manners are not in keeping with his clothes!

"My sapphires!" gasps she feebly.

"And diamonds! Do not detract from their value. Come!"—sharply—"let us have no nonsense. I know you keep them in this room or the one beyond; but where? I assure you—I beg you to believe that I would not for worlds have roused you from your happy dreams had not my failure to discover the jewels compelled me to apply to you for assistance."

"My uncle always keeps them," begins the girl, telling her lie without a regret in the fond but vain hope that it may save her sapphires. All at once the suave manner of the man disappears, and an angry oath escapes him.

"Look here, girl," he says roughly, though his voice is fine and squeaky as ever, "no trifling! I know these stones to be in your keeping, and I shall have them to-night or"——

He pauses, draws the revolver again from his pocket, and significantly clicks it. "Where are the sapphires?"

"Over here," says Millicent, now fairly cowed. She moves mechanically toward the wall opposite, and raising her hand, touches a spring that is evidently connected with some secret press in the wall—a press concealed by the papering.

A small door flies open, and not having the courage to actually give him her treasures (jewels are always dear to a woman, be she good or bad), she points faintly to the disclosed cupboard.

The man in fustian lifts his lantern, peers curiously into the recess, and with a low cry of triumph seizes upon the different cases that lie side by side upon the wooden shelf. Cool, even in the moment of victory, he opens the cases deliberately one by one, to make sure of the contents. Yes, they all lie there—the beautiful glittering things, for which a girl is crying, and for which a man is bartering his soul!

Lifting his head, after a sharp but hurried examination of the stones that apparently satisfies him, he sees that Millicent too, is gazing earnestly at the pretty baubles once hers, so soon to be hers no longer; and that as she gazes, her soft eys are full of tears.

"Seems cruel, eh?" he says. "Well, that you may say in the future I was not ungenerous, I will leave you this out of your treasures for which you are so ready to shed your tears. I wonder if they are dearer to you than"—— He pauses abruptly, as one might who has been about to say something better left unsaid. "Than your lover." He winds up with that low, suppresesd laugh again, that certainly does not belong to him, and thrusts into her unwilling hands a small but exquisite locket, heart shaped, glittering with sapphires and diamonds.

"Think it is a gift from the man you will marry," he says lightly, in that disagreeable voice of his. "And now, follow me—or rather, go before me—to the door."

It is the door leading to the corridor without to which he points. Millicent, still as one in a dream, obeys him and goes toward it. He opens it carefully, and backing outward on to the corridor, always with his eyes on her, comes there to a standstill.

"I bid good night, madame," he says mockingly. And then (she can remember little about it afterward, so swift it was) something was flung over her face, and pressed there; there was a moment's struggle—a moment that to her was an eternity—and then a strange dullness: the sound of a door hastily closed; the echoing of departing footsteps; a sense of suffocation, and afterward a coming from all knowledge, and a deadly blank.

(To be Continued.)

A Pleasant Surprise

Is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is sold on its merits and that any [illegible]

Volney's Supervisors.

The following is furnished to the Fulton Patriot by F. W. Squires, who is the statistical authority of Oswego county. It is the names and term of service of the supervisors of this town.

Ebenezer Wright, 1807, '8, '9, '10, '11.
Samuel Holland, 1812.
Isaac Cracker, 1813, '15.
Oliver Burdick, 1814, '16, '18, '19, '20, '21, '22, '23, '24, '25, '26, '27, '28, '29, '30, '34, '35.
Joseph Easton, 1817.
Geo. F. Falley, 1831, '32, '33, '43.
Aaron G. Fish, 1836, '40, '41.
Darius R. Bellows, 1837.
William Ingall, 1838, '39.
Peter H. Keller, 1842, '44.
John Parker, 1845, '46.
Lovewell Johnson, 1847, '48, '49.
John J. Wolcott, 1850, '52, '53, '54, '59.
Hiram H. Coats, 1851.
Dr. A. C. Livingston, 1855,
Samuel F. Case, 1856, '57.
Wm. P. P. Woodin, 1858.
Willard Johnson, 1859, '61.
Gardner Wood, 1862, '64.
John H. Woodin, 1863.
Chauncey B. Hancock, 1865.
Henry C. Howe, 1866, '67, '69, '70.
Abraham Howe, 1868.
J. Gilbert Benedict, 1871.
Charles J. De Graw, 1872.
Henry E. Nichols, 1873, '76, '77.
Geo. L. Foster, 1874.
John W. Francis, 1875.
F. D. Van Wagenen, 1878.
Arvin Rice, 1879, '80, '81, '82, '84, '85, '86.
Wm. B. Howard, 1883.

Oliver Burdick was chairman of the Board of Supervisors in 1834; A. G. Fish in 1841; Lovewell Johnson in 1847, '48; J. J. Wolcott in 1854; H. C. Howe, 1869, '70; H. E. Nichols in 1877.

The first five town meetings were held at Van Valkenburgh's, near the present Orchard Lock, when the town was called Fredericksburgh. In 1812 it was held at the same place. In 1813 and '14 at Amos Foster's, near W. S. Nelson's present residence. In 1815 at Noah Rust's, near Willard Johnson's. After that time until 1837 at Volney Centre. In 1837, '39 at Fulton; and in 1838, '40 at Volney Centre, and since 1840 at Fulton.

Young Housekeepers Should Know.

That soda will clean tarnished tin.

That vinegar and salt will clean copper.

That butter is the best polish to put into starch.

That a heated knife will cut hot bread without making it soggy.

That a small paint brush should be used in cracks and crevices while dusting a room.

That disease often lurks in a dirty dish cloth, a greasy sink, an unclean tea kettle and a poorly ventilated oven.

That silver should be washed with a chamois skin, saturated with silver soap, each time after use, thus avoiding a general cleaning.

That windows should never be washed while the sun shines upon them, as it is impossible to polish them without leaving blue streaks.

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headache, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

A Personal Question.

"Mother," said a little Rockland girl, looking up from her book, "what does trans-Atlantic mean?"

"Oh, across the Atlantic, of course. Don't bother me, you make me forget my count."

"Does trans always mean cross?"

"I suppose it does. If you don't stop bothering me you'll go to bed."

"Then does trans-parent mean a cross parent?"—Rockland Courier.

The Necessity of Two Ears.

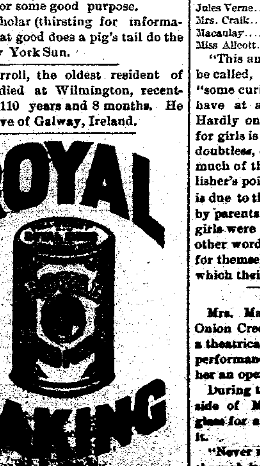
A St. Louis physician explains the the necessity of having two ears, by the fact that sound is always heard more distinctly by one ear than by the other, and in this way it is located. A man with but one ear, says this authority, can hear as well as the man with two, but he cannot locate the sound.

The Economy of Nature.

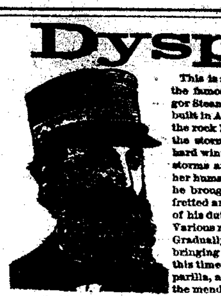
Deacon Bucrag (to Sunday-school class)—Yes, dear children, everything in this world has its use. There is nothing, however small or trifling, that was not intended for some good purpose.

Small scholar (thirsting for information)—What good does a pig's tail do the pig?—New York Sun.

John Carroll, the oldest resident of Delaware died at Wilmington, recently, aged 110 years and 8 months. He was a native of Galway, Ireland.



Dyspepsia.



This is a likeness of Capt. Otis Ingraham, commander of the famous steamer "Penobscot," of the Boston and Bangor Steamship Company, one of the finest steamboats ever built in America. For years Capt. Ingraham has navigated the rock bound coasts of Maine and Massachusetts, braving the storms and dangers and exposed to the rigors of the hard winters. Eating, often in haste, and sometimes, when storms and dangers threatened his valuable steamer and her human freight, abstaining from food for a long period, he brought on a severe case of DYSPEPSIA. Naturally he fretted and worried over this hindrance to the performance of his duties and sought medical aid which he failed to find. Various remedies were tried but with no permanent relief. Gradually the disease strengthened its hold on his system, bringing each day additional pains and annoyances. At this time Capt. Ingraham was induced to try Brown's Sarsaparilla, and much to his gratification soon found himself on the mending hand. The stomach was cleansed and toned up so that the food was digested, all pain and irritation ceased and to-day, after being for a long time a victim to Dyspepsia, Capt. Ingraham, thanks to Brown's Sarsaparilla, is a well man.

Brown's Sarsaparilla

For sale by all druggists. Ara Warren & Co., Sole Proprietors, Bangor, Me.

H. W. JOHNS' ASBESTOS LIQUID PAINTS

These Paints are in every respect strictly first-class, being composed of the best and purest materials obtainable. They have a larger sale than any other paints made in this country or abroad, and, although they cost a trifle more per gallon, they will do more and better work for the same amount of money, owing to their wonderful covering properties, while their superior durability renders them the most economical paints in the world. Sample Sheets and Descriptive Price List free by mail.

H. W. JOHNS MANUFACTURING CO.,
SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF
H. W. Johns' Fire and Water-Proof Asbestos Roofing, Sheathing, Building Felt, Asbestos Steam Packings, Boiler Coverings, Roof Paints, Fire-Proof Paints, etc. VULCABESTON, Moulded Piston-Rod Packing, Rings, Gaskets, Sheet Packing, etc.
Established 1858. 87 MAIDEN LANE, NEW YORK. CHICAGO, PHILADELPHIA, LONDON.

An Oswego Sensation.

Edward T. Hitchcock, head bookkeeper in the commission house of Thomas Martin in Oswego, has been arrested on a peace warrant issued upon complaint of his wife, who charges him with threatening to take her life. Hitchcock is about twenty-five years of age and come of one of the most respectable families in Oswego. The family was at one time quite wealthy. He moved in good society and his arrest caused quite a sensation. His wife was Miss Fannie Ripson, the only daughter of Captain J. H. Ripson, a wealthy and retired master mariner of the village of Pulaski. They were married last July after a courtship of some four years. After an extended wedding tour, says an Oswego correspondent, the young couple took up their residence at a fashionable boarding house in that city, and for a time everything went on pleasantly. It was not long, however, before an open rupture occurred, and Mrs. Hitchcock returned to her parents. Her husband alleged that the quarrel was caused by his wife insisting that her pet Skye terrier should occupy a portion of their bed. This unpleasantness was adjusted, but others arose, and Mrs. Hitchcock fled again to the home of her parents, where she said her husband had threatened to shoot her. Mrs. Hitchcock is a graduate of Vassar College and a lady of rare attainments. Her husband says the trouble was caused by too much inference on the part of his mother-in-law.—Utica Observer.

What the Girls Read.

In course of an article which Mr. E. G. Salmon contributes to the Nineteenth Century on the subject of "Books for Girls" there is an interesting list showing what books they do as a matter of fact, most affect. The data were procured by Mr. Charles Welsh, the publisher, who collected replies from various schools. A thousand school girls responded to the question, "Who is your favorite author?" and rejecting all names, which are not mentioned five times, Mr. Salmon tabulates the result as follows:

Charles Dickens	330	Bunyan	11
Sir Walter Scott	226	Miss Braddon	11
C. Kingsley	91	Mrs. H. B. Stowe	11
C. M. Yonge	91	Miss Worboise	10
Shakespeare	73	H. Ainsworth	10
E. Wetherell	54	Lord Tennyson	9
Mrs. Henry Wood	51	Miss Montgomery	9
George Eliot	41	R. D. Blackmore	9
Lord Lytton	41	W. Black	8
Longfellow	31	Defoe	8
A. L. O. E.	30	Mark Twain	8
Anderson	29	F. Smedley	7
Hesba Stretton	26	Carlyle	6
Canon Farrar	22	Miss Edgeworth	6
Grace Aguilar	21	Miss Havergal	6
Grimm	19	John Ruskin	5
Thackeray	18	Lewis Carroll	5
Mrs. Walton	17	R. M. Ballantyne	5
Whyte Melville	17	C. Bronte	5
W. H. G. Kingston	16	Mrs. Gaskell	5
Jules Verne	16	Mrs. Hemans	5
Mrs. Craik	14	Mrs. E. Marshall	5
Macaulay	13	Capt. Marryat	5
Miss Alcott	12	F. Anstey	5

"This analysis of the voting, as it may be called, suggests" says Mr. Salmon, "some curious reflections to those who have at all studied 'girls' literature. Hardly one of the recognized writers for girls is mentioned. Mr. Welsh is, doubtless, correct when he surpises that much of the popularity, from the publisher's point of view of 'books for girls' is due to the fact that they are bought by parents and friends for presents. If girls were to choose their own books, in other words they would make a choice for themselves very different from that which their elders make for them.

Rural Simplicity.

Mrs. Macbeth Simmons, living on Onion Creek, came to Austin to attend a theatrical performance. Before the performance began her husband bought her an opera glass.

During the performance a lady alongside of Mrs. Simmons borrowed the glass for a moment and then returned it.

"Never mind handing it back. Look through it as much as you want to. I kin look through it all day tomorrow out at the ranch," replied Mrs. Simmons.—Texas Siftings.

GRAPOLINE

CURES

Headache, Constipation, Dyspepsia and Rheumatism.

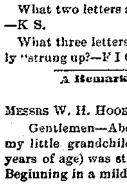
TRIAL SIZE

25 Cents.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

The Cosmopolitan

The handsomest, most entertaining, low price, illustrated family magazine in the world. ($2.50 per year, with a $2.25 premium free.) Sixty-four beautifully printed pages in each number, filled with short stories, sketches, travels, adventures, bright and brief scientific and literary articles, by distinguished American and foreign writers, such as Julian Hawthorne, Harriet Prescott Spofford, George Parsons Lathrop, Louise Chandler Moulton, J. Macdonald Oxley, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, H. H. Boyesen, Catherine Owen, Rev. R. Heber Newton, Alphonse Daudet, Paul Heyse, Count Tolstoi, Th. Dostoivsky, William Westall and many others. Also entertaining JUVENILE and invaluable HOUSEHOLD departments. One or more illustrated articles and several full-page engravings in every number.



THE SCHLICHT & FIELD CO.
SHANNON FILES.
ROCHESTER, N.Y.
$2.25

A Shannon Letter and Bill File or a Shannon Sheet-Music Binder Free to every Subscriber.

These premiums sell everywhere for $2.25 each. The File is the most perfect device ever invented for the preservation and classification (alphabetically and according to date) of all letters, bills, etc. Any paper can be referred to, taken out and put back without disturbing the others. With the Binder one can insert or take out any piece of music without disturbing any other sheet.

Get SAMPLE COPY at NEWS STAND or send 20 Cents to publishers.

AGENTS WANTED, BIG COMMISSIONS PAID.

Schlicht & Field Co., Rochester, N.Y.

Some Alphabetical Conundrums.

What letters does a lazy man like best?—E Z.

What letter would a blind man give most for?—C.

What are the three most Irish letters?—B A Z.

What are the two most poverty stricken letters?—C D.

What three letters should me most reverenced?—D I T.

What two letters could there be no telegraph without?—Y R.

What two letters are most disorderly—K S.

What three letters are very frequently "strung up?—F I G.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & CO.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
33 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE,
OSWEGO, N. Y.,
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Streets. Centrally located in the business part of the city.
Prices Reasonable.
Commodious Sample Rooms.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—
Decker Brothers' Matchless Pianos.
THE VERY BEST PIANOS.
Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.

COAL.
—GO TO
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
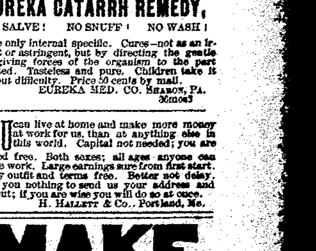
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
☞Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

EUREKA CATARRH REMEDY,
NO SALVE! NO SNUFF! NO WASH!
The only internal specific. Cures—not as an irritant or astringent, but by directing the gentle life giving forces of the organism to the part affected. Tasteless and pure. Children take it without difficulty. Price 50 cents by mail.
EUREKA MED. CO. SHARON, PA.
3mos3

YOU can live at home and make more money at work for us, than at anything else in this world. Capital not needed; you are started free. Both sexes; all ages anyone can do the work. Large earnings sure from first start. Costly outfit and terms free. Better not delay. Costs you nothing to send us your address and find out; if you are wise you will do so at once.
H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Me.



SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER
is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. It is strictly a medicine to be given with food. Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. It cures chicken cholera and all diseases of hens. Is worth its weight in gold. Illustrated book by mail free. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail for 25 cents in stamps. 2¼-lb. tin cans, $1; by mail, $1.20. Six cans by express, prepaid, for $5.00.
DR. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

LADIES, Enamel your Ranges twice a year, tops once a week, and you have the finest polish stove in the world. For sale by all Grocers and Stove dealers.

[illegible]

[illegible] During the past week [illegible] conversations with citizens upon [illegible], we have found them as a [illegible] in favor of the adoption—all are de-[illegible] of separating politics from vil-[illegible] questions, of putting in nomina-[illegible] the best men irrespective of party, and having our local affairs guided by [illegible] whose interest is for the village [illegible] and the worthy citizens' interest, and not to serve the whim of the party that placed them in power.

Within a week we have talked with representative members of the Democratic, Republican and Prohibition parties, with clergymen, lawyers, merchants, manufacturers, laboring men and others, and as yet have failed to find one that is not in favor of such a movement.

Organization, a ticket with the names of men of acknowledged integrity and ability upon it, and in one month from to-day a president, two trustees, a collector, assessor and treasurer will have been elected by the better class of voters, the first three to assist in the government of our village affairs, in an impartial manner, the last three to serve the village faithfully, and all freed from party ties. The village demands it, all liberal minded and independent citizens will endorse it and if the two essential points mentioned are carefully attended to, we believe as firmly as we believe that the sun will shine upon a clear day that the above results will be attained. Fulton will have freed itself from some of the evil results that always follow when a village is controled by party politics, or at least will have made a move in the right direction. No intelligent person, who has watched the workings of our village board, can help but see that the tendency has been to ruinous action from party favoritism. We have to look no farther back than last year, when the present board were organized and held their first meeting. It was composed of three Democrats, three Republicans and a Democratic president. Appointments were to be made. In each instant a Democratic and a Republican aspirant was put up, voted upon, and each time a tie was the result. In every case the president-elect decided the tie in favor of the Democratic nominee. No fault could be found with the trustees for voting as they did, nor with the president for deciding as he did. It was their party's will and they were expected to act as they did in the matter. Here it is that worthy citizens desire to have the chains thrown off and have men to represent them in village affairs that realize they are placed there to do what is the best interest of the village and its citizens regardless of party politics.

Action is what is now required and if the men of Fulton act with as much vigor as their convictions prompt them, much will be accomplished in this, the right direction.

In answer to the call of THE TIMES last week a large number of our readers have sent in lists of candidates for village officers. For president and trustees the leading names were Frank M. Wilson Abram Emerick, Frank Bacon, H. E. Nichols, James Parker and Job Bennett. For the other officers not many of the blanks were filled out but the names of Patrick O'Grady, Amos Youmans, Hugh McKiernan, Lang Foster, Reuben Bradshaw, Walter Bradley and W. J. Lovejoy were suggested.

AT the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad on Monday the old board of directors was re-elected excepting W. W. Phelps, who is succeed by W. W. Astor. President Samuel Sloan, Secretary F. F. Chambers and Treasurer F. H. Gibson were also re-elected.

SECRETARY MANNING retires from the President's cabinet on the 1st of April to become president of a large bank recently organized in New York city. Fairchild, Pendleton, Carlisle and Morrison are being pushed for the office. The first in the list now fill the position of Assistant Secretary and it is most probable that he will be selected to fill the vacancy.

CAPTAIN UNGER, the man that murdered his companion, August Bohl sawed his remains up, putting them in a trunk and shipping it to Baltimore has been sentenced to 15 years in Sing Sing. He was taken there on Monday. The barbarity exhibited with the remains would seem sufficient to send the murderer to the gallows. The plea of self defense however saved his neck from the hangman's noose only to pass remainder of his life in prison. He probably will not live out his sentence being already of advanced age.

A BILL is pending in the legislature which if passed before the 25th of this month will permit but 28 persons to be present at the execution of Mrs. Roxalana Druse. The penal code with the amendment to this particular section will permit to be present at an execution in addition to the sheriff, the county judge, district attorney, clerk and surrogate in the county, two physicians, two clergymen, twelve reputable citizens and seven deputy sheriffs or assistants appointed by the sheriff, making 28 in all. The immediate relatives of the condemned man can be admitted if they are fit to be present.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both.

[illegible] ATTENTION!

[illegible] Valley stove [illegible]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28, 1887.

Congress has accomplished very little during the week in the way of important national legislation. The people of Washington are well satisfied with what has been done, however; inasmuch as considerable progress was made with local affairs in which they are much interested. Washington is the "protege" of Congress. The District of Columbia is governed entirely by Congress, is dependent and compelled to look to Congress, for everything. Naturally it thinks Congress never does enough for it, and is a chronic complainant of neglect.

It is thought that the President's veto of the Dependent Pension bill will be sustained; although the House passed the bill by more than a two-thirds majority, which would be sufficient to pass it over the veto. The President's veto message proved a powerful converter, and many members who supported the bill on the understanding that it would not cost more than $4,000,000, would now oppose it, since they are convinced that it would take about twenty times $4,000,000 out of the Treasury.

Petitions for the passage of the Blair Educational bill continue to pour into Congress. They come from all portions of the states and Territories. It is estimated that over 90,000 citizens, a large number of whom are voters, have thus petitioned over their own signature. Then the members of the great national associations collectively as societies and organizations have united in this request. Among these are the W. C. T. U., the two great national Teacher's Associations, the Knights of Labor, and many churches and missionary societies.

Now that all speculation in regard to Secretary Manning's plans and intentions have subsided with the publication of his letter of resignation and the President's reply, the gossips have turned to the task of appointing his successor. Beside Assistant Secretary Fairchild, the names of Minister Pendleton and ex-Senator McDonald, both of whom are now in the city, are mentioned for the place. It is stated that the new officer will be nominated before the adjournment of Congress, so that he may be confirmed, although the President has requested Mr. Manning to continue to serve until the 1st of April.

The members of Congress who have done most of the legislation this winter are those who belong to the House Committee on Appropriations. They are about the best workers in Congress. They sit around a long table covered with blue, and each particular member seems bent on stopping up the leaks in the Treasury. Hon. Samuel Randall, who is Chairman in fact as well as in name, sits at the head of the table, and in his rather domineering manner, does at least one half of the talking. He is just a little impatient, intolerant, and impolite as regards the suggestions of his fellow committeemen who differ from him, but he is liked by them nevertheless.

Next to the chairman sits Gen. Forney, of Alabama, hugely built but silent. Beside him may be seen the alleged "Watch-dog of the Treasury", Judge Holman, of Indiana, who objects to every appropriation, however small. He talks as much as the chairman will allow and enlivens the dull committee room with many little spats at his Chief.

Then there is Mr. Townshend, of Ill., who attacks Mr. Holman's meager allowances, and swarthy Mr. Barnes, of Missouri, who talks wisely when he is induced to speak at all. Messrs. LeFevre, of Ohio, Adams of New York, and Wilson, of W. Va., spend very little time in the committee room, but Mr. Cabell of Va., who is economically minded, is always at his post, and takes a prominent part in the deliberations.

The Republicans have five of their strongest men on this committee. They are Messrs. Butterworth, of Ohio, Cannon, of Illinois, Ryan, of Kansas, Long, of Mass., Henderson, of Iowa, and McComas, of Maryland. Mr. Cameron is their leader, and is a good match for Mr. Randall on all questions of finance that arise. Gen. Henderson is called the one-legged soldier because he is the most liberal man on the committee as to any item that concerns soldiers.

Mr. Long, besides being an excellent worker, is distinguished for his elegant manners. Mr. Comas is young and handsome as well as a man of weight, and has a bright future, apparently. He is probably listened to with more attention than any young man in Congress. Mr. Ryan talks little but works a great deal in committee, and Ben Butterworth, as his friends familiarly call him, has less to say at committee meetings than might be expected of a member who shows to fine advantage on the floor of the House.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

Personal. Wonderful success. Hop Plasters for weak parts, severe aches, strains, backache.

Emory Pierce formerly landlord of the Central Square House died last Friday at his residence midway between Central Square and Caughdenoy. His funeral was held from the Baptist church at Central Square Sunday. He was a member of Brewerton Lodge F. & A. M. and was buried with masonic honors.

South Granby.

Alfred Signor, wife and son of Bowen's Corners, spent Sunday with F. E. Lewis.

Quite a number from this place attend the Salvation army meetings at Bowen's Corners.

Aquilla Cook has rented his farm for the season to Will Wybron. Mr. Cook will work a farm near Dexterville.

Oliver Howe will have an auction to sell his stock, farming utensils etc. on the Russell farm, Thursday, March 3d.

The trustee of the Cody district has engaged the services of Miss Anna Smalley for the summer term.

Master Floyd Smith is spending some time with his Uncle, Adelbert Rogers in Volney.

A. J. Blakeman moved yesterday to Salina, he having rented his farm to Edwin Ware.

$100 Not Called For.

It seems strange that it is necessary to persuade men [illegible] disease by [illegible] And yet [illegible]

[illegible] 1887.

REV. H. M. DANFORTH, P. E., President.
REV. S. T. DIBBLE, Secretary.
REV. J. C. DARLING, Treasurer.

PROGRAM:

MONDAY, MARCH 14, AT 7 P. M.

MEETING OF THE CONFERENCE.

Called to order by the President.
Religious exercises led by the President.
Roll Call.
Miscellaneous business.
Adjournment to Auditorium for Sermon.
Religious exercises, led by Rev. J. G. Benson, of Cleveland.
Sermon by Rev. W. R. Cobb, of Mexico. Alternate, Rev. A. M. Child, of Vermillion.

TUESDAY, MARCH 15, AT 8:30 A. M.

MEETING OF THE COMMITTEES. (SEE LIST.)

10:45 A. M.—Business Session.
Religious exercises led by Rev. H. M. Church, of Central Square.
Roll Call.
Fix place of next meeting.
Appoint Executive Committee.
Minute business.
Are there any charges or complaints?
Receive the reports and pass the characters of the Local Elders.
Receive the reports and pass the characters of the Local Deacons.
Receive the reports, pass the characters, and renew the licenses of the Local Preachers.
Receive the reports, pass the characters, and renew the licenses of the Exhorters.
Receive recommendations for license to preach.
Receive recommendations for ordination.
Recognition of orders.
Recommendations for admission to the Traveling Connection.

Each candidate for admission to the Traveling Connection will be required to read a sermon on a theme of his own choice, the same not to exceed fifteen minutes. Also all candidates for License to Preach or admission to the Traveling Connection, or Ordination, will be examined on Doctrines and Discipline before the District Conference.

Report of the Committee on Home Missions, to which is referred the stationing of Local Preachers and Exhorters.
Report of Rev. H. M. Danforth, Presiding Elder.
Notices and adjournment.

TUESDAY, MARCH 15, AT 1:30 P. M.

BUSINESS AND LITERARY SESSION.

Thirty minute Song Service, led by Rev. C. E. Miller, of South Richland.
Roll Call, and reading of minutes of previous sessions.
Unfinished business, if any, from morning session.
Reports:
- From each pastor, not exceeding 300 words each.
- From each District Steward and the Committee on Steward's Work.
- From each Sunday-School Superintendent, and the Committee on Sunday-Schools.
- From each Class Leader and the Committee on Class Leader's Work.
- From Special Committees, if any.

Adjournment.

TUESDAY, MARCH 15 AT 7:30 P. M.

Religious exercises led by Rev. L. L. Palmer of Sandy Creek.
Unfinished business, if any, from afternoon session.
Essays:
- Revivals: value, need of, hindrences, and best methods. Rev. I. J Nourse, Scriba.
- How to make the Quarterly Visitation of cur Presiding Elder more useful, and our Quarterly Meetings of greater value. Rev. S. E. Brown, Pulaski.
- "The Future of Christ's Kingdom." A review of Dr. Curry's article in the Methodist Review for January, 1887. Rev. W. D. Chase, Fulton.

Love Feast.
Adjournment.

COMMITTEES.

License to Preach—C. H. Guile, I. J. Nourse, F. B. Stanford. Laymen: E. R. Redhead, B. W. Veeder.

First Year—L. L. Palmer, G. W. Wood, Charles Manson. Laymen: F. E. Bacon, J. J. Cobb.

Second Year—W. R. Cobb, A. M. Child, Bennett D. Brown. Layman: E. P. Barrett, G. L. Metcalf.

Third Year—W. D. Chase, S. M. Fisk, J. R. Smith. Laymen: Levi Brackot, George W. Whitney.

Fourth Year—W. H. Bury, J. H. Buck, J. R. Decker. Laymen: Fred Fox, Foster Pratt.

Admission to Traveling Connection—S. E. Brown, H. C. Abbott, O. O. Cole. Laymen: J. J. Hollis.

Candidates for Orders—H. M. Church, C. H. Harris. Laymen: C. E. Coville, C. B. Preston.

Home Missions and Local Preachers—J. G. Benson, G. E. Huntly. Laymen: George Harding, Newman Tuttle.

Class Meetings—J. C. Darling, C. E. Miller. Laymen: George Bassett, Manister Worts.

Sunday-Schools—M. R. Brewster, J. F. Rathbun, Laymen: S. M. Coon, E. D. Distin.

Steward's Work—Laymen: A. R. Penfield, Dr. Jones, William H. Broley, C. G. Bacon.

Pastor's Work—S. T. Dibble, N. M. Canton, J. N. Brown, E. George Newman.

Executive Committee—H. M. Danforth, M. R. Webster, J. C. Darling, S. M. Coon, esq, Manister Worts, esq.

Palermo.

Henry Davis of Clifford has purchased the stage route from Fulton to Hannibal and is to take possession at once.

The Republican caucus is called for Saturday, February 26, at 1 p. m., and the Democratic caucus the same afternoon at 3 o'clock.

George Cusick of Clifford and Wm. Ingersoll of Palermo Centre are to leave for Furgus Falls, Minn., in the month of March to work for French & Ames.

Kendrick Flint was in town last week to attend the funeral of his mother.

W. H. Hannan has his machinery completed for finishing his patent thrill coupling and will soon have them ready for the public.

Bert and Dora Hannon of the Palermo Centre house are in Syracuse on a visit.

We now have two doctors at Palermo Centre and Dr. Johnson of Mexico, it is said, wants to locate here. If he should there would also be a chance for an undertaker to locate and he would have a good business.

Sarah Ives of Clifford fell on the ice, trying to get into a cutter on Sunday, and broke her arm. Dr. Green was called an reduced the fracture.

Gilberts Mills.

F. Lindsley is getting ice for his creamery.

I. R. Mason of Oswego spent Sunday with friends here.

W. D. Johnson's little girl has been quite sick during the past week.

A. Y. Mason went to Oswego Monday to purchase a new saw for his mill.

Mr. Henderson is still laboring to improve the musical voices of many in this vicinity.

Grove Hamlin of Hamlin Bros. is in Syracuse purchasing new goods for the store.

An oyster supper at X. A. Willards was held last evening in charge of the Ladies Aid Society.

Mr. Diamond Hastings spoke on temperance here last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Bidwell are visiting friends here. They return to their home in Sterling soon.

South Scriba.

Mrs. Farrell Bough, an old and respected resident of this place, died very suddenly last Friday morning. She was taken with spasms about two o'clock in the morning and lived less than two hours. She leaves a large family of small children to mourn her loss.

Mr. George Dubois of North Scriba and Miss Katie Dewey of this village, were married at the home of the officiating Notary Public, James A. Downer, on Wednesday, February 9th.

The Rev. Mr. DeVall of North Scriba P. M. church, is holding revival meetings at East Scriba (Jones' school house) with good success.

Baxter Phelps of Central Square, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. W. E. [illegible].

North Volney.

The donation party held at the residence of Mr. M. Coe last Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Rev. F. J. [illegible], was a grand success [illegible] and a very enjoyable [illegible]

"Is there a [illegible] among our physicians?" is a question that we often ask. It is a question that perplexes our medical men, and they are at loss to know how to answer it.

We sometimes think that if the physicians would give part of the energy to considering this question that they give to combating other schools of practice it might be satisfactorily answered.

The fights of "isms" reminds us often of the quarrels of old Indian tribes, that were only happy when they were annihilating each other.

If Allopathy makes a discovery that promises good to the race, Homœpathy derides it and breaks down its influence. If Homœpathy makes a discovery that promises to be a boon to the race, Allopathy attacks it.

It is absurd that these schools should fancy that all of good is in their method and none in any other.

Fortunately for the people, the merit which these "isms" will not recognize, is recognized by the public, and this public recognition, taking the form of a demand upon the medical profession, eventually compells it to recognize it.

Is it possible that the question has been answered by shrewd business men? A prominent man once said to an enquirer who asked him how he got rich, "Because I did things while other people were thinking of doing them." It seems to us that the public have recognized what this fatality is, and how it can be met, while the medical profession have been wrangling about it.

By a careful examination of insurance reports we find that there has been a sharp reform, with reference to examinations, (and that no man can now get any amount of insurance who has the least development of kidney disorder,) because they find that sixty out of every hundred in this country do either directly or indirectly, suffer from kidney disease. Hence, no reliable company will insure a man except after a rigid urinary examination.

This reminds us of a little instance which occurred a short time ago. A fellow editor was an applicant for a respectable amount of insurance. He was rejected on examination because, unknown to him, his kidneys were diseased. The shrewd agent, however, did not give up the case. He had an eye to business and to his commission, and said: "Don't you worry; you get a half dozen bottles of Warner's safe cure and take it according to directions, and in about a month come around, and we will give you another examination. I know you will find yourself all right and will get your policy.

The editor expressed surprise at the agent's faith, but the latter replied: "This point is a valuable one. Very many insurance agents all over the country, when they find a customer rejected for this cause, give similar advice and eventually he gets the insurance."

What are we to infer from such circumstances? Have shrewd insurance men as well as other shrewd business men, found the secret answer to the inquiry? Is it possible that our columns have been proclaiming, in the form of advertisements, what has proved a blessing in disguise to millions, and yet by many ignored as an advertisement?

In our files we find thousands of strong testimonials for Warner's safe cure, no two alike, which could not exist except upon a basis of truth; indeed, they are published under a guarantee of $5,000 to any one who will disprove their correctness, and this offer has been standing we are told for more than four years.

Undoubtedly this article, which is simply dealing out justice, will be considered as an advertisement and be rejected by many as such.

We have not space nor time to discuss the proposition that a poor thing could not succeed to the extent that this great remedy has succeeded, could not become so popular without merit even if pushed by a Vanderbilt or an Astor.

Hence we take the liberty of telling our friends that it is a duty they owe themselves to investigate the matter and reflect carefully, for the statements published are subject to the refutation of the entire world. None have refuted them; on the contrary hundreds of thousands have believed them and proved them true, and in believing have found the highest measure of satisfaction, that which money cannot buy, and money cannot take away.

D. C. Draper, the grocer, on Friday of last week purchased the store on First street owned by C. R. Nichols, for $6,000. He will occupy it as a grocery and crockery store after April 1st. It is now occupied by Mr. Nichols as a jewelry store and by C. E. Sackett, dry goods, &c. The two latter merchants have not yet decided what they will do after Mr. Draper takes possession.

Wife and I

had much trouble when our children were young and numerous nights were sleepless and days full of care. Happiness crowns our home now We used VanDeusen's White Worm Confections. The change was a miracle, and we advise all parents to try them. Worms are the cause of many diseases in young and old. No family should be without a box. Sold everywhere. 25cts. Van Deusen Brothers, Kingston, N. Y. 39w4

An infant developing well will have doubled its weight at birth at the fifth month, and quadrupled it in sixteen months.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

The Modern Penitent.

Of old when haunted by remorse
A man, turned monk, pursued a course
Of hair-cloth shirt and gloomy cell,
And paid a man to scourge him well.

All that is changed in modern days,
His penance is in other ways;
At monkish tasks he doesn't grub,
But joins a first-class Browning club,
Keeps up his feasting and his toddy,
And scourges mind instead of body.
—From Life.

An Unexpected Shock.

Gent—Will you take my seat, Miss?

Lady—Thank you. (after a pause) but why do you not give it to me?

Gent—Excuse me. I will in a moment. The thanks paralyzed me momentarily.—Judge.

There are over 600 [illegible] in Cuba, [illegible]

[illegible]
[illegible]
Tired and disappointed, he soon [illegible]
At [illegible]
The night was stormy, the [illegible]
[illegible] he said, though [illegible] very bad.

At last a sensible view of the matter he took
And the snow from his coat he slowly shook,
A smile replaced his look, morose,
As he saw the sign of the Lewis House.

He never had been there before
But received a welcome just inside the door,
Was made to feel at home in a pleasant way,
Made up his mind all night to stay.

He struck it rich and no mistake
This man from Jersey, by name Westlake,
He quite dismissed his troubles from his head,
And was soon asleep in a nice warm bed.

A home for Sunday his great desire
Filled his young heart with hope and fire.
From business cares and travel free,
In hopes the Sabbath a day of rest might be.

Such was the case I can truly say,
I spent a very pleasant day,
The landlord genial and his clerk the same,
I'm sorry I did not learn their name.

The house is well conducted and very neat,
Such as seldom travelers meet,
The bill of fare is pleasing and hard to beat,
If you can find better just count on me to treat.

The guest well served, the linen clean
Glassware and silver both brightness and gleam,
Victuals well cooked, the allowance plenty,
The supply of ten, would feed just twenty.

Success attends this hotel rare,
With homelike comforts and sumptuous fare.
When in Fulton again I drop,
At the Lewis House you bet I'll stop.

Entertainment at the Congregational Church, Oswego Falls.

On last Friday evening the Congregational church at Oswego Falls was filled to its utmost capacity, the occasion being an entertainment for the benefit of the church. After the entertainment a New England supper was served. The following program was successfully carried out:

1. Selection..................Oswego Falls Band.
2. Chorus, "The Distant Horn is Sounding" Case.
3. Poem..................Mr. J. Parkhouse.
4. Duett, "Larboard Watch,"........Williams. Messrs. Pickles and Mottram.
5. Solo and Chorus, "Isle of the Dell,"....Towne. Miss Mary Brown.
6. Recitation, "Little Willie," Mrs. E. F. Marsh.
7. Chorus, "The Educated Girl,"........Towne.
8. Selection..................Band.
9. Recitation, "The Little Hatchet Story," ....Miss Emma Hart.
10. Quartet, "The Jovial Farmer Boy,"....Root.
11. Duet, "A. B. C." Miss Clara and Mr. Harrison.
12. Solo "Disturb Not My Dreaming,"...Straub. Miss Carrie Johnson.
14. Recitation, "A Close Call," Miss Alice Dexter.
14. Tenor Solo, "On the Sea,"........Fredrich. Mr. James F. Cooper.
15. Obligato Solo, "The Primrose,"...Werschkul Mrs. Mary Berry.
16. Recitation, "Guilty or Not Guilty," ....Miss Mabel Lester.
17. Chorus, "The Merry May,"....Werschkul.
18. Selection,..................Band.

FREE TRADE.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from Proprietary Medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Bochee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and the German Syrup for Cough and Lung troubles, have perhaps the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size 42yleow

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.
24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

if man who has practiced medicine for 40 years ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, they would take it according to directions.

Yours truly,
L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.
Office, 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Prop.,
Toledo, O.

☞ Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.

NEW YORK MARKET REPORT.

By Williams & Co., Produce Commission Merchants, 671 Hudson street and 24 Ninth Avenue.

	BUTTER—Market dull.
Creamery,	Western	25 @ 26
	Elgin	28
	Imitation	17 @ 20
Dairy	Eastern ½ firkin tubs	19 @ 21
	" Welsh	15 @ 18
	" Dairies Entire	19 @ 20
	" Firkins	18 @ 20
Rolls	Firsts	18
	Seconds	12 @ 16
	CHEESE—Market dull.
	New York Cheddar	11¾
	New York Part Skims	10½ @ 11¼
	Penn Skims	3 @ 3¾
	EGGS—Market weak.
	Fresh Eastern firsts	16¼
	Western fresh	16¼ @ 16¼
	Southern	15½ @ 16
	POULTRY—Market firm.
Live	Fowls State and Western	11
	Ducks per pair	50 @ 70
	Turkeys	11
Dressed	Turkeys	11 @ 11¼
	Chickens	12 @ 13
	Ducks	13 @ 14
	POTATOES—Market quiet.
	Burbanks per 180 lbs	150 @ 162
	Peerless	137 @ 150
	Hebron	150 @ 162
	Rose	200
	HAY—Market firm
	Timothy prime per 100 lbs	83 @ 85
	No. 1	75 @ 80
	No 2	70 @ 75
	Ordinary	55 @ 60
	Clover mixed	60 @ 70
	Clover	50 @ 55
	STRAW.
	Rye No. 1	65
	" No. 2	50 @ 55
	Oat	50
	Wheat	40 @ 45
	MEATS AND STOCK.
	Live lambs	5 @ 6½
	" sheep	4 @ 5½
	" calves	7½ @ 8½
	Dressed Veals	9 @ 12
	" Pork	7¼ @ 7¾
	VEGETABLES.
	Onions, yellow per bbl	1.75 @ 2.00
	" red	[illegible]
	Cabbage per 100	[illegible]
	Squash, Hubbard per bbl	[illegible]
	Turnips, Russia	[illegible]

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. [illegible]

FARMERS' INSTITUTE
Oswego, March 2 and 3 '87.

PROGRAM:

WEDNESDAY 10:30 A. M.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME—By Senator Geo. B. Sloan.
RESPONSE—By J. S. WOODWARD, Secretary N. Y. State Agricultural Society.
WARM BARNS VS. FEED—By J. S. WOODWARD. Mr. W. is radical on the subject of housing live stock. Questions and discussion.
"EDUCATION OF FARMER'S CHILDREN"—By MRS. EMMA TAYLOR, of Niagara. No one should fail to hear this.

AFTERNOON 2 O'CLOCK.

QUESTION BOX OPENED.
DAIRY WORK AT THE EXPERIMENTAL STATION—By E. LEWIS STURTEVANT, Director. Questions and discussion.
HINTS TO FRUIT GROWERS—By HON. SETH FENNER, President of Erie Co. Agricultural Society. Questions and discussion.
PIGS—BY COL. MASON C. WELD, of New Jersey, editor of the American Dairyman and Guernsey Breeder. Something radical may be expected. Questions and discussion.

EVENING 7 O'CLOCK.

QUESTION BOX OPENED.
MUSIC—By SCHILLING'S ORCHESTRA.
A PLAIN TALK TO FARMERS—By LIEUT. GOV. E. F. JONES.
BREEDING DAIRY CATTLE—By MAJ. H. E. ALVORD, of Massachusetts Agricultural College. Questions and discussion.
MANURES—Making and Saving—By PROF. I. P. ROBERTS, of Cornell University. Questions and discussions.
Music—By SCHILLING'S ORCHESTRA.

THURSDAY 10 A. M.

QUESTION BOX OPENED.
MAKING AND SALTING BUTTER—By PROF. L. B. ARNOLD, of Rochester, authority on dairy matters. Questions and discussion.
ENSILAGE—By W. H. GILBERT, Richland, who is one of our most successful butter makers.
THE USE OF ENSILAGE IN THE DAIRY—By C. S. PLUMB, Assistant Director New York Experimental Station. Questions and discussions.

AFTERNOON 2 O'CLOCK.

THE FARMER—HIS DANGER AND HIS DUTY—By W. A. ARMSTRONG, editor of "The Husbandman." The fearless friend of the farmer. Questions and discussion.
HORSES AND HORSE BREEDING—By F. D. REDFIELD, of Batavia, N. Y.
AYRSHIRES—By J. F. CONVERSE, President Ayrshire Breeders' Association. Questions and discussion.
HOLSTEINS—By GERRITT S. MILLER, of Peterboro, N. Y. Questions and discussions.

RESOLUTIONS.
ADJOURNMENT.

It is hoped that no paper or address will be over 20 minutes long, and at their close every one present will feel free to ask questions or take issue on any point made as in this way much useful information can be obtained that would otherwise be lost.

Let no one forget that a Question Box will be kept in a convenient place, and all questions placed therein will be given careful attention, and so far as possible answered.

The Institute will be held in the Court House and will be called promptly on time, when it is hoped that all intending to be present will be there.

The R. W. & O., N. Y. O. & W. R. R. and the D. L. & W. R. R. will return persons who have attended the Institute at Oswego at one cent per mile.

The hotels of Oswego will entertain guests at the following reduced rates: Doolittle House $1.50 per day; the Lake Shore and Hamilton at $1.25; the Ringland, Wagner, and Miss Edwards, (three doors from postoffice) 26 West Oneida street, at $1.00.

We shall have a grand time. Let all come. Ladies will be especially welcome.

ROME, WATERTOWN & OGDENSBURG R. R.
in connection with
WEST SHORE R. R. and PENNSYLVANIA R. R.

Grand Excursion
TO
WASHINGTON, D. C.
The National Capital,
Tuesday, March 1st, 1887.

The fare to Washington and Return from any Station on the R. W. & O. R. R. is only

TEN DOLLARS.

Tickets allow a stay of ten days in Washington, affording ample time for side trips to Richmond and Mount Vernon, the tomb of Washington.

A solid train with Wagner Palace Sleeping Cars and West Shore R. R. elegant coaches will run through without change from stations on R. W. & O. R. R. to Washington, passing the cities of New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore arriving at Washington at noon Wednesday, March 2d,

No Change of Cars.

Passengers desiring sleeping car accommodation for this excursion must leave their names and deposit money on or before Tuesday, February 22d, with R. W. & O. ticket agent at station at which they will take the train for Washington, or amount may be sent direct to the General Passenger Agent R. W. & O. R. R., Oswego, N. Y.

REDUCED HOTEL RATES

have been arranged in Washington for excursionists. For particulars and all details in reference to this excursion, apply to nearest R. W. & O. ticket agent or correspond with the General Passenger Agent, Oswego, N. Y.

THEO. BUTTERFIELD,
H. M. BRITTON, General Passenger Agent,
General Manager. Oswego, N. Y.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE.

Vol. No. 1., No. 3, for March.

IT CONTAINS:

PORTRAIT OF M. THIERS. Frontispiece. Engraved from the painting by HEALY, in the possession of ex-Minister Washburne.
THE STABILITY OF THE EARTH. N. S. SHALER. With illustrations drawn by E. J. MEEKER, J. STEEPLE DAVIS, A. M. TURNER, GEORGE GIBSON and C. E. ROBINSON, from photographs and diagrams furnished by the author
AUNT FOUNTAIN'S PRISONER. (A Story). JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS.
REMINISCENCES OF THE SIEGE AND COMMUNE OF PARIS. Third Paper—THE COMMUNE E. B. WASHBURNE, ex-Minister to France. With illustrations from portraits and documents in Mr. Washburne's possession, and from drawings by HOWARD PYLE, T. DE THULSTRUP, G. W. MAYNARD, J. STEEPLE DAVIS, A. M. TURNER, and E. J. MEEKER.
SETH'S BROTHER'S WIFE.—Chapter X.–XII. HAROLD FREDERIC.
THE STORY OF A NEW YORK HOUSE.—III. H. C. BUNNER. Illustrated by A. B. FROST.
AN INTERLUDE. R. AMYTAGE.
THE BAYEUX TAPESTRY. With illustrations from photographs of the Tapestry. EDWARD J. LOWELL.
THE RESIDUARY LEGATEE; or THE POSTHUMOUS JEST OF THE LATE JOHN AUSTIN. Part Second—THE CODICIL. J. S. OF DALE.
BALLADE OF THE PENITENTS. ANDREW LANG.
WHAT IS AN INSTINCT? WILLIAM JAMES.
FATHER ANDREI: THE STORY OF A RUSSIAN PRIEST. ROBERT GORDON BUTLER.
"CORDON." (A Story). T. R. SULLIVAN.

25 CENTS A NUMBER. $3.00 A YEAR.

Charles Scribner's Sons, Publishers.
743 AND 745 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK: By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Earland B. Chappel, J. Wellington Chappel, Annice Guffin, Edward Chappel, Elmary Lea, Adelaide Evans, Alice Washburn, Solomon Mattison, John E. Mattison, George Moe, Charles Moe, Cynthia A. Stowell, B. Franklin Mattison, Florence H. Riley, Arthur S. Moe, Walter Moe, Laura Johnson, Lucy Moe and Sherman Moe, heirs at law and next of kin of Alanson F. Moe, late of the town of Scriba, in the county of Oswego, deceased, send greeting:

Whereas, Sophronia L. Rhodes of the town of Scriba, in the county of Oswego, has lately made application to our Surrogate of the county of Oswego, to have a certain instrument in writing, relating to real and personal estate, duly proved as the last will and testament of said Alanson F. Moe, deceased; therefore, you and each of you are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our said Surrogate, at the law office of C. H. David esq., in the Village of Fulton, in said county of Oswego, on the 14th day of April, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to attend to the probate of said instrument as the last will and testament of said deceased.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate, to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

[L. S.] In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surrogate of the said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 19th day of Feb., 1887.
L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of Surrogate's Court.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. [illegible]

[illegible] R. R. Company is [illegible] deserving the gratitude of the residents of Northern New York for arranging a cheap and popular excursion to Washington, the National Capital. The fare to Washington and return is only ten dollars from any station on the line of the R. W. & O. R. R. Elegant West Shore coaches and Wagner palace sleeping cars will be run through without change from R. W. & O. R. R. stations. The route is via Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg R. R., West Shore and Pennsylvania Railroads, passing the cities of New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

The excursion starts from the line of the R. W. & O. R. R. Tuesday afternoon, March 1st, and arrives at Washington, Wednesday, March 2nd, at noon, the time not exceeding twenty hours from any station in Northern New York to Washington. Tickets are good until March 14th, inclusive, and allow a sojourn of ten days in Washington, giving ample time to make side trips which have been arranged at special rates to Richmond, Va., Mt. Vernon and other historical places in the vicinity of Washington.

We understand that a large number of the members of the G. A. R. will take this opportunity to visit the battlefields of Virginia. The date fixed for the excursion is admirable. Arriving at Washington March 2nd, it will enable excursionists to see Congress in session, the galleries of the Senate and the House of Representatives being open to visitors, and also be present at the adjournment of Congress on March 4th, an event of more than ordinary importance to the average American citizen.

Washington is unrivalled in beauty and attractiveness. The Capitol building is the largest public edifice in the world, and the other public buildings are open to visitors. A call at the White House, the home of the President, is on the program, and will be especially interesting to New Yorkers. The tickets allow a stop over in New York on the return trip, and may be obtained of any agent of the R. W. & O. R. R., with sleeping car tickets, timetables and all information. A trip from "winter to summer sun," covering a distance of 1200 miles and possessing the attractive features offered by this excursion, should certainly be taken advantage of by the public.

A Sensible Man

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung Troubles, than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a Sample Bottle Free to convince you of the merit of this great remedy. Price 50 cents and $1.

The medical school in Japan is 1,100 years old and is attended by 972 students.

This is a fact: In one of the schools in Haverhill, Mass., it is customary for the teacher to ask the scholars to name the principal articles manufactured in certain cities. A few days ago the city of Lowell was under discussion, and the scholars had named almost everything but cotton goods. Desiring to bring out this point, the teacher asked what it was that was made in large brick buildings and was used in every household in the land. Immediately a bright scholar raised his hand, and shouted "Hood's Sarsaparilla."

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t26

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

SWAYNES
THROAT & LUNG TROUBLES CONQUERED BY SWAYNE'S WILD CHERRY
SWAYNE'S VERMIFUGE THE CHILDREN'S MEDICINE
TO KEEP HEALTHY 1. EXERCISE DAILY 2. EAT GOOD FOOD 3. BE CHEERFUL 4. USE SWAYNE'S PILLS
SWAYNE'S PANACEA PURIFIES SYPHILITIC BLOOD
LONDON HAIR RESTORER (ENGLISH) DR. SWAYNE & SON SOLE AGENT.
OINTMENT
THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES & SKIN HUMOR
SYMPTOMS Moisture, intense itching and stinging; most at night—worse by scratching—very distressing. If allowed to continue tumors form which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT Stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in many cases removes the tumors. Sent by mail for 50 cts.
DR. SWAYNE'S REMEDIES OLDEST IN U. S.
PREPARED ONLY BY DR. SWAYNE & SON, PHILADELPHIA. SOLD BY Druggists

LANDS. SEND FOR Publications, with Maps, describing Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon, the Free Government Lands and Low Price Railroad Lands in the Northern Pacific Country. THE BEST AGRICULTURAL, GRAZING and TIMBER LANDS now open to Settlers mailed free. Address CHAS. B. LAMBORN, Land Com. N. P. R. R. St. Paul, Minn. 6mow

SALESMEN
WANTED
[illegible]

AYER'S [illegible] PILLS.

If the Liver becomes torpid, if the bowels are constipated, or if the stomach fails to perform its functions properly, use Ayer's Pills. They are invaluable.

For some years I was a victim to Liver Complaint, in consequence of which I suffered from General Debility and Indigestion. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills restored me to perfect health.—W. T. Brightney, Henderson, W. Va.

For years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else, to my bowels. These Pills are mild in action, and do their work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect, in cases of Rheumatism, Kidney Trouble, and Dyspepsia. —G. F. Miller, Attleborough, Mass.

Regulate

Ayer's Pills cured me of Stomach and Liver troubles, from which I had suffered for years. I consider them the best pills made, and would not be without them.—Morris Gates, Downsville, N. Y.

I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice, and was so dangerously ill that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor.—John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebraska.

Last spring I suffered greatly from a troublesome humor on my side. In spite of every effort to cure this eruption, it increased until the flesh became entirely raw. I was troubled, at the same time, with Indigestion, and distressing pains in

The Bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested properly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than one month, I was cured. —Samuel D. White, Atlanta, Ga.

I have long used Ayer's Pills, in my family, and believe them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Darden, Miss.

My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, thinking I would call a doctor if the disease became any worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored. —Theodore Esling, Richmond, Va.

Ayer's Pills,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Dealers in Medicine.

HAVE YOU

never felt strangely tired, restless or uneasy? Have you had pains shooting through the head, along the limbs or around the back? Have you experienced strange sensations for which you could not account? And do you know that all these things arise from diseased kidneys, which, unless promptly cured will run into Bright's disease and end in Death? The Kidneys are the seat of nine-tenths of all the diseases of to-day!!

The F. E. C. Kidney Remedy is an absolute cure for these troubles, and is guaranteed by the druggists who sell it. It is especially valuable for Female Troubles. Every mother, every wife, every nervous and overworked woman, whose life is made miserable by sufferings peculiar to her sex, should know that of all the medicines ever sold, the F. E. C. is the first and only Remedy that guarantees relief or refunds the money. It is effectual, as thousands of testimonials will prove.

Sold by all Dealers everywhere.
Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

—FOR THE—
HOLIDAY SEASON!
SNOW & LOOMIS,
have a fine assortment of
POCKET CUTLERY,
CARVERS, SKATES,
SCISSORS and ROBES.
—Also a Novelty in—
FUR RUGS.

AGENTS WANTED (samples free) for DR. SCOTT'S beautiful ELECTRIC CORSETS, BRUSHES, BELTS, ETC. No risk, quick sales. Territory given, satisfaction guaranteed. DR. SCOTT, 841 Broadway, N. Y.

EUREKA FROST CURE.

FOR FROZEN FEET, EARS, NOSE, AND CHILBLAINS.

Made from Agaricus, a moss growing in the frigid regions of the north. A sure Cure. By mail 50c.

EUREKA MED. CO.,
6mos 3 SHARON, PA.

BARGAINS IN REAL ESTATE.

Below will be found a partial list of the Farms Houses and Lots and other property I offer for sale for chash or its equivalent:

Farm	acres	from	to	per	acre
"	25	"	$175	"	$125
"	100	"	65	"	43
"	45	"	109	"	85
"	210	"	40	"	30

House and lot	street	per cent	below value
" " "	Oneida	20	" "
" " "	Seneca	20	" "
" " "	Sixth	25	" "
" " "	Erie	20	" "
" " "	Cayuga	10	" "
" " "	"	10	" "
" " "	Oswego City	33⅓	" "
Country store		40	" "

This last mentioned is within 3 miles of two railroad stations. Good Store, Barn and one acre of land. Good location for business. Owner abroad. Can use funds to better advantage elsewhere.

Parties desiring to exchange, sell, or purchase, are invited to call or correspond with the undersigned.

C. W. STREETER.
[illegible]

[illegible]

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:
GOING SOUTH.

[illegible] .... 9:08 a. m
[illegible] Express .... 11:28 a. m
[illegible] .... 3:28 p. m
[illegible] .... 5:05 p. m
[illegible] Night Express .... 8:20 p. m

GOING NORTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express .... 8:18 a. m.
Day Express .... 12:19 p. m.
[illegible] .... 2:48 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express .... 6:27 p. m.
Evening Express .... 8:44 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.
☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.
A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:
GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express .... 7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation .... 8:40 a. m
Norwich Express .... 3:00 p. m
N. Y. Night Express .... 9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express .... 6:24 a. m
Oswego Express .... 11:05 a. m.
Freight and accommodation .... 5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express .... 7:50 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE,"

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:31	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19p. m.	3:39	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 8 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL

S. Reed of Plainville, N. Y. spent Thursday and Friday in town.

Charles L. Rice and wife of Scranton, Pa., are visiting friends here.

Charles P. Cornell of the Baldwinsville Era was in town last Thursday.

Joseph Appelt formerly with H. & A. Rosenbloom passed Sunday in this village.

Mrs. Joseph Reed of Schaghticoke, N. Y. is visiting her sister Mrs. J. R. Fairgrieve.

E. R. Redhead was in attendance at the Y. M. C. A. convention at Utica last week.

Samuel Longley of Cambridge, Mass., passed a few days in this village during the past week.

Brother Bradt and wife of the Oswego Fall Observer spent a few days in Albany last week.

A. J. Osborn and Geo. H. Fassell are in attendance at the G. A. R. State encampment at Albany.

Charles S. Carver of Syracuse, passed Sunday here the guest of his brother-in-law, Harry Baker.

Miss Jessie Barnes of Syracuse is visiting in town this week the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Gilbert.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hall have been visiting in Mexico during the past week the guests of Robert Baker.

'Mrs. W. S. Patterson who fell a short time ago, sustaining a broken arm and a severe shock, is slowly recovering.

Miss Ella Mack of Bacon's dry goods store and Miss Gussie Wood of Oswego Falls are visiting friends in Auburn and vicinity for a few weeks.

Mrs. Sarah Davidson of Fort Dodge, Iowa is in town visiting her sister, Mrs. H. N. Sabin. Mrs. Davidson has not visited Fulton, her native home, before in twenty-three years.

J. Cooley Tucker has improved slightly during the past week but is by no means out of danger. The report circulated about town that he is being treated by the method known as Christian science we are authorized to state is untrue.

5c. Violin strings at Jones' Music Store

A NEW ARTICLE.

One of the largest Dry Goods houses in the U.S., have made us the selling agents for Fulton, of the celebrated

ARNHEIM SUITINGS.

We can show 10 ps. to-day.

F. E. BACON.

T. D. Lewis continues to sell stove and chestnut coal delivered, at $4.65 per ton. Notwithstanding the raise to $5.00 by other dealers. 39tf

F. M. Darrow will make cabinet photographs at $2.50 per doz. No change in quality of material or work. Patriot block, cor. of Second and Oneida streets, Fulton, N. Y. 41w2.

Draper is closing out his large stock gloves and mittens at half their cost.

BARGAINS IN DRY GOODS.

Being obliged to give posession of the store on April 1st, we shall close out our entire stock at prices that will be of advantage to everyone to buy.

C. E. SACKETT.

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t18

CLIMB THE STAIRS!

It will pay you, and get first class work at

DARROW'S GALLERY!

Satisfaction guaranteed.

42tf

CLOSING OUT.

As I am obliged to move my stock on April 1st, I wish to reduce it as much as possible and offer the entire stock

Regardless of Price,

Until that time. If you want

BARGAINS

—IN—

Clocks,

Watches,

Jewelry or

Silverware

[illegible] of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Lewis last Friday evening. About one hundred and fifty persons enjoyed the hospitality extended and numerous regrets were sent in. The party was given in honor of Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Monteith of Canandaigua who are visiting, for a short time, friends in this village, their former home. Dancing was enjoyed by all that wished, the spacious parlors on either side of the large hall being made ready for this purpose. Excellent music was furnished by Schilling's orchestra of Oswego. A fine repast was served shortly after 11 o'clock. The party present, even to a greater extent than usual, scarcely realized that tempus fugit on on such occasions. The "wee sma' hours" were reached before they were aware of it and even at 2 a. m. they were loath to desist from their enjoyment and leave their pleasant surroundings. Knowing however that the best of times cannot last always they bade their hostess good night. Some of the dresses and ornaments worn on this occasion were simply elegant. Among those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Webb, Robert Gordon and Miss Belle Tucker of Oswego; Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Potter and their daughters, Sallie and Grace, and Miss Jessie Barnes of Syracuse; Mrs. W. L. Foster and Mrs. J. S. Monteith of Canandaigua; Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kenyon and Mrs. Tyra Tucker of Baldwinsville; Mrs. Joseph Reid of Schaghticoke, Miss Belle Culver of Ithaca and Miss Davis of Stonington, Conn.

Concerning the Board of Supervisors.

F. W. Squires of Dempster, N. Y. has compiled a statistical table of the Board of Supervisors of 1886. It is printed in the Journal of the Board and contains much that is interesting. From the table we find that the chairman, E. P. Barrett of Hannibal, is the oldest, 64 years, and Patrick Dowd, 4th ward Oswego, the youngest, 27. W. E. Sparrow has resided the longest in the town he represents, having lived in Schroeppel 48 years. The tallest are supervisors Rice, Muzzy, Harding, Sparrow and Wightman. Each are six footers, while the shortest are Messrs. Dexter, Selleck and Wiley each being 5 feet 6 inches. Supervisor Allport carries the most advoirdupois, breaking the scales that are no apable of weighing 225 pounds. The feather weights are Messrs. Dexter, Barrett, Wiley, Sayer, Trimble and Selleck. Either one of whom barely makes the lever tremble at 140 pounds. 21 are married and six are not yet bound by connubial ties. There are seven "Tillers of the soil" this being the largest number representing any one profession or occupation. Supervisor Fleming of Redfield has been the longest on the Board having served 12 years. There are 19 Republicans and 11 Democrats.

OBITUARY.

At his residence, in the Village of Oswego Falls, on the 19 instant, Nowel W. Stowell son of A. D. and M. A. Stowell, died aged 32 years, 3 months and 10 days. The deceased was born in Fulton and has always resided in this locality, with the exception of a few years, until his death. He married Della A. Sweet (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sweet) eleven years ago, who survives him, their only child having died several years ago. The deceased had a large circle of friends who sympathize with his widow in her great sorrow, and who have vied with each other in acts of kindness during his late illness, trying by every means at command to rescue him from death. But his (Bright's) disease had obtained too firm a hold to be baffled. He was not a professor of religion but practically manifested the best Christian virtues by being a kind and affectionate husband, a good neighbor, industrious and frugal, ever ready to succor the needy to the extent of his means and their wants. Those who knew him best feel no misgivings for the future of Nowel. Two brothers only remain out of a family of seven children, to mourn his loss. Funeral at his late residence (this) Wednesday at 2. p. m., Rev. Carl H. Stone officiating.

The announcement of the death of Mr. Morris A. Gilbert formerly a resident of this vicinity was given in the last issue of THE TIMES. The Warrensburg, (Mo.), Standard contains the following:

"Mr. Morris A. Gilbert died February 12th, aged 63 years, at the home of his sister, Mrs. C. P. Allen of Cornelia. Mr. Gilbert died from blood poison, the result of a complication of diseases from which he had suffered for several months, which culminated in a malignant sore on one foot. For the last three months he was a great sufferer, but without a complaint or murmur. From the beginning he anticipated a fatal termination, but contemplated it without fear. Though not a member of the church, he had entertained a hope of eternal life through faith in Christ. He came from the state of New York seven or eight years ago, and was until lately engaged in business here, where he was esteemed for his uprightness of character. His father, Andruss Gilbert, aged 87 years, two brothers and three sisters survive him to mourn the loss of an affectionate son and brother. He was laid to rest at Warrensburg, February 13th, 1887."

Another of Volney's old and respected residents died at his home about three miles north of this village last Saturday—David Van Buren—aged 87 years. The funeral services were held at his late home this forenoon. Rev. W. Dempster Chase officiated. The remains were interred in a small burying ground near the house. Mr. Van Buren has lived all his life in this vicinity having been born in what is now lower Oswego Falls. He is the last of the old family of Van Burens that came from Kinderhook N. Y. and became some of the earliest settlers. He leaves a wife one son and two daughters.

Hon. William Lewis one of the oldest residents of Oswego, died at his home in that city last Saturday morning. Mr. Lewis had been a resident of Oswego for over 76 years. He was member of Assembly in 1850; held the office of Recorder for four years and was subsequently again elected civil magistrate, serving a full term.

John Harrington died of consumption in Syracuse and was brought here for burial last Monday. Services were held in the Free Methodist church, the Rev. Mr. [illegible] officiating.

[illegible]

500 Pairs Boots Shoes and Slippers. Consisting of broken and Single pair lots, and Wool Lined Goods. Above goods will be offered until closed out. At

A. E. NETTLETON'S.

Coal way down at SCHENCK & FOSTER'S.

Examination of teachers by Com. Metcalf at No. 2 School on Saturday next.

The state convention of the Y. M. C. A. of New York was held in Utica last week.

Preston Slauson is smiling over the advent of a young daughter into his family.

The contract between Oswego Falls and the Fulton Water Works Co., has been renewed until April 15, 1887.

Telegraph poles from 75 to 100 feet in length are being shipped from Parish to be used in Syracuse.

A regular meeting of the C. L. S. C. will be held at the home of Mrs. H. C. Beals on Cayuga street this evening.

The next annual meeting of the Oswego Falls Agricultural Society will be held September 13th, 14th, and 15th.

Newell R. Cole will move his undertaking establishment to the Nelson store adjoining Dexter's market on April 1.

We are prepared to print tickets, town meeting and caucus bills, and everything in this line on short notice.

The Mt. Pleasant lodge of Good Templars will hold an exhibition at the Mt. Pleasant church on next Friday evening.

About seventy persons from Lysander attended the entertainment given at the Congregational church last Friday evening.

The Republican caucus for the town of Volney occurs on Saturday next at 2 p. m. at Summerville's Hall on First street.

Remember that it takes money to run a newspaper and the tag on each newspaper tells when your subscription expires.

The Fire Department presented Chief Mosher last week with a beautiful certificate of time served, handsomely framed.

James Briggs was elected foreman of Steamer No. 2 at the last meeting of the company. Mr. Briggs has held this office eight years.

Mrs. George Charlton has moved her dressmaking establishment and residence from the "Bee Hive" block to the Bailey block, over Hanna's clothing store.

The Democratic caucus for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for town officers is to be held at Stephens Opera House Hall on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The R. & O. mills of Oswego Falls are to be shut down from Friday night of this week until the following Tuesday morning to take account of stock. This will give the employes a two day's vacation.

The Cape Vincent Eagle thinks that the man who cannot afford his family the luxury of a local newspaper at three cents per week, has no business with a family. THE TIMES is less than 2½ cts. per week.

It is reported that Richard Guild of Oswego Falls will soon start a weekly paper in Syracuse. Mr. Guild has had a large amount of experience in newspaper work being now connected with the Syracuse Courier.

The Fulton correspondent to the Palladium says that George Wells, present foreman at the Victoria paper mill, and Frank Dilts have purchased the old pail factory lot and will erect a new paper mill thernon this spring.

Sands N. Kenyon esq., celebrated his 82 birthday on Monday of last week. His sons with their families were present. Mr. Kenyon's health is failing fast. During the past week he has been very low and at the present writing it is doubtful if he will ever recover.

An address on "The Habits, Costume, and Religion of My People" will be given by Mr. Chas. Raglier, a Hindoo student of divinity at Auburn Theological Seminary, in the Presbyterian church, next Sunday evening. Mr. Raglier appears in the national dress.

The independent Salvation Army of Fulton have secured Cooper's Hall for a series of meetings which will commence Saturday evening, Feb 19, and continue as long as the interest will warrant. Meetings will be held Sunday afternoon and evening, conducted by ladies and gentlemen who have been appointed to take charge of the same.—Hannibal News.

A large audience was present at Church's Hall last Wednesday evening to listen to the lecture Rev. O. M. Owen The meeting was called to order by Dr. Woodbury who nominated Rev. Mr. Fulford chairman who opened the meeting with prayer. A quartet consisting of two ladies and two gentlemen were present as was also the Oswego Falls band. Mr. Owen denounced high license and dwelt extensively an the evils of intemperance.

New Carpets! Carpets!

We have our New Spring Pat[illegible]rns in Carpeting, which we [illegible]ink are very choice. Our va[illegible] is excellent.

F. E. BACON.

You will save money by buying your coal at Schenck & Foster's. Prices positively less than anywhere else in town.

For Sale.

Five acres of all tillable land, suitable for a garden with a good house and barn [illegible]

A Communication on the Citizen's Ticket.

EDITOR FULTON TIMES:

DEAR SIR:—I have read with interest suggestions in your last issue regarding a citizens' ticket, which shall, laying politics aside, present candidates for the consideration of electors at the coming charter election. The plan seems to be one which must be approved by all good citizens who are I believe yet in the majority.

As has been stated, various questions of importance to this community are likely to be presented to the incoming board—questions which call for the careful consideration of competent men, men who shall be free from the factional or pecuniary interest in any subjects that may be presented, and who for such reasons, will neither block the progress of this village, nor fail to act for the best interest of its taxpayers.

Complying with your request I make my maiden effort at naming for office, depending upon the more experienced to furnish better.

I would suggest the name of F. M. Wilson, of political conviction opposite the writer, but whose administration of village affairs it must be conceded was marked with unusual ability and fairness.

The name of Abram Emerick, a citizen who needs no introduction, could but meet with general approval. Either of these gentlemen would equally grace the first place, neither if called upon would shirk the duty.

To supply the remaining vacancy in the board we would propose that the gentlemen whose terms expire, Messrs. Johnson and Kendrick, be again put in nomination, giving the public an opportunity to vindicate one of them.

For the balance of the ticket the present incumbents, for aught I know, would be acceptable. The majority have already expressed a preference for them, and each has I believe, performed the duties of his office faithfully.

⁂

Neatawanta Lodge No. 317 A. O. U. W.

On last Thursday evening about sixty members of Cross Lake lodge A. O. U. W. together with district deputy H. R. Hollenbeck, P. M. W., W. S. Graham of Hannibal lodge and representatives of Meridian lodge came to Oswego Falls and organized a new A. O. U. W. lodge. The name Neatawanta was decided upon and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

R. M. W., George Fisher; M. W., George C. Whittaker; Foreman, Daniel C. Case; Overseer, F. M. Preston; Recorder, Chas. H. Dexter; Financier, W. H. Haynes; Receiver, Dr. W. M. Wells; Guide, H. B. Hudgins; Inside Watchman, Chas. Berry; Outside Watchman, Thomas Crockford; Trustee, one year, Geo. B. Adams; two years, Henry Wilson; three years, Anson J. Osborne; Medical Examiner, Dr. W. M. Wells.

The visiting lodge enjoyed an excellent supper at the Broadway House at the expense of the newly organized lodge.

A Joyous Gathering.

Friday evening last on Fay St. just out of the village at the residence of Mrs. Wm. E. Taylor the young members of the Crystal Cup Society and Sabbath school (of that locality) with well filled baskets gave a very agreeable surprise.

In the many delightful ways which happy hearts devise were the hours spent until nine o'clock, when the party were invited to the tables, spread with a bountiful repast and beautiful flowers. For this pleasant feature the company were indebted to the industry of the Misses Mable and Mamie Dines assisted by other young ladies of the party. When youthful heads find recreation in doing good to others it gives promise that the life of happiness and peace which is wished for then, will be fully realized.

Some very choice new goods are being opened this week at
F. E. BACON'S.

MARITAL.

We clip the following from the Wilmot (Dak.), Reporter of Saturday, February 12. It concerns D. S. Cable formerly of this village who is well and favorably known in this vicinity. He is the son of Lewis Cable of this village and started to make his home in the west about seven years ago.

The marriage ceremony of D. S. Cable of Wilmot and Miss Alice I. Tripp of Cundas, Minnesota was performed by Rev. Amber Hill at All Saint's Episcopal church, Northfield, Minnesota. Mr. John S. Tripp acting as groomsman and Miss Addie E. Somers as bridesmaid.

Mr. Cable is one of the firm of Munro & Cable, druggists of this place and one of our enterprising business men. He with his bride spent a few days in St. Paul and Minneapolis, after which they returned to Wilmot where they will make their future home. The Reporter unites with the many friends of the newly married couple in wishing them a long and happy life.

For 5 Days!

A 5 Button Ladies' Kid Glove, emb. back, in Tan shades, in sizes 5¾, 6, 6¼, 6½ 6¾, 7 and 7¼ to close, price 75 cents.

F. E. BACON.

Report of the Overseer of Poor-Village.

Amt. on hand, last settlement -	$ 321.58
Rec'd. from A. Rice, esq., (excise money)	1,326.38
" " Town Collector, -	400.00
Total	$2,147.86

DISBURSEMENTS:

A. A. Rowlee (Overseer)	$850.00
For support of the Poor	503.56
	$1,353.56

RECAPITULATION:

Amt. on hand Feb. 24. '86	$531.53
Total Receipts	1,603.33
	$2,147.86
Total Disbursement	$1,353.56
Amt. on hand Feb. [illegible] '87	[illegible]

H. S. GARDNER,
Overseer of Poor, Village.

[illegible]

Ash Wednesday.

The season of Lent begins to-day.

The season for killing rabbits and hares is over.

Town meetings in the county occur next Tuesday.

The banks were closed yesterday, it being a legal holiday.

The Fulton Reading Circle met last Monday at the home of Mrs. Dr. Lee.

About a dozen of the Crandall type writers have been completed at the new works in Parish.

The prospects are excellent for a large number of new buildings being built in the village this spring.

Regent's examinations will occur in the public school on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

A large number of our people attended the St. Joseph Hospital fair in the Armory at Syracuse last week.

Call at THE TIMES office for auction bills. A free notice of the sale published by having the work done at this office.

The death of Mrs. Dorastus Kellogg of Beatrice, Neb., who was well-known in this village, is reported to have occurred recently.

William Ellis is drilling a number of lads about 10 and 14 years of age for an exhibition drill which will be given on Decoration day.

A large safe manufactured by the Diebold Safe & Lock Co. of Canton, Ohio, was placed in the law office of Piper & VanWagenen last Monday.

A temperance caucus is to be held at the Good Templars hall on Saturday Feb. 26 at 1 p. m., to nominate an excise commissioner. By order Com.

Nicholas Murphy has severed his connection as clerk in J. Robinson's grocery store. James Smith is now filling the position he formerly occupied.

The stern voice of Lent
Has sounded a slogan,
Fashion slowly consents
To desert the toboggan.
—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Now is the time to go to Washington. On Tuesday next people in this vicinity can go to Washington over either the R. W. & O. or the N. Y. & O. roads for $10 round trip ticket.

We are always prepared to do job printing of every description. When you have anything in this line to be done, call at THE TIMES office where the work will be executed at most reasonable prices.

The members of the Congregational Sunday school gave a sleigh ride Monday afternoon and supper at the church parlors in the evening to the children of the Sunday school. The school is in a very prosperous condition having over 200 members.

An exhibition is to be given in No. 2 school at Lower Oswego Falls on next Friday evening commencing at 7½ o'clock. The proceeds are to go toward purchasing a new globe for the school room. All are invited to attend. Admission 10 cents.

The Oswego county ex-prisoners of war met in the rooms of Post O'Brien last Friday afternoon, Alonzo Cooper presiding. The association denounced the action of President Cleveland in vetoing the indigent pension bill. The next meeting will be held on March 11.

The Prohibition electors have put the following ticket in the field to be voted for at the coming town election. For Supervisor, Robert B. McCully; Town Clerk, Silas A. Reeves; Justice of the Peace, Horace C. Hitchcock; Assessor, Ovid V. Taft; Overseers of the Poor, Joel P. Streeter and Asa B. Sanford; Collector, Edward Bread.

Last evening Assistant District Attorney, N. N. Stranahan, entertained in a very delightful manner, the members of the Fulton and Oswego Falls Bar at his residence on Third street. It is a very long time since our village papers have had the pleasure of recording a social gathering of our local Bar—pleasant indeed for the attorneys and we can assure our readers that no "combine" was formed to fleece their unwary clients.

As the guest went to dinner the table presented a beautiful appearance, a large plate of fruit beautifully arranged occupied the centre and near each plate was a rose. What jokes, laughter and stories. But great credit is due the hostess for that more stubstantial feast of which the following is the menu:

1. Fried Oysters, pickles, celery.
2. Vegetable soup, crackers.
3. Turkey, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce, tomatoes, corn bread.
4. Chicken salad, lemon jelly, olives, claret.
5. Plum pudding, brandy sauce.
6. Ice cream, cake.
7. Fruit.
8. Nuts.
9. Coffee.

5c. 16 pages Band music paper.
Jones' Music Store.

If you wish a 36 inch washable shirt waist cloth for your boys it is at F. E. BACONS.

We learn from the Peekskill, N. Y., Democrat that Mr. John C. McNamara, formerly of this village, now of New York city, was married last Wednesday afternoon to Mary A., daughter of Mr. Frank Timothy, the wealthiest brick manufacturer of Peekskill. The ceremony was performed at St. Patrick's church after which a reception was held at the residence of the bride's father which the elite from abroad attended. The presents were rich and numerous, among which was a check of $1,000 from her father.

We mean what we say. We will sell coal less than any other dealer in town. [illegible]

[illegible] thousand dollars plus! For what? Simply for a picture. That is a tremendous sum of money for an oil painting, and the joke of it all is the plan is a very indefinite amount. The $100,000 and a good round sum besides is what Mr. Wanamaker of Philadelphia pays for MunKacsy's "Christ before Pilate," a description of which was given in THE TIMES some weeks ago. Let's use a little mathematical calculation. The picture covers nearly 400 square feet of surface, so that Mr. Wanamaker pays somewhere in the neighborhood of $300 per square foot. Such a price for a work of art has never before been paid. Higher prices have been paid, if one takes as a basis of comparison, the superficial unit of a square foot. Only the other evening at the Graves sale of paintings a VonBreman, scarcely a square foot of canvas, sold for $1,575. But this MunKacsy brings a higher price as a picture than a painting has ever brought in the American market. It goes to Philadelphia and becomes a part of Mr. Wanamaker's collection. This collection, I believe, is in a gallery, having some connection with his dry goods store and it is barely possible this great religious painting will be a means of attracting custom—a sad use indeed. More than 100,000 persons have viewed the picture, while the profits to the one who purchased it from the artist approximate the tidy sum of a fifth of a million.

New York is fast becoming an exceptionally good art market. The foreign artists, however, seem to have the monopoly of the high prices. Who are the buyers? Well, that depends on the class of picture. If it is a Bougerean of the nude or semi-nude school, some broker captures it for his down town office in Wall street, or else the proprietor of a "Buffet Parlor," otherwise and anciently termed "gin mill," secures it for his place of business. These Wall street brokers have an eye for fine art and the prices they pay for it are sometimes startling. The fact is that this fine art consists in exquisitely painted pictures of the female figure in costumes very brief and shadowy. The foreign artists of the Bougerian and Vibert school recognize this perversity of the American broker and "buffet parlor" manager and cater to it, so that these art sales of the past two years have been remarkable chiefly for the high prices paid for this class of painting. Since the excessive prices of the Morgan sale of one year ago, a reaction has set in and the probabilities are that the Stewart collection, to be sold next month, will not beyond a few notable examples bring any such prices as did the collection of the eccentric Mrs. Morgan.

⁂

There is a growing tendency in the Metropolitan churches towards more of a ritualistic service. The members of Episcopal churches whose service is of the "High" church character is on the increase. All denominations are leaning toward the idea of giving the congregation more of a part in the regular Sunday service. In this High church movement, Old Trinity seems to take the lead. The deceased Bishop Potter was, I believe, rather inclined that way and the communicants of his diocese are waiting to see how much encouragement the High church people will receive from the new Bishop who, during Horatio Potter's life time, was the assistant bishop, and who has only recently returned from Europe. One church not far from Bryant Park observes all the ceremony of High church worship including the use of candles. This of course, does not receive the entire sanction of the whole body of Episcopalians, but the tendency of this denomination as well as of many others is toward this sort of thing. The minister of a chapel connected with a strong Episcopal church in this city told one of his parishioners that were it not for his family he would renounce his belief and go back to, as he put it, "the original church, from which his present denomination sprung." This is in the minds of many the ultimate end of the Tractarian movement. Like many other tendencies this will run its way and then the other extreme will have its sway.

⁂

The spectacle of a union general being sued for his acts during the war has been in progress in the United State Court. During the war, Gen. B. F. Butler saw fit to incarcerate a man named Lester for disloyalty or something of that sort. Now this Lester sued Butler placing his damages at $100,000, for detention from his business, that being then the manufacture of guns, evidently for the Confederate army. The Judge very properly told the jury to find a verdict for Butler. How does Butler look? He is apparently much the same as he was 25 years ago. One don't observe the ravages of time in Butler's face. He has the same short, stout, rotund figure and his head would take the prize for baldness among the front row occupants of Niblo's during a performance of Kiralfy's "Black Crook." Butler as every one knows is badly afflicted with near-sightedness, so that, making no use of glasses, he presents a rather unique appearance when reading a paper to a jury. There seems to be enough energy stored up in Butler's anatomy to last him the remainder of this century and far into the next, provided, of course, the millenium, which is now being very actively preached by a certain few and which 1900 is fondly expected to usher in, does not come.

⁂

The newest thing in amusements is the beginning of the Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera season. To-night the new operetta "Ruddygore" will be begun on the stage of the Fifth avenue. The D'Oly Carte Mikado Company give this opera. The opera of Ruddygore or The Witch's Curse has for its foundation the condemnation of certain ancient and honorable English baron to commit one crime a day. The fulfilment of this and the subsequent deliverance constitute the opera. Here is a specimen verse.

"As the sob of the breeze sweeps over the trees
And mists lie low in the fen,
[illegible]

Men's Boys' [illegible]

-CLOTHING-

—AND—

Gents' Furnishing Goods.

We are Overstocked, Overloaded, Overcrowded, with this big Assortment and for one month we offer it at

Clean Sweep Figures!

Goods Sold at Money Saving Prices!
Goods Sold at Money Making Prices!
Goods Sold at People Pleasing Prices!
Goods Sold at Unearthly Low Prices!
Are you with us for 30 days?

PEEBLES & COOK.

tions. Of course, there will be beautiful scenery, charming figures, exquisite costumes, and the glory of feminine perfections displayed.

⁂

Down Broadway on the site of the unlucky Globe Theater, a new project has been inaugurated and to-morrow will be opened to the public. A stone building, the exact counterpart of the Bishops Gate of London has been constructed with the narrow windows, the turretted towers, the statued niches, and the portcullis that belong to that ancient gateway. Over the entrance is a statue of a bishop in full canonicals having the shepherd's crook in his hand. Within is the counterpart of the famous streets of London with the famous houses of the 15th and 16th and 17th centuries. This structure has attracted a great deal of attention and nothing has been spared to make the structure appear as ancient as possible. "Through the Bishop's Gate to the old London Street" is the striking title. It will furnish a permanent addition to the attraction for sightseers.

⁂

The name of Cameron in last week's letter should be Cannon. The fault is is not the typographer's but is chargeable to the chirography of the

WANDERER.

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w18

The following from the Farragut (Iowa) Sentinel is of interest to many in this locality where Mr. Clark is well and favorably known:

W. B. Clark will go to Alantic soon to engage in the boot and shoe business. Mr. Clark has many friends here who will regret to know that he will leave Farragut. During all the time that Mr. Clark has been in business here his conduct has been all that the most fastidious could ask. As a business man his integrity has never been questioned, his intercourse with the people as a salesmen has never been pleasant and entirely satisfactory. We take pleasure in commending Mr. Clark to the citizens of Atlantic and vicinity as a man worthy of their full confidence, either as a business man, a citizen, or a Christian. We write the above as a pleasant duty to a worthy citizen and know that our entire community will endorse us as well as join us in wishing Mr. Clark the abundant success in life of which he is deserving.

Do not pay $5.00 per ton for coal when you can buy it for $4.65 of T. D. Lewis. 39tf

Gold Watch Free to All!

In 1886 we gave away over one million of our beautiful cards and scrap pictures. We have the prettiest lot of Sunday School, Reward, Birthday, Fringed and Visiting Cards, Scrap Pictures and Fancy Tissue Papers of any house in the trade. To introduce samples at once we make this liberal offer: The person telling us the longest verse in the Bible before March 15th, will receive a lady's watch worth $60; solid gold, hunting case, stem winding. If there be more than one correct answer, the second will receive a gentlemen's gold watch worth $50, hunting case, stem winding; the third a solid silver watch worth $25; the fourth, a gold finished watch. Each of the next 10 persons an open-face, nickel watch. Enclose 24 cents in stamps or silver with your answer, for which we will send you a pack of samples of our lovely cards and scrap pictures, price list, agents' terms and a 32-page book of over 150 illustrations, and a plain gold ring, made from heavy 18k. pure rolled gold plate. We warrant every one for five years. Name this paper and write at once, as this will not appear again. Address W. C. Griswold & Co., Room 2, P. O. Building, Centrebrook, Conn.

Special Notices.

FOR SALE—My house and lot on Utica street within five minutes walk of the postoffice. Also lot on Oneida street, 6¼ acres, just outside of the corporation limits. Call on or address,
R. P. HALL, Fulton, N. Y.

FOR SALE.—A Farm for sale situated 6 miles from Fulton and 7 miles from Oswego, containing about 80 acres, 50 under cultivation. A large orchard, a large and commodious farm house, barn and carriage house in good repair. Will sell cheap. Terms easy. For particulars inquire of Box 483 — MRS J. W. WARD, Fulton, N. Y.

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 30tf.

D. C. Draper, No. 34 First St., has an entire new stock of groceries on 1st floor and a fine line of crockery, some new and the balance the uninjured crockery from the Oneida St. store, and in basement of same store he has all the damaged Groceries, Crockery, China Tea and Chamber Setts, Lamps &c., (from the old store on Oneida St.) which he now offers for sale, the poorest at your own price, and the balance at a very low price. Remember the place in basement of New store, opposite Clark House.

Portable (ozonized) Oxygen!!

Nature's restorative purifies the blood, cures bronchial and lung affections, asthma, neuralgia, dyspepsia, insomnia, anaemia, kidney and female complaints and chronic diseases generally. The only kind endorsed by physicians. Price $10 with directions. Two or more outfits at reduced rates. Portable Oxygen Co., 491 West 22d St., New York. 41m1.

Save 35cts. per ton and buy the celebrated Lehigh Valley coal of T. D. Lewis. Office at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 39tf

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t18

Vienna Bakery

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER,
18tf — 26 First st

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t18.

Draper 34 First street, opposite the Clark house, is closing out all his crockery, lamps and plated ware below cost

Draper has moved all damaged goods from Oneida street to 34 First street where bargains at ½ actual prices can be had as he has such a large stock of these goods and is bound to close them all out at once, (not at auction) but at private sale which is less noisy and the quickest way. Money will be refunded if any goods are not as they are sold for at No. 34 First St., opposite Clark House.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

New Planing Mill.

Having rented the Mason Planing Mill I am now prepared to do all kinds of Planing, Matching, Scroll Sawing, on short notice. Can also furnish Door and Window Frames, Sash, Doors, Blinds, Mouldings and Brackets.
41tf, — GEO. J. EMENY.

FAREWELL GREETING.

Feeling Grateful to the people of Fulton and vicinity for their liberal patronage we desire to say that after March 1st we may be found at 91 South Salina St. Syracuse, where we have a large store full of bargains not surpassed any-where in the country. We will positively close our Fulton Store Saturday night at 10 o'clock. Previous to that time no reasonable offer will be refused for Tinware, Glassware, Toys, Fancy Goods &c.

R. A. Stowell & Co.

[illegible]

[illegible] million dollars is the sum claimed to have been invested in cattle of all kinds in Idaho during the past three years.

If there has been any neglect in putting the farming tools in order for spring work, delay no longer.

Draw out a good supply of manure and have it ready to spread and plow in when the proper time comes.

No part of the farm is more unfairly treated than the orchard. And on the average no part will pay better for good treatment.

A New England experimenter finds that feeding apples to milch cows invariably lessons the flow of milk.

Give the horses salt frequently with their grain, and if a good handful of wood ashes is added once in a while, they will not be troubled with colic.

In planting a new orchard some growers plant peach trees between the apple trees. The peach grows and bears quickly, yielding largely before the apple trees need the space.

The dairy interest of Illinois represent a capital of $30,000,000 invested in milch cows, and over $100,000,000 in creameries and cheese factories. The annual dairy product of the state is $15,000,000.

Many farmers harbor the erroneous idea that animals do not require salt and water so much in winter as in summer. This is a mistake, and nature's laws must not be trifled with or set at naught.

The fire wood should all be cut and hauled up this month, before the longer days of March, of alternate thawing and freezing begins to start the flow of sap. The wood will season much better if cut before the flow of sap begins.

Be careful and keep diseased animals, if you have them, no matter of what disease, away from the rest of the stock. Diseases are frequently contagious, and the sickly or weak can be better cared for when separate from the rest of the herd or flock.

Animals that are fed on dry hay, without ensilage, will do much better, if they can have a ration of roots two or three times a week. For horses, carrots are best, but potatoes will do, and when fed with grain and hay, the root ration occasionally, will be found healthful.

Some of the best authorities on the subject on both sides of the Atlantic are quoted as declaring that it does not pay to keep beasts over thirty months, and some contend that it does not pay to keep them over two years. A number of meat raisers in England are pursuing the system of fattening animals from birth and selling them before they reach the age of two years.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are free from all crude and irritating matter. Concentrated medicine only; very small; very easy to take; no pain; no griping; no purging.

Poultry Manure.

Every farmer values the manure from the poultry-house for its use on corn, cabbage and other field and garden crops. He knows how it is immediately taken up by these crops, changing a pale color to a deep green, and starting a luxuriant growth. It is one of the problems of the art of fertilizing, that certain manures exert an effect quite disproportionate to their supposed fertilizing value. Thus in one hundred pounds of poultry manure there are two pounds of phosphoric acid, one pound of potash and two and a quarter pounds of nitrogen; in one hundred pounds of fresh wood-ashes there are six pounds of potash and and three pounds of phosphoric acid; in one hundred pounds of plaster there are seventy-five to ninety pounds of sulphate of lime in all, five pounds of phosphoric acid, two and a quarter pounds of nitrogen, seven pounds of potash, forty pounds of sulphuric acid, and forty-five pounds of lime.

Quite a poor and cheap fertilizer would be as rich as this, but the effect of a home-made mixture is often superior to that of a high-grade, costly fertilizer. The reason is not hard to find. It is that these substances are soluble and in an active condition, and furnish the crops with plant food suitable to their needs and readily available.

This is a most important point, that should be well understood for it lies at the very bottom of the art and practice of manuring.—Farm and Housekeeper.

Shying Horses.

A horse shies as a rule, because he sees something which he does not understand. It may be some new or unusual object that the horse sees, or it may be an imperfect view of one. Even a familiar object brought to view suddenly and unexpectedly will cause a horse to shy or jump, just as an unexpected object or sound causes nervous people to start. Harsh treatment of horses only aggravates matters and increases the habit.

The more the horse is scolded and whipped the more nervous he becomes and every time he passes the place where the fright and whipping occurred he will recollect the unpleasant affair and prick up his ears, fidget and get ready for another jump. Never strike or scold a sensitive, nervous animal that is startled. Give him ample time in which to recover his scattered senses; speak to him calmly and kindly and make him feel that you are his protector, not his tyrant. When he has discovered for himself that all is right there will be an end to all further trouble.

Feeding Hay.

A fact that is but little known, and still more disregarded, is that our working animals get to much hay. In many cases this is the consequence of ignorance, in others, however, it is merely negligence. Rather than to take the pains of cutting the hay, and mixing it with oats or bran, they fill the manger with hay and keep it so continually, while for their health and comfort, especially of working horses, little or no hay should be given them except in the [illegible]. Our method of feeding con[illegible] portion of mixed food in the [illegible] noon; but after the evening [illegible] been consumed, and just be[illegible]

[illegible]

Rev. Stephen Merritt, the clerical undertaker, who buried Gen. Grant at an expense of some $85,000, says the N. Y. Morning Journal of Jan. 14, was plaintiff in a suit which was on jury trial yesterday in the Supreme Court. The questions were whether Mrs. Lizzie Adair was legally liable for the funeral expenses of Mrs. Osborne, and whether Mr. Merritt's bill for $447 was fair and just. Several members of the Undertakers' Protective Association were present in court, and they watched the case with as keen an interest as though they were parties to the suit. Mr. Merritt testified that the defendant came to his parlors and selected the casket, and that his bill was as follows:

Casket with trimmings and handles, $275; washing body, $5; embalming, $15; oak box, $50; delivery, $3; copper corners, $10; copper plate, $5; hearse, $10; coaches, $32; ferriage, $5; receiving vault, 30; attendance, 5; advertising death, 3. Total, $447.

Mr. Merritt said the bill was just and in accordance with the rules of the business. He was dressed in clerical black and his features presented a strong resemblance to Henry George. He was closely questioned in relation to the items in the bill. The casket was covered with velvet and had gold plated mountings. He admitted that the shell, prior to the ornamentation, cost but $40, and that the lace and satin mounting, the plating and the velvet covering cost but $70. The charge for the casket was $275, and he thought a profit of $165 on an investment of $110 was fair and reasonable. He had the same prices for rich and poor alike and made no distinctions. Rev. Mr. Merritt also testified to a conversation which took place between him and Mr. Adair on the morning of the Sunday on which the funeral took place. Mr. Adair said to him: "Those goods you sent were altogether too expensive, too good." Witness replied that the rich habiliments of death had been ordered by his wife, and if they were too fine it was not his fault. His reply was: "But they are altogether too good." Mr. Merritt replied that the funeral goods were not only good, but were costly. Mr. Adair suggested that less expensive articles would suit just as well, and Merritt told him he would be glad to make a reduction if he could, but he did not see his way to do so as the body was then in the casket. On cross-examination he was asked: "At what time of day did this conversation occur?" In the morning, before church." "Business first is the rule?" "An undertaker knows neither day, nor hour, nor season. His work is as constant as the work of death" (solemnly). "And thrice happy they (sarcastically) who have the same person to bury them and speak the funeral oration?" "Yes sir. I officiated as a clergyman in this case and in many others." "Mr. Adair told you you were making the funeral too expensive?" Not too expensive. He said the funeral was going to be too good; that the goods altogether to good." (Laughter).

John B. Caden, the boycotted undertaker, gave his opinion of Mr. Merritt's bill. He said the proper way to figure such a bill was to note down the cost of labor and material, and to add twenty-five per cent. for services. On this basis he would make the bill $225 instead of $447. He thought the latter charge was outrageous. "You have some ill-feeling toward Mr. Merritt?" "Not against him personally. I think that as president of the Undertakers' Society he has treated me unjustly. The society has boycotted me because I charge only fair bills. I cannot buy from the wholesale houses in this city and am compelled to go to Rondout." "You went before the District Attorney and tried to get Mr. Merritt indicted?" "My complaint was against the society. They undertook to interfere with my business and to dictate what prices I should charge. The officers went to the wholesale houses and threatened to boycott them unless they boycotted me, and so I was boycotted." (Laughter).

Several jolly-looking undertakers, among whom were Joseph A. Hoffman, Louis Roth and Mr. Plowright, all born and bred in the undertaking business, testified that the sum charged was not excessive, and that they always made a similar percentage.

Judge Donohue charged the jury very briefly, and after deliberating an hour they returned a verdict for the full amount of his bill. All the undertakers congratulated Mr. Merritt, except Mr. Caden. There was a scene in the hallway when the army of solemn men filed out. Some one shouted aloud: "Down with rats and scab undertakers."

To the Proprietor of Salvation Oil.—
Thou hast built a living monument,
A cure for hurts with little money spent,
Salvation Oil, the greatest liniment!

No one now thinks of a domestic or foreign trip, without a supply of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. 25cts.

A LETTER

From the Mother of Miss Jessie Bonesteele.

Rochester, N. Y., April 22, 1886.

GENTLEMEN:—It is with pleasure I add my testimonial to the many well-known cures which your most excellent remedy has effected. For more than two years I was a great sufferer from rheumatism, being scarcely free from pain during that time. I found no relief until I procured Dr. Pardee's Remedy, and it cured me completely. It is now two years since I discontinued its use and I have had no symptoms of the disease since. I know from my own and from the experience of many others also, that it will cure any case of rheumatism or neuralgia.

I am very truly yours,
MRS. H. S. BONSTEELE.

Syracuse, N. Y.

GENTS:—I have been troubled with Rheumatism for three years, at times very badly afflicted; was in that condition about two weeks ago, when I got a bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and in three days time was greatly relieved, and have not been troubled with it since I finished this bottle. I feel like recommending it in the highest terms, as I believe it will do all that is claimed for it.

Yours truly,
JOHN BLODGETT,
62 Madison St.

GENTLEMEN:—I think the medicine prepared by the Pardee Medicine Company is in fact the best rheumatic medicine now on the market; its equal is not known. My boy only six years old was confined to his bed with rheumatism; I got a bottle of the medicine and in a few days he was out of bed and playing around the house. I can cheerfully recommend this medicine to all rheumatic sufferers. [illegible]

[illegible] universities and [illegible] theological seminaries. Colored people pay taxes on from $100,000,000 to 200,000,000 worth of property.

It is a good rule to accept only such medicines as are known to be worthy of confidence. It has been the experience of thousands that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best medicine ever used for throat and lung diseases.

It is a Curious Fact

That the body is now more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season. Hence the importance of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now, when it will do you the most good. It is really wonderful for purifying and enriching the blood, creating an appetite, and giving a healthy tone to the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla which is peculiar to itself.

There are 18,000 operatives engaged in the shirt, collar and cuff trade in Troy, N. Y., and the amount of their wages for a year amounts to nearly $7,000,000.

Thousands of cases of Consumption are cured every year by Acker's celebrated English Remedy. It is a guaranteed preparation; if it does not help you it will cost you nothing. Try it. A single dose will show its good effect. Trial bottles 10 cts. by H. C. Giesler.

The medical colleges of the United States have graduated over 33,000 physicians during the past nine years, and the present rate is about 4,000 per annum.

Home Rule for Ireland

is only a question of time and it is only a question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. G. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

The ninth white man who has crossed Africa from sea to sea is Lieut. Gleerup, who for three years has been in the service of the International association.

At Night always have Acker's Baby Soother at hand. It is the only safe medicine yet made that will remove all infantile disorders. It contains no Opium or Morphine, but gives the child natural ease from pain. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

The latest estimate of the cotton yield of 1886 is 6,460,000 bales. The quality of the crop is superior.

The Bloodthirsty Anarchists

Are foes to the health of our political institutions, but Coughs and Colds are greater foes to bodily health. Van Wert's Balsam will certainly cure all Coughs. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

Van Wert's Pills are very mild in action. Van Wert's Golden Balm is agreeable to use.

More than two-thirds of the sailors employed in the United States navy are of foreign birth.

Everybody needs a spring medicine, By using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the blood is thoroughly cleansed and invigorated, the appetite stimulated, and the system prepared to resist the diseases peculiar to the summer months. Ask for Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Take no other.

There are 408 members of Congress but only 283 are connected with churches.

If you would enjoy your dinner and are prevented by Dyspepsia, use Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Flatulency and Constipation. We guarantee them. 25 and 50 cents. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

The leading dentist in St. Petersburg is an American.

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk and easily digested. Delicate people improve rapidly with its use. For Consumption, Throat affections and Bronchitis it is unequalled. Dr. Thomas Prim, Ala., says: "I used Scott's Emulsion on a child eight months old; he gained four pounds in a month."

Babies that are fretful, peevish, cross, or troubled with Windy Colic, Teething Pains, or Stomach Disorders, can be relieved at once by using Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine, hence is safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Three hundred divorces were granted in one day recently in Paris.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it well save unnecessary doctors bills. For sale by H. . Giesler. Samples free.

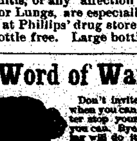
Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure catarrhal Headaches.

A Spaniard has turned the whole Bible into poetry, 260,000 stanzas.

A Gift for All.

In order to give all a chance to test it, and thus be convinced of its wonderful curative powers, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, will be for a limited time, given away. This offer is not only liberal but shows unbounded faith in the merits of this great remedy. All who suffer from Colds, Coughs, Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, or any affection of Throat, Chest or Lungs, are especially requested to call at Phillips' drug store and get a trial bottle free. Large bottles $1.

A Word of Warning.



Don't invite consumption when you can avoid it. Better stop your cough while you can. Bye and bye nothing will do it. It is worth heeding that Parker's Tonic is the best thing known for Coughs, Colds, Throat Complaints, Torpid Liver, Kidney Troubles and Weak Lungs. Often saves life. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"I could find nothing to help my bad cough until I used Parker's Tonic. I had severe pain between my shoulders, with headache, and great difficulty of breathing. [illegible]

[illegible] is accompanied [illegible] the peculiar [illegible] occasionally indulge in, our minds revert back to the creation of man, "who is so fearfully and wonderfully made." The mysteries of his nature have been unraveled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, and through his knowledge of those mysteries he has been able to prepare his "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a specific for all blood taints, poisons and humors, such as scrofula, pimples, blotches, eruptions, swellings, tumors, ulcers and kindred affections. By druggists.

The "higher education" of women has reached the farthest isles of the ocean. At the last examination of the University of New South Wales, 366 of the 1,162 candidates were women.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Virginia has adopted a resolution of thanks to Mrs. Grover Cleveland for her example as an abstainer from intoxicating drinks.

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping th dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 61t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.
J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest Cleanest, Best.
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

INDIA PALE ALE.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing [illegible]

Hop Plaster

[illegible]

☞ Look for the hop-vine wreath and signature of HOP PLASTER CO., on every genuine plaster. Beware of imitations and substitutions.

Paul L. Atkinson, the manager of Lulu Hurst, the magnetic phenomena girl, was married to her in Chattanooga, Tenn. She is no longer magnetic, but is worth $600,000.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

There is a petition in circulation in New York for the appointment of a half-dozen women on the corps of tenement house inspectors. It is being largely signed.

WHAT A PITY

that so many otherwise attractive, polite and particular people afflict their friends by the foul and disagreeable odor of their breath; it is mainly caused by disordered digestion, and can be corrected by removing the cause, by using that pure medicine, Sulphur Bitters.—Health Magazine.

The Ohio Senate has passed a bill requiring that a woman attendant be present when women are taken to insane asylums.

Brace Up.

You are are felling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are fidgetty, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up but not with stimulants, spring medicines or bitters which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour and then leave you in a worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at Phillips' drug store.

The state of Chihuahua, Mexico, pays $200 for every Apache Indian scalp brought in.

QUICK, SAFE, SURE.

Why suffer aches, pains and agony in limbs, back and breast when for 25 cents you can be cured by VANDUSEN'S READY REMEDY. One bottle will prove its value. A remedy that should be in every family. It acts like magic. Cures sprains, wounds, cramps, sore throat. Try a bottle.

VANDUSEN BROS., Kingston, N. Y. 40t4

Every baby, it is said, that has been born to the wives of cabinet officers in Washington has been a girl.

The reason why Acker's Blood Elixir is warranted, is because it is the best Blood Preparation known. It will positively cure all Blood Diseases, purifies the whole system, and thoroughly builds up the constitution. Remember, we guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check for $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation. The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers;—or Five Million Readers. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 180 pages. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St. New-York.

WORK FOR ALL. Permanent employment given to energetic men and women everywhere. $30 a week and expenses paid. Samples worth $5 and all particulars sent free. Address at once P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Maine. Don't miss this chance. Write to-day.

WORKING CLASSES ATTENTION! We are now prepared [illegible]

[illegible] —Washington Critic.

Definition of a Bore.

Do you ask me what a bore is?
I will tell you who is such:
'Tis the one who knows too little,
'Tis the one who knows too much.
—Tid-Bits.

Picking The Wrong Lock.

With stealthy hand he strove to clip
One golden ringlet from her head.
"Ah, don't!" Then with a smiling lip,
"They are my sister Jane's," she said.
—Harper's Magazine.

Gout is sometimes the result of starvation. Now we fear the disease more than ever.—Martha's Vineyard Herald.

Something peculiar about a match. No matter how you drop it, it always lights on its head, if it lights at all.—Cleveland Sun.

A new book is out called "A Girl's Room." It is not so good as her company.—New Orleans Picayune.

No danger of Brigham Young returning to life. Satan knows when he has a good thing and never loses his grip.—Buffalo Commercial.

Six comets are visible without the telescope now. In some places where the ashes on the sidewalk are conspicuously absent you can see seven.—Somerville Journal.

A man in St. Paul the other day tripped and fell forward and was nearly strangled by having his frozen breath driven down his throat.—New Orleans Picayune.

"Woman and Things," is the headline of a column in a ladies' fashion paper. The "Things" are probably men.—Dannsville Breeze.

Angel Darling—Mamma, where did baby tome from? Fond Mother—Papa bought him in the market. A. D.—Why didn't him div' ten cents more and dit one wif hair on?—Ex.

Wife (reading paper) —"Here is an account of a man in Iowa who sold his wife for seventy-five dollars. Isn't it dreadful?" Husband (thoughtfully)—"Well, I dunno. Seventy-five dollars is a good deal of money."—N. Y. Sun.

O'Brien—"Phat the divil be yez doing under the horse's feet, anny way?" Mulligan—"Drive on, yer fool; I want to find out if me loife is insured in a reliable company."—Life.

Boston Girl—"Tell me, my friend, do you admire Hawthorn?" New-York Girl—"Oh, my; yes! I think it is great! When we were at Saratoga I used to drink two big glasses of it every morning before break-fast."—Lowell Citizen.

It was very late and they were renewing for the sixty-seventh time their vows. "You'll be true to me," she cooed; "you will never tell a falsehood?"

"Never, my darling," he murmured. Then then bell tolled 1.—Lowell Citizen.

A New York six-year-old while busily engaged in interviewing a hair he had pulled from his head was questioned as to what he was looking for. He replied that his Sunday-school teacher had read in the lesson that the hairs of his head were all numbered, and he was looking for the number.—The Earth.

Orlando, I didn't see you with Miss Brown at the concert last night." "No, Percy. I'm not calling on her any more. I can't until she retracts what she said the other week. "Ah,—what did she say?" "Well, she said I needn't call any more."—Harper's Bazar.

A boy can walk four miles to go skating and drag some other fellow's sister all the way on a sled, but when his mother wants him to bring up a bag of crackers from the grocery his kidneys are so weak that he darsen't. So says the Burlington Free Press.

"Young man," he said in a solemn tone, "don't you know that if you persist in drinking you will never get ahead in this world?" "Won't get ahead?" "Won't get ahead?" repeated the young man. "Why, my dear sir, your ignorance surprises me. I'll have a head on me to-morrow morning as big as a barrel."—New York Sun.

Charming young, but not to young hostess—"Why major, you are not going so soon?" Major (who prides himself on being one of those fine old fellows, who can say a neat thing without knowing it, egad) "Soon? Gad, madam, it may seem soon to you, but it seems to me I have been here a lifetime."—Burdette.

Ballet girl—"Well, I can't see what is the matter with you. Did you see Fanny Elssler when she was young?" Deacon Goode—"O! no." "Well, she danced with skirts nearly down to her heels, and all the deacons made an awful fuss about it." "Yes," "Well, we've been making 'em shorter and shorter ever since, and you ain't satisfied yet. What do you want anyhow?"—Omaha World.

Bill Nye's Offer.

"Owing to ill health," says Bill Nye, "I will sell at my residence in town 29, range 18, west, according to Government survey, one crushed-raspberry colored cow, aged six years. She is a cow of undaunted courage and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form she would be a great boon, She is very much attached to her home at present, by means of a trace chain, but she will be sold to any one who will agree to treat her right. She is one-fourth shorthorn and three-fourths hyena. Purchaser need not be identified. I will also throw in a double-barrelled shot gun which goes with her. In May she generally goes away somewhere for a week or two, and returns with a tall, red calf, with long, wabbly legs. Her name is Rose and I would prefer to sell her to a non-resident."

Voters vs. Angels.

One of the papers, in commenting on the recent vote in the United States Senate on the woman suffrage amendment, declared that sixteen senators were willing that women should become voters, and thirty-four preferred that they should remain angels.

The angels will continue as before to scrub floors, wash dishes, and clean house.—Lillie Devereux Blake in The Question.

LOCK.

[illegible]

[illegible]

"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. C. [illegible], Buffalo.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. M. HUBBARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PEELE, Salem, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.	Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.
The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.	$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.
Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.	Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.
General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.	SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.
Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.	SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE. No. 41 West 31st St., New York City.

CATARRH
ELY'S
CREAM BALM
CURES
COLD IN HEAD
CATARRH
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S, OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A.
TRADE MARK
EASY TO USE
HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the senses of taste and smell. 60 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents.

ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, NY.

KASKINE.

(THE NEW QUININE.)

Scienceo emerging from Darkness.

NO BAD EFFECT.
NO HEADACHE.
NO NAUSEA.
No Ringing Ears.
Cures Quickly.
Pleasant, Pure.

A POWERFUL TONIC
that the most delicate stomach will bear.
A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM, NERVOUS PROSTRATION,
and all Germ Diseases.

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon. Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Glessner, 360 East 121st St, New York City, has cured over 200 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says, "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

Rev. Jas. L. Hall. Chaplain Albany Penitentiary, writes that Kaskine has cured his wife, after twenty years suffering from malaria and nervous dyspepsia. Write him for particulars.

Thousands upon thousands write that Kaskine has cured them after all other medicines had failed. Write for books of testimonials.

Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

The popular favorite for dressing the hair, Restoring color when gray, and preventing Dandruff. It cleanses the scalp, stops the hair falling, and is sure to please. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

HINDERCORNS.

The safest, surest and best cure for Corns, Bunions, &c. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Never fails to cure. 15 cents at Druggists. Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

FITS STOPPED FREE [illegible]

[illegible]

Dated Dec. 1, 1886.

WILLIAM D. [illegible],
HARRIET L. [illegible],
Administrators.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1887, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in January, March, May, June, September, November and December.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in April, July and October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on the last Thursday of April, July and September.

PARISH—At J. S. Ludington's law office, on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday in April, July and September.

F. DAVID, Surrogate.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE. The undersigned assignee of Ellen E. Swan will sell at public auction at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the Village of Fulton, New York, on the 28th day of February, 1887, at 2 o'clock p. m., of that day all the right, title and interest which said Ellen E. Swan had on the day of her assignment in and to the several parcels of real estate hereinafter described, viz.: First parcel about 8¼ acres situate in the Village of Oswego Falls, Oswego county, New York, lying between First Street and the Oswego River, under the best state of cultivation for fruit gardening, containing about 500 quince bushes, 500 black currant bushes, 75 pear trees, a large number of peach trees, a number of varieties of grapes and other small fruit, all in good bearing condition. Second parcel about 18 acres situate in the Town of Granby, Oswego county, New York, lying upon the peat bed, bounded east by land of Samuel Wood; north by lands of Mrs. Eggleston; west by lands of John Kinney and south by lands of Mrs. Collins; under high state of cultivation, well adapted to raising and now mostly set with willows.

Terms of sale made known on day of sale.
Dated Feb'y 1st, 1887.

CHARLES WHITE,
Assignee.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK: By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Thomas M. Hubbard, Montague, Mich.; Ira G. Hubbard, Elkhart, Ind.; Fred A. Hart, Mary Jones, Albert W. Hart, Emma Jones, Scriba, Oswego county, N. Y.; Jesse L. Coe, Sand Bank, Oswego county, N. Y.; Jane Hubbard, Thomas Hubbard, Volney, Oswego county, N. Y.; Frank Hubbard and George Hubbard, residence unknown; persons interested in the estate of Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in the county of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting.

Whereas, Lucy K. Hubbard, now of the Town of Scriba, in the county of Oswego, has lately made application to our Surrogate of the county of Oswego for the final judicial settlement of her account as Executrix of said Thomas Hubbard, deceased; therefore, you, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, at the law office of C. H. David, Esq., in the Village of Fulton, in said county of Oswego, on the 14th day of April, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to attend the final judicial settlement of the accounts of the proceedings of Lucy K. Hubbard as Executrix of said deceased.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, [L. S.] Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 24th day of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven.

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogates Court.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE. Whereas on the 1st day of April, 1873, Isaac F. Pierce made and delivered to the undersigned mortgagee, Allan Gilmour, his certain mortgage, bearing date on that day, whereby he mortgaged to the said Allan Gilmour, his heirs and assigns "all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Hannibal, County of Oswego and state of New York, bounded and described as follows, to wit, being part of subdivision No. one of great lot No. eighty-one of said town of Hannibal and beginning in the north line of said lot No. eighty-one, at the north-east corner of land now owned by Daniel Randall; thence east along said north line to the north-west corner of land now owned by David Dexter; thence south along the west line of said Dexter's land to the center of the highway leading across said lot; thence easterly along the center of said highway to the east line of said lot No. one; thence south along said east line to the south-east corner of said lot No one; thence west along the south line of said subdivision to the west line of said lot No. eighty-one; thence north to the centre of the highway leading across said lot; thence east along the centre of said highway to the south-east corner of D. Randall's land; thence north along the east line of said Randall's land to the place of beginning, containing about ninety-five acres of land," which said mortgage with the power of sale therein contained, was duly recorded in the Oswego County Clerk's office, on the 31st day of April, 1873, at 5 o'clock p. m., in Liber 98 of mortgages, at page 316, and whereas the said mortgage was given to secure the payment of two thousand dollars with semi-annual interest, as therein specified, and default has been made in the condition of said mortgage whereby the power to sell therein contained has become operative and there is claimed to be due thereon at the date of the first publication of this notice the sum of two thousand thirty-seven dollars, and that the whole amount thereof is due.

Said mortgage was duly assigned to Stilman W. Mason on the 30th day of March, 1880, and said assignment was duly recorded in the Oswego County Clerks Office on the 19th day of January, 1887.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that in pursuance of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the statute in such case made and provided the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public auction, at the Lewis House, in the village of Fulton, on the 20th day of April, 1887, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day.

STILLMAN W. MASON, Assignee.
A. L. & E. O. JOHNSON,
Attys., Syracuse, N. Y.

LUMBER! LUMBER.

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST. 37tf

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

—IF YOUR—
HORSE IS LAME
USE DR. J. S. MARKHAM'S
"Spavin Cure:"
—IF HE HAS—
Sore Feet or Contracted Hoofs,
Use Dr. J. S. Markham's
FOUNDER OINTMENT.
☞ They are a sure cure. For sale at the DRUG STORES.

MONEY to be made. Cut this out and return to us, and we will send you free, something of great value and importance to you, that will start you in business which will bring you in more money [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME [illegible]
$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY MARCH 2, 1887. Single Copies Three Cents

The Rajah's Clock.

A Fifty Dollar Prize Poem.

Rajah Balpoora, Prince of Jullinder,
Reigned in the land where the Five Rivers ran;
A lordly tyrant, with no one to hinder
His wildest pleasure or maddest plan.
His hall was beauty, his throne was splendor,
His meat was daintiest of every zone,
Nor even a joy that wealth can render
His whimsical fancy left unknown.
For afar, in sight of his palace windows,
His realm was gardens on every hand;
And the feet of a hundred thousand Hindoos
Came and went at his least command.
But one thing, worthy his pride to show it,
Among his treasures eclipsed them all;
'Twas the marvel of sage and the praise of poet,
The wonderful clock in his palace hall.

Brains and fingers of wonderful cunning,
Patiently planned the strange machine—
Framed, and balanced, and set it running,
With a living heart in its wheels unseen.
Behind the dial, the iron pellet
Counted the seconds, and just below
Hung a silver gong, and a brazen mallet
For every hour had a brazen blow;
And near, like windrowed leaves in the weather,
Or battle-wrecks at a charnel door,
Lay mock men's limbs all huddled together,
In a shapeless heap on a marble floor!
And when the dial-hands creeping, pointed the smallest hour on the disk of day,
Click! from the piecemeal pile, rejointed,
A new made maniken jumped away!
Nimble-handed, a small, trim figure,
Briskly he stepped where his work begun,
Seized a mallet with nervous vigor,
And loud on the echoing gong struck one.
Clang!—and the hammer that made the clamor
Dropped, and lay where it lay before,
And the arms of the holder fell off at the shoulder,
And his head went rolling down to the floor,
And the little man tumbled, and cracked and crumbled,
Till the human shape that he lately bore,
With a shiver and start all rattled apart,
And vanished—as if to rise no more.

Dead! ere the great bell's musical thunder
In the listening chambers throbbed away—
(No eye discovered the hidden wonder
That dreaming under the ruins lay).
Dead as the bones in the prophet's valley,
Waiting with never a stir or a sound,
While the pendulum's tick, tick, tick, kept tally,
And the busy wheels of the clock went round.
Till another hour, to its limit creeping,
Its signs those bodiless limbs shot through,
And a pair of manikins swift upleaping,
Loud on the echoing gong struck "two."
Clang! Clang!—and the brazen hammers
Dropped, and lay where they lay before,
And the arms of the holders fell off their shoulders,
And their heads went rolling down to the floor,
And the little men tumbled and cracked and crumbled,
And vanished—as if to rise no more.

Still as the shells of the sea floor, sleeping
Countless fathoms the waves below;
Still as the stones of a city, heaping
The path of an earthquake ages ago,
Lay the sundered forms; but steadily swinging
Beat the slow pendulum, tick, tick, tick,
Till lo, at the third hour, suddenly springing,
Rose three men's limbs, with a click, click, click,
And, joined together, by magic gifted,
In stature perfect, and motion free,
The trio, each with his mallet lifted,
Loud on the echoing gong struck "three."
Clang! Clang! Clang!—and the hammers
Dropped, and lay where they lay before,
And the arms of the holders fell of their shoulders,
And their heads went rolling down to the floor,
And the little men tumbled, and cracked, and crumbled,
And vanished—as if to rise no more.

And as many as each hour's figures numbered
So many men of that small brigade,
Whose members the marble floor encumbered,
Made themselves, and as soon unmade;
Till at noon rose all, and, each one swinging
His brazen sledge by its brazen helve,
Set all the rooms of the palace ringing
As their strokes on the silver gong told "twelve."

Rajah Balpoora, Prince of Jullinder,
Died. But the great clock's heart
Beat on; and still in that hall of splendor
The twelve little sextons played their part.
And the wise who entered the palace portal
Read in the wonder the lesson plain;
Every human hour is a thing immortal,
And days but perish to rise again.
From the grave of every life we saddened
Comes back the clamor of olden wrongs,
And our deeds that other sould have gladdened
Ring from the past like angel songs.

—Theron Brown, in Good Cheer.

A certain philanthrophist buys a large quantity of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup every winter and gives it to the poor suffering from coughs and colds.

There is not a case of neuralgia which cannot be at once relieved by the use of Salvation Oil at all drug stores. Price only 25 cents a bottle.

THE PROPER THING.

Bonnets will have lower soft crowns of silk or lace.

Flowers will be largely used on bonnets and feathers on round hats.

Black Neapolitan strawbonnets made in stripes with jet gimp will be worn.

Head dresses are worn more and more by married women to dinners and evening entertainments.

Indications are that small bonnets and round hats of medium size will be worn in the early spring.

The basques of many dresses have the skirt, which is laid in the deep "pocket-ed" pleats, sewn fast to them.

Sleeves of contrasting color are often used to renovate bodices that have seen service and are no longer as fresh as could be desired.

Silver is deservedly popular for use upon evening gowns. Silver-spotted tulle is introduced upon white or delicately colored satin dresses.

The newest cloaks for little girls have waists reaching only to the armpits, more like deep-yoke than a waist, and skirts falling to the ankles.

The new Russian sleighing caps of fur or seal plush are made to come down and cover the ears completely, exactly as they are worn by gentlemen.

Spring jackets for the street are of barred or striped cloths of dark colors, or of the favorite suede and tan shades. Both double and single breasted are worn.

The round hats to be worn the coming season have high, slightly tapering crowns with the brim long in front, short at the back and rolled close at the sides.

Backache is almost immediately relieved by wearing one of Carter's Smart [illegible] Backache Plasters [illegible] pain [illegible]

THE WITCH'S FATE.

A Cruel Prejudice of the Olden Times More Than Equaled Now.

Not many decades ago in this country, the people were excited over witchcraft. Persons suspected were thrown into the water; if not witches, they would drown; if they were witches, they would swim ashore, and would be put to death! In any event, they were doomed!

Not many years ago if a person were taken sick with advanced disorder of the kidneys, the physician would pronounce the case Bright's disease, and when so declared, he regarded his responsibility at an end, for medical authority admitted that the disease was incurable.

When the physician found a patient thus afflicted he would say, "Oh, a slight attack of the kidneys; will be all right in a little while." He knew to the contrary. But if he could keep his patient on his hands for a few months, he knew he would derive a great revenue from his case, and then when the disease had progressed to a certain stage, he would state facts and retire exhonorated from all blame.

But the error of supposing the disease incurable, has swayed the public mind, long after the facts has ceased to be. But public opinion, has been educated to the true status of the case by those who have discounted the incurability theory, and the public recognizes and testifies to the fact that Warner's safe cure is a specific for this disease. This has been shown with thousands of testimonials.

Upon referring to them in our files we find that $5,000 reward will be given to any one who can prove that so far as the manufacturers know they are not genuine, and that hundreds of thousands similar in character could be published, if it were necessary.

This condition of things is very amusing to the journalist, who looks upon all sides of every question. Proof should be accepted by all, but prejudice fights proof for many years. It seems strange that when a proprietary medicine is doing the good that Warner's safe cure is that the physicians do not publicly endorse it. Many of them, we are told, privately prescribe it.

A few years ago, as stated, when a man had Bright's disease, the doctor boldly announced it, because he thought it relieved him of responsibility.

To-day when prominent men are dying (and hundreds of thousands of common people die of the same disease), we are told that doctors disguise the fact that it is Bright's disease of the kidneys and say that they die of paralysis, of apoplexy, of pneumonia, of consumption, of general debility, of rheumatism, of heart disease, of blood poisoning or of some other of the names of the direct effect of kidney disease. They are not the real disease itself.

We sometimes wonder if they avoid stating the real cause of disease for fear they will drive the public into patronage of the only scientific proprietary specific for kidney diseases and the thousand and one diseases that originate in inactive kidneys.

We don't believe every advertisement we read. Some people may regard this as an advertisement and will not believe it, but we are candid enough to say that we believe that the parties above mentioned have stated their case and proved it, and under such circumstances the public is unwise if it is longer influenced by adverse prejudice.

Population of the Largest Cities.

The New York World Almanac contains a statement of the present population of the principal cities of the Union, as estimated in each case by the Mayor or some other officer of the municipal government, being governed in many cases by recent censuses. New York, with 1,400,000, and Philadelphia, with 1,000,000, hold first and second places undisputed. Brooklyn, claiming 710,000, and Chicago, 703,000 stand next in order, and it is evident that the former will give way when the next Federal census is taken in 1890. Baltimore claims fifth place with 460,000, St. Louis next with 450,000, and Boston seventh with 400,000. In 1880 in these cities the order was reversed. Cincinnati and San Francisco each claim 300,000 the latter gaining on the former. New Orleans ranks next with 240,000, but Buffalo, claiming 225,000 has passed Cleveland and Pittsburgh, and at its rate of progress will soon overhaul New Orleans. Washington or the district of Columbia, is estimated at 210,000. Pittsburgh puts forward a claim to 200,559, beating Cleveland 550. Detroit is estimated at 175,000—a careful and conservative figure, and stands fifteenth in the scale, having passed Newark, Louisville and Jersey City since 1880. Other cities follow as follows: Milwaukee, 170,000; Newark, 160,000; Jersey City, 155,000; St. Paul 140,000; Louisville, 140,000; Kansas City 135,000; Providence, 120,000; Indianapolis, 105,000, and Albany, Alleghany and Rochester, each 100,000. In the matter of freedom from debt Detroit stands first in the list.

Prompt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, constipation, pain in the side, etc., guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One pill a dose. 25 cents.

[illegible]

"Mama," said little Dolly Pretzel, the other day after having [illegible] clean a large fish. "Do fish have any [illegible]"

"Certainly, Dolly."

"Do [illegible] put them to sleep [illegible]"

RETRIBUTION.

BY "THE DUCHESS."

CHAPTER IX.

It is eight o'clock on the ensuing morning when Lucy, Millicent's maid, rushed sobbing into Mrs. Brand's bedroom.

"Oh, ma'm! Oh, my young lady! Oh, ma'm! Oh! poor Miss Millicent!"

"What! What is it? Speak, girl!" commands Mrs. Brand, her face growing pale with nervous expectation.

"Oh, ma'm! that I should live to see this day! Oh, poor, dear Miss Grey! Her as I was fond of. Her as never said a word unkind to mortal soul. To see her now, and to think that only yesterday"——

"What do you mean, girl?" cries Mrs. Brand, ringing the bell frantically. "Good heavens! What has happened to Miss Grey?"

"Oh, to only look at her, ma'm—I thought I'd have dropped at her feet when I pushed the door back, never knowing why it was so hard to open and she lying against it, with her poor head"——

"The woman will drive me mad!" cries Mrs. Brand in a choked tone, and, hurrying past her, made her way to Millicent's bedroom.

Already two or three servants have gathered there. The door is open, and they are stooping over something lying on the floor almost immediately beyond the threshold.

Mrs. Brand, with a little cry, and pale and trembling, rushes forward, the servants part involuntarily, and there lying upon the ground, to all appearance lifeless, lies Millicent. Her head is thrown backward, and one hand is tightly clinched.

"She is fainting. It is only a faint!" cried Mrs. Brand, with an anguish in her tone that belies the meaning of her words. "What are you all standing idle there for?" turning upon the terrified women. "Has no one thought of sending for a doctor?"

She is down on her knees now beside the pale still form, and has raised the cold head on her arm.

"Yes, ma'm; James has gone for a doctor," sobs the housemaid nervously.

"Help me to lift her. So! Oh! be gentle, girl! There—on her bed. Pull up the blinds—what are they down for at this hour?—one would think she was dead!"

She says this vehemently, with a sort of defiance. But the awful word is too much for her—it has hardly passed her lips when her fictitious anger gives way, she bursts into tears, and, falling on her knees beside the bed, she stretches out her arms to the unconscious body.

"Oh! my child! My pretty girl! What is it? What has happened to you? Oh! Millicent, speak to me!"

The doctor entering at this moment, she calms herself by a supreme effort, for in truth the poor woman is terribly unnerved—no smallest suspicion of tragedy having ever come near her before, in all her calm, easy, luxurious life.

"H'm! ha!" says Dr. Thesby, sniffing about him suspiciously as he walks lightly to the bedside and stoops over Millicent. "Young lady been playing pranks with chloroform?"

"Oh, no! Impossible," exclaims Mrs. Brand. "Indeed, I hardly think there is any in the house. Certainly none that is not under lock and key in my own room."

"Nevertheless, there is chloroform here, or has been," says the doctor, sniffing again. He has been examining Millicent while speaking, and now calls for certain things to be brought him by the attending servants. Seeing Mrs. Brand's distress, he turns kindly to her. "I can't quite make it out yet, but pray compose yourself, my dear madame. Your niece is by no means beyond the power of man yet."

And, indeed, at the expiration of half an hour or so Millicent is so far recovered as to be able to smile upon them, and whisper a word or two to her aunt.

"No whispering, I think—no confidences just yet," says Dr. Thesby, rubbing his hands. "Though I agree with you, my dear lady, that no time should be lost about seeing into this—er—truly extraordinary affair. What d'ye say, my good woman," turning sharply to one of the maids.

"A handkerchief, eh? Picked up by you? Lying on Miss Grey's face—or partly so? eh? eh? Think what you are saying now, my good girl, as I dare say you will have to repeat it pretty often later on."

Yes. The girl had picked it up when first she stooped over Miss Grey. It was not exactly on her face, but looked as if it had slipped off it.

The doctor, folding it neatly, puts it in his breast pocket. "Important evidence, madame! If you will permit me, I will take charge of it. Heavily saturated with chloroform, I should say, from the strength of the aroma that still clings to it."

"Let me see it," says Millicent suddenly, in a voice so much stronger and with such excitement on her pale face that the doctor thinks it better to accede to her request, while still entreating her to "Be calm!—be calm! and above all things to be calm!"

"As if," said Millicent afterward to Nadine, "any one could be expected to be calm who had just escaped being murdered, and had had the finest sapphires in Enlgand stolen from her!"

The handkerchief is a large, coarse, common one, white in color, and of such a texture as might be used by a respectable artisan on a holiday making.

"It is a clew," says the doctor triumphantly; but Millicent, though she could not have put her conviction into words, feels that it will never help to bring the real offender to justice.

"But what brought the man here—that is what I want to know!" demands Mrs. Brand, with a little spreading of her hands, when the doctor has called some hours later to find his patient has been sleeping quietly during his absence, and has only roused to consciousness again upon his entrance.

"Not a word have I let her speak—not a word," says Mrs. Brand, with very pardonable pride, considering the extent of her curiosity.

"Well, I must speak now," murmurs Millicent, still very feebly, but with a decided increase of strength that the doctor finds very satisfactory.

"Why, we shall have her downstairs in no time," declares he jovially.

Then Millicent launches into a description of the man who had thrown a handkerchief over her face and left her to live or die, as chance decreed, while he made good his escape. [illegible]

"Ah! auntie," says the girl, looking [illegible] friend of Mrs. Brand's, and had been shown the sumptuous gift of Timothy Boyle when first presented to Miss Grey.

"Ah!" says Millicent, laughing hysterically, "the burglar evidently did not think them, as you do, priceless. No doubt he is already pricing them—is arranging how to break them up and sell them—breaking—up—my—lovely—necklet—my beautiful"— Here, being still very weak, she gives up her mournful description, and subsides into a storm of tears.

"There, there, darling! Oh, don't cry like that! Think of your weak state. But what an audacious thing! Bless me, what will your uncle say? Now, my dearest love, I implore you to control yourself. Remember how that unmitigated villain nearly deprived you of your life only a few short hours ago. In this very chamber, Dr. Thesby. Oh! to think of it! It must have almost happened on this very spot!" Here she grows tragic, and speaks in a deep bass tone that she believes befits the occasion. "Oh! Millicent, darling, you will break my heart—your old auntie's heart—if you keep on sobbing like that. Dear! dear! dear! to think that those sapphires—heirlooms, doctor—and the finest in England—indeed, in Europe, I might safely say—are now being melted down—that is, broken up, or whatever it is those terrible men do to them—while we are sitting inactive here! Can nothing be done? Oh! doctor—Dr. Thesby! What is the matter with her now?—has that wretch succeeded in killing her after all?"

Millicent, in fact, driven to despair by this prolonged lament, has gone into violent hysterics.

"No, ma'm, he hasn't," says the doctor, with severe meaning, who had tried to stem the flow of Mrs. Brand's eloquence, eagerly but ineffectually, during the past five minutes.

CHAPTER X.

It is about five in the afternoon when Nadine rushes up the stairs, horrified by what she has just heard in the hall, and flings herself into her friend's arms.

"Such a thing to happen to you!" she cries, in her little rapid fashion. "The miscreant!—the assassin! Oh, Millicent, when Brown" (the butler) "stopped me in the hall to tell me the dreadful news I nearly fainted. Only the idea of seeing you face to face to make sure of your escape sustained me, and gave me strength to get here."

Indeed, she is as pale as a ghost, and her eyes are full of tears. Sweet eyes, as full of love as tears.

"Well, now you have seen me," with a laugh, and a gentle shake administered to the trembling Nadine, "cheer up a bit, and let the blood flow into those wan cheeks. Talking about blood flowing, I'm glad mine was not let loose last night."

"Oh! don't—don't!" says Nadine, shuddering violently.

"Well, there, there. I have unnerved you, and I ought to be ashamed of myself. But the fact is, I am unnerved myself, only my nervousness has the effect of raising a sense of ridicule within me. I cannot keep from jesting on last night's adventure, though I dare say to-morrow I shall be prostrated. It is a strange excitement, better not indulged. Well! it is an ill wind that blows nobody good. You cannot compel me, tyrant that you are! to stammer over my German to-day."

An arrangement had been entered into between them some weeks ago, when Millicent had been brought out, and was supposed to have left her childhood and the schoolroom behind her. Nadine, for many reasons, would not consent to be her companion. One was because she could not well leave her mother; another because of her engagement to Paul Annerley; another (was it so very important?) because she could not give up the tuition of Mr. Duran's little daughter. So Millicent had squared matters by declaring to her auntie that though she considered she knew as much music as would carry her on through life, her knowledge of German was still singularly deficient, and auntie, delighted at this trait of intellectual diligence in her niece, had at once requested Miss Roche to continue her three visits a week to Park lane as heretofore.

"Tell me about it," says Nadine breathlessly, her big blue eyes enlarged with fear and curiosity. She has seated herself on a dainty prie dieu, and is leaning forward with clasped hands in an attitude highly suggestive of prayer, and therefore highly suited to the chair.

Millicent, nothing loath, makes her a present of the entire scene from beginning to end.

"He might have been a much worse burglar, all things considered, and there was quite a touch of chivalry—a suspicion of Claude Duval—in the fact of his making me a present of my own locket," she says, still unable to refrain from turning the whole thing into ridicule. "To go to the very root of the matter, it must be confessed that I am the proud possessor of his heart. He left me that at least."

"The coward!" says Nadine, clasping her pretty hands, "to attack alone one poor woman! But, Millicent, from what you tell me, I—I don't think the burglar could have been quite a common man. Was he tall—handsome?"

"Handsome! Why, I couldn't see a feature in his face. You don't suppose that that sort of person comes around with an open, ingenuous countenance, ready for all men's inspection? If so, you are mistaken. My burglar came with a mask that prevented me from seeing the chiseled features that I feel convinced lay beneath it. Altogether, he was not of the common, every day lot that one meets. He was a departure from the regular lines. He was strange to me! Strange! And yet"——

Suddenly the half mocking, wholly gay air she has used hitherto drops from her, and she turns upon Nadine a startled glance. She leans toward her, and laying her hand upon her shoulders, subjects her to an exhaustive scrutiny.

"I must speak. I must tell you," she says at last. "It has weighed upon me ever since, and—and—the others would consider it in the light of a nightmare, or else say the idea arose from a feeling of nervous horror; but it did not."

"What is it, Millicent? You forget I do not understand," says Nadine, a little awed by the solemnity of the other's glance.

"Just this: that that terrible burglar, from the time he entered my room to the time he left it, seemed strangely familiar. I cannot account for it. His voice I never heard before. He was dressed in the clothes of a common workman, and I know no workmen. His face, indeed, was hidden"——

She stops abruptly as though oppressed by some hidden thought.

"Yes, it was hidden," she says at last. "Yet I am possessed by a hideous fear that if I could have removed that mask the features would have been familiar to me."

She sinks back in her chair, looking [illegible]

gave much of his life to a contemplation of these stones, and now a vulgar criminal is the possessor of them. It is very cruel of me to laugh, is it not? Especially as I am the only one that can see a comical side of the affair. Yes, I am sorry that I am not more sorry because of their disappearance."

"Has Mr. Boyle yet heard of their being stolen?"

"Not yet. He was to have been here this morning, but"——

"He was here this morning, darling," says Mrs. Brand, who has just entered the room and heard the drift of the conversation, "but you were then so weak that of course I could not see him. He heard nothing, as I told Brown to be silent about our sensation to any caller—so he merely left word that he hoped your headache would be better soon (I suggested headache to Brown as a general and safe sort of not at home), and that he would call again to-morrow morning."

"Wonderfully attentive for him," says Millicent, smoothing down the laces of her loose gown.

"Dear fellow! He is always all he ought to be! So like his good father," says Mrs. Brand effusively.

"Inspector Dunn has just been here," goes on Mrs. Brand presently. "He seems a clever man, and holds out great hopes of being able to capture the robber and restore to you your sapphires. I ran up at once to tell you. He seems to think it will be difficult to get rid of the sapphires, even should the robber go to Antwerp or some of those foreign places. All the shipping ports are being closely watched. He really gave me great hope. Your uncle Timothy has been here on and off all day, but I would not let him see you, he was so excited. Of course he feels the loss of the jewels. He thought a great deal of them. That is hardly to be wondered at, my dear Nadine, considering their size and their purity. I assure you, people have been known to go out of their minds for far less cause. Are you going now, my dear? Well, I suppose it is getting late. Such a comfort it has been to me to know you were with Millicent while I was trying to explain things to those stupid De Laines. They would have it that my poor child had had her skull crushed in, and that the burglar had been discovered hiding behind the drawing room curtains—such nonsense, you know! Well, good night, then, dear child. Be sure you come as early as you can on Thursday; Millicent is always so much better when she has had an hour with you."

Having kissed Nadine, of whom indeed she is extremely fond, Mrs. Brand ushers her down the staircase and through the hall.

(To be Continued.)

THE YOUNG FATHER.

His Candid Opinion of His First Baby Candidly Expressed.

"There!" said the nurse proudly, as she put the new baby into the young father's arms, "She is a perfect beauty of a child."

"Is that all there is of her?" he asked.

"I'm ashamed of you."

"Well, this is all clothes, as far as I can see."

Then he took it and turned it head down.

"Oh!" screamed the nurse, "you'll kill the baby!"

"Why, what's the matter?"

"You're holding her upside down,"

"Well, it doesn't make any difference yet, does it?"

"I never saw a man so ignorant."

"How do you hold her any way?"

Then the nurse showed him.

"I wonder what a father does under the circumstances," he thought to himself. "I suppose I have got to talk to the little thing."

And then he began a string of baby talk. The baby did not show the faintest sign of recognition.

"Say, I'm afraid she is deaf, nurse?"

"Deaf! You're a fool."

"Well, she doesn't hear. She doesn't even—"

The baby set up a terrible yell.

"She's sick" he said.

"There's something the matter with her."

"No, there ain't"

"Oh, do babies yell like that so soon."

The baby kept up a bawl.

"I don't know about this I suppose I ought to play the stern parent and spank her, oughtn't I?"

"Spank her! I'd like to see you try to spank the dear little thing."

"Here take her away."

And he went off down stairs and lit a cigar and took a walk, reasoning to himself that there were some things in life only a woman seemed to grasp thoroughly.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Most men, otherwise strong in body and mind, will become unhappy and break down when afflicted with Rheumatism. If they would only try Salvation Oil they would find relief at once. Price 25 cents.

Over one million bottles of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup have been sold by W. H. Brown & Bro., Baltimore, Md.

A sausage factory of Hudson, N. Y. cuts up fifteen hundred pounds of meat every hour.

The chewibg gum yearly used by a certain family of eight persons in Minnesota costs $150.

IT BANISHES PAIN.

Cold, damp weather aggravates the sufferings of the victim of rheumatic pains. All his joints seem to be unhinged and every movement is attended with excruciating pain. Rheumatism is an inflammation of the joints caused by a vitiated condition of the blood. To obtain relief from the effect you must first remove the cause. Brown's Sarsaparilla, which is totally unlike any other preparation of the kind known to medical science, has proved itself by repeated trials to be the greatest blood purifier which medical skill has been as yet able to devise. George Fairbrother, who has charge of the extensive stud of Hon. J. P. Bass, at Bangor, Me., says: "After suffering excruciating pain for years, from chronic rheumatism, I was entirely cured by the use of Brown's Sarsaparilla. I recommend it to all who are sufferers from this painful disease."

Mrs. O. P. Benton, of Hampden, Me., says: "A rheumatic fever, from which I suffered three years ago, left me in wretched physical condition. The five bottles of Brown's Sarsaparilla which I have taken have done wonders in the way of relieving me from pain and improving my general health."

Brown's Sarsaparilla

Is for sale by all druggists. Ara Warren & Co., Sole Proprietors, Bangor, Me.

ASBESTOS ROOFING

FIRE-PROOF.

THIS is the perfected form of portable Roofing, manufactured by us for the past twenty-seven years, and is now in use upon roofs of Factories, Foundries, Cotton Gins, Chemical Works, Railroad Bridges, Cars, Steamboat Decks, etc., in all parts of the world.

Supplied ready for use, in rolls containing 200 square feet, and weighs with Asbestos Roof Coating, about 85 pounds to 100 square feet.

Is adapted for all climates and can be readily applied by unskilled workmen. Samples and Descriptive Price List free by mail.

H. W. JOHNS MANUFACTURING CO.,
SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF
H. W. Johns' Fire and Water-Proof Asbestos Sheathing, Building Felt, Asbestos Steam Packings, Boiler Coverings, Liquid Paints, Fire-Proof Paints, etc.
VULCABESTON, Moulded Piston-Rod Packing, Rings, Gaskets, Sheet Packing, etc.
Established 1858. 87 MAIDEN LANE, NEW YORK. CHICAGO. PHILADELPHIA. LONDON.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

The Centaur Company, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

THE GREAT APERIENT
ROGERS'
GRAPOLINE
CURES HEADACHE, CONSTIPATION, DYSPEPSIA, RHEUMATISM. | A. H. ROGERS & CO., GENESEO, N. Y. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

The Slayer of Wilkes Booth Insane.

Boston Corbett, the slayer of John Wilkes Booth, created a sensation in the Kansas House of Representatives recently. At the commencement of the session of the Legislature, Corbett was was appointed Assistant Doorkeeper. recently he strapped on two revolvers and took with him a box of cartridges. Then, with a drawn weapon, he drove a negro attendant from the Representative's Hall. Sergean-at-arms Norton attempted to expostulate with him, when Corbett cocked one of his revolvers and pointing it at the officer told him to travel. Corbett then searched for Speaker Smith, and on meeting a member who somewhat resembled him, was about to fire, when the member threw up his hands and said he was not the Speaker. The member was then permitted to move on. Corbet then took possession of the Syeaker's gallery and walking in front of the doors, held it during the entire morning session, refusing to allow any one to come near him. Three city policemen were called, but they would not venture into the dark corridor, and the slayer of Booth held possession. At noon he sent word down to the House to adjourn or he would come down and adjourn it himself. The House adjourned. Corbett was afterward captured in the lower corridor, disarmed, and taken to the police station, where he is now confined. He will be adjudged insane and confined in an asylum.

Drops of Wisdom.

On the same stream we never float again.—Goethe.

Life is a short day, but it is a working day.—Hannah More.

What makes life dreary is the want of motion—George Eliot.

He that hath no bridle on his tongue hath no grace in his heart.—St. Jerome.

If we do not flatter ourselves, the flattery of others will not be able to injure us.—La Rochefoucauld.

The man who has plenty of time on his hands rarely has plenty of money in his pockets.—Philadelphia Call.

One should conquer the world, not to enthrone a man, but an idea; for ideas exist forever.—Beaconsfield.

When one has no good reason to do a thing, he has one good reason for letting it alone.—Good Housekeeping.

The Population of [illegible]

Is about 5,000, and we would say at least one-half are troubled with some affection of the throat and lungs, as those complaints are, according to statistics, more numerous than others. [illegible]

In Safe Hands.

"In cleaning your coat," he said as he halted a gentleman on the steps of the Postoffice, "I found these two letters in the lining. When your wife called for the garment I thought it best not to say anything about the letters."

The gentleman received them, flushed up, and then turned pale, and as he put them in one pocket and drew a silver dollar from the other, he remarked:

"You did exactly right. These are a couple of letters my wife wrote to me when we were sparking, and I wouldn't have lost them for a $100 bill."

"Quite right, sir, and I'm much obliged. If she writes you any more and I find 'em you can depend upon my discretion."—Detroit Free Press.

"Her face so fair as flesh it seemed not
But heavenly portrait of bright angel's hue,
Clear as the sky, without a blame or blot,
Through goodly mixture of complexion due,
And in her cheeks the vermeil red did show."

This is the poet's description of a woman whose physical system was in a perfectly sound and healthy state, with every function acting properly, and is the enviable condition of its fair patrons produced by Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." Any druggist.

Two great enemies—Hood's Sarsaparilla and impure blood. The latter is utterly defeated by the peculiar medicine.

Situations Wanted. Wanted, everybody suffering from weak back, side ache, kidney troubles, sore lungs, rheumatism, severe pains or weakness to try the Hop Plasters. A wonderful strengthener. Hops, Gums and Pitch combined.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

Messrs W. H. Hooker & Co.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printing, [illegible] Street, over [illegible] book store. [illegible] of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
38 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE,
OSWEGO, N. Y.,
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Streets. Centrally located in the business part of the city.
Prices Reasonable.
Commodious Sample Rooms.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—
Decker Brothers'
Matchless Pianos.
THE VERY BEST PIANOS.
Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.

COAL.
—GO TO
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
☞ Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

EUREKA CATARRH REMEDY,
NO SALVE! NO SNUFF! NO WASH!
The only internal specific. Cures not as an irritant or astringent, but by directing the gentle life giving forces of the organism to the part affected. Tasteless and pure. Children take it without difficulty. Price 50 cents by mail.
EUREKA MED. CO. Sharon, Pa.

YOU can live at home and make more money at work for us, than at anything else in this world. Capital not needed; you are started free. Both sexes; all ages. Anyone can do the work. Large earnings sure from first start. Costly outfit and terms free. Better not delay. Costs you nothing to send us your address and find out; if you are wise you will do so at once. H. Hallett & Co., Portland, Me.

MAKE HENS
LAY.
SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER
[illegible]

[illegible] Fool. [illegible] a man to the world [illegible] calling in which it [illegible] in place not.

[Thackeray.

[illegible] EDITOR

A President and Board of Trustees Without Party Prejudice and Free to Serve their Village and not their Party.

We have noticed certain attacks that have been made upon us for our course in advising our citizens to have their affairs managed in the best possible manner. These attacks have not been noticed in our columns because we do not think that they have been honestly made. It has been intimated that there are motives behind us—our observation has been that one who always imputes doubtful motives to another is the one whose actions and doings should be watched with care.

But we have motives and they are to serve the public faithfully and to indicate whenever we may what would be the best interests of Fulton and her citizens. A spirit of envy, spite jealously, or a falling out against another if his opinions are not in accord with our own is not conducive to liberal mindedness and progression in a community. Whenever we have thought a certain course would be most beneficial to this community we have suggested it, and we have yet to learn that any unwise course has been advised. An honest interchange of opinion in public matters we are always ready for, but bare insinuations without foundation or proof is nauseating to a public and when weak, they are unworthy of consideration.

We take it for granted that the intelligent majority of the electors of Fulton have watched the proceedings of the village Board for some years past. Year by year local affairs of interest have been acted upon. The regulation of streets and sidewalks has been considered, the question of village improvement has been up, our public park, the question of water supply, of electric lights and minor matters and it is for you electors to say whether your village boards have treated the different matters and managed the village affairs as you would have your business conducted or as well as they would if they had been free from party motives. Is it not shameful to see in our little community in our trustees proceedings a public question treated as a party question, and the trustees ranging themselves in favor of or against it according as they are Democrats or Republicans. Subordinating their judgment as to whether the village would be benefited or not to the judgment of their Democratic or Republican leader as to how it would effect party. There have been exceptions and we have had good men as trustees, but you have seen very foolish actions in your village boards and you have known that party was the cause of it. You have known and said that you would not allow your business to be managed by the same counsels that guided the affairs of Fulton, and how much more important that a whole village should be well managed than the separate business of one elector of the village. How do you elect such boards? Do not your parties get together and say: "here is A. B. or C. he will run well. He represents a certain element of the party and is popular with a branch that we have got to do something for." Well, someone says: "We don't want that man, he would not make a good trustee. Ah! that cannot be helped; that element wants him for that place and if they do not have it they will kick." Is not that the way these party "slates" are made up. It is the votes that a man will poll with a certain element and not his fitness. Your boards have been elected and they meet and range themselves, one party against the other, and the victorious party deals out its offices to the men who elected them, not because of their fitness, but because of their political "in floo ence." Is not this so? Have your trustees sat down and honestly consulted with one another and conscientiously selected men to fill their offices because they believed the men best qualified to fill them? You know it is not, and you also know that the trustees who belong to the minority might just as well not act, for in practice their good counsel goes for naught, their good purposes drowned in a lost motion. They are simply in the wrong path for the time being. Now is not this shameful, and a blot and drawback to Fulton to have your president and trustees elected in this way and "run" the village just as the different elements of their party say they shall. Would it not be much better to get together and elect men for such positions in such a way that they would not be under any obligations to any party element or clique and untrameled in the exercise of their judgment on local affairs.

You electors well know that our affairs have been so conducted that there has been a public sneer thereat, so that it has become difficult to get our best citizens to consent to accept the position of trustee or president.

What we advise is that the electors of all parties meet and agree upon men for these offices of known integrity. Make your ticket and elect them. Men elected in that way would feel bound to respect your opinions and jointly serve their village instead of their party or friends and elected on an honest citizens' ticket, we do not think they would shirk their plain duty to you.

We are trying to lend you our aid to a public cause of benefit to this community. You electors meet, regardless of party and put this movement on foot, get your ticket in the field and we will aid you in any worthy course.

WHAT TRUE MERIT WILL DO.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has [illegible] world. It is without [illegible] and best remedy ever [illegible] and effectual [illegible] severest [illegible]

The Fulton [illegible] has [illegible] for a citizens' ticket at the coming charter election in that village, and claims that the government of the town hasn't been what it should have been in years past. The Patriot, on the other hand, argues that parties should make nominations as usual, but the Patriot is a organ, and desires to feed at the public crib be the crib large or small. It very naturally concludes that good government means Republican government, which it doesn't. Here in Phœnix, at least, it has been pretty thoroughly demonstrated that the government of a party is not satisfactory. Perhaps a government by citizens without any refard to party wouldn't suit any better, but it might be well enough to try it.—Phœnix Chronicle.

⁂

The idea of having a "citizens'" ticket composed of the best men from any and all parties to be supported at charter election is not a new one, but is a commendable one. The Fulton Times is booming this project and we learn that it is being seconded by many of the prominent men of Fulton. There is no good reason why partisanship should control village elections. It is a local matter and should be governed by local interests and not political ends. The Board of trustees serve without compensation and they should be such men that they may receive the honor and approval from all irrespective of parties.—Oswego Falls Observer.

⁂

Fulton, Feb. 22.

Editor of Times.

I have talked with a good many of the younger voters and some of the older ones and all with whom I have talked seem to think a citizens' ticket a good thing. I think the young men would come heartily to the support of a citizens' ticket and all who are in favor of progress.

Young Taxpayer.

A purgative medicine should possess tonic and curative, as well as cathartic properties. This combination of ingredients may be found in Ayer's Pills. They strengthen and stimulate the bowels, causing natural action.

LENTEN REGULATIONS.

Which Will Be Observed by the Faithful During the Season.

Rt. Rev. Bishop McNierney has issued the following regulations for Lent:

1. All the week-days of Lent, from Ash Wednesday to Easter Sunday, are fast days of precept, on one meal, with the allowance of a moderate collating in the evening.

2. All the faithful who have completed their twenty-first are, unless legitimately dispensed, bound to observe the fast of Lent.

3. The precept of fasting implies also that of abstinence from the use of flesh meat.

4. By authority of the holy see, the use of flesh meat is allowed in this diocese: (a) At the principal meal on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays of Lent, with the exception of Holy Thursday and the second and last Saturdays in Lent. (b) At any time, on Sunday (Sundays in Lent being, by general laws of the church, days of abstinence).

5. It is not allowed to use fish with flesh meat at the same meal, even on Sunday.

6. The church tolerates the custom, which has obtained in this country, of using eggs, milk, butter or cheese.

7. General usage has made it lawful to take in the morning some liquid, as tea, coffee or thin chocolate and a cracker or small piece of bread.

8. Necessity and custom have authorized the use of lard, instead of butter, in preparing fish, vegetables, etc.

9. The church excuses from the obligation of fasting (but not of abstinence from flesh meat, except in special cases or sickness or the like) the following cases of persons: First, the infirm; second, those whose duties are of an exhausting or laborious character; third, persons who are attaining their growth; fourth, women in pregnancy or nursing infants; fifth those who are enfeebled by old age.

10. Persons dispensed from the obligation of fasting on account of tender or advanced age, hard labor or ill-health, are not bound by the restriction of using meat only at one meal on the days on which its use is granted by dispensation.

11. The faithful are reminded that their fast should be sanctified by seclusion from the world and its amusements, by earnest prayer, by general almsgiving, by sorrow for sin and by serious preparation to celebrate, through a worthy reception of the sacrament, the great festival of Christ's resurection.

12. The paschal time extends from the first Sunday of Lent till Trinity Sunday.

MOTHERS READ THIS. Stone Ridge, N. Y., Van Deusen Bros.—Dear Sirs: Your Worm Confections have been invaluable to us. Our little boy, two years old, discharged over thirty worms in a few days, using only a few of your Worm Confections. I am glad to bear testimony to the value of Van Deusen's Worm Confections. Yours, Rev. J. McNair. Try them, 25c. a box.

Van Deusen Bros., Kingston, N. Y.

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by

10tf J. Cooley Tucker.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries Cheap is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.

24tf J. Cooley Tucker.

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the Novelty Custom Mill recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and [illegible]

[illegible] the U. S. Treasurer will [illegible] the Vice President pro tem. of the Senate [illegible] signed this week, the Commissioner of Patents will resign during the coming month, Mr. Mathews, the colored Commissioner of Deeds of the District of Columbia must resign, and with regard to some of these, at least, the country is resigned to their resignation. Last but not least, the Forty-Ninth Congress will resign at noon on the 4th of March. work remains to be done, several important appropriation bills have not only not been passed, but are only half digested in committee; but during the next five days of its life Congress will do in a hurried and imperfect manner the work which should have been done deliberately and carefully in the earlier days of the session. In addition to the appropriation bills, there are a number of important public and private measures which will be hurried through if possible. But with the vast number of bills occupying prominent places upon the calander, there is hardly time enough to pass the appropriation bills, and it is probable that Congress will hold several night sessions, and also a Sunday session.

In the Republican Senatorial caucus, held Thursday, it was stated with some positiveness that a special session of the Senate would be called immediately after the adjournment of Congress. It was said that the President had intimated to a leading Republican Senator that he would call a special session to act upon some treaties and confirm some important nominations.

There is much speculation as to what the President will do with the bill which passed the House some days since and the Senate Thursday, creating a new Cabinet office, the Department of Agriculture. The bill has been pending for some years, and once passed both houses but was vetoed by President Arthur. Mr. Hatch, chairman of the Agricultural Committee, and other friends of the measure who have talked with the President on the subject, say he will sign the bill.

In case he does, it seems to be well established that Mr. Hatch will desire to go into the Cabinet, and it is not improbable that the President will recognize him. Commissioner of Agriculture Coleman will also expect to be promoted. The agriculturists have very generally petitioned for the passage of the bill, and upon this it is agued that the President cannot, from a political point of view, afford to disapprove the bill.

The weather service of the United States Signal Service Bureau is to be transferred after July 1, 1887, to the Department of Agriculture.

The question of who will be Secretary of the Treasury is as unsettled as ever. According to the knowing ones Minister Pendleton and ex-Mayor Grace have about equal chances of being selected, while others are mentioned with equal frequency. It is positively asserted that the office has been offered to Representative Scott and to Speaker Carlisle, and that both declined it, the latter only last Sunday. Those who think that an outsider will be nominated hold that Mr. Fairchild stands no chance, because if the President had any idea of taking him into the Cabinet he would probably have been nominated before this, and at any rate the President would not have found it necessary to consider any other names in connection with the matter. Mr. Fairchild's friends on the other hand, are firm in the belief that he will be Mr. Manning's successor, and think that the President has not done so much considering and consulting in the matter as is represented, and that he will nominate his man before Congress adjourns.

Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, was on Saturday elected President pro tem. of the Senate, in place of Mr. Sherman, resigned. His election will reselt in in creasing his salary from $5,000 to $8,000 a year, in allowing him an additional private secretary, in affording him a great many little personal conveniences of this kind. He can and will retain his chairmanship of the District Committee, and his committee membership.

The Handsomest Lady in Fulton

Remarked the other day that she knew Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs was a superior remedy, as it stopped her cough instantly when others had no effect whatever. So to prove this and convince you of its merit and druggist will give you a sample bottle Free Large size 50c and $1.

Draper 34 First street, opposite the Clark house, is closing out all his crockery, lamps and plated ware below cost

The Cosmopolitan

The handsomest, most entertaining, low price, illustrated family magazine in the world. ($2.50 per year, with a $2.25 premium free.) Sixty-four beautifully printed pages in each number, filled with short stories, sketches, travels, adventures, bright and brief scientific and literary articles, by distinguished American and foreign writers, such as Julian Hawthorne, Harriet Prescott Spofford, George Parsons Lathrop, Louise Chandler Moulton, J. Macdonald Oxley, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, H. H. Boyesen, Catherine Owen, Rev. R. Heber Newton, Alphonse Daudet, Paul Heyse, Count Tolstoi, Th. Dostoivsky, William Westall and many others. Also entertaining JUVENILE and invaluable HOUSEHOLD departments. One or more illustrated articles and several full-page engravings in every number.

A Shannon Letter and Bill File or a Shannon Sheet-Music Binder Free to every Subscriber.

These premiums sell everywhere for $2.25 each. The File is the most perfect device ever invented for the preservation and classification (alphabetically and according to date) of all letters, bills, etc. Any paper can be referred to, taken out and put back without disturbing the others. With the binder one can insert or take out any piece of music without disturbing any other sheet. Get SAMPLE COPY at NEWS STANDS or send 20 Cents to publishers.

[illegible]

Schlicht & Field Co., Rochester, N.Y.

WANTED [illegible]

[illegible] citizens of [illegible] from all parts of the town to vote in [illegible] their favorite candidates in nomination.

The Democrats held their caucus in the opera house at 2 p. m. The gathering was called to order by M. L. Stewart and W. D. Patterson was made chairman. Robert Bradley and Marcus Onhan were chosen secretaries. The following were nominated by acclamation, except collector which on ballot resulted in the choice of Walter Bradley:

For Supervisor,
William B. Howard.
For Town Clerk,
William P. Osborn.
For Justice of the Peace,
Charles Owen.
For Assessor,
Charles G. Bacon.
For Highway Commissioner,
Delos Durfey.
For Overseers of the Poor,
Francis M. Wilson,
Jay M. Piper.
For Collector,
Walter Bradley.
For Game Constable,
Whitman T. Church.
For Constables,
Peter Conley,
Charles Wilkinson,
Andrew J. Clark,
Elmer Ingersoll,
Edward Jones.
For Inspectors of Election Dist. No. 1,
William C. Stephens,
Willis S. Nelson.
For Inspectors of Election Dist. No. 2,
Prentis Yeomans,
Lewis Sharp.
For Inspectors of Election Dist. No. 3,
Levi S. Candee,
Michael McDonald.

The Republican caucus was held in Summerville Hall, at 2 p. m., Saturday and was called to order by F. A. Gage. H. E. Nichols was made chairman, Fred Bennett and S. B. Mead, secretaries, Wm. Waugh and John H. Merton tellers. The chief struggle was for the offices of collector and commissioner of highways. For the former office Joseph LaPrairie and A. W. Stoneburg were the candidates. LaPrairie was nominated. Four candidates aspired for the nomination of Commissioner W. N. Osborne, Henry Owen, Peter LaMay and A. Z. Austin. After three ballots Osborne recieved the nomination. The following was the ticket selected:

For Supervisor,
Arvin Rice.
For Town Clerk,
Charles A. Miller.
For Justice of the Peace,
Louis H. Drake.
For Assessor,
Samuel Crombie.
For Highway Commissioner,
William N. Osborne.
For Overseers of the Poor,
Henry S. Gardner,
Albert A. Rowlee.
For Collector,
Joseph LaPrairie.
For Game Constable,
Ambrose N. Parmiter.
For Constables,
Andrew W. Stoneburg,
Michael Conley,
Cornelius S. Murphy,
William H. Bowen,
John Ireland.
For Inspectors of Election Dist. No. 1,
Thomas D. Lewis,
Leman B. Babcock.
For Inspectors of Election Dist. No. 2,
John H. Merton,
Volkert Vant.
For Inspectors of Election Dist. No. 3,
Esquire Rowlee,
Elizur M. Baldwin.

The Prohibition caucus was held on the Saturday previous. W. H. Blakeman chirman of the town committee called the meeting to order. Dr. W. L. Woodbury was elected chairman and Charles S. Johnson secretary. The following ticket was put in nomination:

For Supervisor,
Robert B. McCully.
For Town Clerk,
Silas A. Reeves.
For Justice of the Peace,
Horace C. Hitchcock.
For Assessor,
John J. Coit.
For Commissioner of Highways,
Ovid V. Taft.
For Overseers of the Poor,
Joel P. Streeter,
Asa B. Sanford.
For Collector,
Edward Breed.
For Game Constable,
Norval J. Taft.
For Constables,
Edward Breed,
Richard H. Bell,
Henry D. Wells,
David Calkins,
C. H. Craver.
For Inspector of Elections Dist. No. 1,
William L. Woodbury,
Samuel Green.
For Inspectors of Election Dist. No. 2,
Bradford P. Sanford,
Austin Wheeler.
For Inspectors of Election Dist. No. 3,
Milton C. Graves,
Joseph W. Huie.

A temperance caucus was held in the Good Templars' hall at 1 p. m., Saturday with William Waugh as chairman and E. R. Redhead, secretary. William H. Henderson was nominated as excise commissioner to run as the non license candidate against James Waugh, the saloon keepers candidate.

At a Prohibition caucus held in Oswego Falls Saturday Feb. 19. The following persons were nominated for the several offices of the town of Granby; Supervisor, Whipple A. Darling; town clerk, Charles S. Eggleston; justice of the peace, Thomas Coles, assessor, Samuel L. Braga; overseer of the poor, Nathan P. DuMass; com. of highways, David M. Cox; collector, Joseph Merritt; constables, Wm. Kerr, German Hill, Hiram J. Parks, Charles Fleming, Joseph Merritt; game constable, Rush Fitch; inspectors of election, 1st dist., Ichabod Fitch, Isaac A. Holmes; 2nd dist. Fred Palmer, Asa Chapman.

The Republicans met in Johnston's hall on Saturday last and nominated the following ticket: Supervisor, Charles H. Dexter; town clerk, Frank Switzer; justice of the peace, John H. Summerville; assessor, full term, Daniel Shattuck, vacancy Fred D. Palmer; overseer of the poor, [illegible]; commissioner of highways, [illegible]; collector, [illegible] [illegible] Election Dist. No. 2, [illegible], Edwin F. Palmer, [illegible] Leman Carvey.

We recommend Carter's Little Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the cases for which Carter's Iron Pills are especially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

Draper has moved all damaged goods from Oneida street to 34 First street where bargains at ½ actual prices can be had as he has such a large stock of these goods and is bound to close them all out at once, (not at auction) but at private sale which is less noisy and the quickest way. Money will be refunded if any goods are not as they are sold for at No. 34 First St., opposite Clark House.

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

The "4&1" is the finest cigar in Oswego Co. Drop into Williams' drug store and try one. 40tf

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

Toledo, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

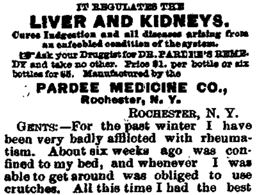
Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours truly,
L. L. Gorsuch, M. D.
Office, 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Prop.,
Toledo, O.

☞Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.



DR. PARDEE'S REMEDY,

(The Only Reliable Blood Purifier.)

A SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM,

Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Neuralgia, Ring Worm And all other Skin and Blood Diseases.

IT REGULATES THE LIVER AND KIDNEYS.

Cures Indigestion and all diseases arising from an enfeebled condition of the system.

☞Ask your Druggist for DR. PARDEE'S REMEDY and take no other. Price $1. per bottle or six bottles for $5. Manufactured by the

PARDEE MEDICINE CO.,
Rochester, N. Y.

Rochester, N. Y.

Gents:—For the past winter I have been very badly afflicted with rheumatism. About six weeks ago was confined to my bed, and whenever I was able to get around was obliged to use crutches. All this time I had the best medical attendance.

After one week's use of Dr. Pardee's Remedy, I was able to walk with a cane. I continued its use and can now move around without assistance of any kind, and am better in health than I have been for years. It has effected a permanent cure and I take pleasure in recommending it.

C. R. Finnegan.

Supt. Fire Alarm Telegraph. City Building, Front Street.

Send for pamphlet to Pardee Medicine Co.

NEW YORK MARKET REPORT.

By Williams & Co., Produce Commission Merchants, 671 Hudson street and 24 Ninth Avenue.

	Butter—Market dull.
Creamery,	Western	25 @ 26
	Elgin	28
	Imitation	17 @ 20
Dairy	Eastern ½ ferkin tubs	19 @ 21
"	Welsh	15 @ 18
"	Dairies Entire	19 @ 20
"	Firkins	18 @ 20
Rolls	Firsts	18
	Seconds	12 @ 16
	Cheese—Market dull.
	New York Cheddar	11¾
	New York Part Skims	10¼ @ 11¼
	Penn Skims	3 @ 3¾
	Eggs—Market weak.
	Fresh Eastern firsts	16½
	Western fresh	16¼ @ 16½
	Southern	15½ @ 16
	Poultry—Market firm.
Live	Fowls State and Western	11
	Ducks per pair	50 @ 70
	Turkeys	11
Dressed	Turkeys	11 @ 11½
	Chickens	12 @ 13
	Ducks	12 @ 14
	Potatoes—Market quiet.
	Burbanks per 180 lbs	150 @ 162
	Peerless	137 @ 150
	Hebron	150 @ 162
	Rose	200
	Hay—Market firm.
	Timothy prime per 100 lbs	90 @ 95
	No. 1	75 @ 85
	No. 2	70 @ 75
	Ordinary	55 @ 60
	Clover mixed	65 @ 70
	Clover	50 @ 55
	Straw.
	Rye No. 1	65
	" No. 2	50 @ 55
	Oat	[illegible]
	Wheat	40 @ 45
	Meats and Stock.
	Live hogs	5 @ [illegible]

[illegible] for several days [illegible] his death having been reported at two different times. Although he still lives, there seems to be but little hope of his recovery from what is to-day one of the most prevalent, dangerous and difficult diseases to control known to the medical profession. It is no respecter of persons, affecting alike both sexes, all classes and all ages.

General John A. Logan's sad and sudden death was caused by rheumatism. President Cleveland has been for weeks and is still suffering with this terrible disease, and Dr. O'Reilly, the attending physician, says that no medical skill has ever been able to confine it to one portion of the body.

Hon. James G. Blaine is also badly afflicted with rheumatism, and many other of the leading men of this country are like sufferers from this terrible disease, which every year shows a rapid increase in the number of its victims.

Until quite recently the public generally do not seem to have understood the true cause of rheumatism and neuralgia. That rheumatism is caused by an impoverished condition of, and an excess of uric or lithic acid in the blood, there can be no doubt. When the question is asked, "Can rheumatism or neuralgia be cured?" the almost universal answer is "No," and this seems to have been the experience of nearly every practitioner in the land. That it is possible to cure these diseases has been satisfactorily demonstrated by Dr. Pardee in thousands of cases, but never by outward applications nor by any of the remedies usually prescribed for this purpose. For years Dr. Pardee devoted his entire time to the study and treatment of these, and various other forms of blood diseases, and the success which has attended his efforts and research has proven a just reward for his years of toil. Of fifty cases of rheumatism and neuralgia, not one but that has yielded to the curative properties of Dr. Pardee's Remedy. It goes to the very root or seat of the disease, doing its work of cleansing and purifying from the first dose. It restores to healthy action the diseased liver and kidneys, and gives new life and vigor to the sufferer. It checks at once the spread of the disease, and all danger of its affecting the heart or brain is removed, where the remedy is taken as directed; and if taken a sufficient length of time to rid the blood of the poisonous acids which it contains, a permanent cure is assured.

The neglect of proper treatment, or a knowledge of how to treat these diseases in their first stages, is often the cause of much trouble, and frequently imperils the life of the patient. These troubles many times show themselves first with a dull pain in the limb, arm, or shoulder, or an acute pain in the back of the neck, head, or face; caused by an accumulation in the viens of poisonous matter, or urate of lime, which impedes the circulation. As soon as these symptoms are felt, Dr. Pardee's Remedy should be prescribed at once, for at this stage of the disease a few doses will entirely relieve and cure; but if the disease is of long standing and has become seated or chronic, and the joints stiff and enlarged, the use of the remedy should be continued for several months, until every trace of the disease is eradicated from the blood or system. Many expect to be cured of rheumatism of years standing with but a few doses of medicine, or a bottle or two at most. This is a mistaken idea. No case of long standing ever was, or ever will be, cured without a thorough course of treatment.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 23, 1887.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and a full board.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

The President and Village Attorney, to whom the matter of the execution of a contract between the Thomson-Houston Electric Co., and the village was referred, presented an agreement and bond duly executed. The same was accepted by the board and ordered filed.

The Finance Committee reported the following bills correct and the Clerk was directed to draw orders in payment.

D. C. Drapar, lamp supplies,	$4.19
Snow & Loomis, tools per J. N. Clark,	3.50
Geo. F. Sharpe, highway work,	9.90
John Cavanaugh, collecting and storing oil lamps,	2.00
J. J. Wright, bill glass, street oil,	8.32
Geo. F. Sharp, highway work,	25.75

R. E. Phillips came before the board and asked permission to take two of the oil lamps and posts and place them in the yard of the M. E. Church. On motion the request was granted with the understanding that the same shall be returned when called for by the board, and to be in as good condition as when taken.

The Thomson-Houston Electric Co. presented the following communication which was read and on motion was laid on the table.

Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 23d, 1887.

To the Honorable President and Board of Trustees:

Gentlemen:—We are not satisfied with the appearance of the poles and wires about the business portion of the village, bounded by First, Second, Oneida and Cayuga streets, and for its improvement we are ready to join the various other Electric Light, Telephone and Telegraph Companies, in replacing the present poles with the necessary number of dressed and painted spars of sufficient size to accommodate all wires, such a proportion of expense to be borne by each as your board may suggest.

Respectfully submitted,
Thomson-Houston Electric Co.
By C. H. Philbrook, Agent.

On motion of Trustee Pardee it was

Resolved, That sealed proposals be received from any and all electric light companies that may wish to bid, for lighting the the village of Fulton for one year from the 19th day of April next with 45 and another proposal for 50 arc lights of 2,000 nominal candle power each, every night in the year from twilight until midnight. Such proposals to be submitted to the board at a meeting to be held Wednesday evening, March 9th, 1878.

Resolved, That the President be instructed to confer with the officers of the Fulton Water Works Company, and ascertain the lowest rate per hydrant they will furnish the same for one year from the date of a contract that may be made, and to report at a meeting of this board to be held on Monday evening next.

On motion the Board adjourned to Monday next at 7½ p. m.

M. C. Highriter, Clerk.

Advice to Mothers.—Are you disturbed a night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup." 51y1

WORKING CLASSES ATTENTION We are now prepared to furnish all classes with employment at home, the whole of the time, or their spare moments. Business new, light and profitable. Persons of either sex easily earn from 50 cents to $5.00 per evening and a proportional sum by devoting all their time to the business. Boys and girls earn nearly as much as men. That all who see this may send their address and test the business, we make this offer. To such as are not well pleased we will send one dollar to pay for the trouble of writing. Full particulars and outfit free. Address George Stinson & Co., Portland, Me. 38y1

CATARRH SAMPLE TREATMENT FREE We mail enough to convince. B. S. Lauderbach & Co., 773 Broad st. Newark, N. J.

AGENTS WANTED (Samples FREE) for Dr. Scott's beautiful Electric Corsets, Brushes, Belts etc. No risk, quick sales. Territory given, satisfaction guaranteed. Dr. Scott, 842 Broadway, N. Y.

LANDS [illegible] SEND FOR Publications, with Maps, describing Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon, the Free Government and Low Priced Railroad Lands in the Northern Pacific Country. THE BEST AGRICULTURAL, GRAZING AND TIMBER LANDS [illegible]

Mrs. [illegible] paid the penalty [illegible] at 11:58 a. m., Monday for the murder of her husband. Her last night on earth was passed in a wakeful manner. In the morning she had a long conversation with her spiritual advisor, Rev. Mr. Powell. During the forenoon, she made affidavit to the effect that her daughter Mary, who is now confined in the Onondaga Penitentiary had nothing to do with the murder. The ordeal of dressing for the gallows was begun at 10:45 o'clock. Mrs. Druse was entirely upset and a resort to stimulants was made. At 11:45 the death warrant was read by Sheriff Cook. It lasted about eight minutes. The march to the gallows was then taken up, the condemned woman leaning on the arm of Rev. Mr. Powell. When the scaffold was reached a prayer was offered by Mr. Powell, after which her arms and legs were pinioned. As the black cap was drawn over the her head and she felt the rope around her neck, she moaned and screamed. The sheriff gave the signal the lever was sprung and the body shot into the air. In fifteen minutes all was over, the pulse having ceased to beat at 13:07. When the body was taken down it was found that the neck was broken. Mr. Powell took charge of the remains. They were placed in the vault at the Herkimer cemetery.

THE CRIME.

Few cases in criminal annals have presented more harrowing details than the murder of William Druse by his wife. It was a most brutal crime. On the night of December 18, 1884, the Druse house near Little Lakes, in the town of Warren, Herkimer county, was occupied by Druse, his wife, daughter and son, and Frank Gates, Druse's nephew. Druse arose and went to work about the place. Meanwhile breakfast was prepared. Druse did not come in and the meal was eaten without waiting for him. When he did appear he had trouble with his wife about some trifling family affair, and one of the bitter quarrels that were of daily occurrance in the household ensued. Exasperated beyond measure, Mrs. Druse, while her husband ate his breakfast, conceived a plan to kill him. According to the confession of Frank Gates and his testimony on the trial, Mrs. Druse sent the two boys into the yard soon after the quarrel began. They had been out but a few minutes when a noise was heard, Gates thought it sounded like a chair falling, while Georgie Druse, the eleven-year-old son thought it sounded like pistol shots. The boys have always differed on this point, and each holds to his original statement to this day. The difference can probably be explained by the fact that Georgie saw the pistol in his mother's possession before he left the house, while the Gates boy knew nothing of it. Soon after the noise was heard, Mrs. Druse appeared at the door and called the boys. As soon as they got inside the door she handed the Gates boy a revolver and told him to shoot Druse, threatening to kill the boy if he did not obey. Druse was sitting in a chair with his head resting on his chest, and his back to the boys. A rope in the hands of his daughter Mary was around his neck. The Gates boy fired at him and then Mrs. Druse took the revolver and fired. Then Mary pulled her father off the chair to the floor, in front of the stove. Then she took the revolver and attempted to remove the shells of the cartridges that had been fired, and in doing so the revolver went off. Then Mrs. Druse took an axe, and chopped her husband's head off, wrapped it in a newspaper and carried it into the parlor. Before cutting off the head she struck him with the axe, and he said "O, Roxy, don't!" But this didn't stop her. All this time Mary Druse stood calmly by. Then Mrs. Druse sent the boys up stairs for a straw tick. They brought it down and helped her put Druse's body in it, and carried it into the parlor. The calmness and self possession of Mrs. Druse and Mary at this point are wonderful. A rousing fire was built in the parlor stove, and after chopping and cutting the body up, they put it into the stove and it burned all day and most of the night. With it was burned an old blue army overcoat which Druse always wore. The next morning it was found that one of the thigh bones had not been entirely consumed, and it was put into the kitchen stove and the job finished. Then the ashes from the parlor stove were taken and thrown in a swamp about a mile from the house. The axe, revolver and knife used in the butchery were thrown into Weatherbee's pond, as they drove home one day from Richfield Springs. They were found after Gates had made his confession. All that the Gates boy said in his confession was corroborated by George Druse.

Suspicion was allayed for nearly a month by announcing that Druse had disappeared, and by the apparently vigorous and earnest efforts made by the family to find him. Then rumors began to spread that all was not as it should be in the Druse household. Whispered suspicion gradually changed to open accusations, and then the boy Gates, who was only fourteen years old, confessed the crime, declaring that Mrs. Druse had forced him to fire at his uncle under threats that she would kill him if he did not. The whole family was arrested and brought to trial. Mary Druse, the daughter, who was twenty years old, confessed her share in the murder, was sentenced to imprisonment for life, and is now serving out her punishment in the Onondaga Penitentary. The boys were discharged. Mrs. Druse was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged in November, 1885, the jury apparently having no sympathy for her because of the horrible details of the crime. Appeals were made and the execution was delayed. On July 1, 1886, the General term having rendered a decision adverse to her appeal, she was resentenced to be hanged on August 19. Further postponement was secured, and finally, on November 7, Judge Williams re-sentenced her to hang on Wednesday, December 29.

Governor Hill granted a respite until February 25, to give the Legislature time to act on the law relating to capital punishment [illegible]

[illegible] bowels are constipated, or if [illegible] fails to perform its functions properly, use Ayer's Pills. They are invaluable.

For some years I was a victim to Liver Complaint, in consequence of which I suffered from General Debility and Indigestion. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills restored me to perfect health.—W. E. Brightney, Henderson, W. Va.

For years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else, to my bowels. These Pills are mild in action, and do their work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect, in cases of Rheumatism, Kidney Trouble, and Dyspepsia. —G. F. Miller, Attleborough, Mass.

Regulate

Ayer's Pills cured me of Stomach and Liver troubles, from which I had suffered for years. I consider them the best pills made, and would not be without them.—Morris Gates, Downsville, N. Y.

I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice, and was so dangerously ill that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor.—John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebraska.

Last spring I suffered greatly from a troublesome humor on my side. In spite of every effort to cure this eruption, it increased until the flesh became entirely raw. I was troubled, at the same time, with Indigestion, and distressing pains in

The Bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested properly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than one month, I was cured. —Samuel D. White, Atlanta, Ga.

I have long used Ayer's Pills, in my family, and believe them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Darden, Miss.

My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, thinking I would call a doctor if the disease became any worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored. —Theodore Esling, Richmond, Va.

Ayer's Pills,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Dealers in Medicine.

HAVE YOU

never felt strangely tired, restless or uneasy? Have you had pains shooting through the head, along the limbs or around the back? Have you experienced strange sensations for which you could not account? And do you know that all these things arise from diseased kidneys, which, unless promptly cured will run into Bright's disease and end in Death? The Kidneys are the seat of nine-tenths of all the diseases of to-day!!

The F. E. C. Kidney Remedy is an absolute cure for these troubles, and is guaranteed by the druggists who sell it. It is especially valuable for Female Troubles. Every mother, every wife, every nervous and overworked woman, whose life is made miserable by sufferings peculiar to her sex, should know that of all the medicines ever sold, the F. E. C. is the first and only Remedy that guarantees relief or refunds the money. It is effectual, as thousands of testimonials will prove.

Sold by all Dealers everywhere.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

—FOR THE—

HOLIDAY SEASON!

SNOW & LOOMIS,

have a fine assortment of

POCKET CUTLERY,
CARVERS, SKATES,
SCISSORS and ROBES.
—Also a Novelty in—
FUR RUGS.

AGENTS WANTED (samples free) for Dr. Scott's beautiful Electric Corsets, Brushes, Belts, Etc. No risk, quick sales. Territory given, satisfaction guaranteed. Dr. Scott, 841 Broadway, N. Y.

EUREKA FROST CURE.

For Frozen Feet, Ears, Nose, and Chilblains.

Made from Agaricus, a moss growing in the frigid regions of the north. A sure Cure. By mail 50c.

Eureka Med. Co.
Sharon, Pa.

BARGAINS IN REAL ESTATE.

Below will be found a partial list of the Farms, Houses and Lots and other property I offer for sale for cash or its equivalent:

Farm	acres	from	to	per acre
"	25	" $175	"	$125
"	100	" 65	"	45
"	45	" 100	"	85
"	210	" 40	"	30

House and lot	street	per cent	below value
" " "	Oneida	20	"
" " "	Seneca	20	"
" " "	Sixth	20	"
" " "	Erie	20	"
" " "	Cayuga	10	"
" " "	[illegible]	10	"
" " "	Oswego City	[illegible]	"

[illegible]

[illegible]

The 8:13 a. m., and 5:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.
Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.
A. H. Schwarz, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:05 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	7:50 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE,"

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	3:31	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19 p. m.	3:39	6:29

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. F. A. Gage has been in New York for the past week.

E. C. Fralick visited Phœnix, his old home, last week.

C. S. Lewis of Clevland O. is spending a few days in town.

Supt. Maertens of the R. & O. Mills arrived in town Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Miller of Oakland, Cal. are the guests of James Hill.

H. C. Burdick of Canastota, Madison county, was in town a few days last week.

Messrs. F. D. VanWagenen and J. R. Fairgrieve are spending a few days in Washington, D. C.

The Good Templars of Pennellville will give a public entertainment at their hall next Saturday evening.

Mrs. R. E. Phillips and Mrs. Julia A. Broadwell returned last week from their visit to Toledo Ohio.

Frank Sweet, now employed in New Jersey, was in town last week attending the funeral of his son-in-law, Newell Stowell.

Com. A. P. Osborne and George Fassell have returned from the state G. A. R. Encampment at Albany. A. P. Chase was appointed the delegate to the National Encampment to be held in St. Louis.

Mrs. S. S. Morrill, Miss Mary Johnson, Miss Maria Chase, Miss Clara and Arthur Chase, Mrs. W. C. Stephens, Mrs. Harroun, S. Parmilee and C. H. Gardner are among the Fulton excursionists that went to Washington yesterday.

The line of 5 Button Ladies' Kid Gloves in Tan shades is not quite closed. The sale will continue until Saturday.
F. E. BACON.

The Outlook at Oswego Falls.

The outlook for the growth of Oswego Galls the coming season was never better. Already several builders have contracted to build residences and several monied men are strongly contemplating building business blocks. A large hotel, to be built near the depot is talked of and New York parties are talking of fitting up a trotting course across from the fair ground. There are several furniture dealers from out of town who are anxious to open business here, and several clothiers have an eye this way. Builders are encouraged with the success they have met with in renting stores, and we may look for a rapid growth of our prosperous village in the year to come.—Observer.

5c. 16 pages Band music paper.
Jones' Music Store.

Now is the time to buy a Shawl at your own price. Only a few left. C. E. SACKETT.

Scranton Coal is conceded to be the best for domestic use. We will give you better prices than any other dealers in town. SCHENCK & FOSTER.

A NEW ARTICLE.

One of the largest Dry Goods houses in the U.S., have made us the selling agents for Fulton, of the celebrated
ARNHEIM SUITINGS.
We can show 10 ps. to-day.
F. E. BACON.

T. D. Lewis continues to sell stove and chestnut coal delivered, at $4.65 per ton. Notwithstanding the raise to $5.00 by other dealers. 39tf

F. M. Darrow will make cabinet photographs at $3.50 per doz. No change in quality of material or work. Patriot block, cor. of Second and Oneida streets, Fulton, N. Y. 41w3.

Draper is closing out his large stock gloves and mittens at half their cost.

AUCTION SALE.

The undersigned will sell at public auction at farm situated at Ira one mile north of Martville on the Southern Central R. R. on Tuesday March 8th. This will be a very important sale as a large amount of live stock, farming utensils and farm produce will be sold. This includes horses and colts, breeding mares, oxen, grade bulls, grade ewes and lambs, pigs, 700 bushels of oats, 200 bushels of rye, a quantity of seed, barley and Timothy hay. Terms, under $10 cash, all sums over, approved notes. Should the day of sale be stormy, the sale will take place on the day following. A Free lunch and good time.
CHARLES VAN DUSER,
Martville, N. Y,

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t18

CLIMB THE STAIRS!
It will pay you, and get first class work at
[illegible] GALLERY!
[illegible]

[illegible] of the [illegible] About Town.

There was a very large vote polled at the town meetings both in this town and in Granby, weather being very fine yesterday. The contest centered mostly on supervisors, overseers of the poor, and collectors, which were elected by the Democrats by majorities ranging from 5 to 177. There were 1,479 votes cast against 1,450 last year and was the largest polled for a long time in either town. Much hard work and "cutting" on both sides. The license excise commissioner in both towns were elected by large majorities. Following is the ticket elected:

VOLNEY.

SUPERVISOR.

Rice	683
Howard	724
McCully	72

Howard's majority, 41.

TOWN CLERK.

Miller	729
Osborn	668
Reeves	81

Miller's Majority, 61.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

Drake	743
Owen	647
Hitchcock	88

Drake's majority, 96.

ASSESSOR.

Crombie	741
Bacon	647
Coit	88

Crombie's majority, 94.

OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.

Gardner	691
Wilson	696
Streeter	82

Wilson's majority, 5

Rowlee	710
Piper	687
Sanford	84

Rowlee's majority, 23.

COLLECTOR.

LaPrarie	616
Bradley	777
Breed	77

Bradley's majority, 161.

COMMISSIONER OF HIGHWAYS.

Osborne	712
Durfey	677
Taft	80

Osborne's majority, 35.

The Constables elected are Andrew W. Stoneburg, Charles Wilkinson, Cornelius S. Murphy, Wm. H. Bowen and John Ireland. Ambrose N. Parmiter was elected Game Constable.

Thomas D. Lewis and Leman B. Babcock were elected inspectors in the first district, John H. Merton and Volkert Vant in the second district and Esquire Rowlee and Elizur M. Baldwin in the third.

GRANBY.

SUPERVISOR.

Dexter	449
Thompson	469
Darling	41

Thompson's majority, 20.

TOWN CLERK.

Switzer	463
Sullivan	447
Eggleston	46

Switzer's majority, 16.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

Summerville	454
Ballard	449
Coles	47

Summerville's majority, 5

ASSESSOR (full term)

Shattuck	435
Stoddard	455
Braga	44

Stoddard's majority, 20.

ASSESSOR (to fill vacency.)

Palmer	456
Teil	454

Palmer's majority, 2.

OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.

Fort	416
Ingamells	593
DuMas	48

Ingamells' majority, 177.

COLLECTOR

Smith	39
Lynch	51
Merritt	48

Lynch's majority, 121.

COMMISIONer OF HIGHWAYS.

Stewart	481
Morris	427
Cox	45

Stewart's majority, 54.

The following were elected Constables: Thomas Costello, Frank Cornell, Jay Fuller, George A. Fuller and Willard Gilbert. Game Constable, John Aegan.

INSPECTORS.

Dist. No. 1—Daniel C. Case, Bryan Crahan.

Dist. No. 2—Edwin F. Palmer, Nathanial Stewart.

A line of choice new Dress Goods at 25cts. a yard opened at F. E. BACON'S.

Mr. Raglier's Address.

In spite hf the very inclement weather a good number attended services at the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening to listen to the address of Mr. Charles Raglier, who is now pursuing a course of study at the Auburn Theological Seminary. Mr. Raglier is a Hindoo, small of statue, and of swarthy hue. He has acquired an excellent knowledge of our language and can use it well, but his quick utterance rendered it a little difficult for his hearers to understand all his points.

He was dressed in the national dress, that used by his class of Hindoos on festival days, consisting of a red silk turban, a dark velvet sack coat, a bright colored sash passing from his right shoulder to his left side, white pants and light colored shoes. He stated that the habits and costumes of his people divided them into four classes, each of which were distinct from the other in manner of living, having no affinity for each other. The barbarity that has existed in the past among the Hindoos from their religious belief, some of which still prevail were illustrated among which might be mentioned destruction of female babes, the compulsory marriage of females before they had attained the age of twelve years and the degrading widows of even the [illegible] of life after the death of their husbands. Mr. Raglier exhibited [illegible]

500 Pairs Boots Shoes and Slippers. Consisting of broken and Single pair lots, and Wool Lined Goods. Above goods will be offered until closed out. At A. E. NETTLETON'S.

Remember it is unlawful to catch brook trout until May 1.

Chas. Brenning has rented his house to Mrs. Carroll and moved to Buffalo.

Dr. W. A. Hall has opened an office at No. 20, Fourth street, Minneapolis, Minn.

The Oswego Falls reading circle met last Friday evening at the home of M. F. Stephens.

Otto Scholtz will have a large supply of the Saturday Globe, containing a full account of Mrs. Druse's hanging on sale at his barber shop.

An Algebra was found on the street and brought to this office Monday. The owner can have the same by calling at this office and paying for local.

The Free Will Baptist of Oswego county will hold a quarterly meeting at Hastings, comencing on Friday evening of this week and continuing over Sunday.

The Foster Brothers Knife Works were closed on last Wednesday afternoon to enable the employes to attend the funeral of the late Nowell Stowell.

Waugh's paper mill is to be lighted by electricity, a contract having been made with the Thomson Houston Electric company for a dozen incandescent lights.

The Frontier City Lodge F. & A. M. of Oswego went by special train to Phœnix last Thursday evening, a number of Fulton masons accompanied them. The third degree was worked and a grand supper enjoyed.

The next complete and nicest piece of dental work that probably ever has been accomplished in this village is that just completed by Dr. I. C. Curtis for Mr. P. F. Conger. Ten teeth were completely covered with gold, making the set as firm and solid as the original set ever was. It was truly an artistic piece of workmanship.

A goodly number of the friends and neighbors of Charles Foster made up a surprise party and visited him at his residence, corner of Fourth and Seneca streets, last Monday evening. The occasion was Mr. Foster's 81st birthday. At this advanced age he is enjoying excellent health. A good time was had and all departed wishing him many returns of his anniversary.

Hannibal Centre.

Miss Sue Knowlton is visiting friends in Moravia.

The funeral of Mr. Chauncey Williamson was held at the church at Hannibal Centre Thursday, Rev. Abbott officiating.

Mr. Brinton Gifford died at his residence Wednesday of last week. The funeral was held at the house Friday, Rev. R. A. Burdick officiating.

Dr. Cooley had a valuable colt kicked by another horse and its leg broken one day last week.

Miss Jennie Rowlee is spending her vacation at home.

Mr. Geo. Pooler sold his tobacco last week. Consideration, 10 cts,

Hattie Halstead is very sick, not being expected to live. Dr. Drury of Hannibal attends her.

Gilberts Mills

Mr. A. T. Mason was quite sick last week with pleurisy.

Warmi son of Grose Hamlin is quite sick.

Mrs. Rutn Sanford is visiting here. She is quite smart for so old a lady.

Almon Mason was at Fulton on business last Saturday. It was a very stormy day for so aged a man to get out. He will be 92 in June.

There was great excitement about town meeting as a good many of our neighbors were after office.

A blacksmith from Pennellville and a woodworker have hired Capt. Cook's shop and will soon be on hand to repair and make wagons and sleighs in the vicinity.

It is rumored that Mrs. Crouch has sold her place here to a man from Phœnix.

MAGAZINES FOR MARCH.

Among the interesting articles in the Atlantic Monthly is Dr. Holmes' account of his visit abroad entitled "Our Hundred days in Europe." His graphic pictures will be continned. The serial stories, "Charles Patoff" and "The Second Son" are continued and are of absorbing interest. This monthly epitome of all that is brightest and best continues to hold first rank in magazine literature.

THE CENTURY FOR MARCH

Opens with the sweet Acadian story "Grande Hointe" by Geo. W. Cable whose story in January and February Century entitled "Carancro," attracted so much attention. The history of the life of Abraham Lincoln is given for some fifteen years during a most interesting period and embracing the movement for slavery extension. Ceapters XII-XIV of "The Hundredth Man" by Frank Stocton are given. The illustrations for the month have been seldom if ever equalled reaching their full height in "Composite Photography." There are some thirty separate articles including Topics of the Time.

Our variety of Linen Laces and the prices given is something remarkable for Fulton.
F. E. BACON.

Why pay more for your coal when SCHENCK & FOSTER offer you a better price than any other dealer in town.

New Carpets! Carpets!
We have our New Spring Patterns in Carpeting, which we think are very choice. Our variety is excellent.
F. E. BACON.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

New Planing Mill.

Having rented the Mason Planing Mill I am now prepared to do all kinds of Planing, Matching, Scroll Sawing, on short notice. Can also furnish Door and Window Frames, Sash, Doors, Blinds, Mouldings and Brackets.
41tf. GEO. J. EMERY.

For 5 Days!
A 5 Button Ladies' Kid Glove, [illegible]
[illegible] BACON.

OBITUARY.

Death of S. N. Kenyon.

The death of Sands Niles Kenyon, which occurred at his residence in Fulton on Thursday, the 24 instant, brought to a close a long and useful life, and took from our midst a most eminent and highly honored citizen. His loss will be keenly felt not only in this comunity but throughout Central New York where he has so long been a prominent figure.

Mr. Kenyon was born near Newport, R. I., in 1806 and settled in Fulton in 1830. Coming from a sturdy New England ancestry he inherited a splendid constitution and this supplemented by a liberal education, well fitted him for the active and responsible duties which life had in store for him. There was also implanted in his nature in the fullest measure, the qualities which constitute a strong and noble character which through life distinguished him as a man of resolute will, a zealous supporter of right and an unflinching foe of wrong.

For more than a half century he has been closely identified with the material growth and prosperity of this section of the State. An earnest advocate of the enlargement of the Erie canal in 1838, he took an active part in the work as soon as it was determined upon by the State.

He was one of the founders of the Salt Springs Bank of Syracuse and at an early day was largely interested in the salt manufacturing enterprises of that city. In 1852 he bought the charter of the Bank of Ogdensburg, and removed the bank to Fulton and conducted the business for about two years as a private banker. In 1854 under this charter he organized the Citizen's Bank of Fulton, and thus to him is due the credit of organizing the first bank in this village. He was the first president of the bank, and under his wise and skillful management, it safely weathered the financial storm of 1857 and took rank with the sound and successful banking institutions of Central New York. He resigned the position of president of the bank in 1860 and devoted his energies to the care of his private estate and to the promotion of the commercial and manufacturing interests of Fulton.

In 1870 he was chiefly instrumental in organizing the Fulton Savings Bank. He was made its first president and continued to act in that capacity, without compensation until within a few days of his death, when he resigned on account of his feeble and declining health.

His good works were many and in the fullness of years he is called hence leaving a name that must always be a proud heritage to his family and friends and an example to be emulated by the rising generation.

In social life he was the centre of a large circle of warm and admiring friends; a gentleman of the old school, his manners were courtly and to this was added a kindly genial good nature. He leaves a wife and eight children to whom his loss is indeed irreparable

His memory will long be cherished by the people of this community in administration of his sterling integrity and worth, and in grateful acknowledgement of his many good deeds, and the deepest sympathy will go out from every heart to his immediate family for the loss of an affectionate husband, a tender and devoted father.

Zenual Merriam died at his home on Second street last Saturday evening, aged 61 years. Funeral services are to held at the house this afternoon, the Rev. W. Dempster Chase officiating. Mr. Merriam leaves a wife and three children.

Mrs. Ann Printy aged 70 years was found dead in her bed at her home on Hubbard street last Monday morning. She had been dead three or four hours when discovered. The remains were taken to the home of Mr. John White yesterday. Interment was made in the Catholic Cemetery to-day.

Carrie May, infant child of George Howard died last Sunday morning, aged three months. The mother died when the child was about three days old.

Blanche Slauson, infant daughter of Preston and Maria Slauson, died March 1st, aged eight days.

Special Meeting.

A special meeting of the Board of Trustees was held last Monday evening. It was decided to give taxpayers the privilege of voting upon the question of water works at a time and place here. after to be designated. The following is the proposition of the Water Works Co. to the village of Fulton:

TO THE HONORABLE, THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF FULTON.

We hereby offer to supply the village of Fulton with water for fire purposes through the present hydrants and for public purposes as has been supplied since the first day of January last for fifty (50) dollars per hydrant per year commencing from the first day of January, 1887, and we make this proposition upon the following considerations among others:

First. That if our water works system in Fulton is of no benefit to the village for fire protection or for public purposes then the village should pay nothing for it, but that if the same is of benefit to the village then the village should pay for it what the same is fairly worth—a fair and reasonable price.

Second. That the difference between the available expenses of the system and the income from all sources for the year ending on the first day of January last exceeded $[illegible] and it is not possible for the income to meet the expenses for a number of years to come.

Third. That in no instance in this state is a [illegible]

[illegible]

Potatoes continue to bring 40 cts. in this vicinity.

Regent's examinations are in progress at the public school.

Henry Davis of Clifford now runs the stage route from Fulton to Hannibal.

Last Thursday morning for the second time this season it thundered and lightened.

J. E. Tetley of Phœnix was granted a patent last week on a paper-folding machine.

Mrs. Lorenzo Cook, wife of a prominent resident of Bernhards Bay, died last Thursday morning.

The Congregational society of Oswego Falls cleared over $100 from their recent entertainment and supper.

Hiram Lodge No. 144 F. & A. M. will work the third degree on three candidates next Monday evening.

O'Brien & Cook, Baggagemen, Fulton, N. Y. Baggage delivered to any part of the city and to all trains.

A donation party for the benefit of Rev. John Forbes is to be held in the church at Bowens Corners this evening.

The New York State Agricultural Society and Farmer's Institute is now in session at Oswego. It closes this afternoon.

Large quantities of wheat are coming into market from Ira, Victory and Lysander. A ready market is found at the flouring mills.

Married Feb. 17th, in Troy, N. Y., by the Rev. George C. Baldwin of the First Baptist church, J. Jay Parker of Fulton, to Miss Melissa King of New York.

The suit instituted by deputy sheriff Davenport of Madison county against justice Shannon and officer Montague of Oswego Falls is annonnced as dropped.

Owing to the inability of the "Fulton Crumbs" to secure the music for this evening; their social has been postponed until Friday evening at the same time and place.

R. A. Stowell after remaining here for three months has moved his 25c. store to Syracuse. The work of putting a new front in the store which they occupied will be begun at once.

A grand entertainment and supper will be given this evening at Johnston's Hall, Oswego Falls by the members of the I. O. G. T. Society. Tickets for the entertainment and supper. 20 cts.

During the heavy wind of last Thursday, the tin roof was blown from the Huggins Memorial building corner of First street and Broadway and several young men narrowly escaped injury. Several chimneys were also blown from a number of houses in Fulton and Oswego Falls including two from the residence of district attorney Mead.

Schenck & Foster still continue to sell a better coal at a lower price than any other dealer in town. You will save money by calling on him before you buy.

5c. Violin strings at Jones' Music Store

Embroidered Robes at way down prices. C. E. SACKETT.

A surprise was given to Mrs. Hornibrook at her home on Utica street last Monday evening when members of the Episcopal church and some friends made up a pound party for her benefit. The party took possession of the house and loaded the tables of the estimable lady with useful articles—slight tokens of their esteem for her.

We are doing away with all high prices in Fulton. Call at Bacon's. Goods sold at small profit.

An effort is being made by the Youngs brothers to secure as an attraction for their opera house the renowned prima donna, Miss Clara Louise Kellogg, and her most excellent Concert and Opera company in Verdi's Grand opera Il Trovatore. A large number of citizens have pledged themselves to purchase tickets and there are excellent prospects of her being secured for some evening this month.

YES WE DO!
Yes We Will!
meet every price on Dry Goods whether closing out or opening out new. We will protect all our customers at wholesale or retail.
F. E. BACON.

House and Lot for Sale.

At N. E. Corner of the park and occupied by Mrs. Laycock. Enquire of Mrs. Laycock on the premises, or of H. E. Nichols. 43tf.

NOTICE.

Call at Bacon's and get the pocket book and other articles you lost day before yesterday on 2d street.

We have a few patterns of Black Silks which we will sell at a bargain. C. E. SACKETT.

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 30tf.

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc., on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

Some very choice new goods are being opened this week at F. E. BACON'S.

FARMERS ATTENTION!

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

The Crosby High License bill now pending before the Legislature at Albany is one of the exciting issues of discussion. The bill emanated from two societies, The Society for the Suppression of Vice and Crosby's Moderation Society. Its provisions favor high license plan for the cities of New York and Brooklyn. There is not among the whole army of moral teachers any more active and vigilant advocate of temperance than Dr. Crosby. He has publicly made war upon the low dives and dens of the thickly populated districts between the Bowery and Broadway. The plan he brings forward now is that of raising the saloon license to $1,000 and the other licenses for beer proportionally. The extent to which the citizens of the city, irrespective of party, support him in this movement may be judged by the very enthusiastic mass meeting held during the past week in Chickering Hall. Men of reputation and sterling business capacity were willing by their presence to be allied with the movement. This new departure, if sanctioned by the legislature, will, it is confidently hoped, decrease very materially the number of saloons and wipe out entirely the low grogeries that so freely abound in the more thickly populated districts. There are now more than 9,700 saloons under sanction of the law and 1,000 more without this sanction. The domination of the whiskey interest is strong, indeed. The party caucuses of the two great parties are held in saloons or halls over them. The ownership of one is the first pre-requisite to political preferment. Twenty years ago, Thos. Acton, then Police Commissioner, raised the saloon license fee to $200, it having been only $75, and the number decreased 25 per cent. while nearly a million and a half was paid into the city treasury.

The general feeling, so far as the conversation of men one meets in the public places of social resort indicates, seems to be in proof of this principle. That whatever misery, poverty, pauperism, or crime there is the saloon is answerable, and it ought to pay for it. The liquor men of these two cities are largely arrayed against it, but I observe that generally the public press of both cities are to a greater or less extent in favor of the movement.

Dr. Crosby has long maintained that moderation in the use of liquor is not objectionable and has gone so far as to proclaim from the rostrum that wine under certain conditions was useful and beneficial. The useful of Dr. Crosby's efforts in many lines of municipal reform can not be questioned. His church on Fourth Avenue is not only one of the wealthiest in the Presbyterian connection, but its missionary efforts both at home and abroad have been large, effective and praiseworthy. So that nobody can impugn his motives. The probable effect of high license would be a decrease of the saloon population 40 per cent. and an increase in the receipts of $2,000,000.

⁂

The criminal courts are grinding out the punishments of offenders with a rapidity that is remarkable. Nevertheless there are more than 16,000 indictments in the District Attorney's office awaiting trial. Many of them are what are known as bail cases. The reason for so large a number may be found in the fact that those who are confined in the Tombs awaiting trial must have their cases tried first. The calendar of these is not more than finished when the term closes. This condition of things gives an opportunity for the prosecuting officer to shield, if he be so minded, his political friends who have been so unfortunate as to fall into trouble. There are walking the streets of this city men who were indicted a long time ago, and in all probability will never be brought to trial. If they were an acquittal would be sure to follow, because many of the necessary witnesses are dead. This political influence upon the attorney's office has just now reached its lowest ebb. For years past some men have had annuity from punishment in their open defiance of law. One of these is the notorious Tom Gould. He kept a disreputable dive in 21st street and openly bade defiance to the excise authorities when a license was refused. He has been arrested time and again but always slipped out of it without punishment. Lately, however, this thing was stopped and Gould found his personal liberty to be in danger, so he ieft for that paradise of criminals—Canada.

The new Mayor is certainly sincere in the efforts he is making to enforce the law. Already the flagrant and open refusal of concert saloons to take out the proper legal certificate of business has received a check by the fining of Messrs. Kaster and Biel whose concern in West 23d St. was a nuisance to the locality and a resort for questionable characters. New York gets these attacks of righteousness about once in twenty years and then it backslides. There is a strong possibility that this will prove spasmodic and transient.

⁂

Lenton season has put all the social entertainments to rest. Sackcloth and ashes, theatre parties and quasi-sacred concerts will occupy society's time. The opening of the National Opera Co's, season this month will be hailed with pleasure by the friends and admirers of that noble woman, Mrs. Thurber. I have written of this movement to Americanize grand opera. Those who cannot appreciate opera in Italian or in German will be able to do so when this company gives it in English. Hence, the chief amusement of the Lenten season will by English opera.

⁂

Yachting circles are now discussing the race across the Atlantic between the Dauntless and the Coronet for a prize of $10,000. The Dauntless has once before made the attempt when she was the property of James Gordon Bennett, the erratic editor of the Herald, and so her new owner desires once again to add additional laurels to her name. The passage by sailing yacht has been made in [illegible]

A man's judgment is part of his fortune. We will prove to every visitor with goods and prices to convince the judgment that Dollars bought of us will save you dollars.

That you can save money and yet receive the bill, is demonstrated in our splendid stock of

Men's Boys' & Children's
Clothing, Hats, Caps, &c.

Pronounced by many buyers the Finest I ever saw.

PEEBLES & COOK.

AN IMPORTANT CLUB OFFER
SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE

Gives its readers literature of lasting interest and value. it is fully and beautifully illustrated and has already gained a more than national circulation exceeding 125,000 copies monthly.

PRICE 25 CENTS A NUMBER $3.00 A YEAR

SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS with Messrs. Charles Scribner's Sons the Publishers enable us to offer SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE with the

FULTON TIMES,

at the low combination rate of 3.50 for both. SEND YOUR ORDER NOW. SUBSCRIPTIONS MAY BEGIN AT ANY TIME.

Address FULTON TIMES, FULTON, N. Y.

We can furnish Subscribers with back numbers or begin the subscription at any time.

FROM THE LAKES TO THE OCEAN.

The Yacht "Ruth" and her Owner—A Gubernatorial Excursion Around the Harbor.

The Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier of Thursday Feb. 24, contains the following, which will be read with interest by all.

A handsome little steam yacht was seen racing about the harbor yesterday at the rate of about fifteen knots an hour. The vessel was as neat and trim as has ever been seen in these waters. Her measurements were 80 feet length, 14 feet beam and 4½ feet draft. The name of the vessel is the Ruth, the private yacht of Mr. Switz Conde, a prominent manufacturer of Oswego, N. Y. The Ruth arrived at Charleston, on Tuesday afternoon, from Oswego. The voyage was a long one, but was accomplished without mishap. She left Lake Ontario by the Erie Canal and the Hudson River. From New York she reached Moorhead City, N. C., by the inside route, and, leaving Moorhead City on Wednesday of last week, arrived in Charleston on the following day.

There was on board the Ruth a distinguished party, consisting of Governor Richardson, Adjutant and Inspector General Bonham, Major Gen. J. W. Moore, Col. W. B. Utsey of the Governor's staff, Mr. Louis Chazal, private secretary to the governor, Dr. Chazal of the Medical College faculty, and the owner, Mr. Switz Conde.

The Ruth made a run up the Cooper River, then down to Fort Sumter, and then up the Ashley, after which the to the city in time to enable the Governor to take the 5 p. m. train for Columbia.

The Ruth is about the handsomest yacht that has been seen in this harbor. Her appointments are simply superb. The saloon and cabin are fitted up in cherry and black walnut, the walls being panelled in marine blue plush and velvet. The stateroom has a brass extension bedstead and is fitted up in old gold and maroon plush and velvet. The engine room and pilot-house are also fitted up in elegant style, the work, it is said, of Mrs. Conde. The appointments of the vessel are of the most elegant character. The Governor and the Adjutant General both agreed that the Ruth would make an excellent flagship for the South Carolina navy, should South Carolina ever have occasion to raise another navy.

Mr. Conde is a wealthy mill owner of Oswego, N. Y., and is traveling with his family through the Sunny South. The Ruth is named after a favorite daughter, and is as handsome a little vessel as has ever been seen in Charleston.

The passengers are Mr. and Mrs. Switz Conde, Misses Marie and Ruth Conde, Master S. C. Conde, an infant Conde, and the nurses and servants.

The Ruth is manned by the following staff: Captain, L. Derian; engineer, Wm. Hoffman; pilot, J. H. Marshall, (of Charleston;) steward, Joseph Daino; butler, E. L. Montague.

Mr. Conde and his family will leave for Florida as soon as the weather permits. The Ruth will make the inside passage, and her passengers will have a delightful time. The Governor and the adjutant general and the other guests of Mr. Conde were introduced to him only on yesterday, and with the warm hearted hospitality which characterizes New Yorkers were at once invited to avail themselves of the opportunity to make a trip around the harbor. Neither Governor Richardson nor Adjt. Gen. Bonham are salt water sailors, but it is to their credit that neither of them were made sick by the trip, although it was rather rough.

These New Yorkers have a way of remembering each other, as was instanced by an incident of the voyage of the Ruth. Within an hour after her arrival in Charleston a florist reached the wharf with a handsome basket of flowers, which had been telegraphed from Oswego by Mr. George H. Burt, a friend of Mr. and Mrs. Conde.

If you wish a 36 inch washable shirt waist cloth for your boys it is at F. E. BACON'S.

CARD OF THANKS.

[illegible]

Special Notices,

A DESIRABLE FARM for sale cheap located 1 mile south-east of Fulton at the Junction of the Phœnix and Midland R. R's, formerly one of the VanWagenen farms. The land is under a high state of cultivation with fine buildings. Farm well adapted for grain or stock raising. I offer the same for sale at a low price on easy terms or exchange for village property.
H. HOWARD, Baldwinsville, N. Y.

FOR SALE.—My house and lot on Utica street within five minutes walk of the postoffice. Also lot on Oneida street, 6¼ acres, just outside of the corporation limits. Call on or address.
R. P. HALL, Fulton, N. Y.

FOR SALE.—A Farm for sale situated 6 miles from Fulton and 7 miles from Oswego, containing about 80 acres, 50 under cultivation. A large orchard, a large and commodious farm house, barn and carriage house in good repair. Will sell cheap. Terms easy. For particulars inquire of MRS J. W. WARD,
Box 423 Fulton, N. Y.

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

D. C. Draper, No. 34 First St., has an entire new stock of groceries on 1st floor and a fine line of crockery, some new and the balance the uninjured crockery from the Oneida St. store, and in basement of same store he has all the damaged Groceries, Crockery, China Tea and Chamber Setts, Lamps &c., (from the old store on Oneida St.) which he now offers for sale, the poorest at your own price, and the balance at a very low price. Remember the place in basement of New store, opposite Clark House.

Portable (ozonized) Oxygen!!

Nature's restorative purifies the blood, cures bronchial and lung affections, asthma, neuralgia, dyspepsia, insomnia, anæmia, kidney and female complaints and chronic diseases generally. The only kind endorsed by physicians. Price $10 with directions. Two or more outfits at reduced rates. Portable Oxygen Co., 491 West 22d St., New York. 41m1.

Save 35cts. per ton and buy the celebrated Lehigh Valley coal of T. D. Lewis, Office at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 39tf

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Vienna Bakery

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER,
18tf 26 First st

CLOSING OUT.

As I am obliged to move my stock on April 1st, I wish to reduce it as much as possible and offer the entire stock

Regardless of Price,

Until that time. If you want

BARGAINS

—IN—

Clocks,

Watches,

Jewelry,

[illegible]

[illegible] comfortable quarters for all [illegible]

[illegible] comfortable stables, sheds [illegible] fodder.

[illegible] your name to anything [illegible]

The United States contains over four [illegible] farms, large and small.

Many accidents will be avoided by [illegible] knobs on the tips of the [illegible] cattle.

The wheat crop of Washington territory for 1886 is said to be 5,600,000 bushels from 445,000 acres.

In laying out the garden do not crowd things; give the crops a chance to grow and yourself a chance to cultivate them.

A penny before the eye frequently prevents many close-sighted farmers from seeing the dollars in the distance, in well-cultivated, well-stocked farms.

A writer in the Southern Cultivator says the question with farmers should not be "with how little manure may I get along, but how much may I use profitably?"

When a horse strays away during a storm or a high wind, be sure he went in the direction of the wind. A horse dreads a wind in his face. With sheep the contrary is the case. The sheep faces the storm.

A coating of manure on the snow, under the apple trees now, will tend to prevent the ground from thawing out in the early spring, and thus delay blossoming until out of danger from early frosts.

Sudden changes in the weather cause disease among fowls much sooner than long continued cold or warm weather. Roup, a very contagious disease, is usually due to dampness.

A Maine farmer who formerly cut thirty to forty tons of hay yearly, now cuts seventy to eighty tons from the same extent of land, the difference being due, in a great degree, to the exclusion of cattle from his mowing lands at all seasons of the year.

Potatoes For Seed.

It requires four to six bushels of potatoes to properly plant an acre, and this amount should be got out from the bin and kept by itself in some place where the tubers will not be too warm, and where they can be spread thinly and exposed to air and light. The object is to have the eyes push slowly but strongly, which they will do in the light. Seed potatoes kept in bins in a warm cellar will sprout so as to exhaust nearly all the vitality the germ has. This is the chief cause of the weak, spindling stalks which so trouble large potato growers. Having so many acres to plant it is difficult to keep seed potatoes in large quantities in good condition. Too often no care is given them, and those are taken in spring which have long white sprouts sapping the nutriment which should go to the young plant. In such cases failure in potato growing is almost certain. A few seed potatoes well cared for will give greater profit than a large acreage planted with the defective seed that is usually common at planting time. If seed potatoes have been kept from sprouting by exposure to the light, and being kept at a temperature only a little above freezing, they may be cut smaller and thus the seed be made to go farther. But let no one assume from this that planting whole potatoes which have been badly sprouted will prove successful. They will only produce a multitude of weakly, spindling shoots, instead of the two or three strong shoots which indicate a large crop of potatoes of merchantable size.—American Cultivator.

How to Get Good Crops.

Every farmer and gardener should try to save their own seeds when they can and not have them mixed. Such a practice as this is painstaking and the outgrowth of this is better crops. It tends to slackness where a man depends altogether on buying his seed. A farmer should do his work so well and care for his crops so they will make good seed. We know of a man who has planted the same kind of corn for over sixty years. He says he never has a poor crop. The secret lies in the fact that he takes pains with his corn, and by a careful selection of the earliest ears he has made it ten days earlier. There is not so much virtue in the changing of the seed as many suppose. It is a foolish notion to depend upon for a crop; and one trouble with those who do such things is, that they depend on this sort of magic, instead of good culture and good land. It is better to plan to try to perfect your own, which you have found out is suited to your climate and soil. The little germ cannot make up for poor soil and tillage.—Farm Journal.

Notes From a New York Farm.

The the time to cut clover is when it is coming into bloom. When I see my cows leave the clover stalks to eat the leaves I know that it has stood to long. If clover is left till the blossoms grow brown it may yield more weight, but is inferior in milk-making quality. but on the other hand there will be a better second crop after an early mowing. The manure will be of more value also, [illegible], as is well known, clover is the best food of all for the manure heap.

Timothy should be cut early for dairy [illegible]. When left till after the [illegible] may be better horse fodder, but [illegible] cows it is inferior.

[illegible] in Central New York are [illegible] the wheat crop with great success. [illegible] farmer in Genesee county [illegible] nearly 50 bushels to the [illegible], and another near Le[illegible] 30 bushels.

[illegible] chickens to hot food in [illegible] makes them roupy.—[illegible]

[illegible] 250,000. In the [illegible] figures have been in single years [illegible] as high as 300,000, but these were charged with exaggeration. As the appropriations are made with reference to the numbers in the respective tribes, there is an interest in reporting a large population. The charge of fraud have led to a critical examination, which adds value to the present returns. The near approach to identy between the census of 1880 and that of 1887, refutes the allegation that the red men are dying out in the presence of our civilization. Jefferson in 1789, stated the total of the various tribes at only 69,040, and a comparison by tribes shows a large growth. His figures, however, have never been accounted as of high authority. The national census of 1880 presents the statistics only of civilized Indians, that is to say, such as are outside of the tribunal relations, and these number 66,407.

The tables now furnished by the Indian department show the following results.

Assinaboines	1,688	Poorias	144
Oneidas	1,800	Pottowatamies	1,066
Tuscaroras	415	Ottawas }	10,816
Onondagas	484	Chippewas }
Cayugas	172	Menominee	1,306
Senecas	2,949	Kickapoos	567
Delawares	41	Cherokees	25,000
Shawnees	855	Chickasaws	6,000
Wyandottes	264	Choctaws	16,000
Miamis	58	Creeks	14,000
Piankasha	257	Alabamas	290
Sioux	29,716	Tribes not enumerated	125,040
Pawnees	996
Kansas or Kaw	209
Osages	1,583	Total	247,761

The round figures which may refer to four of these tribes may prompt suspicion; but the detail is in general much more complete than in previous returns; and it is indicated that some bands absent from their reservations have been omitted, and the error, if any, will be found in the under statement and not in over statement.

Of the Six Nations who were, when the whites came, the masters of the domain which is now New York, all are included in the present list, except the Mohawks. These have passed chiefly into Canada, while some are scattered into other tribes. After the advent of the French and Dutch, and then of the English, the Six Nations never numbered over 12,000 persons, and of these the Senecas were about one-half. The department now places the Cayugas at 172, the Onondagas at 464, the Tuscaroras at 415, the Oneidas at 1,800, the Senecas at 2,949. This shows only a total of 5,620 If the Mohawks were added, the figures would yet be far below those of recent enumerations. They are a surprise to those who have watched the movements of these tribes, and who have found in the official returns of other years, the Iroquois, like the other red men, were holding their own in numbers. We venture to question their accuracy.—Utica Herald.

Beware of

Corn doctors who don't extricate corns.

Ear doctors who advertise sure cures for deafness.

Lotteries of all descriptions, which are a delusion and a snare,

Lawyers who volunteer their services from "charitable motives."

Land schemes in Florida and elsewhere which give "homes away.

The lightning-rod man who is willing to take your notes for work performed.

Civiale remedial agencies which are generally advertised through the papers.

Bohemian oats, whose manipulators are extending their operations in various directions.

English sterling cutlery, which is advertised by bogus companies at very low prices.

Fraudulent employment bureaus which guarantee permanent employment if you pay your initiation fee.

Medical institutes whose professors advertise themselves and great cures through the country generally.

Magnetic appliances which are advertised to cure all physical infirmities, from disordered brain to a sore foot.

Brokers and bankers who send you printed circulars guaranteeing fortunes it you invest small margins through them,

Bogus detective agencies whose representatives work for a small consideration, and are as liable to betray you as to serve you.

Solid gold plate watches which are advertised all over the country by Bordon, Edwards & Co., New York.

Bogus agricultural newspapers which have a nominal subscription price, and ard published to circulate description of various wares in the mails under the head of second-class matter.—American Agriculturist.

Little Things Worth Knowing.

That a bag of hot sand relieves neuralgia.

That warm borax water will remove dandruff.

That salt should be eaten with nuts to aid digestion.

That milk which stands too long makes bitter butter.

That rusty flat-irons should be rubbed over with bees-wax and lard.

That it rests you, in sewing to change your position frequently.

That a hot, strong lemonade taken at bed-time will break up a bad cold.

That tough meat is made tender by lying a few minutes in vinegar water.

That a little soda water will relieve sick-headache caused by indigestion.

That a cup of strong coffee will remove the odor of onions from the breath.

WHAT TRUE MERIT WILL DO.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is [illegible]

[illegible] by H. C. Giesler.

The amount of money in the the United States, exclusive of copper and nickel, was recently estimated at [illegible] 590,031 in gold, $366,764,238 in silver and $530,000,000 in paper; total, $1,487,164,254.

Home Rule for Ireland

is only a question of time and it is only a question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. G. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

The Rothschilds, who now control all the quicksilver mines in the world, are said to be intendinf extensive investments in gold mines.

At Night always have Acker's Baby Soother at hand. It is the only safe medicine yet made that will remove all infantile disorders. It contains no Opium or Morphine, but gives the child natural ease from pain. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Men employed in sinking a well at Colman, D. T., found a live frog imbedded in the earth 285 feet below the surface.

The Bloodthirsty Anarchists

Are foes to the health of our political institutions, but Coughs and Colds are greater foes to bodily health. Van Wert's Balsam will certainly cure all Coughs. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

Van Wert's Pills are very mild in action. Van Wert's Golden Balm is agreeable to use.

With the fares at 5 cents at all hours, the net earnings of the New York elevated railroads in three months have increased $6,778.

If you would enjoy your dinner and are prevented by Dyspepsia, use Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Flatulency and Constipation. We guarantee them. 25 and 50 cents. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

The Maine legislature has passed a law adopting the eastern standard time, to be applied to all state county and town official business.

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk and easily digested. Delicate people improve rapidly with its use. For Consumption, Throat affections and Bronchitis it is unequalled. Dr. Thomas Prim, Ala., says: "I used Scott's Emulsion on a child eight months old; he gained four pounds in a month."

Philadelphia and points further south are glutted with coal, and orders for a large amount are being countermanded.

Babies that are fretful, peevish, cross, or troubled with Windy Colic, Teething Pains, or Stomach Disorders, can be relieved at once by using Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine, hence is safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Mr. Robert Bonner has just declined an offer of $100,000 for his peerless trotter, Maud S.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it well save unnecessary doctors bills. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

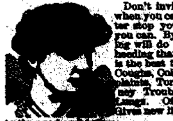
Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure catarrhal Headaches.

The Moody birthday fund for the religious schools at Northfield has reached about $30,000.

Good Results in Every Case.

D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all coughs and colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this wonderful discovery. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

A Word of Warning.



Don't invite consumption when you can avoid it. Better stop your cough while you can. Bye and bye nothing will do it. It is worth heeding that Parker's Tonic is the best thing known for Coughs, Colds, Throat Complaints, Torpid Liver, Kidney Troubles and Weak Lungs. Often saves life. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"I could find nothing to help my bad cough until I used Parker's Tonic. I had severe pain between my shoulders, with headache, and great difficulty of breathing. I could hardly get home sometimes without stopping every little way to rest. One of Chicago's best doctors prescribed for me, but only made me worse. Parker's Tonic is better than all doctors and medicines. I have taken 3 bottles and am entirely cured."—CHARLES HIRTE, Chicago, Ill.

"Parker's Tonic has cured me of Asthma of over 40 years standing. I have now taken several bottles, and my breathing is as perfect as if I had never had asthma. I tried everything, but nothing had the good effect of Parker's Tonic. It has cured me of several bad colds, and I do not believe asthma will ever trouble me again."—E. L. Williams, Chapman, Pa.

PARKER'S TONIC,
Made by Hiscox & Co., N.Y. Sold by Druggists $1.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES. Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON. [illegible]

[illegible] Electric Bitters are sold at 50 cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25 cents per box by R. E. Phillips.

Poor and aged, mountainl Bill Nye can claim $100,000 as his own when he is in the claiming humor.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

Ghent is built on twenty-six islands, Amsterdam on ninety and Venice on eighty.

WHAT A PITY

that so many otherwise attractive, polite and particular people afflict their friends by the foul and disagreeable odor of their breath; it is mainly caused by disordered digestion, and can be corrected by removing the cause, by using that pure medicine, Sulphur Bitters.—Health Magazine,

The eight hour day is now legal for St. Louis city laborers.

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping th dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest Cleanest, Best,
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

INDIA PALE ALE.

Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge.

ADVERTISERS

[illegible]

Of the corn raised in this country 180,000,000 bushels are used in human food, 634,000,000 for working animals, 20,000,000 for seed, 100,000,000 for the production of spirits and glucose, 65,000,000 for export and 900,000,000 for the food of meat-producing animals making altogether a consumption of 1,869,000,000 bushels. Only about one-twentieth goes into spirits. The animals get the bulk of it.

Life in the Paris Sewers, is possible, for a short time to the robust, but the majority of refined persons would prefer immediate death to existence in their reeking atmosphere. How much more revolting to be in one's self a living sewer. But this is actually the case with those in whom the inactivity of the liver drives the refuse matter of the body to escape through the lungs, breath, the pores, kidneys and bladder. It is astonishing that life remains in such a dwelling. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" restores normal purity to the system and renews the whole being.

There are 20,279 patent medicine venders in Great Britain who yield an annual revenue of about $900,000.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills,

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

There are 1,500 lawyers in Philadelphia and over 6,000 bars where liquor is sold.

QUICK, SAFE, SURE.

Why suffer aches, pains and agony in limbs, back and breast when for 25 cents you can be cured by VANDUSEN'S READY REMEDY. One bottle will prove its value. A remedy that should be in every family. It acts like magic. Cures sprains, wounds, cramps, sore throat. Try a bottle.
VANDUSEN BROS., Kingston, N. Y. 40t4

Emperor William has given one thousand marks toward the fund for the Scheffel monument.

The reason why Acker's Blood Elixir is warranted, is because it is the best Blood Preparation known. It will positively cure all Blood Diseases, purifies the whole system, and thoroughly builds up the constitution. Remember, we guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Fli Perkins is said to have accumulat-$150,000 by strict attention to the truth.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

Five mummied bodies have been found in a cave in the bad lands of Dakota. It is supposed they were buried centuries ago.

Almost miraculous are some of the cures accomplished by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In the case of R. L. King, Richmond. Va., who suffered 47 years with an aggravated form of scrofula, Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected astonishing results.

Whenever a blindly addressed letter with "Hopper street" on it gets into the Dead-letter office it is at once sent to Utica, because that is the only city in the country that is known to have a Hopper street.

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

[illegible]

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO ADVERTISERS!

[illegible]

[illegible] —Rambler.

"Castor oil is easy to give, but awfully hard to take." So is advice.—Philadelphia Call.

A boy's father straps him; later on in life the boy straps the old man.—St. Louis Critic.

Seven umbrellas were stolen from the vestibule of a Titusville church one recent Sunday, and it wasn't a rainy Sunday either.—Philadelphia Call.

Canada will soon thirst for peace if she goes to war on codfish.—New Orleans Picayune.

Fish is good brain food, but it does seem a pity in some cases to waste so much fish.—St. Albans Messenger.

Wife (4 a. m.)—I should think you would be ashamed to hear the cocks crow on your way home.

Husband—'Fi went t' bed (hic) five 'clock I'd crow, too. That's kind o' rooster I am.—Puck.

"If misfortune overtakes you, smile," advises a poet. That's all well enough, but suppose misfortune ovrtakes you in a strictly prohibition town?—Burlington Free Press.

What is the difference between an American Indian and a Tipperary Irishman? The one smokes a pipe of piece, the other a piece of a pipe.—Boston Beacon.

A fashion item says that "a ball dress should be plain enough to show off the material." The object now appears to be to make it brief enough at the top to show off a considerable portion of the wearer.—Norristown Herald.

It is said that somnabulism is on the increase in this country among married women. The only way to break 'em of it is to hide your wallet outside your bedroom.—Detroit Free Press.

An Indiana woman is said to have taken no food or drink for 105 days. This will rank high as a phenomenon unless some Indiana man goes without a drink for 105 minutes.—Richmond State.

Angry Customer—Say, see here, Mr. Scales, I found a whole lot of sand in that last barrel of sugar you sent me.

Placid grocer—Did you, indeed? Dear me! And what did you expect to find? Gold quartz?—Somerville Journal.

Lawyer—Now, you say you've known this couple for years. Witness—Yes, sir. Ever seen them quarrel? Never. They've always lived together in unity, eh? No, sir; in Swampsville; that's about four miles from Unity.—Judge.

Mrs. Parvenue (indicating a painting of the Madonna)—"Whose picture is that, sir?" Dealer—"Raphael's, madame." Mrs. Parvenue (surprised)—"Are you sure? I have always supposed that Raphael was a man."—Life.

A Missouri sheriff went home in disguise in the evening to see if his wife would scare. She fired three shots at him so promptly that he dropped his experiment and began looking for the end of one of his fingers.—Detroit Free Press.

One of the greatest curiosities in the world is a woman who doesn't think her first baby is the only perfectly beautiful baby in the world. The next greatest is a lawyer who will not avail himself of a chance of asking for a continuance of a case in which he is interested.—Fall River Advance.

A wild Indian, acting with a troupe in New York, died recently, and his remains were conveyed to Connecticut where they were interred in a cemetery alongside the body of his brother, Patrick Mulhooney. He leaves a widow in the old country.—Norristown Herald.

"If your life is worth twenty-five cents," says a patent medicine advertisement, "do not neglect a cough or a cold." From the quantity of such medicines some persons pour down their throat we should say they considered their lives worth about twenty-five cents, and no more.—Norristown Herald.

A new baby had arrived at little Johnny's residence and the youngster was admitted to take his first look at the little stranger. He surveyed it calmly for a moment and then looking up exclaimed enthusiastically. "His face is just the color of Uncle George's. Gosh, but he must be a hard drinker!"—Pittsburg Dispatch.

I had my personnel complimented at various times by newly made friends, who told me that I favored Gov. Lowry and Gen. Stephen D. Lee, for which Mrs. Arp would be very grateful if she could see either of these distinguished and handsome gentleman. But I did not dare mention it to either of them, for I remember that once upon a time when I told a gentlemen that my friends said I favored him, he shut one eye and remarked: "Possibly it may be so, but if you will never mention it I won't."—Bill Arp in Sunny South.

Insulted at Last.

"Did you see that notice of your marriage in the papah, Weginald?"

"Naw, old chappie. What did it say?"

"Said you acted dishonowably in wunning away with the girl."

"Naw! Well, these, aw—newspapahs don't know anything anyway."

It said the girl was too good for you."

"Aw—I don't mind."

"It said you didn't know anything outside of high collahs and dwess."

"I don't care, old chappie."

"And it said your collah was so high it was out of style now."

"Naw, old fellah, you—aw—don't mean that."

"That's what it said."

"By Gawge, it's insulting. W-what papah was it, Oscar? I'll—I'll—dsmme, I'll sue it fah libel. I won't—aw—stand it."—Tid-Bits.

A Useless Piece of Furniture.

Little Dick—"I want some paper to make pictures on."

Sister Nell—"You must not take that, Dicky; that's my letter paper and I'll need every bit of it."

"Haven't you anything else?"

[illegible]

Hood's Sarsaparilla

[illegible] Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the [illegible] have all disappeared, except the [illegible], which are daily becoming smaller by degrees, and beautifully less. I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take

BLUE PILLS

or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

Is Your Tongue Coated

with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately! Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

Your Kidneys are out of order Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use

Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

IT IS Dangerous!

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Don't Wait!

A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

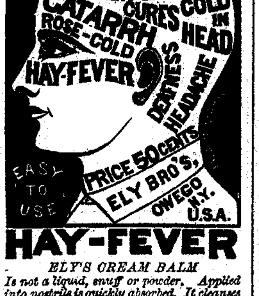
Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful Cure at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars senton application. T. S. PAGE. No. 41 West 31st St., New York City.

CATARRH



HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the senses of taste and smell. 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents.

ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, NY.

KASKINE.

(THE NEW QUININE.)

Science emerging from Darkness.

NO BAD EFFECT.

NO HEADACHE.

NO NAUSEA.

No Ringing Ears.

Cures Quickly.

Pleasant, Pure.

A POWERFUL TONIC — hat the most delicate stomach will bear.

A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM, NERVOUS PROSTRATION,

and all Germ Diseases.

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y. } "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful.

The U. S. Examining Surgeon. Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleasner, 360 East 121st St, New York City, has cured over 200 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says, "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

Rev. Jas. L. Hall, Chaplain Albany Penitentiary, writes that Kaskine has cured his wife, after twenty years suffering from malaria and nervous dyspepsia. Write him for particulars.

Thousands upon thousands write that Kaskine has cured them after all other medicines had failed. Write for books of testimonials.

Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

[illegible]

[illegible] Dated Dec. 1, 1886.
William D. [illegible],
Hampton L. [illegible],
[illegible].

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1887, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in January, March, May, June, September, November and December.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in April, July and October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on the last Thursday of April, July and September.

PARISH—At J. S. Ludington's law office, on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday in April, July and September.

F. DAVID, Surrogate.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE. The undersigned assignee of Ellen E. Swan will sell at public auction at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the Village of Fulton, New York, on the 28th day of February, 1887, at 2 o'clock p. m., of that day all the right, title and interest which said Ellen E. Swan had on the day of her assignment in and to the several parcels of real estate hereinafter described, viz.: First parcel about 3¼ acres situate in the Village of Oswego Falls, Oswego county, New York, lying between First Street and the Oswego River, under the best state of cultivation for fruit gardening, containing about 500 quince bushes, 300 black currant bushes, 75 pear trees, a large number of peach trees, a number of varieties of grapes and other small fruit, all in good bearing condition. Second parcel about 12 acres situate in the Town of Granby, Oswego county, New York, lying upon the peat bed, bounded east by land of Samuel Wood; north by lands of Mrs. Eggleston; west by lands of John Kinney and south by lands of Mrs. Collins; under high state of cultivation, well adapted to raising and now mostly set with willows.

Terms of sale made known on day of sale.
Dated Feb'y 1st, 1887.

CHARLES WHITE, Assignee.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK: By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Thomas M. Hubbard, Montague, Mich; Ira G. Hubbard, Elkhart, Ind.; Fred A. Hart, Mary Jones, Albert W. Hart, Emma Jones, Scriba, Oswego county, N. Y.; Jesse L. Coe, Sand Bank, Oswego county, N. Y.; Jane Hubbard, Thomas Hubbard, Volney, Oswego county, N. Y.; Frank Hubbard and George Hubbard, residence unknown; persons interested in the estate of Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in the county of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting.

Whereas, Lucy K. Hubbard, now of the Town of Scriba, in the county of Oswego, has lately made application to our Surrogate of the county of Oswego for the final judicial settlement of her account as Executrix of said Thomas Hubbard, deceased; therefore, you, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, at the law office of C. H. David, Esq., in the Village of Fulton, in said county of Oswego, on the 14th day of April, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to attend the final judicial settlement of the accounts of the proceedings of Lucy K. Hubbard as Executrix of said deceased.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David,
[L. S.] Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 24th day of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven.

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogates Court.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK: By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Earland B. Chappel, J. Wellington Chappel, Annice Guffin, Edward Chappel, Elmary Lea, Adelaide Evans, Alice Washburn, Solomon Mattison, John E. Mattison, George Moe, Charles Moe, Cynthia A. Stowell, B. Franklin Mattison, Florence H. Riley, Arthur S. Moe, Walter Moe, Laura Johnson, Lucy Moe and Sherman Moe, heirs at law and next of kin of Alanson F. Moe, late of the town of Scriba, in the county of Oswego, deceased, send greeting:

Whereas, Sophronia L. Rhodes of the town of Scriba, in the county of Oswego, has lately made application to our Surrogate of the county of Oswego, to have a certain instrument in writing, relating to real and personal estate, duly proved as the last will and testament of said Alanson F. Moe, deceased; therefore you and each of you are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our said Surrogate, at the law office of C. H. David esq., in the Village of Fulton, in said county of Oswego, on the 14th day of April, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to attend to the probate of said instrument as the last will and testament of said deceased.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate, to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surro-
[L. S.] gate of the said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 19th day of Feb., 1887.

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of Surrogate's Court.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE. Whereas on the 1st day of April, 1873; Isaac F. Pierce made and delivered to the undersigned mortgagee, Allan Gilmour, his certain mortgage, bearing date on that day, whereby he mortgaged to the said Allan Gilmour, his heirs and assigns "all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Hannibal, County of Oswego and state of New York, bounded and described as follows, to wit, being part of subdivision No. one of great lot No. eighty-one of said town of Hannibal and beginning in the north line of said lot No. eighty-one, at the north-east corner of land now owned by Daniel Randall; thence east along said north line to the north-west corner of land now owned by David Dexter; thence south along the west line of said Dexter's land to the center of the highway leading across said lot; thence easterly along the center of said highway to the east line of said lot No. one; thence south along said east line to the south-east corner of said lot No one; thence west along the south line of said subdivision to the west line of said lot No. eighty-one; thence north to the centre of the highway leading across said lot; thence east along the centre of said highway to the south-east corner of D. Randall's land; thence north along the east line of said Randall's land to the place of beginning, containing about ninety-five acres of land," which said mortgage with the power of sale therein contained, was duly recorded in the Oswego County Clerk's office, on the 21st day of April, 1873, at 5 o'clock p. m., in Liber 95 of mortgages, at page 346, and whereas the said mortgage was given to secure the payment of two thousand dollars with semi-annual interest, as therein specified, and default has been made in the condition of said mortgage whereby the power to sell therein contained has become operative and there is claimed to be due thereon at the date of the first publication of this notice the sum of two thousand thirty-seven dollars, and that the whole amount thereof is due.

Said mortgage was duly assigned to Stilman W. Mason on the 30th day of March, 1880, and said assignment was duly recorded in the Oswego County Clerks Office on the 19th day of January, 1887.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that in pursuance of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the statute in, such case made and provided the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public auction, at the Lewis House, in the village of Fulton, on the 20th day of April, 1887, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day.

STILLMAN W. MASON, Assignee.
A. L. & E. O. JOHNSON,
Attys., Syracuse, N. Y.

LUMBER! LUMBER.

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c;

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

O. RUST.

—IF YOUR—

HORSE IS LAME

USE DR. J. S. MARKHAM'S

"Spavin Cure"

—IF HE HAS—

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 44.

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY MARCH 9, 1887. Single Copies Three Cents.

The Village Sexton.

BY NATHAN D. URNER.

Of all remembrances of boyhood's days,
Mixed with school memories of book and birch,
No kindlier object meets my backward gaze
Than the old sexton of our village church;
The rare old man, so reverend and so wise,
Who had so long his solemn office held,
He seemed half-ghostly to our youthful eyes,
And something more than mere respect compelled.

How softly passed his step along the aisle.
How quaint his form, which ne'er its stoop could lose,
As leading on, with meek obsequious smile,
He opened the noiseless portals of the pews!
And when the flock was gathered in the fold,
The good old sexton would not smile nor stir,
But sit, with folded arms and eyes upturned,
Wrapped in the sermon of the minister.

He beamed at bridals and at Christ'nings fair,
On the church poor it was his place to wait;
He rang the bell for service and for prayer,
He played the organ and he passed the plate;
And when the death-bell from the church tower tolled,
And down the road the sad procession swept,
Even more than mortal seemed the sexton old
To the pale mourners as they moaned and wept.

As wide he held the creaking churchyard gate,
And access gave to the fresh-opened grave,
He seemed the servant of remorseless fate—
To wield a power we had no hope to brave.
But lips ne'r held a smile of holier worth
Than his, when the last service being read,
"Ashes to ashes, dust to dust," the earth
Was slowly heaped upon the coffined dead.

But he, too, paid the forfeit with the rest,
And went the journey which we all must go,
The grass grows green o'er the old sexton's breast,
In the sweet quiet churchyard that I know.
But in the gossip of the little town,
His gentle goodness cannot fail to last;
And half of memories sweetness would be gone
Without the gray old image of the past.

The Forsaken Farmhouse.

Against the wooded hills it stands,
Ghost of a dead home, staring through
Its broken lights on wasted lands,
Where old-time harvests grew.

Unplowed, unsown, by scythe unshorn,
The poor forsaken farm-fields lie,
Once rich and rife with golden corn
And pale green leaves of rye.

Of healthful herb and flower bereft,
The garden plot no housewife keeps;
Through weeds and tangle only left
The snake, its tenant, creeps.

A lilac spray, once blossom clad,
Sways bare before the empty rooms;
Beside the roofless porch a sad,
Pathetic red rose blooms.

Its track, in mould of dust and drouth,
On floor and hearth the squirrel leaves,
And in the fireless chimneys mouth
His web the spider weaves.

The leaning barn about to fall
Resounds no more on husking eves;
No cattle low in yard or stall,
No threshers beats his sheaves.

So sad, so drear! It seems almost
Some haunting Presence makes its sign;
That down yon shadowy lane some ghost
Might drive his spectral kine!

—J. G. Wittier, in the Atlantic.

THE PROPER THING.

Colored beads are used in great variety in millinery.

Printed challi dresses of fine wool will be worn next season.

Ribbons and ostrich feathers are in favor for hat trimmings.

Striped ginghams are in great favor, and are made up without embroidery.

The waists of the cotton gowns to be worn next season are mostly basques or round waists gathered to a belt.

Plain basques for wash dresses are short all around, but are pointed in front and have two box pleats behind.

Velvet collars and cuffs will be used on satteen dresses. Dark blue and brown remain favorite colors in these dressy cottons.

Tennis hats of colored straw in sailor shape have a band of ribbon brocaded with rackets and balls in ecru, Suede, rose or blue.

Tennis cloth is a new scotch material of fine wool and cotton. It is soft and exceedingly light, and comes in pretty stripes and all the new colors.

Shoes with uppers of patent leather and foxed with thick soft kid are still preferred for carriage and house wear, and walking shoes maintain the patent leather tipped toe.

White ginghams with bars or stripes of color wide apart will be a novelty for wash dresses the coming season. They are made with lower skirt of open embroidery with the gingham showing beneath.

A novelty is a wooden bonnet of light birch, with stems of roses and leaves of lilies bordering its edges, while stalks of lilies-of-the-valley are high on the top amid loops of green and old-rose ribbons.

Stockings in silk and Lisle thread repeat all the new greens and shades of heliotrope. For wear with evening dress are silk stockings with black feet and black half way up the leg, the rest flesh colored. This gives a curious appearance as if only half high hose were worn.

Luck and Pluck.

Generally speaking it is not luck, good fortune or chance which wins the battle of life, but persistent pluck. Everybody is given a chance. He may not think his chances are as favorable as another's, but still it is the chance God gives him, and he must have pluck to win. He is furnished with armor for his warfare—faculty and force—and his pluck must carry him on. He must have an aim, a purpose to accomplish. If he is not fitted for the work he selects it will be a hard road. The True principle is work as each man is fitted. Some young men, who would make first-class artisans, accept positions as second-class clerks, where they ever remain, because the work is clean, the associations among different people. A boy's chance may seem small, but by constant persistent work he will at last reach the pinnacle. Leading qualities are not gained in a breath. Those who [illegible]

How the Texas Boys Were Going to Hang Sam Houston.

Into our sanctum walked a Texas veteran the other day, who said he was on a visit to New York, and observing the sign, "TEXAS SIFTINGS," he thought he would give us a call. We invited him to take a seat, and he fell into reminiscences of old times in Texas that were very interesting, for he had lived there all his life.

"By the way," said he, "did you ever hear of the time when the boys came to Austin to hang old Sam Houston?"

We have heard something about it, but not all the particulars.

"Well, you see," continued the Texas man, "it was at the breaking out of the war for the independence of the South, and things were pretty hot down that way. Sam Houston was opposed to secession, and in his blunt, fearless way, had said so, open and above board, and this had created a bitter feeling against him among the fiery, untamed Texans who wanted to secede.

"One day a friend told Houston, who was in Austin, that a lot of young fellows had come there with the avowed purpose of hanging him. Houston didn't appear to be much concerned by the news, but he ascertained where the rendezvous of the sinister young men was. It was a saloon, of course, and while they were discussing their plans the door opened, and who should stride into the room but old Sam Houston himself.

"'Good afternoon, boys,' said the general, in a cordial sort of way; 'anything new?'

"They probably thought it was something new for a man ordained to be hung to walk right into the hands of his executioners, saving them the trouble of hunting him up, and they couldn't speak for astonishment.

"Singling out one of the young fellows, the general said: 'Your face seems familiar to me, young man. Do you live around here?'

"The young man replied that his home was in that vicinity.

"'What might I call your name?' asked Houston.

"'Lamar.'

"'What was your father's name?' continued the general, eyeing him closely.

"'Henry Lamar.'

"What! cried the general, a son of brave old Harry Lamar! Give me your hand, boy. We were comrades on many a hard-fought field. He saved my life once by shooting a Mexican whose bayonet point was at my heart. I am glad to meet a son of Harry Lamar. You have friends here (looking around). Who is this stalwart young fellow? He reminds me of a dear friend who perished at the Alamo. Were it twenty-five years ago I should extend my hand and say, "Put it there, George Courtney."

"'Why, I am George Courthey—that is my name,' said the young fellow.

"You George Courtney? Impossible! He was massacred by the treacherous and cowardly Mexican dogs at the Alamo!' cried the general with mingled excitement and emotion.

"'I am his son, sir,' said the young man with moistened eye and trembling lip.

"Then the general shook him warmly by the hand, while he told him of the time when his father and himself shared together the dangers and privations of border life.

"'My father, too fought with you, general,' cried another, young man, whose memory had suddenly returned to him. 'Do you remember Colonel Underwood?'

"Not Tom Underwood. He died several years after a Mexican battle in which he was previously wounded.'

"'Ah! said the general with a tear in his eye, 'poor Tom! I nursed him myself after that job. How I would like to sit down with him now and talk over that retreat of three hundred miles from Santa Anna, in which we participated—how we turned upon him at length at San Jacinto, annihilated the Mexican army at a blow and the independence of Texas was won! Ah, boys, that was a glorious day—April 21, 1835. The date is engraved on my memory at least.'

"And as the old hero recalled the memories of that event he drew himself up to his full, magnificent height, his eye gleamed with the old martial ardor, and his massive form swelled until he appeared a demigod to his breathless listeners. Then by a sudden impulse one of them cried 'Three cheers for Sam Houston!' And they were given with a unanimity and fervor that made all the saloon fixtures rattle.

"'Thank, you, boys,' said the general, with moistened eyes. 'I see you are Texans still.'

"Then the general remarked incidentally, that he had heard that there was some talk of stringing him up because of his well-known sentiments regarding secession, and asked if anything of that sort had reached their ears.

"They said they had heard nothing of it, and they asserted with entire unanimity that it would not be healthy for any one in Austin to undertake the job, while they were around. They stated emphatically, that a man who had done as much for Texas as Sam Houston had was entitled to hold any sentiments he d—d pleased!"—Texas Siftings.

At the Mount Sinai Poker Club.

It is Mr. Blumenthal's deal, and Mr. Cohen polishes his glasses hurriedly with a view to making a careful survey of the shuffle.

Mr. Blumenthal's friend, Mr. Dinkelstein, considers it an appropriate occasion for a remark:

"Mister Cohen, I heart you was [illegible]

RETRIBUTION.

BY "THE DUCHESS."

CHAPTER XI.

"The thing is how to discover him. Those fellows nowadays are so difficult to unearth, and our detective system is so painfully inefficient."

"I don't want him," says Millicent, who is looking very pretty and fragile in her invalid gown of white cashmere and lace. "I only want my sapphires. I was saying to auntie only this morning what a very remarkable thing it is, that both Lady Valworth—your mother—and I should have been made a prey of burglars."

"Odd! The same thought struck me only this morning," says Granit, showing all his white teeth as he smiles. ("What a bite he could give," thinks his fiancee, watching him.) 'Quite a coincidence, eh? But it must be acknowledged your loss is even greater than hers. Those sapphires were unrivaled, and will fetch a high price anywhere."

"Your loss, too, Granit," says Mrs. Brand. "Your future wife"—with a smile at Millicent—"will lose a little of her prestige now she has ceased to be the possessor of these famous jewels."

"My future wife," says Granit gracefully, "will not need the addition of any jewels to make her the most beautiful woman in England."

"Ye gods!" cries Miss Grey, springing suddenly to her feet and rushing across the room to a mirror. "Am I that? The most beautiful woman in England! Am I that now, my good Granit? Or is it the fact of being your wife that will make me so?"

"Now, of course. And then, too, I hope."

"Wrong now, at all events, my friend," after an exhaustive examination of her pretty form in the mirror. "I know some one at this very moment who is unspeakably better worth looking at than I am."

"Lady Landing?"

"No! I prefer myself to her. I was thinking of my little friend—my youthful instructress—Nadine Roche. By the bye, what a singular thing that you have never seen her."

"Quite as singular that she has never seen me."

"She did—once."

Boyle turns straight round and looks at her. He had been teasing the parrot up to this. Though he does not speak, something in his face compels her to answer him as though he had done so.

"Yes—once, really; so you are not as unknown to fame as you imagine."

"She told you so?"

"She confessed as much. But, as you seem modest about it, perhaps will comfort you to learn that what she did see was only the back of your head, and a bit of your nose. You know, if you will wear your nose so long you cannot expect it to altogether escape observation."

Granit laughs.

"So that was all she saw? She can have no idea then what a good looking fellow I am," he says, with a mischievous shrug.

"Not the slightest. Your persistent refusal to oblige all your admirers by sitting to a photographer has put it out of my power to give Nadine some faint idea of your charms."

"Just as well; she might have been overpowered by them," returns Granit, who has gone back to his task of reducing the parrot to a state of frenzy.

"Not that I believe in photographs," goes on Millicent. "There is Letty Lumsden, she looks like a Venus on card-board—like a dairymaid in the flesh."

"To say nothing of Mrs. Denby, who looks like a saint in the flesh, and like a Bacchante, as portrayed by Dessemains. I'm rather glad I'm out of it. I rejoice to think my face is still my own. Photos"—with a curious little laugh—"are dangerous."

"If every one thought that the detectives would be oftener at fault than they are," says Mrs. Brand. "Photographs 'ave been the means of bringing many criminals to justice."

"As I have said—they are dangerous," replies her nephew.

"I wish we had some picture of the wretch who has robbed Millicent."

"But you see you haven't."

"You take it very easily—yet you must regret the jewels, Granit," says Mrs. Brand, fretfully, who is of opinion that nothing now should be thought of but the irreparable loss her niece has sustained, and who regards the present frivolity as being distinctly in bad taste, considering all things. Indeed, she would have considered it hardly out of place if some one had pulled down the blinds and put muffling on the knocker.

"I assure you I do not regret them. I have nothing to regret," returns he, laughing lightly. Then he looks at Millicent. "How can I find room for regret when I see my cousin safe and well?"

Millicent is as touched by his manner as it would be possible for him to move her.

"Certainly he bears the loss of those jewels very well," she says to herself; "and he used to be their most extravagant admirer. Sometimes it irritated me to think he looked upon them with a proprietorial eye, but after all I believe I wronged him. If they were still in my possession or in his he could not be more unconcerned."

She gives him a little kindly glance as a reward for this, which seems to afford him some secret amusement.

"The thing that puzzles me," goes on Mrs. Brand, who cannot keep her mind off the subject, "is how the miscreant got in. Certainly Brown confesses he is not in the habit of putting up the chain at night—a most reprehensible neglect, for which I have severely censured him; but, admitting that, I do not see how the burglar could have had a door key exactly like ours. It is one of a most peculiar pattern; poor Mr. Brand quite prided himself on it."

"The more peculiar, the easier to take an impression of it," says Granit.

"To take an impression?—to get a false key made? But that means you would suspect the servants. I could not do that; they are all old servants—old friends, indeed, I might almost say."

"You are like my mother. She will not believe the servants were implicated in the diamond robbery at Valworth; yet if she had taken my advice a recovery might have been effected. Mind, I do not say it would," says Capt. Boyle, who seems determined to give everyone a chance; "I only say it might."

"But—but surely you would not attach suspicion to Brown?" says Mrs. Brand, nervously, who is easily swayed.

"There are other servants in the house besides Brown; and people come and go—eh?"

"No one comes and goes except Miss Roche; you would not suspect her, I suppose?" says Millicent coldly.

"I really could not form an opinion. You forget, I have not had the pleasure of an introduction to Miss Roche."

[illegible] to the purpose, but mum, mum, mum is the word."

"Oh, auntie, you have heard something!" cries Millicent, pouncing down upon her. "You have had news, and, naughty woman that you are, you have hidden it from me. Come, out with it! Your blood will be upon your own head if you delay for another moment."

"But I assure you, my dearest girl"——

"Your dearest girl is disgusted with your duplicity. Come, speak, I say. One, two—three will be your death signal. Granit, do you take no interest in the proceedings? Are you not longing to hear of the capture of the capturer of my sapphires?"

She is kneeling beside Mrs. Brand, having thrown her arms coaxingly around her, so cannot see Granit's face, but she can hear his laugh.

"Yes; let us know what kind of a fellow he is," he says.

"Nonsense! Of course it has not come to that yet, but there is a clew—a strong clew! And oddly enough, the detective tells me they believe our burglar is the very one who had a hand in abstracting your mother's diamonds"—she is speaking now to Boyle; "that struck me as being very remarkable."

"Looks as if it was some one connected with the family. You will bear me out that I have all along directed attention to the servants," says Granit. "It is a thousand pities this clever detective of yours was not called in at the Valworth affair. I blame myself very much for recommending Simpson, who really did nothing, so far as I can hear."

"They are attaching a good deal of importance to the handkerchief Dr. Thesby took into his possession. They have discovered something about that."

"Indeed. It was a common handkerchief, I think you told me."

"Quite coarse."

"Well, you could hardly expect a burglar to have a cambric one."

Granit seems amused.

"My burglar was not a common man, whatever your mother's may have been," interposes Millicent. His voice I cannot describe, because it was distinctly feigned; but something in his whole air forbade the thought that he was of the lower classes. I cannot explain; I must only ask you to try to understand and follow me."

The miscreant!" ejaculates Mrs. Brand, indignantly.

"In spite of all I really confess to a feeling of sentimental regard for him," says Millicent, gayly. He might have murdered me, but he refrained; and he was so far removed from any suspicion of meanness that he actually forced a gift upon me ere he left. Consider that, auntie, and be more lenient in your abuse."

"I dare say you will persuade yourself by degrees that he fell in love with you," says Mrs. Brand, who is a little offended at any jesting on so solemn a subject.

"And why not, then? Am I not of a presence sufficiently noble to enthrall this modern Turpin?" Miss Grey demands this saucily of her aunt. "Look out for your laurels, Granit; there is a rival in the field."

"I know it, if you allude to Massareene," replies he in a whisper, too low for Mrs. Brand to hear.

Miss Grey colors vividly.

"You mistake," she says, coldly. "I was alluding to the burglar."

"Ah! of him I could never feel jealous," returns he, easily. "Of that you may be positively certain."

He is still regarding her with a gleam of sarcastic amusement in his eyes, that puzzles her and baffles her to read, when the door is thrown open and Mr. Massareene is announced.

CHAPTER XII.

The young man hurries forward—forgetful of Mrs. Brand, etiquette, common politeness, everything—to where Millicent is standing. His face is pale, his eyes brilliant. He is evidently suffering from intense excitement.

"Miss Grey! what terrible thing is this I have heard? But you are well—safe?"

He is holding her hand tightly clasped in both his, and is gazing into her rather pink face with an eager love and solicitude not to be misunderstood. He is as oblivious to Capt. Boyle's sneering laugh as to Mrs. Brand's glance of surprised displeasure, and is, indeed, deaf and blind to everything but Millicent herself. She has been in such sore danger; but now she is here, before him, well, beautiful as ever.

"Quite safe, as you see," says Millicent, in a low, soft tone—the softest she has ever used to him. She cannot but contrast the tender vehemence of his address with the cool, unimpassioned greeting accorded to her by Granit an hour before. "You must not think of me any longer as deserving of your pity. And—have you forgotten auntie?"

Is there the faintest pressure of her cool little hand as she brings him thus back to a sense of his duty?

"How d'ye do, Mr. Massareene?" says Mrs. Brand, a slight touch of asperity in her tone.

There is something about this big, ugly young Irishman, with his musical brogue, and his wonderful eyes, and his impetuosity, that labels him dangerous.

"I beg your pardon!" he exclaims now, stiding across the room and clasping Mrs. Brand's jeweled hand in a grasp warm as though he considered himself her prime favorite, rather than a bete noir. The grasp, however, as she does not fail to remark, though warm, is gentle in the extreme, and does not force the rings against the delicate skin. After all—yes—there are some commendable points about this young, ineligible man. "I have been unpardonably rude," goes on the ugly detrimental. "But you will forgive me, Mrs. Brand, when I assure you that I didn't know whether I was standing on my head or my heels when I entered the room. I never got such a shock in my life as Brandon gave me in the Junior a quarter of an hour ago."

"You were on your heels. That I can prove to you," says Mrs. Brand, smiling; she is too good natured not to be half amused, half touched by the young man's evident concern.

"I am witness," puts in Granit, showing all his teeth again. "You were quite in proper trim, my dear fellow! Not a suspicion of intoxication about you."

This laugh is replete with insolence. In fact, the remark just made has reference to a subject that has grown sore from rough handling. It has reference to a little scene in the early town life of Gerald Massareene, who one evening, going a little off his head after the termination of a triumphant Derby day, took perhaps a little more champagne than was good for him. Some—his friends—said it was only his usual excellent spirits raised to an excited pitch because of his having made a good thing off the winner. Others—his acquaintances (he had no enemies, good lad that he was)—said it was the excellent spirits of the club cellar. However it was, Massareene went considerably beyond bounds, and was in the morning thoroughly ashamed of himself. Then came his introduction to Millicent Grey, almost a little girl at that time, [illegible] smaller details concerning it. Indeed, it had been a very innocent offense from first to last.

At Granit's words Massareene's face flames, and a sudden fire brightens his eyes. At the moment it is easy to see that there is little love lost between the two men.

"You mean?" says Massareene, a little sharply, taking a step forward.

"Just what I said, dear boy—that you were eminently sober. Could I have borne higher testimony to your character? Miss Grey—as you seem to have some doubts about the accuracy of my statement—will, I am sure, corroborate what I have just said."

"I refuse to give my countenance to anything you may chance to say," returns Millicent, in a low tone, but with flashing eyes.

She has understood the drift of her cousin's remarks, and bitterly resents them. She may not be overkind always to Massareene, but she will permit no one else to be uncivil to him.

"What!" cries Boyle, gayly, arching his brows and lifting his shoulders in a foreign fashion that either belongs to him or has been cultivated to a nicety, "you disagree with me? You really think that our friend's extremely—er—empresse manner, his hurried entrance, etc.,—meant—the—er—the other thing? Really, dear Massareene, I would not stand that if I were you. You look as if you would like to murder somebody"—with a light laugh—"that is the standing condition of your countrymen, eh? Why not call Miss Grey out?"

"Dueling is out of fashion, and one only horsewhips men," replies Massareene, meaningly, with his eyes fixed steadily upon his opponent.

"Oh, but a duel under such conditions—that cannot be out of fashion, as it has never yet come in. Why not set it? Be a leader of it? And a tete a tete with Miss Grey, even under such equivocal circumstances, might not be altogether without its charm."

He throws out this last taunt quite airily—making even a slight movement of the hand that somehow adds to the aggressive impertinence of it.

Massareene throws up his head, as though scenting battle, and his face pales. Millicent, marking these signs of coming storm, enters the breach hastily.

"I do think, Granit," she says, glancing insolently at her cousin from beneath half closed lids, "that when you try to be amusing you are the most unpardonably stupid person I ever met. Your jokes always make me feel inclined to weep."

"In this instance?" demands he, quickly, his face darkening and an evil light coming into his eyes.

"And in every other. One yawns enough in all conscience as one goes through life without being compelled to do it by those who would fain believe they stir our laughter. Give it up, my dear Granit; comedy is beyond you—the heavy business suits you better."

(To be Continued.)

People will not have a new cough remedy, when they know the value of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

She stood at the gate in the late Spring twilight, and when she said good bye, she felt neuralgia kiss her rosy cheek; but she only smiled, for her mother had invested 25 cents in a bottle of Salvation Oil.

Lorenzo Dow's Novel Text.

Something like sixty years ago there appeared in Boston an eccentric character named Lorenzo Dow. He professed to be a preacher in regular calling, but he was claimed by no denomination, although he rather favored the Methodist persuasion. He was a man of peculiar personal appearance, very rough in speech, yet possessed of much originality. On one oacasion he was invited to fill the pulpit of a Methodist church at the North End, when, after surveying his audience quietly for a few moments, he announced as his text the words: "Top Not, Come Down!" His listeners were much astonished at his text, and still more at his sermon, which was a tirade against the prevailing fashion of gathering the hair into a high knot on the top of the head. After the sermon quite a number of the principal members came to him, saying: "Mr. Dow, we thought you preached from the Bible, and there are no such words in the book." He answered: Please look at Matt. xxiv, 17, 'Let him which is in the housetop not come down.'"—Boston Budget.

Professional Etiquette

prevents some doctors from advertising their skill, but we are bound by no such conventional rules and think that if we make a discovery that is of benefit to our fellows, we ought to spread the fact to the whole land. Therefore we cause to be published throughout the land the fact that Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is the best known remedy for consumption (scrofula of the lungs) and kindred diseases. Send 10 cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's complete treaties on consumption, with unsurpassed means of self-treatment. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

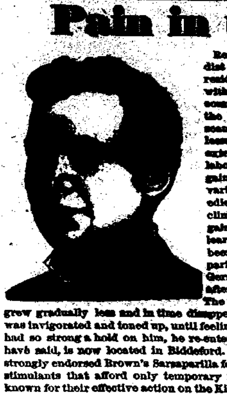
Aged Beauties.

History is full of the accounts of the fascination of women who were no longer young. Thus Helen of Troy was over 40 when she perpetrated the most famous elopement on record, and as the siege of Troy lasted a decade she could not have been very juvenile when the ill fortune of Paris restored her to her husband, who is reported to have received her with unquestioning love and gratitude. Pericles wedded the courtesan Aspasia, when she was 36 and yet she afterwards, for thirty years or more, wielded an undiminished reputation for beauty. Cleopatra was past 30 when Antony fell into her spell, which never lessened until her death, nearly ten years after; and Livia was 33 when she won the heart of Augustus, over whom she maintained her ascendancy to the last.

The Indians on a Digger reservation, a Western journal states, had a big dance one evening recently, to which many whites were invited. A number of them went in and witnessed the dance, but, upon attempting to leave, they found the old chief at the door, who told them it cost nothing to go in, but it would cost 25 cents a head to get out.

[illegible]

Pain in the Back.



Rev. Theodore Gerrish, now settled over a Methodist church in Biddeford, Me., was formerly a resident of Bangor. While there he became afflicted with Kidney Disease. The symptoms of this too common trouble are a drawing down pain across the back extending downwards towards the loins, scanty and high colored urine, a tired feeling, restlessness, etc. These Mr. Gerrish had to such an extent as to make it impossible to continue his labors and he resigned, devoting his time to the regaining of his health. To this end he employed various physicians, tried many of the so called remedies, visited different places hoping a change of climate might improve his condition, but failed to gain the desired relief. Returning to Bangor he learned from a member of his family that one had been greatly benefited by the use of Brown's Sarsaparilla, and was advised to give it a trial. Mr. Gerrish did so, and to his great surprise found, after a few days, that his condition had improved. The tired feeling left him, the pains across the back grew gradually less and in time disappeared; he rested well at night; the whole system was invigorated and toned up, until feeling that he was free from the Kidney disease that had so strong a hold on him, he re-entered upon the duties of the ministry, and, as we have said, is now located in Biddeford. In addition to his testimonial Mr. Gerrish has strongly endorsed Brown's Sarsaparilla for the reason that it is not composed of alcoholic stimulants that afford only temporary relief, but of pure vegetable productions well known for their effective action on the Kidneys, Liver and Blood.

Brown's Sarsaparilla

Is for sale everywhere for $1; 6 bottles for $5. Ara Warren & Co., Proprietors, Bangor, Me.

"THE STANDARD."

H.W.JOHNS' ASBESTOS
BOILER COVERINGS
ASBESTOS CEMENT FELTING.
AIR-CHAMBER COVERING.
LOCOMOTIVE LAGGING.
ASBESTOS LINING FELT.

Samples and Illustrated Pamphlet "Steam Saving and Fire-Proof Materials" Free by Mail.

H. W. JOHNS MANUFACTURING CO.,

SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF

H.W. Johns' Fire and Water-Proof Asbestos Roofing, Sheathing, Building Felt, Asbestos Steam Packings, Boiler Coverings, Roof Paints, Fire-Proof Paints, etc.

VULCABESTON. Moulded Piston-Rod Packing, Rings, Gaskets, Sheet Packing, etc.

Established 1858. 87 MAIDEN LANE, NEW YORK. CHICAGO, PHILADELPHIA, LONDON.

Pleasant for the Critic.

You know the man who always wants your opinion of him or something he's done, the candid truth, and then quarrels with you for giving it to him. He has various methods, but this is one of the neatest I've heard for a long time for a judicious hint. A celebrated artist in New York had just finished a picture. Artists don't like to be advertised. It is for love of art they paint, and they are hurt if their name gets into the newspapers favorably. The picture had been on show in his studio in a private way, and the painter called upon an art critic of a big New York daily, an old friend of his. He found him very glad to see him of course,

'I want you to come and take a look at my new picture,' said he. 'It's just finished.

'I'll be delighted, certainly.'

'I've only one thing to ask. We've been close friends for years, and, of course, that may influence you. But I don't want it to. I want you to lay aside all recollection of our friendship; look upon me simply as a painter who painted a picture. I want you to come to my studio and give me a cold-blooded criticism of the work. I've just licked one fellow who said he didn't like it.'—San Francisco Chronicle.

The new combination of Smart Weed and Belladonna, as used in Carter's Backache Plasters has proved to be one of the best that could be made. Try one of these popular plasters in any case of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, neuralgia, soreness of the chest or lungs, &c., and you will be surprised and pleased by the prompt relief. In bad cases of chronic dyspepsia, a plaster over the pit of the stomach stops the pain at once. Ask for Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents.

The Way of the World.

Anxious Daughter—"Mother, did papa have his salary increased when he was married?

Omaha Matron—"No, my child."

"I don't suppose he had any money saved up, did he?"

"Not a penny; he spent all he earned."

"Did you get along camfortably?"

"We were very happy."

"Well, you know, George hasn't been able to save a cent, but"——

"See here, if that poverty stricken fellow dares to show his face here again I'll get your father to kick him out."—Omaha World.

Derangement of the liver, with constipation, injure the complexion, induce pimples, sallow skin, etc. Remove the cause by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One a dose.

Brevities.

Just out—The spring chicken.

Visibly affected—A blind man.

A gentleman of polish—A boot-black,

An active member—A circus acrobat.

A marked change—Trading for a branded horse.

A stern wheeler—An austere personage on a bicycle.

A parting injunction—"Right down the middle, barber."

"A soft answer turneth away wrath"—Few of us care to kick a fool.

Hard to discourage—Toe banana; the public has always sat down on it.—Detroit Free Press.

The extraordinary popularity of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the natural result of its use by all classes of people for over forty years. It has proven itself the very best specific for colds, coughs, and pulmonary complaints.

[illegible]

GRAPOLINE

CURES

Headache,
Constipation,
Dyspepsia and Rheumatism.

TRIAL SIZE

25 Cents.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

How Hawks and Owls Eat.

Captain Tom Langston, who is one of Atlanta's most enthusiastic sportsmen, says: Did you ever notice a hawk or an owl preparing to make a meal on a bird? The difference in their methods is very great. A hawk will first pick all the feathers off the bird and then tear it to pieces as the bird is devoured. He goes at it in a very systematic and dainty manner. Not so with an owl. After killing the bird the owl swallows it whole, feathers and all. He then sits quietly, and in an hour or so you will see the owl move his neck about as if trying to untangle a knot in it. Then he will sort of hump up his back, lower his head and the next moment a ball of feathers will roll out of his mouth. The operation shows that the owl divests the bird of its feathers after swallowing it, while the hawk plucks every feather and quill before he takes a bite."—Atlanta Constitution.

Saved His Life.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years, badly affected with Phthisic, also Diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from first bottle and after taking six bottles, was entirely cured, and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by R. E. Phillips.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886,

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & CO.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable, I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Ingraham's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
33 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE,
OSWEGO, N. Y.,
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Streets.
Centrally located in the business part of the city.
Prices Reasonable.
Commodious Sample Rooms.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c,
Fulton N. Y.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
☞Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

EUREKA CATARRH REMEDY,
NO SALVE! NO SNUFF! NO WASH!
The only internal specific. Cures—not as an irritant or astringent, but by directing the gentle life giving forces of the organism to the part affected. Tasteless and pure. Children take it without difficulty. Price 50 cents by mail.
EUREKA MED. CO. SHARON, PA.

YOU can live at home and make more money at work for us, than at anything else in this world. Capital not needed; you are started free. Both sexes; all ages anyone can do the work. Large earnings sure from first start. Costly outfit and terms free. Better not delay. Costs you nothing to send us your address and find out; if you are wise you will do so at once.
H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Me.

MAKE
HENS
LAY.
SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER
is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. It is strictly a medicine to be given with food. Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. It cures chicken cholera and all diseases of hens. It is worth its weight in gold. Illustrated book by mail free. [illegible] Send stamps. [illegible]
DR. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

LADIES, [illegible] Ranges twice a year, tops once a week and you have the finest polish stove in the world. For sale by all Grocers and Stove dealers.

[illegible]

Winter Exposure Causes Coughs,
Colds, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Pneumonia, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache and other ailments, [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] made known on application [illegible]

[illegible] all kinds neatly and promptly [illegible] reasonable prices.

[illegible] Post-Office at Fulton, N. Y., as [illegible]

Address all communications, on business or publication, to The Times.

F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office or moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[Thackeray.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

In the past few issues of The Times we have endeavored to show to our readers the advantages of placing a non-partisan ticket in the field for village officers, being fully convinced that this was the best way to bring about good village government. This movement has been most favorably received and we leave it now to the worthy citizens to decide whether they care to place in office men who are capable, energetic and liberal minded, who realize that they are placed there to work for the good of the village and its citizens and are able to do this with discretion and judgment. No good citizen should refuse to accept office if given to him in this way and probably none would.

In one week from to-day the opportunity will have come and gone for accomplishing this and it behooves all who believe in good, clean village government to give it their earnest attention. The village politicians are the ones that have worked, made up slates, placed men as candidates who will run best without consideration as to their qualifications for the office to which they propose to elect them. Look back to village caucuses and elections in the past and then ask yourself if this is not so. Much is to be done during the coming year that is of importance to the village. Place in power men of judgment—representative men, who are capable of judging what is for the best interests of all concerned and much good will be accomplished. It is high time that the axe holder and the grindstone turner be laid on the shelf and those that have "no axe to grind" take their place in the controlling of village affairs. The Patriot tries to make light of a citizen's ticket, but this was expected of this political organ. It thinks that no good can be accomplished unless through the Republican party.

The public debt during the month of February decreased $1,436,782.

Bradstreet's says the grand total of wages sacrificed by the striker since Jan. 1, 1887, is $8,000,000.

The state senate has passed the bill appropriating $550,000 for the improvement of the state canals.

Three men, Parker, Witherel and Gibbons have been arrested in New York and held on bail for carrying on a claim agent swindle. A great many more of these swindlers should be brought to justice especially the Florida land and orange grove frauds.

Mr. Edison is rapidly recuperating under the genial skies of Florida. He is now at work on his electrical railway invention, but devotes a portion of his time to experimenting on several other queer-looking machines, the purposes and uses of which none but himself understands.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving way to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

Some bold capitalists have started out, with headquarters at Camden, N. J., to compete with the Standard Oil company in the manufacture of cotton seed oil. Their capital is $5,000,000.

Rev. Dr. Powell of Herkimer from fact of his having been the spiritual adviser of Mrs. Druse is a man that is much talked about at the present time. He believes that Mrs. Druse murdered her husband in self defense and that her execution was what he calls a legal murder.

Mr. Beecher's four children are all grown up and married. His eldest son, Colonel Henry Barton Beecher, is a well known insurance man in Brooklyn. Major William C. Beecher is a lawyer, the youngest, Herbert Beecher, is collector of customs at Portland, Oregon. His only daughter is married to a New England clergyman, the Rev. Mr. Scoville.

Indictments against "boodlers" is coming to be quite the proper thing in the largest cities in this country. An investigation is now going on concerning [illegible] of that class. If their [illegible] worked as skillfully as they [illegible] in New York, Chicago will [illegible] of her officials and ex- [illegible] prison bars.

[illegible] President's nomination's [illegible] of Congress [illegible] the Senate [illegible]

[illegible] in the presence of [illegible] family. [illegible] present at the bedside were Col. H. B. Beecher, his wife and his daughters, Hattie and Daisy, and son Henry Ward, Mrs. Edith Beecher, W. C. Beecher and wife, Rev. Samuel Scoville, Mrs. S. Scoville, eldest daughter of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, Miss Scoville, who has just come from the Pacific slope, Miss Bullard, the Rev. S. B. Halliday and wife, deacon S. V. White, E. A. Secoom, one of the trustees of the Plymouth church, and Major S. B. Pond.

Mr. Beecher was taken sick early Friday morning but shortly after fell asleep and his wife thought that nothing was wrong until breakfast time when on going to his bed chamber, she found him unable to speak. The family physician, Dr. Searle, was summoned and found that he had been stricken with apoplexy. Dr. W. A. Hammond, the renowned physician of New York city was called in consultation, but medical skill proved of no avail. He kept slowly sinking until Tuesday at 9:30 a. m., when he breathed his last surrounded by loving friends.

The funeral is to be held to-morrow forenoon at 9:30 in the house and at 11 o'clock in the Holy Trinity church. Burial will be made in Greenwood.

HIS LIFE.

Not quite forty years ago, a struggling congregation of independents, or as they are now known, Congregationalists, in the city of Brooklyn, having organized on the principals of the puritan doctrine, took to themselves the name of "Plymouth church," and extended a unanimous call to Rev. Henry Ward Beecher to become their pastor. He accepted and for forty years has been their minister and spiritual guide. The little church, which then had barely 350 persons in attendance, now has a membership of 3,500 souls, and a weekly attendance of between four and five thousand people.

He was born June 26, 1813, at Litchfield, Conn., where his school days and early life were passed. He entered Amherst college and was graduated with honor, going thence to Lane seminary, of which his father was president. He began his pastorial work in the Presbyterian ministery at Lawrenceburg, Indiana, in 1837, and two years afterward had a church in Indianapolis. In 1847 he was called to his late pastorial at Brooklyn.

A great amount of Mr. Beecher's thoughts have been made public through the press, being nearly his whole life connected with editorial work. Besides the famous "Star papers" in the Independent and his early journalistic adventures, Mr. Beecher assum- the editorship of the Christian Union, which he supported editorally until the present time. He has also been much interested in the Brooklyn Magizine, in which his sermons were regularly printed and to which both his wife and son have contributed articles. He has also written a series of Sunday letters for the New York World, and also contributed occasionally to the columns of his former paper, the Independent, and to the Evening Post.

In the year 1875, when Mr. Beecher was at the hight of his fame and popularity, came the great public trial of Mr. Beecher for alleged improper relations with the wife of Theodore Tilton, one of his parishioners. The history of this trial is yet too familiar in the public mind to need repetition. The jury failed to agree, nine of them being for acquittal, and the popular verdict, when the evidence had been submitted through the newspapers was generally divided. Mr. Beecher's friends stuck by him, and his popularity in his church did not seem to suffer much by the trial. Since that time however, with the general public, he has lost much of the hold on the esteem and affection of the people, which he had won before by his championship of popular rights. Public opinion was bitter and decided on both sides of this question.

Mr. Beecher has generally been Republican in his political beliefs, but in 1884 he joined the mugwump rebellion and became a strong supporter of Mr. Cleveland. He entered into the campaign with great zest speaking and writing in behalf of the Democratic candidate.

Mr. Beecher's writings if collected would fill many volumes. His sermons have been published in book form under the title "The Plymouth Pulpit." He was engaged up to the time of his sudden illness, in completing his "Life of Christ," a work which has been condemned and commended with equal vigor in its first volumes. He also published Lectures to Young Men, Yale Lectures on Preaching, Norwood, a novel, a Volume of Selected Essays, Royal Truths, and one or two others.

Unlike other cathartics, Dr. Pierce's "Pellets" do not render the bowels costive after operation, but on the contrary, establish a perminently healthy action. Being entirely vegetable, no care is required while using them. By druggists.

Gilberts Mills.

A wedding is expected soon in this place.

W. D. Johnson has rented Mrs. Crouch's place again this year.

Harvey Carrier is still very sick.

Almon Mason was on the sick list last week.

There were no services at the F. B. church last Sunday, there being quarterly meeting at Hastings.

John Wilcox spent Sunday with his family at Mallory.

John Johnson is to move into Mr. Mason's house and work for him this summer.

Russell Brockway moves to his former home at Ingall's Crossing, this week.

Almon Mason attended town meeting at Phoenix last week and while there was the guest of his grandson, Dr. Burr Mason. He has been a voter for 70 years.

There were two exciting runaways here last week, one the team of Cyrus Jewett, the other C. Burrett's horse. No serious damage was done in either instance.

Adelbert Bartlett, wife and sister Rilla of Mt. Pleasant visited at G. A. Cannain's and W. D. Johnson's last Friday.

LAUGH.

Laugh if you will, but the person who used Higgins' T. & G. Compound is laughing still. It cured his Cough.

[illegible]

[illegible] things which it should [illegible] it has also done many things well, many things which its predecessors neglected to do. It leaves about 3,000 measures on the calendars of the two Houses as unfinished business, but this was to be expected. Many of them are of an entirely private character and should not have been there. Only about one-fourth of them are of national importance.

About a week ago, so many important bills were behind that an extra session, seemed inevitable. The Senate was berating the House as a sluggard, while the House was villifying the Senate as a spendthrift. Mr. Randall, the chairman of the great Appropriation Committee, was sullen and silent. Mr. Holman, the "great objector," was persistently objecting to everything, leader Reed of the Republican side was joking about the extra session that the Democrats were on the point of hurling themselves into on account of an alleged laziness, Senator Edmunds was declaring that his end of the Capitol would proceed with important bills deliberately if it took all summer, and the Speaker was in great suspense.

It was rumored that a message of complaint from the White House had something to do with starting business. At any rate there was a marvelous change in proceedings all at once. The obstructionists became conciliatory, two of the largest appropriation bills passed the House, several other measures equally important were put right through, the Senate responded without a moment's delay, astonishing progress was made in both ends of the Capitol, and the scare over an extra session was all for nothing.

Citizens of the District of Columbia who objected to the President's appointment of a stranger to be their Recorder of Deeds, are of course loud in his denunciation of his second offence. "Pig-headed;" "obstinate" and "cowardly," are some of the adjectives which have been used to express their opinion of his course in regard to this matter. Interest in the case of the Boston appointee was increased by the fact that the same day he arrived in Washington the Senate committee acted adversely upon his nomination, and then the retiring officer, from Albany, Mr. Matthews, appointed him Deputy Recorder of Deeds.

The last act was very significant. It will make no difference now to Mr. Trotter whether the Senate confirms or rejects him. He can legally hold the office, receive the fees and be the Recorder in reality as long as President Cleveland's term lasts, if no other appointment is made.

The statute under which he was appointed Deputy has no parallel in the United States. Instead of the office expiring with the principal, as is usual with deputies, the law specially provides that the Deputy Recorder of Deeds shall hold office until a new Recorder shall have been appointed.

Lent is being kept here in the usual way. In Washington the fashionable world marks the difference more strongly than in most places. Religion here is more than mode. Many people go to church on week days during Lent. A few even refrain from balls for forty day as well as cards and theatres, and every fashionably inclined woman is careful to keep her spring bonnet out of sight until Easter Sunday.

But that is about all there is of it—at least all that any but the real penitents know. Doubtless there are many who are truly devout and in all that the Lenten season means for such; but these do not pray to be seen of men or take the uppermost seats in the churches. Then, there being no State religion, Government is not affected by Lent or Carnival, though, as Gen. Badeau once remarked, "the politicians, high and low, would take the communion twice a day to get a place or keep one."

Washington is overflowing with visitors. The hotels are so crowded that cots are placed in the hallways for the accommodation of guests. The crowd is larger than it has been at any time during the past winter, thousands of excursionists having come during the last week of Congress to remain until after the adjournment. Of course the President has to shake hands with all these sight-seeing visitors, and as the last days of a session are the busiest of his term, the duties of hospitality have been pressing rather heavily upon him. He has not failed, however, to come down to the East Room at the appointed hour on three days in the week, as usual, and shake hands with the people who have assembled there for that purpose.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

Toledo, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours truly,
L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.
Office, 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Prop.,
Toledo, O.

☞ Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries Cheap is at the sign of the Red store No. 16 First street opposite the Lewis house.

[illegible] J. Cooley Tucker.

[illegible] soul at home and abroad, during the four years' conflict to vindicate a national principle; and he was in blood and sentiment a fitting representative of the forces rendered dominant by the issue of battle, but he exhibited no mean exultation over a fallen foe; rejoicing too much that the nation had been saved, that its destiny still shone, uneclipsed unobscured before it, to indulge a personal or commonplace feeling of victory. His words, like the words of Lincoln on the plain of Gettysburg, were a noble and appropriate comment on the meaning of the mighty struggle.—Syracuse Standard.

Our Daily Bread.

Heavy and sour bread or biscuit has a vast influence through the digestive organs upon the measure of health we enjoy. How important to our present happiness and future usefulness the blessing of good health and a sound constitution are, we can only realize when we have lost them, and when it is too late to repair the damage. Notwithstanding these facts, thousands of persons daily jeopardize not only their health, but their lives, and the healths and lives of others, by using articles in the preparation of their food the purity and healthfulness of which they know nothing. Perhaps a few cents may have been saved, or it may have been more convenient to obtain the articles used, and the housekeeper takes the responsibility and possibly will never know the mischief that has been wrought. Paterfamilias may have spells of headache, the children may have lost their appetites, or look pale; if so, the true cause is rarely suspected. The weather, the lack of outdoor air, or some other cause, is given, and the unwholesome, poisonous system of adulterated food goes on. Next to the flour, which should be made of good, sound wheat and not ground too fine, the the yeast or baking powder, which furnishes the rising properties, is of greatest importance, and of the two we prefer baking powder, and always use the Royal, as we thereby obtain the original taking place. The action of the Royal properties of the wheat, no fermentation Baking Powder upon the dough is simply to swell it and form little cells through every part. These cells are filled with carbonic acid gas, which passes off during the process of baking.

The Royal is made from pure grape acid, and it is the action of this acid upon highly carbonized bicarbonate of soda that generates the gas alluded to; and these ingredients are so pure and so perfectly fitted, tested and adapted to each other, that the action is mild and permanent, and is continued during the whole time of baking, and no residue of poisonous ingredients remains to undermine the health, no heavy biscuits, no sour bread, but if directions are followed, every article will be found sweet and wholesome.

There are many forms of nervous debility in men that yield to the use of Carter's Iron Pills. Those who are troubled with nervous weakness, night sweats, &c., should try them.

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

---

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 28, 1887.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and a full board.

The President presented the following proposition from the Fulton Water Works Company, which was read by the Clerk.

To the Honorable, the Board of Trustees of the Village of Fulton.

We hereby offer to supply the village of Fulton with water for fire purposes through the present hydrants and for public purposes as has been supplied since the first day of January last for fifty (50) dollars per hydrant per year commencing from the first day of January, 1887, and we make this propostion upon the following considerations among others:

First. That if our water works system in Fulton is of no benefit to the village for fire protection or for public purposes then the village should pay nothing for it, but that if the same is of benefit to the village then the village should pay for it what the same is fairly worth—a fair and reasonable price.

Second. That the difference between the unavoidable expenses of the system and the income from all sources for the year ending on the first day of January last exceeded $2500 and it is not possible for the income to meet the expenses for a number of years to come.

Third. That in no instance in this state is a like number of hydrants under similar circumstances furnished to any city or village for less than the price offered.

Fourth. That the taxes upon the system paid annually by the company materially reduce the sum received for hydrant rental.

We firmly believe that this offer is low and certainly fair and reasonable. This price was so regarded by the Board of Trustees but little more than a year since.

We are willing however if this offer does not meet with approval by the Board to submit the question as to what is a fair and reasonable price to arbitration.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Dated Feb'y 28, 1887.

The Fulton Water Works Co
By Giles S. Piper, Sec'y.

Whereupon the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

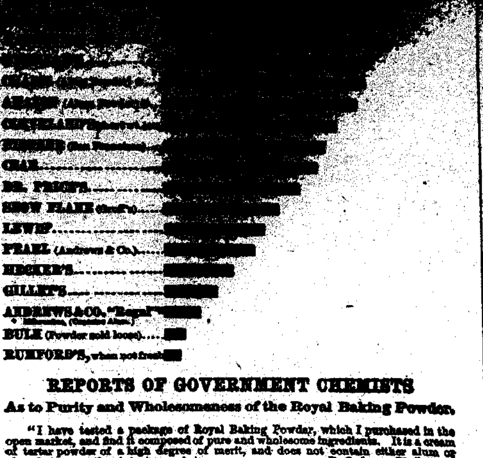
That whereas, At the last annual meeting of the village electors the following resolution was adopted, viz:

"Resolved, That on the expiration of the present contract with the Fulton Water Works Co., before renewal thereof by the Trustees, the question of such a renewal shall be submitted to a vote of the taxpayers." Therefore,

Resolved, That a special meeting of the taxable inhabitants of the village of Fulton be and is hereby called to be held on Thursday, the 24th day of March, 1887., at the rooms of the Trustees, Whitaker block, in the village of Fulton, at which meeting the following resolution will be submitted.

Resolved, That the sum of $1,700—being fifty dollars for each hydrant—for the year commencing Jan. 1st, 1887, [illegible]

Resolved, That the Clerk be and is hereby [illegible]



REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS

As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances. E. G. Love, Ph.D."

"It is a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure.
"H. A. Mott, Ph.D."

"I have examined a package of Royal Baking Powder, purchased by myself in the market. I find it entirely free from alum, terra alba, or any other injurious substance. Henry Morton, Ph.D., President of Stevens Institute of Technology."

"I have analyzed a package of Royal Baking Powder. The materials of which it is composed are pure and wholesome. S. Dana Hayes, State Assayer, Mass."

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1873; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, New York, and at State Fairs throughout the country.

No other article of human food has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from eminent chemists, physicians, scientists, and Boards of Health all over the world.

Note—The above Diagram illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedler. A pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test for worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that, while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any fair minded person of these facts.

* While the diagram shows some of the alum powders to be of a higher degree of strength than other powders ranked below them, it is not to be taken as indicating that they have any value. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous.

To Those Who Stopped Their Paper.

The following, from an exchange, will apply to those persons who became offended at something appearing in the paper and stopped it, imagining that it will cease to exist as a consequence:—"There must be somebody backing that paper, for I ordered my paper stopped and I know three or four more who got mad and stopped theirs, but the blamed paper seems to come out just the same." Foolish man, don't think that because you get on your ear and stop your paper it will make any perceptible difference with the run of the office The same article that you got mad at, tickled half a dozen other men so that they came and subscribed. Always remember that a paper is not run for the benefit of one person, but for all. Go and take a drink out of Lake Superior and then look along the shore and see how much you have lowered the water. When you have ascertained the exact figures, you can put them down as representing pretty accurately just how much you amount to, individually, toward the success or failure of the average newspaper.

I had Stone in the Bladder and Gravel in the Kidneys. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy disintegrated the stone and delivered me from it. I am now well. I should long ago have been six feet under the sod if I had not taken Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.—D.H. Hoag, Lebanon Springs, N. Y. Price $1. Send 2-cent stamp to Dr. Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., for his book on Kidney, Liver and Blood disorders. Mention this paper. 44w4

New Princeton Review.

The March number of the new Princeton Review is in many respects remarkable. The articles upon Napoleon Bonaparte. The Tariff and Victor Hugo, deserve careful reading. Such writers as Henri Taine, Wm. M. Taylor, J. S. Fiske, Brander Matthews and W. P. P. Longfellow, one does not often find grouped in one number of a periodical. The able manner in which the Review is edited and its real merits are deserving of the great success which it has attained. Following is the contents of the March number:

Napoleon Bonaparte. Henri Taine.

Some Political and Social aspects of the Tariff. E. L. Godkin.

The Essentials of Eloquence. W. M. Taylor.

Of the Study of Politics. Woodrow Wilson.

The course of American Architecture. W. P. P. Longfellow.

Victor Hugo. John Safford Fiske.

George Meredith. Flora L. Shaw.

Don Finimondone. E. Cavazza.

Idle Notes of an Uneventful Voyage. Brander Matthews.

Criticisms, Notes and Reviews.—

The Land and Labor Party—Fruitfrom an old tree—The half century of Victoria's reign—The reform of student life in Germany—Lowell's Democracy and other addressee—Alexander's problems of philosophy—Richardson's American literature—Book notices—Books received.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something that is just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

Draper has moved all damaged goods from Oneida street to 34 First street where bargains at ½ actual prices can be had as he has such a large stock of these goods and is bound to close them all out at once, (not at auction) but at private sale which is less noisy and the quickest way. Money will be refunded if any goods are not as they are sold for at No. 34 First St., opposite Clark House.

[illegible]

Trial Jurors.

Following trial jurors have been drawn to serve at the county court and court of sessions at Pulaski, commencing March 14.

O. V. Davis, Theodore Spencer, H. C. Page, Robert Edick, Andrew Fleming, Joseph Maxwell, Johnson Depew, William Peach, William H. Averill, George Weaver, Richland: J. H. Griswold, F. M. Church, John Fuller, Central Square; John Balch, Elvin C. Hoxie, DeWitt Carpenter, Orwell; Cornelius McGee, Daniel Park, John S. Clelland, James Downe, Perry Randall, William Hall, Amboy; Charles Marcellus, Patrick Hopkins, George Webb, Milton Daffer, Gad Deans, Albert Morse, Jr., Constantia; Ranson Mowers, John M. Clawson, Albion; Wilber Jamerson, Edson O Kent, Sandy Creek; Potter P. Soule, Boylston; Clark Vincent, Joseph Ladd, Clark Holsington, Hastings.

The chief topic of conversation in Washington during the past week has been the confirming of Trotter as Recorder of Deeds in the District of Columbia by the Senate. Mr. Trotter is a colored man from Massachusetts, having served in the postoffice at Boston for a number of years. The rejection of Matthews and the confirming of Trotter caused considerable surprise.

D. C. Draper, the grocer, on Friday of last week purchased the store on First street owned by C. R. Nichols, for $6,000 He will occupy it as a grocery and crockery store after April 1st. It is now occupied by Mr. Nichols as a jewelry store and by C. E. Sackett, dry goods, &c. The two latter merchants have not yet decided what they will do after Mr. Draper takes possession.

The most heavily endowed educational institutions in the United States are "Girard college, $10,000,000; Columbia $5,000,000; John Hopkins, $4,000,000; Harvard, $3,000,000; Princeton, $3,500,000; Lehigh, $1,800,000; Cornell, $1,400,000.

SPECIAL MEETING

OF THE

Taxable Inhabitants of the Village of Fulton.

Notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the taxable inhabitants of the Village of Fulton will be held at the Trustees' rooms in the Whitaker Block on Thursday Evening, March 24th, 1887.

At said meeting the following resolution will be submitted and a vote taken thereon.

"Resolved, That the sum of $1,700 be raised by tax upon the taxable property of the village of Fulton, under the proposition of the Fulton Water Works Company, to furnish water for the supply of 34 hydrants and for such other public purposes as heretofore furnished under former contract, for one year from the first day of January, 1887."

☞ Polls open from 7½ to 9½ p. m.—Dated Feb. 28th, 1887. [Signed]

JOHN SHARP, President.

H. H. KENDRICK, D. PARDEE, ALEX BRADFORD. WILLARD JOHNSON, A. P. CHASE, JOHN MORE.	Trustees.

NEW YORK MARKET REPORT.

By Williams & Co., Produce Commission Merchants, 671 Hudson street and 24 Ninth Avenue.

Butter—Market firmer.

Creamery,	Western	31 @ 32
	Elgin	33 @ 34
	Imitation	20 @ 25
Dairy	Eastern ½ ferkin tubs	23 @ 26
	" Dairies Entire	19 @ 24
	" Firkins	18 @ 21
Rolls	Firsts	22 @ 23
	Seconds	13 @ 20

Cheese—Market dull.

New York Cheddar	13¼ @ 13½
New York Part Skims	10½ @ 11½
Penn Skims	2½ @ 3½

Eggs—Market steady.

Fresh Eastern firsts	17
Western fresh	16½ @ 17
Southern	16 @ 16½

Poultry—Market firm.

Live	Fowls State and Western	11 @ 11½
	Ducks per pair	40 @ 80
	Turkeys	10
Dressed	Turkeys	11 @ 12
	Chickens	11 @ 11½
	Ducks	12 @ 13

Potatoes—Market quiet.

Burbanks per 180 lbs	150 @ 162
Peerless	137 @ 150
Hebron	150 @ 162
Rose	165 @ 175

Hay—Market steady.

Timothy prime per 100 lbs	[illegible]
No. 1	[illegible]
No 2	[illegible]
Ordinary	[illegible]
Clover mixed	[illegible]
Clover	[illegible]

Straw.

Rye No. 1	[illegible]
" No. 2	[illegible]
Oat	[illegible]
Wheat	[illegible]

[illegible]

Advices received by the Canadian Department of Agriculture indicate that the influx of emigrants from Europe to Canada will be greater this year than ever. The rush is expected to begin early in April.

The London Spectator says that war between Austria and Russia is not far off. "Without some new event, such as may entirely upset calculations, or some entirely new combination, due to Bismark's audacity, we can only acknowledge sorrowfully that war approaches fast."

The jury in the Myers infanticide case at Oneida brought in a verdict charging that the child met a violent death by a blow on the head from the hands of his parents, and recommending that both parents be held to await the May term of court on a charge of murder in the first degree. Mrs. Myers is prostrated and may not recover.

Startling developments are expected in the case of Mrs. Sarah E. Robinson, the Somerville poisoner. Within the past five weeks the bodies of others of her supposed victims, dating back six or seven years, have been exhumed, and the investigation shows that death in every case was caused by arsenic. There is proof thus far of at least ten murders which she is supposed to have committed.

News received from Afghanistan, through native sources, shows that the Ameer is making strenuous efforts to raise a new army. All boys between the age of ten and eighteen are being drilled for military service, and all who have reached the age of eighteen years are being enrolled in the army. The Ameer has issued a circular to his subjects telling them to prepare for a holy war. It is believed that he contemplates a war against Russia.

Rev. Dr. Powell, the spiritual adviser of Roxalana Druse, preached her funeral sermon at Herkimer Sunday. It was a remarkable production, giving his views against capital punishment, expressing the belief that the commission of the crime was due to an evil nature engendered by her husband's atheism. He denied the stories about Mrs. Druse's impure life and censured the newspapers for misrepresenting her. He claimed that naturally Mrs. Druse was a woman of a loving disposition. He complained especially of the exaggerated accounts of her execution and the manner in which the woman met her death. He ended by characterizing the execution as a murder. The sermon attracted a large audience and made a sensation.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

The Board of Supervisors this year will have 17 Republican and 12 Democratic members. Last year there were 18 Republicans and 11 Democrats.

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the Novelty Custom Mill recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t26

The Cosmopolitan

The handsomest, most entertaining, low price, illustrated family magazine in the world. ($2.50 per year, with a $2.25 premium free.) Sixty-four beautifully printed pages in each number, filled with short stories, sketches, travels, adventures, bright and brief scientific and literary articles, by distinguished American and foreign writers, such as Julian Hawthorne, Harriet Prescott Spofford, George Parsons Lathrop, Louise Chandler Moulton, J. Macdonald Oxley, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, H. H. Boyesen, Catherine Owen, Rev. R. Heber Newton, Alphonse Daudet, Paul Heyse, Count Tolstoi, Th. Dostoivsky, William Westall and many others. Also entertaining JUVENILE and invaluable HOUSEHOLD departments. One or more illustrated articles and several full-page engravings in every number.

A Shannon Letter and Bill File or a Shannon Sheet-Music Binder Free to every Subscriber.

These premiums sell everywhere for $2.25 each. The File is the most perfect device ever invented for the preservation and classification (alphabetically and according to date) of all letters, bills, etc. Any paper can be referred to, taken out and put back without disturbing the others. With the Binder one can insert or take out any piece of music without disturbing any other sheet.

Get SAMPLE COPY at NEWS STAND or send 20 Cents to publishers,

AGENTS WANTED. BIG COMMISSIONS PAID.

Schlicht & Field Co., Rochester, N.Y.

F. A. NORTH & CO., 1308 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa., keep Everything in the musical Line. Sheet Music Music Books. All the Foreign and American Editions. Pianos and Organs, by the best known makers, sold on liberal terms. Catalogues sent on application. Mention this paper. 44w3

WE BUY Potatoes, Apples, Hay, Beans, Eggs, Produce, Dried Fruits. And Sell on Commission. Write us fully for Prices.

Hatheway & Co.,
22 Central Wharf, Boston,
GENERAL COMMISSION DEALERS.
Established 1873. Members Chamber of Commerce. 44y1

WORK FOR ALL. Permanent employment given to energetic men and women everywhere. $30 a week and expenses paid. Samples worth $5 and all particulars sent free. Address at once P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Maine. Don't miss this chance. Write to-day.

SALESMEN WANTED to canvass for the sale of Nursery Stock! Steady employment guaranteed. SALARY AND EXPENSES PAID. Apply at once, stating age. Refer to this paper.

Chase Brothers, Rochester, N. Y. 40m3

$22.00 worth of CHOICE MUSIC FOR $1.00

Send us $1.00 and we will mail you NORTH'S PHILA. MUSICAL JOURNAL, One Year. We give every subscriber $22.00 worth of Sheet Music selected from our catalogue as a premium, and publish in the Journal, during the year, music which would cost in sheet form, $20.00, possibly more, thus every subscriber receives $42.00 worth of music for $1.00. [illegible]

[illegible] F. A. NORTH & CO., [illegible]

[illegible] Sarsaparilla. This preparation is [illegible] effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, D. D. S., M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Johnson, 383 Atlantic ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Price $1; six bottles, $5.

HAVE YOU never felt strangely tired, restless or uneasy? Have you had pains shooting through the head, along the limbs or around the back? Have you experienced strange sensations for which you could not account? And do you know that all these things arise from diseased kidneys, which, unless promptly cured will run into Bright's disease and end in Death? The Kidneys are the seat of nine-tenths of all the diseases of to-day!!

The F. E. C. Kidney Remedy is an absolute cure for these troubles, and is guaranteed by the druggists who sell it. It is especially valuable for Female Troubles. Every mother, every wife, every nervous and overworked woman, whose life is made miserable by sufferings peculiar to her sex, should know that of all the medicines ever sold, the F. E. C. is the first and only Remedy that guarantees relief or refunds the money. It is effectual, as thousands of testimonials will prove.

Sold by all Dealers everywhere.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

—FOR THE—

HOLIDAY SEASON!

SNOW & LOOMIS,

have a fine assortment of

POCKET CUTLERY,
CARVERS, SKATES,
SCISSORS and ROBES.
—Also a Novelty in—
FUR RUGS.

EUREKA FROST CURE.

FOR FROZEN FEET, EARS, NOSE, AND CHILBLAINS.

Made from Agaricus, a moss growing in the frigid regions of the north. A sure Cure. By mail 50c.

EUREKA MED. CO.,
Sharon, Pa.

36mos 3

BARGAINS IN REAL ESTATE.

Below will be found a partial list of the Farms Houses and Lots and other property I offer for sale for chash or its equivalent:

Farm	acres	from		to	per	acre
"	25	"	$175	"	$125	"
"	100	"	65	"	48	"
"	45	"	100	"	35	"
"	210	"	40	"	30	"

House and lot	street	per cent	below value
" " "	Oneida	20	"
" " "	Seneca	20	"
" " "	Sixth	20	"
" " "	Erie	20	"
" " "	Cayuga	10	"
" " "	"	10	"
" " "	Oswego City	33⅓	"
Country store		40

This last mentioned is within 3 miles of [illegible] railroad stations. Good Store, Barn and one [illegible] of land. Good location for business. [illegible] abroad. Can use funds to better advantage [illegible] where.

Parties desiring to exchange, sell, or [illegible] are invited to call or correspond with [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:18 a. m.
Day Express	12:10 p. m.
Day Express	[illegible] p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	6:57 p. m.
Evening Express	8:44 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. Schwarz, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:06 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:05 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	7:50 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE,"

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:31	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19p.m.	3:39	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 8 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

M. B. Schenck of New Haven, Conn., is in town.

Miss Nellie Emens visited friends in Hannibal last week.

L. W. Steele formerly a resident of this village is in town.

Mrs. Lawrence is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Slauson, at Mexico.

J. T. Sheridan of Toronto, Canada is in Fulton for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Pratt have returned from their Southern trip.

Mrs. H. C. Foster of Canandaigua, is visiting with her mother, Mrs. Sharp.

Miss Cora Brown of Ithaca, is the guest of Miss Gertrude Dada for a short time.

Stewart Gray of Livingston county visited his sister, Mrs. A. G. Gilbert last week.

Miss Anna Printy who came here from Bradford, Pa., to bury her mother has returned.

Mrs. John Waugh and sons of Phœnix are visiting in town the guests of Mrs. James Elder.

Miss Elizabeth Lyon, of St. Louis, Mo., a former resident is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. R. J. Landon of Schenectady is visiting her sister, Mrs. F. D. VanWagenen for a few days.

The condition of J. Cooley Tucker is somewhat improved being now able to sit up for about an hour each day and eating some solid food. He has been sick for nearly four months.

Mrs. Marcus Schenck and daughter of this village, Mrs. H. H. Markley of Cedar Rapids, Iowa and Miss Alice Schenck all passed a few days with their sister, Mrs. Levi Brackett at Hannibal Centre last week.

O. J. Jennings is soon to go to Richmond, Va., where he has a contract to do dredging in the James River. He has rented his farm together with the stock for a term of three years to Frederick Petrie.

5c. 16 pages Band music paper.
Jones' Music Store.

Now is the time to buy a Shawl at your own price. Only a few left. C. E. SACKETT.

Scranton Coal is conceded to be the best for domestic use. We will give you better prices than any other dealers in town. SCHENCK & FOSTER.

Draper is closing out his large stock [illegible]

The shell pin, set with gems, and ha[illegible]ing a pearl resting in the centre, worthy of special mention.

Watch cases in oxidized silver simul[illegible] Medusa or confused snaky forms, oft[illegible] approaching the hideous.

A dragon fly the body being compo[illegible]ed of a row of emeralds and the win[illegible] of diamonds makes a brilliant and show[illegible] pin.

Silver crescents set with graduat[illegible] moon stones, backed by green, blue [illegible] red foils, were noticed in a fine wind[illegible] display.—Jeweler's Weekly.

THE PROPER THING.

Blouse-waists will be largely worn [illegible] girls four years old and upward.

Sailor hats of felt and patent leath[illegible] have been introduced by the girl of t[illegible] period.

For wool dresses are galloons a[illegible] pointed braids made of narrow plait[illegible] mohair braid.

Girls of two to six years will contin[illegible] to wear short waisted dresses with fu[illegible] long skirts.

Roman sashes, which used to be [illegible] fashionable are coming back again wi[illegible] much rapidity.

The new feature of passementeries [illegible] metal cords of all colors to match t[illegible] dress fabric twined among coral bead[illegible]

It will pay you, and get first class work at

DARROW'S GALLERY!
Satisfaction guaranteed.
42tf

CLOSING OUT.

As I am obliged to move my stock on April 1st, I wish to reduce it as much as possible and offer the entire stock

Regardless of Price,

Until that time. If you want

BARGAINS

—IN—

Clocks,

Watches,

[illegible]

[illegible] every question passed and the [illegible] by no means easy. The results of [illegible] studies show up to almost an added advantage. The result of this state examination shows that Fulton has a school and a corps of teachers of which all may well feel proud. The following is a complete list of the pupils that passed and the subjects in which they passed:

GEOGRAPHY.

Miss E. Wheeler,
Henry P. Whitman,
Grace E. Showers,
Wm. Skeel,
Orley Brownell,
Carrie E. Crockford,
Carrie S. Bridge,
Mamie Draper,
Harry L. Waugh,
Mabel E. Osborne,
Albert N. LaPorte,
J. Maxon Vincent,
Adelbert Vincent,
Geo. N. Rowley,
Adelia Tifkins,
Luther Carrier,
Hattie Dunham,
Daisy M. George,
Judson Foster,
Frank Dilts,
Susan Graham,
Harriet C. Whitaker.

GRAMMAR.

Fred Summerville,
Grace E. Showers,
Mamie Kumber,
Anna L. Fowler,
Orley Brownell,
Wm. Skeele,
Carrie B. Rogers,
Mamie Hubbard,
Almon C. LaDu,
Hattie Dunham.

SPELLING.

Ira B. Kyle,
Amy Burdick,
Frank R. Carrier,
Emma Allport,
Gertie Baker,
Adella Fifkins,
Geo. E. Mason,
Lora Stevens,
J. Maxon Vincent,
Frank Turpening,
Grace Seymour,
Homer Willard,
Alice Wilbur,
Fred B. Trask,
Eddie Doyle,
Ernest Taylor,
Ray Kellogg,
Clinton Foster,
Maude Chrysler,
Jessie Fairbank,
Ellen Brannan,
Mary T. Draper,
Harriet Whittaker,
Killie Ward,
Bert Bennett,
Albert N. LaPorte,
Edna McCully,
W. B. Acker,
Ross Curtiss,
Luther Carrier,
Grace Althouse,
Hattie Dunham,
Arthur Hubbard,
Della Shattuck,
Adelbert Vincent,
Mason Turpening,
Wm. Skeele,
Reuben S. Pierce,
May Wellver,
Orla Brownell,
Clarence Babcock,
Juddie Foster,
Mabel Lester,
Chas. Fisher,
Bessie Green,
Harry Nichols,
Ida M. Fanning,
Harry L. Waugh,
Lucia Emerick,
Frank B. Dilts,
Carrie Bridge,
Mabel Osborne,
Susan P. Graham,
Lena White.

ALGEBRA.

Anna May Bristol,
Frances DeGraw,
Herbert Flaxington,
Nellie E. Hartnett,
Herbert C. Howe,
Grace Lamson,
Bert Loomis,
Lillian Lake,
Arthur Newman,
Lota Perry,
Albert Satterlee,
Bertha Taylor,
Mal Betts,
Georgia Emeny,
Georgia M. Grigson,
J. Harry Howe,
Sidney Kelley,
Victor J. Loomis,
Mack Lathrop,
Wm. McMahon,
Albert H. Perkins,
Eva M. Rowley,
Addie Schenck,
Mabel Waugh.

ARITHMETIC.

Kittie Maynard,
Grace Osborne,
Anna L. Fowler,
Frank Turpening,
Hattie Dunham,
Caschus Hill,
Geo. M. Ives,
Maggie McCann,
Ralph Hubbard,
Ward Flaxington,
Blanche E. Kelly,
Wm. H. Skeel,
Arthur Hubbard,
Mason Turpening,
Carrie E. Crockford,
Mattie Vant,
Mamie Kimber,
Orley Brownell,
Clarence Wright,
Eddie J. Breeds.

CHEMISTRY.

Edith Emens,
Clara Hart,
Lydia Matson,
Arthur Newman,
Albert Satterly,
Georgia Grigson,
Sidney Kelley,
Edw. A. Merriam,
Dee W. Pierce,
Wm. Townsend.

GEOMETRY,

Sara Matson,
Victor J. Loomis,
Cleveland Harding,
Luella Fulford,
Lydia Matson,
Eva Rowley,
Albert Perkins,
Carrie Stowe,
Ellen M. Royce,
Clara Hart,
Nellie Hartnett,
Albert Satterlee,
John Phillips,
Edith Emens,
Mabel Waugh.

POLITICAL ECONOMY.

Willard Ball,
Homer Marsh,
John Phillips.

PHILOSOPHY.

Dee W. Pierce

PHYSIOLOGY.

W. B. Acker,
Orla Brownell,
Chas. Bennett,
Velma J. Coe,
Martin Crahan,
Mary Crahan,
Myrtis Gilbert,
Ralph Hubbard,
Kittie Maynard,
Geo. N. Rowley,
John B. Stephens,
William H. Skeele,
J. Maxon Vincent,
Clarance Wright,
Amy Wilson.
Mark Andrews,
Mabel Baker,
Margaret Dudley,
Rosa Cheeney,
Anna L. Fowler,
Fred Gilbert,
Arthur Hubbard,
Willie McCrea,
Kittie McDonough,
Carrie Rosenbloom,
Willie Schenck,
Grace E. Showers,
Adelbert Vincent,
Frank Woodall,

ROMAN HISTORY.

Dee W. Pierce,
John H. Phillips,
E. Raleigh Mosher,
Mack Lathrop,
Mary A. Merriam,
Edward A. Merriam,
Albert H. Perkins,
Homer P. Marsh,
Victor J. Loomis,
Cleveland E. Harding,
Willard E. Ball,
Frances M. DeGraw.

CÆSAR'S COM.

Luella Fulford,
Edith Emens,
Bertha Taylor,
Louis Emerick,
Homer Marsh,
Anna May Bristol.

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY.

Noah Merriam,
Herbert Flaxington,
Lydia Matson,
Harry Butler,
Louis Emerick.
Herbert Howe,
Carrie Stowe,
Harry Howe,
Nellie Hartnett,
Clara Hart.

CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

Cleveland Harding,
Fred Summerville,
Harry Howe,
Herbert Howe,
Clara Hart,
Wm. G. Townsend.
Fred G. Hewitt,
Victor J. Loomis,
Bert Loomis,
William Bennett,
Emma Hart,

RHETORIC.

Wm. G. Townsend,
Albert H. Perkins,
Mack Lothrop,
Herbert Howe.
Albert Saterlee,
E. A. Merriam,
Victor J. Loomis,

AMERICAN HISTORY.

Fred Summerville,
Clara E. Payne,
Martin Crahan,
Bert Loomis,

MORAL PHILOSOPHY.

E. A. Merriam,
John Phillips.
Homer Marsh,

BOOK KEEPING.

Wm. G. Bennett.

The New Board of Supervisors.

The next board will be composed of the following members:

Albion, T. M. Castello, R., rep. gain.
Amboy, Millard Nelson, Dem. gain.
Boylston, Geo. N. Shafty, Rep.
Constantia, O. Getman R.*
Granby, Marvin Thompson, D. gain.
Hannibal, L. P. Barrett, R.*
Hastings, Geo. P. Elliot, R. gain.
Mexico, Myron W. Collins, R.
New Haven, Geo. W. Whitney, R.*
Oswego city, First ward, Stephen Murphy, Dem.; Second ward, Jas. Connors, Dem.; Third ward, A. Salladin, jr., Dem.; Fourth ward, A. A. Wellington, Rep.; Fifth ward, Benj. Baker, Rep. Sixth ward, Obadiah Wiley, Rep.; Seventh ward, Fred E. Sayer, Rep. Eighth ward, John Horan, Dem.*
Orwell, A. E. Olmstead, Rep.
Oswego Town, L. P. Taylor, Dem. gain.
Parish, Fowler H. Berry, Dem.*
Palermo, D. H. Tremble, Rep.*
Redfield, L. L. Flemming, Dem.*
Richland, L. R. Muzzy, Rep.*
Sandy Creek, G. N. Salisbury, Rep. gain.
Scriba, Amos Allport, Rep.*
Schroeppel, John O'Brien, Dem. [illegible]
Volney, W. B. [illegible]
[illegible]

---

300 Pairs [illegible] and Slippers. Consisting of [illegible] and Single pair lots, and Wool Lined Goods.

Above goods will be offered until closed out. At

A. E. NETTLETON'S.

Advertise in THE TIMES.

Town meeting is over now comes village election.

Call at THE TIMES office to get your auction bills printed.

Charles Ballard of this village has rented the Cheney place at Granby Centre.

Mr. Switz Conde's steam yacht "Ruth" arrived in Jacksonville Florida last Friday.

The great orator, George R. Wendling will be at the opera house next Tuesday evening.

We are indebted to Hon. H. C. Howe for the annual report of the Comptroller of the State of New York.

The Fulton "Crumbs" held the fourth of their series of delightful parties at Church's hall last Friday evening.

Clara Louise Kellogg and her renowned operatic company are soon to appear at the Stephens opera house.

The Sixty-fifth quarterly session of the Oswego county lodge I. O. of G. T. is being held at Sandy Creek, to-day.

A delegation of forty from Oswego Falls attended the entertainment at the Congregational church in Lysander last Friday evening.

Central Square is now connected by telephone with Mexico, Pulaski, Parish and Brewerton. The line will soon be extended to Syracuse.

On our 2d page to-day will be found a striking and instructive illustration of the comparative worth of baking powders now in the market.

If any subscriber who took advantage of our February offer has not received their books they will confer a favor by notifying us at once of the fact.

The work of making a new cherry front and lowering the floor of the Tucker block on First street is now in progress, under the supervision of Geo. Emeny.

The Hannibal Reveille which is now consolidated with the Hannibal News was founded 21 years ago as a three column, four paged monthly by Dr. G. V. Emens of this village.

LOST—On Sunday, Feb. 28, a pair of gold spectacles, either in the Presbyterian church or on Cayuga or First street. The owner will be pleased to reward the finder for returning them to this office.

Dr. Taylor the Celebrated Optician of 27 years practice is again in this village, and will wait upon the citizens and give them an opportunity to purchase spectacles from his immense stock. Also has rooms at the Clark house.

The snow storm in this vicinity last Saturday night was very severe for this season of the year. Many Fultonians were surprised to find on Sunday, snow drifts around their dwellings and in the streets many of which were three or four feet high.

Town meeting is over and some are scarcely able as yet to see how some things turned out as they did. Some men received such a shock when the result was announced that they have not fully recovered yet. The ways of the heathen Chinese are mighty "onsartain" but probably not so much so as politics.

Attention is called to the notice of a special election which will be found in another column. The election will take place on Thursday evening March 24 and will be a vote upon the water works question. It is an important question and the taxpayers of the village should give it their careful consideration.

There seems to be no doubt but that the locks that are being enlarged in the Oswego canal will be completed by the time that navigation opens. The stones in the lock walls are being laid. Superintendent Shannahan and the state board of engineers make weekly visits to the points where the work is in progress.

Major Brown and Lieut. Montague through the medium of the Oswego Falls Observer inform the public that the Salvationists that have taken up their headquarters at Hannibal are in no way connected with the army in this village. They warn the people against them and say they are holding meetings to make money, not to convert souls.

The snow storm on Saturday night was the most severe for railroading on the Ontario & Western line this winter. While bucking a bank near Trout Brook in Delaware county, a snowplow jumped the track and went down an embankment thirty feet into Beaverkill stream, carrying with it seven men. Two were painfully injured. Travel was resumed Sunday night.

About 25 of the relatives and friends of Mrs. L. Rude met at her home in Lower Oswego Falls last evening, the occasion being her fortieth birthday, and a complete "surprise." Refreshments were served, which, with games, stories, music and other amusements the evening was spent, much to the enjoyment of all present. At a late—or rather an early hour, the guests departed, wishing her many more anniversaries of the same order.

F. M. Darrow will make cabinet photographs at $2.50 per doz. No change in quality of material or work. Patriot block, cor. of Second and Oneida streets Fulton, N. Y. 41w2.

W. M. Cook, [illegible], Fulton, N. Y. Orders left at American express office and Midland depot will be promptly [illegible] 44tf.

[illegible]

It Was a Comfortable Chair.

On Monday night a royal good time was had at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bristol of Granby Centre, although Sunday school people and several from Fulton were there. Such visiting, such eating and such a supper to eat only Granby Centre people can get up, only fifteen kinds of the choicest cake you ever put between your lips. Why were the people there? Because they wished to show their appreciation of the willing and efficient service rendered them by their Sunday school superintendent Wm. F. Buck of Fulton who has braved all storms, layed aside personal ease, and appeared at his post every Sunday with a word of welcome to each. In the program Mr. Buck was to call out the Fultonians for short speeches the first being Rev. W. Dempster Chase and as he stepped forward a very handsome easy chair was brought from the adjoining room, which gave Rev. Chase a partial subject for his remarks and the other subject was Mr. Buck and every body said enthusiastically he did justice to his subject. He certainly did by one, as he seemed so much used up he could hardly speak at first. Recovering, however, he neatly acknowledged the beautiful gift from the warm hearted people. A short speech from F. E. Bacon indicated that the fifteen kinds of cake he ate only had a stimulating effect. R. E. Phillips and Robert McCully made speeches. We say heartily, success to the good efforts of Mr. Buck and the Granby Centre people.

Some of the Changes April Will Bring.

A large number of changes of location will occur in the business portion of the village on April 1st. The Gardner block on Oneida street will be occupied by C. E. Sackett who will have the whole of the west half and by C. R. Nichols, the jeweler, and D. C. More & Co., ready made clothiers. W. P. Osborne will occupy a part of R. E. Phillips' drug store. Draper will move into the store he recently purchased now occupied by Messrs. Nichols and Sackett. M. M. Williams will move into the McCully building on Oneida street K. F. Salmon into the store on First street formerly occupied by C. C. Marchant, and D. L. Spooner is to vacate the Patriot block.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Eliza Hutton, died on Sunday last at her home on Oneida street, in the eastern part of the village, aged 67 years. Funeral services were held yesterday at the house Rev. Mr. Chase and Rev. Mr. Fulford officiating.

Mrs. Eliza Pierce, mother of R. D. Pierce of Hinmanville died March 1st of erysipelas in the 84th year of her age. The funeral services were held on Thursday at Bundy's Crossing where interment was made.

THE acting Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Fairchild, has made arrangements for the redemption of trade dollars at all sub-treasuries and at the treasury at Washington.

T. D. Lewis continues to sell stove and chestnut coal delivered, at $4.65 per ton. Notwithstanding the raise to $5.00 by other dealers. 39tf

The executors of the late David Van Buren are to sell at public auction at his late residence in the town of Volney on Thursday March 17th at 10 a. m. a large amount of stock, farm produce, farming utensils &c. This is an excellent opportunity for persons desiring to purchase. 44tf.

We have a few patterns of Black Silks which we will sell at a bargain. C. E. SACKETT.

House and Lot for Sale.

At N. E. Corner of the park and occupied by Mrs. Laycock. Enquire of Mrs. Laycock on the premises, or of H. E. Nichols. 43tf.

NOTICE.

Call at Bacon's and get the pocket book and other articles you lost day before yesterday on 3d street.

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 30tf.

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

FARMERS, ATTENTION!

Buy the celebrated Leihi Valley stove and chestnut Coal at $4.40 per ton, of T. D. Lewis. Yards opposite gas works. 39tf

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w18

Do not pay $5.00 per ton for coal when you can buy it for $4.65 of T. D. Lewis. 39tf

Maple sugar weather.

Subscribe for THE TIMES.

It unlawful to catch brook trout until May 1st.

Over ten hours of work can now be done by daylight.

How was last Sunday for a balmy, mild spring day anyway?

The Howe Ventilating Stove Works are again in full operation.

Post Schenck G. A. R., is to have a social on Tuesday evening, the 22d inst.

James White, oldest son of John White, is at his home in this village on a visit.

The March days thus far this spring have been rather lively and "onpleasant" so to speak.

The new Gardner block will be completed and ready for its occupants by April first.

The schools will close its winter term on Friday. There will be a vacation of two weeks.

The new Board of Supervisors will have 14 members of the old Board of '86 this number having been re-elected.

Another M. D. has put in his appearance at the home of Dr. G. G. Whitaker of Oswego Falls. He was born last week Friday.

The first session of the Utica district conference, presided over by Rev. W. F. Markham, was held in Utica last Monday.

The country roads in this vicinity have been badly blockaded, a result of the large fall of snow and heavy winds of Saturday night.

The cries of "Knuckle down" &c. are now heard on the streets as the small boy endeavors to relieve his companions of their marbles. This is a sure indication of the approach of spring.

The employes of the "Phœnix" branch of the R. W. & O. railroad have presented to the widow of section foreman Luderman who was recently killed near this village with a purse of $107.75.

Mr. Henry H. Hewitt, formerly of this village, was married on Wednesday February 23d at Goshen, Ind., to Miss Fanny D. Bateman of that village. Mr. Hewitt and wife are now located at Toledo, Ohio.

A decree of divorce has been granted Mary Furlong from Louis Furlong for principal cause. The parties were married in this city and the defendant is at present a resident of Fulton. The plaintiff resides in Oswego.—Palladium.

Willis Ney and M. P. Schenck have exchanged their properties on Cayuga street. Mr. Schenck will move into the house on the corner of Ontario and Sixth about April 1st. While Mr. Ney and his son-in-law, "Herb" Rose with their families will occupy the house between Second and Third streets.

Two of our local politicians indulged in fisticuffs in front of the postoffice last Friday. No blood was spilled but it looked at one time as though the street and sidewalk would be saturated with gore before the fracas ended. Both were Democrats, both were G. A. R. men and both ought to know better.

H. L. Taylor of the firm of Taylor Bros. & Co., was severely injured Monday forenoon. He was turning out the centre of a grindstone with an iron bar, when the bar slipped from his hand, striking him in the eye. It cut through the upper lid and made a bad wound but fortunately did not injure the eyeball.

The Farmers' Institute held at Oswego last week Tuesday and Wednesday drew a large number of distinguished agriculturists from all parts of the country. Nearly every town in Oswego county was represented. The subjects discussed were of great interest and ably handled. The excellent essays and addresses were of much importance to intelligent and progressive farmers and were attentively listened to.

The I. O. G. T. Entertainment at Johnston's hall, Oswego Falls, last Wednesday evening proved to be of an excellent character and was well received by the large audience that was present. The local participants all did very nicely. The remarks made by Dr. Woodbury and Rev. Charles Olmstead were of a wholesome nature. The band played several selections. This lodge now numbers nearly 175 members.

Four round "Emerson" grand Pianos slightly used for sale at F. K. Jones'. 44tf.

A good seven year old horse, a carriage, cutter and harness for sale cheap. Inquire of C. R. Ney at the Boston Bazaar. 44tf

[illegible] the Presidency of the [illegible] Health. Shaler has already been shorn of his office of Major-General of the National guard. This action gives Mayor Hewitt an opportunity to pay back some political favors received from the two organizations whose so-called union put him in his present office. But how carefully he must act! If it be a popular Tammany man that receives this rich plum, what a rumpus among the Counties! And if the shoe gets on the other foot, how the Tammany warriors will whoop!

Gen. Shaler's case is a sad one. A brave Union General, the organizer of our Fire Department, the efficient head of the National Guard of this city, an office he held for nearly twenty years, now shorn of all authority and disgraced. Political spite and partisan malice have somewhat to do with this. For alleged malpractice as a member of the Armory Board, he was indicted for bribery; twice tried—the jury disagreeing. Now the District Attorney enters a nolle pros, and ends the case. It so happens that with Shaler as President of this department the major part of its employes were Republicans. The officials under the employ of the health commission can, and no doubt do exercise considerable political influence. This suggests the reason for the removal. Public opinion is very largely divided as to the innocence of Shalen in his administration of the Armory Board. The future will show what amount of public disfavor, if any, he deserves.

⁂

Already a week has passed by in the trial of ex-Alderman Cleary without securing a jury. This is the last of the "combine," the members of which the evidence of Duffy and Fulgraff has been so material in securing a conviction. Cleary recognizes the desperateness of his case and has secured the ablest criminal counsel he could in the New York bar, and not content has gone to Philadelphia for the noted orator, Daniel Docherty to sum up for him. Cleary represented the first ward of the city in the Board. This district is at the end of the island and includes the great financial institutions of the city. He is the janitor of the Equitable Insurance Building, and the company not having discharged him is regarded as evidence of the fact that the managers of the company individually disbelieve his guilt in accepting a bribe and mean to stand by him. The defense mean to rely on the fact that inasmuch as Cleary's constituents were the moneyed men of the city, and that their property would be materially benefitted by a railway on Broadway he could with a conscience clear and pure, afford, even in the face of public clamor against it, vote for the measure. There is no doubt he will be convicted. He has, however, strong hopes of success or else he would have accepted the District Attorney's offer. Mr. Martine is said to have agreed that if Cleary would plead guilty he would see that no greater imprisonment than one year was imposed and no larger fine than $5,000 inflicted. The close of this week will possibly see the conviction of Cleary and the triumph of justice.

Our next letter will give something of the Stewart art collection and other matters of society interest.

WANDERER.

The Minister's Question.

Major B. was a worthy citizen. He gave liberally to the cause of religion, supported every good movement and was generally recognized as a useful citizen in the town. But Major had one fault—he would partake of the "Oh, be joyful" too freely, and then the major was perfectly oblivious to all surroundings, with a perfect contempt for "the eternal fitness of things."

It so happened that the minister of the church of which the Major was an attendant held a series of special services. The Major, of course, attended in duty bound, but one night he stopped at the tavern on his way to the meeting on a matter of business, and the boys, knowing his destination, offered him some of that which both cheers and inebriates. The Major accepted, and when he got ready to go to the meeting he was in a very interesting condition. He would go to the church, however, and so he did. His favorite seat was not far from the front and to this the Major managed to pilot himself with very satisfactory success.

The minister was exhorting with all the power and unction of the old time revivalist and had wrought the audience to a high state of feeling. Stopping suddenly in his talk, he waited a full moment and then raising himself on his tiptoes and lunging out with his hands, the minister shouted, "Sinner, how can you save your soul?" The Major who had fallen asleep as soon as he reached his seat was awakened by the intense silence, had been rubbing his eyes and looking around when the minister finished the solemn question, the Major popped on his feet and said, "Well, Dominie, the only way I know is for him to walk on his heel." It is needless to add that all "feeling" was destroyed for that night and the peals of laughter that went up must have been a surprise to the very oaken trusses of the arched ceiling.

5c. Violin strings at Jones' Music Store.

A man's judgment is part of his fortune. We will prove it to every visitor with goods and prices to convince the judgment that Dollars bought of us will save you dollars.

That you can save money and yet receive the bill, is demonstrated in our splendid stock of

Men's Boys' & Children's

Clothing, Hats, Caps, &c.

Pronounced by many buyers the Finest I ever saw.

PEEBLES & COOK.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE

AN IMPORTANT CLUB OFFER

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE

Gives its readers literature of lasting interest and value. It is fully and beautifully illustrated and has already gained a more than national circulation exceeding 125,000 copies monthly.

PRICE 25 CENTS A NUMBER $3.00 A YEAR

SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS with Messrs. Charles Scribner's Sons the Publishers enable us to offer SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE with the

FULTON TIMES,

at the low combination rate of 3.50 for both. SEND YOUR ORDER NOW. SUBSCRIPTIONS MAY BEGIN AT ANY TIME.

Address FULTON TIMES, FULTON, N. Y.

We can furnish Subscribers with back numbers or begin the subscription at any time.

Hon. G. R. Wendling

AT

OPERA HOUSE,

Tuesday Evening, March 15.

Subject:

"Saul of Tarsus."

SYNOPSIS OF LECTURE.

A wonderful history—Hero-worship—The broad humanity of Emerson—Carlyle's kingship—Not as a theologian but as the greatest of orators is Paul our theme, a hero, a warrior, a martyr, a marvelous man.

His birth and historical background—A wondrous panorama—The great Pyramid—The Imperial Eagles—A Jewish babe—The Gulf-stream of humanity—The glories of the Jewish race—Christian prejudice against Jews—A mighty paradox—The Sanhedrim—The city of Tarsus—The change of name—The thorn in the flesh—A Pharisee—The trade of a tent-maker—Manual labor and popular education—

A Jewish Rabbi—Gamaliel's lecture room—A conjecture—Ritualism—Stephen's outburst before the Pharisees—Patrick Henry's oratory—A lightning stroke—Blasphemy—Havoc—Scourging—The journey to Damascus—Five words—The retirement—The Arabian solitude—The loneliness of Genius—The return to Damascus—An unreported sermon—The escape—The flight—Jerusalem—A suspected convert—Assassins—A sunstroke or a dream—Renan and Strauss—Baur—A Greek city—A famine—Cyprus—Mountain passes—A long journey—Brutus and Cassius—Cicero in exile—From Athens to Corinth—Great is Diana of the Ephesians—On the Mediterranean—Rendition of Paul's speech to the Elders at Miletus—A bitter farewell—Twenty years have passed—On to Jerusalem—To Cæsarea—To Rome—Nero, the Tyrant.

Paul's personal appearance—Renan's conjectures—A popular error—A noble looking man—The early Mosaics and paintings—Was he a married man—Reasons—Other characteristics—Exquisite courtesy—His delicacy—His warm sympathies—His tenderness—The runaway slave, Onesimus—His disinterestedness—His love for young men—His amazing courage—From Jerusalem to Rome—Magnificent St. Paul—Garrison—Luther—Elijah—His intellectual strength—A linguist—His philosophy—Plato—Aristotle—His peculiar methods—The poetic element—His imagination—His logic—His tremendous power.

Paul, the great orator—The sole condition of great oratory—Modern examples—Causes of failure and success—Wendell Phillips—Gough—Other examples—Minor qualities—Paul's dignity—His self-control—A courteous orator—Wonderful tact Rendition of Paul's speech before Agrippa—Description of the scene—The effect—At Athens—The Acropolis—Athenian life—Socrates—The opening sentence—Marc Antony's oration over Cæsar—Mars Hill—Rendition of Paul's speech on Mars Hill—The interruption—The effect—Another proof of his power—Fragments—Demosthenes—Cicero—Mirabeau—Burke—Webster—Paul's superiority to these—The great master of the oratorical art—Felix and Festus—Other scenes—The world has not seen his equal as an orator.

"At last, at Rome, an old man, gray and weak, holds up his manacled hands"—The interview at his prison door—Undismayed—Immortality—The Crown—All hail!—and Farewell.

This lecture will greatly interest every intelligent person who hears it.

Delivery and sale of Reserved Seats to commence at Watson's at 10 o'clock a. m., Saturday, March 12, 1887. All persons holding subscription tickets for this lecture, on presentation of same at Watson's will be provided with reserved seat tickets.

General Admission 35 and 50cts.

Special Notices,

A DESIRABLE FARM for sale cheap located 1 mile south-east of Fulton at the Junction of the Phœnix and Midland R. R's. formerly one of the VanWagenen farms. The land is under a high state of cultivation with fine buildings. Farm well adapted for grain or stock raising. I offer the same for sale at a low price on easy terms or exchange for village property.
H. HOWARD, Baldwinsville, N. Y.

FOR SALE—My house and lot on Utica street within five minutes walk of the postoffice. Also lot on Oneida street, 6¼ acres, just outside of the corporation limits. Call on or address.
R. P. HALL, Fulton, N. Y.

For Sale.

Five acres of all tillable land, suitable for a garden with a good house and barn on it, with an abundance of fruit and well watered. Situated 2½ miles west of Fulton on the Hannibal road. Terms easy. Inquire of Dr. Watson at Watson's drug store. 36m3

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

D. C. Draper, No. 34 First St., has an entire new stock of groceries on 1st floor and a fine line of crockery, some new and the balance the uninjured crockery from the Oneida St. store, and in basement of same store he has all the damaged Groceries, Crockery, China Tea and Chamber Setts, Lamps &c., (from the old store on Oneida St.) which he now offers for sale, the poorest at your own price, and the balance at a very low price. Remember the place in basement of New store, opposite Clark House.

Portable (ozonized) Oxygen!!

Nature's restorative purifies the blood, cures bronchial and lung affections, asthma, neuralgia, dyspepsia, insomnia, anæmia, kidney and female complaints and chronic diseases generally. The only kind endorsed by physicians. Price $10 with directions. Two or more outfits at reduced rates. Portable Oxygen Co., 491 West 22d St., New York. 41m1.

Save 35cts. per ton and buy the celebrated Lehigh Valley coal of T. D. Lewis. Office at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 39tf

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Vienna Bakery

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER,
18tf 26 First st

FOR

NEW DRY GOODS

AT

CLOSE, SHARP PRICES.

[illegible] in America than in [illegible] centers. Price must be [illegible] by, which will mean an [illegible] of prices in this country.

[illegible] you want to fasten poultry, [illegible] short-legged fowls, as they [illegible] quicker than the long-legged ones do.

The nearer the freezing point the cellar can be maintained without actually endangering the stored fruit the better for apples. Heat and light do more damage than cold. Alternate freezing and thawing will soon destroy fruit or vegetables.

If butter is allowed to gather into a compact mass in the churn it is impossible to work all the buttermilk out. Every little opening left between the granules as they come together will hold a drop of buttermilk. In order to get them out the space holding every one of these openings must be broken.

It is an excellent practice to put a spoonful of good phosphate in the hill when planting sweet corn, well mixed with the soil, or if the seed is put in by machine to sow a little along the rows after the seed is in. This will give the young corn a good start, which is important, especially with the early crop.

One of the best remedies for croup that we know of is sulphate of copper, half a grain; copaiba, three drops; Venetian turpentine, enough to mix into a soft pill. Give one night and morning. Lotion to accompany, Sulphate of copper, quarter ounce dissolved in a pint of rain water to wash out the mouth and nostrils if required.

To produce good sweet corn early requires dry, sandy loam with southern slope; the land, if stubble, should be plowed and then rolled and manured broad cast with six or eight cords of stable manure per acre, and then plowed again so as to turn under the manure. If the land is greensward it will answer well to spread half the manure on the sod before plowing, and then spread the balance, if fine, on the plowed land to be harrowed in with a disk harrow.

Spring Farm Cleaning.

While the wife cleans the house, let the husband clean the farm. If vegetable matter is left about the yard, its rapid decay during the damp, warm weather of spring and summer, will poison the air and affect the health of the family. If left about the barn, lots and fields, it will have a like influence on the farm animals. Hogs are doubly liable to be injured, for they not only breath the foul air but nest in such litter. Farm cleaning will save loss from disease. The litter has great value as a fertilizer when properly applied. The intelligent use of this manure ensures better crops, and the farm is capable of a more thorough cultivation. And then how much appearances are improved. Make a bonfire of pieces of wood, brush, stumps, &c., not fit for fuel, and give the charcoal to the swine and the ashes to the fruit trees. Remember this work is not complete until these stumps and stones are removed which can be taken out with a reasonable amount of labor; until the trees about the house and orchard are pruned; until the old growth is taken from raspberries, gooseberries, currants, etc.; until the underbrush is cleared out of the wood-lot; until all the ditches are opened and pools are drained; in short, until the farm is clean and neat. Conveniently enough, nearly all, or all of this work can be done before the spring plowing is begun.—American Agriculturist for March.

Paper Barrels.

The growing scarcity of the timber supply has given rise to the serious question of how to produce packages for oil, liquors and similar substances which will meet the demands of the market. This question has at different times during the last twenty years led to various attempts to produce a paper barrel which would answer all the purposes for which the wooden barrel is used. These attempts, however have been attended with no practical success until recently, when a barrel was produced from paper pulp which seems destined to supersede the wooden article. Its general appearance is that of the common wooden barrel, thickly varnished, while only five pieces are used in making it. It is bound with ordinary wooden hoops and the head is of one piece, so constructed that it fits into the barrel air tight and is held firmly in place by a hoop without the use of nails. The body is seamless and the interior and exterior are glazed with a substance which renders the barrel impervious to moisture so that liquids of all kinds can be transported in it without loss. It is also very strong and stiff, not easily broken and as the nature of the compressed paper is such that neither dry nor damp weather affects it, the contents retain all their aromatic qualities. There are numerous other excellent qualities claimed for this barrel. The pulp used in the production of these barrels is obtainable from any fibrous substance, and, as there is hardly a locality where some such substance does not grow, the barrels can be manufactured almost anywhere. The bulk of the wood used for the manufacture of barrels, however, is now brought from western Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin, and, as the supply is constantly decreasing there, the difficulty and expense of obtaining the timber is increasing. The inventors of this process of making barrels say that the [illegible] rank grasses which grow on [illegible] lying between Jersey City [illegible] will produce an excellent [illegible] and that thus these [illegible] may be made pro[illegible] [illegible] The cost of man[illegible] [illegible] barrel is so many [illegible] the wooden article [illegible] It is [illegible]

[illegible] earthquake of [illegible] more extensive [illegible] geographical changes than any other of which we have an account; so violent and continuous were the shakings that the alluvial land in the neighborhood of New Madrid was lowered beyond its previous level, and into the depressed region the stream of the Mississippi poured in such violence that for a time its lower waters, for a considerable part of their course, turned backward toward their source. Although the colonizing of the district had just begun, the area of country already cleared by the settlers was converted into morasses by the shock which was so great that the Government was compelled to furnish some hundreds of thousand acres of new lands on higher ground to those whose dwelling-places had been made uninhabitable.

It seems likely that an area of not less than five thousand square miles was, on the average, though irregularly, lowered to the depth of ten feet below its original level. The energy of these shocks was so great that the low, strongly built cabins of the frontiermen were wrecked, the forest trees were beaten against each other, and their branches interlocked as they swung to and fro. The irregular movements of the ground led to the formation of numerous great crevices, from which turbid waters were thrown up to a considerable height. To protect themselves from being engulfed in these fissures, the people felled trees so that they lay on the ground at right angles to the general trend of the fissures, and built places of refuge on the broad foundations which they thus secured. There can be no question that a disturbance of this magnitude, would in the present condition of the region where it occurred, cause greater destruction than did that which recently occurred at Charleston, S. C.

These two series of shocks, that of 1811 and 1886, have a close general relation to each other, so alike are they, indeed, as to suggest that the great series of repeated shocks, gradually diminishing in intensity, may be the type of disturbance characteristic of the lowland districts of the southern part of this continent. The New Madrid earth quake of 1811 was, however, by far the more extended phenomenon; the shocks were more frequent and of much greater violence, and the period during which they recurred was far longer than in the Carolinian disturbances.—From "The Stability of the Earth," by Prof. N. S. Shaler, in Scribner's Magazine for March.

She Didn't Refuse.

A woman who keeps a boarding house of Larned street called at police headquarters yesterday to complain that a gentleman boarder had skipped her house leaving her bill unpaid.

"He owes me about $40 and I want him caught," she added.

"What kind of a person was he?" asked the Sergeant.

"Well, the day before he went away he offered to marry me to settle the bill. You can judge what cheek he has."

"And you refused?"

"Yes—no—no, I didn't!" she exclaimed as she blushed clear back to her ears. it was all settled that we should be married, and that's one reason why I'll pursue him to the ends of the earth. A man who'll jump a board bill and a marriage engagement, too, is an outlaw who should be locked up."

Take It This Month.

Spring rapidly approaches, and it is important that every one shoud be preprepared for the depressing effects of the changing season. This is the time to purify the blood and strengthen the system, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which stands unequalled as a spring medicine, and has endorsements of a character seldom given any proprietary medicine. A book containing statements of the many wonderful cures it has accomplished, will be sent upon application to C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. 100 Doses One Dollar.

A case is related in El Siglo Medico of a recruit sent to Havana from the north of Spain. After having been in Cuba for some months he began to suffer from home-sickness and finally fell into a cataleptic sleep in which he remained for fourteen months, neither speaking nor moving. He was fed every six or eight hours with milk. He was at last aroused by hearing the music of a dance peculiar to his native place and made a perfect recovery.

News About Town.

It is the current report about town that Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs is making some remarkable cures with people who are troubled with Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. Any druggist will give you a trial bottle free of cost. It is guaranteed to relieve and cure. Price 50 cents and $1.

EVERYONE SPEAKS WELL OF IT.

Rochester, N. Y., March 18, '86.

For man years I have been troubled with severe pains in the back of my head and neck, the pain being so severe at times that I was nearly insane, and my friends feared that I would be. Lumps as large as a hickory-nut, would swell up on my forehead and neck. I tried many different kinds of medicines and physicians, but none seemed to reach my case until I commenced the use of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and before I had used it four days, the pain left my neck and shoulders and went to my hips and limbs. I continued taking the remedy, and the disease seemed to work downward, but there was but little pain. I am still using the remedy, and I feel confident it will cure me; for I am so much better and stronger than I have been for years. I cheerfully recommend it to all.

Very respectfully yours,
MRS. PHEBE WHEATON,
110 Mt. Hope Avenue.

Sworn Statement from a Well-Known Individual.

Lockport, N. Y.

A short time ago I was afflicted with rheumatism so badly that I could not move. My hands and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

All for All. The Hop Plaster gives comfort to rheumatic pains, [illegible] sies, lame back, &c.

Thousands [illegible] English remedy [illegible] [illegible] by H. C. Giesler.

There is a blind boy in Brooklyn who takes dictation on a type writer faster than any known expert in the possession of good eyesight.

Home Rule for Ireland

is only a question of time and it is only a question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. G. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

William L. Scott, of Erie, is said to be the largest individual coal worker in the world. He employs 10,000 men in mining and shipping.

At Night always have Acker's Baby Soother at hand. It is the only safe medicine yet made that will remove all infantile disorders. It contains no Opium or Morphine, but gives the child natural ease from pain. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

The Russian minister at Washington is allowed $25,000 a year by his government for the purpose of giving entertainments.

The Bloodthirsty Anarchists

Are foes to the health of our political institutions, but Coughs and Colds are greater foes to bodily health. Van Wert's Balsam will certainly cure all Coughs. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

Van Wert's Pills are very mild in action. Van Wert's Golden Balm is agreeable to use.

It is said that everybody in the town of Yakutsk, Siberia, gets drunk on New Year's day, the bishop solemnly setting the example.

If you would enjoy your dinner and are prevented by Dyspepsia, use Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Flatulency and Constipation. We guarantee them. 25 and 50 cents. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

In Northern Asia now they are making whiskey of reindeer milk, which is rich in alcohol.

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk and easily digested. Delicate people improve rapidly with its use. For Consumption, Throat affections and Bronchitis it is unequalled. Dr. Thomas Prim, Ala., says: "I used Scott's Emulsion on a child eight months old; he gained four pounds in a month."

Although Kansas crops are spoken of as being a partial failure last year, she boasts of having 140,000,000 bushels of corn.

Babies that are fretful, peevish, cross, or troubled with Windy Colic, Teething Pains, or Stomach Disorders, can be relieved at once by using Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine, hence is safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

The lobster lays from 2,000 to 12,000 eggs, of which probably 1,000 are hatched.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it well save unnecessary doctors bills. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure catarrhal Headaches.

It is proposed to build a bicycling path between New York and Philadelphia.

HOW TO READ

your doctor's prescriptions. Send three 2 cent stamps, to pay postage and receive Dr. Kaufmann's great treatise on diseases; illustrated in colors; it gives their signs and abreviations. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Gen. B. F. Butler dislocated his shoulder by a fall on the icy sidewalk at Philadelphia recently.

A Word of Warning.

Don't invite consumption when you can avoid it. Better stop your cough while you can. Bye and bye nothing will do it. It is worth heeding that Parker's Tonic is the best thing known for Coughs, Colds, Throat Complaints, Torpid Liver, Kidney Troubles and Weak Lungs. Often saves life. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"I could find nothing to help my bad cough until I used Parker's Tonic. I had severe pain between my shoulders, with headache, and great difficulty of breathing. I could hardly get home sometimes without stopping every little way to rest. One of Chicago's best doctors prescribed for me, but only made me worse. Parker's Tonic is better than all doctors and medicines. I have taken 8 bottles and am entirely cured."—Charles Hintz, Chicago, Ill.

"Parker's Tonic has cured me of Asthma of over 40 years standing. I have now taken several bottles, and my breathing is as perfect as if I had never had asthma. I tried everything, but nothing had the good effect of Parker's Tonic. It has cured me of several bad colds, and I do not believe asthma will ever trouble me again."—E. L. Williams, Chapman, Pa.

PARKER'S TONIC,

Made by Hiscox & Co., N.Y. Sold by Druggists.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights [illegible]

[illegible]

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever.

In a cave in the Bad Lands in Dakota, a miner found the mummies of of five persons, a man, a woman, and three children of a race that lived two thousand years ago. They were remarkably preserved.

MOTHERS READ THIS. Stone Ridge N. Y., Van Deusen Bros.—Dear Sirs: Your Worm Confections have been invaluable to us. Our little boy, two years old, discharged over thirty worms in a few days, using only a few of your Worm Confections. I am glad to bear testimony to the value of Van Deusen's Worm Confections. Yours, Rev. J. McNAIR. Try them, 25c. a box.

Van Deusen Bros., Kingston, N. Y. 48w4

A calf with eight legs and two heads is in the possession of a farmer at Livermore, Cal.

WHAT A PITY

that so many otherwise attractive, polite and particular people afflict their friends by the foul and disagreeable odor of their breath; it is mainly caused by disordered digestion, and can be corrected by removing the cause, by using that pure medicine, Sulphur Bitters.—Health Magazine.

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dress ing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

INDIA PALE ALE.

Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge.

[illegible]

ADVERTISERS

[illegible]

[illegible]

Dr. W. H. Walshe says that he once saw a dog who invariably uttered a heart-rending howl when the note F sharp on the fifth line of the trebel clef was struch on the piano. He had seen him rouse up out of apparent sleep at the sound. The animal proved, under repeated trials, perfectly indifferent to the semitone above and below that note, to its octaves and, in fact, to all other notes.

A Great Battle

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

A Waterbury, Conn., firm is making a pair of twenty-six inch shoes for a citizen of North Carolina.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

Mr. Labouchere declares that it costs the British people $3,500 a year to feed the pheasants in the royal parks.

QUICK, SAFE, SURE.

Why suffer aches, pains and agony in limbs, back and breast when for 25 cents you can be cured by VANDUSEN'S READY REMEDY. One bottle will prove its value. A remedy that should be in every family. It acts like magic. Cures sprains, wounds, cramps, sore throat. Try a bottle.

VANDUSEN BROS., Kingston, N. Y. 40t4

There are 408 members of Congress, but only 283 are connected with churches.

The reason why Acker's Blood Elixir is warranted, is because it is the best Blood Preparation known. It will positively cure all Blood Diseases, purifies the whole system, and thoroughly builds up the constitution. Remember, we guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

A Spaniard has turned the whole Bible into poetry, 260,000 stanzas.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rhem, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Euptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

The business of the United States Supreme Court is four years behind.

Woman and Her Diseases

is the title of a large illustrated treatise, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., Sent to any address for ten cents in stamps. It teaches successful self-treatment.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check for $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation. The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers;—or [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] [illegible] Pat Bolivar!

Ah! many a kick from the conductors he got;
And also big scaldings through hot water shot
From steamcocks, by firemen—when caught at his tricks;
But, nevertheless, "like a thousand of bricks,"
Undaunted he journeyed from wild Omahar
Clear east as a deadhead, sly Pat Boli-var.

* * * * * * *

You bet he's arrived! Oh, the autumn campaign
Will find him a-begging through Jersey again;
And while he's meand'ring around on "Shanks' Mare,"
He often will chuckle o'er paying no fare
On that trip when he proved himself as the "Star"
Of all railroad "sneakers"—flip Pat Bolivar!

—"Jef. Joslyn" in Texas Siftings.

HIS SHAKERS.

"Boy," he said, as he stopped before a boot-black who was eating a big turnip, "I'm afraid that's bad for you." "Yes, —yum—but you'd better put all your sympathy on the turnip," was the free reply, as he bit off another quarter section.

Fond mother (to bachelor brother)—"I wish I knew what to do to refine Bobby's manners. At times he is very boisterous and uncouth." Bachelor brother —"Big job to undertake. I don't believe anything short of the Standard oil company can refine Bobby."

'Look here," said a man going into his grocers', "those eggs you sold me New Years were bad." "Well, that wasn't my fault." "Whose was it, then?" "Blamed if I know. How should I tell what was inside of them? I'm a groceryman; I'm no mind reader."

Lady in Registry Office: "I am afraid that little girl won't do for a nurse. She is too small. I should hesitate to trust her with a baby." Clerk: "Her size, madam, we look upon as the greatest recommendation. You should remember that when she drops the baby it doesn't have so far to fall."

One of our school teachers was endeavoring to explain to a small boy in her class the meaning of the word, "collision." She said: "Suppose two boys running on the street should come together real hard. What would there be?" "A fight," responded the little fellow loudly and with astonishing promptness and the teacher gave it up. —Bangor Commercial.

"What is the leading branch in your school?" asked a lady of a teacher. Before the teacher could vouchsafe a reply, a little boy interupted the conversation with, "I know!" "And what is it, little boy?" asked the lady. "That switch in the corner, ma'm."—Carl Pretzel's Weekly,

"The Fall of Man" doesn't atrract near so much attention as the fall of woman —particularly if she is young and pretty and her bustle explodes as she sits down upon the icy sidewalk.—Fall River Advance.

Alf Anhalf thinks it's no wonder tobogganing is a popular sport. He says the first time he got on a toboggan he was completely carried away with it.— St. Paul Herald.

"If misfortune overtakes you, smile," advises a poet. That's all well enough, but supposing misfortune overtakes you in a strictly prohibition town?—Burlington Free Press.

First Student (entering companion's room): Ah! I see you have been burning midnight oil." Second Student: "No; that's a couple of old shoes I threw into the stove."—Tidbits.

"John, where are you going?" asked Mrs. Brown, as he was preparing to go out between the acts. "Oh, I'm tired of looking at the backs of tall hats. I'm going out to look at a horse car for a change of scene." "Well," replied Mrs. B. severely, "I guess there'll be more pony than horse car in what you're going to see."

Exasperating Persons.

The editor who returns your story with thanks.

The person who assumes an expression of gloom while you are relating the funniest anecdote you know.

The public who won't go to see your play.

Wiggins.

The individual who, when he learns that your age is thirty, looks surprised and says he supposed you were at least five years older.

The man who differs with you on political matters.

The misguided being who refused to be governed by your advice.

The acquantance who tells you that the great speculation in which you have invested all your available capital is sure to be a failure.—Atlanta Constitution.

Aching for a Chance to Get Square.

"I've been aching for the last sixteen years for that man to injure me in some way," he remarked as he pointed to a citizen ahead.

"And he won't?"

"No."

"What do you feel that way for?"

"Well, I have a vacant lot next to him, and his bay window is six inches on my land. If he'd only call me a liar or his wife would sass my wife, just think what a snap I would have."— Detroit Free Press.

FREE TRADE.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from Proprietary Medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the [illegible] [illegible]

Hood's Sarsaparilla

[illegible]

[illegible] my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take

BLUE PILLS

or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

Don't Wait! Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately! Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored? IT IS Dangerous!

Sulphur Bitters! Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend. The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful Cure at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE, No. 41 West 31st St., New York City.

CATARRH

ELY'S
CREAM BALM
CURES COLD IN HEAD
CATARRH
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S,
OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A.
EASY TO USE

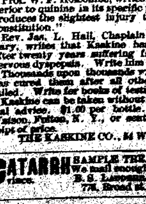
HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the senses of taste and smell. 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

KASKINE.

(THE NEW QUININE.)



Science emerging from Darkness.

NO BAD EFFECT.
NO HEADACHE.
NO NAUSEA.
No Ringing Ears.
Cures Quickly.
Pleasant, Pure.

A POWERFUL TONIC

that the most delicate stomach will bear.

A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM, NERVOUS PROSTRATION, and all Germ Diseases.

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y.: "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful.

The U. S. Examining Surgeon. Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleasner, 360 East 121st St., New York City, has cured over 290 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says, "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

Rev. Jas. L. Hall, Chaplain Albany Penitentiary, writes that Kaskine has cured his wife, after twenty years suffering from malaria and nervous dyspepsia. Write him for particulars.

Thousands upon thousands write that Kaskine has cured them after all other medicines had failed. Write for books of testimonials.

Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

CATARRH SAMPLE TREATMENT FREE. We mail enough to convince. B. S. Lauderbach & Co., 773 Broad st., Newark, N. J.

AGENTS WANTED (Samples FREE) for DR. SCOTT'S beautiful ELECTRIC CORSETS, Brushes, Belts, etc. No risk, quick sales. Territory given, satisfaction guaranteed. Dr. SCOTT, 842 Broadway, N. Y.

[illegible]

[illegible]

Dated Dec. 1, 1886.

William B. [illegible]
Harrison L. [illegible]

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1887, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

Phoenix—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix, Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

Oswego—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

Pulaski—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in January, March, May, June, September, November and December.

Fulton—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

Mexico—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in April, July and October.

Central Square—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on the last Thursday of April, July and September.

Parish—At J. S. Ludington's law office, on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday in April, July and September.

F. David, Surrogate.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE. The undersigned assignee of Ellen E. Swan will sell at public auction at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the Village of Fulton, New York, on the 28th day of February, 1887, at 2 o'clock p. m., of that day all the right, title and interest which said Ellen E. Swan had on the day of her assignment in and to the several parcels of real estate hereinafter described, viz.: First parcel about 3¼ acres situate in the Village of Oswego Falls, Oswego county, New York, lying between First Street and the Oswego River, under the best state of cultivation for fruit gardening, containing about 300 quince bushes, 500 black currant bushes, 75 pear trees, a large number of peach trees, a number of varieties of grapes and other small fruit, all in good bearing condition. Second parcel about 12 acres situate in the Town of Granby, Oswego county, New York, lying upon the peat bed, bounded east by land of Samuel Wood; north by lands of Mrs. Eggleston; west by lands of John Kinney and south by lands of Mrs. Collins; under high state of cultivation, well adapted to raising and now mostly set with willows.

Terms of sale made known on day of sale.

Dated Feb'y 1st, 1887.

Charles White,
Assignee.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK: By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Thomas M. Hubbard, Montague, Mich; Ira G. Hubbard, Elkhart, Ind.; Fred A. Hart, Mary Jones, Albert W. Hart, Emma Jones, Scriba, Oswego county, N. Y.; Jesse L. Coe, Sand Bank, Oswego county, N. Y.; Jane Hubbard, Thomas Hubbard, Volney, Oswego county, N. Y.; Frank Hubbard and George Hubbard, residence unknown; persons interested in the estate of Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in the county of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting.

Whereas, Lucy K. Hubbard, now of the Town of Scriba, in the county of Oswego, has lately made application to our Surrogate of the county of Oswego for the final judicial settlement of her account as Executrix of said Thomas Hubbard, deceased; therefore, you, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, at the law office of C. H. David, Esq., in the Village of Fulton, in said county of Oswego, on the 14th day of April, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to attend the final judicial settlement of the accounts of the proceedings of Lucy K. Hubbard as Executrix of said deceased.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

[L. S.] In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 24th day of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven.

L. J. Carrier,
Clerk of the Surrogates Court.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK: By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Earland B. Chappel, J. Wellington Chappel, Annice Guffin, Edward Chappel, Elmary Lea, Adelaide Evans, Alice Washburn, Solomon Mattison, John E. Mattison, George Moe, Charles Moe, Cynthia A. Stowell, B. Franklin Mattison, Florence H. Riley, Arthur S. Moe, Walter Moe, Laura Johnson, Lucy Moe and Sherman Moe, heirs at law and next of kin of Alanson F. Moe, late of the town of Scriba, in the county of Oswego, deceased, send greeting:

Whereas, Sophronia L. Rhodes of the town of Scriba, in the county of Oswego, has lately made application to our Surrogate of the county of Oswego, to have a certain instrument in writing, relating to real and personal estate, duly proved as the last will and testament of said Alanson F. Moe, deceased; therefore, you and each of you are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our said Surrogate, at the law office of C. H. David esq., in the Village of Fulton, in said county of Oswego, on the 14th day of April, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to attend to the probate of said instrument as the last will and testament of said deceased.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate, to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

[L. S.] In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surrogate of the said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 19th day of Feb., 1887.

L. J. Carrier,
Clerk of Surrogate's Court.

Winter Exposure Causes Coughs, Colds, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Pneumonia, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache and other ailments, for which Benson's Capcine Plasters are admitted to be the best remedy known. They relieve and cure in a few hours when no other application is of the least benefit. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum," "Capsicin" or "Capsicine." Ask for Benson's and take no others. Examine carefully when you buy. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors New York.

LANDS SEND FOR Publications, with Maps, describing Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon, the Free Government Lands and Low Price Railroad Lands in the Northern Pacific Country. THE BEST AGRICULTURAL, GRAZING and TIMBER LANDS now open to Settlers mailed free. Address CHAS. B. LAMBORN, Land Com. N. P. R. R, St. Paul, Minn. 4tcow

WANTED LADIES TO WORK FOR US at their homes. $7 to $10 per week can be quietly made. No photo painting; no canvassing. For full particulars, please address, at once, CRESCENT ART CO., 19 Central St. Boston, Mass. Box 5170.

AGENTS WANTED (samples free) for DR. SCOTT'S beautiful ELECTRIC CORSETS, BRUSHES, BELTS, ETC. No risk, quick sales. Territory given, satisfaction guaranteed. DR. SCOTT, 841 Broadway, N. Y.

MONEY to be made. Cut this out and return to us, and will send you free, something of great value and importance to you, that will start you in business which will bring you in more money right away than anything else in this world. Anyone can do the work and live at home. Either sex. All ages. Something new that just coins money for all workers. We will start you; capital not needed. This is one of the genuine, important chances of a lifetime. Those who are ambitious and enterprising will not delay. Grand outfit free. 33y1 Address, True & Co., Augusta, Me.

LUMBER! LUMBER.

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c.

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere.

O. RUST.

—IF YOUR—

HORSE IS LAME

USE DR. J. S. [illegible]

"Spavin Cure"

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR.

"The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show [illegible] Scorn Her Own Image."

VOLUME 19—NUMBER [illegible]

$1.25 a Year in Advance.

FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY MARCH 16, 1887.

Single Copies Three Cents.

Intemperance.

We saw as in a vision this foe of the human race,
All clothed in garments of meekness, a smile on his fiendish face;
He walks in highways and byways, among the rich and poor,
The author of crimes unnumbered, the howling wolf at our door.

We stood by the wrecked and burning train and heard the sufferers moan,
As the flames destroyed the precious freight, idols of hearth and home;
Shuddering we asked the cause, why this reckless loss of life,
When again the demon face appeared amid the awful strife.

We saw a youth in his innocence with spirit unstained by sin,
A smile of love on his fair young face, the demon was charming him;
"Come, boy, to this jolly retreat," he said, "the saloon is light as day,
We both will sup from the silver cup, but your soul will I lead astray.

We sought the home of penury, of suffering, want and pain,
Where the dying mother's prayers and tears alike were vain;
Tenderly the wasted hands we crossed on the silent breast,
Yet even there the demon face smiled on their loneliness.

We confronted him with justice, he mocked at our many wrongs—
Go back to your woman's kingdom, he said, and sing your idle songs;
Smile when we meet for I am Death, my harvest's priceless dower,
My name is lawful intemperance. I defy your mortal power.

When will my reign be ended? I answer 'twill surely expire
When fields of grain are nevermore converted to liquid fire—
The fire that burns and consumes, eats into heart and brain,
The dead sea fruitage of sinfulness will end with my last reign.
—Helen McGregor.

Lent.

The worldling who, the winter through,
To balls and parties went
Till they were worn and wearied out,
Now thank their stars for Lent.

Paterfamilias who has
Full many a ducat spent
Upon Poor fashion's follies, now
Rejoices that it's Lent.

Fair maidens who have danced their fill,
And dainty raiment rent
Till they have nothing left to wear,
Now don't object to Lent.

One supreme thought will fill their minds:
Each girl will be intent
Upon her Easter bonnet through
The forty days of Lent.

The fish man with his salmon rare,
Way thro' from Frisco sent,
And worth its wait in gold, he, too,
Is glad that it is Lent.

A little span of respite for
The world on pleasure bent;
A breathing space, a letting-up,
A loafing time, is Lent.

But when it comes right down to things
For which the season's meant—
To mortifying of the flesh—
There isn't much in Lent.

Novelties in Jewelry.

Plain flies with bright green gold wings look well as scarf-pins.

Pendants in flour or knot designs are rapidly coming into favor.

French paintings framed in diamonds are appropriate for ear-rings.

A chain of blue forget-me-nots enameled on silver is worn as a necklace.

French enameled paintings are now considerably used for silver jewelry.

A large sun-hat of woven silver wire, with a graceful diamond feather, makes a very pretty pin.

The shell pin, set with gems, and having a pearl resting in the centre, is worthy of special mention.

Watch cases in oxidized silver simulat Medusa or confused snaky forms, often approaching the hideous.

A dragon fly the body being composed of a row of emeralds and the wings of diamonds makes a brilliant and showy pin.

Silver crescents set with graduated moon stones, backed by green, blue or red foils, were noticed in a fine window display.—Jeweler's Weekly.

THE PROPER THING.

Blouse-waists will be largely worn by girls four years old and upward.

Sailor hats of felt and patent leather have been introduced by the girl of the period.

For wool dresses are galloons and pointed braids made of narrow plaited mohair braid.

Girls of two to six years will continue to wear short waisted dresses with full, long skirts.

Roman sashes, which used to be so fashionable are coming back again with much rapidity.

The new feature of passementeries is metal cords of all colors to match the dress fabric twined among coral beads.

Spring mantles are very short and scarf like, being cut off at the waist behind; the long narrow fronts end in bows or tassels of jet.

Girls of twelve years wear checked or striped wool dresses with jacket-waists, velvet vest, and revers covered with cord passementerie.

Tailor jackets to wear with spring dresses are made of striped or cross-barred cloths in two shades of a single color. The shapes are very simple.

Dress skirts will be trimmed with yard wide jet fringes arranged across the entire front as a tablier, or else forming merely panels on one side or on both.

Beads of every color, even the palest pink, amber, blue and white, are made into dress trimmings, as well as jets, garnets, silver, steel, and the gold-lined beads (which do not tarnish.

Every [illegible] should try Car-[illegible]

From a New Dictionary.

Anger—The reaction of others' faults upon ourselves.

Army—A body of men kept one thousand days to be used on one.

Bachelor—A wild goose that tame geese envy.

Benevolence—A service that the receiver should remember and the bestower forget.

Child—The future in the present.

Coquette—A mirror that receives all images, but preserves none.

Consistency—A church without a mortgage on it.

Conversation—The idle man's business and the business man's recreation.

Crying—A woman's weakness and a child's strength.

Death—The dealer that sweeps in the bone chips.

Debt—The example set by a government to its people.

Family—Matrimony doing penance.

Fashion—A decree that enhances beauty, but makes homliness the more conspicuous.

Heart—The abyss of reason.

Heiress—A capital wife.

Hope—The bridge between our longings and fruition, beneath which flow the waters of disappointment.

Inconsistency—A woman's prerogative; for which we never blame her unless we are its victims.

Ink—The black sea upon which thought rides at anchor.

Jealousy—The homage paid by inferiority to merit.

Justice—Truth in action.

Law—A trap baited with promise of profit or revenge.

Lawyers—The heirs of intestates.

Love—A frozen deep; before you venture see if it will bear.

Lovers—The miss-guided.

Luxury—The labor of the wealthy.

Mankind—Pieces in a game of chess, played by destiny.

Marriage—The only lottery not put down.

Mirror—A shrine, before which the functions of worshipper, priest and devinity are all enacted by the same party.

Miser—One who makes bricks that his heirs may build houses.

Money—To the wise a convenience, to the fool a necessity.

Old Maid—A woman who has missed the opportunity of making a man happy.

Pawnbroker—The man who holds your coat while you fight.

Poet—One who may bestow immortality upon others, yet finds it difficult himself even to live.

Poetry—Thought in blossom.

Prison—An oven into which society puts newly made crime to harden.

Revenge—The only debt which it is wrong to pay.

River—A moving road, at once the highway and the conveyance.

Space—The statue of divinity.

Spoon—A hand without fingers.

Stars—Jeweled heads in the rosaries of heaven.

Success—A veneering that can hide all baseness.

Taxes—Periodical bleeding as prescribed by the government.

Temptation—The test of soul.

Tenderness—Passion in repose.

Theater—Nature in the "house of correction.

Time—To the aged an atom; to the young a world.

Tongue—The boneless that can break bones.

Ugliness—The privilege in man, the unpardonable in woman.

The New Pension Building at Washington.

The interior of the great hall of the Pension building will soon be finished. The immense stretch of wall has nearly all been plastered, and some idea can be formed of what the completed hall will look like. Whatever difference of opinion there may be as to merits of the outside of the building, it will no doubt be generally admitted that this hall is a grand room. In point of size it is larger, with one exception, than any audience-room in the country, and in point of capacity stands about fourth in the list of the large interiors of the world. The great Mormon tabernacle in Salt Lake City is said to have the largest capacity of any building in this country. It will seat about fifteen thousand people.

Gen. Meigs, the architect of the Pension building says that the hall in the Pension building and the galleries surrounding it have a seating capacity of 11,307 men. The hall itself is 316 feet long and 116 feet wide, while it has two tiers of galleries extending all around it which are 12 feet in width. A third gallery, which encircles the hall, has a width of five feet. Gen. Meige says he has estimated that 80,000 people can find standing room in this great space.

Only a Schoharie County Dog.

A sturdy farmer sat reading in a State street restaurant and commented on an item in a Connecticut paper in reference to the intelligence of a dog, which could tell the date on a newspaper: "I had a dog," said he, "a common long yeller dog, and I called him Zeke. He knew more than a grand juryman on his second term. He would just loaf around and think. I brought home some canned sausage meat from New York, and I didn't like it, so I put it on a plate for Zeke. Well, he took that sausage and buried it. Regular grave. Nothin' strange in that you say! Wait. He went back to the house, jumped upon the table, grabbed a big bouquet, and went back and laid it on the grave, and he was only a long yeller Schoharie County dog. Talk about your Connecticut dogs!"—Albany Journal.

RETRIBUTION.

BY "THE DUCHESS."

A glance at her cousin convinces her that she has amply revenged herself. His brow is as black as midnight, and his mouth has taken the old expression that means mischief. Massareene, too, has added to his discomfiture by breaking into a gay laugh, that rouses Mrs. Brand from her perusal of a review, as scurrilous as it is just, of a book written by a friend of hers, that she finds of engrossing interest—the review, that is, not the book.

"What is it?" asks she, looking up in high good humor. Really, the review has quite exceeded her expectations. "If it is anything amusing pray let me hear it. I have been so put out by a very harsh criticism on dear Fanny Ellwood's novel that I require something to cheer me. Some little jest of yours, Granit? Come, tell it to me, though I must say, my dear, you look more like an Othello this moment than one 'born in a merry hour.' Ah, here comes tea at last! Just move my chair a little, will you? Thanks, dear Granit. I am fast becoming an old woman, eh?"

Granit is in just such a pleasant mood as urges him to tell her she is already amongst the frosts and snows of life; but prudence—a feeling more powerful with him than most others—restrains him. He is obliged, however, to move her chair into the exact position pointed out, and to perform divers other small services for her with a smiling face and apparently willing air, while grinding under the thought that he is leaving the other two free to carry on a low conversation uninterrupted.

"How angry you were about Granit's innuendo just now," whispers she, drawing her skirts aside that he may drop upon the low lounge beside her. "You need not have been. Did you think I never heard of that one little fiasco of yours, eh?"

She leans toward him and smiles a little. The young man starts and colors hotly. Yet her smile is so sweet, so kind—never has her manner been so replete with gentleness as now.

"You knew—you heard?"—stammers he.

"Why, yes. Was it such a mighty secret, such an awful crime? Did you think I could not condone—forgive?"

She is still smiling on him, her beautiful eyes riveted upon his. Massareene's heart is beating passionately. He feels as if he can scarcely breathe—and yet he is breathing more freely than he has done for a long time, now that he knows she knows, and that after all she can tolerate him. Nay, it is surely more than toleration!

"You are an angel," murmurs he in turn. Oh! the rapture of this whispered conversation! The knowledge that they are—if not in body, at least in spirit—alone! "But it was my one offense. I pray you to believe that! Afterward I met you. And then—then it would have been impossible!"

Her color pales slightly as she looks into the loving eyes bent on hers. He has put out his hand in his earnestness and laid it upon hers—a strong hand, slightly browned, as a man's should be, and very handsome. Somehow the strength of it appeals to her. Is its owner like it—firm, resolute? He has, at all events, been almost obstinately persistent in his courtship, clinging to hope when there was none to be seen anywhere, and steadfastly adhering to the belief that "all things come to him who knows how to wait." He is waiting still, though small chance of a reward seems to be his.

"There," she says, rallying with an effort, and compelling herself to meet his gaze, "you are pardoned, if pardon is what you want."

"I want more than that," says Mr. Massareene, who, having gained what he had not dared to hope for half an hour ago, now desires more. "I want"——

"Of that another day," interrupts she playfully. "When will you learn to be wise, Gerald?"

"When I marry you, my sweet Minerva."

"That will be never, then, I greatly doubt me."

"Still, there is a doubt, you see."

"To talk like this to me is waste of time."

"To talk to you could never be waste of time."

"Not if you talk sensibly."

"And sure what can be more sensible than to tell you that I love you?" says the Irishman; "unless it would be your saying that you will take me for your husband?"

"That would mean throwing up friends and fortune."

"Just so! Then do it," says he.

What is to be done with a man like this? Millicent sighs. He is nearer victory at this moment than he knows himself to be. Miss Grey, glancing involuntarily at Granit, and then back again at him, mentally comes to the conclusion that any hope of happiness for her lies in an immediate surrender of all ties that bind her to the former. But auntie, and Uncle Timothy, and the world in general?

"Dear Gerald! I wish you would not speak to me like this," she says softly. "You must know how useless it is."

"I never knew I had a nice name until I heard you say it," says the irrepressible Gerald, taking no notice of the substance of her speech. "It sounds like music. I'm awfully glad my mother christened me Gerald."

"Why? Do you think I could not pronounce any other name musically?" asks she, laughing in spite of herself.

"That's right. I like to hear you laugh," says he. "They say in my country that when a woman smiles the battle is won. And sometimes I think"——

"I will not listen to you," declares Miss Grey, beating her foot impatiently upon the carpet. "It is not kind—it is not right. You forget I am engaged to Capt. Boyle."

"Bah! He doesn't count at all," says Massareene. "You can't marry such a fellow as that."

"What have you to say against him?" asks she eagerly. Oh! if only some insurmountable obstacle could be shown.

"Why, nothing!" says Massareene. "Only he is such a"—he checks himself just in time—"such an uncomfortable sort of a fellow," he concludes rather lamely.

"Tell me," says Miss Grey, in a very low tone, "you are a member of his club? And I—have heard—that is, they say—he—gambles a good deal. Is this true?"

Mr. Massareene grows crimson.

"Oh! by Jove, you know! You can't expect me to answer questions about another man, and that man my rival," he says. "I—I didn't expect you would do that, you know."

"You won't tell me, then?" says she.

"I know nothing of his gambling. I know nothing at all, in fact," says Massareene, [illegible] his eyes on the ground.

[illegible]

married," says Massareene, stumbling over the hateful sentence, and trying to be as just to his rival as nature will permit him.

"I see," says Millicent. She is silent for quite two minutes—a long time when one is waiting anxiously for the next word. "I have heard," she says, now very seriously, "that he plays for such high stakes that he is often at his wits' end to know how to meet his debts of honor—so-called. Hearing this has led me to the belief that he is marrying me more as a means of gaining money to carry on his play than from any higher motive."

"There you wrong him," says Massareene eagerly. "He is no defaulter, whatever else he may be. He lost a tremendous sum to Black, of the Blues, about two months ago; but he paid up far sooner than Black ever expected. And he has given an I O U to Burnaby to pay him next month, and"— He stops short. "Lots of fellows play pretty high before they settle down," he says, a great generosity compelling him to say an exculpatory word for the man who is, perhaps, the only living thing he detests.

"I quite understand," returns Millicent slowly. "It is very good of you; but only what I expected. There is, however, one thing that puzzles me—where my cousin got the money to pay that tremendous sum to Col. Black."

"You probably know more of his private concerns than I do," says Massareene carelessly. "He always appears to me to have plenty of money. Enough of him, however. There is something that concerns me that I would tell you. You know my uncle Lord Ballymore? Well, last night he said he would allow me £300 a year in addition to my present income, which is five, you know, if—if you would have me. He admires you very much."

"And hates Granit a good deal more! I know all about that old story, and do not blame Lord Ballymore for his dislike of my excellent cousin."

"You don't think you could do it on the eight hundred?" asks the young man wistfully.

Miss Grey's ears are well trained, and now she hears a step approaching—oh! so softly!

"One never thinks nowadays—there is no time," she says, in a clear, distinct tone. "Tea, Granit? Thanks. No; nothing else, thank you; unless, indeed, it be one of those little wafers that auntie seems so meanly determined to keep all to herself."

Granit hastens to obey her command.

"A last word," says Massareene quickly. "Do you know Miss Duran?"

"Mr. Duran's aunt? Yes."

"Well, and so do I. She receives every Wednesday. If—if I could be only sure that she would receive you next Wednesday!" He has risen, and is gazing down at her, his heart in his eyes.

"Why—if you are there you will see," returns she, with a light laugh, as Granit again approaches.

(To be Continued.)

TRIBUTES TO WOMEN.

Gems From the Poets, Preachers and Sages of Many Lands.

Women is the masterpiece—Confucius.

Woman is the crown of creation—Herder.

Women teach us repose, civility and dignity.—Voltaire.

All that I am my mother made me.—John Quincy Adams.

Shakespeare has no heroes—he has only heroines.—Ruskin.

Woman is the most perfect when the most womanly.—Gladstone.

In wishing to extend her empire, woman destroys it.—Cabanis.

Nature meant to make woman its masterpiece.—Lessing.

There is a woman at the beginning of all great things.—Lamartine.

If woman lost us Eden, such as she alone returns it.—Whittier.

I wish Adam had died with all his ribs in his body.—Boucicault.

To a gentleman every woman is a lady in right of her sex.—Bulwer.

What is a woman? Only one of nature's agreeable blunders.—Cowley.

A handsome woman is a jewel; a good woman is a treasure.—Saadi.

A fashionable woman is always in love with herself.—Rochefoucauld.

Woman is last at the cross and earliest at the grave.—E. S. Barrett.

No man can either live piously or die righteous without a wife.—Richter.

All women are good—good for nothing or good for something.—Cervantes.

There was never a fair woman but she mouths in a glass.—Shakespeare.

The sweetest thing in life is the unclouded welcome of a wife.—N. P. Willis.

All the reasonings of men are not worth one sentiment of women.—Voltaire.

Handsome women without religion are like flowers without perfume.—Heine.

Women are a new race, created since the world received Christianity.—Beecher.

But one thing on earth is better than the wife—that is the mother.—Leopold Schefer.

A passionate woman's love is always overshadowed by her fear.—George Eliot.

Between a woman's "yes" and "no" I would not venture to stick a pin.—Cervantes.

Earth has nothing more tender than a woman's heart when it is the abode of pity.—Luther.

For where is any author in the world that teaches such beauty as a woman's eye?—Shakespeare.

Woman is the Sunday of man; not his repose only, but his joy, the salt of his life.—Michelet.

Woman is born for love and it is impossible to turn her from seeking it.—Margaret Fuller Ossoli.

A woman may be ugly, ill-shaped, wicked, ignorant, silly and stupid, but [illegible]

What it did and What it Didn't.

The following is a record in brief of the legislation of the 49th Congress. This record of the two sessions will be found interesting.

WHAT CONGRESS DID NOT DO.

Repeal the civil-service law.
Pass the Hennepin canal bill.
Grant woman suffrage.
Pass the Dunn free ship bill.
Abrogate the Hawaiian treaty.
Pass the international copyright act.
Carry the Mexican treaty into effect.
Pass the postal telegraph law.
Fortify the sea coasts.
Admit Washington Territory to Statehood.
Revise the tariff.
Pass the uniform bankruptcy bill.
Investigate the liquor traffic.
Establish a live stock highway.
Stop lottery advertisements.
Build a monument to Gen. Grant.
Give letter-carriers an eight-hour law.
Reimburse Freedman's Bank victims.
Pension Mrs. John A. Logan.

WHAT CONGRESS DID.

Taxed oleomargarine.
Passed the Dingley shipping bill.
Increased the navy.
Pensioned Mexican war veterans.
Abolished contracts in U. S. prisons.
Increased widows' pensions from $8 to $12.
Extended free delivery system, to towns of 10,000.
Vindicated Fitz John Porter.
Passed inter-State commerce bill.
Fixed the Presidential succession.
Retired the trade dollar.
Altered the electorial count.
Repealed the tenure of office act.
Legalized trades unions.
Authorized the fishery retaliation.
Prohibited foreign contract laborers
Pensioned Mrs. Gen. Grant.

The following bills failed of the necessary Presidential signature:

River and Harbor bill.
Preventing the employment of convict and alien labor and public works.
Opening to settlement the public land strip south of Kansas.
O'Neil Labor Arbitration Bill.
Morrison surplus resolution.

A Good Mother-in-law.

The Christian Register says: "So many foolish and flimsy jokes are published about the mother-in-law that it is a good tonic to read such refreshing and appreciative testimony as that which John Adams offered to the memory of his mother-in-law. This letter, written more that a hundred years ago, also indicates the broad, progressive views which Mr. Adams took in relation to the sphere of woman."

The letter was written by President John Adams, to his wife, Abigail Adams, on the death of her mother in 1785:

"Your mother had a clear and penetrating understanding and a profound judgment, as an honest, a friendly, and a charitable heart. There is one thing, however, which you will forgive me if I hint to you. Let me ask rather if you are not of my opinion? Were not her talents and virtues too much confined to privite, social and domestic life? My opinion of the duties of religion and morality comprehends a very extensive connection with society at large, and the great interests of the public.

"The benevolence, charity, capacity and industry which, exerted in private life, would make a family, a parish, or a town happy, employed on a larger scale in support of the great principles of virtue and freedom of political regulations, might save nations and generations from want, misery and contempt."

How to Increase It.

Wife:—Let me read you, my dear, a few sensible remarks I have here about increasing your circulation.

Husband (editor N. Y. daily):—What's the use? I understand it better than anybody else. Slap in all the murders, rake over all the divorce cases and scandals carefully, for the most racy details; cater to the masses; sing of the wrongs of the workingmen; give your readers "pictures;" write up graphically all robberies, assaults and elopements; lie like thunder about the circulation you have got. That's about what they say, isn't it?

Wife:—No; not exactly. This says take a walk before breakfast and use Dr. Killum's liver pills for the blood.—Life.

Not So Bad as Painted.

First young Boston Blood—Say Duxley, did you ever see the sun rise?

Second young Boston Blood—No, Sam, I don't think I ever did. I don't remember that I ever stayed up as late as that.—Journal of Education.

There are 113 farmers in the Connecticut legislature.

Almost a Miracle.

Reuben Severance, of Upper Stillwater, [Town of Old Town, Maine] has been, perhaps, one of the most talked about men in Eastern Maine for the past six months. The cause of Mr. Severance's notoriety was the publication of the facts concerning his restoration to health and strength after he had been abandoned by physicians to die and had himself given up all hope of life. The facts in the case of Mr. Severance were stated to the proprietors of Brown's Sarsaparilla by Mr. Severance's son, who is a citizen of Bangor, and were published in the Daily Commercial. The publication immediately attracted widespread attention and interest but was generally regarded with incredulity as containing statements too marvelous for belief. Among those who took a deep interest in the case was Hon. D. F. Davis, Collector of the Port of Bangor, and ex-Governor of the State, who was an intimate friend of the late W. H. Brown, M. D., who had often spoken to him and to Chief Justice Peters, another of his particular friends, of the time he had devoted to bringing to its present perfection the great remedy which has immortalized his name. One summer evening a party, including Mr. Davis, and Mr. Warren, of the Brown's Sarsaparilla Company, drove out to the residence of Mr. Severance to learn from his own lips the story of his sickness and cure. In order to place the matter beyond dispute Mr. Severance's statement was put in writing and sworn to before Mr. Davis, who is a prominent lawyer and a justice of the peace. After describing the growth of the tumor and the other manifestations of impure blood and disordered circulation which grew with its growth, Mr. Severance says in his sworn statement:

I finally was obliged to abandon work entirely and took to my bed. I abandoned hope and prayed for death to relieve my sufferings. Physicians examined me and said that nothing could relieve me but the cutting out of the tumor, and the chances were that I would die under the operation. The risk they believed to be too great to justify it. At this time I commenced taking BROWN'S SARSAPARILLA as a kind of forlorn hope. I experienced an immediate change for the better, my appetite returned, food ceased to trouble me, the ringing noises left my head, and best of all the tumor began to shrivel up and disappear. It is now and has been for some time entirely gone. I feel 25 years younger than I did a year ago; my general health has never been better. I can and do work from morning to night and enjoy being able to do so. Only two or three days ago I worked in the hay field all day mowing heavy grass. I say God bless the man who invented this medicine. He should wear a crown. I mean always to keep a bottle of BROWN'S SARSAPARILLA by me while I live.

(Signed) REUBEN SEVERANCE.

Mrs. Severance also made the following sworn statement: The above statement made by my husband, Reuben Severance, regarding his sickness, cure and present condition is true in every particular.

MARY SEVERANCE.

The following statement was signed at the time by a number of prominent citizens of the town, including Frank Hamblen, the postmaster: We, the undersigned, citizens of Upper Stillwater, (Town of Old Town Me.) have known Reuben Severance several years; have known of his illness as above stated by him and know that he has been cured. We believe him to be entirely reliable in any statement which he may make on this or any other subject.

Tumors are only one, and perhaps the least common, of the symptoms by which impure blood, imperfect digestion and disordered circulation make their baneful influence manifest. Brown's Sarsaparilla has incontestibly proven itself to be the greatest remedy for these disorders which medical skill has ever devised.

Brown's Sarsaparilla

For sale by all druggists. Ara Warren & Co., Sole Proprietors, Bangor, Me.

H.W. JOHNS' ASBESTOS LIQUID PAINTS

These Paints are in every respect strictly first-class, being composed of the best and purest materials obtainable. They have a larger sale than any other paints made in this country or abroad, and, although they cost a trifle more per gallon, they will do more and better work for the same amount of money, owing to their wonderful covering properties, while their superior durability renders them the most economical paints in the world. Sample Sheets and Descriptive Price List free by mail.

H. W. JOHNS MANUFACTURING CO.,
SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF
H.W. Johns' Fire and Water-Proof Asbestos Roofing, Sheathing, Building Felt, Asbestos Steam Packings, Boiler Coverings, Roof Paints, Fire-Proof Paints, etc.
VULCABESTON, Moulded Piston-Rod Packing, Rings, Gaskets, Sheet Packing, etc.
Established 1858. 87 MAIDEN LANE, NEW YORK. CHICAGO, PHILADELPHIA, LONDON.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

THE GREAT APERIENT
ROGERS'
GRAPOLINE

CURES HEADACHE, CONSTIPATION, DYSPEPSIA, RHEUMATISM. | A. H. ROGERS & CO., GENESEO, N.Y. FOR SALE BY [illegible] DRUGGISTS.

Ferdinand Ward, who is engaged in pasting tobacco labels at Sing Sing, is called by the warden a "kicker and a schemer."

The Oneida Infanticide.

The Watertown Times contains the following concerning Charles J. Myers and his wife, who have been held to await the action of the grand jury for the murder of their babe which was only a few weeks old.

"Charles Jacob Myers, one of the accused persons, is the son of Alexander Myers, a well to do and respectable farmer residing in the town of Mexico, Oswego county. This young man who has brought the family into unwelcome prominence, is 27 years of age. His father gave him the advantages of a liberal education, first at Arthur and afterward at the Mexico academy. It was here he met Georgie Stevens, a bright, pretty and modest young girl. A mutual affection sprang up between them. The young lady's mother objected to her receiving attentions from Myers. The result was that the young couple met clandestinely. Myers was not what could be termed a hard case, but he did not enjoy the best reputation among the villagers. He was something of a bully, and the smaller and weaker young men stood in fear of him. He was very mischievous and capable of considerable meanness. On the whole, he was not popular with any particular class of people. A few years ago his father furnished him means and he went to Minnesota and purchased a tract of land. About a year ago he returned, and, up to October last, was engaged with his father in buying and selling produce. After his return he continued to pay his attentions to Miss Stevens. The latter was popular in the vicinity and was looked upon as a very respectable young lady. In fact, nothing has ever been said against her character. On the 2d of August, 1886, they went quietly to Oswego and were married by a Methodist clergyman. They returned, announced themselves as man and wife and went to housekeeping. About the first of October it became apparent that [illegible]

The largest tree in California is in Tulare county, and is 400 feet high, and the trunk is 130 feet in circumference, is called "The Father of the Forest."

Ayer's hair vigor stimulates the hair to a vigorous growth. It contains all that can be supplied to make the hair beautiful and abundant, removes dandruff, and renders the hair flexable and glossy.

Great Britain has a quarter of a million bicyclists, and over 100,000 ladies and gentlemen use a tricycle.

Summer hotel men are praying for a big war in Europe to keep people home.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & Co.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable, I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery. In the case [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., [illegible] Job Printers, [illegible] Street, over Eggleston's book store. [illegible] of every description executed in a [illegible] manner at fair prices.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
23 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE,
OSWEGO, N. Y.,
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Streets.
Centrally located in the business part of the city.
Prices Reasonable.
Commodious Sample Rooms.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

COAL.
—GO TO
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

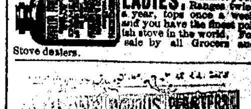
☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

EUREKA CATARRH REMEDY,
NO SALVE! NO SNUFF! NO WASH!
The only internal specific. Cures—not as an irritant or astringent, but by directing the gentle life giving forces of the organism to the part affected. Tasteless and pure. Children take it without difficulty. Price 50 cents by mail.
EUREKA MED. CO. BEAVER, PA.
3mos3

YOU can live at home and make more money at work for us, than at anything else in this world. Capital not needed; you are started free. Both sexes; all ages anyone can do the work. Large earnings sure from first start. Costly outfit and terms free. Better not delay. Costs you nothing to send us your address and find out; if you are wise you will do so at once.
H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Me.

LADIES, Enamel your Ranges twice a year, tops once a week and you have the finest polish stove in the world. For sale by all Grocers and Stove dealers.



Winter Exposure Causes Coughs,
Colds, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Pneumonia, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache and other ailments, for which Benson's Capcine Plasters are admitted to be the best remedy known. They relieve and cure in a few hours when no other application is of the least benefit. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum" "Capsicin" or "Capsicine." Ask for Benson's and take no others. Examine carefully when you buy. All druggists.
SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors New York.

LANDS ☞ SEND FOR Publications, with Maps, describing Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon, the Free Government Lands and Low Price Railroad Lands in the Northern Pacific Country. THE BEST AGRICULTURAL, GRAZING and TIMBER LANDS now open to Settlers mailed free. Address
CHAS. B. LAMBORN,
Land Com. N. P. R. R. St. Paul, Minn.

WANTED LADIES TO WORK FOR US at their homes. $7 to $10 per week can be quietly made. No photo painting; no canvassing. For full particulars, please address, at once, CRESCENT ART CO., 19 Central St. Boston, Mass. Box 5170.

AGENTS WANTED (samples free) for DR. SCOTT'S beautiful ELECTRIC CORSETS, BRUSHES, BELTS, ETC. No risk, quick sales. Territory given, satisfaction guaranteed. DR. SCOTT, 841 Broadway, N. Y.

MONEY to be made. Cut this out and return to us, and will send you free, something of great value and importance to you, that will start you in business which will bring you in more money right away than anything else in this world. Anyone can do the work and live at home. Either sex. All ages. Something new that just coins money for all workers. We will start you; capital not needed. This is one of the genuine, important chances of a lifetime. Those who are ambitious and enterprising will not delay. Grand outfit free.
38y1 Address, True & Co., Augusta, Me.

SALESMEN
WANTED
to canvass for the sale of Nursery Stock! Steady employment guaranteed. SALARY AND EXPENSES PAID. Apply at once, stating age. Refer to this paper.
Chase Brothers, Rochester, N. Y.

$22.00 worth of CHOICE MUSIC FOR [illegible]
Send us $1.00 and we will mail you [illegible] PHILA. MUSICAL JOURNAL. One [illegible] give every subscriber $2.00 worth of [illegible] selected from our catalogue as a premium [illegible] publish in the JOURNAL during the year [illegible] which would cost in sheet form [illegible] more; thus every subscriber receives [illegible] of music for $1.00. The JOURNAL [illegible] monthly and contains instructive [illegible] guidance of teachers and pupils; [illegible] sical stories, an extensive record of [illegible] events from all over the world, and [illegible] of New Music in each issue, making [illegible] valuable publication of the kind in [illegible] not fail to subscribe at once.
Address, F. A. NORTH [illegible]
No. 1308 Chestnut Street, [illegible]

FIRST-CLASS [illegible]
And LOANS. [illegible]

[illegible] has vetoed 130 [illegible]

[illegible] Cleveland will be fifty [illegible] next Friday.

[illegible], wife of one of the condemned Anarchists was buried Sunday. [illegible] was not allowed to follow [illegible] remains to the grave.

De Lesseps has persuaded the Germans to buy a big block of Panama canal stock. If he keeps this up the French will have all the revenge that they want.

The remains of the late Henry Ward Beecher were placed in the vault at Greenwood Cemetery Saturday. Thousands of memorial services were preached on Sunday.

The death of Captain Eads in Nassau, N. P., removes a man that has accomplished much by his engineering skill. His remains are to be taken to St. Louis for burial.

A new law school is to be established in connection with Cornell University. A number of well known men have been selected and engaged for the faculty of this new department.

Mrs. Mary Pelton, sister of the late Samuel J. Tilden, died in New York last Saturday. None of the money or other property left to her by her brother had been received up to the time of her death.

Lawrence Barrett had his scenery and properties attached at Grand Rapids, Mich., last Saturday by Henry F. Gillig to secure a claim of $12,592, said to be due as a result of Barrett's English tour in 1884.

Dr. Mary Walker has made arrangements to appear in a dime museum at Philadelphia for two weeks commencing April 4, where she will deliver a series of scientific lectures. She will be a big attraction.

The Baltimore & Ohio telegraph has been separated from the railroad of the same name and a new telegraph company combining all the lines in the country except the Western Union has been formed. This includes the American Union and Atlantic and Pacific companies; and the combination thus formed will be a powerful rival to the Western Union. Mr. Gould is said to have made overtures for the purchase of the Baltimore and Ohio telegraph, but Mr. Garrett refuses to negotiate with him. The deal is between Messrs. Garrett and Mackay, one of whom will probably be president of the new telegraph company.

Extra bargains are at present offered in lace and Pursian draperies at Rosenbloom's.

Fultonians Honored.

An agent for a Metropolitan weekly paper has passed quite a little of his time during the past month in Fulton and vicinity getting material for that edition of his journal that comes to this locality in hopes of increasing its circulation a couple of hundred thousand or so. He started in by securing a local agent and sending to his paper the pictures of the foremen of hose companies No. 1 and 2. In some way the pictures got mixed and the name of the foremen of company No. 1 appeared under the cut of foreman of company No. 2. The mistake would probably never have been discovered had it not been for the fact that one of the favored ones was the proud possessor of a moustache while the other was minus this adornment which always augments masculine beauty in the eyes of the gentler sex. This enabled the members of the two companies to see that there was a mistake somewhere and are justly indignant that their respective foremen should be thus treated.

The next to be honored werethe commodore and secretary of the Pathfinder canoe club and the large number of this edition which was sent here met with a ready sale, not to the general public however, but to the Commodore and Secretary themselves who bought them all up and cremated them. A few that were secured previously were repurchased at a premium of from 10 to 50 cents and met with the same fate as the others. Another car-load of this edition is expected for the supply of the general public but whither they get them or not depends upon two conditions i. e. whether the Commodore and Secretary get the first chance of buying up the lot and whether their finances hold out in buying up the supplies as they arrive.

A Pleasant Occasion.

The winter term of school district No. 17 of Granby, known as the Reynolds district, closed Friday after a successful term, with James Gilhooly as teacher. After the distribution of presents to his scholars, they in return presented him with a beautiful plush autograph album as a token of their respect for him. On Monday the school held their exhibition which was a grand success in every particular. The exhibition was rendered with instrumental and vocal music also dialogues, declamations and recitations, each part being rendered to the utmost satisfaction of the audience. The school house was filled to its utmost capacity.

There has just been received at H. & A. Rosenbloom's a large and exceedingly fine lot of Oriental, Spanish and Torchon laces in white, cream and colors. No lady should miss seeing these.

Hon. Warner Miller returned from Washington to his home in Herkimer [illegible] and was given an ovation by [illegible]

[illegible] informed that James Bailey [illegible] of H. O. Glasier, an English [illegible]

[illegible]

Chicago, Ill., March 15, 1887.

Chicago is growing, booming and filling with new and desirable enterprises. In 1869 Chicago had a population of 150,000 and was then significantly pointed to as a marvel in growth. It attracted attention from the fact of its being the first American city to experience what is now known as a "boom."

Fifty years ago to-day (1837) Chicago was made a city. It then had a population of 4,170; to-day finds 850,000 people residing within its corporate limits, and enough people reside in surburban towns within easy access of the city to swell the aggregate population to nearly one million! No city of ancient or modern times can show a similar growth. Hardly can there be a better illustration of the unremitting toil, ceaseless energy, and indomitable push of life in Chicago to-day than that the remarkable anniversary passed by unnoticed by any official demonstration or any celebration on the part of the people, the newspapers scarcely noticing it.

In point of architectural beauty the buildings of Chicago are not equalled by those of any Eastern city. Mammoth office buildings towering to a height of ten, twelve and even thirteen stories have been erected by syndicates, to be used exclusively for offices above the second floor. Imagine ten more stories added to the Bee Hive building and you have an idea of these sky scraping structures. Chicago men of advanced ideas, if they want more space, take it out of the sky. The land costs no more than if it were occupied by a five-story structure. The additional cost is almost entirely in the construction of the additional stories. Where these buildings were first erected in this city there was a strong and natural prejudice against the upper stories. But people have found out that they do not tumble down and the time spent in reaching the higher floors amounts to nothing, as the passenger elevators rush up and down with a bang. Some of these wonderful buildings contain as many as nine hundred separate and exclusive offices. There is no place in the country that is said to offer and present such opportunities to people of limited means, and industrious workingmen as Chicago. In the rapid and solid development and growth shopkeepers of every description find desirable business openings. As a manufacturing centre, Chicago is rapidly striding to the front. It is the great central point of the west and has come to stay. Wages are good for all branches of skilled labor; rents moderate and provisions as low as in the East. Teaming is quite an industry here and live men have constant employment at fair wages.

I visited the county jail yesterday with a newspaper man and had a few words with the condemned Anarchists. They spend their time reading, writing and smoking. Briefs have been submitted and an argument for a new trial will be argued before the Illinois Supreme Court, at Attana, in a few days. The prisoners are confident they will be granted a new trial, and if so that the case will never be retried, which is equivalent to freedom. If a new trial is refused they think the Governor will be induced to commute their punishment to imprisonment for life. Anarchism is dead in Chicago, and if these eight deluded men were given their freedom to-morrow morning it is generally believed they would lead different lives.

On emerging from the jail I met and conversed with Miss Nina Van Zandt, who was married to Anarchist August Spies by proxy. She was making her way to the bastile with a dainty lunch for Spies. She has been denied the privilege of seeing or conversing with Spies since the marriage and as a consequence the meal reaches Spies by proxy. Nina is an uncommonly common woman and her penchant for notoriety has not in the least deminished. A wax figure of Nina is on exhibition in a dime museum, with Nina's consent.

Among the thousands of men who have adopted Chicago as their home none have achieved greater distinction in business, occasionally in politics, than Mr. Murray Nelson, brother of Mr. W. S. Nelson of Fulton. Last fall Mr. Nelson was elected a county commissioner by a leading and complimentary vote. He immediately introduced business methods; opposed favoritism in giving contracts and all dark lantern business methods. He was laughed and sneered at by many of the fifteen commissioners and sarcastically addressed and referred to as a "Reformer." Mr. Nelson was as firm as a rock. He intimated that the city of Chicago and Cook county was being robbed right and left and absolutely refused to audit bills until investigated. It made the "gang" nervous. Every paper in the city upheld and applauded Mr. Nelson and demanded an investigation. A nest of cheating and thieving has been unearthed dating from 1882, that will wake a good second for the Fund grab. Chicago has never been so thoroughly aroused as it is over these disclosures. A special grand jury has been summoned to look over the evidence in possession of the State's Attorney General, the officer who prosecuted the Anarchists, and a score of suspects are shadowed night and day by detectives.

Murray Nelson is a Republican. His friends are booming him for mayor but he insists on declining to be a candidate. One paper does Mr. Nelson the honor to place him second on the presidential ticket for 1888, the combination being "Blaine and Nelson."

Joseph Frances.

Hon. G. R. Wendling appeared last evening for the third time before a Fulton audience, this time he delivered what is considered his strongest lecture "Saul of Tarsus." The orator was introduced in a most pleasant manner by the Rev. [illegible] and for over an hour and a half held the [illegible]

[illegible] growth of the city and [illegible] has become a great [illegible] visited by thousands every week during summer and winter, have made the presence of Congress quite unnecessary to the maintenance of activity.

You may come here now at any season of the year you prefer and there will be something for you to hear or see or attend, something to interest you, either of a political scientific, religious, artistic, educational or social character, and perhaps all at the same time, for Washington, as the capital of a great nation, is the centre of many national interests. But all this does not reconcile its citizens to the departure of the law makers. Their absence is always regretted, and their return joyfully welcomed.

The beauty and desirability of Washington, as a place of residence has brought on many changes, both by citizens and visitors. Hon. Arthur Mc Arthur, justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, who had just laid aside the ermine, expressed himself enthusiastically on the subject. "Washington will continue to be my home" said he, "it is the prettiest and pleasantest place I know. In fact a residence of a few years here disqualifies a man for residence anywhere else." Judge McArthur has served on the District bench seventeen years, and retires under the statute which allows a federal judge to resign on full pay for life at the age of seventy after he has served ten years. He said he would retire while he knew how. He did not want to stay until he got so old people would say "why don't he retire?"

Washington has been called the most polite of American cities, the most intelligent, well bred, hospitable and gracious, but it is also understood to be the most immoral. So much has been said to its discredit in this last particular that many people of the country are of the belief that no good can come out of the National Capital. The character of petitions and memorials relative to the District also show the existence of erroneous impressions upon this subject.

Again, Washington does not consist of Congress as in times past, and there is probably no American city now where church life is so intensely active as here. Agencies for reaching and improving the condition of the working classes, mentally, morally and spiritually, are busy at work in every quarter of the city. Chapels for special purposes are springing up, meetings are held for workers of different kinds, homes are being made for friendless children and fallen women who want to lead better lives, and careful work is done in hospitals and asylums.

These are only some of the forms that the church work takes, and all is done systematically and thoroughly and with an earnest zeal that is making itself felt for great good. It is creating an influence that will exert untold power on the thoughts and lives of the people of the future Capital.

One peculiarity of Washington life is the fact that so many of the society people find time to interest themselves actively in church work, not merely by becoming patronesses of this or that thing, but by giving personal attention and labor to them. It is usual to find those whose names are daily reported as being socially distinguished, working with the clergy among the poor, in relief associations, and in the many forms of charitable work, making their influence felt for good, and doing good in a most self-denying way. Congress, the Cabinet, Army and Navy, Bench and Bar, can each show a list of the names of noble men and women who are zealous in good works of which the outside world knows nothing.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

Toledo, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours truly,
L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.
Office, 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Prop.,
Toledo, O.

☞ Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.

Foreign and domestic dress goods of elegant designs and latest paterns are being constantly received at H. & A. Rosenbloom's mammoth Dry Goods store and are sold at prices, which are the lowest.

At all the locks, which are being enlarged, on the Oswego canal, masonary is progressing. Mr. B. P. Smith says that he will be able to use the locks by the opening of navigation, May 1st.

An Italian while at work at Mud Lock last Sunday broke his arm, the remaining 49 Italians refused to work for the rest of the day. They are a superstitious class and if one of their number is injured the rest will not do a particle of work for the remainder of the day.

Until April 1 1887 you can buy all kinds of gloves and mittens at about one-half their price, also all sleds, toys, [illegible]

[illegible] Five cars are precipitated to a roadway some thirty feet below and completely wrecked. A sixth one is pounded into pieces against an abutment, and its fragments also thrown down the cut. The loss of life is at least 26 now, with a list of over 70 people wounded, many of whom may die.

Thanks to the speedy presence of firemen with a chemical engine, the wounded were not burned up, although the wreck had taken fire. The stoves seem to have been bolted down as well as they could be but in one car the top of the stove was knocked off, thus setting fire to the wreck, so that the system of heating with stoves is proved to be dangerous, however securely they may be fastened.

The responsibility for the accident seems to rest largely, if not wholly, with the railroad company. Although the bridge was an iron one, which not many years ago had been substituted for a wooden structure, it was hardly strong enough even when all the material was sound, to sustain the trains that went over it every week day morning. This is shown by its utter collapse. After the wreck the discovery of several flaws in the iron girders shows also that the bridge could not have been properly inspected from time to time.

Stock Breeders' Association.

At an adjourned meeting of the Stock Breeders' association the following officers were elected: John Gardenier, president, Oswego; W. H. Gilbert, first vice-president, Richland; Henry Stevens, second vice-president, Lacona; J. F. Converse, third vice-president, Woodville; T. Kingsford, fourth vice-president, Oswego; Thos. S. Mott, fifth vice-president, Oswego; O. J. Jennings, secretary, Fulton; Geo. Kellogg, treasurer, Fulton; executive committee, O. R. Earl, Sandy Creek, Geo. F. Wheeler, Mexico. The board of managers expect to hold an exhibition commencing June 1st at Richland for the purpose of exhibiting and selling at auction stock and machinery; also a trial of speed of horses will be given.

"Who breathes must suffer, and who thinks must mourn, and he alone is blessed" who knows that pain and suffering can be cured by Salvation Oil.

Although we have heard persons remark—"it is worth its weight in gold"—still Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is to be had at all drug stores for 25 cents.

During the winter there has been 850,000 feet of logs and 450 cords of bark drawn to the railroad at this place and shipped to Bennett & Clark at Oneida; and there has been paid out for labor about $4,000.—Cleveland, Press.

OSWEGO FALLS C. L. S. C.

At a meeting of Oswego Falls Chautauquans at the home of Charles Fuller last Monday evening. The circle was favored with an excellent talk on astronomy, by Mr. J. Williams, president of the society. It was given as a review of the work, in a general way, with the help of charts and globe. His evident familiarity with the subject; the clearness and point with which the many queries were met, and his prolonged patience and perseverence, in his earnest endeavor to help them were highly appreciated, and when at the close a vote of thanks was proposed, each member was eager to respond. This circle has been deeply in earnest in their weekly meetings of the present Chautauquan season. They endeavored to be thorough in geology, and they are not without hope that their recreations in astronomy will be also pleasant and profitable. They always extend a cordial welcome to any who like their work. Next meeting Wednesday evening, March 23d at Miss Olive Carter's. Subject English History and English Literature.

Palermo.

Chester Jewett who has been on the Woodruff farm in Palermo has taken the Colt farm at Bristol hill and is soon to move.

William Ingersol left for the West, Monday He is to work for French & Ames of Mexico.

W. H. Hannan of the Palermo Centre house was in Syracuse and Auburn two days last week looking after his interest in his thrill coupling.

Mr. Ingall music teacher of Ingalls Crossing, was at the Palermo Centre house on Saturday and Sunday.

F. H. Dolbear will make cheese and butter at South Granby the coming season.

Miss Mattie Sampson of Mexico will teach the school at Palermo Centre. She has taught one term here before.

Miss Minnie Trimble who has been sick for some time is convalescent under the treatment of Dr. Manwaren.

Jacob Mahlerwein jr., of Hastings had his barn burned on Wednesday night last, five cows and one horse perished.

Daniel Jennings the justice of the peace of East Palermo, who was elected at the recent town meeting will have a new way of disposing of criminals who are brought before him and convicted. They will be thrown into the Russ Pond to save the county trouble and expense.

Miss Mary Jennings is to go to Cortland on a visit to her brother this week.

Palermo Centre is in need of some Salvationists to take up their headquarters here for a few months. They would meet with good success.

Henry Davis of Hannibal was in town on Sunday.

[illegible]

Miss Catharine Connor, a life long resident of this place died at the residence of her brother, Peter Connor, Monday, March 7, 1887. Miss Connor was born in this place about 30 years ago, and for the last four years has been a dreadful sufferer. She bore her suffering with Christian fortitude looking for the end to come. Deceased had a large circle of friends and acquaintances, was loved and respected by all who knew her. Her loss will be deeply felt not only by the family but by the community at large. The funeral was held from St. Paul's church Oswego, Wednesday March 9, '87.

[illegible] MILLS.

Captain Cook is in poor health.

Another thaw has brought cold here.

Almon Mason is not enjoying as good health as usual.

Uncle [illegible], has been quite sick but is considerable better.

[illegible]

[illegible] has been one of the best known and one of the most kindly men in Washington society for half a century. His is the sunny temperament delighting in bright social intercourse. Yet his connection with daily journalism and his position in the U. S. Senate placed him always in the thick of political affairs and social gossip. He was ever in the Washington "Swim," breasting the waves with jovial vigor, and never failing to hear or see what was said or done.

The Major could never be very solemn, and in his ripened sketches of Washington life every phase reminds him of half a dozen amusing anecdotes. He has a rare gift in telling a story, and his anecdotes are inexhaustible.

His book will not only add lustre to his fame as a writer, but is of so unique a character and so intensely interesting in matter that it will prove a valuable contribution to the literature of the country. It has mirth for the mirthful, wit for the witty, information for all, and we doubt if it has been equalled by any subscription book since the war.

Issued by the well-known house of Hubbard Brothers, 723 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

Fulton, N. Y., March 9, 1887.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and Trustees Kendrick, Bradford, Chase, More and Johnson.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

The Finance Committee reported the following bills correct, the same were audited and ordered paid.

R. B. McCully, turning lamp post,	$ .75
J. More & Co., coal,	2.70
Geo. F. Sharp, highway work,	22.00

A bill of $35.88 was presented by W. G. Gage for paving First-st., in front of lots 3 and 7, on block No. 35. On motion it was

Resolved, That Mr. Gage be credited with the said bill and that the highway tax on the said lots be deducted from the bill from year to year until it shall be fully paid.

The President was instructed to collect the bill of $2.24 for material furnished and labor performed in repairing roadway in front of premises of Chas. H. David on Broadway, between First and Second streets.

The following communication from the Thomson-Houston Electric Company was received and read by the Clerk.

To the Honorable, the President, and Board of Trustees of the Village of Fulton:—

The Thomson-Houston Electric Co. have noticed the advertisements which your honorable Board has caused to be published asking for propositions for lighting the streets of this Village with electric lights; but inasmuch as there has been no appropriation made sufficient for the purpose and as We understand the Board is not prepared to enter into contract and also there being no sureties asked for, local or otherwise, to compel bidders to enter into contract—our bid could amount to nothing more than an open proposition at a price that neither we nor any of our competitive bidders could be compelled to contract for; therefore we deem it unfair to all parties under such circumstances, considering the fact that we have poles and wires extending over the entire Village which are sureties tying us to any agreement we might make, or risk the destruction of such property by an order from the Board compelling us to take down our poles and wires at great expense.

Another also might, fortunately having underbid us by a few cents, compel us to buy up their contract or sublet it to us, all to the detriment of the Village.

This, however, we propose and hereby agree to fulfill such a proposition as follows: We will pay the expenses of a committee from your honorable Board which shall visit several cities and villages in this state to look up the comparative merits of the various systems of electric lighting and learn the price paid under the various conditions, when having satisfied themselves on these points we will agree to furnish electric lights at a price per light per year which shall be less than the average price paid by the cities or villages so visited, running for the same term and under the same conditions.

Very Respectfully Submitted,
Thomson-Houston Electric Co.
Per F. H. Leonard, Jr.

On motion the President appointed Trustees Johnson and Chase a committee to confer with the different Electric Light Companies and obtain the aproximate cost of forty-five and also for fifty lights for one year.

The Board then adjourned for one week, at which time all the bills against the village should be presented for audit.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

The state board of health rules out Oneida lake as a water supply for the city of Syracuse and recommends either Cardiff or Salmon rivers.

George Smith, in North pond, Sandy Creek, Oswego county, while fishing through the ice with a common 40 hook, caught a 21 pound pickerel, the largest ever seen in that region. This is a fish story but as far as we know it is true.

I was a terrible sufferer with Salt Rheum—preferring death to life. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me—Chas. Owen, Ironville, N. Y. I acknowledge Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy to be a cure for Gravel, and so far as I know, the only cure.—J. M. Allen, Charlotte, N. Y. Price $1. Send 2 cent stamp to Dr. Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., for a book on Kidney, Liver and Blood disorders. Mention this paper.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

CHARTER ELECTION.

Notice is hereby given, that the annual meeting and Election of the Village of Fulton, N. Y., will be held at the Stephens Opera House Hall, in said village, on Tuesday, March 15th, 1887, and the polls of the election will be opened at 9 o'clock in the forenoon of that day.

The following officers are to be elected, viz.: a President for one year; two Trustees for three years, in place of Trustees Johnson and Kendrick; an Assessor, for three years; A Collector, for one year; and a Treasurer, for one year.

J. H. [illegible], President.
William Johnson,
Daniel Parker,
Alex. Bradford,
H. H. Kendrick,
John More,
A. P. Chase. } Trustees.

WE BUY Potatoes, Apples, Hay Beans, Eggs, Produce

[illegible] & Co.,

[illegible]

[illegible] OPS.

You can get bargains as well as your neighbors at Draper's (before he moves) on Painted or Glass Chamber sets, Hanging Lamps, Plateware and all kinds of Glassware and Crockery.

Most men otherwise strong in body and mind, will become unhappy and break down when afflicted with Rheumatism. If they would only try Salvation Oil they would find relief at once. Price 25 cents.

Over a million bottles of Dr. Bull's Cough syrup have been sold by W. H. Brown & Bro., Baltimore, Md.

Cure for Rheumatism.

A Fultonian offers the following: Take a piece of saltpeter size of a small pea every other morning for three mornings. Then put a piece the size of a hickory nut into a pint of vinegar and bath the afflicted part thoroughly three times a day, keeping a band of flannel around the same. This cured a very severe case of sciatic rheumatism when the patient had been confined to the bed for a number of months.

CONTENTMENT.

Contentment is better than riches, and Higgins' T. & C. Compound is the best Croup remedy sold.

Harvard is the largest college in the the country, Oberlin is second, Columbia is third, Michigan fourth and Yale fifth.

I had Stone in the Bladder and Gravel in the Kidneys. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy disintegrated the stone and delivered me from it. I am now well. I should long ago have been six feet under the sod if I had not taken Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.—D.H. Hoag, Lebanon Springs, N. Y. Price $1. Send 2-cent stamp to Dr. Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., for his book on Kidney, Liver and Blood disorders. Mention this paper.

44w4

The largest dog in America is claimed to belong to Hudson. He is a Danish hound, 5 feet high, 9 feet long, and 22 months old.

Brown's Little Joke.

"Why, Brown, how short your coat is," said Jones one day to his friend Brown, who wittily replied: "Yes, but it will be long enough before I get another." Some men spend so much for medicines that neither heal nor help, that new clothes is with them like angels visits—few and far between. Internal fevers, weakness of the lungs, shortness of breath and lingering coughs, soon yield to the magic influence of that royal remedy, Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discoveryr"

WIDE AWAKE.

The March Wide Awake has for frontispiece one of Hassam's "wet-day pictures" entitled "A Late March Afternoon." Garrett, too, has some characteristic work both in his strong drawings for Mrs. Harriet Prescott Spofford's ballad "Blind Milton," and his fanciful sketches for Miss Guiney's 'Fairy Folk All." W. L. Taylor is represented at his best by an irresistible little fellow in cap and ulster, accompanying the poem by Abigail Adams Foster, entitled "Just Seven Years Old." Sandham's Mexican's drawings illustrate Fred Ober's serial, "Montezuma's Gold Mines," Merrill's spirited pen-and-ink sketches depict scenes in Mr. Talbot's comedy-seria, "Romulus" and Mrs Champney's Indian serial "Howling Wolf and his Trick-Pony;" one of Kimble's Southern pictures illustrates the La Rose Blanche Story of "The Dish Rag Bonnet," a story most pathetic, most humorous; and Beard has made two or three good drawings for C. F. Holder's paper on "The Coral Country".

But perhaps the most interesting features are among the unillustrated articles which include "the Longfellow papers," "Longfellow and the Children," by Rev. Samuel Longfellow; a delightful botonical paper by Grant Allen, entitled "A New England Flower; a little Roman adventure by Mary Densil, called "Nan's Banbino; "a good story by Penn Shirley, "A Boy's Lawsuit;' also a sketch of a Western school-girl editor, "A Colorado Wasp." There are still other interesting features; "bits of talk," by Rose Kingsley, Margaret Sidney and Annie Sawyer Downs, a fascinating piece of biographical writing by Mrs Bollon about "Pansy" (Mrs. G. R. Alden), with portrait, some carpentry for boys, some "Search-Questions" for historical students, "Tangles" for the ingenious and other poems and other pictures and other stories.

Only $2.40 a year. D. Lothrop & Co., Publishers, Boston.

Scribner's New Magazine.

This magazine which commenced with the year is fast growing in popularity, and will soon reach a circulation equal to many of the older monthlies. The April number contains some twenty letters of Thackery never before published. They seem like reading a new and more than ever interesting story from that well-known pen. Each letter is stamped with the characteristic individuality of this famous writer, abounding in shrewd comments on men and events and contains many glimpses of his own opinions and beliefs on subjects of which be seldom spoke. The illustrations accompanying are unique. "Seth's Brother's Wife," a serial, began with the first number, written by Harold Frederick, the scenes and characters of which are laid in Central New York, is already attracting much attention and receiving commendation from the press.

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

An inmate of the Middletown asylum is worth $500,000. He became insane over religion, and imagines he is President of the United States.

Advice to Mothers.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup." 8y1

SPECIAL MEETING

of the

Taxable Inhabitants of the Village of Fulton.

[illegible]

[illegible] Evening, March 19th, 1887.

[illegible]

[illegible]
[illegible] Richard Ball
[illegible] Eugene Hawley
[illegible] G. G. Ross
[illegible] Anthony Dunn
21 W. C. Collis
23 Henry Crouch
25 Abram Lewis
27 L. S Babcock
29 Frank Wright
31 Elijah Moore
33 Henry Tallman
35 David Jewett
37 Almon Osborne
39 W. I. Carrier
41 A. D. Foster
43 Chas Owen
45 N. Salisbury
47 D. Hammond
49 Albert Paddock
51 Austin Hooker
53 R. R. Druce
55 Geo. Littlefield
57 Webster Hawks
59 H. L. Bowen
61 H. T. Hubbard
63 Lewis Thorp
65 John Hill
67 Peter Klein
69 John VanBuren
71 W. H. Williams
73 Benj. Hartwick
75 Ira Campbell
77 Albert Clark

[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible] Alfred Beardsley
26 Walter Adams
28 A. C. Whittemore
30 J. H. Piper
32 A. J. Baker
34 Wm. Hartigan
36 H. H. Allen
38 J. D. McDougall
40 C. E. Briggs
42 J. K. Rowlee
44 John Austin
46 Wm. Gillespie
48 Walter Wilber
50 Oliver Baldwin
52 David Calkins
54 Albert Durfee
56 Monroe Sheel
58 Christopher Kerfine
60 John De Wolf
62 John Ricketts
64 Morgan Van Buren
66 Benj. Ingamells
68 O. K. Armour
70 John Carpenter
72 H. Hart
74 Herman Rowlee
76 Andrew Stein

Two American yachts, the Dauntless and Coronet started from New York Saturday on their race across the Atlantic to Cork, Irelrñd.

An Abstract of Expenditures.

By L. T. Richardson Superintendent of Repairs upon the Oswego canal, and having charge of 28 miles of said canal extending from Oswego to Three River Point also the Oneida river improvement 20 miles.

FOR THE MONTH OF FEBRUARY 1887,

D. VanValkenberg, residence Oswego watching canal one month $20	$20.00
E. L. Richardson, residence Fulton, watching canal one month $15	$15.00
	$35.00

Name	Res.	What for	Time.	Price	Amt.
STATE SHOP CHECK ROLL
John Boardman	Fult'n	Foreman	24	2 40	57 60
Walter Bradley	"	Carpenter	24	1 80	43 20
Joe Hayden	"	C Labor	3	1 00	3 00
N Miller	"	"	3⅞	1 00	3 87
Joseph Connor	"	"	4⅛	1 00	4 12
R R Dodge	"	Team	5⅝	2 40	13 50
Almon Barnes	"	"	3⅛	2 40	7 50
John Lynch	"	"	1⅜	2 40	3 00
					135 79

The above labor was performed as follows:

48 days making lock gates	100 80
21 days drawing lumber and unloading cars	34 99
	135 79
Fulton Times Co., publishing abstract 1 mo	2 50
	$173 29

State of New York, }
Oswego County. } ss:

L. T. Richardson, Superintendent of canal repairs, and having charge of the line of canal specified in the above abstract being duly sworn, doth depose and say that the foregoing abstract, amounting to the sum of $173.29, is a true abstract of all vouchers taken by him, as such superintendent, during the month of February '87.

Subscribed and sworn to before me }
this 14. day of March, 1887. }

L. T. RICHARDSON
Superintendent

C. W. STREETER
Notary Public.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

AGENTS WANTED to sell "REMINISCENCES" of 60 YEARS in the NATIONAL METROPOLIS,

BY BEN PERLEY POORE

Illustrating the Wit, Humor, and Eccentricities of Noted Celebrities. A Richly Illustrated treat of inner Society History, from "ye olden time" to the wedding of Cleveland. Wonderfully Popular. Agents report rapid sales. Address for circular and terms, HUBBARD BROS., Philadelphia, Pa.

45w6

NEW YORK MARKET REPORT.

By Williams & Co., Produce Commission Merchants, 671 Hudson street and 34 Ninth Avenue.

	Butter—Market firmer.
Creamery,	Western	31 @ 32
	Elgin	33 @ 34
	Imitation	22 @ 26
Dairy	Eastern ½ firkin tubs	29 @ 30
	" Dairies Entire	18 @ 20
	" Firkins	16 @ 20
Rolls	Firsts	23 @ 24
	Seconds	14 @ 20
	Cheese—Market dull.
	New York Cheddar	13¼ @ 13½
	New York Part Skims	10½ @ 11¼
	Penn Skims	2 @ 8
	Eggs—Market steady.
	Fresh Eastern firsts	17¾
	Western fresh	17 @ 17¼
	Southern	16 @ 16½
	Poultry—Market weaker
Live	Fowls State and Western	9
	Ducks per pair	60 @ 80
	Turkeys	8 @ 9
Dressed	Turkeys	11
	Chickens	8 @ 10
	Ducks	12 @ 13
	Potatoes—Market quiet.
	Burbanks per 180 lbs.	150 @ 162
	Peerless	125 @ 140
	Hebron	150 @ 162
	Rose	150 @ 175
	Hay—Market steady.
	Timothy prime per 100 lbs.	80 @ 85
	No. 1	[illegible]
	No. 2	[illegible]
	Ordinary	[illegible]
	Clover mixed	[illegible]
	Clover	[illegible]

Humors,

Erysipelas,

Canker, and

Catarrh,

Can be cured by purifying the blood with

[illegible] I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. —W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured. —Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured. —Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach. —Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Price $1; six bottles, $5.

HAVE YOU never felt strangely tired, restless or uneasy? Have you had pains shooting through the head, along the limbs or around the back? Have you experienced strange sensations for which you could not account? And do you know that all these things arise from diseased kidneys, which, unless promptly cured will run into Bright's disease and end in Death? The Kidneys are the seat of nine-tenths of all the diseases of to-day!!

The F. E. C. Kidney Remedy is an absolute cure for these troubles, and is guaranteed by the druggists who sell it. It is especially valuable for Female Troubles. Every mother, every wife, every nervous and overworked woman, whose life is made miserable by sufferings peculiar to her sex, should know that of all the medicines ever sold, the F. E. C. is the first and only Remedy that guarantees relief or refunds the money. It is effectual, as thousands of testimonials will prove.

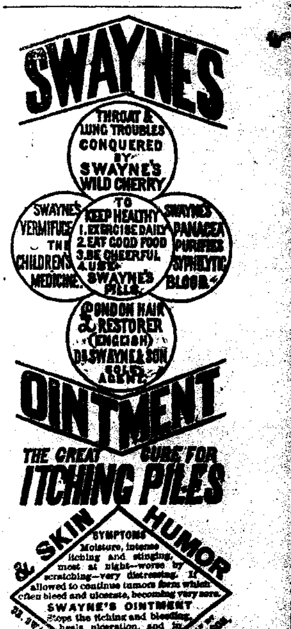
Sold by all Dealers everywhere.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle.



SWAYNES
THROAT & LUNG TROUBLES CONQUERED BY SWAYNE'S WILD CHERRY
SWAYNE'S VERMIFUGE THE CHILDREN'S MEDICINE.
TO KEEP HEALTHY 1. EXERCISE DAILY 2. EAT GOOD FOOD 3. BE CHEERFUL 4. USE SWAYNE'S PILLS.
SWAYNE'S PANACEA PURIFIES SYPHILITIC BLOOD.
LONDON HAIR RESTORER (ENGLISH) DR. SWAYNE & SON SOLE AGENT.
OINTMENT
THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES
& SKIN HUMOR
SYMPTOMS Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night—worse by scratching—very distressing. If allowed to continue tumors form which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore.
SWAYNE'S OINTMENT Stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in many cases removes the tumors. Sent by mail for 50 cts.
DR. SWAYNE'S REMEDIES OLDEST IN U. S.
DR. SWAYNE & SON, PHILADELPHIA

EUREKA FROST CURE.

FOR FROZEN FEET, EARS, NOSE, AND CHILBLAINS.

Made from Agaricus, a moss growing in the frigid regions of the north. A sure Cure. By mail 50c.

EUREKA MED. CO.
Sharon, Pa.

3mos 3

BARGAINS IN REAL ESTATE.

Below will be found a partial list of the Farms Houses and Lots and other property I offer for sale for chash or its equivalent:

Farm	acres	from	to	per	acre
"	25	"	$175	"	$125
"	100	"	65	"	48
"	45	"	100	"	85
"	210	"	40	"	30

House and lot	street	per cent	below value
" " "	Oneida	20	"
" " "	Senaca	20	"
" " "	Sixth	20	"
" " "	Erie	20	"
" " "	Cayuga	10	"
" " "	"	10	"
" " "	Oswego City	33⅓	"
Country store		40	"

This last mentioned is within 3 miles of two railroad stations. Good Store, Barn and one acre of land. Good location for business. Owner abroad. Can use funds to better advantage elsewhere.

Parties desiring to exchange, sell, or [illegible] are invited to call or correspond with the undersigned.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida [illegible]
FULTON, N. Y.

[illegible] Express [illegible]

[illegible] a. m. and 9:15 p. m. trains will [illegible] Sleeping car attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. [illegible], Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:34 a. m
Oswego Express	11:05 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	7:50 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE,"

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:31	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19p.m.	3:39	6:39

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

A. Rosenbloom is in Watertown this week.

Miss Allie Waterman is visiting friends in Oswego.

Mrs. Rose, mother of Mrs. May Sabin, is visiting her daughter in Buffalo.

R. H. McKay has been visiting his brother John A. McKay at Brooklyn.

Miss Anna Hardy is quite low. Her brothers in Chicago have been sent for.

Gansvort Kenyon of Syracuse, passed Sunday with is mother in this village.

Frank Cole of Kirkville, is the guest of Mrs. A. L. Warner for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Baker spent Sunday in Syracuse, the guest of D. McCarthy.

Mrs. H. O. Silkman of Pennsylvania is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Gardner.

Robert H. Gere of the Syracuse Herald passed Sunday with his parents in this village.

R. G. Saunderson of New York is in town looking after his real estate interests.

Mrs. Jenninson of Washington, D. C., is the guest of her niece, Mrs. M. A. Stewart.

Miss Elizabeth Lyon of St. Louis, Mo., is visiting in this village, the guest of Mrs. Harroun.

A. E. Nettleton is in New York and Boston buying Boots and Shoes for his Fulton store.

Mrs. George Kellogg who has been attending an art school in New York has just returned.

Mrs. H. J. Peebles is visiting relatives and friends in her former home, Utica, for a few weeks.

B. J. Kimball is slowly recovering from his recent attack of sickness and will soon be out again.

Harold Bacchus, now of Hartford, Conn., has been visiting his brother during the past week.

F. A. Seymour of the Star Oil company of Buffalo, has been in Fulton during the first week.

David H. Highriter of Sandusky, Ohio, is visiting in town the guest of his sister, Mrs. Hugh McKiernan.

Miss Maggie Cullen is in New York attending the grand spring openings. She will be gone three or four weeks.

Rev. W. Dempster Chase was summoned to Washington last week on account of the serious illness of his sister's son.

Miss Carrie Myers who has been stopping with Mrs. A. L. Warner the past winter has gone to Syracuse for a few weeks.

Mrs. James R. Barrett who has been visiting with Fulton friends for the past few weeks has returned to her home in Cazenovia.

Chas Guile who recently moved from Oswego Falls to Cranston, R. I. has been back attending his sick daughter during the past week.

J. A. Place of the Times-Express and H. L. Hart of Oswego were in town yesterday and attended the Wendling lecture last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Douce of Duluth, Minn., are here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Fish. Mrs. Douse was the only daughter of Mrs. Fish.

Rev. Dr. J. M. Atwood, president of Canton University is announced to preach at the Universalist church next Sunday morning and evening.

Mr. James Kelty, an old Fultonian but for the past thirty years a resident of Brooklyn has been the guest of his uncle O. F. Parker at Oswego Falls during the past week.

Miss Maud Boomer started last week to accept a position as stenographer for a paper mill company near Saratoga. A telegram from the Howe Ventilating Stove Works Company of this village induced her to return. She is now filling her old position in that office at an advanced salary.

I will sell my house 105 Cayuga street and two lots running through to Oneida street for $1,400, to ready purchasers. I also offer my household furniture for sale cheap as my residence for the next 10 days.

F. D. Wilson.

Don't fail to see the bargains in Boots and Shoes now being offered at Nettleton's.

Masonic Notes.

Hiram Lodge No 144, F. & A. M., will work the first degree next Monday evening, March 21, on three candidates.

To Rent—House 28 Utica street.

[illegible]

[illegible]
Communicated.
[illegible]

The Metropolitan pulpit failed not to improve the opportunity to impress on the pew the lessons which the life of the lamented Beecher so fully furnished. There was no denominationalism yesterday, but very generally the different sects laid aside the reserve which creed so often maintains and gave generous praise to the memory of the Brooklyn preacher.

Beecher was almost as much of a New Yorker as he was a Brooklynite. It was here that his editorial experience was acquired when in charge of The Independent and The Christian Union. I remember having seen him very many times, my first personal contact with him, however, occurred not in this city but in the railroad depot at Peekskill.

More than a half dozen years ago, I was awaiting a late evening train that was to bring me to this city. The train in question was very much behind its schedule time. While waiting, there entered the station a tall, broad shouldered man in semi-clerical suit and a rather dilapidated slouch hat. His face bore a cheerful expression and his long hair, then turning gray, gave him an attractive appearance. We two were the only ones awaiting the arrival of the train. By that peculiar sympathy which makes strangers to feel a friendliness for each other when companions in distress, we feel in conversation. Of course, I knew who it was I was in conversation with. The conversation ranged upon a variety of topics and I remember very distinctly one thing. The night was one of those bright nights in the late spring and the river near by was dotted here and there with the crafts as they were making their way up or down the river. I remember Mr. Beecher stopping in the middle of a reply and gazing into the heavens very intently, and then upon the river, his face seemed to take a strange and new expression as if the very heart of nature had communed with his. He did the talking, I the listening. Of course this little reconitre is stamped indelibly on my memory. The impression I then gathered was that Mr. Beecher possessed to a greater degree than any one I had met the largest heart, the most perfect gentleness and the most varied store of useful knowledge.

⁂

There are two places where society spends its time when it wants amusement that will not clash with the pious thoughts which Lent is supposed, and no doubt does, inculcate. One is the Stewart exhibition of paintings; the other, the Panorama of Vicksburg and of the Monitor and Merrimac.

To anyone who visits the first, one thing will show itself destinctly; that the collection was not made by an expert in collecting. When compared with the Morgan collection of one year ago, it falls into almost insignificance except for three or four notable examples. But what makes it attractive is the seclusion, to which by the peculiar ideas of its owners, it has been subjected. Mrs. Morgan secured the best endeavors of the dealers, their best judgment and their most scrupulous attention by a very lavish display of her money, and secured a representative collection of very great merit. On the other hand, A. T. Stewart had a liking for a certain kind of art. Tangible and easily understood efforts were what he wanted and this only would he buy. The technique of art, he knew nothing about. He purchased to supply the big gallery with pictures; obtained a couple of hundred; did not need to imagine what any of them meant; they spoke for themselves. When he died and his wife continued these purchases. She trusted more to Judge Hilton than anybody else, and he, to a certain degree, depended on the dealers. The result is a much better representation. The two great pictures are Rosa Bonheur's "Horse Fair" and Messionier's (1807) "Napoleon and his Army." These two are the gems of the collection. More than a $150,000 is represented by these two. Art sales are plenty this year, but prices are low. American art is terribly forsaken by persons with fat purses. I know an artist who ten years ago could hardly get a fair rate for his most excellent efforts went to Italy, added a couple of letters to his name, and now has more commands from American patrons than he can possibly fulfill in ten years. That's one of the peculiarities of American picture buyers. It's all French. Well may the Hon. C. M. Depew protest against this unjust discrimination.

⁂

Speaking of society I want to tell you of a queer piece of charity gotten up by a society lady. She don't celebrate Lent and hence could engage in this divertisement without compunctions of conscience. This lady is remarkable for her charity. So recently she gave a ball at her house, secured the Hungarian band, had several noted elocutionists and a prominent Philadelphia soloist for an entertainment before the dancing, charged her 150 guests an admission fee and gave this sum to a hospital up town. This is the way she mixed charity and amusement together. That is to say, she spent a cool thousand so that her intimate friends might donate a sum much less than $500 to the hospital. Curious way, wasn't it?

⁂

I went to see Ruddygore the other night and didn't see it. Why? Well, it happened something like this: Our seat was nicely located and we congratulated ourselves on the good view, for in the modern stage so much is left to the imagination (especially in Ruddygore) that a view of the stage is imperative. But we counted without our cost, for shortly after taking our seat the row immediately in front was filled with a party of ladies, escorted by a couple of gentlemen. The ladies wore [illegible] tall hats with large [illegible]

[illegible] four unknown, for these two worthy gentlemen would never have been able to teach their philosophy with the sociability and calmness that history records. Positive are we that Alcibiades would have received some instruction on this point.

⁂

The amusement world is waiting to welcome the great and only P. T. Barnum and the divine Sara. Already Phineas T. has had his parade and to-day his month's engagement of the "greatest show on earth" begins. The sale of seats for the Bernhardt season mounts up the magnificent sum of $70,000. The Patti season shortly begins; so that the next six weeks will be an attractive one to amusement lovers.

Wanderer.

The county court is now in session at Pulaski.

Mrs. O. Breed of Phœnix called on Fulton friends last week.

Do not read a borrowed Times. Subscribe for it at $1.25 per year.

A daughter was born to the wife of George W. Campbell last week.

There are fourteen cases in the criminal calender of the county court.

Mrs. S. F. Case gave a tea party to a number of her friends last Friday evening.

A large nmber of the schools in the county are closed for spring vacation.

Rev. O. C. Cole of Constantia, occupied the pulpit at the M. E. church last Sunday.

Sergt. A. W. Stay of Co. F. 9th Inft, regular army, is now located at Whipple Bks., Arizona.

The annual meeting of the Fulton Fire Department is to be held two weeks from next Tuesday.

Operations will be resumed at the Granby Brownstone quarry on the Jennings farm on April 1st.

It is announced that Boland Bros. are to open a cigar manufactury in the Betts block at Oswego Falls.

If you are in need of a trunk or satchel don't fail to call at H. & A. Rosenbloom's and see their large line.

A. R. Ney of the Boston Bazaar will occupy one of the houses on Second street belonging to F. A. Gage.

H. J. Peebles of the firm of Peebles & Cook will occupy one of the Gage cottages on Second street after April 1st.

Prof. Cooper's department at No. 1 school was closed Monday and Tuesday on account of the death of Mrs. Cooper's father.

We publish in another column an interesting letter from Chicago by Joseph Francis formerly local editor of The Times.

A social dance is to be given in the opera house ball room on Thursday (tomorrow evening,) under the auspices of the Youngs Brothers.

Dana C. Highriter has successfully passed the final examination at the Baltimore medical college and returns to Fulton a full fledged M. D.

Fred S. Rogers whose hand was injured at Waugh's paper mill a short time ago, has gone to New York, his former home, for treatment.

Walter Bramham, for the last five years an employe of the R. & O. mills of Oswego Falls, started with his family for his old home in England last Friday.

J. C. Babcock is as well as could be expected this morning. He is unable to speak or write, his right side being completely paralyzed but recognizes friends that have called upon him.

The Washington excursionists have now all returned and speak in glowing terms of the National Capital and the many things of interest that they saw and heard during their ten days trip.

On last Saturday night a special meeting of Steamer No. 2 and Johnson Hose company was held. For some reason, we are informed, the company disbanded but re-organized again within an hour.

Robert W. Flock of Syracuse is a competitor for Chauncey M. Depew's $5,000 premium for the best safety car heating device, and submits a system of steam radiation which will cost 10 cents per hour.

The Village Improvement Society will hold a meeting in the session rooms of the M. E. church next Monday evening at 7:30. A full attendance is desired as business of importance is to be discussed.

Landlord Williams of the Lewis House took possession of the Kirby House in Watertown on Monday, March 7. He makes his headquarters at Watertown, but will come occasionally to Fulton to look after his interests here.

Another excursion to Washington is to be given on March 15 by the Pennsylvania railroad. The fare for the round trip from Syracuse is $10. Tickets are good for ten days and can be secured at either the West Shore or New York Central depots.

NICE PLEASANT ROOMS, To Rent Cheap.

Inquire Corner of Fifth and Utica Sts.

In addition to the business changes mentioned in The Times last week to be made on April 1: W. M. Adams of Oswego, N. Y., is to open a book and stationery store in the Patriot building and it is said S. D. Becker will carry on livery business in Oswego.

President Stevenson of the Oswego [illegible]

[illegible] crushed in a [illegible] machine. [illegible] Lilly lost one of his fingers at the box factory. J. G. Wells and Thomas O'Brien were both badly bruised on the head by a piece of timber falling upon them while removing hay from the former's tobacco storehouse at lower Oswego Falls last Saturday afternoon. If this thing continues and all get out accident policies, some companies will have to go under.

We clip the following from the Wellington (Kan.), Quid-Nunc, which will be of interest to many Fultonians:

Mr. F. D. Wilson of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., arrived in this city last night. He has been engaged in the livery and bus and hotel business for many years in Fulton and proposes to start in the same business here. He comes well recommended and with plenty of money. He purchased of Saunders & Filkerson the Illinois livery barn, for $4,200. He sold one lot of the five immediately for $1,300. Mr. Wilson will tear away the building now standing and erect a fine stable. He sold his property in New York covered with snow and is much delighted with sunny and prosperous Kansas. He leaves for New York to-day to close up his business there, and will soon be back here to prosecute his business. Such energetic business men are welcome here, and we are glad to record that there are plenty of them coming.

A Wellington, (Kan.), paper contains the following concerning C. W. Smith, who is well known as a former resident of this village:

"C. W. Smith, the wigwam implement man, bought the lots west of the post office, on part of which are situated his warehouse, one year ago, five of them for $3,000

Yesterday he sold two of these lots to Mr. J. A. Maggard for $5,800. Mr. Smith still holds three of these lots which are worth proportionally as much. Mr. Smith is one of our most active business men and it is the faith and the enterprise and the farseeing, good judgment of just such men as he that makes Welington what she is now, and will help work out the glorious destiny which awaits her. Don't she boom?"

The big sale of Boots and Shoes is in full Blast at Nettleton's.

A large and exceedingly fine line of neckwear can be found at Rosenbloom's. Some samples of their large stock can be seen in one of their show windows.

OBITUARY.

Samuel D. Wakeley died at the home of his son-in-law, Prof. James Cooper, on Oneida street, last Saturday afternoon, aged 81 years. The remains were interred at Hannibal Centre, yesterday.

Mrs. Ann Fish, aged nearly 74 years, died very suddenly at her home on Utica street, last Saturday of paralysis. Services were held this afternoon at her late residence and the remains laid at rest in Mt. Adnah.

Word reaches this place of the death of Rev. Charles J. Hutchings, some twenty years ago pastor of the Presbyterian church of this village. He died in San Francisco on February 13th.

The Orleans American of March 10, published at Albion contains a notice of the death Mr. Nelson Warner, which occurred on February 26th, in his 61st year of his age. We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Warner have friends in this vicinity who will be grieved to hear the sad news.

Legrange More, a former resident of Fulton, died at Olean, N. Y. last Monday morning of heart disease. Mr. More had been engaged in the dental business at Olean for the past fifteen years or more.

Ladies' gloves, dressed and undressed kids, latest designs in different shades and with corded and plain backs at H. & A. Rosenbloom's.

Order your dry goods by letter, from Dey Brothers & Co., South Salina street, Syracuse, N. Y. We take much interest in our mail department. We think the best way of selecting Dry Goods is inspecting them in the piece; and the next best way is selecting them by sample. We send samples with care and promptness, and if the goods bought are not equal to the sample in every respect, we willingly refund the money paid, when the goods are returned promptly and undamaged. Our stocks of general Dry Goods, Upholstery and Millinery, are unrivalled in Central New York. We name especially our Silks, Black Goods, Dress Goods, Laces, Hosiery, Linens, Notions, Corsets, Gloves, Ribbons, Flannels, Prints, Satteens and Muslin Underwear. We take pleasure in showing our stock to strangers and we cordially invite all parties visiting our city to call on us. We will give them a cordial welcome and our best attention.

Dey. Brothers & Co.
Syracuse, N. Y.

A special sale of corsets is being made at Rosenbloom's. They will be sold for the present at 50 cents and are cheap at $1.00. Do not let this opportunity pass.

The large sales in crockery, plated ware, lamps and groceries at Draper's for the past few days, show that he is selling these goods less than cost. Call soon as he moves April 1st.

[illegible] store [illegible]

[illegible], druggist, expects to move into the [illegible] store on First street on April 1st.

P. S. Gilmore is to give one of his grand concerts at the rink in Oneida on Tuesday March 22.

A notice of charter election to be held on Tuesday March 29th can be found in another column.

Remember our combination offer with Scribner's magazine. You can get both for $3.50 per year.

The G. A. R. post at Baldwinsville have thus far raised $519.63 towards their soldiers' monument.

This is the season of the year when severe colds are contracted. A large number of Fultonians are favored.

Four new canal boats are in process of construction at Phœnix. Two for E. J. Vickery and two for Ira Eno.

N. R. Cole now has pleasant undertaking rooms on Oneida street across the street from his former location.

It is expected and hoped that the village Improvement Society will be instrumental in doing much of good for Fulton the coming year.

The Oswego District which held their conference in Camden Monday and Tuesday represents fifty-four M. E. churches and 5,270 members.

Birney Buel has been released from his position as master mechanic at the Oswego Falls mills, and a Mr. Lee from Providence, R. I., engaged in his place.

The class leaders and exhorters of the M. E. church in this village about ten in number, attended the district conference of their church at Camden on Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Lucy M. Salmon, a former Fulton girl, is reaching a high rank as an authoress. An excellent article entitled "Our American Cities" is among her latest productions.

A western editor hearing it reported that persons in a drowning condition suddenly recollect all the transactions of their lives, wished that a few of his subscribers would take to bathing in deep water.

The Chronicle acertains that there are in Phœnix 31 old maids, 52 widows and any number of youthful but single females while only 11 bachelors and 9 widowers can be enumerated. A bad state of affairs that.

A modern front is to be put in the Saunderson block on First street at once. It will greatly improve the appearance of the building and make it one of the most desirable stores on the west side of First street.

Charles Lilly lost the second finger of his right hand last Wednesday afternoon while moving timber at the box factory used for the construction of the flume of the Thomson-Houston Electric company's water wheel.

A canal boat, belonging to Byron Clark which is in winter quarters near Gage's Mills caught fire last Saturday afternoon and brought out the firemen. No stream was however thrown as it would have caused serious damage to the grain with which the boat was loaded. The cabin was badly damaged before the fire was brought under control.

Teachers' examination will be held as follows: March 21, West Amboy; March 22, Sandy Creek High School; March 23, Pennellville; March 24, Pulaski Academy; March 25, Constantia; March 26, Mexico Academy; March 28, West Monroe; March 29, Albion; March 30, Central Square; March 31, Orwell, April 1, Parish; April 2, Williamstown.

The next regular meeting of the C. L. S. C. will be held this evening at Mrs. G. H. Salmon's home. The program will include classical French, course in English, recitations in astronomy, sketches of the mythological characters from whom the planets were named, quotations from some epic poem, and a seclection from "Josiah Allen's Wife."

To-morrow evening the Father Mathew T. B. & L. society of this village will present at the opera house the temperance drama "Social Glass" after which the Rev. William Earley will give an address on "Why Ireland should be a Nation." Music will be furnished by Bogue's orchestra. Talant from Syracuse will also assist at the entertainment. Admission 25 cents. Reserved seats 35 cents.

John C. Babcock, an old and well known citizen of this village and sexton of the Presbyterian church, was stricken with paralysis while at work in the chapel of the church last Friday afternoon. He was discovered unconscious on the floor and taken to his his home on Utica street when it was found that his tongue and right side was paralyzed. Since that time he has been unable to talk or move the right half of his body. He is about 73 years of age and it is feared that he will never recover.

[illegible] born in [illegible], South Carolina, in July, 1842, is of Northern extraction. Her mother had considerable talent as a musician, and Clara was her only child. In 1856 they removed to New York where she received the whole of her musical education. She made her first appearance there at the Academy of Music (opera), as Gilda in "Rigoletto," in 1861, and sang that season ten or twelve times. In 1867 she made her debut in London, at Her Majesty's, as Margherita, sang constantly, and was re-engaged for the next year. From 1868 to 1872 she was touring in the United States. On May 11th, 1872. She reappeared in London, at Drury Lane, Her Majesty's opera, as Linda, and sang during that season also as Gilda. On her return to the United States she continued to sing in Italian opera, till 1874, when she organized an English troupe, herself superintending the translation of the words the mise en scene, the training of the singers and the rehearsal of the chorus. Such was her devotion to the project, that in the winter of 1874-75 she sang no fewer than 125 nights. It is satisfactory to know that the scheme was successful. It is said that she is familiar with over thirty-five operas. She has great conscientiousness as an artist, ardent enthusiasm, and a voice of great compass and purity; in addition to which she has a remarkable talent for business, and is never so happy as when she is doing a good or benevolent action.

Good Templars.

The session of the the Oswego County lodge I. O. G. T., which closed at Sandy Creek, Wednesday, was one of the most successful in the history of Good Templarism in this county. Oswego county leads all the counties of the Empire State in this order. There are 27 lodges in the county and there are good prospects that there will soon be two more, one at Mexico and one at Pulaski. Twenty two lodges were represented at the county session, representing a membership of nearly 1300. The silver pitcher awarded to the lodge for initiating the largest number of members, went to South Hannibal and the prize regalia went to Parish for re-instating the largest number. The next session of the County lodge will be held at Pennellville in June. One hundred and sixty-eight persons took the obligation in this county during the last quarter. There are six juvenile Temples in the county with a membership of more than 300. The Temples are to the subordinate lodges what the Sunday schools are to the church.

Entertainment at No. 1 School.

A school entertainment in district No. 1, is to be held in the school building Friday evening, March 18, consisting of recitations, dialogues, &c., also instrumental music by the school orchestra and vocal by the school choir consisting of 24 voices, assisted by the best local talent. Mr. N. H. Gilbert will also sing a solo. Those who have witnessed the rehearsals report the music very fine. No better recommend is necessary, than that this promises to be far superior to the last one held, as more time and effort has been given for its preparation. The proceeds to be for the benefit of the school. Doors open at 7. Exercises to commence at 7:45 p. m. Admission 10 cents. By order of Com.

5c. Violin strings at Jones' Music Store

A Drawing Attraction.

The Phœnix Register says that among the attractions at Three River Point grove the coming summer will be a vigorous two year old black bear which Mr. Miller has secured. In one of its playful moods the other day the animal created quite a commotion in Mr. Miller's grocery, and no one dared to interfere with his pastime. It is expected that the animal will maintain good order among the guests, and supply any deficiency in the hugging line which the lady visitors may experience.

H. & A. Rosenbloom carry a larger stock of hats and caps than all the other stores in town put together. They are sold at prices ranging from 20 cents to $4.50.

Nettleton's three thousand dollar stock of Boots and Shoes, being sold for cost and less, is a great bargain.

Buy a Home.

There is no good reason why every mechanic and laboring man in Fulton should not own his house instead of paying rent and moving from place to place and never having a place that they can call a home. The subscriber will sell vacant lots in desirable locations on very liberal terms, small payments, and help the purchaser to build if desired, or will sell houses and lots cheap and already to move into.

March 16, 1887. W. S. Nelson.

The Ladies' Jackets to be seen at H. & A. Rosenbloom's beat the world. They sell at from 98 cts. to $6.00.

Four round "Emerson" grand Pianos slightly used for sale at F. K. Jones'. 44tf.

A good seven year old horse, a carriage, cutter and harness for sale cheap. Inquire of C. R. Ney at the Boston Bazaar. 44tf

A man's judgment is part of his fortune. We will [illegible] to every visitor with goods and prices to convince [illegible] ment that Dollars bought of us will save you [illegible]

That you can save money and yet receive the full [illegible] demonstrated in our splendid stock of

Men's Boys' & Children's

Clothing, Hats, Caps, [illegible]

Pronounced by many buyers the Finest I ever saw.

PEEBLES & COOK.

SPRING SEASON 1887.

The Clara Louise Kellogg Concert & Opera Company

—AT—

Stephens Opera House,

FULTON, N. Y.,

Tuesday Even'g, March 22.

THE FINEST MUSICAL ORGANIZATION IN AMERICA.

The Company consists of

Miss Clara Louise Kellogg,

Prima Donna.

Miss CARRIE MORSE, Contralto; Sig. CARLO SPIGAROLI, Tenor; Sig. VINCENZO GRECO, Baritone, and Mr. CHAS. E. PRATT, Musical Director.

CARL STRAKOSCH, Manager.

PROGRAM:

PART I.

1. DUETT, Martha — Flotow
   Messrs. SPIGAROLI and GRECO.
2. PAGE SONG, Huguenots, — Meyerbeer
   Miss CARRIE MORSE.
3. BARCAROLE, — Tito Mattei
   Sig VINCENZO GRECO.
4. JEWEL SONG, Faust, — Gounod
   Miss CLARA LOUISE KELLOGG.
5. TRIO, Attilla, — Verdi
   Miss CARRIE MORSE, Messrs. SPIGAROLI and GRECO.
6. SONG, "I love thee," — Foster
   Miss CLARA LOUISE KELLOGG.
7. ROMANZA, Mignon, — Thomas
   Sig. CARLO SPIGAROLI.
8. DUETT, "A Night in Venice," — Arditi
   Miss CARRIE MORSE and Sig. SPIGAROLI.

PART II.

Entire Fourth Act of Verdi's Grand Opera,

IL TROVATORE,

In Full Costumes and Stage Settings.

AZUCENA, Miss CARRIE MORSE
MANRICO, Sig. CARLO SPIGAROLI
CONTE DI LUNA, Sig. VINCENZO GRECO
—AND—
LEONORA, Miss CLARA LOUISE KELLOGG
CHAS. H. NEILSON, Stage Manager

The Chickering Grand Pianos are used at al Kellogg Concerts.

Reserved Seats at Watson's on Friday, March 18, at 10 a. m.

H. & A. Rosenbloom purpose doing an extensive trade in Carpets this season. They already have a large and elegant line at prices which compare favorably with large cities. They are constantly increasing their stock of goods in this line.

J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store is now lighted by nine incandescent electric lights and presents a very fine appearance.

Don't fail to try a "4 & 1" at Williams' drug store. 40tf

For Sale.

Five acres of all tillable land, suitable for a garden with a good house and barn on it, with an abundance of fruit and well watered. Situated 2½ miles west of Fulton on the Hannibal road. Terms easy. Inquire of Dr. Watson at Watson's drug store. 36m3

Save 35cts. per ton and buy the celebrated Lehigh Valley coal of T. D. Lewis. Office at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 39tf

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at Wholesale Prices at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

F. M. Darrow will make cabinet photographs at $2.50 per doz. No change in quality of material or work. Patriot block, cor. of Second and Oneida streets Fulton, N. Y. 41tf

FARMERS, ATTENTION!

Buy the celebrated Leihi Valley stove and chestnut Coal at $4.40 per ton, of T. D. Lewis. Yards opposite gas works. 39tf

New Planing Mill.

Having rented the Mason Planing Mill I am now prepared to do all kinds of Planing, Matching, Scroll Sawing, on short notice. Can also furnish Door and Window Frames, Sash, Doors, Blinds, Mouldings and Brackets.

41tf, Geo. J. Emeny.

CLIMB THE STAIRS!

It will pay you, and get first class work at

DARROW'S GALLERY!

Satisfaction guaranteed. 42tf

Special Notices.

FOR SALE OR RENT.—House and lot on [illegible] Corner of Third and Highland Streets, [illegible] block north of Broadway. 40tf Edward [illegible]

FOR SALE—House, barn and lot on [illegible] Street, between Academy and Highland [illegible] For further particulars enquire at Times office [illegible] at No. 85 Third Street.

FOR SALE—My house and lot on Utica [illegible] within five minutes walk of the [illegible] Also lot on Oneida street, 6¼ acres, just [illegible] of the corporation limits. Call on or address, R. P. Hall, Fulton, N. Y.

W. M. Cook, bagageman, Fulton, N. Y. Orders left at American express office and Midland depot will be promptly attended to. 44tf

The "4&1" is the finest cigar in Oswego Co. Drop into Williams' drug store and try one. 40tf

House and Lot for Sale.

At N. E. Corner of the park and occupied by Mrs. Laycock. Enquire of Mrs. Laycook on the premises, or of H. E. Nichols. 40tf

The executors of the late David Van Buren are to sell at public auction at his late residence in the town of Volney on Thursday March 17th at 10 a. m. a large amount of stock, farm produce, farming utensils &c. This is an excellent opportunity for persons desiring to purchase. 44tf

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 30tf

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. Cooley Tucker. 19tf

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. Cooley Tucker. 24tf

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Vienna Bakery

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. John Barker,
18tf 26 First st

J. C. TUCKER,
18 First Street, Fulton.

The oldest Crockery and Glassware merchant in Fulton; having been in the crockery business over forty years, and the last thirty years in the same store. We have no damaged, or old style goods that have laid in the garret for years, but a large assortment of new stylish goods just received from the leading English and American manufacturers at lower prices than ever before offered in town. Bargains in Library Lamps; a large line of Decorated Toilet Sets just received at rock bottom prices; Table Cutlery and Wm. Rogers & Son silver plated goods cheaper than ever. We buy only from the best manufacturers and our crockery is warranted not to craze or check. No inferior goods represented to be "just as good." Call and get our prices before purchasing elsewhere. I will not be undersold.

J. C. Tucker, 18 First St. 44tf

CLOSING OUT.

As I am obliged to move my stock on April 1st, I wish to reduce it as much as possible and offer the entire stock

Regardless of Price,

Until that time. If you want

BARGAINS

—IN—

Clocks,
Watches,
Jewelry or Silverware

DO NOT MISS THIS SALE.

C. R. NICHOLS

THIS SPACE WILL HEREAFTER BE DEVOTED TO

F. E. BACON'S

DRY GOODS, CARPETS AND MILLINERY DEPARTMENTS.

Once for all we wish to say that not one sentence will be printed which will not in the most careful and truthful sense represent the above classes of goods. [illegible] tion, 10 pieces will mean 10 pieces not 3, and 50 will mean 50.

[illegible] all to get the pocket books into the proper hands (the hands of the ladies) so that our Beautiful New Styles in DRESS GOODS [illegible] in CARPETS can be bought, made and down or [illegible]

[illegible] and free from [illegible] not pushed to [illegible]

[illegible] be diminished in the use [illegible] in the hen-yard as [illegible]

[illegible] fairly under the in[illegible] treatment from their [illegible] they do under the lash.

[illegible] enthusiasm in farming is [illegible] looked upon with distrust, and yet [illegible] things are accomplished without [illegible]

It is a lamentable fact, as indicated by [illegible] returns, that insanity is more [illegible] among farmers' wives than in any other class. The confinement to home, with its unceasing round of monotonous duties, is one cause of this tendency.

A cow giving milk should never be fat. Either the milk is deficient in quantity or quality, often both. The best cows are never fine-looking animals, except to the eye of an expert, who can see behind the rough and bony frame evidences of good milking qualities.

Red wheats will succeed on poorer soil than white, and will also endure the winter better on low land. The old fashioned Mediterranean wheat was especially adapted to low, moist soils, and so far as we have tested them all the red varieties excel in this quality of hardness.

Growers of tobacco are learning that it is necessary to produce the finest quality of leaf to insure profit. To do this, rank manures should be avoided, and those of a mineral character instituted, especially those abounding in potash. There is an unusual proportion of ash left in burning good tobacco, and to grow the best it needs a liberal supply of potash in the soil.

If you intend to build a new barn or stable do not fail to begin the front yard as soon as you do the foundation—sooner if possible. Have solid stone drive-ways through it and up to every door. Save your teams, your men, yourself, from ploughing through mud six inches to a foot deep. If there is a call for a solid road anywhere it is in the barn-yard. No improvement you can make will surpass this addition to old premises.

A Word About Drainage.

J. H. Gregory, the well known seedsman, at Marblehead, Mass., in a talk on drainage before a meeting of New England farmers, said that stone drains with which he has had considerable experience) are a waste of time and labor, and that no man can afford to lay the same unless he does it to get rid of the stone. Tile, he affirmed, has a vast capacity for carrying off water, far greater than is generally supposed. Mr. Gregory advised that when laying tile the trench is to be dug only just wide enough to admit the tile. He also suggested that there be a catch pool to receive the sediment and waste from the drains, which is half as valuable as manure. There ought always to be the same arrangement in front of the drain to stop the floating particles from drifting into it and clogging it up when the water is high. The drain must be kept open at the end and the tile kept free throughout in order to obtain full benefit from the same.

As regards the cost of laying the tile drains, Mr. Gregory's experience led him to believe that if one gets down to hard pan the cost is about the same as it is for ditching upland. For ditching low land (meadow land) the cost need not be more than twenty-five cents per rod; this in fact, is a standing price.

Pure Breeds and Common Stock.

Pure breeds of fowls have been so widely deseminated that it is almost impossible to find a common flock even that has not been improved to the extent of containing one or two extra good layers. These will always be found to possess good blood from some pure-bred ancestor. In a flock of 100 hens, the difference of one dozen more eggs per year from each layer amounts to 100 dozen, equal to $20, which is quite an item; yet a pure-bred cock can be produced for one-fourth that sum. Hence if the laying qualities of the hens are only increased three eggs in a whole year, in a flock of a hundred hens the eggs gained will pay for a pure-bred cock valued at $5. This shows that it really costs nothing to improve. True, there may be a few dollars outlay at the beginning, but the value will be returned, and if the breed selected is a large one, we may also allow something for the increase in weight of the carcasses.—American Agriculturist for March.

Points in Potato Culture.

In a discussion as to the best manure for white potatoes at the recent annual meeting of the New Jersey Horticultural society, the majority of the members expressed themselves as decidedly in favor of chemical fertilizers. The opinion very generally prevailed that stable manure does not produce tubers of good quality. Potato rot was also considered. One member said that the sulphuric acid in chemical fertilizers acts as a partial preventive to rot. Another member advised sulphate of iron (copperas) as a remedy for rot.

[illegible] opinion was also expressed that [illegible] fertilizers produce about as [illegible] results in sweet potato culture as [illegible] manure. Shallow plowing, [illegible] makes short, thick tubers. [illegible] tillage results in long, slen[illegible] The "Kentucky red" was pro[illegible] a very promising variety of [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] great Dalrymple farm in Dakota in the shade completely: "The 1,300,000 acres of our tract," Mr. Watkins said, "was purchased from the state of Louisiana and from the United States government. At that time it was a vast grazing land for the cattle of the few dealers of the neighborhood. When I took possession I found over 30,000 head of half-wild horses and cattle. My work was to divide the immense tract into convenient pastures, establishing stations or ranches every six miles. The fencing alone cost in the neighborhood of $50,000. The land I found to be best adapted for rice, sugar, corn and cotton. All our cultivating, ditching, etc., is done by steam power. We take a tract, say half a mile wide for instance, and place and engine on each side. The engines are portable and operate a cable attached to four plows, and under this arrangement we are able to plow 30 acres a day with only the labor of three men. Our harrowing, planting and cultivating is done in a like manner, in fact there is not a single draught horse on the entire place. We have, of course, horses for the herders of cattle, of which we now have 16,000 head. The Southern Pacific runs for 36 miles through our farm. We have three steamboats operating on the waters of our own estate, upon which are 300 miles of navigable waters. We have an ice house, a bank, a ship yard and a rice mill."—St. Louis Republican.

Poultry Houses.

A correspondent asks if some one of the readers of the Rural will give the best and most economical plan for a hennery that will accomodate one hundred fowls. We have recently published some articles on this subject by some of the best writers on poultry, but if any of our readers can give us their personal experience in that line, we shall be glad to have it. In this connection we give the following, written by a correspondent to an exchange; I built a neat cottage with square roof, ventilator in center, plenty of light, stone foundation, boarded vertically with ship lap, joints covered with ogee bats, neat cornice, I think it pays to have out-buildings look well, even if they cost a little more. The building is balloon frame, two by four inches stuff. The inside is boarded up and four inches space filled with mortar. Windows are double in winter, and eggs won't freeze the coldest days. From fifty to sixty hens are wintered each year. A yard adjacent supplies them plenty of room for exercise when they might do mischief in the garden. Otherwise they have free run for worms and insects. They supply the table with eggs the entire year. Eggs are sold every month in the year. It is hard to tell just what it costs to board a hen on a farm. Nor can I tell how many eggs are used in the house. But at a fair estimate, I think fowls and eggs eaten will pay their keep. For the past three years the eggs sold at a village store for two cents below Milwaukee prices have averaged one dollar per hen per year. I do not know anything that pays a larger percentage on the investment.—Western Rural.

Functional derangement of the female system is quickly cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." It removes pain and restores health and strength. By all druggists.

Fish Balls.

Somno —Lent——The policeman.
Preva —Lent——Poverty.
Si —Lent——The mugwump.
Re —Lent——The usurer's money
Succo —Lent——English scandals.
Condo —Lent——"I told you so."
Redo —Lent——The spring onion.
Truc(k)u—Lent——The baggageman.
—Columbus Dispatch.

